FRANK STOFFELS AND ROSE FUHRMANN WED IN LINDSAY NUPTIAL

Miss Rose Fuhrmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fuhrmann of Lindsay, became the bride of Frank Stoffels, son of Nick Stoffels of Muenster, in ceremonies performed in Saint Peter's church, Lindsay, at 8 o'clock, Tuesday morning.

Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, officiated at the ring service and the nuptial high mass. Mrs. Wm. Fleitman, organist, and the church choir presented the music.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white bridal satin designed with sweetheart neckline, long fitted sleeves that ended in points over her hands, a fitted bodice and full skirt with a cathedral length train. The fingertip length veil was edged with lace and fell from a lace coronet embroidered with seed pearls. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of white rose buds, and as a bit of sentiment she wore a heavy antique gold cross and chain belonging to her mother.

Miss Anna Mae Fuhrmann, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her aqua faille taffeta frock featured a pleated, off-shoulder effect collar, basque bodice, puffed sleeves and full skirt that was caught with shirring near the hem line to reveal a hooped, lace petticoat. She wore a blue shoulder length veil attached to a band of silver sequins and carried a colonial bouquet of pink rose buds. Meinrad Stoffels, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride's mother wore a brown crepe dress with brown accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Breakfast, for members of the bridal party, was served at the home of the bride's parents immediately after the ceremony and dinner was served at noon to members of the family. At 7 p.m. a reception and buffet supper was held in the Lindsay hall for 300 guests, and a dance concluded the days festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoffels left on a wedding trip and will make their home in Muenster when they return. They have rented Larry Yosten's house in the southeast part of town.

Mrs. Stoffels was born at Lindsay and is a graduate of Lindsay High school with the class of 1945. During the past year she was employed in Wichita Falls.

The American Way

By George Peck

OUR COUNTRY RIGHT OR WRONG

Did you listen to the proceedings of that alleged Progressive Convention? Unfortunately, I did and my stomach still does flip-flops as I recall the nauseating things that were said there. It almost passes belief that this nation has so many crack-pots and hate-mongers spreading their venom abroad in the land. The crowning irony is that this conglomeration of liberty-haters held its first convention, of all places, in Philadelphia — the Cradle of Liberty, and the City of Brotherly Love.

Practically every minority group

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation that may appear in the columns of the Enterprise will be gladly and fully corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publisher.

was represented there — all had their spokesmen. But not one word was said by anyone on behalf of the nation's most important group — the one that includes me. I mean the group of Americans who have worked hard, saved some money and invested it in American enterprise. All the Wallaceites talked about was how to grab off the earnings and savings of this group and to do it in jig time.

Any lingering doubt that Henry Wallace's Progressive Party is Communist-inspired and dominated vanished into thin air in Philadelphia on Sunday, July 25. Its platform expresses strong criticism of America's foreign policy, and particularly that part of it which applies to Russia. No reasonable person can object to that. It is the God-given privilege of any American to express his opinion, and the Progressive Party is well within its right in voicing its disapproval.

The point is that when one of the Vermont delegates proposed an amendment for insertion in the platform dealing with Russian-American relations, it was overwhelmingly hollered down by voice vote. This amendment read, "Although we are critical of the foreign policy of the United States, it is not our intention to give blanket endorsement to the foreign policy of any nation."

It is incomprehensible that any group of Americans could find the slightest objection to this, which simply would have put the Progressive Party on record to the effect that its members do not hold the opinion that the United States is out of step in the world parade of nations.

In failing to adopt this amendment, by almost unanimously rejecting it, the Progressive Party showed its true color — RED.

The Killer of Little Pigs and the Singing Cowboy surely must have heard of Stephen Decatur. 'Twas he who, in proposing a toast at Norfolk, Virginia, in April 1816, said: "Our country! in her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right, but our country right or wrong."

And that sentiment so aptly expressed by the naval hero of the War of 1812 has ever been the shibboleth of patriotic Americans. Our State Department at times may have bungled its job. Our country may be wrong, but it is our country. Apparently this does not apply to the Wallaceites and the Marcantonios — for them it is Russia, right or wrong.

It is true that there have been times when our foreign policy has not been something about which to ecstatically rhapsodize. But you won't catch any real American admitting that our foreign policy is not the best of any nation extant. This would seem to indicate that there were no real Americans present at the Progressive Party Convention. If there were, they did not speak up.

Vive, the Spirit of Decatur— OUR COUNTRY, RIGHT OR WRONG.

Miss Zelda Griffin of Sherman spent several days of the past week with Mrs. O. J. Baumhardt.

Section 1. That Section 15 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows: "Section 15. All property, both real and personal, of the wife, owned or claimed by her before marriage, and that acquired afterward by gift, devise or descent, shall be the separate property of the wife; and laws shall be passed more clearly defining the rights of the wife, in relation as well to her separate property as that held in common with her husband; provided that husband and wife, without prejudice to pre-existing creditors, may from time to time by written instrument, as if the wife were a feme sole partition between themselves in severalty or into equal undivided interests all or any part of their community property, or exchange between themselves the community interest of one spouse in any property for the community interest of the other spouse in other community property, whereupon the portion or interest set aside to each spouse shall be and constitute a part of the separate property of such spouse.

This Amendment is self-operative, but laws may be passed prescribing requirements as to the form and manner of execution of such instruments, and providing for their recording, and for such other reasonable requirements not inconsistent herewith as the Legislature may from time to time consider proper with relation to the subject of this Amendment. Should the Legislature pass an Act dealing with the subject of this Amendment and prescribing requirements as to the form and manner of execution of such instruments, such Act shall not be invalid by reason of its anticipatory character and shall take effect just as though this Constitutional Amendment was in effect when the Act was passed.

LILLIAN WIMMER AND RAY OTTO EXCHANGE VOWS HERE TUESDAY

Sacred Heart church was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony Tuesday morning, August 10, when Miss Lillian Wimmer became the bride of Ray Otto. Rev. John Walbe officiated at the double ring ceremony and was celebrant of the nuptial high mass at 8:30.

Pre-nuptial music and traditional marches were given by Anthony Luke, organist, and the church choir sang the mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wimmer and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Otto.

Mr. Wimmer gave his daughter in marriage. She was lovely in a gown of ivory bridal satin designed with tightly fitted bodice, long fitted sleeves which extended to points over her wrists and an extremely full skirt which swept into a formal train. Accenting the bodice was a yoke of marquisette and a band of shirred satin simulating the off-shoulder effect. Similarly the skirt of the frock was shirred near the hemline from beneath which showed a wide be-ruffled flounce of marquisette.

The bridal veil of illusion was edged with lace and was finger-tip length. It was attached to a crown of starched lace embroidered with seed pearls. The bride carried a white prayer book, a gift from the groom, topped by a glamelia with a stephanotis shower.

For "something borrowed" she wore a single strand of pearls, belonging to her sister, Mrs. Leo J. Haverkamp, "something blue" was carried out by earrings, and "something old" was an antique gold ring which was worn by her maternal grandmother at her wedding more than 80 years ago.

Miss Grace Wimmer was her sister's maid of honor wearing blue faille taffeta featuring a shirred neckline, fitted basque bodice and short puffed sleeves. Shirring at the hemline revealed a hooped, lace petticoat. She wore a picture hat of white mauline, and lace gauntlets and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Robert Bayer attended Mr. Otto as best man and Tony Wimmer and J. P. Flusche were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a navy floral sheer dress with black accessories and the groom's mother wore a blue bemberg floral dress with black accessories. Both had corsages of white glads.

After the ceremony brunch was served to the bridal party and the parents of the couple in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Haverkamp. The bride's colors were stressed in decorating the table and the dining room.

At four o'clock an informal reception honored the couple at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Otto and dinner was served at 6 o'clock. The bride's table was beautifully appointed to carry out the traditional all-white wedding theme and was centered with a tiered, decorated cake. Mrs. Andrew Wimmer was in charge of the guest book in which more than 90 guests were registered. A dance in the K of C hall at night concluded the day's festivities.

It was during the dance that Mr. and Mrs. Otto departed on a wedding trip. The bride was wearing a dark gray pin check suit with a red blouse and gray and black accessories. When they return they will make their home here in the Arnold Rohmer apartment.

Mrs. Otto is a graduate of Sacred Heart High school with the class of 1946 and is employed as secretary at the local soil conservation office. Mr. Otto is associated with his brother, Earle Otto, here as a partner of Otto Brothers, earth moving contractors.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Reiter of Kerrville have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Catherine Reiter, to William E. Black. The wedding will be solemnized at Kerrville on August 27, at 7:30 p.m. The Reiters formerly resided in Muenster.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS HAVE LIVELY BUSINESS MEETING

Meeting Friday night in the K of C hall for a regular monthly business session, members of the Catholic Daughters of America discussed plans and made arrangements for the quarterly meeting of the NCCW of the Sherman Deanery which will be held in Muenster on Aug. 31. Mrs. T. P. Frost, president of the parish council, is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, grand regent, presided during the meeting and members made final reports on the highway signs the court is erecting, to inform tourists that there is a Catholic church in the city and the time of services. The signs have been made and their erection is expected to take place within the week.

Plans for reception of new members were also discussed and the tentative date for the ceremonies was set for October 17.

Hostesses for the social on August 26 were announced. They are Mmes. Al Eberhart, Steve Fette and J. W. Fisher.

BERNADINE SICKING MARRIES LEO MOSMAN WEDNESDAY MORNING

Miss Bernadine Sicking, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Sicking, and Leo Mosman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mosman of Gainesville, were married here Wednesday morning in a pretty ceremony performed in Sacred Heart church at 8 o'clock.

The double ring service was read by Rev. Fred Mosman of Dallas, cousin of the bridegroom, and he officiated at the nuptial high mass. Anthony Luke, organist, and the church choir presented the music.

The bride was beautifully attired in white net over taffeta. The dress was designed with a fitted bodice featuring a sequin-embroidered yoke, long petal point sleeves, and a bouffant skirt extending into a cathedral length train. Her finger-tip length veil of illusion was edged with lace and fell from a coronet of seed pearls. Her flowers were gardenias arranged on top of her white prayer book.

The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and for "something blue and borrowed" she carried a rosary belonging to her mother, and a white lace handkerchief from Ireland, also belonging to her mother, was "something old".

Mrs. Ray Sicking was the bride's only attendant. She wore a baby blue net frock over satin. It was made with a fitted bodice and full circular skirt. Tiny pink rosebuds adorned the double ruffle of net at the neckline. She wore a matching blue net open crown hat and blue net mitts and carried a colonial bouquet of white king asters.

Bobby Mosman, brother of the groom, was best man. Clarence Mosman and Ray Sicking were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a pink floral silk with white accessories and the groom's mother wore a black sheer dress with black accessories. They wore corsages of white carnations.

The groom's 92-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Mary Mosman of Gainesville, was also present for the ceremony. She was charming in a complete black ensemble with a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately after the service breakfast was served to the bridal party, their parents, grandmother and the officiating minister at the home of the bride's parents and at noon members of the two families were guests for dinner. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth and was centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. A family reunion was enjoyed during the afternoon and following serving of supper the young couple departed on a wedding trip, the bride wearing a smoke grey costume with white accessories. When they return they will make their home in Sherman where he is employed.

Mrs. Mosman is a native of Muenster and attended Sacred Heart school. Mr. Mosman was born north of Lindsay and attended Lindsay school and Saint Mary's High school in Gainesville.

Two pre-nuptial courtesies complimented the bride. One was a shower given by Mrs. Frank Magee at her home in Gainesville. Fifteen guests were present for appropriate games contests and refreshments. Another party for the honoree was given at her home when a group of relatives and friends gathered there for an informal shower and visit.

PLAIN TALK!

To Every Citizen of Cooke County

Three "striking" projectionists who formerly worked at the State and Plaza Theatres, have been working steadily for competing theatres since picketing began. They (or someone) have been financially able to employ paid pickets, print handbills, and publish advertisements attempting to give the public the impression that we are unfair to labor.

We can't tell you who is financing their efforts, but we can expose some misrepresentations

Believing it our primary duty to provide the best in entertainment, in comfortable theatres, and at reasonable prices, we have not previously made public statements. Many of our friends and patrons have requested us to give the true picture. They know our silence has not been any admission of the truth of the charges of our three "employees."

Decide for yourselves if this is really an HONEST labor-management dispute!

When does a man stop being an EMPLOYEE and start being a COMPETITOR?

It's puzzling. These three men worked as projectionists for the State and Plaza Theatres. They were not discharged; they simply walked out.

After they started a picket line at the State and Plaza Theatres, they began regular work for competing Gainesville theatres. They are working there now, using paid pickets while on duty.

Our so-called "employees" claim there is a labor dispute with us. Yet the Texas labor laws define a "labor dispute" as a "controversy between an employer and the majority of his EMPLOYEES . . ."

(Do these three men expect you to believe they'll quit their present employment if they succeed in their demands? Is it fair for them to work for a competitor, urge our patrons to go to other theatres, and picket us?)

Whose employees are they?
Who is being unfair?

These three men claim that we have refused to "recognize" their union and that we have an anti-union attitude. These charges are not based on facts.

These three men entered a local union a year ago. They were working for us then. We made no attempt to discourage them, nor did we make the slightest objection to the exercise of their inherent right to become organized. We conferred with them both individually and as a union group. If that is not recognizing their union, why wasn't such a charge made a year ago?

The anti-union accusation was obviously a bid for support by Gainesville labor. If it were true, the picket line would merit that support.

But, only a little investigation would have disclosed that the State and Plaza theatres are Griffith-operated; that Griffith theatres in a number of towns have union operators, and that there is complete labor harmony in those theatres. We believe in the American Way of permitting our employees to decide for themselves whether or not they want a union.

Decide for yourself whether or not we are fair to our employees

Yes . . . Three projection machine operators began the picket line at the State, Plaza and Ritz Theatres. Prior to that time, in recognition of higher costs of living, the management had offered them an increase in salary provided they continued to do the job for which they were employed and which they had agreed to do. No additional duties were required; they were merely asked to live up to their agreement.

They refused. Now they contend we are unfair to our employees.

This company was built on the policy that its employees are its best investment. All of its executives, without exception, worked up through the organization.

All employees are adequately paid and work under clean, cool, healthful conditions. But our employee benefits don't stop there.

Life insurance is furnished by the company to every Gainesville employee, regardless of age or position. Full hospitalization coverage is afforded — at no cost to employees. Supplementing these benefits is the Employee's Benefit Fund for the aid of those in financial difficulties.

The company pays all of this expense — without any contribution whatever from employees! Nor are any of these benefits the result of employee "pressure".

You — the public — are entitled to know that we ARE fair to our employees. You should not be subjected to intimidation or threats of illegal secondary boycott or "black-listing." Your independence and your support will prove that it pays to be fair!

Buttering Up Father
"Charles," mother sighed wearily, "you've been a bad boy today. I'm afraid I'll have to tell your father."
"When, mother?" Charles inquired.

"After dinner, I guess," mother replied.
The youngster sat quietly considering his peril, and then in his most persuasive tones, he begged, "Well, mother, you'll give him a real good dinner, won't you? You can do that much for me, can't you?"

Struggling Along
"Prices don't seem to go down, do they, Mrs. Riggs?"
"No they don't Mrs. Diggs. Like I was saying to my man the other night, after we pay our income taxes, keep up the installments on our apartment house, buy a few bonds, put the boys through college and buy our clothes, what have we left?"

It Flips You a Lighted Cigarette—
An added safety factor for the car is an automatic cigarette container-lighter that can be attached to either side of the steering column. At a touch of the finger it produces a lighted cigarette.

New Television-Atomic Aid—
One of the latest contributions to television and atomic research reported from the electrical manufacturing industry is an electronic microammeter that can measure electrical direct current down to a billionth of an ampere.

A Kitchen Millennium—
At long last, the automatic can opener. It's electrically operated and designed to handle any type of can. All you do is touch a control knob which locks in the can and starts the proceedings. The can stays put until you flip the knob back, thus releasing the can and shutting off the motor at the same time.

Washes Out Hay Fever—
Relief for hay fever victims is possible with a new and compact electric room conditioner, recently announced. Laboratory tests have revealed that the 15-pound device, which filters and washes the air, can remove up to 95 per cent of ragweed pollen from an average room in the first hour of operation.

Electric Shaver's Speed Doubled—
The last war proved a lot of things, among them that direct current doubles the speed of electric shavers. This according to men who served on DC-equipped submarines. Recently announced is a plug-in inverter that changes household AC to DC, devised to provide a smoother shave.

An Electric 'Whisk Broom'—
An electric carpet sweeper with a whisk broom stroke is announced. Its brush makes 1,750 sweeps a minute and can be adjusted to clean the naps of any depth. . . . Another sweeping development concerns a broom with plastic bristles that generate static electricity to trap the dirt.

100%-Fly-Kill Weapon—
A new and deadly insect sprayer atomizes and spreads its powerful insecticide with blasts of super-heated dry steam, generated instantly by a special electric heater. The insecticide has been tested for 100 per cent fly kill and for a cockroach kill of 92 out of 100. The high-pressure 1000 F steam makes possible prolonged suspension of the insecticide particles in the air and thus greater killing effects.

Smart, This Transformer—
A new distribution transformer for residential electrical service has versatility. When a section of its line becomes faulted or overloaded, it automatically drops it without affecting service to any of the other tenants in its domain.

Fish Lure With Sex Appeal—
In closing, we give you the fish lure, shaped like a minnow, that packs a tiny battery, electric motor, and water-jet propulsion to give it that "come-hither" slow motion.

130 CHILDREN REPORT FOR SUMMER SESSION AT LINDSAY SCHOOL

One hundred and thirty students registered on opening day, Monday, Aug. 16, for summer classes at Lindsay school. This figure is ten less than registration totals on opening day last year, however it is estimated that approximately a dozen more will report when the regular term opens.

The hot lunch program is not in operation for the summer classes but officials plan to have it for the regular term.

Census Bureau Reveals State's Population Now Exceeds Seven Million

WASHINGTON.— Texas population increased 10.7 percent between the 1940 census and July 1, 1947, the Bureau of the Census reported Monday. The United States average increase was 8.9 percent.

The number of Texans increased 689,000 from the 1940 figure of 6,414,824 to the 1947 count of 7,104,000, the report showed. This "rounded estimate" was recorded for the total state population, excluding armed forces overseas.

Texas' civilian population, alone increased 10 percent during the 7-year period. Civilians showed a natural increase of 844,000, with 1,294,000 births and 450,000 deaths, the report said. The state lost 140,000 to migration.

"How the deuce," asked the officer on the rifle range, "did you get those four straight bulls? Your range is 600 yards, but your sight is set at 300."

Said the recruit: "See that little rock halfway along? well, I'm bouncing 'em off that."

Confetti---

due to feed prices and various other factors, the number of dairy cows is fewer. The supply has decreased while the demand increased, and the farmers who help bring those two factors back in balance will do quite well for themselves.
