

In Muenster, like everywhere else, a fire usually draws a crowd. The moment the alarm sounds people make a mad dash for their cars and apparently try to beat the fire department to the blaze. Some are just curious, others are sincerely desirous of being helpful. And to the credit of the latter group we should add in all fairness that home owners more than once have had reason to be grateful for their presence.

But there have been times also when the fire department had reason to resent the presence of spectators, people who meant well but actually hindered the firemen in their work.

Fire Marshal Steve Mosler gives a good example in an incident that took place not so long ago. Cars following the truck crowded in and prevented the truck from driving to the nearest hydrant. Men had to weave among parked cars pulling the hose by hand to make their connection. In that case no harm was done. The fire was small and the tank truck handled it easily.

But suppose circumstances had been less favorable. A big blaze in a high wind when minutes are precious. A short delay at such a time can mean the difference in checking a fire or losing a home.

Mindful of such possibilities, there's not a person in town who's unwilling to cooperate, and Mosler says the best way to cooperate is to keep cars far enough away.

Don't try to beat the fire truck. Stay a couple of blocks behind and park that far away from the fire. That's a good general rule here because very often the hose has to be laid more than a block to the nearest fire plug. Remember the firemen can save lots of time if they are not hindered in maneuvering the truck to make connections and stretch out the hose. Your cooperation may help save a home.

Something new in the field of education is the request of a Dallas school for a parent to spend the first day at school with each child who enrolls for the first time. "It's a strange new world the little fellows are entering," the request added, "and at least one parent should be on hand to guide them."

Who knows, maybe the request is the beginning of a custom Educators may discover that a little parental guidance the first day will eliminate the lost feeling and enable kids to get off to a better start.

In connection with the re-opening of school the Texas Safety Association has just introduced a catchy new slogan that's easy to remember and certainly worth remembering: "Watch out for the school kids ... give them a brake."

In his column a few days ago Lynn Landrum of the Dallas News was quoting a British letter which shows how a once proud and prosperous nation can go to pot when its leaders start flirting with socialism. But the same letter also contains another remark that indicates a possible return to common sense. "It is said that the socialists have had to call a temporary halt to their grandiose schemes for nationalization in order to leave enough profit-making private industries to pay for the losses of the nationalized ones."

If the English have really become aware of that fact perhaps they'll have enough sense to realize that the situation might be permanently improved by making the temporary halt a permanent one. From that point they may be able to figure out also that the best way to take nationalized industry out of the red is to return it to private ownership.

Perhaps it isn't too much to hope that some of the socialistic enthusiasts of this country also will be able to discover from the British predicament that something must be basically wrong with their favorite economic theory. Apparently they weren't able to learn from socialistic failures at home, such as railroads in the first world war and current tax eating public power projects. But when the same thing happens again and again, in different nations and among different peoples, they should soon begin to see the light and slack down upon their continuous harping for more socialistic ventures.

Actually it is a little sad that influential and supposedly smart men overlook the one fact which is crystal clear to ordinary people. And that is the very human element of personal incentive. If Bill and Mike share alike Bill

Former Resident and Aged Relative Die In Ambulance Crash

Mrs. Geraldine Neathery Garrett, 45, of Gainesville, former resident of this city, died in an Ardmore hospital Saturday at noon of injuries received in a highway crash Friday night at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Garrett's mother-in-law, Mrs. Malina Mae Garrett, 91, also of Gainesville, was killed instantly in the crash.

The elder Mrs. Garrett was being taken home from a Tulsa hospital in an ambulance which collided head-on with a truck six miles north of Ardmore. Her daughter-in-law was riding in the ambulance with her.

C. A. Garrett, husband and son of the two women, was driving his own car immediately behind the ambulance and witnessed the accident.

The ambulance driver, Bill C. Parks, 20, of Prague, Okla., the assistant driver, and three persons in the truck received only minor injuries. Both vehicles were demolished.

Funeral services for Mrs. C. A. Garrett were held Monday at 10 a.m. at Whaley Memorial Methodist church with Rev. Roy Anderson, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. C. M. Thomas. The body was taken to Farmersville for burial beside her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Neathery, former residents of Cooke county.

Geraldine Neathery was born in Haskell on Nov. 22, 1902, and moved to Gainesville with her parents when she was 12 years old. She and her brother, Hale Neathery, made Muenster their home for several years during the 1930's when she operated a beauty shop here and her brother was in the cafe business. She married C. A. Garrett in August 1942 and had resided in Gainesville since then. They operated the Alamo Courts and Summit laundry on Summit avenue.

Survivors are her husband and two brothers, Hale and C. A. Neathery of Gainesville and a number of nieces and nephews. Funeral services for the elder Mrs. Garrett were held Sunday afternoon at Tulsa.

Catholic Daughters Will Have Square Dance Tues.

Catholic Daughters of America will sponsor a square dance with old fashioned music and an old-time caller next Tuesday, Sept. 21, in the K of C hall, members announced Monday. They made plans for the event at the regular meeting Friday night and appointed a committee, headed by Mrs. John Mosman, to take charge.

The committee pointed out that it is not just for oldsters and that the orchestra will play waltzes and modern selections for the young crowd.

Mrs. Regina Sontag of Denison was here last Thursday for a visit with her brother and sister, John and Gertrude Kreitz.

NEW YORK—(Soundphoto)—Countess Alexandra Tolstoy, first benefactress of Mrs. Aksana Kosenkina, was permitted to visit the seriously injured Soviet schoolteacher in Roosevelt Hospital here, and is shown as she later told reporters that the elderly refugee from Russian Consulate manhandling and imprisonment had asked to see a priest. The Countess, who is now an American citizen and prefers to be called Mrs. Tolstoy, said that Mrs. Kosenkina is "suffering greatly" after her leap for freedom, but was able to say "I am glad to suffer for the cause."

THREE OF FIREMEN'S FOUR CALLS THIS WEEK ARE FOR GRASS FIRES

The fire department had a busy hour about noon Monday in checking a grass fire that cleared off about 5 acres of pasture northwest of Mrs. Wm. Walterscheid's home.

The department also responded to two calls the previous Friday. About 8 a.m. it put out a tractor fire at Tony Otto's home and about five that evening it put out a grass fire at the parochial school.

A trip to a grass fire at Gus Reiter's Wednesday was hardly worth the effort. Members of the family had it practically under control by the time the fire truck arrived.

VFW LADIES SPONSOR BENEFIT SHOWER FOR BURNED-OUT FAMILY

VFW Auxiliary members are sponsoring a community shower this Friday afternoon in the K of C hall from 2:30 to 5 for the W. B. Whitt family whose clothing and household furnishings were all lost in a fire that destroyed their home Saturday.

MUENSTER CDA COURT SETS OCTOBER 10 FOR RECEPTION CEREMONY

Meeting in regular session Friday night members of the local court Catholic Daughters of America discussed plans for the reception of new members and set October 10 as the tentative date for the ceremonies. Candidates from Denison will join local candidates in the initiation.

Other business of the meeting consisted of a report on the NCCW deanery meeting here on August 31. Miss Olivia Stock read the minutes of the meeting and gave a brief outline of the guest speakers' addresses.

Members voted to inaugurate the "birthday offering" plan to raise money for incidental expenses in the court. The plan is that each member will contribute a penny for each year of her age at the meeting for the month during which her birthday occurs. A special little bank will collect the offerings.

Hostesses for the next social on Sept. 23 are Mrs. Ted Gremminger, Mrs. Al Haverkamp and Miss Dorothy Hratman.

Twenty-five members attended the meeting.

Children and grandchildren of Mrs. Wm. Walterscheid gathered at her home Monday night for a covered dish buffet supper and a social evening while Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walterscheid of Hereford were here for a visit. Mrs. Walterscheid's family includes 10 children, 49 grandchildren and one great-granddaughter. All reside in Muenster except Frank of Hereford and Mrs. Joe Walter of Gainesville who were here with their families. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walterscheid were also guests.

Road Job Seen as Chance for General Street Improvement

Discussions on curbs and pavement predominated two meetings during the past week, the Community Council Thursday night and the City Council Friday night.

The purpose is to get all the street and property improvement possible in connection with the farm to market road project which, according to the state highway officials, will be placed on contract some time next month.

To comply with its part of an agreement by which the city will get a curb to curb pavement on Main Street, the council decided Monday night to arrange for curb construction as soon as possible on all property which does not have curbs at this time. Owners will have the privilege of paying in a lump sum or spreading the payments out in yearly installments to be added to tax statements.

In connection with that job other property owners in town are urged to arrange for curbs also and get the benefit of the reduced price that is possible on a larger project. Work on the curbs, now held up by a cement shortage and a few other prior jobs, is due to begin within three or four weeks.

Plans for pavement on streets other than Main are encouraged now because of a possibility of having the work done at a more reasonable figure by the contractor who will build the farm to market road. It was pointed out that a contractor with his men and equipment already here would likely offer a better deal than one who moved in especially for the job.

According to Mayor Weinzapfel the city is willing to cooperate in either of two paving plans. If pavement is full width the city will pay for the center third and also for pavement at intersections. If the pavement is only a center strip the city will pay for intersections only, the property owners dividing the cost of pavement adjoining their property.

Persons desiring pavement and curbs under these plans are urged to contact their neighbors and try to get as much continuous pavement as possible on their streets. Short disconnected strips are discouraged as being little better than nothing.

STATE PROCLAMATION NAMES SEPTEMBER AS 'CHILD SAFETY MONTH'

AUSTIN.—Governor Beauford Jester has proclaimed September as 'Child Safety Month' to focus attention on the need for protecting children from traffic accidents as they start back to school.

Motörists are being urged to "watch out for the kids — give them a brake". Parents are encouraged to help teach safe habits to youngsters. The kids themselves are reminded not to play in the street or road and always to look before crossing a thoroughfare.

Governor Jester in his proclamation pointed out that 218 children below the age 14 were killed in Texas traffic accidents last year, while 1826 boys and girls were injured.

CURRENT BUILDING: ONE NEW START AND PROGRESS ON OTHERS

A start on one new home and continued progress on several other jobs features building activity at Muenster this week.

The new job is a five room house being built by Joe Luke adjoining his residence at the west.

Of the other work in progress the outstanding is that at the parish hall where walls and rafters are finished and roofing is about to start. Most urgently awaited on that job is cement to run the basement floor, after which the school lunch program can be resumed.

At the new Roy Endres home roofing is almost finished and inside work can begin within a few days.

At Frank Bayer's carpenters expect to finish this week leaving only the painting and papering to be done.

A stucco job on Jacob Pagel's house this week will complete a general repair and remodel program that has been under way for several weeks.

J. M. Weinzapfel has just finished enclosing a small porch for a den and making several other changes in his home.

Downtown the Charm Shop and the Variety Store are both getting a coat of white paint.

MUENSTER CHEESE TO BE DIFFERENT IN SIZE, SHAPE AND PACKAGING

The big, cylindrical sixty pound chunk of cheese that has been standard at the FMA plant for many years will soon be a thing of the past. It will give way to a new modernized package within the next week or two.

Instead of the old cheesecloth and paraffin coating it will have a transparent wrapper of polyethylene, the cellophane-like substance now used for processed cheese.

A block shaped package weighing about 40 pounds, it will have the additional protection of a cardboard case. Besides being easier to store and handle it will be more attractive, better protected and more desirable for retail trade.

Molds, presses and other equipment for the new packaging is now on hand awaiting the changeover as soon as the wrapping material arrives.

Stephen Markham, 17 Buried Here Monday With Military Honors

Funeral services with military honors were held at the Sacred Heart church here Monday morning, at 9 o'clock for Pfc. Stephen John Markham, 17, who died from injuries received in a training accident at McChord Field, Tacoma, Wash., on Tuesday, Sept. 7.

The body arrived in Gainesville by army air force plane Saturday morning accompanied by Pfc. Joe Hurta, as escort, and was taken to the George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home, then brought to Muenster to the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Markham. Rosary was recited at the home on Saturday and Sunday nights.

According to a report released by army officials, young Markham was electrocuted. Officers said that while doing electrical installation work Tuesday, he climbed a power pole and apparently took hold of a 2400-volt line. He dropped to the ground and was pronounced dead on arrival at the base hospital.

Rev. Herman Laux, pastor, officiated at the requiem high mass and at the burial in Sacred Heart cemetery. The Muenster VFW Post was in charge of the military services and Nick Miller was in charge of funeral arrangements. Honorary pallbearers were six of the young man's former classmates of Sacred Heart school: James Bayer, Roy Baumhardt, Julian Walterscheid, Wilbert Vogel, Henry Pels and Herbert Miller.

VFW members who took part in the service were Color Bearers Walter Becker and Frank Hennigan; Color Guards Tony Yosten and Eugene Klement; Chaplain Joseph Hess; Rifleman Ray Voth, Ted Voth, Tony Fleitman, Vincent Felderhoff, Alphonse Felderhoff, Alfred Bayer and Harry Fisher under the direction of Sgt. Wm. J. Hess; Buglers Anthony Luke and Val Fuhrmann; Ushers Steve Mosler and Arnold Swirczynski.

Pfc. Markham had been stationed at McChord Field since July 13. He enlisted in the air forces April 1, 1948, and received his basic training at Lackland Field, San Antonio. He came home on a 10-day furlough July 3, after which he went to the Tacoma station for assignment.

He was born July 21, 1931, at Alexandria, La., and came to Muenster with his parents 4 years ago when they moved here from Bowie. His father is employed as a pumper by the Sinclair Oil company. He attended Sacred Heart school until he enlisted in the army.

The American Way

WHO DOES THE WORK?

By Dr. Alfred P. Haake
 Socialism won control of England by abolishing the facts of economics in the minds of people. The people voted the socialistic power to establish their dream world, — and now the socialist leaders are unhappy because their dream world won't jell into reality. The economic facts which they abolished, just won't stay dead.

Basic to all those facts is the truth that the only way we can have more goods is to produce them. Of course, a Simple Samuel can GIVE the goods to England, but, even then, Simple Samuel has to get them produced. A lot of work has to be done by someone, for more goods can be produced only by more work.

Who does the work?
 Poor old Karl Marx, blind leader of the blind and perverter of truth, would tell you that labor, meaning men working with their hands, legs and backs, does all the work and therefore should have all the product.

That would have been nearly true back in the cave-man days when it was every man for himself and mighty little for anybody. But that is not the picture today.

Of all the work in manufacturing goods, 85% is done by tools and mechanical power, 10% is done by animal muscle power and 5% by human muscle power. It is because man harnessed animals and mechanical power to do his work for him that his standard of living has risen so enormously since the days of the cave-man. For the animal man, with his own muscles, has a productive power of only one-tenth of a horse power, but man using machines and tools with mechanical power, has a productive capacity of about six horse-power, sixty times as much as his primitive ancestor.

That is why it is possible for so many more millions of people to live on this earth and for all of them to have so much more than did the primitive man.

But the most fortunate people of them all live in the United States, where there are more tools and machines per worker than anywhere else on earth. Here the average worker can buy more than twice as much with an hour of work than can the average worker anywhere else in the world. And mechanical power and tools are the reason. We do just as much work in producing the goods, but it is done more by tools and mechanical power and less by human muscle power.

There is another kind of work which is even more important than the work in using the tools and machines that take the place of muscle in doing the physical work. That is the work of management, working with the brain instead of with the muscles.

Someone must conceive what needs to be made, how to do it, select the people and machines, combine them properly, guide and supervise their efforts. Management has contributed more to the mounting welfare of mankind than has any other factor in production, and the great folly of socialism is to substitute politics for management.

No less a folly is the threatened destruction and actual deterioration of profit and savings out of which come the investments that furnish labor with machinery and tools. Destroy profit and we ultimately remove 85% of the work done for man by tools and machines, for these could not be provided if profit were destroyed.

It is pleasant to dream, but only work can make dreams come true, and it is well never to forget who really does the work.

THE LOWDOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

I just been reading where Uncle Sambo's payroll is being boosted by 15,000 new people per month — that is 500 per day and no small amount to be sneezed at. It is a lot of votes for somebody. But the Boss-Man down there at the head office says, tut! tut!, it is nothing to stew about, most of these new payroll people are on the Aid to Europe program, he says. But this Mr. Boss-Man don't say he is cutting down elsewhere and getting some other guys in other places off our bent backs. He should — but he don't.

The paper says that for every 6 people in the land, one of them is supported and carried along by the other 5. And that, when it is reduced down and brought home, it means each of us is lugging on our back, one-fifth of a guy — furnishing him with his raiment, and house rent, and all accessories complete, and 12 months per annum.

I been trying to figure out, how many more can be piled on, without most of us caving in — even got out my slide rule — and I am still puzzled on how we can even carry one-fifth of a guy like it is already, let alone putting on more. So folks, any of you, if you can figure it out, drop me a line.

Yours with the low-down,
 JO SERRA

Today 80 per cent of the land on the nation's farms is plowed by tractors. In the case of wheat, oats and other small grains, 90 per cent of the seeding and harvesting is done with oil-powered equipment. These are some of the reasons for America's tremendous use of oil.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Farming" Versus "Ranching"

Talked to some editors who run my column in their papers—in states where there's mostly cattle and sheep raising—about the differences there might be between farming and ranching.

And they told me: "Joe, there's no real difference between cattlemen and farmers. We make our living from the land like your folks do; we have the same 4-H Clubs and Granges; the same problems of prices and marketing.

"When it comes to recreation, we have the same liking to get together now and then for a barbecue and a friendly glass of beer."

And from where I sit, that about sums it up. Ranchers may have different names for things or grow different crops. But all over America folks who work the land share those common traits of hard work, sober moderation, and good fellowship, whether they're growing cattle for beef, or barley for good American beer and ale.

Here's an "Angel's Eye" view of the most luxurious thing a-wing, the new Clipper America of Pan American World Airways' ever-growing fleet. A double-deck plane, it gives the passenger freedom of movement, which has never been available before. With lounge, bar, berths and chef-cooked meals, there is a stability about it in the air that completely relaxes the passenger. Its first flight will be between San Francisco and Honolulu, and then between New York and London. Eventually the Boeing-built Clipper will also be used extensively on Pan American's proposed domestic routes.

Farmers Sell Spuds For $2.60 and Buy Them Back for 30c

SPOKANE, Wash.— Pacific Northwest farmers who are selling potatoes to the government for $2.60 a hundred and buying them back for 30 cents take a keen interest in current debates on price supports. It was wartime "incentive" promises to farmers, plus record potato yields, federal officials said Saturday, which put the government into the potato business in the Northwest in a big and costly way. In many sections of the Northwest farmers are selling potatoes at support prices and buying them back for livestock feed at prices which barely cover freight costs.

Meanwhile, in this same potato-glutted area, the housewife is paying five cents a pound for spuds.

Claud Peters, Washington state chairman for the production Marketing Administration, said PMA so far this season has purchased 747,277 hundredweight of early variety U.S. No. 1 potatoes in Washington and 421,317 hundredweight of No. 2 and No. 1-B grade. The support prices are $2.60 and $1.30 a hundred respectively.

The farmer who sells potatoes at these prices however, can buy them back for livestock feed sacked and delivered at 30 cents a hundred Peters said. The sack alone costs 25 cents so the PMA barely makes freight charges on the sales. A farmer who wants to haul the spuds away himself can get them for 10 cents a hundred in bulk.

During the war Peters explained, farmers were promised a support price of 90 percent of parity would be extended for two years after the war. This was to encourage them to grow more potatoes when they were needed. Starting next year, a new support price formula will go into effect. Its final form will depend upon Congress.

Meanwhile, however, the PMA must buy at support prices all potatoes raised under acreage allotments. Early varieties now are "very perishable," Peters said, and must be sold quickly to prevent spoilage. The PMA can't feed them into the regular market for human consumption as fresh products because that would force down the market price. Refrigerator ships are too scarce to permit major overseas shipments.

So PMA sells the potatoes to dehydrating plants, potato flour mills, starch plants and livestock producers. Some of them go into school lunch programs and institutions. Secretary of Agriculture Brannon has announced that none of them have been destroyed.

Each sack sold as livestock feed is stamped "not for human consumption." Peters said the PMA keeps investigators in the potato areas to curb "bootlegging" of spuds back into the market.

L. F. Renstrom, assistant director of the PMA in Idaho, said in Boise that "several hundred cars" of early potatoes have been purchased at support prices in Idaho.

The government is buying potatoes also in Oregon, California, Texas, Colorado and several other states.

"There I was," the old prospector was telling his visitors from down east, "the grizzly bear down in the canyon behind a tree. The only way I could hit him was to ricochet a bullet off this high canyon wall on my right." He described it with an up-and-down motion of his hand. "A one-rail shot, you understand."

He paused to consider the degree of their interest, seemed satisfied, then went on.

"Well, I had gauged my windage, calculated the lead of the barrel and the rate of twist, the hardness of the bullet and the angle of yaw it would have after being smacked out of shape against the canyon wall, and I judged my chances were 60-40 that I would get my bear. A one-rail bank. A controlled ricochet. So I fired."

There was a silence. Then one of his listeners asked rather timidly:

"Did you hit him?"

"No," the old man answered. "I missed the wall."

Historic Story

Benjamin Franklin was dining with a small party of distinguished gentlemen in Paris, when one of them said:

"Three nationalities are represented here this evening. I am French, my friend is English and Mr. Franklin is an American. Let each of us propose a toast."

It was agreed to, and the Englishman, who was accorded first honors, arose and in the tone of a Briton, boldly said, "Here's to Great Britain, the sun that gives light to all the nations of the earth."

The Frenchman was rather taken aback by this but he proposed: "Here's to France, the moon whose magic rays move the tides of the world."

Franklin then arose, with an air of quaint modesty, and said: "Here's to our beloved George Washington, the Joshua of America, who commanded the sun and the moon to stand still — and they obeyed."

"Gracious, Dorothy, I haven't seen you for seven years. You certainly look a lot older." "And you, too, Eleanor dear, I wouldn't have recognized you except for the dress and hat."

NEW LOOK COSTING 3 MILLION TO GREET 2 MILLION FAIR VISITORS

Stimulated by the greatest expansion program undertaken in years, the 1948 State Fair of Texas is in the final stages of preparation for its sixty-third season, Oct. 9-24.

Some 2,000,000 State Fair visitors will discover the "new look" on the 187-acre exposition where over $3,000,000 has been spent on new buildings and improvements. These include the new $800,000 Automobile, Aviation and Recreation Building and the $1,280,000 reconstruction job on the Cotton Bowl.

Utilizing all the skills that weave the glitter and the hard business, the agricultural triumphs and concession offerings into one splendid mass of excitement, officials are preparing for the people of the Southwest an exposition which is bigger and better than anything hitherto presented by the State Fair of Texas.

The layman will see an entirely new-type Agriculture Show that is easy to understand and fascinating to behold because it will present living exhibits of all the major crops of Texas in various phases of growth and maturity.

The Fair's 1948 Livestock Show will feature more breeds of cattle than ever brought together before for a major show, including two national shows, the National Brahman and the National Milking Shorthorn Shows, Oct. 13-22.

A mammoth exhibit of new automobiles and an equally impressive Farm Implement Show will be other highlights.

Sixty thousand 4-H Club boys and girls, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers will be guests of the State Fair Oct. 16, Rural Youth Day, the largest gathering of Rural Youth ever to assemble at one time in one place.

Nine colorful games will be played in the Cotton Bowl, including the University of Texas-University of Oklahoma on Opening Day, and SMU-Santa Clara on Oct. 23.

Heading the entertainment field at the Fair will be Jimmy Durante and Harry James in the Auditorium; the "Flying L" Rodeo, starring Jimmy Wakely, cowboy star of screen, stage, and radio; the third all-new edition of "Ice Cycles of 1948," and Serrano, "the psychic horse with the college education."

SOME BABIES WILL BE CUTE LITTLE NUMBERS

All babies born in the United States and Canada, beginning in 1949, are going to have serial numbers.

As planned by the National Office of Vital Statistics, numbers for all U. S. births will start with a 1. The next two numbers will indicate the state. Then will come a dash, followed by two numbers to indicate the year. After another dash there will be a different six-digit number for each baby.

A baby born in Alabama in 1949, for example, might be 101-49-042218.

will soon see the folly of working hard while Mike loafs. Before long he will slow down to the other's pace, and eventually production will fall so low that the common grab-bag doesn't have enough to support them both. If an entire nation operates that way its economy goes on the rocks. If just a few
