PROFESSOR HELLER'S BAD ADVICE

Shortly after World War II a group of American economists led by Prof. Walter H. Heller and Prof. Alvin Hansen made a 400-page report on the West German government at Bonn expressing the opinion that Germany was bogged down on a "sort of plateau" and that a little inflation, unbalanced budget spending, low interest rates and ample credit were advisable to promote prosperity. The Hellers and the Hansens said that the West German government had an "excessive concern for price stability" and was "overly timid" in allowing credit expansion.

The German government rejected this advice and did exactly the opposite. As a result, in a very few short years Germany became the most prosperous country in Europe, if not in the world. Today, Prof. Heller is the chief economic adviser of President Kennedy. Unfortunately, our administration is taking his advice. At the same time we are running to Germany for help. We have millions of unemployed, Germany has none. Gold has been leaving shores in alarming amounts while German reserves have been piling up to record height.

The German experience proves how wrong Dr. Heller was and is.

Economy, sound money, balanced budgets, repeal of government controls, no inflation and interest rates high enough to stimulate saving, have produced great prosperity in West Germany. The same policies would produce it in our country. With this example before us, the administration is inexcusable for continuing to take Prof. Heller's medicine.

MORE FOR TAXES THAN GROCERIES

The nation's total tax bill has been mounting steadily. Taxes are now the number one item in family expenses. Food — traditionally the biggest item of family spending — is now far outstripped by taxes, according to the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc.

In 1960, the country's tax bill was $112 billion — compared to a food bill of $75½ billion. This reverses the situation of 1939, when the food bill was $15.7 billion and the tax bill came to only $12.4 billion — a figure which seems almost unbelievable today. Now the tax bill is at least 50 per cent greater than the food bill, and the difference is growing wider.

Out of every five dollars you spend at the grocery market, tax collectors take at least one dollar. This dollar goes for a variety of taxes, necessarily included in the end price, paid by the whole team of people who cooperate in bringing food from farm to table. To list all these taxes fully, GMA says, would take a price tag the size of a barn door!

According to the American Dairy Association, in 1960 a factory worker was getting a great deal more food for an hour of his work than in 1947-49. For example, in 1960, an hour of factory labor, on the average, would buy 8.1 quarts of milk as against 6.5 quarts in the previous period. And it would buy 2.5 pounds of choice grade beef, up from 1.9 pounds.

The Freeloaders

Here's One For The Book!

Russia has dispatched 300 alleged agricultural experts to Cuba to help Mr. Castro solve his farm problems.

This would surely be a case of the blind leading the blind if these 300 experts (?) were really sent to Cuba to administer aspirin to our bearded friend (?) for his agricultural headache. It is a well-known fact that neither Russia nor any of the other communist countries have been able to solve their own food shortages. Even Mr. Khrushchev, himself, publicly admits that Russia's food production program is a flop. So, the Russians aren't hoodwinking anybody, including Mr. Castro. Those 300 farm experts (?) aren't in Cuba to teach the Cuban the techniques of Soviet agriculture. They are there to teach the Cubans how to be good (?) Communists.

Any lingering doubt that Castro is a Communist vanished into thin air, as the Cuban dictator rolled out the red carpet for these 300 Communist instructors. Thus the communication of our island neighbor just 90 miles distant from the U.S.A. goes on apace, full steam ahead.

A democracy cannot exist as a permanent form of government. It can only exist until the voters discover they can vote themselves largess out of the public treasury. From that moment on, the majority always votes for the candidate promising the most benefits from the public treasury, with the result that democracy always collapses over a loose fiscal policy, always to be followed by a dictatorship. — Professor Alexander Frazier Tyler, a political observer who lived two centuries ago.

Work capacity of the average man is rated at 1-10 horsepower, but when he drives a 20 hp tractor, he is able to do the work of 200 men. In 1960 there were some 4,770,000 tractors on U. S. farms, valued at $3.4 billion.

Plastic Coated Carton Developed For Fluid Milk

College Station — Plastic coated containers have been developed for packaging fluid milk. These new containers are designed to replace the present wax coated cartons, says Arch Meekma, extension dairy specialist.

The new carton was introduced and became the big attraction at the Dairy Exposition in Chicago last November. It is a variation of the present wax covered carton. It has a polyethylene coating on the fiber carton. The new on the fiber carton. The new carton does not require glue for forming, wax for coating of staples for closing. It comes with the plastic coating already on the carton. All that is necessary is to shape the carton and heat seal it into form, points out Meekma.

Manufacturers of the containers say the new cartons will eliminate the costs, inventories and handling of wax, glue and wire; prevent the contact of wax and milk and loose wax particles in the milk; do away with leaky milk cartons, and improve the appearance of the milk package.

Plastic containers are currently being used on a trial basis in several cities and other installations will follow as soon as additional packaging machines are manufactured. It is reported that conversion kits to modify existing cartoning machines will be available in the near future.

The Lord's Prayer has 56 words. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address has 266. The Ten Commandments have 297. The Declaration of Independence has 300. But a recent government order setting the price of cabbage had 26,911 words.

Total public and private indebtedness in the United States amounted to one trillion, four billion, 500 million dollars at the end of 1960. This represents a raise of $41 billion over the year before.

THE EASY JOB

A hatless young man blew into the office this week. He said he was one of the New Frontiersmen.

"Relax," he said. "The government can do anything private enterprise can do — and better. Look at this Federal plan for —"

"Suppose," we interrupted, "suppose 100 years ago — in 1861 — we had asked you to select the easiest of these four projects: (A) To build an adequate system of roads. (B) To transmit the human voice 'round the world in less than 1-27 of a second. (C) To send a Shakespearean drama in motion and color into living rooms at the very time it was taking place (D) To fly 150 individuals coast to coast in three hours and 19 minutes. Which would you have picked?"

The Frontiersman said, "A" — and promptly disappeared. He didn't wait for us to point out that the government has indeed tackled the easiest job — leaving exclusively to American industry and free enterprise the magnificent projects of imagination we have come to take for granted, and that this comparatively easy project has progressed at a much slower rate and at a tremendous cost to the public.

But we think he got the point, anyway.

Joe — "One of them. When my mother combed my hair, I used to wish that I didn't have any."

An old miner, driving an efficiency expert through the snow and cold, spread a buffalo robe over their knees.

"You ought to turn the hair inside," said the efficiency expert. "Don't you know it's a great deal warmer to have the hair next to your body?"

The old man obeyed, and

Farm Facts

Because bread is a basic item in our diet, its price is an item of some concern in the average family's grocery budget. Consumers, therefore, are likely to be irritated and perplexed when the price of bread rises while surpluses of wheat are being publicized widely. Sometimes they blame farmers.

Actually, the farmer's share of the money spent for a loaf of bread is less than it was back in the late forties.

According to a House Agriculture Committee report, the farm value of wheat in a loaf of bread in the 1947-49 period amounted to 2.7 cents as compared with 2.4 cents in 1958. Yet the average retail price of a pound loaf of bread rose from 13.5 to 19.3 cents in the same years.

Over-all, the average worker's family paid 13 per cent more and farmers got 8 per cent less in 1958 for the same kinds and quantities of food purchased in 1947-49.

The committee report, however, calls attention to another significant fact: "In spite of the increased costs of

The story of WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE and The Church Bell

"I don't need to advertise," an established merchant in Kansas once told William Allen White, renowned publisher of The Emporia Gazette. "Everybody knows me and knows what I sell."

"In that event," replied the thoughtful publisher, "we can dispense with the oldest advertising medium for the oldest institution in the world. See that church down the street," continued Mr. White, pointing to one of Emporia's oldest and most beautiful structures, "That church has been established here for many years. Everyone knows what it is and what it does. In the tower of the church is a bell and every Sunday it rings out to remind folks to come to church.

"Shoppers go where they are invited and stay where they are well treated," concluded the publisher.

"Regardless of how well established a firm may be, newspaper advertising is a repeated invitation and a reminder to come and do business with that store."

Ruth Frazier and Joseph Felderhoff Say Vows at Mass

In a solemn and impressive wedding service here in Sacred Heart Church, Miss Ruth Anne Frazier pledged vows with Joseph Felderhoff Saturday at 5 p.m. The Most Rev. Bishop Augustine Dangelmayr of Dallas, uncle of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony and officiated at the nuptial mass.

The bride, only child of Mrs. W. F. Frazier and the late Mr. Frazier of Joliet, Ill., was a pretty picture in a gown of white silk organza and Chantilly lace over taffeta, the floor length skirt billowing out into a hemline sweep. The moulded bodice of lace was designed with bracelet length sleeves and a scalloped v-shaped neckline and the skirt was accented with a lace panel down the front.

A garland of pearlized orange blossoms held her fingertip veil of French illusion and she carried white rose buds atop a white prayer book, a gift from the groom.

Bridal Attendants
Her attendants were Miss Helen Alias of Yazoo City, Miss, maid of honor, and Misses Loretta Schmitt and Charlene Otto, bridesmaids. Their identical bouffant white dresses of organza over pink taffeta featured square necklines, puffed sleeves and pleated cummerbunds secured with a rose. They wore flower half hats and carried baskets of white carnations. Their rhinestone-studded silver heart neckpieces and chains were gifts from the bride.

Charles Felderhoff of Irving was best man for his brother and his cousins, Paul Dangelmayr and John David Fleitman were groomsmen. Sylvan Walterscheid, A. J. Felderhoff and Alvin Hartman were ushers. Candle lighters and acolytes were Joey Dangelmayr, Donald Rohmer, Jerry Taylor, Sammy Endres and Daniel Hoenig.

Sacred Heart choir and Anthony Luke, organist, furnished wedding music and Mrs. Norbert Walterscheid was soloist, singing before mass and again after the service as the newly married couple went to the Blessed Virgin's shrine where the bride placed a bouquet of white carnations on the altar.

Reception and Buffet
Wedding reception and buffet were held in the Parish Hall where Mrs. Willard Hartman was in charge of catering and Misses Jerry Lou Skul and Patricia Pelton of Joliet, Ill., registered about 125 guests. Misses Judy Dangelmayr and Janie Fleitman served the wedding cake and other members of the house party were Miss Betty Ann Dangelmayr, Mrs. Ed Knauf, Mrs. Herbert Cunningham and Mrs. Gertrude Bayer. Decorations and floral arrangements were by Mrs. Nick Miller.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Frazier wore a pink embroidered linen sheath with white accessories and a white corsage. Mrs. Felderhoff, mother of the groom, wore a beige lace sheath with beige and sultan accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Live in Muenster

A wedding dance in the VFW Hall preceded the couple's departure on a honeymoon trip of undisclosed destination. They will be at home here in Muenster on route 1 when they return.

For traveling the bride wore a pink Irish linen sheath and white accessories.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Felderhoff, teaches mathematics and history at Sacred Heart High School where he met his bride while she was a teacher the past term. She was graduated from College of St. Francis in Joliet and attended Christian University in Fort Worth. She taught English in the parish high school here and is working on her master's degree. Mr. Felderhoff was graduated from Sacred Heart High and received his degree from St. Mary's University in San Antonio.

Gas Turbine Powered Tractor

International Harvester Company's experimental tractor has a gas turbine engine paired with a hydrostatic transmission. Skin, or body, sections are molded fiberglass.

CHICAGO — International Harvester Company has developed an experimental tractor in which a gas turbine engine is paired with a hydrostatic transmission. The body or skin is made of fiberglass. The tractor, named the HT-340, has no gear shift lever, no throttle, and no brake or clutch pedals. It uses neither cooling water nor anti-freeze, and has no transmission gears. The hydrostatic transmission depends upon oil at high pressure to transmit power by acting on the pistons of a radial hydraulic motor installed in each driving wheel. The 80-horsepower gas turbine engine, a product of Solar Aircraft Company, Harvester's San Diego subsidiary, is 21 inches long, 13 inches in diameter and weighs only 90 pounds with reduction gearing. At present, the HT-340 uses only about half of the turbine's rated horsepower since the transmission was designed to operate with a 40-horsepower piston engine.

Rose Mary Hess Winston Fangman Marry at Lindsay

St. Peter's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday afternoon at four o'clock when Miss Rose Mary Hess became the bride of Winston Fangman of Pilot Point, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fangman of that city. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hess of Lindsay.

Rose Mary was a lovely bride in an original gown of imported French Chantilly lace, the wide skirt billowing out over crisp white taffeta to form a chapel train. The fitted basque bodice featured a semi-Sabrina neckline edged in scallops and sprinkled with tiny iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Long sleeves tapered to petal points over her hands and lace covered buttons closed the dress at the back.

Deep lace scallops edged the entire hemline and a sequin sprinkled, scalloped lace overskirt drifted from the sides and up the center back to the waistline framing the aisle-wide train. A crown of pearls held her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade of white gardenias arranged around a large white orchid. For her jewelry she wore a single strand of pearls that her mother wore at her wedding. Her father escorted her to the altar and gave her in marriage.

Bride's two attendants were identically gowned in bell silhouette dresses of romance blue nylon sheer over dyed to match taffeta. A side drape caught with a flat bow simulated an overskirt effect.

They wore matching blue hats and carried baskets of carnations and pom-pom mums. Their crystal necklaces and earrings were gifts from the bride.

Miss Alice Voth of Lindsay was maid of honor and Mrs. Louis David of Pilot Point, sister of the groom, was bridesmatron. Henry Hess Jr. was best man in his sister's wedding and Louis David was groomsmen. Richard Haverkamp and Butch and David Arendt lighted the candles and served as acolytes. Julius Hess and Earl Sitzes ushered.

Father Damian Wewers, Lindsay pastor, performed the double ring ceremony and was celebrant of the nuptial high mass. The church choir sang, accompanied by Mrs. William Schmitz, organist.

After the ceremony a reception and buffet were held in the Gun Club Hall, Mrs. Joe Lehnertz catering for some 350 relatives and friends of the couple. Miss Nellie Ann Hess and Mrs. Julius Hess presided at the bride's book. The hall was festooned with white and blue garlands and the bride's table, adorned with white gladioli and tapers held the handsome huge wedding cake which the couple cut and hostesses served to wedding guests.

A dance concluded festivities and the newlyweds left on a wedding trip not revealing their destination. When they return they will make their home in Gainesville at 1321 1/2 East Pecan. He is a driver for a trucking company.

For traveling the bride wore a blue outfit with white accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet. She is a graduate of Lindsay High School. Mr. Fangman was graduated from Pilot Point High.

and Mrs. Paul Fetsch and family of Muenster, Mr. and Mrs. Al Flusche and son Charles of Decatur, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Zimmerer and family and Mrs. Lawrence Zimmerer of Lindsay and the hosts and their families.

Club Leaders Plan Children's Meeting

Leaders of Lindsay's boys' and girls' clubs held their planning meeting Monday in the home of Mrs Rufus Bezner with nine present.

Project planned for the children's meeting next Monday, Aug. 14, is making bookends. The class will be held in the Parish Hall beginning at 2 p.m.

Another endeavor of the club is a Gold Bond Plan. In this regard the leaders are asking everyone who will to have the back cover of the books validated when cashing books in and turn them over to the club leaders. This will give the club points for project equipment.

Next meeting for leaders will be September 4 in the home of Mrs. Andy Arendt.

Father Damian is packed and ready to leave Lindsay for his new assignment as pastor of St. Mary's Church in Fort Worth where he was pastor before assignments at Corpus Christi and Lindsay. The transfer is effective Friday. St. Peter's new pastor, Father John Walbe, coming from Fort Smith, Ark., will be here for Sunday services. A parish farewell party honored Father Damian Sunday night. Sponsored by the adult societies of the parish it drew a big crowd. Father Damian thanked everyone for help and cooperation during his happy Lindsay pastorate of 13 months and 13 days.
