MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1948

NUMBER 2

J. A. Cole, Pioneer of Community, Dies at Gainesville Tuesday

Now that the after-election ballyhoo is simmering down a bit, thank goodness we're hearing less of that stuff about a mandate from the people to enact all the socialistic reforms mentioned by the Democratic party.

Fortunately for the nation there are some level headed men in congress who refuse to fall for that old mandate bunk. They're aware just like us plain thinking citizens that a vote for President Truman was not necessarily an endorsement of every policy he advocated.

Take the Southern vote, for instance. It went almost solidly Democratic in spite of the big fuss last summer over the president's civil rights proposal. Would anyone say now that the election return indicated the South's mandate to pass civil rights legislation?

Labor, they say, supported the president. Does that prove that Labor as a group has indicated its desire for price control, support prices, socialized medicine, federal aid to education, extended social security, and the federal tidelands grab? Very likely Labor favored the president's stand on the Taft-Hartley act, but no one can claim that Labor as a group also favored all the other proposals.

The simple fact is that the American public just thought Truman was the better man for the job, or they were pleased with present conditions, or like people of the South, voted Democratic because it's the customary thing to do. But they did not put an unqualified OK on every idea he preached. That claim just doesn't make sense and we can rest assured that our next legislature is not going to fall for it. It will consider each measure on its own merits and act accordingly in spite of any absurd claims by the promoters of socialistic schemes.

More than once this column has deplored the fact that Texas is politically handicapped by its traditional Democratic vote. It's in the bag anyway, so it's abused by Democrats and ignored by Republicans. Both parties treat it like a step-child.

As an example, consider the civil rights and tidelands issues in the last campaign. In spite of them Texas voted according to the party label. The minority who cast protesting votes were swallowed up by the majority and all of the state's electoral votes went into the Democratic column. The entire state's wishes were disregarded for the sake of "balance of power minorities" elsewhere, because political strategists guessed, and rightly so, that Texas would remain in the bag.

Well, since Texans will not adopt a two party system to stop that abuse perhaps they will be interested in another method of stopping it. This district's own representative, Ed Gossett, is co-sponsor of a bill to change our traditional electoral college system of electing the president and vice president. According to this proposal, the Gossett-Lodge Bill, states will retain their electoral votes but cast them in the same proportion as voters of that state cast the popular votes. If the popular vote goes 60-40 the electoral vote goes 60-40.

In the past campaign that provision most likely would have ruled out the distasteful civil rights issue. No candidate would have risked the protesting Southern vote to gain a few additional votes elsewhere.

In short, the bill would force candidates to consider the wishes of states that have previously been in the bag. And since Texas traditionally has been in the bag, it's a good bill for us.

What's more, it has some chance for passage. Southern Democrats like it because it can promote us from the political step-child status. Northern Republicans like it because it's a possible source for a few more GOP votes. There's no question that those two groups can muster a majority to put the bill through both houses. But can they muster the two thirds necessary to over-ride a veto? That's the question.

Incidentally, a first glance at this bill causes us to wonder why a simple popular vote was not proposed. The division of electoral votes according to popular vote ratio appears to be only an indirect way of counting popular votes. The reason is that voting regulations in various states are not uniform. A state with an 18 year voting limit has an advantage over one with a 21 (Continued on Page 10)

J. A. Cole, 88, for many years a farmer southwest of Muenster, succumbed at 12:50 p.m. Tuesday at his home in Gainesville where he had lived since retiring from active farm work in 1941.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the Leazer-Keel funeral chapel and burial was in Fairview cemetery with Rev. T. Hollis Epton officiating.

Mr. Cole was born on July 20, 1860, and married Miss Alena Cone in Grayson county on Oct. 17, 1888. Soon thereafter they moved to this community and engaged in farming.

Survivors are his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Stanfill of Gainesville, and six sons, Earl of Muenster; Jimmy and Clem, Fort Worth; J. B., Gainesville; Omar, Overton, and Clyde, Rio Grande City, and several grandchildren.

One son, Cpl. Cecil Cole, preceded him in death. He died in France in July, 1944.

Inspired Mustangs Tie Hornets 6 to 6 Here on Turkey Day

Muenster's Hornets, favored to win easily over Saint Mary's Mustangs had a big job salvaging a 6 to 6 tie here on Thanksgiving Day.

After playing a feeble first half they snapped out of their coma in the second only to be jarred hard by Rufus Bezner's 26 yard touchdown gallop after intercepting a pass near the end of the third quarter.

A desperate struggle from that time on finally paid off in the closing minutes as Pels on a hand-off from Vogel raced a round left end for 14 yards and the tying touchdown.

From the opening kick-off and all through the first half the visitors dominated the game but their superior playing was offset by three tough breaks which kept them mostly in their end of the field. Two Hornet kicks set them back to their 3 and an interception on their 41 stopped one of their drives. By the time the period ended they had marked up a total of 5 first downs against the Hornets' one.

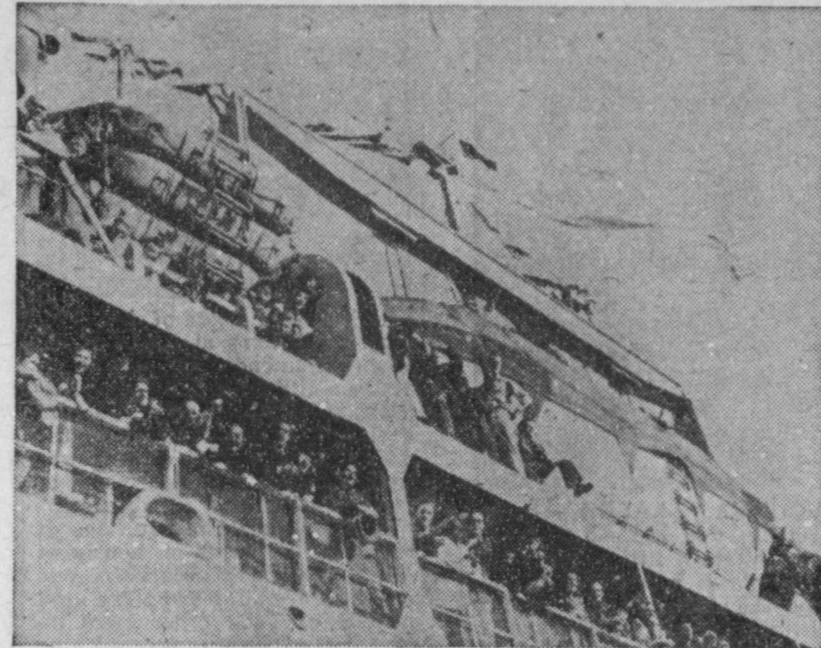

The second period opened on more even terms. Muenster picked up a first down to the 43, then kicked to St. Mary's on the 70. The Hornets held, received a kick on their 37 and lost the ball three plays later on an interception. Holding there for downs the Hornets took over on the 26 then flipped the gift pass which Bezner converted into a touchdown. Schumacher's attempt to run for the extra point was stopped behind the line of scrimmage.

Returning strong the Hornets made 2 first downs before losing on downs on St. Mary's 35. The Mustangs completed one first down on their 46 then lost the ball on an interception on the Hornet 43. Three line plays netted the Hornets 4 yards and a long heave, Hellman to Herr, reached the 18. Emmett Walterscheid picked up 4 and Pels added the other 14 for the tying score. Fleshman's try to break the tie with a drop kick was short.

The remaining two minutes consisted of an exchange of punts followed by Fleshman's interception of a Mustang pass on the 41. As the game ended Pels picked up 11 for a first down on the 30.

The second half was a complete reverse of the first, with the Hornets making most of the gains and leading 6 to 1 in first downs. Vogel and Julian Walterscheid repeated their usual performance in leading the Hornets both offensively and defensively. Walterscheid consistently broke through for tackles and Vogel, though a marked man as a ball carrier, opened the way for his teammates. His tackles and kicks were other important Hornet assets. For the visitors it was Schniederjan whose power drives accounted for more than half of his team's gains.

Little David Huchtons, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huchtons, was a patient at Gainesville sanitarium last Wednesday Thursday and Friday for medical treatment.

NEW YORK — (Soundphoto) — An echo of the Pilgrim Fathers who came here more than 300 years ago for refuge from tyranny and a better way of life was heard as the U.S. Army Transport General Black docked with its cargo of 813 displaced persons from Europe. Vanguard of 205,000 such unfortunates who will be admitted to this country, they swarmed to the rail of the vessel as it was warped to the pier and, smiling and overjoyed, gave voice to the realization of their fondest dream.

FMA COOPERATES IN GAS COMPANY PLAN TO RELIEVE EMERGENCIES

Cooperating in the Lone Star Gas Company's program to assure a more adequate gas supply for domestic consumers in severe weather, the Muenster cheese factory began preparing for the installation of a stand-by oil burner for its heating plant.

According to Rudy Hellman, manager, the unit will be idle most of the time but will be put into use whenever gas company officials warn that the gas supply is running too low to provide adequate heat for domestic consumers.

The special arrangement is the result of a new policy introduced this year over the entire Lone Star system. All industrial users, in order to continue on the lower industrial rate, are required to get off the line when so requested by the company. In this manner Lone Star Gas officials expect to prevent critical emergencies like those during last year's severe cold wave.

140 PARISH MEMBERS ELECT NEW CHURCH COMMITTEE SUNDAY

The new church committee of the Sacred Heart parish consists of Al Fleitman, Al Wiesman, Meinrad Hesse, J. A. Klement and John Wieler.

Elected at a special meeting of about 140 parish members in the parish hall Sunday afternoon, they will replace the former committee consisting of J. B. Klement, G. H. Hellman, Felix Becker, J. M. Weinzapfel and John Bayer.

In accordance with a request by Father Herman Laux the same election named a building committee of five who will assist the church committee in erecting the new Muenster church. They are Felix Becker, J. A. Fisher, Al Trubenbach, Joe Vogel and Herbert Meurer.

Candidates for the committee had been nominated in advance by the former church committee. Fifteen names appeared on the ballot and voters indicated their choice of ten. In the tally the top five were named to the permanent committee and the next five to the temporary committee.

EDWARD G. MCKINNEY BEGINS AS MANAGER OF ELECTRIC CO-OP

On Wednesday, Dec. 1, Ed G. McKinney became manager of the Cooke County Electric Cooperative replacing R. L. McNelley who resigned recently to assume management of the Navopache Electric Cooperative at Lakeside, Ariz.

Mr. McKinney comes here from Fort Worth after spending six years with the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation. Prior to that he was with the Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company for 10 years.

His wife and two sons will join him here in about a month when the house now under construction adjoining the Joe Luke home is completed.

Alumni Sets December 27 For Annual Dinner Dance

This year's annual dinner dance sponsored by the Sacred Heart Alumni Association will be held in the parish hall on Monday, Dec. 27.

The date was set in a special meeting of the organization's officers last Friday night.

F-M Road South of Muenster Gets OK of Highway Department

The possible completion of 5.4 miles of farm to market road from Muenster to Linn School during 1949 is indicated in a report released November 24 by the Texas Highway Department.

It is one of two roads designated for Cooke County in the state's 1950-51 farm to market road building program. The other approved project is 7.5 miles extending from US Highway 77 at Valley View to FM 51 near Era.

The cost of both roads is estimated at $101,200 and both are subject to the concurrence of the federal Public Roads Administration and the condition that Cooke County will furnish all required right-of-way free of cost to the state. Though included in the 1950-51 appropriation of the Federal Aid road building program, the roads are to be placed under contract and built as rapidly as possible in 1949, according to D. C. Greer, state highway engineer. Instead of delaying construction until money becomes available, the highway department intends to have the work complete and claim the federal grant as soon as it becomes available.

Both projects, Mr. Greer stated, are the result of a study of road needs by the County Commissioners court with J. M. Isbell, district engineer of the Texas Highway Department, a submission by the district engineer to the highway commissioner and the commissioner's approval for inclusion in the new program.

Notes On Soil Conservation

Native tall grasses made such an excellent crop of seed in northeastern Oklahoma this fall that 13,900 pounds of the seed has been bought for resale to local district cooperators, according to J. W. Hess, chairman of the board of supervisors, Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district. He said he hopes that at least 1,000 acres of land in the Muenster area can be re-seeded to native Bluestem grasses this winter.

District officials recommend that this seed be used to establish new native grass meadows and to re-seed native grass pastures. Bluestem and other tall grasses are recommended for large areas around Muenster. It is pointed out that the simple method of taking half the grass and leaving half each year will produce more forage and more beef per acre than could be accomplished with short grasses. Heavy stocking that takes more than half of the grass each year often "kills the goose that lays the golden egg" and farmers and ranchers must practice good management to insure success.

Some tall grass seed was harvested near Nocona this year by combining and by baling the seed hay. C. M. Walterscheid combined some of this grass and has 800 pounds of Little Bluestem seed.

District cooperators who have already made plans to plant native grass are Harry Otto, Henry Sicking, Alphonse Luke, George Gehrig, Paul Fisher, H. L. Dennis, Roy Townsley and Bird Moss.

Death of Walter Richter Sunday Ends One-Year Siege of Fatal Ailment

CHOICE OF A-1 SCHOOL OR NO SCHOOL FACES MUENSTER DISTRICT

"The day is coming when people of the Muenster community will have to decide between a first class public school system or no school at all. There is no compromise between those alternatives."

That was the message presented by J. B. Klement of the Muenster school board to some 140 persons attending a church meeting at the parish hall Sunday.

Calling attention to recently published recommendations of the Gilmer-Aikin Committee for drastic improvements in the state school system, Mr. Klement pointed out that educational leaders all over the state are now exerting influence to have the changes approved by the next legislature. When that is done, he said, the district that does not provide a good system of its own will be absorbed in some other district.

Even the parochial school's bus service depends on the community's action in this regard. If the public school should be absorbed in another district there would be no basis for the cooperative system on which the busses now operate.

Election Dec. 11 to Decide Fate of City Pavement Project

In a special election to be held Saturday, Dec. 11, the citizens of Muenster will decide whether or not 33 blocks of city streets will be paved. Members of the city council ordered the election Wednesday.

Two days before, council members had met and passed an ordinance requiring property owners on the designated streets to cooperate in the paving project.

Their action was prompted by difficulties in the original voluntary paving program. On each street the failure of a few to cooperate would have caused unpaved gaps or the defeat of an entire project.

After passing the ordinance Monday the council discovered that it lacked the proper authority. In cities of more than 1,000 population such action is valid, but in cities of less than 1,000 it must be approved in a special election. Accordingly the councilmen ordered the election by which Muenster citizens can authorize them to proceed with their plans.

Provisions of the ordinance passed by the city are similar to those of the original voluntary proposal. The city will bear the expense of paving intersections and will also share in the expense of full width pavement. The pavement in each block must be uniform in width, however owners will have the privilege of deciding between themselves whether it will be 24 feet wide or the full curb to curb width.

Also similar to the original plan, property owners will be expected to place payments in escrow for the contractor to claim when pavement is complete. Those who prefer to defer payment may have the cost assessed against their property, the indebtedness being subject to an interest charge of six per cent.

Streets included in the proposed project are as follows: First, one block, Main to Oak; Second, two blocks, Main to Walnut; Third, three blocks, Main to Pecan; Fourth, two blocks Elm to Oak; Fifth, one block Main to Oak; Sixth, four blocks Main to the cemetery; Seventh, one block Main to Elm; Pecan, six blocks, Highway to Sixth; Walnut, four blocks, Second to Sixth; Oak, six blocks, Highway to Sixth; Elm, three blocks, Fourth to Seventh.

Ervin Fette of Kilgore stopped here briefly Monday to visit friends and relatives. He was enroute to Amarillo on business. Ervin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fette, formerly of this city.

Walter Richter, 38, passed away Sunday night at 10:15, the victim of a stomach ailment which afflicted him for more than a year and developed into serious illness about four months ago.

He passed quietly at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Needham, during a coma which came upon him suddenly late in the afternoon, ending ten days of apparent improvement over his previous condition.

Mr. Richter's death came as the closing episode in a long and painful illness. Examinations and treatments over a period of many months failed to bring relief from his suffering or failing condition. In August he underwent an operation which revealed his incurable illness and he continued to decline steadily from then until his death.

Two recitations of the rosary were held at the Needham home Monday night. One group came at 8 and the other, consisting principally of brother knights from the Muenster K-of-C council came at 8:30.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in Sacred Heart church with Rev. Herman Laux, pastor, officiating at the requiem high mass and at the burial in Sacred Heart cemetery.

pallbearers were Jimmy Lehnertz, Leonard Yosten, Frank Roberg, Starling Lawson, F. A. Kathman and Carl Schilling. Nick Miller was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mr. Richter was born in Muenster on January 10, 1910, and received his education at Sacred Heart school. On June 22, 1939, he married Miss Joaline Needham, and they made their home north of the city until about two months ago when they moved into the Needham home. He was an employee of Trumpler Oil Company.

Survivors are his wife and one son, Billy Frank; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Richter, Muenster, and six sisters, Mmes. H. A. Walterscheid and Hugo Lutkenhaus of Muenster. Mmes. Cris Jensen and Amber Estes of Wichita Falls and Misses Clara and Kathleen Richter of Dallas.

Among out of town relatives and friends at the funeral, coming from more distant cities, were Mr. and Mrs. Cris Jensen and son, Troy, Mr. and Mrs. Amber Estes, Mrs. Cora McMackin and son, George, all of Wichita Falls; Misses Clara and Kathleen Richter, Mrs. Nell Crubbs, Mrs. John Chandler and Mrs. Eddie Hart, all of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Richter of Pauls Valley, Okla.; Sgt. Wm. Biffe of Perrin Field.

The American Way

By George Peck

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

The man who last November made monkeys of the pollsters and confounded practically all of the experts, has a golden opportunity to be one of the truly great presidents of this nation. Deserted by the leaders of his own Democratic Party, he waged a campaign, in the face of every possible discouragement, that aroused the admiration of the American people, even including those millions who did not vote for him. He just would not be licked, and he wasn't The American people love a fighter, and today Harry Truman is beloved throughout the 48 states of the Union (Maine included).

As he himself declared on the eve of his triumph, he owes nothing to any man, certainly not to his party. He can be exactly the kind of a president he wishes to be — he is free and untrammelled. No other president, with the possible exception of George Washington, has ever gone to the White House with positively no strings attached to him, owing nothing to anyone. Harry's only debt is to the rank and file of the American people who elected him.

For one, I am going to believe that "The Champ" intends to give this nation the best administration he knows how. If he fails to make a place for himself in history as one of the "greats" among a handful of great presidents, it will be due to errors of judgment, not to errors of the heart.

The election campaign waged by our President and President-Elect leaves no doubt as to the Truman courage and determination. We can safely assume that he will battle just as strenuously on the legislative front as he did on the campaign front for what he sincerely believes is best for most of the American people.

As one of those American people, I have an obligation and a desire to be helpful. Please do not consider me bumptious in offering some advice to the man who will preside over our destinies for the next four years. I would refer our president to the erudite saying of two great Chinese philosophers — Confucius and Lao Tzu.

Over 2,400 years ago, in the 5th Century, B.C., Confucius said: "Government is good when it makes happy those who live under it and attracts those who live far away."

That most certainly describes the kind of government we had in America for a century and a half.

And again Confucius said: "The wise and good ruler is benevolent without expending treasure; he lays burdens on the people without causing them to grumble; he has desires without being covetous; he is serene without being proud; he is awe-inspiring without being ferocious."

That most certainly describes the qualities of two of our great presidents, Washington and Lincoln.

And again, Confucius said:

"The wise and good Lao Tzu said: "In the highest antiquity, the people did not know they had rulers. In the next age, they loved and praised them. In the next, they feared them. In the next they despised them — If the government is prying and meddling, there will be constant infraction of the law — The people starved because those in authority over them devoured too many taxes — The people are difficult to govern because those placed over them are meddlingome."

Could it be that Lao Tzu had in mind such things as price controls, rationing with its black markets, free medicine, federal aid to education, public housing, excess profit taxes, etc.? It could be, Mr. President.

Dutch Miller's Back In Uniform

After ten days in the city, Dutch is back in uniform. I don't mean Army khaki or Navy blue—but a different uniform, that's every bit as patriotic and American.

Blue jeans and a denim shirt, for work around the yards and barns; stout boots for tramping through the fields; and a straw hat when the sun gets high—a uniform you see from Maine to Texas, Iowa to Alabama.

helping to keep this nation strong —bolstering the forces of democracy that guard our freedom.

And in their way of life, too, they are champions of freedom. Temperate folk who enjoy a moderate glass of beer—but never quarrel with those who prefer cider. Tolerant people who fight to the bitter end against oppression and intolerance. From where I sit, a credit to America!

It's the uniform of an army—the great army of American farmers who, by their productivity, are

Take a look at your Ford's speedometer, today. If it's nearing a "5000" mile reading, bring it "home" to us for your Ford's "Physical"—which includes a thorough engine, ignition, electrical, wheel and brake check . . . and a complete inspection of the body, inside and out.

Make it a habit to let us check your Ford regularly to keep the top performance that's built into your car. It's the right way to catch the "little things" that can develop to make driving unsafe. You'll be surprised how much money you'll save throughout the life of your Ford, with regular Ford care.

HERE'S A SAMPLE OF WHAT 4-H GIRLS AND BOYS DO IN ONE YEAR

COLLEGE STATION.— If you've ever wondered just what the 4-H Club boys and girls in Texas do, here's the answer.

This is last year's record of nearly five thousand 4-H Clubs in Texas with a membership of over 110,500 youngsters.

These kids produced food, and they conserved food. And they made more food available to their families, as well as to families overseas. J. W. Potts, extension state 4-H club specialist of Texas A & M College, says they had more than 23,000 gardens. The boys have raised more than 368,500 chickens and turkeys. The girls had nearly 7 thousand poultry flocks.

The 961 thousand quarts of food these youngsters put up in cans and jars doesn't include the hundreds of pounds stored in the freezer locker.

Food wasn't the only item on the program by any means. These 4-H boys and girls helped make their homes more attractive and livable. The girls' projects included making more than 59,000 new garments and remodeling over 33,000 other items of clothing.

Fire and accident prevention programs also held the interest of many of the club members. They spent time improving their own health as well as that of their families and communities.

Soil and water conservation practices played a big part on

Name Texas Top Ranking 4-H'ers

TRIPS to the 27th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago were given four Lone Star State club members as rewards for their outstanding records in the 1948 National 4-H Farm Safety, Field Crops, Poultry and Tractor Maintenance programs. The state winners and brief outlines of their records follow:

An outstanding youthful farmer, Edward Hill, 17, of Garland, has won State honors in the National 4-H Field Crops awards program. This year Edward planted and tended five acres of corn, eight acres of barley, 48 acres of clover, 28 acres of cotton, 5 1/2 acres of row cane, 40 acres of wheat, and 30 acres of maize; and thus learned much about seed bed preparation, use of fertilizers and approved cultivating and harvesting methods. During seven years in 4-H he has completed 27 projects, including four in field crops, and has served both his local and county 4-H clubs as president. In recognition of his achievements, International Harvest Co. provided Edward with a National 4-H Club Congress all-expense trip award.

Edward Hill

What he has learned about poultry raising and marketing has helped John Humphrey, 16, of Brownwood, to win State honors in the 1948 National 4-H Poultry Achievement program. During six years in 4-H, John has raised 1,875 Barred Plymouth Rock chickens and has given six poultry demonstrations. He has completed nine 4-H projects, including six in poultry, and has served both his local and county 4-H clubs as president. He has given 42 talks at club, community and school meetings and over the radio, and has written 69 new stories on 4-H tours, camps and special events. As a recognition of his many achievements, Dearborn Motors Corporation provided John an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago.

John Humphrey

Gainesville, reaps double benefits from his participation in the 1948 National 4-H Tractor Maintenance program in which he learned how to better care for and operate a farm tractor, thus making him a more efficient young farmer. As a result he has been named State winner in the 4-H program. Herman kept a service record for nearly 1,500 hours on the operation of three tractors on his father's 991 acre farm. He also applied daily and periodic tractor maintenance of the air cleaner, lubrication, carburetion, cooling system, as well as care in safe operation. Herman says, "A well running tractor on our farm has saved time and money and increased production". To recognize his many achievements, Stanolind Oil and Gas Company has provided Herman an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agriculture College and USDA cooperation.

By eliminating accident and fire hazards around his farm, home and community, Bennie West, 16, of Memphis, has won top State honors in the National 4-H Farm Safety program. Among the hazards corrected were: dirty chimneys, loose porch boards, firearms within reach of children, gasoline cans poorly labeled, inadequate fire-fighting equipment, matches kept in wooden box, bad lights in the barn, poorly constructed bull pen. In addition to safety work, Bennie has completed four other club projects during his four years in 4-H and has served his local club as president, secretary, and treasurer. In recognition of these achievements, General Motors provided Bennie with an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agriculture College and USDA cooperation.

the 4-H Club program, too. The boys had nearly 110,000 acres in conservation management. Besides this, they raised more than 54,500 head of livestock, while the girls were planning more than a million and a quarter meals.

That's what the record shows. In doing all these things, says Potts, they gained a better understanding of their place in the world today.

SCREEN TRIBUTE TO FATHER FLANAGAN AT RELAX

"The City of Little Men" showing at the Relax Theatre next Tuesday & Wednesday, Dec. 7-8, is a tribute to the late Father Flanagan, founder of Boys Town.

A cross section of Boys Town is presented in this unusual short subject, showing the boys at work on their own self-supporting newspaper, and other activities. It shows the chapel, swimming pool, movie and athletic field, dairy farm, trade school, infirmary, schools and residences which accommodate a thousand boys.

ST. NICK TO VISIT AT PAROCHIAL SCHOOL DEC. 6

Members of the Sacred Heart P-T-A have made arrangements for Saint Nicholas to visit students of the school on Dec. 6, the committee in charge announced this week.

The jolly old saint, with his pack of goodies, will begin making the rounds at the grades shortly after one o'clock, and as an added feature of this year's visit will meet with pre-school age children in the school auditorium at about 2 o'clock.

All tiny tots and their mothers are invited to be present and those planning to be there are asked to notify Mrs. Herman Fette or Mrs. Andrew Schoech as to the number expected so that Saint Nick will come prepared with enough sweets to treat each little youngster.

Boy Scouts of Muenster Troop No. 664 were active during the past week going on an over night hike and giving a demonstration, and plan a trip to Fort Worth Sunday and attendance at a pot luck supper for county scouts on Dec. 13. Scoutmaster Nick Miller reported Wednesday.

At the meeting for Cooke county scouters Monday night in the K of C hall the boys demonstrated achievements in first aid, bed making in the open and knot tying. About 20 scouters were present including 14 from Gainesville.

Frank Cockrel and D. J. Murphy of Gainesville and Rev. Herman Laux, gave short addresses on scouting and the local boys assisted Mrs. Nick Miller in serving coffee and cake. Sunday Scoutmaster Miller will

PECANS PACK MORE CALORIES THAN BEEF SAYS A&M AUTHORITY

COLLEGE STATION.— Beefsteak is good. But there are more calories per pound in pecans. According to the nutrition experts, pecans have 3,336 calories per pound, while a pound of beefsteak has only 1,635. Turkey follows up a poor third with only 1,060 calories per pound.

In other words, says J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist of Texas A & M College, more calories can be bought for a dollar in pecan meats than in most any other type of energy food. And the next few months of the fall season offer the best opportunity for using pecans in food mixtures at reasonable prices.

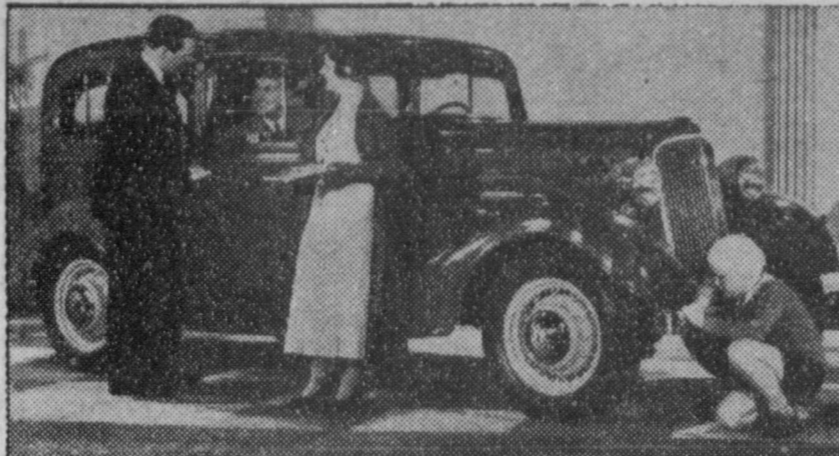

Texas will harvest one of its largest pecan crops in history this year — close to 42 million pounds. The recent dry weather has kept their size down a little below average this year, but the meats are plump, rich and oily.

Pecan growers who have large quantities of nuts to harvest are interested in reducing the harvest cost as much as possible. A number of growers in Texas have used a mechanical tree shaker. This is a simple bit of equipment that has a fifty-foot steel cable and a hook which is fastened around a limb. The cable is attached to a shaft that works off a pulley attached to a tractor. Throw the cable around the limb of the tree, fasten the hook and put the tractor in gear. The pecan tree does a St. Vitus dance, and in three to five minutes all the pecans are on the ground. A blueprint of this machine can be secured from county agents or the Extension Service of College Station, says Rosborough.

These machines will save from a third to a half of the harvest cost, and can be made in any local blacksmith's shop.

Squirrels, and crows gather in quite a bit of the harvest, but a pecan grower with a large crop can well afford to hire a man to keep the crows out with a shotgun. As for the squirrels, metal squirrel guards are available, and when placed around the trunk will keep the little beasts from getting into the tree.

It isn't every year we get a bumper crop of pecans, says Rosborough, so we should take advantage of this year's heavy production, and like the squirrel, store up a supply of the rich, tasty food. Pecans in the shell may be placed in cold storage before the first of January, and held at a temperature slightly below freezing.

However, it's more practical to shell the pecans and store the meats. In the freezer locker these meats can be kept as long as two years.
