VOLUME XXV

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS

MARCH 31, 1961

NUMBER 19

With the highly controversial county hospital election only a few days away it is high time to set the record straight on several important points.

One of them concerns an official statement signed on March 25 by Dr. Dan M. Brown, president, and Dr. S. E. Salkin, secretary-treasurer, in the name of the Cooke County Medical Society. Supporters of the hospital proposal have claimed that the statement is an endorsement of their proposal. But the copy of that statement received by the Enterprise seems to indicate that the society has carefully avoided giving an endorsement.

Here it is for the benefit of any who wish to do their own judging. "The Cooke County Medical Society recognizes the fact that improved hospital facilities are vitally and urgently necessary for the progress of Cooke County. It further urges that the citizens of Cooke County give this matter their serious consideration and exercise their franchise as they see fit."

Contrary to the interpretation of eager promoters who are groping for straws of support, this is a concise statement of neutrality. It simply says vote as you please. It isn't for or against the proposal. The same can be said for the first sentence of the statement. The society comes out clearly in favor of better hospital facilities, but gives no indication of favoring the proposed method of improving. The most evident fact about the letter is the society's refusal to take sides.

This misleading interpretation is especially significant in relation to some of the remarks and insinuations made in publicity favoring the county hospital proposal. They give sanctimonious advice to the public not to be misled by statements and claims made by county hospital opponents. They imply that all wisdom and truth is on that side and any who disagree with it are either maliciously or naively obstructing the progress of Cooke County.

Isn't it about time to refrain from attack on the motive or integrity of opponents and confine discussions to merits of the issue? After all, good and sincere people are on both sides of this controversy. Their opinions are honest and they deserve respect. In that spirit let's look calmly on the plea for progress that has been mentioned so often. Everybody wants progress. But let's admit that all are not agreed on the best method of attaining it. There are many who sincerely think that the proposed county method of hospital improvement is not the best method. They do not believe that approved existing facilities should be discarded and taxpayers should take on a two million dollar debt in order to eliminate an unfortunate circumstance resulting from the disagreement of just a few people.

Basically that is the situation. M&S Hospital is approved by the state health department, so its value cannot reasonably be denied. And reasonable people have a right to insist that its facilities be included in Gainesville's program of hospital improvement. The end result may not be the elaborate show place that some people hope for, but it could still be an excellent hospital, an asset and a credit to the area, and at a mere fraction of the proposed cost. In the opinion of many people this kind of development represents a great deal more progress than huge unnecessary expenditure for the more elaborate facility.

In this connection little credit is due to those who scoff at current efforts toward such a solution. The men trying to work out an agreement deserve praise rather than criticism. If they can succeed they will rate as real benefactors, not obstructionists. They will have solved a big problem without imposing on taxpayers. And their service will be all the greater because of retaining private management rather than turning to political control.

Still another factor in the issue, one which especially concerns Muenster people, is the unrealistic presentation of the relation of the proposed hospital to Muenster's hospital. No mention has been made of the fact that Muenster will greatly relieve the strain on Gainesville's (Continued on page 8)

A Proclamation

WHEREAS, all Christian people recognize GOOD FRIDAY as the day on which Jesus Christ suffered and died, and,

WHEREAS, this day in Muenster is customarily observed by attendance at religious service,

THEREFORE, as Mayor of the City of Muenster, I hereby proclaim that Friday, March 31, 1961, be observed as a day of worship in recognition of the death of our Lord, and it is requested that all business be suspended within the City during the hours from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Herbert Meurer
Mayor City of Muenster

Ample Moisture Sustains Hope for Good Crop Yield

Moisture is plentiful in the Muenster area at this time and the grain crop situation hints at another repeat of the bumper yields of the past two years.

Similar good prospects are in sight for some of the row crops, that is, those planted in time. They are getting the benefit of the fine soaking. However, the outlook gets worse daily for the crops not planted and the farmers concerned are getting uneasy.

With this month's 4.97 inches to date, following 4.24 inches in the previous two months, the moisture supply is abundant in the subsoil as well as at the surface. The condition is also reflected in lush range land and full lakes and ponds.

Most recent rainfall measured 1.64 on Sunday morning, .03 Wednesday morning, and .55 Thursday morning. The year's total to date is 9.23 inches.

SH 8th Graders Exhibit Projects In Science Fair

Eighth graders of Sacred Heart School have had a Science Fair, displaying their projects in the class room. Their exhibits were chosen according to individual interests which proved educational and entertaining to the student body, faculty, and other visitors, though it was entirely a class feature.

The different divisions were Physical Chemistry with exhibits by Randy Wimmer and Ray Wimmer. Physics, by David Hess and Don Hellman, Donald Rohmer and Charles Klement, Danny Wilde and Tommy Schmitt, as teams, and Jerry Taylor, Larry Reiter and Pat Hennigan as individuals.

Botany: Marilyn Walterscheid and Blondie Fleitman, Mary Knabe and Sonja Swirczynski, Florence Walterscheid and Doris Lee Grewing, and Rachel Endres and Alma Herr.

Biology: Roy Hartman and Tom Swirczynski, Rita Trubenbach and Debbie Fette, Jane Hess and Nancy Haverkamp, Danny Hoenig, Joey Dangelmayr and Rickey Endres, Eddie Hellman and Roy Wimmer.

Geology: Angeline Hess and Norma Lutkenhaus.

Chemistry: Dolores Sickling and Sandra Cler, Margaret Ann Lawson and La Verne Otto.

Judges awarded ribbons with the first place blue ribbon going to Blondie Fleitman and Marilyn Walterscheid who joined in their exhibit entitled "Barks of Our Community."

Red ribbons went to Randy Wimmer on "The Oxygen Atom," also to Jerry Taylor for his motor model, and La Verne Otto and Margaret Ann Lawson on their exhibit of oils.

White ribbon winners were Donald Rohmer and Charles Klement for their turbo steam engine model, and Alma Herr and Rachel Endres for their "Structure of a Seed" exhibit. Sister Carmelita is eighth grade teacher.

Science Program

Seventh Annual Science Day Program at Denton drew a bus load of students from Muenster High — 25 young people of the science class — and their teacher, Mrs. John Mosman.

Hospital Drive To Get Proceeds Of Easter Picnic

Muenster's traditional Easter Monday picnic this year will be a benefit event for the Muenster Memorial Hospital. It is being sponsored jointly by the KC council and the CDOFA court and proceeds will be applied to subscriptions made to the hospital campaign by those organizations.

Festivities at the parish hall will begin at 1 o'clock and extend through the afternoon and night, with a dance included on the night program. Featured attractions are eats, drinks and the usual picnic concessions.

Hornets Edged by Eagles 152-136 in 37-B Track Meet

Muenster had lots of quality but not the quantity at the 37-B district track meet in Denton Wednesday. Coach Bob Gay's 6 member team took 7 first places, 5 seconds, 1 third and 1 fourth for a total of 136. Valley View's 18 or 20 boys won only three first places but picked up seconds, thirds and fourths all over the place for a total of 152. Callisburg, Saint Jo and Era were third, fourth and fifth.

All of the first and second place winners are qualified for the regional meet. That will include five of the six Hornets entered in nine events.

Hornet records Wednesday were as follows:

100 yard dash: Wimmer first, 10.3; M. Hellman fourth, 22.0 yard dash: Fette first, 22.3; Harris second 23.8.

180 yard hurdles: Wimmer first 21.7.

1/2 mile: Fette second 2.11.

440 yard relay: Muenster first 47 seconds (Wimmer, Fette, Harris, Hellman).

Discus: Walterscheid first 124'6".

Shot: Harris first 39'2", Walterscheid second 38'8".

High Jump: Wimmer second 5'6".

Broad Jump: Wimmer first 21'2", Fette second 18'9 1/2".

1 mile relay: Muenster third (Hellman, Walterscheid, Harris, R. Klement).

BIRTHS

It's a little girl for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher. She arrived March 22 at Gainesville Sanitarium weighing eight pounds 15 ounces. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Evers of Canyon and Joe Fisher Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Stoffels of Lindsay welcomed a daughter Thursday, March 23, at M&S Hospital. She weighed seven pounds 15 ounces upon arrival at 2 a.m. Happy over having a baby sister is nine-year-old Jane. Mrs. Sophie Stoffels and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bengfort, all of Lindsay are the grandparents.

Mrs. M. J. Endres is great-grandma for the first time with arrival of a six pound daughter for Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Endres on April 24 in Columbus, Ohio. The little girl makes Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Endres of Dallas grandparents for the first time.

From Jacksonville, Fla., comes announcement of the birth of a daughter, Tina, to Mr. and Mrs. John Pappas. She's a baby sister for Pamela and Mary Alice and a grandchild for Frank Trubenbach. Mrs. Pappas is the former Miss Florentine Trubenbach.

Garden Club Sets Easter Monday for Plant Sale Date

Members of the Civic League and Garden Club are announcing a change of date for the plant sale they will sponsor.

The new date, just reset, will be Easter Monday, April 3, and the place will be the Parish Hall, scene for the annual Easter Monday picnic.

The plant sale ties in well with picnic activity. All proceeds will be for Muenster Memorial Hospital. However, the revenue from the sale of plants will go into the Civic League and Garden Club treasury and will be used for landscaping the hospital grounds when the time comes.

The sale will include popular varieties of bedding plants at ten cents each and other plants for twenty-five cents. Both indoor and outdoor plants will be included.

NEWS OF THE SICK

Alphonse Hoenig is out and around again, back in circulation, after being a shut-in since the middle of November following a back injury.

Roy Swirczynski and Ted Henschel are back at home, the former dismissed from Baylor Hospital in Dallas and the latter from Gainesville Sanitarium following treatment for injuries received in a highway accident March 19. Both were dismissed Saturday. They are out and around but not ready to return to their oil field jobs. That will await the doctors' release.

Mrs. Henry Walterscheid entered the Sanitarium Thursday for eye surgery... a cataract operation.

Mrs. Frank Kaiser underwent major surgery Tuesday at Houston's M. D. Anderson Hospital where she will be a patient indefinitely. She has been in Houston since March 15 for treatment in preparation for the operation. Her son, C. J. Kaiser, who is with her phoned home Tuesday night to let the family know that she stood the surgery fine and is doing as expected after such an operation. Cards will reach her addressed to Room 410, Fourth Floor, M. D. Anderson Hospital, Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Ernest Biffle and Mrs. David Black, both of Myra, have been dismissed from M&S Hospital to continue recovery at home after undergoing gall bladder surgery.

Victor Hartman surprised his family by coming home last Thursday after four days in Methodist Hospital at Dallas for skin grafting on his leg. And the operation didn't make him a shut-in at home. He's been out and around ever since he returned.

Five-year-old Alan Miller has been to Dallas for treatment of an eye injury resulting from a fall at home. He cut a tear duct in his left eye and at first it was thought he'd have to have surgery. But the Dallas eye specialist is giving treatments which, he believes, will make an operation unnecessary. Alan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Miller, took him to Dallas Friday and Monday. Further treatments will be given at Gainesville.

Eddie McGannon underwent surgery Sunday evening for appendicitis at Mercy Hospital in Oklahoma City. He is a student at Holy Child School there. Mrs. Ed McGannon left Sunday after getting word about Eddie's operation, with him at the time, remaining this week. Mr. McGannon will go for them Friday and bring them home. Eddie will be convalescing here during the Easter holidays.

Mrs. Gene Schmitz was dismissed from M&S Hospital Monday night after five days of medical care.

Mrs. R. M. Felty was dismissed from the Sanitarium Tuesday and is convalescing at home at Hood. She had surgery for a broken hip... is getting around some now in a wheelchair.

Victor Hartman was back at Methodist Hospital in Dallas Monday for a check-up. He went with his son, Gene Hartman. Report was OK.

Big Turnout Due Next Tuesday for Double Election

This community's most active election in many years is expected next Tuesday to decide on the proposed 1 million dollar bond issue to finance a county hospital.

Opposition in Muenster is especially keen because the plan imposes a double load on local people... a tax burden in addition to the cost of their own hospital.

As a result of this issue a strong vote is expected also in the senatorial election. The two elections are to be conducted separately but by the same personnel in the same place. There will be separate ballots and separate ballot boxes.

For the election the North Muenster box will have an entirely new location... in the K of C hall basement. The usual location in the public school library was too small to be arranged satisfactorily for the double election.

The change is a convenience in at least one respect. It is near the city hall, where the city election will be held, and its nearness may bring in a few more votes for the election which has inspired little interest so far.

The South Muenster box will be in the small building at the entrance to the city park... where the general election was held.

Election time in both boxes and in the city hall will be from 8 to 7. Joe Luke will be judge of the north box and Mrs. Joe Luke, Mrs. Al Walterscheid and Leo Henschel will be clerks. At the south box the judge is Paul Fisher and the clerks are Clem Hofbauer and Felix Becker. In the city election Clive Goble is judge, Mrs. W. B. Martin is clerk.

This year's city election ticket is different in that it has no candidate for mayor. Herbert Meurer declined to ask for re-election and no one else asked for his job. Since then Meurer has agreed to serve if re-elected as a write in. There is no indication of a write in campaign in behalf of any person. Rudy Hellman, Al Felderhoff and Ray Otto are unopposed candidates for re-election as aldermen.

Another election is that for school trustees, to be held at the school building Saturday, April 1, from 8 to 7. The ballot there has three candidates for three positions. Jerome Pagel and David Trachta seek re-election. Urban Endres is asking for the place being vacated by Norbert Klement.

Glenn Hellman is election judge and Mrs. John Mosman is clerk.

Flags in School

As a special project the eighth grade civics class at Sacred Heart school supplied Papal Flags for every room in both grade and high school. This was made possible through a seed sale conducted by the students. And they take this opportunity to express their thanks to all the people who helped with the project through seed purchases.

Be Sure to Vote

Next Tuesday's election on the county hospital proposal presents one of the most important issues ever to come before the people of this community... one that challenges us to get out the greatest possible vote in defense of our own interests.

Few if any of us are sold on the merits of the proposal. We cannot agree that county taxpayers should be burdened with a 2 million dollar obligation caused primarily by lack of cooperation between M&S Hospital management and Gainesville doctors. We think the real need is correction of that situation, and that county voters have every right to say so by voting down the proposal.

In addition, we of Muenster have still another incentive. The proposal is doubly unfair to us because it seeks to impose a tax burden in addition to the voluntary obligation we have assumed to build our own hospital.

We hope the county will turn down this proposal by a decisive vote. But there is no way of knowing how the trend is leaning, and how many will give it their support at the ballot box.

To us this is a matter of self defense. We sincerely hope and urge that all qualified voters will see it that way and turn in an overwhelming majority AGAINST the county hospital.

Option for Purchase of M&S Hospital Revealed

An agreement which paves the way to final solution of the Gainesville hospital problem and deals a stunning blow to claims of a need for the proposed county hospital was announced Wednesday by Johnnie Wilson.

He revealed that he and F. E. Case have secured an option from Blair Ferguson for the purchase of M&S Hospital and are in the process now of securing pledges for the purchase if the county hospital proposal is defeated in the election next Tuesday.

He said response to solicitations so far have been very encouraging and there is no doubt that the venture will succeed. Among those who have shown an eagerness for it are directors of Gainesville Sanitarium, who wish to join in the project and work out an arrangement for combined operation of the institutions.

Cost of the M&S facilities was not disclosed. However, Wilson explained that the eventual cost of the hospital, including expansion from 40 to 60 bed capacity, will be about $400,000.

This development presents a timely and convenient solution to the issue which faces voters next Tuesday. Wilson pointed out that people no longer have to decide on whether to tax themselves to provide an urgently needed facility. Now the facility is provided. The problem no longer exists.

He added, however, that this does not eliminate the urgency of voting next Tuesday. The county project must be voted down to clear the way for completion of the program. Persons now interested will not care to exercise their option, if the county hospital is approved.

This means, Wilson said, that the area will have adequate and modern hospital facilities without a penny of tax obligation. It also means that people do not have to worry about additional tax to cover operating deficit, which is happening in many other county hospitals. Five counties specifically named and their 1960 hospital losses were listed as follows: Cochran $17,000; Denton, $40,693; Gregg, $60,000; Gaines $36,000; Upton, $63,000.

Mrs. Sam Epps, 79 Dies; Resident of Myra Since 1923

Mrs. Sam Epps, long-time resident of Myra, died Thursday at 7:30 in a Gainesville hospital following a brief illness. She was 79.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Myra Baptist Church with the Revs. C. M. Thomas, Thurman Tatus and H. C. Stump officiating. Burial in Fairview Cemetery at Gainesville was directed by Vernie Keel Funeral Home.

Mrs. Epps was born Feb. 25, 1882 in Peoria, Ill., and had lived at Myra since 1923.

She is survived by her husband, four daughters, Mrs. Carl Tucker of Gainesville, Mrs. T. B. Bates and Mrs. John Tucker of Houston, and Mrs. S. K. Sampson of Denton; three sons, Howard Epps of Myra, Lester Epps of Gainesville and Vernon Epps of Houston; 17 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

News of the Men in Service

Enroute To France

Soldier Larry Hennigan is aboard a troopship headed for France where he will have his overseas assignment. He was at Fort Ord in California for training and made the cross country trip for a port of embarkation in New Jersey without a leave at home. His wife, Mary Lou, is with her parents, the Starling Lawsons at Gainesville.

Overseas Assignment

Leslie Kuhn, airman second class, has ended a four-week leave with his parents, the Jake Kuhns at Lindsay, and reported at McGuire AFB in New Jersey. From there his assignment is Germany. He'll make the trip by plane.

On Overseas Leave

Airman Ferd Haverkamp is on a 15-day overseas leave, arriving Saturday to surprise his family, the J. J. Haverkamps. He has been stationed at Fort Lee, Va., and his new assignment will be in Spain. From here he'll go to New Jersey to join the rest of his outfit for the trip over.

The Symbol of Easter

It wouldn't be Easter without baskets of brightly colored eggs, but how did they come to be associated with the great holiday of the resurrection?

World Book Encyclopedia reports that eggs represent the new life that begins in the spring about Easter time. The ancient Persians believed that the earth had hatched from a giant egg. Persians and Egyptians used to exchange colored eggs with their friends. Early Christians adapted the custom of coloring eggs to Easter.

Some legends credit the Easter bunny with bringing the eggs. The rabbit, too, is an old symbol of birth and new life. Moreover, the rabbit, or the hare, has long been associated with the moon. It may have become an Easter symbol because the moon determines the date of the holiday.

Lighting candles at Easter was a custom in Rome back in the 200's. One Church father declared that "on the night of the resurrection no one should sleep and everyone should have a light, for on that night the Redeemer made everyone free from the darkness of sin and the grave." The large paschal candle used in Roman Catholic services represents Christ risen from the dead as the light of the world. It is blessed and studded with five grains of incense, symbolizing Christ's wounds.

One of the traditional Easter foods and a figure in many decorations for the holiday is the lamb. This symbol comes from the Jewish Pesah, or Passover, celebration. The Jews used to sacrifice a paschal lamb in the Temple at Jerusalem during Passover. Early Christians saw in this sacrifice a forecast of the sacrifice of Christ. They referred to Him as "the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29).

The most universal symbol of Easter, and of Christianity itself, is, of course, the cross. Many ancient peoples, such as the Phoenicians, Assyrians and Persians, considered the cross a religious object. To some American Indians it is said to have been a mystic symbol of the four cardinal points of the compass. At the time of Christ, however, it was representative of the most shameful and cruel form of execution. The death of Christ transformed it from an object of humiliation into a symbol of glory.

TIME TO MAKE PYSANKY

Every youngster in the Ukraine, we are told, knows the legend of the Easter egg. But we hadn't heard it until now, and perhaps you haven't either:

A poor peddler was on his way to market to sell a basket of eggs when he met an angry crowd. The crowd was mocking a man staggering beneath the weight of a cross, and the poor peddler, taking pity on him, left his basket of eggs by the roadside and went to the man's assistance. Upon his return, he found every egg in the basket magnificently decorated and the beautiful eggs lasted forevermore. The peddler's name was Simon.

Janet Baird, of Allied Chemical, who tells this story, says the Ukrainian youngsters hear it as their mothers and older sisters are making "pysanky" — the world's most beautiful and elaborately decorated Easter eggs, which, mysteriously enough, do last indefinitely! These eggs are uncooked and their intricate designs applied in hot beeswax with a tool called a "kisty". They are saved and displayed each Easter, just as our Christmas tree ornaments are (mostly) preserved from year to year.

The pysanky tradition, which goes back to 988 A. D., has changed through the centuries in only one respect, says Miss Baird. Nowadays, instead of having to scour the countryside and the beaches for herbs, bark, lichens, shellfish and insects with which to make dyes, the Easter egg decorator — whether making pysanky or simply dyeing boiled eggs — may now enjoy the convenience and brilliance of certified food colors.

OUR BIGGEST INDUSTRY

Said President Kennedy in his message to Congress on agricultural problems: Farming remains our largest industry — it employs 12 times as many people as work in steel and nine times as many as in the automobile industry. It employs, in fact, more people than steel, automobiles, public utilities and the transportation industry combined."

Certainly farm employment over-shadows these others. But compared with the 7 million people engaged in farming there are about 9 million persons working for local, state and Federal Government. — Wall Street Journal.

Egg-Head Knows Best?

THEY SAID "NO!"

It is encouraging, and perhaps significant, that a majority of the Congress has endorsed a statement opposing a UN seat for Red China or US recognition of this Oriental branch of Murder, Inc. The Statement, circulated by the Committee of One Million (Against the Admission of Communist China to the UN) had the support of 54 Senators and 285 Congressmen in "upholding international morality and keeping faith with the thousands of American youths who gave their lives fighting Communist aggression in Korea".

Those not voting may have been out of town, suffering from a cold or hiding under a bed. It seems hardly possible that a man who could get himself elected to national office would be supporting the revolting drive that such recognition is "inevitable" and accepting the inane assumption that by virtue of enslaving 400 millions this bloody regime had achieved some sort of immortality.

It is well to have this vote before Apeasner Macmillan arrives in Washington to work on our leaders.

DR. TOM DOOLEY, M. D.

A special report by the Editors of the Paulist Feature Service

CANCER was growing in his body, but this only made him work harder. The young American doctor, Tom Dooley, knew that his days were few; he also knew that the amount of suffering in the world was great. This is what spurred him on to great efforts in the last days of his life.

At 34 years of age, Dr. Tom Dooley, who dedicated his life to strengthening human brotherhood and easing suffering, died in a New York hospital. He had worked day and night in the steaming jungles of Laos. He had written books, begged for aid, and now he has given his life.

Dooley

Why? We can't avoid this question, because the life of such a man stands out too sharply. He gave his money for medical supplies; he gave his comfort for helping others. He used his talents of mind and body and his strength of heart and will to help men.

Once the editor of a high school newspaper asked Tom Dooley point blank, "What do you get out of all this?" Dooley's reply, "Happiness."

As a young navy surgeon in North Vietnam, he had cared for the thousands of bedraggled refugees who were streaming away from the horrors of war in Indochina. Then he caught fire. He became aware of the painful lack of medical skill and supplies throughout all of Asia. He could not forget the vision of suffering he had seen. He could not forget the millions who needed help.

In 1956 Dooley was discharged from the Navy, but he could not stay away from Asia. He and three other men returned to Laos, a country which had only one doctor, according to Western standards. The Dooley band went as individual Americans. Only their initiative and courageous desire to help men drove them on. With medical supplies begged from individuals and organizations all over America, they began work in the hot, rain-drenched jungles of Laos. Bandits, disease, superstition—all these were their enemies, but they fought with two weapons which pack more power than the mightiest bomb—courage and love.

This report, then, is just to let you know that a great American has died. His work lives, however, and his life cannot help but be a strong inspiration to the young people of America. A life like his has meaning for all of us.

There is only one Tom Dooley, and we can't all go to Asia to make the world better. But we can open our hearts—There is a gigantic task to be done in the world, and since each of us is a member of the body of humanity, each of us has the responsibility to do what we can, where we can.

County HD Agent Tells Club About Food Additives

Members of Muenster Home Demonstration Club enjoyed an informative program...

Mrs. Thurman explained the addition of vitamins, other nutrients, and color to modern day foods...

An interesting "extra" was a dairy foods demonstration presented by Charlotte Wolf...

Announcements of interest to club members included the District 4 meeting of Home Demonstration Clubs...

for those who care to have the noon meal there.

Members discussed a program they plan to sponsor, the tentative date being April 18. It will be a lecture and demonstration on "New Rooms from Old..."

The next meeting on April 26 will be at Mrs. Albert Schilling's home with Mrs. Schilling and Mrs. Henry Pick giving a demonstration on "A Special Treat from a Quick Ready-Mix."

Club President Mrs. Albert Fleitman conducted the business session and reminded members that next month's meeting will feature election of officers.

The hostess served refreshment plates carrying out the Easter theme to 15 members and three guests: Mrs. Henry Felderhoff, Mrs. Norbert Klement and Mrs. Alphonse Walterscheid.

Birthday Honors Fete Margie Knabe

Miss Margie Knabe was twice honored in observance of her 18th birthday, one celebration coming as a surprise by Sacred Heart Senior girls...

The classmates got together at the home of Miss Jeanette Muller for a Saturday night fun party of games and refreshments including a decorated cake.

Mrs. Albert A. Knabe was hostess at the family home for the supper honoring her daughter Sunday night. Thirteen guests, boys and girls, were present.

Local News BRIEFS

Earliest to arrive in Muenster for the Easter holidays while their schools are recessed are Paul Dangelmayr and Charles Bayer of St. Edwards, Austin. They are home since Friday. Next arrivals were the boys from Subiaco, Ark., and Sarah Fleitman from Denver, Colo. They are here since Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Luke were four-day visitors in San Antonio the past week — Wednesday to Saturday — visiting their daughter and family, the Charles Denny and going especially to attend the confirmation service in which their granddaughter and godchild, Mary Nell Denny, was confirmed. Joining them there for a weekend visit were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kuhn of Midland who served as confirmation sponsors.

Easter holiday visitors arriving Wednesday were Mrs. Walter Acker and son of Midkiff and Mrs. Darrell Adams and children of Midland who are guests of the Al Walter-scheids and Mrs. Ben Seyler. They came together. Mr. Acker and Mr. Adams will come together to spend the weekend.

In Sherman for a visit Friday were Mrs. A. J. Huchton and son Billy, Mrs. Frank Stoffels and Mrs. Bernard Haverkamp. It was Billy's regular check-up time. The check-ups are every month ever since the little boy had spinal meningitis in December 1959. He's doing fine but still gets medication.

Miss Veronica Hess spent the weekend in Fort Worth with her sister, Miss Carol Ann Hess and they came home together Sunday, Carol spending the day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hess. She'll be back again this weekend for Easter. Dennis Joe Hess, home from Subiaco, Ark., will make the family circle complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Yosten and children of Fort Worth drove over for a Sunday visit with their families, the I. A. Schoechs and Frank Yostens.

Surprising her parents with a visit Sunday afternoon were the Stan Wylies and children of Lewisville who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kathman. Likewise the Wylies surprised her sister and family, the W. E. Insels at Gainesville. They were just out for a drive and ended up with the visits.

Weekend visitors from Lewisville were Mr. and Mrs. Irven Derischweiler and children who divided their time between their parents here and at Saint Jo . . . also visited at M&S Hospital with Irven's sister, Mrs. Gene Schmitz.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Yosten and daughter Gayle of Hereford spent several days here with his family, the Nick Yostens, after attending the funeral of Frank Mages Sr.

Herman Stoffels was in Dallas Wednesday for a routine checkup at the VA Hospital. His wife accompanied him.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Miller combined pleasure with business on their trip to Dallas when they took their son Alan to an eye specialist Monday. After the treatment, Alan visited the Don Glovers, and Mr. and Mrs. Miller attended a convention for Humble dealers. They returned home Tuesday after convention sessions ended.

Deanna Wolf of Windthorst is having a week's vacation here with her grandparents, the Victor Hartmans. They brought her back with them after a visit with the Walter Wolfs Friday and Saturday.

At Denton Meeting Of Area Five FHA

Muenster FHA Chapter was represented at the Area 5 meeting in Denton Saturday by Miss Doris Vavra, chapter sponsor, and students Janet Lutkenhaus and Linda Fette.

Business sessions, installation of area officers and lectures were meeting features and entertainment included a tour of NTSC and TWU campuses. Principal speaker was Helen Poe, world traveler, who told the FHA assemblage what to do as Future Homemakers of America to preserve the freedoms this country enjoys.

Plant Exchange to Be Held April 6

Gainesville Council of Garden Clubs has announced a plant exchange at the same time inviting everybody who is interested to participate, either exchanging plants or simply availing themselves of an opportunity to secure plants free of cost.

Thursday, April 6, is the day, the hours are from 9 to 5, and the place is the pavilion at Leonard Park.

Everyone, especially garden club members and newcomers, are urged to drop by, see the plants, bring something for exchange, or simply take home something to plant.

Mrs. Claude McCarty is president of the Gainesville Council of Garden Clubs, Inc. and Mrs. Fred Kising and Mrs. Jack Joyce are committee chairmen for the plant exchange.

Discussion Clubs Have March Study

Sacred Heart Parish discussion clubs held their monthly sessions Sunday night, the March lesson based on the sacrament of penance. Reports are in on the following:

The group headed by Mrs. Arnold Rohmer held their meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Mosler, Mrs. Mosler leading. Ten members were present and after study had coffee and brownies served by the hostess.

Fourteen members — seven couples — reported for the meeting held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grewing. The club chairman is Mrs. Joe Hoenig. Mrs. Grewing served cookies and coffee after adjournment.

Twenty-one members reported for the club headed by Mrs. Billy Joe Miller. The meeting was held in the Paul Endres home with Mrs. Endres leading. Games and refreshments followed the study session.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Herr was meeting place for the group of which R. R. Endres is chairman. Thirteen members were present, visited after the study period and had coffee and cookies served by the hostess. Mrs. John Kathman will have the club at her home for the next meeting.

24 Muenster 4-H Club Girls Model In Dress Review

Twenty-four girls from Muenster 4-H Clubs entered the annual Cooke County Dress Revue this year winning eight blue ribbons, ten red and six white ribbons.

Charlotte Wolf, only a half point short of the championship, is the county's alternate to the district contests. She modeled a cotton dress with matching umbrella and scored 96½ points. Taking top honors with 97 points was Norma Jean Sellers of Callisburg. Her entry was a suit dress with matching hat.

Other blue ribbon winners from here are Mary Ellen Endres, Janie Knauf, Linda

Veterinary Notes

by Dr. G. L. Watts

Today we know that Leptospirosis, or Lepto as it is commonly known, is among the leaders of livestock's costliest diseases. Lepto has actually been infecting cattle for many years, but only recently has the disease been correctly recognized.

The losses caused by Lepto are many and are always a constant danger to any herd. Not only is calf mortality a costly loss, but stunting and weight loss are also recognized as after effects of Lepto.

The program of treatment of this disease is long and expensive. The economical way to handle the problem of Lepto is prevention. Every stockman should insure his herd against Lepto by a yearly vaccination program. There is no life-time vaccine for Lepto, therefore all animals should be vaccinated once a year. This will eliminate the disease from a herd and will insure against future losses.

The vaccine now used is a very safe product and can be used on animals of any age. It is recommended for use on cows before calving time, on calves of all ages, and on all herd bulls. The price of the vaccine is within the bounds of good herd management and the use of the vaccine should be a must for every stockman in Cooke County.

GLOBE Lepto Vaccine is featured at the Veterinary Department at Watts Bros. Globe Lepto Vaccine is a high potent, yet safe vaccine that can be used with absolute safety, and assurance that Lepto "breaks" won't ruin your chances of raising healthy, hearty, top-of-the-lot feeder calves.

Come into Watts Bros. this week and get enough Lepto Vaccine to vaccinate every animal in your herd. A few pennies a year can save you hundreds of dollars of loss from Lepto.

Red ribbons went to Sandra Sicking, Dianne Felderhoff, Sherrie Pitman and Linda Owen, juniors; Monica Becker, Norma and Doris Lutkenhaus and Alma Herr, intermediates, and Peggy Reiter, Janice Vogel and Carol Henschel, seniors.

White ribbon winners were Paula Herr, Dianne Gehrig, Debbie Cain, Gloria Reiter and Cheryl Reiter, junior division; Pauline Fleitman, intermediate division.

One hundred and fifteen girls entered the dress parade and modeled the garments they made in 4-H Club activity. Parents and friends attended, making a full house at Gainesville Junior College. Setting for the fashion show was "Mother Goose Goes Modern" with the principal scenery a huge shoe with a door through which contestants stepped out upon the stage.

Birthday Honors For Mrs. Don Cooke Cover Five Days

Five days of celebrating were arranged to honor Mrs. Don C. Cooke in observance of her birthday, March 27, and the honors for the occasion came in San Antonio and Fort Worth. They started Friday, concluded Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooke left Friday, driving to Fort Worth. There they joined their son Harold Cooke and his wife and son Don on the drive to San Antonio to visit the honoree's two sisters, Mrs. C. L. Bledsoe and Mrs. T. O. Harvill, and a nephew, Glenn Harwood and families. All the relationship joined for a dinner party in the Harvill home Saturday evening.

Back to Fort Worth Sunday, visiting in the Harold Cooke home, and a birthday dinner there Monday evening. Other guests were the hosts' daughter and husband, the Gene Alexanders and daughter Dana and Mrs. Cooke's other sister, Mrs. H. G. Andrews and Mr. Andrews. The Don Cookes were overnight guests in the Andrews home and had dinner there Tuesday noon before returning home.

To the people of Cooke County

We have worked hard to complete our piped oxygen system (the last phase of our internal remodeling) so that we could have an open house before the hospital election of April 4. In spite of our best efforts the completion date is still 10 days to two weeks away.

I feel however that there are a number of people who are genuinely interested in seeing M&S and determining for themselves its capabilities for expansion. To those people, I will be at M&S from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, April 2. I will be glad to have you come and will show and explain to the best of my ability.

MHS School Paper Praised at Denton

The Muenster Public School's newspaper, published occasionally by freshmen of Muenster High, got some good comment but no award at the NTSC Journalism conference last week.

Arthur Bordeaux, instructor, said criticism, was encouraging, however competition was too steep in the field of mimeograph entries. About 100 papers were there.

The MHS yearbook got exactly the opposite treatment; criticism was rough but competition weak, and the book took second place award in class 1.

There are no dinosaurs in Texas, but we do have proof that the prehistoric monsters were here at one time.

Just travel twenty miles west of Cleburne to the town of Glen Rose, and you can see for yourself.

Gift Shower for Miss Cecilia Neu

A gift shower was a pre-nuptial courtesy for Miss Cecilia Neu, bride-elect of Raymond Hoenig, Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Richard Hermes at Gainesville. Sharing hostess duties with Mrs. Hermes were Mrs. Wilfred Bindel and Mrs. Jerry Hoenig of Muenster, Mrs. Carl Pelzel of Ennis, Mrs. Rupert Hoenig of Carrollton and Rita Cottle of Dallas.

Some twenty relatives of the engaged pair including their mothers, Mrs. Joe J. Neu and Mrs. Joe Hoenig, attended. The guests were from Muenster, Lindsay, Myra, Gainesville, Pilot Point and Decatur.

Table games furnished diversion and winners presented their awards to the honoree. After the shower gift display the hostesses served refreshments.

Dolls dressed as a bride and a bridesmaid adorned the gift table and an arrangement of roses was the centerpiece for the serving table. The bride-elect's colors of white, pink and silver were used in decorating.

Miss Neu will be married to Mr. Hoenig on Saturday, April 8 in St. Peter Church, Lindsay, with the nuptial mass at 4 p.m.

Lindsay CYC Sees Film for Program

A film on Radio Free Europe furnished an informative program for members of the CYC at their recent meeting in Lindsay Parish Hall. The Crusade for Freedom film was entitled "Flowers of Truth."

Before the film, the business session was held with President Bob Fuhrmann presiding and after business the group had the monthly Confraternity discussion club lesson with Mark Hermes leading.

Members have been thinking about purchasing a ping pong table but have reached no decision. A letter from the Catholic State League was read in regard to House Bill 15 and members were asked to voice their opinions in letters to their congressman and representative. Refreshments were served after adjournment.

Out of Town Kin At Mages Funeral

Among relatives and friends at the funeral of Frank Mages Sr. in addition to those from Cooke County were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mages and Otto Barnhart and daughter Mary of Waco; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mages and daughter Sherry and Joe Wershwiwer and daughter Joyce of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Herr of Wichita Falls.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Berend, Leroy and Doris Berend, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Yosten and daughter Gayle, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Albracht and Charlie Berend, all of Hereford; Eddie Mages and children David, Shirley and Barbara, Mrs. Doug Reiter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mages III and two sons, all of Dallas, and Mrs. Lavol Kintsley of Ingleside, Texas.

Glenn Hess, 2, Has Birthday Party

Glenn Hess, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hess, celebrated Monday at an afternoon party, his mother entertaining at their home. Guests brought a shower of gifts.

Punch and birthday cake were served to Brenda and Danny Voth, Carol and Susan Zimmerer of Lindsay, Mary Lou and Gloria Hess, Lynda Klement and Marlene Herr.

Great-grandmothers, Mrs. Paul Arendt of Lindsay, Mrs. Henry Fette and Mrs. John Knabe, and grandmothers, Mrs. Emmet Fette and Mrs. Gary Hess were special guests and other grownup presents were Mmes. Ray Voth, Vincent Zimmerer, Gene Klement and Albert Herr.

FHA Chapter Has Fashion Show for PTA Entertainment

Parents attending the PTA meeting Monday night saw a dress review for the program feature. Twenty girls of MHS Future Homemakers of America Chapter modeled garments they made as sewing assignments.

Miss Doris Vavra, chapter sponsor, was commentator. The garments were spring fashions and included school wear, suits and dress-up clothes.

The style show preceded the business session which consisted of routine procedure, Mrs. Paul Fisher, presiding, and Superintendent L. B. Bruns making announcements of interest to the organization.

One announcement concerned the change of date for the annual all-awards banquet. It will be held Thursday, April 20, instead of the earlier date to avoid a conflict with other scheduled activity.

Mrs. Rudy Hellman spoke briefly on Gray Lady activity at the Denton school and mentioned ways others can help as individuals or as an organization.

A nominating committee was appointed for the election of officers to be held next month.

Students participating in the dress revue were six seniors: Phyllis Cler, Mary Lee Dennis, Mary Alice Dickerson, Carolyn Fette, Virginia Vogel and Jeanette Walterscheid and 14 sophomores: Dianne Horn, Jo Ann, Rita and Rosemary Fisher, Sharon Klement, LaChrista Lutkenhaus, Charlotte McElreath, Nancy Rathburn, Carolyn Russell, Bobbie Tuggle, Brenda Tuggle, Charlotte Wolf, Sandra Wolf, Linda Fuller. An extra model was Chetia Tuggle. She showed a dress made by her sister, Bobbie Tuggle, in her home experience assignment.

President Kennedy Answers Letter of SH 8th Graders

One of the most treasured possessions of Sacred Heart School's eighth grade civics class and their teacher Sister Carmelita is a letter from President Kennedy. Just arrived, it is an answer and acknowledgment with thanks for a spiritual bouquet and good wishes from the elementary school students sent to him at the time of his inauguration. Wrote the President:

"Thank you for your kind thought of me. The knowledge that I am being remembered in spiritual bouquets and in the individual prayers of the people is a source of great strength and satisfaction to me — a strength that I shall lean upon today as citizens join with me in the furtherance of human rights for all mankind."

"Mrs. Kennedy joins me in extending greetings to you." (Signed) John F. Kennedy

Lindsay Wallops Sacred Heart 17-4

The recession continued for Sacred Heart's Tigers last Friday afternoon as they went down in their second lop-sided defeat of their series with Lindsay's Knights. The score was 17-4, and the count of hits was 17-5.

Jerome Fuhrmann was the Tiger hurler while Lindsay went on the hitting spree. Billy Schmitz and Harold Sandmann pitched for Lindsay.

plagued technicians of the Soil Conservation Service and others. There is no better time to establish grass than immediately following completion of the pond if the season of the year permits grass planting. And over half of the ponds built in the Upper Elm-Red District are constructed at a time when grass could be planted as soon as the dozer stops.

Joe W. Fleitman is one-landowner who has just completed such a job. Before the dozers were off the place he had started sodding common Bermuda grass on the dam. He intends to protect his investment.

Some may ask why this operation rates such attention. By way of answer: in the first place, the average pond dam has a surface of about one-third of an acre. If not sodded or seeded to grass, that one-third acre is lost. This is not the most important part, however.

Everyone has seen new ponds with rills and ditches down the slopes after a few hard rains. Two good rains, washing dirt from the unprotected slopes of a pond often reduces the depth of the pond as much as a foot. As much as two feet, sometimes more, can be lost from the pond's depth by silting — letting dirt from the slope wash into the bottom of the hole.

And too, most ponds are built with a crown, or top width of 10 to 12 feet. Left bare, many dams will have only a five to six foot crown left in a few years. This weakens the structure and often requires extra expense in repairs.

The average pond costs the landowner about $200. It is just good business to spend a half day or so sodding grass to protect that $200 investment.

NOTES FROM CITY LIBRARY

For an evening's reading session, book lovers will find the story of Andrew Carnegie a treasure of entertainment and information. In big type, the 178 pages of this biography can be finished in one sitting. Students, including sixth graders and up, as well as adults will find "Andrew Carnegie" stimulating. The author is Alvin F. Harlow. The book is on the shelf at City Library when it isn't circulating, which isn't often, so if a first request for a check-out fails, ask again. It's worth waiting for.

This is the life story of Andrew Carnegie, a poor immigrant boy, who became one of America's leading industrialists and who, through the wise disposition of his enormous wealth, enriched the cultural life of the world and particularly the country of his adoption.

Andrew Carnegie was born in Dunfermline, Scotland, the son of a weaver whose cottage looms had been silenced by the growth of the textile mills. When the boy was 13 his father decided to come to America and borrowed 20 pounds, passage money to Pennsylvania. The family settled in Alleghany, in a Scottish community, and young Andrew got a job in a local cotton factory at $1.50 a week. Twenty years later when he was not yet 35, his annual income was $50,000 a year.

He founded a great steel empire and amassed great wealth which he used to endow colleges, libraries, museums, and educational institutions. The Carnegie Library in Pittsburg, the Carnegie Institute in Washington, D. C., the 68 branches of the New York Public Library, the Brooklyn Public Library, and thousands of other libraries in as many cities owe their existence to Carnegie's love of books and reading.

Many colleges in this country and four leading universities in his native Scotland received generous endowments. Carnegie established pension funds for teachers in the United States and Canada, and during his lifetime gave away more than three hundred and fifty million dollars for benevolent purposes.

Andrew Carnegie never forgot that he had been a poor boy, the son of a weaver. His principles were sincerely democratic, and the cultural legacy he left to the world continues through the Carnegie Foundation which distributes gifts to schools, colleges, libraries and other institutions of learning and research.

The farmer was explaining to the city woman what a menace insects are to farm products — how potato bugs ruin potato crops and corn borers destroy corn. The woman listened attentively, then suddenly exclaimed: "And the poor dairy people. How the butterflies must bother them."

The Welfare State, both feared and desired, seems likely to arrive via Social Security. Steadily, the Social Security tax expands and the promises and "benefits" grow. Already, without additional legislation that the liberals in Congress are arguing for, Social Security tax will, by law, reach 9 per cent in 1969.

Local News BRIEFS

Leaving Sunday after a visit since Thursday was Mrs. G. L. Brink who was the guest of her brother, Andy O'Connor and her sister, Mrs. Will Sicking. Plans to visit other relatives fell through on account of the rain Saturday. From here Mrs. Brink went to Post to visit another sister, Mrs. Matt Stelzer, and from there she'll go back to San Bernardino, Calif., where she and her husband have been wintering with a daughter. Mrs. Brink came here from Galveston where they have their home — business took her there. Mr. Brink is in poor health and didn't make the trip with her. They'll leave California to return to Galvston at a later date.

Having her children from Kansas City as visitors made a happy weekend for Mrs. William Bergman. Her guests were Mrs. Bernard Knoff and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bergman. They returned home Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Kenneth Wiesman and daughter Klair are having a visit here with the Herbert Meurers and Al Wiesmans. Kenneth brought his family from Houston and was here for a weekend visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel drove to Wichita Falls Friday. Mr. Weinzapfel attending a business meeting and Mrs. Weinzapfel visiting her sister, Mrs. S. P. Otto, who is recovering from a major operation. She's doing exceptionally well and is looking forward to being dismissed from the hospital this weekend.

Mrs. Teddy Gremminger and children Robert and Mary accompanied by Mrs. Don Harris and children Johnny, Lisa and Julie, all of Garland, visited here Thursday when they brought Mrs. Gremminger's father, Victor Hartman, home after his dismissal from Methodist Hospital. Mr. Hartman joined his daughter in showing Mrs. Harris the interesting sites in and around town.

See Old Friends On Arkansas Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wimmer and daughters, Mary and Shirley, and Mrs. Herman Dangelmayr, back from a visit in Arkansas, report a most enjoyable trip with visits in Jonesboro and Subiaco which permitted seeing a number of former Muensterites.

Highlight of the trip and special purpose for it, was to attend the solemn profession services at Holy Angels Convent on March 21, when the Wimmers' daughter Sister Consolata, made her vows as a member of the Olivetan Benedictine Sisters, and their visit with her.

Others they enjoyed seeing at Jonesboro included Father Louis Deuster, Sister Thomasina Walterscheid and Sister Lutgardis Felderhoff as the visitors toured St. Bernard's Hospital.

A stop in Subiaco was occasion for a visit with Father Christopher Paladino and Father Leo Koesler and a tour of the new Abbey Church. All the Arkansans sent regards to relatives and friends in this area.

Shades of socialism: The Portland, Oregon, Oregonian reported that Lorentz Danielsson, a Swedish farmer recently plowed up 668 Arabian silver coins in a crumbling sack. The Vikings traded with the Arabs many years ago and the coins found dated from 700-800 A. D. Had the Swedish government permitted the farmer to keep the treasure, he would have been very wealthy. As it was, he received $200 of which $100 went for taxes.

Happy birthday party for Mrs. Tony Gremminger was a dinner Sunday with her children and grandchildren present.

The Maurice Pagels were hosts in their home and the Bobby Howells and daughters Rebecca and Stephanie of Fort Worth and Mrs. Robert Mayer and daughters Gloria Jean and Bobbie Gayle of Pilot Point came for the occasion. Mrs. Mayer brought the decorated birthday cake and they all had gifts for Mrs. Gremminger. The Howells were weekend guests of her mother.

Cancer Crusade Gets Donation at Showing of Film

Showing of a film on cancer, sponsored by the local home demonstration club Thursday night, was attended by some fifty persons in MHS auditorium. Mrs. Albert Fleitman, club president, welcomed the guests and L. B. Bruns was in charge of the projector.

The movie, entitled "The Other City," was available through courtesy of the American Cancer Society and was filmed for a mixed audience of adults.

Dr. Kenneth Dobbs, city health officer, was present to lead discussions and answered questions from the floor. Literature on the disease was distributed.

There was no admission charge and the home demonstration club ladies served refreshments of pie, cake and coffee without charge. Afterwards those present made contributions to the cancer fund to go to the Cancer Crusade which opens April 18.

It's strange how the ignorant refuse to study and how the intelligent never stop.

Stories of the tight-lipped gentry always remind us of the one about the backwoods woman, the soles of whose feet had been toughened by a life-time of shoelessness. One day she was standing in front of her cabin fireplace when her husband addressed her: "You'd better move your foot a mite, Maw, you're standin' on a live coal." Said she, nonchalantly, "Which foot, Paw?"

Charlotte Wolf on HD Club Program

An added attraction at the regular March meeting of the Muenster Home Demonstration Club Wednesday afternoon was a dairy foods demonstration presented by Charlotte Wolf, Sacred Heart 4-H clubber.

Charlotte gave the demonstration which won for her the championship in the annual County Dairy Foods Show. She was the individual winner in the senior group, and will compete in the district contests in April. The demonstration consists of preparing a full balanced meal of dairy foods.

It was shown in the home of Mrs. Al Fleitman, March hostess for the club meeting attended by 18 members and guests.

Lindsay News

Home for the Easter holidays are Tommy Zimmerer and Pat Hermes, visiting their families the Bruno Zimmerers and Julius Heremeses. They arrived Wednesday from Subiaco, Ark.

Al Bezner was here from Irving Sunday to spend the day with his mother, Mrs. Joe Bezner and also visited other relatives.

I. A. Zimmerer has been dismissed from the Sanitarium and is making normal progress in recovering from eye surgery. He is convalescing at the home of his son and family, the Henry Zimmerers.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Stoffels have named their new daughter Shelley Marie. Her baptism was Sunday with Father Damian officiating and Wilford and Miss Dorothy Bengfort assisting as godparents for their niece. Also attending the ceremony was Shelley's sister, Jane, a cousin Charlotte Stoffels, and an aunt Mrs. Tony Hess of Muenster.

Tripoley Club members had their March party with Mrs. Vincent Zimmerer as hostess in her home. After the games she served coffee and chocolate pie topped with whipped cream to nine present. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer as hostess in her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hess were here from Muenster Friday evening to be confirmation godparents for a niece and nephew. Afterwards family members were together in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bengfort for supper. The Bengforts' grandchildren Jane Stoffels, Susan Bengfort and Arnold and Stephen Zimmerer were among the confirmants.

St. Anne Society Plans New Project And Parish Picnic

Members of St. Anne's Society of St. Peter Parish planned ahead for coming activity when they held their recent meeting. A big project, the ladies decided as they took it over, is redecorating and refinishing the three altars in church. They'll start the work shortly.

Another project detailing work and preparation will be a community picnic the society will sponsor Sunday, April 16. Already committee heads are busy lining up bazaar attractions and food and rounding up helpers to assist in putting the picnic on "with all the trimmings."

Also on the agenda was Mrs. Gregory Hundt's report on two projects for NCCW: collecting discarded eye glasses and old nylon hose. Members were advised to bring all they gather up of these two items to the next meeting at which time they will be boxed and shipped. Mrs. Hundt also read a short article on good manners in church. And Mrs. Lawrence Zimmerer announced that new NCCW officers will be installed at the deanery meeting at Pilot Point in May.

Forty-four members were present and Father Damian attended explaining two bills pending in the house: House Bills No. 15 and 286. The group decided to write to the state senator and representative expressing their views.

Other recent activity in which the Society engaged included preparing breakfast for the Knight of Columbus on their Communion Sunday, giving the church its spring clean-up, and arranging for a photographer to be present at the confirmation services to take pictures. The sick committee also was active making visits, especially to Mrs. Sophie Schad who is ill in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Johnny Streng at Muenster.

hospital facilities. The service over there will be better because of our service to the area.

Instead it is claimed that because of Gainesville contributions "in excess of $15,000" to our project, we should feel indebted to support theirs. Actually the Gainesville donations add to $4140.58, (total pledges: $7548.08) for which the community is asked to take on a tax obligation of about $200,000. It might be more correct to assume that Gainesville donations to the Muenster hospital are expressions of appreciation for the 3 to 5 million dollars a year spent by Muenster people in Gainesville. Anyone who questions that estimate is invited to investigate the total of Muenster checks clearing Gainesville banks.

And even supposing Muenster is indebted to Gainesville for donations to our hospital, what kind of vote would best express our gratitude? Many of the firms and individuals would rather have us vote against the county hospital.

Also, Muenster's dependence on the county hospital is slightly over emphasized. It is mentioned we will come there for many services not available in our hospital. That's questionable. It's doubtful that Gainesville can attract or support a big staff of specialists. Few of the cases that have to leave here will be accommodated at Gainesville. They'll go to Dallas and Fort Worth.

Regarding present developments, the county hospital issue has been a severe hindrance to Muenster's hospital campaign. The drive has stopped because of it. And if people are burdened with support of a Gainesville hospital they will be reluctant to complete the drive for our own. To say it has no effect on our project is plain nonsense. At best it makes completion of our job much harder. At worst it could still wreck our project.

A final point for consideration is the tax rate needed for the county hospital proposal. Remember, that is an unknown figure. The official order specifies a rate sufficient to pay interest and principal. It could be higher than the publicized figure of 15 cents. It could go considerably higher to compensate for expected declines in oil property valuations.

All of those reasons are entitled to serious consideration in evaluating the merits of the county hospital proposal. This method is not the only solution to the existing hospital problem, nor is it the best one. And progress does not require that we burden this generation and the next with the most expensive solution.

On the other hand, sound judgment demands a vote AGAINST the county hospital.

PT Members Plan Activity Clubs for Lindsay Youngsters

Formation of clubs for boys and girls got most of the attention at the monthly meeting of the Lindsay Parent-Teacher organization the past Tuesday during a regular business session.

As planned, the clubs will be similar to Boy and Girl Scout troops with mothers as adult leaders and fathers helping with hiking and crafts.

There will be boy and girl groups, separately, with eight to ten members each. The age groups will also be divided, seven to ten year old in one club, 11 to 15 year olds in another.

Heading the committee on this project are Mrs. Ray Laux, Mrs. Alphonse Bengfort and Mrs. John Aytes. Activity is geared to start in the near future.

In other business further plans were made for the proposed local football field. And a nominating committee was appointed. Next meeting will include election of a new vice president, treasurer and historian. On the committee for nominations are Mrs. Norbert Zimmerer, Mrs. Ray Laux and Nick Block.

Gregory Hundt, presided and the 11th and 12th grade room won the attendance count.

14 Questions & Answers Relative to the Proposed Cooke County Hospital

1. Do we really need a new hospital?

Yes, That is the reason Muenster people are planning to build their own hospital, and why the State Health Department approved Muenster's application for a Hill-Burton grant. However no further need exists. Health Department standards recommend 2.6 beds per 1000 persons, a total of about 60 beds for Cooke County. M&S now has 40 beds approved by the Health Department and Muenster will have 30 more. In addition, Gainesville Sanitarium has 60 beds. The hospital problem in Cooke County is not shortage of facilities but failure to use those available at M&S.

2. Why should we have a county hospital instead of a privately owned hospital?

Answer: WE SHOULD NOT! We should not waste public money on a project that is not needed and which, if built, would force present private enterprise out of business.

3. Is the county hospital being built for the benefit of doctors?

No, it is not. Actually, it is not endorsed by the Cooke County Medical Association. It was proposed and planned without knowledge of the doctors . . . even though partly because of them. The hospital is an extravagant and ill advised solution to the unfortunate situation resulting from failure of the doctors to use facilities at M&S. That is the only way in which doctors are involved.

4. How will the county hospital affect Muenster effort to secure a hospital of its own?

It has an unfavorable effect. Since the election petition was introduced Muenster's campaign has practically stopped. Many people will decline to help Muenster's project if they are forced to pay taxes to a county project. Many others will give less than they previously intended. Besides, it gives Muenster the choice of two unpleasant alternatives, to abandon its own hospital or pay a double burden.

5. What will the hospital cost?

Architects estimate cost at an average of $19,000 to $20,000 a bed in a completely equipped hospital. It seems unlikely that the site can be furnished, the 60 bed hospital built and equipped, and an initial operating fund provided for the proposed amount of $1 million.

6. Will Hill-Burton funds be used to finance the hospital?

In a previous unsuccessful attempt to promote a county hospital the promoting group proposed to use the federal grant. Since then the available fund has been allotted to Muenster. The county hospital cannot apply for it unless it succeeds in spoiling the Muenster project.

7. What type of hospital and how many beds can be expected for the million dollars?
This is sufficiently answered in Number 5.

8. What tax rate will be required to pay off the bonds?
That rate is unknown. The official notice ordering the election states "to levy a tax sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds and to create a sinking fund sufficient to pay the principal thereof at maturity." But it does not specify a rate. The suggested rate of 15 cents may be sufficient at this time but it will fall short if oil valuations drop as expected after water-flooding production declines.

9. What will his cost the average taxpayer?

That depends on how many taxpayers. However there are 22,500 persons to raise $60,000 a year. That's an average of $2.75 for every man, woman and child, perhaps $10 or more per taxpayer.

10. Will additional tax be required to operate and maintain the hospital?

Most likely yes. Because of the tendency to more charity cases in tax supported hospitals, also political factors in their administration, the proposed county hospital is not expected to operate within its income.

11. Where will the county get the money to start operations with?

If the money were repaid this would not be important. But it seems this operational fund can become an annual added burden to the taxpayer.

12. Where will the hospital be located?

At Gainesville, the exact location to be chosen by a hospital committee appointed by the commissioner's court.

13. Who will run the hospital?

An administrator to be named by the hospital committee.

14. How will charity cases be handled?

That depends primarily on the administration. Laxity will accept many charity cases and permit many supposedly good accounts to be written off as charity cases. Tax supported hospitals, because of attitudes of both patients and administrators, are more subject to such charity cases.

Muenster Memorial Hospital with its 30 beds will be able and willing to meet the hospital needs of about 12000 people in western Cooke and eastern Montague counties. Muenster people have taken on the financial load of providing this facility and they resent this effort by certain Gainesville people to impose an additional tax on them. It reveals a lack of appreciation for the 3 to 5 million dollars worth Muenster business given to Gainesville every year.

Those who constantly complain about industry's reluctance to settle in Gainesville should consider the effect of another tax, especially when a prospect discovers that a part of the tax represents an extravagant expenditure on an unnecessary project.

If the truth were known we doubt whether industrial prospects at Gainesville were discouraged by lack of hospitalization so much as by the well known feud in the town's medical circles.
