Again plugging for our country's diplomatic recognition of Red China, the British say that it is the only way to set the stage for a disarmament agreement. It seems that our soft headed and short sighted English friends will never tire of urging us on to the same mistake they have made. Or is this rather a matter of seeking the good will of the Reds so they will be less inclined to snatch Hong Kong?

One thing the British might well consider is the possible fate of that city if and when the desired diplomatic recognition is achieved. What will China's attitude be when it decides that England has completed its job as a go-between and is no longer useful to the red plan? Then how long will Hong Kong last? Our guess is that England's interest is best served by just working at this mission and not succeeding at it.

At the same time we would say that, in the interests of peace and global human welfare, Britain is working at the deal from the wrong side. It should be asking Red China, not us, to make the first concession. Instead of agreeing to disarmament talk after diplomatic recognition it should inform the reds that recognition might possibly follow a reasonable arms agreement backed up by reliable evidence that it is being observed.

The inducement now offered us is plain sucker bait. Remembering the red record of double crossing, what assurance does anyone have that, after diplomatic recognition by this country and even admission to the UN, the reds would negotiate in good faith? Or, after negotiation, that they would live up to agreement? The record so far shows that nothing is less dependable than the word of communists.

Instead of the British recommendation, let's say that we will talk to the reds without formal recognition to brief them on the standards of truth, integrity and human respect that are necessary to qualify for recognition by decent nations. When they can show evidence of meeting these standards we will gladly discuss the matter of diplomatic recognition.

To us this should be primarily a matter of principle. We cannot in self respect recognize a government like Peking's. Also it should be a matter of practical policy. We cannot in sound judgment depend on people who have a long record of double crossing.

Representative James Roosevelt, whose efforts in behalf of American commies in recent years reveals a deficiency of either wisdom or conscience, is making another effort to sabotage the House Committee on Un-American Activities. For years he has sought to have the Committee abolished. A few weeks ago he was scheduled to make another speech on the subject but failed to come through when the pressure of public sentiment got too strong. Now he pops up with another scheme . . . to limit the Committee to a puny budget which would starve it out of existence.

On this he's due for another big flop. As more Americans learn the score, they are more determined to have local members of the red conspiracy exposed as the traitors and scoundrels they are. Though progress in that line is discouragingly slow it is gradually moving ahead. Now, more than ever before, we need to keep plugging on the subject and revealing the kind of facts which will eventually convince legislators that special rigid laws are needed to put these contemptible enemies in their place. They are not just people of different political belief. They are fanatic conspirators, dedicated to the overthrow of our government and our freedom. It is folly to deal with them on any other basis.

Lots of comment has been made on the difference in tone of Eisenhower's and Kennedy's appraisal of the State of the Union. Possibly significant along that line is a recent order by the Bureau of Labor Statistics to add the price of tranquilizers to the Cost of Living Index. Is the condition really so bad that the public has to have sedatives to live with it?

Muenster Chapter Marks FFA Week With Three Events

Boys of the Muenster FFA Chapter are observing National FFA Week with three events, a radio program, attendance at the annual district banquet and a chapter meeting.

The radio program over Station KGAF was a discussion of the organization's aims and methods. Presenting it were Ag Instructor Edgar Dyer and Robert Klement, James Whitt, Noble McElreath, Billy Owens and Donny Vogel.

Three from here were prominent in the district FFA banquet and election of officers at Denton Tuesday night. Mark Hellman, outgoing district officer, extended the organization's welcome to the visitors and Glenn Hellman, former chapter adviser and special guest, made the response. Carolyn Fette, chapter sweetheart, was a close second in the contest for district FFA sweetheart. Speaker on the program was Former Governor Gary of Oklahoma.

Attending from here were Edgar Dyer, Glenn Hellman, Carolyn Fette, Sharon Klement, Dickie and Johnny Pangel, Weldon and Donny Vogel, Jim Wiesman, David Sicking, August Knabe, Billy Owens, James Whitt and Mark Hellman.

SH Alumni Teams In Nocona Tourney

Sacred Heart Alumni volleyball teams ran into tough competition this week at an invitation tournament in Nocona. The men have lost two games and are eliminated from the tourney. Ladies have lost one and still have a chance at the consolation trophy.

In preliminaries Monday both teams were put into the consolation bracket by decisive losses to Holiday. Tuesday night the men lost two out of three to North Saint Jo. The second game for the ladies is set for Friday night.

Both teams are entered in a Montague tournament next week. The following week, starting March 6, Sacred Heart Alumni will sponsor a tournament in the parochial gym.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Klement of Lindsay have announced a son, their first child, born Saturday, Feb. 18, 5:33 a.m. at the Sanitarium. He weighed eight pounds 13 1/2 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fuhrmann of Lindsay have announced arrival of a son, weight five pounds 14 1/2 ounces. The little lad was born 9:37 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 16, at the Sanitarium.

Hospital Drive Reaches $188,176

In spite of a slow-down caused by current discussion of a county hospital election, donations still keep coming for the Muenster Memorial Hospital Fund. Secretary Dorothy Hartman reported Wednesday that the total of subscriptions up to then is $188,176.59, an increase of $1,625 since the previous report of two weeks ago.

A wait and see attitude has developed as a result of the county hospital proposal, especially since the election is practically assured. Some people now are holding back their donations until they know whether or not they will be taxed for support of a county hospital. The attitude is that they cannot give as much to the local project if the election carries and they are taxed for the other.

NEWS OF THE SICK

A recurrence of illness sent Sister Agnes Voth to the hospital Monday. She had been teaching at Little Rock and is hospitalized in that city. Cards of cheer will reach her if addressed to her at St. Vincent's Infirmary, Little Rock, Ark.

Mrs. Anna Trachta has been dismissed from the Sanitarium after five days of treatment and observation and, while a shut-in, is up and around her home some.

Cletus Bayer, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bayer, underwent an emergency operation for acute appendicitis Saturday at the Sanitarium and is making satisfactory recovery. He came home Wednesday.

The Ray Sicking's young son, Bobby, is back in school since Tuesday after spending ten days in bed on account of flu and asthma.

Herbie Fisher has returned to classes, his left leg still in a cast. He manages with crutches.

Thursday's checkup and tests showed J. A. Travis doing all right after a two-week sick spell and he's gone back to work.

Mrs. Al Felderhoff has recovered from dental surgery performed in Dallas last Thursday. She had two embedded wisdom teeth cut out.

Emmett Sicking has been dismissed from hospital care and is back at home and back in circulation. He returned from Wichita Falls Saturday.

Baby Susan Schmidtkofer, six months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Schmidtkofer of Lindsay, has made splendid progress in recovering from a partially dislocated hip—a birth defect. On a recent trip to Dallas for a checkup by a specialist he gave the good report that the hip is normal now and the brace can be discontinued except for nap time mornings and afternoons until June.

Coaches Select Dream Teams and Award Trophies

Muenster High claimed a few of the positions on this season's 37-B all-district basketball teams but most of the selections went to the loop leaders.

Coaches of the district met in the community room of the First State Bank last Saturday to decide the mythical teams and also to award trophies to the champs, the runners up, and the sportsmanship selections of both boys and girls divisions. In each case the winning school received money rather than a trophy and will make its own selection of a trophy.

Champs were Valley View boys and Callisburg girls. Runners-up were Callisburg boys and Era girls. Sportsmanship award selections resulted in a tie in the girls division, so Muenster and Valley View both were declared winners. Lindsay got the sportsmanship award in the boys division.

Members of the all district teams are as follows.

BOYS FIRST TEAM: Harris of Muenster, Ken Alexander and Ken Davis of Valley View, Buddy Williams and Delbert Dutton of Callisburg.

BOYS SECOND TEAM: Mark and Joe Hellman of Muenster, Bedford Vestal and Charlie Wagner of Valley View, Brent Hollandsworth and Danny Alkin of Callisburg.

GIRLS FIRST TEAM: Barbara Neal and Patricia Cotton, Callisburg; Carolyn Morris and Nina Roberson, Era; Patsy Zimmerer, Lindsay; Annette Spindle, Valley View.

GIRLS SECOND TEAM: Jane McCary, Judy Sims and Gail Selder of Callisburg; Virginia Vogel and Della Wimmer of Muenster; Betty Haverkamp, Lindsay, Donna Davis, Era.

Honorable mentions also included a few Muenster players: Noble McElreath and Harold Flusche on the boys' team, Sandra Cain and Dyanne Hellman on the girls' team.

Lindsay players listed as honorable mentions are Richard Haverkamp, Len Zimmerer, Carolyn Schmitz, Rosemary Hermes and Delores Hess.

SH Seniors Will Sponsor Car Wash

Sacred Heart High Seniors have announced they will sponsor a car wash Friday afternoon and Saturday as a class benefit.

They'll be in business at the school Friday beginning at 2:30 in the afternoon and Saturday beginning at 9 a.m. and continuing as long as they have work. Car owners who wish to have their car picked up and delivered are invited to phone 72-W.

Juniors Play in Montague Tourney

Both elementary teams of the Muenster Public School are entered in an invitation basketball tournament at Montague the last three days of this week.

Preliminaries to be played Thursday night will match Muenster and Saint Jo in both boys and girls games.

Henscheid Kin From Five States Here for Reunion

It was a happy gathering of Henscheids—some 80 of them—here Sunday when a family reunion brought together the six Henscheid brothers and their sister for the first all-family get-together in over 40 years. While they had seen each other from time to time, they had not all been together at the same time since 1919. The relationship came from several towns in five states to join in the party.

The Henscheid brothers are Joe of Westphalia, Iowa, John of Phoenix, Ariz., Henry of Blackfoot, Idaho, and William, Albert and Leo Henscheid of Muenster and their sister is Mrs. Ben Derichsweiler of Denison. Joining them were sons and daughters, nieces, nephews and cousins.

The reunion was held in the Parish Hall with a six o'clock dinner catered by Mrs. Joe Lehnertz. Visiting, reminiscing, picture taking and singing filled the after-dinner hours.

Coming with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Henscheid were two sons Virgil and Urban and their wives, also of Westphalia, Iowa. They left Thursday to visit relatives in Hereford and will return for another visit here before going home.

The Henry Henscheids left for Idaho Thursday. She is the former Miss Mary Sieger and they visited her relatives and old-time friends also.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henscheid went from here to Norman, Okla., to visit their daughter and family, the William Schaders (Ursula Henscheid) who were here for the reunion. They also got together with Mrs. Henscheid's relatives, the Hess relationship.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Derichsweiler also had members of their family here.

Others from out of town registering in the guest book were Messrs. and Mmes. Leonard Derichsweiler, Shiela and Jimmy and Eugene Derichsweiler and Gena of Denison, Mrs. Beatrice Giacomo of Houston, Messrs. and Mmes. Nick Mayer and Ferd Yosten and Miss Jane Hesse of Fort Worth.

Messrs. and Mmes. Damien Hellman of Irving, Harold Neu of Lindsay, Ronnie Herr of Gainesville, Arnold Henscheid of Amarillo and Carl and Misses Sue and Sandy Schader of Norman, Okla.

Muenster Butane Is New Dealer for Westinghouse Line

Muenster Butane Company is Muenster's new dealer for the Westinghouse and Zenith lines of major electrical appliances.

In transactions completed this week the new agency reached agreements with distributors and also arranged for the transfer of merchandise and repair stock from Community Lumber Co., the former dealer.

Actual transfer of most of the stock now awaits vinyl tile floor covering in the display room of Muenster Butane. The appliances will probably be moved during the weekend. Items to be transferred are the large appliances and radios. Small appliances such as toasters, irons etc., were not included in the purchase from Community Lumber Co.

James Walterscheid will have charge of the service department. He is working now on installation of equipment and parts and expects to have it ready in about two weeks.

Formal opening date for the dealership will be announced soon.

Eligibility in it is limited to students who maintain an average of over 80 per cent and Principal Glenn Hellman is faculty adviser.

Leaders determined to date: Joe Hellman, president; Judy Sicking, secretary; Jo Ann Fisher and Mark Hellman, junior representatives; Brenda Tuggle and Robert Klement, sophomore representatives; Sandra Cain and Larry Gobble, freshman representatives.

Trash Haul Slated In City Saturday

Sacred Heart High freshmen will be hauling trash Saturday as a means of earning money for their class treasury and class gift to the school.

The students plan to start early and continue until late. They'll be making rounds through the city to see people who are regular "customers" for these hauls. Others who want trash picked up will not be missed if they phone the Ray Owen residence, 132-R-1, and leave word.

Youth Meeting Planned Saturday

Youngsters interested in reorganizing a local youth center are invited to a special meeting sponsored by the Community Progress Association Saturday night. It will be held at 206 Main, the former hospital headquarters, at 7:30 p.m., and all youths over 13 are welcome.

The meeting develops from a meeting of the CPA Wednesday night. Members are convinced that an active and successful recreational center can be maintained here.

TP&L Increases Voltage on Line Serving Muenster

More electric current will be available at Muenster as a result of changes now being made by Texas Power and Light Co. construction crews.

According to Fred Lynn of the TP&L district office at Gainesville the transmission line through this area is being converted from 33,000 to 69,000 volts and the distribution line serving the city is being upped from 7,200 volts to 12,500 volts.

Involved in the change-over is a sizeable construction project. Heavier braces and cross arms with heavier insulators are being installed on all poles between the Gainesville substation and the Montague county line. A new substation is being built just beyond the east city limits to provide Muenster and Myra with 12,500 volt service. It replaces the substation on the highway north of Myra, which formerly served Muenster and Myra with 7,200 volts. The old substation will be removed.

Another change is routing the new 69,000 volt transmission line from the substation around the south side of town and returning to the former route just beyond the overpass. The old transmission line followed the highway directly through town.

Also on the program is re-connecting all transformers in town so that the 12,500 volts in the city distribution line can be cut down to the voltage required for each consumer. On the old system the transformers were wired to convert 7,200 volts to the customers' requirements.

All work should be finished in April, if favorable weather prevails, says Mr. Lynn.

MHS Announces '61 Grid Schedule

Muenster High School's football schedule for the 1961 season looks very similar to that of last year. The only change is substituting Chico for Whitesboro.

Superintendent L. B. Bruns, who will serve as next year's director of district football, revealed the tentative district schedule Tuesday and said that it will be considered as official unless changes are made and reported to him on or before this week Thursday.

The early part of the schedule calls for lots of travel by the Hornets and their supporters. On Sept. 1 they will be at Pilot Point, and their third and fourth games, they will go to Valley View of Wichita County and to Newcastle. Two other trips are short . . . to Era and Callisburg . . . and the remaining five games are at home. The first five games are non-conference, the last five, starting on Oct. 13, are for the record.

LET'S ABOLISH INCOME TAX!

The measure introduced in Hartford last week by Rep. Robert S. Orcutt of Guilford is without doubt the most significant item which the 1961 General Assembly will be called upon to consider, although it will admittedly rate fewer headlines than such issues as schools, highways and welfare legislation.

Rep. Orcutt is urging the state lawmakers to endorse the proposed 23rd amendment to the U. S. Constitution — an amendment which would prohibit government from engaging in any business, financial or industrial enterprise, and ultimately abolish all taxes on personal income.

Under the proposal, the federal government would be forced to withdraw from the more than 700 business activities in which it competes with its own citizens. Such a step would result in an annual savings of $45 billions. The income tax, which produces yearly revenues of $38 billions, could then be abolished without endangering the basic financial structure of the government.

From the cold, practical view, the plan has many obvious advantages: It would give every wage-earner an immediate boost in take-home pay. It would encourage business expansion and thus create more jobs. It would check inflation through balanced budgets and systematic reduction of the national debt. It would remove the staggering burden of a huge central government from the taxpayers' shoulders. It would stimulate consumer spending, simply because the consumer would have more in his pocket to spend.

But its real merit, as we see it, rests in its lofty moral purpose. It would restore the dignity of the individual as the master of his own economic fate — a concept that is synonymous with freedom.

Four states have already ratified the proposed amendment. We hope the General Assembly will seize the opportunity to make Connecticut the fifth one.

ENOUGH SAWDUST

Once there was a man who owned a mule. It was costing him a lot to feed the mule, so the man hit upon the happy plan of mixing sawdust with the mule's feed to provide bulk and cut down on the feed costs. First he used a 75-25 formula — 75 percent feed and 25 percent sawdust. The mule continued to thrive. So again — this time to a 50-50 basis, and despite the change, the mule still appeared normal. Elated at the "progress" he was making in his goal, the man made another change — this to 25 percent feed and 75 percent sawdust. A few morning later when he went to the feed lot, he found the mule dead!

America has had the sawdust of socialism put in its feed box for some years now. We would suggest that the formula presently stands at about the 50-50 mark — 50 percent democracy and 50 percent socialism sawdust.

Heaven forbid that we should decide to experiment further and change the formula in favor of more sawdust.

IS THIS WHAT YOU WANT?

So you ask, "What is wrong with the government providing medical care (a form of socialized medicine)?" The answer can be broken down into many things . . . but the best answer is provided by Webster's dictionary —

SOCIALIZE : to subject to governmental ownership and control.

DEMOCRACY: government by the people, either directly or through selected representatives; rule by the ruled.

Which one is the way of life we Americans are so proud of?

One of the arguments of the proponents of socialized medicine is to improve medical facilities. The best answer to this is the comparison of a few facts about the United States under the present system and England under socialized medicine (which they call National Health Service):

Since 1948 the U. S. has increased the number of general hospitals from 6335 to 6845. England in the same period built not one general hospital. In the United States we have an average of one doctor for every 1080 people. England has one doctor for every 2267 people.

According to the British people we have talked to, a person has to wait for as much as two years for an operation that is not an emergency. And yes, they can go to the doctor of their choice if they are willing to pay him . . . but they have already paid enough through taxes and cannot afford to pay double. England's NHS is costing them three times the original estimate.

To socialize medicine would be to open the door to socializing other fields. Think of the consequences in store if the federal government "Gives" federal aid to education, highway, etc. These so-called "gifts" will come from our own pockets in the form of taxes, but with the socialized system these "gifts" will be subject to governmental ownership and control.

The smaller we keep the group, the better democracy (government by the people) will work. The more local we keep the taxes and consequently control, the better democracy will work.

And he warned . . . these things will not be labeled "socialized," they will be under such names as National Health Care, Federal Aid, etc.

By way of pointing up some of the material progress achieved under a free enterprise private-profit system, the following statistics should be of interest:

Automobiles: 8,000 in 1900; 23,035,000 in 1930; 60,000,000 today.

Telephones: 1,300,000 in 1900; 20,103,000 in 1930, 72,000,000 today.

Homes with television: none in 1940; 46,000,000 today.

Homes with electric washers: 3,500,000 in 1926; 47,500,000 today.

Homes with electric ranges: 370,000 in 1926; 17,500,000 today.

Homes with air conditioners: 15,000 in 1940; 7,500,000 today.

Homes with electric refrigerators: 142,000 in 1926; 50,000,000 today.

The Lord's Prayer has 56 words. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address has 266. The Ten Commandments have 297. The Declaration of Independence has 300. But a government order setting the price of cabbage has 26,911 words.

SANITY TEST

The false notion that the federal government can legislate away human shortcomings and cancel out natural economic laws may be coming to an end. Whether this is true will be tested when impending efforts are again made to amend the federal wage-hour law to extend coverage and boost the minimum wage.

Proponents of wage-hour revision run into forces that can no longer be swept under the rug by legislative fiat — namely, inflation, unemployment and imbalance of the gold flow from the U.S. These forces have reached their present proportions, mainly because the free-market system has already been coerced, regulated and taxed to the danger point.

Legislating another increase in the wage level will mean more cost increases to pass along to consumers in higher prices, and another turn in the inflationary spiral. It will mean further unemployment and a further weakening of the ability of American business and industry to compete with foreign producers of everything from neckties to automobiles. As this ability to compete is restricted, more and more of the nation's gold and resources will drain away to other countries.

What is more sorely needed is a demonstration of faith in the ability of private citizens to run their own affairs to the benefit of themselves and our country, if the regulators and spenders will give them a chance.

LENT MAKES US FREE

by Mary Perkins Ryan, Author of BEGINNING AT HOME and THE SPIRIT OF LENT

NOBODY today has any difficulty in appreciating, at least to some degree, what slavery means. We have read accounts of what it was to live under Nazi rule, of what it is like to live in a communist world. We have all felt something of the horror of enslavement to powers determined to change the very nature of man and to do away with the dignity of freedom that God gave to each human person.

But if anyone, even Our Lord, were to tell us that we ourselves are slaves, we would answer indignantly that we are free-born Americans — just as the Jews said, when He told them that His truth would make them free, "We are children of Abraham and have never been in bondage to any man!"

YET IF we really look at people ruled and driven by desires for pleasure, for excitement, for money, for power, we see that they are slaves in the truest sense. And this is true to some degree of all of us, insofar as we "cannot help" our impatience, our unkindness, our self-indulgence.

For the fall of Adam and Eve made the whole human race slaves to sin and selfishness. It is only by the Redemption which Christ brings us that we can be free — free to love God and serve Him, free to love and serve one another, free to be truly happy. When we were baptized, Christ brought us from slavery to freedom. But, like the Israelites freed from their slavery, we still have a hankering for "the flesh-pots of Egypt," for the seeming comforts of life of self-indulgence. We need to appreciate our freedom.

We need to learn how to live the free life of God's children. We need to be continually delivered from the attacks of our spiritual enemies, who try to recapture us for the kingdom of darkness.

DURING LENT our efforts to pray and fast and give alms show what slaves we are to their opposites — to unawareness of God, to self-indulgence, to self-seeking. Thus we see how greatly we need Christ.

In the Old Testament we read of God's great deliverances of His people from slavery and exile and conquest, from sickness and death. In the Gospels we discover how we must cooperate with this deliverance.

OUR LORD solemnly warns us that we cannot simply be freed from evil; we must be filled with His life, trying to lead it with patient perseverance, humility, and trust.

Let us take part in Lent, then, so wholeheartedly that we shall renounce evil with all our strength. And on Easter Sunday morning we shall rise to a new life, free "with the freedom wherewith Christ has made us free."

WHO'S RICH?

Hardly a day passes that a newspaper or magazine article or some orator does not call the United States the richest country on the face of the globe. To that we say "nuts." How could any country be the richest on the face of the globe when it owes more money than all the rest of the world combined?

The unfortunate part is that we have allowed this misinformation to spread and hence have inherited all the jealousy and dislike which goes with being the top dog. It seems to us that it is high time for the truth to be known. It is all right to be top dog if it is justified. It is ridiculous to indulge in such fantasy when it is not. — Page News and Courier, Luray, Va.

Over 13.5 Million Children Eat in US Lunch Program

College Station — Currently over 13.5 million youngsters are participating in the National School Lunch Program, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The program was established in 1946 and each year this market for farm products has increased, officials said.

During the school year ending last June, some 12.8 million children were served 2,142,000,000 lunches. Most of the food, approximately 80 percent, was purchased locally by the more than 62,000 public and nonprofit private schools participating in the program. These local purchases amounted to an estimated $540 million.

In addition, school lunch menus last fiscal year included approximately $58 million worth of nutritious foods purchased for participating schools by USDA's Agricultural Market Service to supplement local purchases. Among the popular lunch items were frozen turkeys, frozen ground beef, frozen ground pork, canned pork and gravy and a variety of canned fruits and vegetables.

National School Lunch Program schools also share in the distribution of surplus commodities acquired by USDA in price-support and surplus-removal programs, also available to non-participating schools. In fiscal 1960, slightly more than $70 million worth of surplus foods including butter, cheese, nonfat dry milk, honey, flour, cornmeal, peanut butter, rice, dried whole eggs and sweet potatoes were distributed.

The program is administered cooperatively by Federal, State and local officials. Federal funds are allocated to the State, and must be matched from sources within the States, including children's payments, at the rate of at least $3 for each Federal dollar. In operation, this matching requirement has been exceeded consistently in the 14-year history of the program, and currently is running generally about 7 to 1. The Federal cash apportioned among the States for the present fiscal year totals $93.6 million.

The wife of a hard-to-please husband was determined to try her best to please him for just one day. "Darling," she asked one morning, "what would you like to eat?"

"Coffee and toast, grits and sausage, and two eggs — one scrambled and one fried," he replied.

She worked hard, and soon had his breakfast on the table and called him to eat. She stood aside, expecting him to make some comment about how nice the breakfast looked, but all he said after a quick glance was, "Well, if you didn't scramble the wrong egg!"

Bill — "Why did you have to go to an eye surgeon just for drinking coffee?"

Will — "I left the spoon in the cup."

Crime Prevention
Is A Do-It-Yourself Project

"Crime Prevention Is A Do-It-Yourself Project." That is the slogan and theme of the 14th annual National Crime Prevention Week, February 12-18, sponsored by The National Exchange Club and observed by Exchange Clubs in their communities throughout the United States and Puerto Rico. The purpose is to alert Americans to the dangers and costs of crime and impress upon them the need for year around crime prevention efforts.

"Unfortunately, far too many citizens view the growing crime problem with apathy," said FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover in his annual message in support of National Crime Prevention Week. He warned that, "Until this attitude of indifference is supplanted by a sincere desire on the part of every American to support and cooperate with law enforcement, effective results cannot be achieved in the campaign to combat crime."

In the light of Mr. Hoover's statement the do-it-yourself crime prevention idea certainly is worth trying. Nowadays almost everyone has a do-it-yourself activity. The projects range from hi-fi to hypnosis. It makes good sense to apply the technique to the solution of the crime and juvenile delinquency problems.

Heaven knows opportunities aren't lacking to try the do-it-yourself method. To begin with, every American can first put his own house in order. Crime prevention begins in the home. Millions can start their do-it-yourself crime prevention projects right there, working to make better citizens and better human beings of their children and grandchildren.

There are hundreds of organizations dedicated to the betterment of our youth, our educational systems, family relations, law enforcement, court procedures, and countless other endeavors that help toward crime prevention. These groups never have enough workers to do the jobs. They are in constant need of willing volunteers. The opportunities are thousandfold.

In trying to stem the mounting tide of crime, the feeling of hopelessness is one of the biggest stumbling blocks. Crime and juvenile delinquency have grown so large there is a great temptation to throw up one's hands in despair at the mere thought of trying to curb them. The average citizen, no matter how well intentioned, is apt to feel that any individual effort is futile in the face of such tremendous problems.

It is true that the great bulk of lawlessness may be unaffected by single handed efforts at prevention. But several million citizens, each contributing his individual effort, soon could make a substantial reduction in the flood of crime and eventually bring it under control.

Every good American has a responsibility to take a personal interest in National Crime Prevention Week and start a do-it-yourself crime prevention project immediately.

NOTES FROM

"The Man Who Got Even with God" by M. Raymond, O.C.S.O. is the life of an American trappist.

John Green Hanning's whole character and manner of life was summed up in the statement "I'll get even. I always do."

He was born January 12, 1849 in Lebanon, Kentucky. During the course of his boyhood and early manhood he caused his parents many a worry and many a pain. He was not a bad boy but an American youngster raised at the time of the Civil War. That was important because war days are abnormal days. And of all states Kentucky was the most abnormal. Situated on the border line between North and South the population was divided. Neighbors fought against neighbors, brothers against brothers, and sons against fathers.

One day John Green Hanning had a misunderstanding with his father. It grew into a bitter clash and resulted in John's leaving home. For months he wandered from place to place and finally landed in Texas. He became a genuine American cowboy. He had loyalty and cleanness and a vigorous sense of justice. He was upright and honest and, if a "little quick on the trigger", always "above board".

After nine years he returned to his home in Kentucky to the great joy of his parents. He adjusted himself to normal life and became engaged to be married. When he announced that he was thinking about becoming a Trappist lay brother everyone thought he was the last man in the world who would think of living the life of a brother. But he determined he would show them.

His nearly twenty-three years at Gethsemani's take up the greater portion of this book and the author describes the life in the abbey in such a fascinating manner that the reader himself feels like a member of the order.

The author states that if John Green Hanning is ever canonized he should be called "the ordinary saint" and hailed immediately as the patron of the average man.

For reading that's really enjoyable and gives an idea of what makes teenagers tick, parents as well as their offspring will find "Onions in the Stew" a delightful story.

Written by Betty McDonald who authored "The Egg and I," this story is about the MacDonald family and their residence on an island. In addition to mother and father, there are two teenage daughters, one dog and several cats in this happy family.

the family wash machine had to be left in the boat overnight. The next morning the boat and washer were gone — floated away and the chase that ensues is hilarious.

Visitors who come to dinner may stay a week. The ferry promptly breaks down after the MacDonalds get company. There is no other way to come or go except the ferry. One "calamity" after another keeps the reader in stitches throughout the book.

FB Speeds Drive
For Membership

Activity in the Cooke County Farm Bureau's annual membership drive is being stepped up this week in an effort to reach its quota by March 6. The work is being done by community chairmen under direction of Paul Fisher and Frank Neu, captains in the north and south parts of the county respectively.

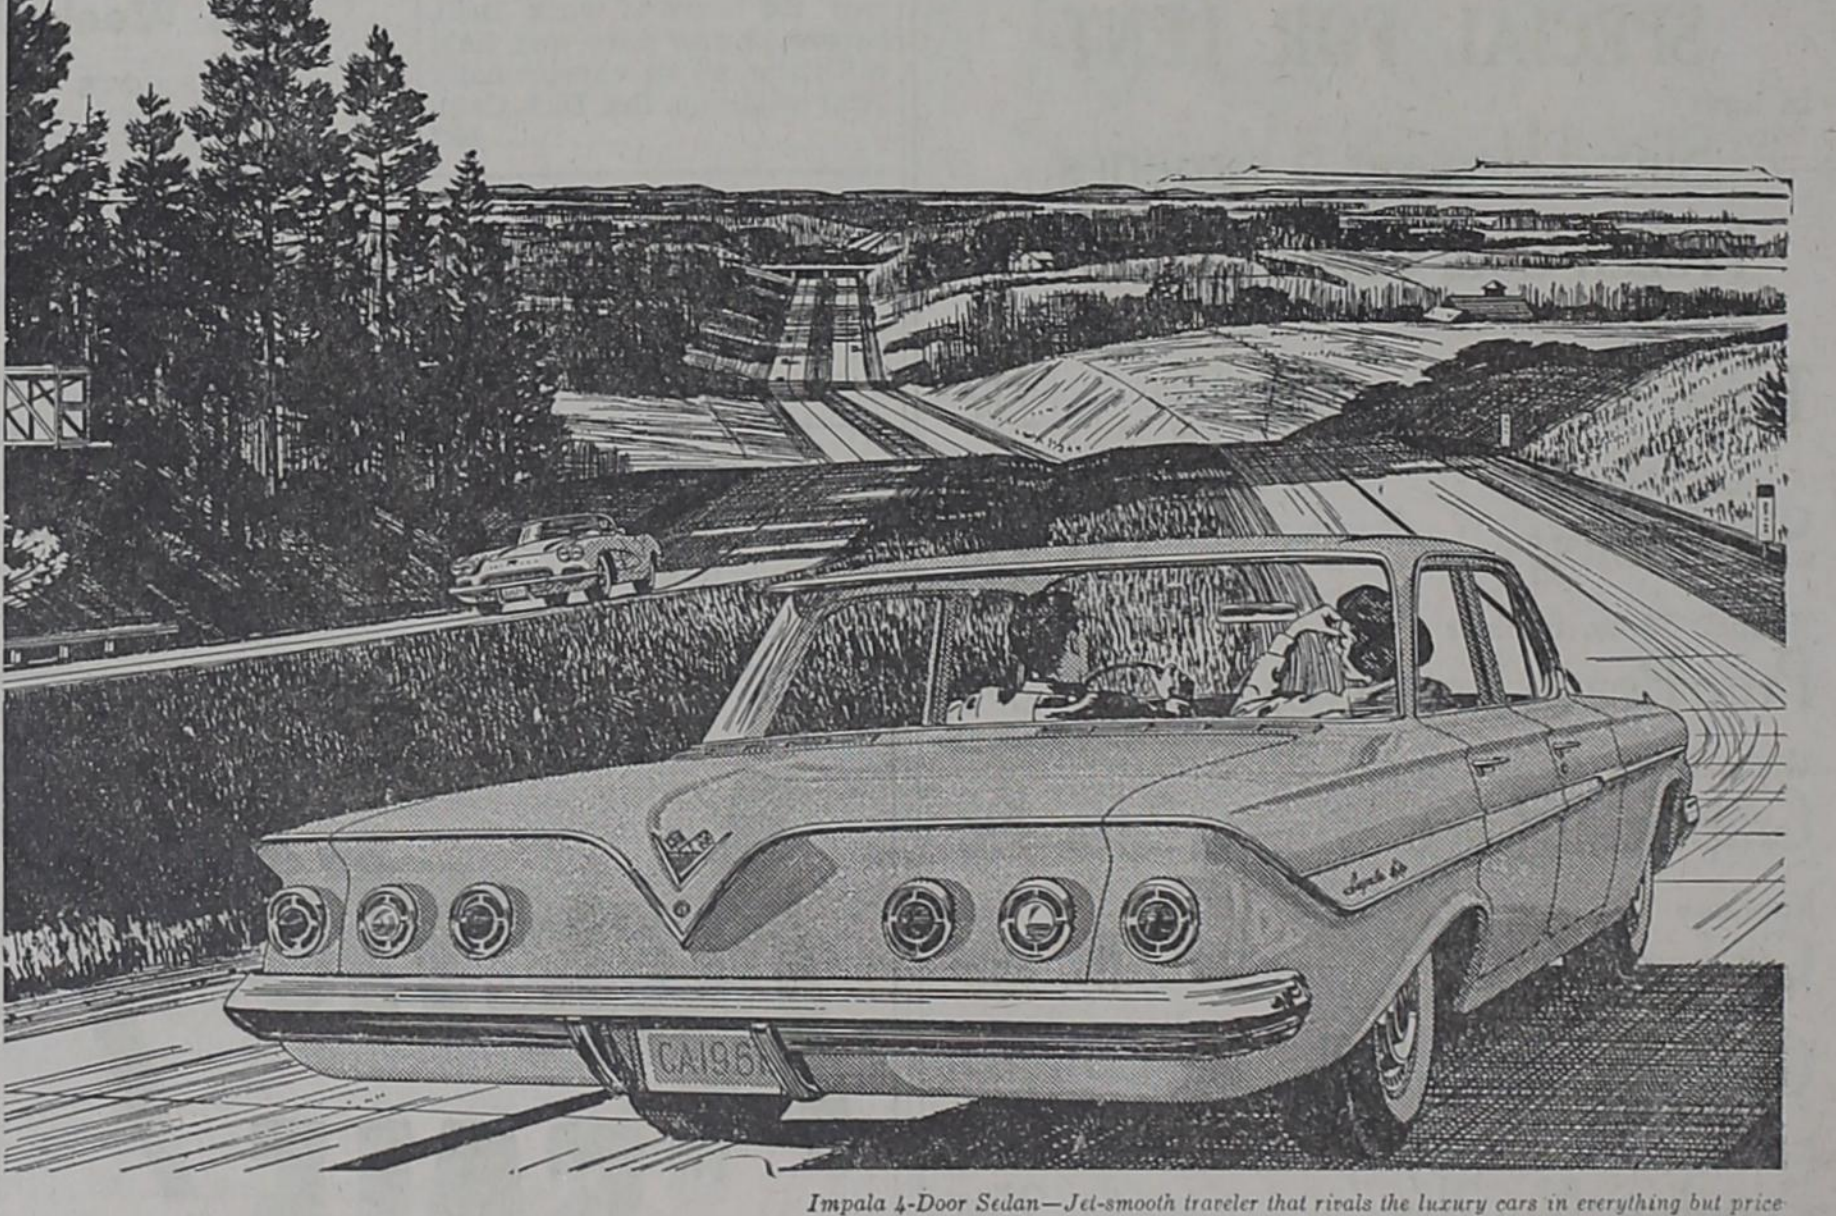

Urging more farmers to join the organization, J. T. Cole, president of the Cooke County unit, said that Farm Bureau is owned and controlled by its members and is primarily designed to safeguard and promote agricultural interests on the local, state and national levels. That a benefit of membership is full time representation in legislatures at Austin and Washington.

"Three out of four organized farmers and ranchers in this nation belong to the Farm Bureau," he explained. "And our organization spares no effort to obtain maximum membership participation in the development of policies that guide the organization on all levels."

The Cooke County Farm Bureau has set a quota of 460 member families for 1961. Last year the local organization had 440 member families enrolled.

The 440 farm families presently enrolled in the Cooke County Farm Bureau are among the 80,992 families holding membership in the Texas Farm Bureau. The Texas Farm Bureau, now fourth largest Farm Bureau in the nation, is affiliated with the American Farm Bureau Federation, the largest farm organization in the world with 1,600,792 members in 49 states and Puerto Rico.

New '61 Chevy with Jet-smooth ride!

Impala 4-Door Sedan—Jet-smooth traveler that rivals the luxury cars in everything but price

The '61 Chevy loves to go because it goes so well. Purrs along pavements like a happy tabby. Takes rough roads in stride and all roads in style.

Just why does a Jet-smooth Chevy treat riders as royally as the high-priced luxury cars? It all came about through a delightful blend of Full Coil suspension, precision-balanced wheels, unique chassis cushioning, and a superb Body by Fisher insulated to hush away road sounds. All this adds up to less sway, less bounce, less dip, less dive, less tilt, less noise, less . . . well you name it.

Now combine this Jet-smooth ride with conveniences to pamper you and roominess to relax in. Add a full measure of quiet good looks. Voila, you've got Chevy's formula.

And the proof is in the riding. When you sample a Jet-smooth Chevy at your Chevrolet dealer's we think you'll find it just to your taste.

'Giant Eye' Symbolizing Research Hope Is Visited by Small Birth Defects Victim

The lights dim, and in the darkened high-ceilinged room a somber-faced little boy stares at the pilot light of a towering microscope.

This is the electron microscope at Ohio State University Hospital, Columbus, Ohio, a giant inquiring eye nine feet tall, capable of magnifying the human cell 100,000 times.

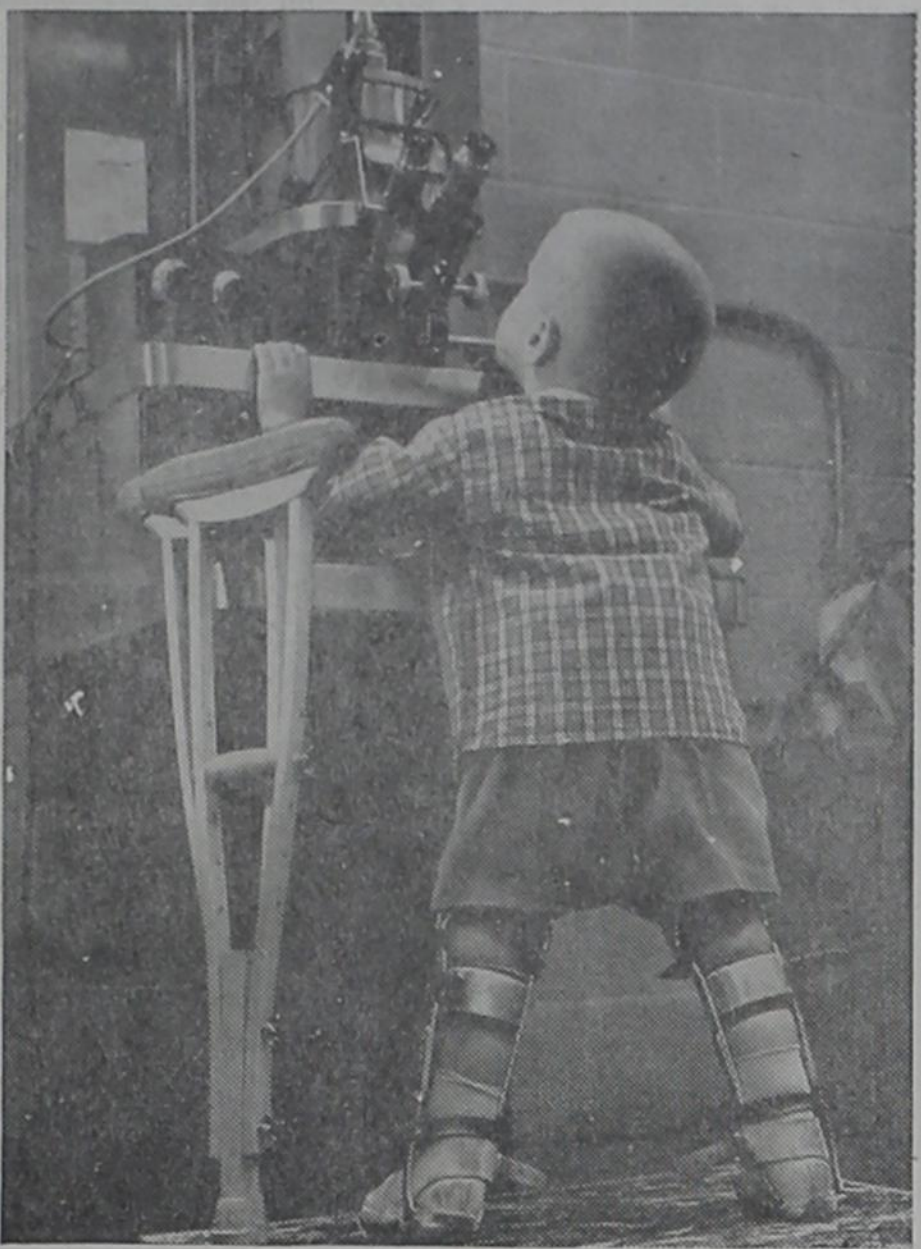

The small boy with the rather sad little face is Kevin Sharp, 3½ years, of Grove City, Ohio, who wanted to see a jumbo-sized version of the toy microscope given him on his last birthday by his doctor. Kevin has to see his doctor regularly because he is a victim of spina bifida, or open spine. He is paralyzed from the waist down and cannot play ball—or indeed play much at anything.

Such mobility as he has is made possible by his crutches and leg braces.

Kevin's is one of the significant birth defects the cause of which is being pursued today by The National Foundation with New March of Dimes contributions. Congenital malformations afflict 250,000 infants annually in the United States and are responsible for the deaths of 34,000 babies each year who are stillborn or die within four weeks of birth. The health organization's expanded program also includes arthritis and continued work in polio.

In his excitement while reaching for the eyepiece of the vast instrument, Kevin probably didn't know that in the ultra-powerful lens of such electron microscopes, scientists hope some day to pinpoint the cause of the savage embryonic mishap that crippled him before he was born. By comparing normal and abnormal cells under tremendous magnification, researchers hope to discover, for example, why Kevin's spine never fused during his mother's pregnancy, or why some other little boy or girl is born with excess fluid on the brain—another baffling birth defect which The National Foundation is studying.

"At his birth, doctors gave Kevin only a few hours to live," says Mrs. Gerald Sharp, his mother. "In addition to his open spine, he had two clubfeet which are now much improved due to surgery and physical therapy. He is a brave and happy little fellow even if he smiles so rarely. My husband and I thank God that today wider research is being done into birth defects."

She adds somewhat wistfully: "My husband Gerald and I met in an orphanage in Xenia, Ohio. We became childhood sweethearts. Like other young people, we longed to raise a family, and a healthy one.

"Why should this unaccountable accident have happened to us? But we count our blessings. Perhaps fewer Kevins will be born to the next generation. We certainly pray so."

The lights return and, supported by his crutches and braces, solemn little Kevin struggles back from the microscope. But at that moment, looking up at his mother, there's the suggestion of a smile around the corners of his mouth.

Mary Ellen Endres On PTA Program

Mary Ellen Endres, 12-year-old Sacred Heart 4-H Club girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Endres, presented a demonstration as a program feature at the regular meeting of the Benjamin Franklin PTA in Gainesville Thursday night, Feb. 16.

Principal speaker at the meeting was Mrs. Bernice Thurman, county home demonstration agent, whose subject was "Nutrition for the School Child." Mary Ellen's demonstration consisted of preparing a complete nourishing breakfast and she cooked the full meal while 120 PTA members watched. She also set an attractive breakfast table. Her mother accompanied her to the meeting.

Demonstrating before audiences is old stuff to young Mary Ellen. At 11, she entered 4-H competition for the first time, and won first place in the county on a dairy demonstration. She attached a red ribbon in the district contest. She won first in this year's county dairy show and will represent the county in the district show. In between times she has given demonstrations at local 4-H club meetings. She's a sixth grader at Sacred Heart School.

Tom Hickman Named Chairman Of Safety Group

Captain Tom Hickman, Sr., of Gainesville, who gained world-wide fame as a Texas Ranger Captain in the 1920s and early 1930s, has been elected Chairman of the Texas Public Safety Commission.

Hickman has served for five years as a member of the three-man commission which is the policy-making body for the Texas Department of Public Safety, of which Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., is Director.

His election came on motion by C. T. McLaughlin of Snyder, who Hickman will succeed as chairman, seconded by the third member, W. E. Dyché, Jr., of Houston.

"Captain Hickman is a living symbol of law enforcement in Texas," McLaughlin said. "His colorful career as a peace officer covers a span of more than 50 years during which Texas has seen some of its most turbulent periods. We consider him one of the outstanding Texas Rangers of all time."

Garrison noted that Hickman received acclaim for his accomplishments in keeping the peace and stamping out lawlessness during the roaring twenties when bank robberies, bootlegging and other forms of vice and corruption were rampant.

"It seems that wherever in Texas there was an outbreak of trouble of almost any kind, Captain Hickman was on the scene to put a stop to it in short order, and bring the offenders to justice."

"His rich career as a lawman has been highlighted by such incidents as the capture of two bandits in the act of leaving the Red River National Bank at Clarkville with $33,125 in 1926; restoring peace after a reign of terror by outlaws in the Breckenridge oil fields; and heading up the successful search for the 'Santa Claus' gang that held up the bank at Cisco two days before Christmas in 1927."

Hickman, born on his father's ranch northwest of Gainesville on February 21, 1886, literally "grew up in the saddle," and could handle a rope and a cow pony when he was six. His first law enforcement job was as a deputy constable in Gainesville. Later he became a deputy sheriff for Cooke County and served some eight years before entering the Ranger service on June 16, 1919.

His first assignment took him to the Big Bend country for patrol duty along the Rio Grande. Three years later, he was promoted to Captain, the highest rank in the Rangers. One of his toughest early assignments was the task of putting down rioting and fighting during the Burk Burnett oil rush when Texas and Oklahoma disputed ownership of the bed of the Red River. He camped in a tent on a sandbar to uphold Texas' claim pending a decision by the Supreme Court of the U. S.

When he left the Ranger service in the mid-thirties, Captain Hickman returned to his old job as deputy sheriff at Gainesville, and served for six years in that capacity. Later, he served for many years as Chief of Security for the Gulf Oil Corporation until his retirement in recent years to devote his time to his ranching interests.

Hickman is married and has two sons: Tom, Jr., 23, who is an art student at UCLA at Los Angeles, and David B., 18, who is in Electronics School in the U. S. Navy at San Francisco.

Ladies Auxiliary To VFW Receives Merit Certificate

Muenster's Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars has received a certificate of merit for a one hundred per cent honor roll rating the past year through accomplishment of all aims and objectives required in connection with charity and civic work to qualify for the award. This is the organization's tenth consecutive year to qualify for the certificate.

Mrs. Harold (Dickie) Rogers of Denison, District I president, received the merit award for the local Auxiliary at the recent state encampment she attended and presented it to the local group at their February meeting on the occasion of her annual visit.

Mrs. Rogers also addressed the assemblage, reviewing state convention highlights and giving a brief summary of activity within District I. She was introduced by Mrs. Arthur Bayer, local Auxiliary president.

In the business session, Mrs. Norbert Walterscheid, honor roll chairman, presented honor roll requirements for February and the membership voted approval. The Auxiliary contributed cash donations to the Heart Fund and to the Cerebral Palsy Fund. And for the Americanism project approved purchase of a new 50-star flag which will be a gift to the local Boy Scout troop.

After adjournment the ladies joined members of the VFW Post for a social hour and refreshments. Harold Rogers had met with the men. He is District I commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"Government should do for people only what people cannot do for themselves"

... Abraham Lincoln

America's abundance of good things and its strength as a nation have grown by the principle of freedom... freedom of people to plan and work and build as they choose as expressed by this quotation of Abraham Lincoln. This principle must be constantly guarded if we are to preserve our American way of life.

By this principle, America's investor-owned electric utility companies have grown. Today, the bulk of electric power used in our nation is supplied by these companies... and, they are ready and able to supply more as it is needed. For example, in the next ten years, America's independent electric power industry will spend about $50 billion to meet the need for nearly double its present supply of power.

There are those who propose that the Federal government spend new billions of the taxpayers' money on more government-owned electric plants and lines. It is difficult to justify such expenditures in light of the accomplishments and plans of investor-owned power companies and the words of Lincoln, "... only what people cannot do for themselves."

Modern Living Deprives Many of Adequate Sleep

The supersonic speed of modern life is costing us one of the most vital ingredients of good health — sleep.

Twenty years ago people got plenty of sleep and were better off for it, because sufficient sleep is unreplaceable if denied. People knew about fission in those days, but it was the hook and line variety, rather than nuclear. Things have changed . . .

Say you stay up for 20 hours a day. If you follow this routine for a week or so at a time, first thing you'll notice is your hands jumping from nervousness. A dull ache will begin gnawing at the base of your skull. You'll be picky and indifferent toward food.

You'll be quarrelsome — projecting casual remarks all out of proportion. It will sound like an insult when someone says hello. You might think a good night's sleep will fix you up. Maybe it will — on the surface. The nervousness might leave you and the headache might disappear. It could be that a single night of sleep will give you the sweet disposition that was formerly sour grapes.

But it's on the surface. During the stretch of sleeplessness your heart may have been strained, your blood pressure increased, your digestion upset.

Sleep gives the human body a chance to recover from the fatigue of one trying day before the assault of the next. And it has to be natural to be beneficial. That's why potions are undesirable as a steady diet.

A few hints may help you get a better night's sleep. Do your heavy thinking before supper. Make it a rule that after the evening meal your brain gets a rest. Subdue the lights around the house.

Lights keep you alert, besides being tough on the power bill.

Get lots of fresh air. Sitting quietly on the porch might encourage the relaxation so necessary for dropping off into sound sleep. So might a short drive — if you avoid main travelled roads. Reading light fiction is also relaxing, but stay away from the gory private eye stuff.

Develop a bedtime ritual, the more sedate the better, to condition your mind for bed. And when you do retire, deliberately try to blank out those random thoughts that steal into your mind.

At VFW Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bayer represented the Muenster VFW and Ladies Auxiliary at the District I convention in Sherman during the weekend. Meetings were favored by the presence of the Auxiliary Department President Joyce Salm and the Department Commander Victor Afflerbach of Austin. Plans were made for the next district meeting which will be held in Denton.
