

The Armistice of Steel

by Paul McCrea

WHITE CROSSES marking graves where heroes rest
Stretch off across the plain in ordered file,
Each cross deep driven in a mother's breast,
Its shadow ever darkening her smile.

By every cross a separate peace was sealed;
A peace that came on shell-swept parapet,
By steel that shrieked across a flaming field,
Or savage thirst of dripping bayonet.

Their armistice was signed ere news of peace
Brought joyous carnival to every street;
From war and blood and hate they found release
Amid the shells of battle's sullen heat.

There, with their broken rifles in their hands,
They met as foes to fall and meet once more
Before a God who all tongues understands
Nor asks what uniforms the fighters wore.

For them war left no heritage of hate;
For them today a common banner waves.
Should we, who live, by hatred desecrate
The fellowship of heroes' hallowed graves?

HOOVER IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM

Isham A. Smith Post of the American Legion has completed plans for its annual Armistice Day program which will be offered Monday, Nov. 12th, in observance of the Tenth Anniversary of the signing of the articles that brought to a close hostilities of the World War.

Monday's program will be opened with a big parade through the downtown business section of the city. The parade will be formed at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall and will go down Fisk Avenue to East Anderson, thence down Center Avenue to the Court House and down East Broadway and back to the starting point.

A large number of decorated floats will be entered in the parade by the various merchants of the city and in addition to this, a large number of local organizations, including all Brownwood Boy Scout troops, luncheon clubs, civic organizations, city officials, and members of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary, will take part in the parade.

Program at Hall

An appropriate program, commemorating the tenth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, will be given immediately following the parade, in the auditorium of the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall. Mark Callaway, Brownwood attorney, will be the principal speaker of the day, it is announced by Legion officials. Cameron Marshall, head of the music department of Howard Payne and a male quartette, will furnish music for the occasion.

All ex-service men are urged to take part in the parade and attend the program at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall.

Monday afternoon's program consists of two football games, one between Daniel Baker College and Austin College and the other between Brownwood High School and Comanche High School. The Brownwood-Comanche game will start promptly at 1 o'clock and will be played on the Howard Payne gridiron. The Daniel Baker-Austin College tilt will be played on the Daniel Baker gridiron and will start at 3:30 Monday afternoon.

EXPECT ROAD WORK TO START BY DEC. 1ST

Work by the state on the highways in Brown county will probably start by December 1, it was announced by Leo Ehlinger, chief maintenance engineer of the state highway department, Wednesday.

Mr. Ehlinger was in Brownwood on business connected with the repairs of the wrecked Colorado River bridge, and to talk to the commissioners court regarding the employment of a civil engineer on the county roads.

Mr. Ehlinger said that Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, is anxious to get started on the highways in this county under the plan for which bonds were recently voted, as at this time construction is cheaper than it has been for some time.

With regard to the bridge between Brownwood and Brady, a span of which gave way recently under a load of tractors, Mr. Ehlinger said that informal bids would be acted upon, thus saving the time usually consumed in asking for and letting formal bids.

In talking to the commissioners Mr. Ehlinger said that if a competent engineer is secured at the beginning and kept on the job until the finish of the work of building the $750,000 worth of county roads, the initial expense would be cut down and much saving made as the work progressed.

He said that an engineer, which all other counties used in like circumstances, would be able to take the system as a whole and make it more uniform than if the four districts would be left to the discretion of a commissioner for each one. Such an engineer would be available for use in any case where the commissioners needed advice.

"An engineer," he said, "would work in an advisory capacity only. A good engineer with experience and training would bring to the county knowledge which would materially cut down costs of construction and would therefore be able to aid the commissioner in building better roads with the same amount of money."

Mr. Ehlinger said that the cost of a competent engineer would be between $500 and $600 a month. He proposed a plan, which had been already outlined by Judge E. M. Davis, to the effect that it would pay the county to make use for the lateral roads of the services of the engineer which the state would hire to attend to the construction of the highways. By so doing, he said, the one engineer could coordinate the programs of both the state and the county, and the expense could be shared. He named the county's share of the salary for a first class engineer at $250.

The commissioners took no action on the proposed plan, but decided to postpone it for a few days.

Election of 1928 Sets New Records

BROWN COUNTY GIVES HOOVER 53 MAJORITY

Report from the last of the boxes in Brown county, received Wednesday afternoon, gives Hoover a total of 2988 votes in the county to 1955 for Smith, a Hoover majority of 53 votes.

The total vote in the county was about 4,100. Election officials reported that several ballots could not be counted because they had been improperly marked by voters who tried to vote a mixed ticket.

The four wards of the City of Brownwood gave a Democratic majority of 90 votes, the total being: Smith 1,092, Hoover 1,002. The Republican majority in many of the rural boxes was pronounced, and in Bangs, the largest precinct outside of Brownwood the vote was 277 to 123 in favor of the Republican nominee.

As in many elections of past years, it seems that the maxim, "as Brown county goes, so goes Texas," is sustained in this election, the Hoover majority in Texas apparently being maintained in the tabulation of late returns.

Amendments Approved

When the final vote of Brown county was tabulated, it was found that the four proposed constitutional amendments were approved, by small majorities.

In assembling the unofficial returns Tuesday night, The Bulletin was unable to secure the vote on the amendments in many of the boxes, but the trend of the precincts reporting indicated a majority favorable to the constitutional changes. The four city boxes gave rather large majorities to the amendments. In several of the small rural boxes the voters disapproved all the amendments, but the vote was so small as to have little weight in the final tabulation. A larger vote was polled in favor of the Confederate pension amendment than for any other in this county.

Later reports have made no change from yesterday in the standing of electoral votes, Hoover still having 444 and Smith 57.

(By The Associated Press.)

The Presidential election of 1928 was passing into history today leaving in its wake the greatest electoral majority ever cast for any candidate. Full measure of the overwhelming victory which sent even rock-solid Democratic voters into Herbert Hoover's column was still to be completely ascertained, but from returns which rapidly were becoming complete it was evident that the new President will come into office with the greatest electoral majority in all history and with a popular vote exceeding any before it.

Likewise the country has still to learn—and it no doubt will be days before all the facts are known—how great a part the Presidential vote played in victing President-Elect Hoover a Republican Congress. That there will be an appreciable increase in the Republican majorities of both house and senate has been demonstrated but the returns still are inconclusive in the case of numerous contests for membership in the house along the Mason Dixon border line and in some other sections whose party lines are not frankly defined.

Districts in Doubt

In Virginia, for instance, two districts were still in doubt today with the chances leaning toward adding the Republican Congress to the state's roll. The old dominion already has contributed two Republicans definitely to the majority of that party in the house—men who were undoubtedly swept into office on the tide of Hoover sentiment which shook Virginia Congressmen. That there will be a Democratic reconstruction of Kentucky's leap into the Republican column was whole-hearted and almost complete. In place of eight Democrats and three Republicans, who reposed the Mason Dixon House at present, the Hoover wave changed the representation to nine Republicans and two Democrats. Sweeping aside of the Reconstruction Congressmen was noted in various localities. Although in two or three instances the Republicans were forced to give up their seats to Democrats. The Senate Democrats also felt the blow of the Hoover landslide. Six of their places up for re-election went to Republicans whereas all of the thirteen Republican places were retained by the candidate of that party.

Smith's Announcement

The only post-election contribution of Governor Smith has been an announcement that he is through with politics after a generation in public life. He expressed his gratitude to those who have stood with him and declared that never again would he run for public office.

President-Elect Hoover has expressed his appreciation of the vote given him Tuesday and has replied to message of congratulation from President Coolidge and Governor Smith.

PARADE PLAN FOR MONDAY

Plans for a big Armistice Day parade next Monday are near completion by a committee headed by Zeno C. Ingram of the American Legion. Civic, school and military organizations are scheduled to be in line at the start of the parade at the Memorial Hall at 10:00 a. m. Sunday is Armistice Day, but Monday will be generally observed. Decorated trucks and automobiles, a review of service men, the two local National Guard units, Brownwood fire department, the Daniel Baker and Austin College football squads, students of Daniel Baker and Howard Payne colleges and the public schools are expected to be seen in the line of march, the parade to be followed by services adapted to the day in the hall.

Awards will be made to the school or church having the best decorated float or automobile, to the school or church having the largest number in the parade, and to the Sunday school class having the greatest number. Loving cups will be presented to the organization or business concern having the best decorated float or car, and to the individual having the best decorated car.

The line of march will be from the Hall to Fisk Avenue, out Fisk Avenue to Depot Street, over to Center Avenue, down Center Avenue to the Court House, over to Broadway and up this street to Fisk and then over to the Hall.

Treasure Hunt

To again be given Rural School children on Nov. 17

A number of business men and merchants of the city are co-operating with the local schools and committees appointed for arrangements of the entertainment for the Rural School children on Nov. 17th, which will be observed county wide.

Will Talbot, chairman of the program is now working on plans through the help of the merchants in making possible a TREASURE HUNT, similar to the one enjoyed by the people of Brownwood on Oct. 30th. Many valuable prizes will be given the visitors from the rural communities through this plan and the merchants are only too glad to have every one visit their store during that day.

It will be remembered that last year a very enjoyable time was had by the pupils of all the schools of the county when they were special guests of the City of Brownwood.

This year those in charge say we should expect even much more interesting things, and the TREASURE HUNT will be the feature of the day.

Watch the papers next week for full particulars and for the names of the merchants who are participating.

RURAL SCHOOL DAY TO BE ON NOVEMBER 17

The date for the second Brown County Rural School day has been named, November 17, and preparations are getting under way to make it a big success. County Supt. Oscar Swindle issued the following statement today:

RURAL SCHOOL DAY

"The Chamber of Commerce and Young Men's Business League is making preparation to entertain the children of the Rural Schools on November 17th. All schools are expected to send delegates to Brownwood for a gala day. Delegates will be chosen on the basis of 20 per cent of enrollment, one teacher for each twenty pupils, and no school to have fewer than five delegates. Delegates should be chosen above the fifth grade on the basis of merit on the basis of the following extension directors, Mrs. J. K. Davis, Bangs; Mrs. Clardy, Woodland Heights; Mrs. T. C. Page, Venebell; Mrs. V. E. Eoff, Blanket; M. B. H. Betts, May; Mrs. Wilton, Donahoe, Cross Cut; and Mrs. L. V. Kimmins. At one o'clock a luncheon was served in the Mulberry room at the Southern Hotel to honor Mrs. Rose. The decorations were in blue and gold, the Parent-Teachers colors, and flowers and streamers of the colors adorned the table. Places were marked for 22. Mrs. J. M. Horn offered the invocation. All sang the P. T. A. song. Mrs. J. K. Wilkes favored with a vocal solo and Mrs. Hal Cherry entertained with a piano number. Mrs. J. K. Wilkes gave a toast to the local president. Mrs. A. V. Fitzgerald toasted the district president, Mrs. Rose. An informal introduction of all present followed.

Mrs. Rose spoke to the women of Brownwood at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Rev. W. B. Gray. Miss Claire Drey favored with a vocal solo and Mrs. Robert E. Hall played pipe organ selections. Mrs. Rose emphasized the loyal and hearty cooperation of parents and teachers and better organization in the local P. T. A.'s in her talk which was splendid and most instructive. A round table discussion followed, when those present were enlightened in many facts about the P. T. A. work.

BANGS MAN INJURED AND CAR WRECKED BY TRAIN WED.

Jack Schulze, of Bangs, 42 years old, is in a local hospital with a broken arm and a gash in his forehead, and his car is badly smashed as a result of being struck by the westbound Santa Fe passenger train at the first crossing west of Bangs Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Besides the injuries named, Mr. Schulze sustained numerous bruises. Mr. Schulze was alone in his car when the accident occurred. A McInnis ambulance was called and brought him to the hospital here.

FORM COUNTY COTTON YIELD IS ESTIMATED AT 14,133,000

A county council of the Parent-Teachers Association was formed at a meeting of P. T. A. members in the district court room on Wednesday. Mrs. W. K. Rose, of Fort Worth, president of the first district of Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers Associations, addressed those present on the subject of the need of a central organization in the county uniting the various separate P. T. A.'s.

The use of radio, picture shows and other means of entertainment in local communities was explained by Mrs. Rose, and the importance of libraries in rural schools was stressed.

"Mrs. Billie Bruce was elected president of the newly formed Brown County Council; Mrs. A. E. Wilson, first vice-president; J. Oscar Swindle, second vice-president; Mrs. E. J. Clardy, secretary; Mary E. Kimmins, extension director; Mrs. J. K. Davis, Bangs; Mrs. Clardy, Woodland Heights; Mrs. T. C. Page, Venebell; Mrs. V. E. Eoff, Blanket; M. B. H. Betts, May; Mrs. Wilton, Donahoe, Cross Cut; and Mrs. L. V. Kimmins. At one o'clock a luncheon was served in the Mulberry room at the Southern Hotel to honor Mrs. Rose. The decorations were in blue and gold, the Parent-Teachers colors, and flowers and streamers of the colors adorned the table. Places were marked for 22. Mrs. J. M. Horn offered the invocation. All sang the P. T. A. song. Mrs. J. K. Wilkes favored with a vocal solo and Mrs. Hal Cherry entertained with a piano number. Mrs. J. K. Wilkes gave a toast to the local president. Mrs. A. V. Fitzgerald toasted the district president, Mrs. Rose. An informal introduction of all present followed.

Mrs. Rose spoke to the women of Brownwood at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Rev. W. B. Gray. Miss Claire Drey favored with a vocal solo and Mrs. Robert E. Hall played pipe organ selections. Mrs. Rose emphasized the loyal and hearty cooperation of parents and teachers and better organization in the local P. T. A.'s in her talk which was splendid and most instructive. A round table discussion followed, when those present were enlightened in many facts about the P. T. A. work.

LOCAL LEGIONNAIRES TO ATTEND DISTRICT CONVENTION IN RANGER

Ranger will be the hostess city to the 17th District of the American Legion in its quarterly meeting, November 10 and 11. Elaborate plans have been made for the occasion according to advice received from Ranger. Much of the program planned for this meeting will be in keeping with the world wide observance of the tenth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice terms by the German plenipotentiaries.

Zeno Ingram, post adjutant of the Isham A. Smith Post of the American Legion, and wife, T. R. Scott, first vice commander, and wife, O. H. Turner, past post commander, and wife, Mrs. W. D. Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Beninger, of Brownwood, will attend the convention in Ranger.

WATER BOND ELECTION CAMPAIGN TO BE UNDER WAY SOON IN DISTRICT

Members of the Young Men's Good Roads Association, which worked on the road bond campaign, aligned themselves with the water bond campaign held in the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night, and pledged themselves to spread the facts of the water bond election to the voters prior to the December 4th bond election. They met with the water board and with D. W. Ross, engineer in charge.

COTTON JUMPS $2 A BALE ON CROP FORECAST

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The government's forecast of 14,133,000 bales with ginnings to November 1st, of 10,160,997 running bales about met traders' expectations today and its first effect on the cotton market was a gain of approximately $2 a bale on active positions. Immediately after trading was resumed following the customary fifteen minute suspension for reception of the report, December contracts sold up to 18.50, January 18.21 and March 18.20, or 28 to 40 points above the morning lows. Later, however, early buyers took profits and about half of the gain was lost, but the undertone of the market continued steady.

Honorable Mart Callaway Will be Principal Speaker

Because of Armistice being on Sunday of this year, Monday, November 12th has been set aside by the American Legion to celebrate and put on their program. A parade, with several floats, presented from the business firms of the city, the Boy Scouts of America and all the school children will take place during the morning.

After the parade, Honorable Mart Callaway will be the principal speaker at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall, where the remainder of the American Legion program will be presented.

This parade and program has promised to be worth your time to attend. Everyone is urged to come.

LITTLE DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. H. H. GIBBS SERIOUSLY HURT

Christine Gibbs, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Gibbs, was seriously injured when run over by a car driven by Mrs. Price Dixon at the corner of Avenue D and Durham Street early Thursday morning. Taken to the Central Texas Hospital by Judge E. M. Davis, who witnessed the accident, it was found that the extent of the child's injuries could not be definitely determined at once. The car ran over the little girl's chest and it was found her lungs had probably been punctured.

Judge Davis described the accident as one that was unavoidable. He said that Mrs. Gibbs was driving and had pulled up to let her little girl out. Mrs. Dixon, coming behind, pulled around and as she came even with the Gibbs car, little Christine ran out in front and was hit before Mrs. Dixon could bring her car to a stop.

Christine was on her way to the home and studio of Mrs. Maurice Harper, where she was to practice her butterfly dance for the flower show tonight. She was unconscious when picked up by Mr. Davis, but regained consciousness at the hospital.

At 3:00 p. m. Dr. Jewel Daugherty, in charge of the case, said that her condition was pretty good and that the only injury seemed to be perforated lungs.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Col. Charles Lindbergh, who reached here last night from St. Louis, left today for the Mangum ranch in Chihuahua, Mexico, with replacement parts for his plane.

From the ranch Col. Lindbergh said he would go to Mexico City for a visit with American Ambassador Dwight Morrow.

yields from those states, the department reported. The increase of 140,000 bales, or about one percent in the total forecast was ascribed by the department to better than average weather conditions during October, in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas. The report noted an increase of 365,000 bales during the month for these five states.

AGRICULTURE CLASSES HERE TO BE INSPECTED

MARKETS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK

Stocks strong; Montgomery Ward rises more than 20 points. Stocks steady; rails again in demand.

Foreign exchanges firm; sterling recovers slightly.

Cotton strong; bullish government crop estimate.

Sugar higher; better spot demand. Coffee declined; European selling.

Larger Egg Production

Eggs! Eggs! Everything from this time forward should be centered on getting the largest possible yield of eggs. If the females have been well raised up to this time they should be somewhat forced to begin laying immediately. I don't mean to give them conditions, powerful stimulants, pepper and so forth. I mean that they should be put on the strong laying ration with firm and full expectations that they will begin promptly to "react" to such treatment by laying eggs. It is very important that they should begin "well begun, half done" is a good old proverb. It will hold pretty true with laying hens. Get them at it and the rest ought to be easy. Keep the vision of "EGGS" therefore constantly before you and let everything bend toward that objective.

Clio

A very light shower of rain fell here early Monday morning. Everyone in this community is almost through gathering their crops. Clio school started Monday week. All school children were anxious to start. The teachers for the term are: Mr. and Mrs. Ouis L. Pierce, Mrs. Charlie Braun, Miss Grace Trigg. Mr. Charlie Hester was buried here Wednesday. Everyone was very sorry to hear of his sudden death. Several people from here attended the show at Brownwood this week. Mr. Floyd Coffey visited his home in Owens Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, of Owens are moving this week. Mr. and Mrs. Burney Soffer, of Brownwood visited his parents of Owens Sunday. Misses Lorene and Wilberta Alford have gone to Ft. Worth for a few days visit. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cathey and Miss Valma Lee McLaughlin were shopping in Owens Monday. Mr. Walker Baker was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, of Owens Sunday.

Prosperity Issue Was Cause, Says Tammany Chief

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Geo. W. Olvany, leader of Tammany Hall, today offered an explanation for the comparatively small plurality given Governor Smith in New York city. Tammany had estimated his plurality would be 581,000 at least, whereas it was 448,000. Olvany denied that the organization had failed to function. "Not that hard," he said. "The organization performed 100 percent from top to bottom."

FIRST ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW OPENS TONIGHT

First annual Flower Festival, sponsored by the Federated Clubs, of Brownwood, will be inaugurated tonight at 7:45 o'clock with the presentation of "A Rose Fable" in the auditorium of the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall. The play is cast in a Texas flower garden in November. The flowers gather to receive their queen for a festival she has had prepared for them to celebrate the closing of the season. A herald announces the entrance of Queen Rose, who takes charge of the fête, as Fairies and Butterflies flit here and there in merry dance.

Jack Frost Enters
 In the midst of their festivities Jack Frost enters, takes possession of their festivities and casts a frosty presence over all, making the flowers droop their heads in sorrow. The Queen rises to make supplication for her court, her fiery spirit melts the heart of Jack Frost, who recedes while they resume their gaudies. When the hour grows late Queen Rose summons her chorus which bids them to sleep for their long season's rest.

 Cast of characters for this interesting flower play is as follows: Rose, Queen of the Flowers, Nancy Merle Rubottom; Herald, Charles Neal McIntosh; Rose Chorus, Daniel Baker Choral Club; Rose Maidens, Mary Kathryn Stalcup, Maxine Shaw, Dorothy Jean Gibbs, Mary Elizabeth Arvin, Lily B. Landua, Dorothy Lindsey, Lucile Depriest, Ethelne Lindsey, Frances Galloway, Patty Ruth Terry and Peggy Marie Woodward. In addition to these there will be many little girls dressed as flowers, representing almost every variety of flowers.

Friday's Program
 Friday, the second day of the annual flower festival, will be featured by two programs, one in the afternoon and the other at night. C. E. Papworth, landscape artist, of Fort Worth, will lecture on garden and flower culture at 3:00 o'clock Friday afternoon. This talk will be followed by a talk on "Table Decorations," by Mrs. W. D. Armstrong. The program Friday night will feature the Senior and Junior High School Glee Clubs, also a male quartette, comprised of Steve Heather, Dumber Fisher, Ray Johnson and Roland Curry. Edward Thompson of Senior High will be presented in a saxophone solo and Grace Hardy of the Senior High

Glee Club will favor with a vocal solo. Following the Junior High Glee Club, Mr. Summer of Junior High will offer a tight wire walking exhibition. This will be followed by several numbers by the male quartette.
THELMA YOUNG
 Thelma Young, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Young of San Saba, died at a local hospital at 9:00 a. m. Thursday after a last minute operation in an attempt to save her life, following a case of diphtheria. The body was taken in charge by the Austin-Morris Company, undertakers, and will be taken to San Saba for burial by the family Thursday evening.

M'Keown Leads in Oklahoma District

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Tom D. McKeown, Democratic congressman from the 4th Oklahoma district, today assumed a lead of more than 1,000 votes over Fred L. Patrick of Sapulpa, Republican, when complete official returns were received from several counties. On the face of unofficial returns he had been trailing Patrick slightly. The county was being held up in two counties of the district by injunctions. Twenty-two precincts from Hughes county had not been reported this morning and 16 precincts were missing from Seminole county. Patrick was reported unofficially to have a lead of approximately 600 in Seminole county and McKeown's reported lead in Hughes county was about 1,000. In 392 of the district's 430 precincts, McKeown had 53,077 votes, Patrick 51,998.

Twelve persons were killed in an explosion which wrecked the shoe plant of the Preble Box Toe Company in East Lynn today.

The building was enveloped in flames. Estimate of the dead was made by police officers.

Of the twelve bodies recovered up to 9 a. m. four were of occupants of a dwelling close to the factory—a mother and three of her eight children. The others were believed to be those of unidentified factory employees.

The woman killed was Mrs. Harry Blaney. She and her husband with their children were at the breakfast table when the explosion came. Instantly a sheet of flame leaped from the factory twenty feet to their home, bursting through a window and enveloping the family.

Mrs. Blaney and three of the children were burned and smothered to death. The others in the family escaped with comparatively minor injuries.

At least twenty persons were injured. There was a series of explosions in a celluloid mixture used in the manufacture of box toes for shoes.

The first came at about 7:35 o'clock. Half a minute later there was another and later there were two or three more minor explosions.

One end of the one-story concrete block building was blown out and two bodies were hurled into the street with it. The flames which followed the explosions scorched many nearby buildings and the heat and the force of the explosions broke a large number of windows.

The factory adjoined a district largely made up of two-family frame dwellings. Occupants of these homes in many cases were shaken from their beds.

The entire fire department was called to the scene. What caused the first explosion had not been determined. In the confusion no one could be found who knew just how many persons were employed in the factory.

FIGHTS LOOM AS AFTERMATH OF ELECTION

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 8.—(P)—Opposing factions of both political parties in Texas, well warmed to their work by the campaign which closed Tuesday, caught their second winds today and refused to recognize Tuesday's election as an artistic.

In Hidalgo county, where the Democratic party was opposed by the citizens-Republican ticket, also known as the "independents," made up of both Democrats and Republicans, the excitement attendant upon tabulation of the vote continued. Reports this morning said that the "independent" faction had wired Governor Moody asking that martial law be declared in the county. State rangers already are in the county. It was said that a meeting of the "independents" would be held in McAllen sometime today to consider a proposal to contest the election upon grounds of alleged irregularities in McAllen and Mercedes.

The independent faction of the county recently sent 2,000 telegrams to President Coolidge asking Federal supervision of the election and that night threatened to deluge the White House again because of dissatisfaction with methods used by election officials.

Further Fight Looms

In the meantime the wounds which the campaign opened in the Democratic party, traditional ruler of the state, festered instead of healing in the post-campaign relaxation.

Leaders of the bolters, who have apparently thrown the state to the Republican column in national affairs for the first time in history, demanded the resignation of regular party leaders who, they charged, are "tainted with Tammany." The regulars replied that bolters would never run the affairs of the Democratic party in Texas and declared that they would rather lose with Democrats than win with Republicans.

Judge B. D. Sartin of Wichita Falls, an anti-Smith leader, announced that the machinery which was set up to oppose Smith would not be scrapped, but would be maintained to purge the party of "Tammanyism." Former Governor O. B. Colquitt demanded that D. W. Wilcox of Georgetown, chairman of the state executive committee resign. Wilcox before the election threatened to bar all bolters from the next party primary. Senator V. A. Collins of Dallas not only attacked Wilcox, but declared that Governor Moody and Senator Morris Sheppard, author of the eighteenth amendment should be called upon to explain their failure to oppose Governor Smith. These sentiments were echoed in a meeting at Fort Worth and in statements issued by bolters at other points in the state.

No Olive Branch

Statements from the camp of the regulars were no more conciliatory than those from the revolutionists. W. A. Thomas, state Democratic campaign manager predicted that the issues of prohibition and religious tolerance "will be carried into campaigns in Texas for years to come." He said that the fight had just begun and that these issues "are sure to keep the party split."

Jed Adams, Democratic national committeeman refused to make any olive branch gesture. "Bolters will not take charge of the machinery of the party," he said. "They may stay with the Republicans, or form a party of their own, but they will not run the Democratic party in Texas."

State Senator Thomas B. Love, in commenting on the plan to continue the anti-Smith organization, declared that "the brass collar had been smashed in Texas," that prohibition and Tammanyism were dead issues and that his organization was retaining its machinery to "put real issues before the people."

The regular leaders were not so confident that Smith would win the state as they had been, but Thomas refused to concede the state to Hoover. The latter was leading 328,556 to 310,075 on the latest tabulation which included 250 of the 253 counties, 43 of them complete.

Man Shot After Being Arrested

PAMPA, Tex., Nov. 8.—(P)—Shortly after he had been placed under arrest for an altercation in his restaurant, "Blackie" Lander was shot and severely wounded here today.

Lander drew a pistol just before he was shot, witnesses said.

Named From Indian Tribe

The state of Utah was named for the tribe of Ute or Utah Indians.

Although the state's electoral vote threatened to swing to the Republican column for the first time in history, one of the state's real curiosities, a Republican congressman, having a terrific battle for reelection, Harry M. Wurzbach, who has been noted as the only Republican congressman from Texas, had an unofficial lead of 287 votes over his Democratic opponent, Judge Augustus McCloskey of San Antonio. Newspaper tabulations gave Wurzbach 28,808 and McCloskey 28,601 on practically complete returns.

Election Was a Pro Referendum Says Committee

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—(P)—The woman's national committee for law enforcement comprising ten national women's organizations gave out the following statement today through its president, Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Massachusetts:

"The election of Herbert Hoover is the answer to the cry for a referendum on the 18th amendment. The voters have declared they want more, not less, prohibition—more, not less, enforcement of the 18th amendment."

HOOVER ADMITS SIZE OF LEAD IS A SURPRISE

BY JAMES L. WEST
Associated Press Staff Writer
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Nov. 8.—(AP)—This was the first of a series of days of complete rest which Herbert Hoover has prescribed for himself after the strain through which he has passed in winning the presidency.
He has decided to spend the remainder of the week with his family at his home at San Juan Hill, his mind free not alone from the multitude of problems which must engage his attention before March 4, but also from details of his personal plans before inauguration day.
The president-elect is surprised at the size of the electoral majority which the country gave him in Tuesday's record-breaking election, and he frankly said so at a conference with newspapermen. Despite the unprecedented total of votes in the electoral college which the country gave him, Hoover has no feeling of victory or exultation, he stated in his first message to the American people as president-elect.
Solemn Responsibility
He feels that there has been imposed a sense of solemn responsibility of the future, and of complete dependence upon divine guidance for the task which the greatest office in the world imposes.
"That task is to give the best within me to interpret the common sense and the ideals of the American people," said Hoover. "I can only succeed in my part by the cooperation and unity of spirit of the leaders of opinion and of action, for the common service of our country."
The president-elect had no comment to make in his talk with the newspapermen as to what he might consider to be the effect of the driving of a wide wedge into the solid Democratic South in the capturing of Virginia, North Carolina, Florida and Texas.
However, the unexpected result in that section naturally was gratifying to him, and in expressing his gratitude for the "overwhelming confidence" of the country, he referred to the fact that his selection has been "without regard to section or interest."
No Detailed Plans
While the president-elect has decided upon no details of specific plans for the future, he has stated emphatically that his induction into office will be attended by a simplicity equal to that of any inauguration that has been held.
Hoover is expected to remain in California for several weeks before turning eastward again for Washington, where he plans to spend the Christmas holidays.
After his period of rest and recreation he will give attention not only to the selection of the members of his cabinet but also to the executive program which he will present to congress, the focal point of which will be farm relief, which he regards as the greatest economic problem before the country.

89th BOMB OF THE YEAR IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Politics roared in the 13th ward today when a bomb wrecked the front of the Thompson-Crowe Republican headquarters on Wentworth avenue. It was the 89th bomb of the year in Chicago.
Ernest Geissler, who has a real estate office in the same building, suggested that police talk to Hugh Norris, ward committeeman and ward leader for the Thompson-State's Attorney Crowe faction of the Republican party.
Norris said he did not know who threw the bomb. He recalled, however, that the courts are still attempting to determine whether he or John Dingbat Oberha was elected committeeman last April.

PEACE NOT UNATTAINABLE

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 8.—(AP)—The yearning and striving of enlightened nations for peace is not realistic or unattainable, but it will take time for the world to adjust itself and conform to institutions of peace and abandon the resort to war in the settlement of disputes, Congressman Clayborne Briggs of Galveston, told the Texas Daughters of the American Revolution, assembled in 25th annual convention, here last night.
Congressman Briggs was the principal speaker at the "Historical Evening" of the convention, at which the program included a discussion of the modern desire to foster a plan for world peace, and an explanation of the achievements and history of the national and Texas societies of the organization by Mrs. O. E. Baker, state historian, and a history of the George Washington chapter of Galveston, the oldest in the state, by Mrs. C. A. Vedder, chapter historian.
Sessions were resumed this morning. The following resolutions committee was appointed: Mrs. E. H. Beall, Fort Worth, Mrs. J. F. Duff, Beaumont, Mrs. Mary Hunt Affleck, Brehman, and Mrs. William Howell, Bryan.

Robinson Goes on Hunting Trip with Party of Friends

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Rest and recreation among a party of friends on a hunting trip in southeast Arkansas was the method Senator Joe T. Robinson, Democratic vice-presidential candidate, was using today for restoring the energies he had forced into a campaign he had waged for the Democratic party over 25,000 miles of travel in thirty states.
Except to wire congratulations to his victorious opponents, President-elect Hoover and his long time friend and colleague, Senator Curtis, vice-president-elect, Senator Robinson has made no comment on the election.

Judge Emil Fuchs to Manage Braves

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—(P)—Judge Emil E. Fuchs, who was a New York city magistrate before he became president of the Boston Braves, has returned to the bench—in the National League.

After selling Rogers Hornsby, his last season's manager and the leading batsman in the National League, to the Chicago Cubs for five ball players and some cash, the judge, who received his early baseball training on New York sandlots, was prevailed upon by his associates to become a managing owner.

The Hornsby trade, rumors of which had been circulating since the world series, failed to excite Boston's baseball public much but Judge Fuchs' statement that he intended to run the Braves ball club on and off the field was received with amazement.

After announcing that he had engaged Johnny Evers, who helped to bring a world's championship to Boston in 1914 when he was captain of the Braves, as his chief assistant, Judge Fuchs expressed the hope that Evers would inspire the team with his aggressive and hustling spirit.

FORTUNES OF FISTIC GAME ARE SAGGING

BY ALAN J. GOULD, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(P)—Talk of Jack Dempsey returning to the ring seems to most observers to be inspired largely by efforts to brace up the sagging fortunes of the fistic game.

They have sagged, especially from the box office viewpoint, this year to a marked degree by comparison with the heydays of the era that started in 1923. That was the year Dempsey and Firpo fought their memorable battle at the Polo Grounds.

By a strange, if not ominous coincidence, Firpo also figures in the come-back talk. It would be an odd turn of circumstance if both the Argentine bull and the old Manassa Mauler climbed back through the ropes next year. It probably also would furnish an odder comparison with their fighting powers of 1923.

Would Stimulate Interest

There appears little question, on the other hand that Dempsey's return to the ring would stimulate lagging interest in the heavyweights. No new figures have come along to capture popular imagination as the former champion did. The ring-around-the-Rosey appears to be on again in much the same fashion it has been going on for the past few indoor campaigns.

It is no secret that Tex Rickard would have much preferred last summer to have staged a "third" and final Tunney-Dempsey fight than the Tunney-Heeney match that proved a financial as well as artistic flop.

So long as Dempsey is around the borders of the "racket" there will be insistence that he take "one more" fling. It is a business proposition and the punch is the main factor involved. It disregards entirely the fact that two additional years of idleness will take just that much more toll of Jack's other old ring assets—speed and stamina. These waned rapidly after the one big shot in Chicago in the seventh round.

Dempsey says he won't fight again and he may mean it. But it is just as well to note that if he said anything else now the winter's ballyhoo would be sadly handicapped. Come-backs always start in the winter. Whether they actually bloom in the spring is something else to guess about.

Promising Welters

Just when things look a trifle dull in the ring racket, however, some fist usually bobs up in the west to administer a few resounding wallops.

In recent years K. O. Eddie Roberts and Jimmy McLarnin, the baby faced kid, have come east in answer to promoters' prayers for "gate" attractions—otherwise known as boys with a sock. Now Jackie Fields is in the limelight and apparently headed for the welterweight title if he can get Joe Dundee, the champion, into the ring with him. Fields has the punch that made Roberts and McLarnin stand out.

Curtis Ready to Resume Senatorial Work in Washington

ABOARD SENATOR CURTIS TRAIN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(P)—Returning as vice-president-elect to the capital where he began his governmental career 35 years ago as a representative, Senator Charles Curtis was ready today to plunge into the mess of business that has accumulated during his three months of campaigning in behalf of the Republican ticket.

There was little of the triumphant march in the senator's quiet return. His passage was not generally known and he succeeded in escaping the attention of the groups that collected at a few of the stations en route.

Handfuls of congratulatory telegrams from his friends overtook Mr. Curtis and he spent the early part of last evening reading them, scanning newspaper reports of Republican inroads into the two houses of congress and occasionally chatting with fellow passengers. To one of these, who inquired his opinion of the chances for farm legislation at the short session of congress, he replied that such legislation would be possible if agricultural leaders of both parties would address themselves to the writing of a measure free of partisan color.

CHEVROLET

to serve Chevrolet owners better

SINCE January 1st more than a million new Chevrolets have been delivered to owners—making the Chevrolet Motor Company, for the second consecutive year, the world's largest builder of automobiles! This outstanding achievement has been attained not only because of the quality and value of Chevrolet cars—but also because there has been a constant expansion of Chevrolet service facilities.

In order to bring the mammoth resources of the Chevrolet factories to Chevrolet dealers and owners everywhere, there have been erected 26 huge parts warehouses in the principal centers of distribution. This expansion program is continually going on—for four great additional warehouses will be in operation by January first and seven more by the summer of 1929.

Into the service departments of all Chevrolet dealers, Chevrolet has brought special tools and shop equipment—designed under the supervision of Chevrolet engineers. This equipment definitely assures maximum speed and precision and the lowest possible cost in the performance of every service and repair operation—which are charged for on a flat rate basis.

Furthermore, all of these tremendous facilities have been made available to 15,000 authorized service stations manned by skilled mechanics—over 25,000 of whom have been factory trained to efficiently handle every repair operation on a Chevrolet car.

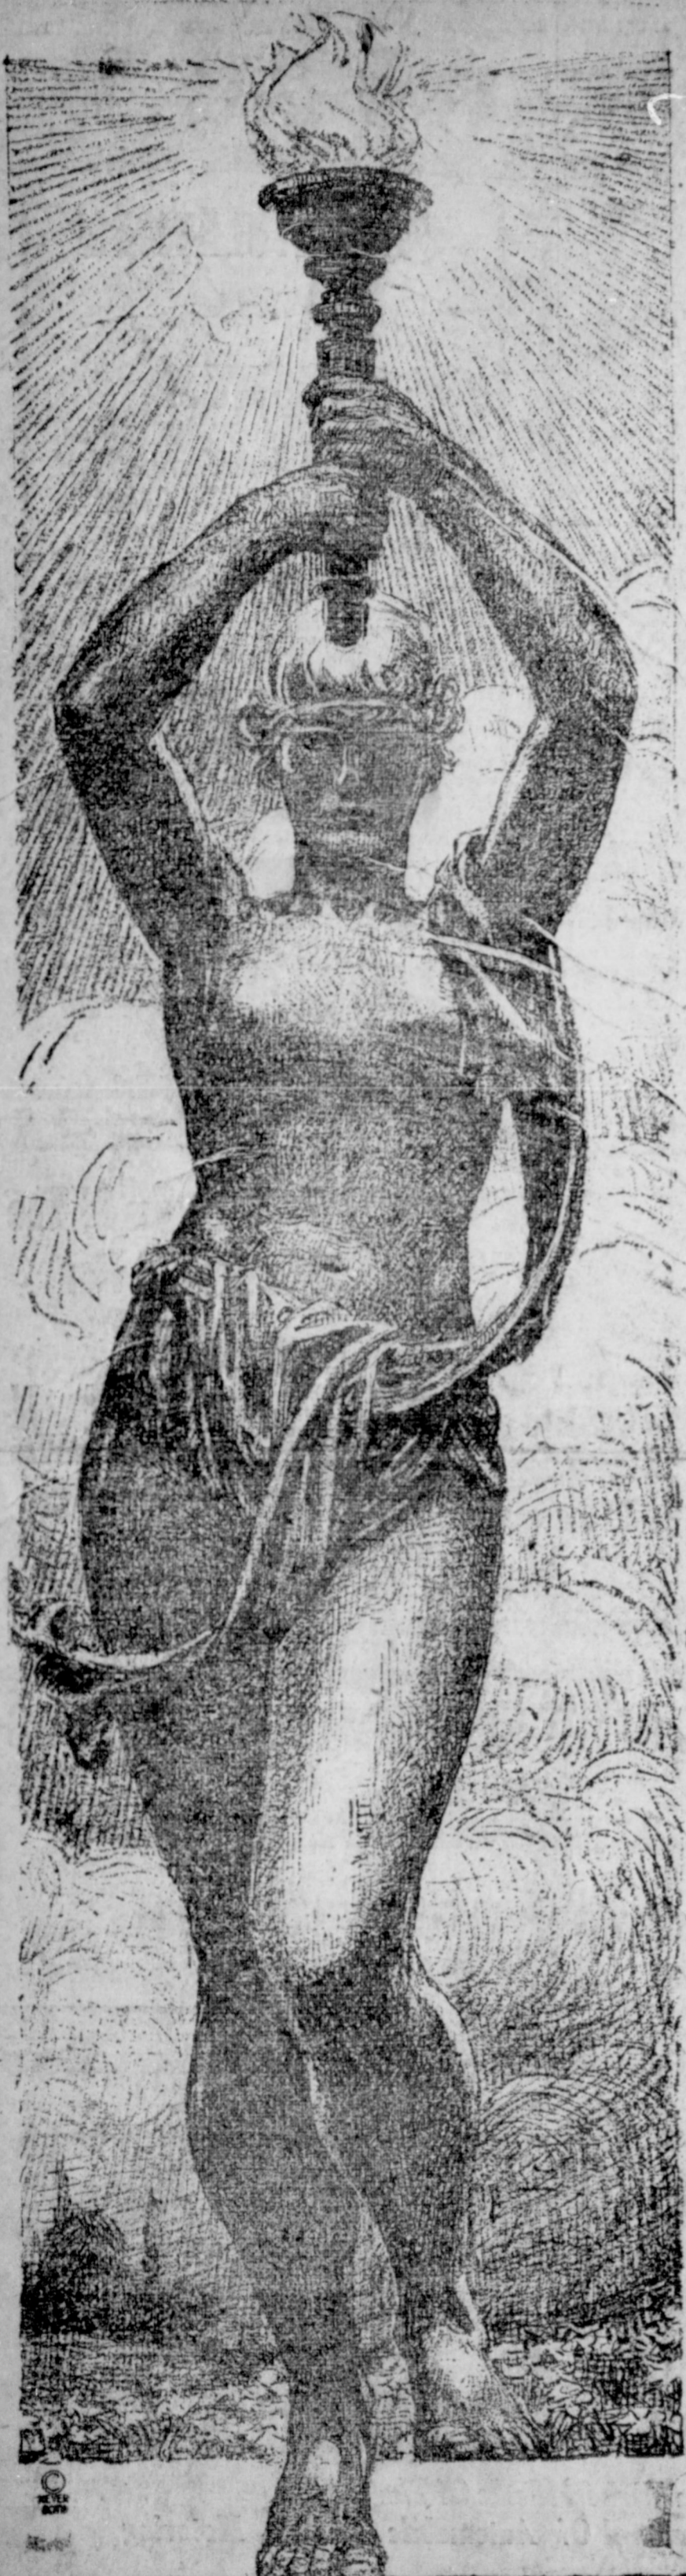

Uniformly efficient, uniformly reliable and within easy reach of everybody everywhere—this great service organization is assuring continued satisfaction to millions of Chevrolet owners. It is maintaining at peak efficiency the fine performance for which Chevrolet cars have always been renowned. And it is giving a new and broader significance to the world-famous Chevrolet slogan—"Quality at Low Cost."

We cordially invite you to come in and see how our service department reflects the influence of this great national service program.

We Will Celebrate This Memorial Day

"... THE TORCH . BE YOURS TO HOLD IT HIGH.
IF YE BREAK FAITH WITH US WHO DIE
WE SHALL NOT SLEEP, THOUGH POPPIES GROW IN FLANDERS FIELDS."
—Col. John C. McRae.

ARMISTICE DAY!

Break faith we shall not! Holding high the sacred torch—the torch of heaven-sent liberty—we shall "carry on." We shall value it as we value an Eternal Principle.

Americans we are, all of us; the very name holds in it something high and noble: The uncompromising integrity of a Washington; the trenchant wisdom of a Franklin; the humane charity of a Lincoln, fused by that firm adherence to Justice and Freedom which has earned our nation the respect and gratitude of the Hearts of the World.

Break faith we shall not! Loyalty to the community, loyalty to the country, loyalty to an ideal sternly beckon us onward and upward, ever bearing aloft the Torch whose flame shall be immortal. Not all of us can be statesmen, not all of us can be heroes. But ALL of us—every one—can be true Americans, worthy citizens of the greatest commonwealth that dwells in the memory of Mankind.

Break faith we shall not! Is not the onward path clearly marked? Honest endeavors, industrious efforts, scrupulous faith to the duties of good citizenship—these alone can qualify us to receive the Torch from the hands of heroes in Flanders fields.

ORGANIZATION IS COMPLETED BY RED CROSS

The complete reorganization of the Brown County chapter of the American Red Cross was effected at a meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce Friday night, director chosen, officers elected and committees appointed. S. A. Shaw, field director of the national organization, was present and aided in the work of bringing this chapter to a basis where it can be of service in time of need. Mr. Shaw brought the fact of 5,000,000 members being needed in the United States, with 800 as this county's quota. This membership is obtained by the use of the annual roll call which occurs on some date between Armistice and Thanksgiving days.

H. Glidden Wilson, D. D. McInroe, Hilton Burks, Gus J. Rosenberg, John T. Verlin, Jack Brunberg, Miss Carrie Reaves, Mrs. J. W. Tottenham, Mrs. A. V. Fitzgerald and John W. Shockley were chosen as a board of directors for the county organization; Mr. Wilson being elected county chairman, Mr. McInroe as vice-chairman, and Mr. Burks, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Verlin was given the chairmanship of the twelfth annual roll call, which he will hold on some date between Nov. 11 and 29, on which date his committee will attempt to obtain the 800 members in the county, the figure set as the Brown County quota. The home service activities committee will be headed by Mr. Rosenberg, and Mr. Brunberg was made chairman of the first aid and life saving committee.

INDIAN CREEK GIRL WRITES OF FAIR TRIP

A trip to the State Fair of Texas by her work is an event in the life of a young girl. Ina Gene DeHay of the Indian Creek Girls' Club was one of several who had her expenses paid by the local Chamber of Commerce this year and who attended the fair this season. Following is her account of her experiences:

Miss Mayesie Malone, home demonstration agent, received Monday a check for Miss DeHay from the State Fair of Texas for eight dollars, representing her three awards when she won first in the state with her club cap, first with club apron, and second with her club record.

"This is my first year to be in the club. I finished all of my required club work and won nine prizes at the county fair and a free trip to the Dallas fair.

"We left Brownwood Sunday night, the 14th of October, and arrived in Dallas Monday morning about 9 o'clock. As soon as we got off the train we went to a cafe for breakfast, then we took the street car to the Fair Park. As soon as we got to the camp we had to register, then we were given our rooms. Monday evening we looked at some of the live stock exhibits.

"Tuesday morning we saw the poultry exhibits and the things from all of the girls clubs and Tuesday evening we went to town and went through the Baker Hotel and Neiman Marcus Dry Goods Store. We also went on top of the Magnolia building and took a bird's eye view of the city. The Magnolia building is 29 stories high.

"Tuesday night we went to the Fair Park Auditorium to see a show entitled, 'The Desert Song.'

"Wednesday we went through the Art building, the Alamo, and saw the races. Wednesday night we saw the fireworks in the Fair Park in front of the grandstand.

"Thursday morning we went through the fish hatchery and that evening we went to the carnival.

"I wish to say I had the best time of my life and I thank the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce for awarding these free trips.

"I also wish to thank the State Fair Association for the entertainments while in Dallas.

ZEPHYR YOUTH TELLS OF HIS TRIP TO FAIR

The trip to the State Fair of Texas for the boys and girls of the agricultural clubs, all expenses paid, in recognition of their work during the past year, is quite an event in their lives.

Merrill Lea of the Zephyr Boys' Club was one of the boys who proudly made the trip this season, and his version of the time he had in Dallas is contained in the following:

This is my first year as a member of the Boys' Club. Mr. Griffith organized a club here and I entered with corn and pigs. We met at the school house and elected our officers: Carpenter Jones, President, Merrill Lea, Secretary. Our meeting date was the Wednesday after the first Monday in each month. In our county club the officers elected were J. D. Rogers, President; Anson Aden, Secretary. I attended all the meetings and also the county encampment.

Club Buttons Important Monday, the 8th of October, we went to the Chamber of Commerce and received our tickets to the State Fair. That night we left on the State night Frisco train. We arrived at the Union Station in Dallas where Mr. Griffin met us and took us to Fair Park. We then went to the Boys' Encampment, received our buttons and were assigned our rooms. We were given buttons to tell we were club boys and if we lost these we were not given any more eats.

The first evening we were taken to the Majestic Theater. There we saw a fine picture, 'Frazz' and a vaudeville. That night we saw fireworks in front of the grand stand.

In the exhibit hall there were many interesting things. Brown county had an excellent exhibit.

The second morning at breakfast we took collection to buy Mr. Evans, our State Club leader, a gift. There were $65 collected and he was given a very fine shotgun.

That afternoon we all went to the horse races. Then later we went to the Fair Park Auditorium and saw 'The Desert Song.' It was very beautiful.

The next day we were free to go where we pleased. Some of us saw the livestock judging in the morning. We learned some very interesting things about stock judging, and saw some very fine livestock.

That evening we checked out and went to the station. We got on the 9:15 train for Fort Worth. We stayed in Fort Worth twenty minutes, and the next morning we arrived in Brownwood.

I think that anyone who receives a trip will surely get paid off the work he has done.

I want to give my thanks to the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce for buying my ticket, the State Fair Association for their accommodations, and the A. & M. College for taking such good care of us while there.

MERRILL LEA, Zephyr, Texas.

CHAPEL HILL SCHOOL SMALLEST IN COUNTY WITH A TEACHERAGE

The Chapel Hill school of two teachers is unique as a small county school in two ways, according to J. Oscar Swindle, county superintendent. It is the smallest school, he said, which has a teacherage, a home built by district school money on the school grounds for the use of the teachers. Just recently a three room sleeping porch bungalow was finished by the trustees and is being occupied by Principal Floyd S. Eoff and his wife.

This method of housing teachers, Mr. Swindle said enables the school trustees to have someone on the grounds to take care of school property to better advantage.

The other bid for recognition by this school, which is situated about five miles southwest of Brownwood, is the fact that it is the only two teacher school in the county which expects to run a full nine month term.

Women's Club Council To Discuss Club Market

A council of women, composed of the president and one delegate from each of the sixteen women's clubs in the county under the supervision of Miss Mayesie Malone, will meet this afternoon in the District Court room to take up and finish the plans for the club market to be held in December.

At this market the women will have on sale farm products and hand work, including such items as rugs, canned goods, baskets, dressed poultry and farm produce. The club market is usually a few days prior to Christmas.

The council will also discuss the finishing on the compilation of the club's year book, which will be published soon by the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce.

INTEREST IN PECAN INSTITUTE GROWING AS LETTERS INDICATE

An indication of the awakening of interest in pecan development in West Texas is found in a letter received by the pecan committee of the Pecan Institute to be held in Brownwood on November 14th, from Colonel P. L. Downs of Temple, who is to speak at the Institute on "The Need for a Pecan Experiment Station." Colonel Downs writes in part:

"I have to be here on the 14th for the regular luncheon of the Lions Club. On this occasion instead of having our usual luncheon at the Doering Hotel, the club members will drive down to the farm of L. B. Maples, where he has a native pecan orchard of about 100 acres. As a member of the program committee for that day, we have arranged to have a barbecue and be the guests of Lion Maples in order to see what his pecan grove has done in the matter of development through the budding and grafting of the native trees, as well as the planting of nursery trees, and boosting the planting of pecan trees for shade as well as orchard purposes."

The number of responses to invitations sent out to pecan growers and bankers of West Texas to attend the meeting indicate that a large number of interested people will be here for the Pecan Institute.

Charles B. Metcalfe of San Angelo, an extensive breeder of purebred cattle and sheep, has accepted an invitation to address the Pecan Institute here on the morning of Nov. 15th, on "The Pecan Needs of West Texas." Mr. Metcalfe has a large amount of native pecan timber and has spent more than $5,000 within the past year top working trees. He is one of the increasing number of Texas citizens who realize the great benefit to this state that will come from developing a standardized pecan industry.

DON LANFORD, BLANKET CLUB BOY, TO GO TO CHICAGO STOCK SHOW

Official announcement of the winning of the trip to Chicago Dec. 1st, was made in a letter to the county agricultural agent's office by the Santa Fe, the trip to be given to Don Lanford, 14, of the Boys' Club at Blanket.

Young Lanford on his record in his club is the only one from this county who is going with all expenses paid, to the International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show held at Chicago December 1st to 8th.

The young man won a trip to the State Fair of Texas this year but as he also won this Chicago trip he elected to go to the live stock show in preference. All his expenses will be paid by the Santa Fe.

LEGIONNAIRES

It is almost impossible for us to express our gratitude or in any manner pay a fitting tribute to those of our boys who survived the great World War.

And to those valiant lads who sleep in Flander's Field—nothing that could be done or said would approach atonement for their supreme sacrifice, made that we might live and enjoy the liberty purchased with their blood.

May the kindly providence that led us to victory—guide us that we may keep faith with those fallen HEROES.

BULLETIN GIVES ELECTION NEWS TO BIG CROWD

Coming and going all evening from six p. m. to eleven o'clock a crowd variously estimated from two to three thousand people attended the Bulletin party at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall Tuesday night. The latest election returns, most of them put on slides and shown on the screen and the rest read to the crowd by members of the Bulletin staff, eagerly absorbed by those present.

There was very little excitement what cheering was done seemingly was divided equally between the two sides. Most of the people were too busy with paper and pencil adding and checking results to bother with expressing their feelings over the results. Most of the checking was being done on the Brown county returns, as they were given to the public one box after another would give a slight majority for Hoover and then a slight one for Smith.

Small knots of men gathered in various portions of the building, each intent on some phase of the election, making predictions and then changing them as new results were brought before them.

Service on the returns were secured through the Associated Press which sent national news over the two automatic telegraph printers in the Bulletin editorial office; news of how the election was going in Texas was furnished by W. U. wire direct from the Texas Election Bureau at Dallas; and city and county news was obtained by telephones in the Bulletin office. All this information was tabulated, digested and edited, and the most interesting of the results were put on slides and sent to the auditorium, some of it being read.

SMITH WINS IN OLD BAY STATE

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith won the state of Massachusetts by a plurality of more than 22,000 over Herbert Hoover.

With fifty precincts missing out of 1,805, Smith's total vote was 765,985, Hoover's 743,499.

The Democratic candidate's victory was insured by a wide margin in the city of Boston, where he polled 186,651 votes to 86,429, with one Boston precinct missing.

Senator David I. Walsh was re-elected over B. Loring Young by a plurality of more than 120,000. Figures from the same number of precincts showed a total for Walsh of 786,975 and for Young 666,742.

Smith Winner In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith carried this city by a small margin. Complete returns from the city's 1,093 precincts today gave Smith 95,925; Hoover 93,285.

SYNOPSIS

Molly Shannon, university student, has recovered at the home of the Cochran, where Gregory Cochran, bachelor lawyer, had taken her after rescuing her from the river. Molly had been driven desperate by the treachery of Stephen Renfro, efficiency expert, who deserted her and married the money Miss Inez Cochran has introduced Molly to his mother, who is proud and aristocratic, and not too well pleased to have the girl in her house.

Mrs. Parker was like a game little rat, hopelessly cornered, but with lots of fight left in her. "Well, you know, Stephen Renfro he was always at me—wantin' to lend me money for you. . . . He knew how bad you needed it. . . ."

"Oh. . . ." Molly turned with a violent movement and walked over to the door which opened on the back yard. After a considerable silence she said, "It was he, then, who gave me the money for these. . . ." She indicated without looking at them the suit, shoes, hat she was wearing. They were the only respectable ones she had.

"Well," the straight fair god-mother admitted unwillingly, "it began the time your father died. I didn't have a red cent, and you had to go. . . ."

"That too. . . ." Presently Molly faced round and came toward the cook table. "Don't think I blame you," she said quietly. "I know you only did what you thought was best for me. But—I've got to plan some way to return that money. I'll be going now. . . ."

In her room at the dormitory she tore the clothes off and flung them intolerantly from her. They were no longer new.

Seventy-five dollars. . . . For all her resources to pay, the sum might as well have been that many thousands. The fifteen dollars she had offered Mrs. Parker meant going without a badly needed raincoat and the sacrifice of some of her most precious books. There was not another book that could be sold, not a cent to be squeezed from anywhere.

Her scholarship covered merely the necessities; the little that she was able to pick up from coaching went to her mother. She had never owned a piece of jewelry in her life. Yes, somehow Stephen Renfro must be paid. . . .

Sitting in her underthings on the edge of the bed, she looked up and caught her reflection in the mirror opposite. Was there anything of her very eyes that she might sell? She leaned closer to the mirror and scrutinized herself attentively. Her teeth were sound, white—lawless as Stephen had often said. Fantine in Les Miserables had sold hers, but that was a long time ago. They couldn't have had false ones then. . . .

The obvious asset, of course, was her hair. She took out the pins and let it slip, a shining blue-black veil far below her waist. It was very thick and slightly curling at the tips. Perhaps they would buy that. She twisted it up again hurriedly, from the closet a frock long since relegated to second best, pinned on a sailor, almost as old as her own career at the university, and went out.

There were less than half a dozen hairdressing establishments in the town, and at every place it was the same story—repeated with either a condescending or a pitying smile for her incredible ignorance. Hair was not being worn. It had gone out of style—this with a supercilious glance which intimated how hopelessly out of the mode Molly herself was. What little hair was used, peasants in Europe furnished at a few cents per pound.

But—surely they would give her something for it, she insisted desparingly at the last place. The proprietor shook his head, while he eyed her curiously upon and down. No, it wouldn't pay them to bother with a single switch, not even if she gave it to them. Her hair was quite worthless to everybody except—possibly herself! But as she was going away, absolutely crushed, an elaborately coiffed blond head was thrust out of a cubbyhole. Its owner looked once at Molly, twice at her hair, and beckoned to the man. It seemed there was by the merest coincidence a customer who wanted that color—Molly's hair! leaved. How much would they give her for it, she asked eagerly.

"Oh, by stretching a point, maybe as much as ten dollars. The man made an impressive gesture. "Ten dollars. . . ." she echoed in a small, stunned voice. He shrugged. She could take it or leave it. They were only anxious to accommodate her.

Do you think he would pay as much as fifty-one dollars? The girl stared even more curiously than the proprietors of the hairdressing places had done. Her stare took in the shabby dress, the clipped hair, the ancient sailor. "I don't know," she said, moving away rather doubtfully. "I'll ask Doctor Forrester. . . ."

Directly, a young and pleasant-faced doctor appeared. He gave Molly a brisk, businesslike once-over, which registered also the short hair, the old dress and sailor—and something besides. "Come in here." He opened the door into an inner office.

He motioned her to a chair and sat down opposite—at his desk. "You don't look as if you had any more blood than you need yourself," was his blunt comment, after a second and keener inspection. "I need the money worse," she said simply. "Do you think they will pay as much as fifty-one dollars?"

"Well, one can hardly put a price on that sort of thing. . . ." He shifted a little at the desk to get a better angle. "In fact, it's not usual to pay for such services at all, but—this patient happens to be a man of means. He wishes to offer me a compensation. I can't say precisely how much. . . ."

"Anything less than fifty-one dollars won't do me any good." Molly spoke not less bluntly than he had done a moment earlier. "Fifty-one dollars. Hum—!—that's quite a lot, you know." He gave her another intent glance. "Just a minute—I'll see. . . ."

Before Molly slept that night a money order, with the briefest of lines in Mrs. Parker's handwriting was dispatched to one Mr. Stephen Renfro at an address in New York City.

RESULTS IN OKLAHOMA SHOW MUCH CROSSING OF THE PARTY LINES

B HARVEY L. SCANDRETT Associated Press Correspondent OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Emerging today from a wild orgy of ballot scratching that gave Herbert Hoover the state's presidential vote by a plurality far surpassing that of the Harding landslide of 1920, when it gave its first Republican national majority, Oklahoma poked about the debris to rescue the Democratic congressional and state survivors.

Early this morning, Hoover's lead over Governor Alfred E. Smith in Oklahoma had passed 132,000, with 2,439 of the 3,292 precincts reported. The vote at that stage was 360,049 for Hoover and 167,237 for Smith.

Neither United States Senator was up for re-election this year. State races showed marked results of the voters' column crossing spree. Fred P. Branson, Democratic chief justice of the State Supreme Court, was more than 58,000 votes behind Thomas G. Andrews, his Democratic opponent, when more than half of the state's vote on that race had been counted.

Another Democratic Justice of the Supreme Court, John B. Harrison, was more than 20,000 votes behind his Republican competitor, Charles Swindall. The third Democratic Justice up for re-election, J. I. Peips, was nearly 8,000 votes ahead of his Republican opponent, James B. Cullison.

Justice Branson has been the target of numerous newspaper attacks on his judicial demeanor. He was the author of an opinion which dispersed the attempted impeachment session of the Legislature last winter after it had voted charges against himself, Governor Henry S. Johnston and Harry B. Cordell, president of the state board of agriculture.

The ranks of the legislative leaders who styled themselves the "Four Horsemen," apparently were doomed to further depletion. E. P. Hill, veteran legislator and one of the four, was defeated for renomination in the August primary. Robert C. Graham of Oklahoma county and Tom Johnson of Pushmataha county, also of the quartet, were running behind Republican competitors with counting nearly complete. Only H. Tom Knight of Rogers county had a comfortable lead over his Republican opposition. The four were the prime leaders of the abortive legislative session.

Five Democrats In Oklahoma Go Back To Congress

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Five of Oklahoma's seven Democratic congressmen, seeking re-election, appeared on the face of incomplete returns today to have safely weathered the Hoover landslide which swept the state into the Republican presidential column.

Two Democratic incumbents were trailing their Republican opponents, F. B. Swank, in the fifth district was being led by U. S. Stone, Republican of Oklahoma City, and E. B. Howard of Tulsa, was running far behind Charles O'Connor, Republican, also of Tulsa.

In the 8th district, M. C. Garber, Republican incumbent, was swept along on the flood of Republican votes and with only a few precincts missing, led his Democratic opponent, J. P. Battenberg, by 17,000 votes.

W. W. Hastings in the second district, Wilburn Cartwright, in the third, Tom D. McCown in the fourth, Jed Johnson in the sixth and Jim C. McClintic in the 7th all Democrats, had apparently been returned to congress.

From Tadpole to Frog

The bureau of fisheries says that the length of time that it takes a tadpole to become a full-grown frog depends entirely on the type of frog. For example, for a bullfrog about two years and for a tree frog anywhere from 50 to 90 days.

CITY COUNCIL IN EXECUTIVE MEET TUESDAY

Reports of city officers and the disposition of business of more or less minor importance, featured the regular meeting of City Council on Tuesday night which was held behind closed doors in executive session. Council voted to purchase a new Chevrolet touring car for the police department, the purchase being made from Abney & Bohannon, local agents for Chevrolets. The old car was traded in and a difference of $325 paid by the city.

Poultry Show

The city auditorium at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall was rented to the Brown County Poultry Association for the annual Winter Poultry Show, December 11-14, at a price of $10 per day.

Isham A. Smith Post of the American Legion was granted the use of the city auditorium Monday, Nov. 12th. City officials were asked by the Legion to lead the Armistice Day parade, Monday. The water report from the State Department of Health was presented Council Tuesday night. Dr. W. R. Sanderson, city health officer, reported that all complaints had been remedied.

Mayor P. C. McInnis, City Attorney R. E. Lee, City Engineer P. C. Ragsdale and City Manager H. V. Hennen were instructed by Council to meet with the Board of Directors of the Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1 at an early date.

Mayor P. C. McInnis was allowed $5 per week to help pay for stenographic help needed in handling the business of his office.

Council voted to sell a lot on Beaver Street to Clyde McIntosh for $150.

City Manager Reports

City Manager H. V. Hennen gave a brief report of work done during the month of October. His report stated that a large number of streets in the city had been graded and dragged, that part of Third Street and Park Avenue had been oiled and that many holes had been patched in these two streets. Mr. Hennen also reported that the new concrete dip on Austin Avenue would be open to the public Sunday.

Mr. Hennen reported that the feed crop from the city's land had been gathered and that all work stock are in good condition. The new sewer pumping plant has been almost completed and the sewer pump located near the causeway on West Baker had been put in good working order.

Mr. Hennen reported that 1000 pounds of pecans had been gathered and weighed from the city's land. Bert Hise, city sanitary inspector and fire marshal, reported to Council that 600 loads of trash had been hauled from the city during October and that a total of $750 had been collected for the disposition of dead cows, horses, sheep, etc. during the month.

Big Tree

The largest tree in the eastern hemisphere, if not in the world, is a monster chestnut standing at the foot of Mount Etna. The circumference of the main trunk at 60 feet from the ground is 212 feet.

OFFICERS OF CEMETERY ASSOCIATION MEETS TO MAKE PLANS FOR YEAR

Hoping to keep the growth and general appearance of Greenleaf Cemetery in keeping with that of the city, members of the board of directors of the cemetery association met in Judge E. T. Perkins' office Tuesday afternoon to discuss plans for improvements and to choose a nominating committee for officers to be voted upon this month.

Present at the meeting were: J. R. Looney, president; Mr. Perkins, secretary; Mrs. B. K. Hawkins, Mrs. R. L. McLaugh and Claude Weedon. The following were appointed on the nominating committee: Mrs. D. S. Camp, chairman; Mrs. J. L. Ellis; Miss Lucille Rice; John T. Yantis and W. W. McCullough. The election is to be held Tuesday, November 20, at the City Hall from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

A report of officers at the meeting Tuesday showed that an office and chapel had been built on the ground in addition to a better tool house the grounds made more beautiful and the water mains extended. Five men have been regularly employed. It is hoped by the officials that more members of the association can be obtained this coming year.

"That's Great" Is Curtis' Comment

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Clad in palamas vice-president elect Charles Curtis today stood in the doorway of the stateroom or his pullman car and received the congratulations of fellow passengers on his overwhelming victory in yesterday's general election.

"That's great," he said as a smile beamed over his face. Senator Curtis arrived here this morning from his home in Topeka, Kans., where he voted yesterday. Promptly at 6:30, a. m. the hour set by the Kansas statesman to arise, Sanford Jarrell, of San Francisco, representative of the Republican National Committee knocked on his door and aroused the Senator to tell him of his victory. Fellow passengers, who eagerly read election returns throughout the night, pressed forward and congratulated the next vice-president.

After breakfast, Senator Curtis issued this statement: "I am gratified with the returns. Mr. Hoover made a wonderful candidate. Personally, I am grateful to the American people for the splendid endorsement given the Republican ticket."

Oil of First Importance

In the temple at Jerusalem ritual oil was frequently employed. The ceremony in which oil was used was indicative of gladness; so its absence denoted sorrow or humiliation. Kings, priests and prophets were anointed with oil. The Jews were required to include oil among the first-fruit offerings, and tithes of oil were also required.
