During the day it supplies power for the cheese factory, allowing that organization to handle its usual milk receipts.

Several smaller units, most of them borrowed from oil rigs are also in use. Jimmy's Station, the bank, the hatchery and the electric co-op office are all operating on them.

Candles and kerosene lamps are furnishing practically all illumination. Small gas hot plates and heaters are replacing electric ranges as cooking units. Even the heating situation has been crippled by the power failure. Central heating units and ceiling type heaters with electrical controls are all cut back to a mere pilot flame. Some comment has been made around Washington about the cost of the Inauguration. The seats out in Capitol Plaza probably cost around $5.00 each to build and of course were used only for this one ceremony. The Inauguration stands have been called "Curly Brooks Stadium", Curly Brooks being former Ren Senator fre of Illinois who was Chairman of the Arrangements Committee in the 80th Congress but was defeated in the recent election. More people saw the Inauguration and the Inaugural Parade by television than saw it in person. Furthermore, they saw a great deal more by television than did those of us who witnessed it in person. They got closer views of more people and better views of the parade than did the thous-

Who's A Foreigner?

While I'm waiting for a haircut the other day, Slim Hartman lets slip with a crack about those "foreigners" who live by the depot.

"Now wait a minute, Slim," snaps Doc Sherman. "Don't forget we're all 'foreigners' more or less. Some of our families have simply been here longer than others. But even if they came over on the Mayflower, they were foreigners to the Indians."

Slim gets a little red and you could see that Doc had him. "And the reason they came here," he goes on, "was to find freedom to do and think as they wanted to so long as they didn't tramp on the rights of the other fellow."

From where I sit, America became the great land it is today through our being tolerant of different people and different tastes-whether it's a taste for square dancing or waltzing, radio or movies, goat's milk or a temperate glass of sparkling beer.

Regardless of Weather, the Buyers are Here

The sale Saturday, January 22, was small but good. Not quite as much stock to sell, but the buyers were here and prices ran high, as usual. Butcher cattle sold extra high.

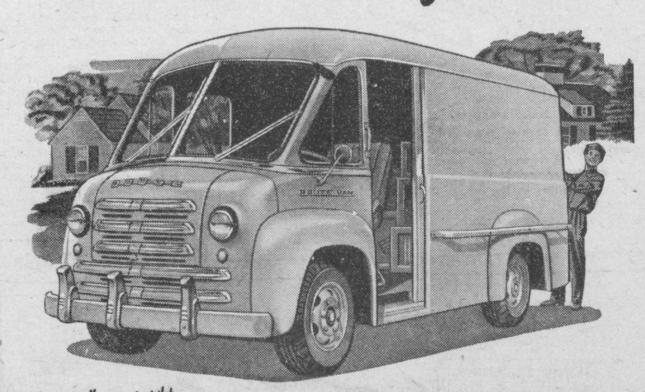

If is is possible to get your cattle in, bring them. They will always sell all right.
