Khrushchev's Pony Express

Soviet boss Nikita Khrushchev has advised the 209,000,000 Russians occupying the largest area in the world to eat horsemeat and ease the food shortages troubling the USSR.

In the same breath, Khrushchev pulled out the same old propaganda line that by 1970 Russia will surpass the U.S. economically — that the Soviet Union will give its people a higher standard of living than any nation in history has yet achieved.

The Communist boss had a few choice words for horsemeat: "This meat is very fat. The meat is very nourishing and has many calories and is very cheap. That is why we have to develop production of this meat."

Now there's a nifty smoke-screen for you. What Khrushchev failed to say was that his economic experts have yet to solve the problem of coming up with an adequate, normal food supply.

Are the people of the West going to be fooled by the double-talk of a leader who can't even feed his people properly? In the USSR, approximately half of the labor

HORSEFEATHERS!

FIRST THINGS FIRST

It is interesting to note that while Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force Chief of Staff and famed creator of the Strategic Air Command, is preparing, after the recent Red air show, to ask Congress for more money for bombers and other manned aircraft, Space Administrator James E. Webb is vigorously defending the projected $35 billion ten-year space program.

In addition to his drive on Congress, and in spite of Defense Secretary McNamara's recent statement that he would advise the President against spending for bombers out of the $43 billion defense appropriation passed by the House now before the Senate, General LeMay is expected to ask the Commander-in-Chief to reverse his decision to cancel production of B-52 and B-58 bombers.

Mr. Webb insists that the "man-on-the-moon" project is no stunt, as some people say, but "the greatest scientific task ever undertaken by this Government". He also claims practical value for the whole $35 billion program in terms of important discoveries and new materials. The latter, we suppose, will be discovered on the moon and shipped down here.

We wouldn't doubt the greatness of this scientific task. But we think the defense of our nation against an avowed enemy of prodigious strength is of more practical value. And General LeMay is a very practical man.

When our freedoms are secure against the greatest man-made menace in all history will be time to reach for the moon. Those who are worrying about the Russians getting there first should give a thought to their getting here first.

Everything changes, even the King's English. You would most likely have considerable difficulty reading a book written in the time of Chaucer. But back to our present day new words. Here are just a few: jet propulsion, leftist, microfilm, gremlin, freeloader, deepfreeze, shopping center, station-wagon, take-home pay, credit card, dial tone, expediter, air lift, top-drawer, supersonic, water skis, baby sitter, geriatric, carhop, coffee break, drive-in, intercom, hassle, nuclear, pony tail, soup-up, prefab, stationary front, jukebox, hot-rod, acetate, bikini, Rh factor and many, many more, which if you're hep you will have no trouble in digging.

ATTACK ON CENSORSHIP BY TAXATION

The following editorial is reprinted from The American Press, an independent magazine for home town newspapers:

"With ten bills having been introduced into Congress to eliminate censorship by taxation, with one of the victims of this censorship having instituted a million dollar lawsuit against the government and with hundreds of newspaper publishers having joined forces to fight such censorship, it would appear that something should be accomplished soon.

"The point at issue is the Revenue Service ruling that institutional advertising which attempts to influence legislation is not deductible as a business expense. This proposed legislation may directly affect the taxpayer's business.

"Best known of the bills introduced to curb the IRS practice of deciding what kind of advertising is deductible is one introduced by Representative Boggs of Louisiana, whose bill in 1960 died with the close of Congress. This and similar bills are being pushed by the Press Committee To Eliminate Censorship by Taxation, which now includes over a hundred newspaper publishers and is headed by Alex Washburn, publisher of the Hope (Ark.) Star, who himself unsuccessfully spent over $18,000 in a one-man fight to get the courts to overrule an IRS decision forcing him to pay taxes on advertising promotion he ran in an effort to defeat a sales tax harmful to his community.

"He would like to see every publisher in America get behind this group and urge his representatives in Congress to support the Boggs bill, or one of the others which would end, once and for all, this arbitrary power which the IRS wields over institutional advertising. "There is no doubt that the IRS, in acting in the capacity of an advertising censor, is curbing free speech — and when any government body assumes such power it is clearly the duty of Congress to take quick action to see that it doesn't continue."

PRIVILEGED TVA

The following statement was made today by Philip A. Flegler, President, Edison Electric Institute and Chairman of the Board and President, Duquesne Light Company:

"The Edison Electric Institute, representing investor-owned electric utility companies, recently completed a study of the TVA power business in which two adjustments were made; one, to charge TVA's power operations with taxes comparable to those paid by electric companies; and, another to charge for the use of funds invested in such power operations, comparable to those charges paid by electric companies which are financed in the free market. If TVA and its municipal distributors were to pay their share of taxes and market costs of money, rates to their customers would have to be raised 46%. If this were done, electric rates in the TVA area would then be about the same as rates paid by customers of the electric companies operating under similar circumstances.

"The fact that TVA does not pay Federal income taxes, and has not paid interest on the funds advanced by the Federal Treasury, results in electric power being sold by TVA below cost at the expense of the nation's taxpayers."

2 Couples See 7 States in 5 Days

Covering a lot of territory, through seven states, in five days and having "a bushel of fun" seeing relatives were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Klement and daughter Linda and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schilling who combined pleasure with business on a trip to St. Paul, Minn.

A detour at Muskogee, Okla., going, sent them through Fort Smith, Ark., and gave an opportunity to see the scenic beauty of the Ozarks. An eight inch rain at Muskogee on July 15 caused a re-routing of all traffic.

In St. Paul the next day Mrs. Klement's three brothers and three sisters and their families entertained with a reunion for the Muenster visitors in the Bernard Raleigh home.

From there to New Richmond, Wis., to tour a feed manufacturing farm and then to Rosemount, Minn., to purchase dairy cattle.

The last night before leaving the Klements and Schillings were honored at a farewell party and supper arranged by Mrs. Klement's relatives. In-between they were entertained with dinner and supper parties in the homes of various kinfolk.

Brief sight-seeing was enjoyed in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Kansas.

Miss Joan Herr Eddy Dunham Wed At Nuptial Mass

Honeymooning in Colorado are Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Dunham who were married here Saturday afternoon. The bride is the former Miss Joan Herr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herr of Muenster. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunham of Fort Worth.

Celebrating the four o'clock nuptial high mass and performing the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Eugene Luke, newly ordained cousin of the bride, officiating at his first wedding.

Mr. Herr escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. She wore a lovely gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta, the bouffant skirt sweeping into a brush train. Brief scalloped sleeves were met by long lace and net mitts, and scallops embroidered with seed pearls edged the square neckline.

Her tiered veil of illusion fell to her waist from a princess crown of bridal jewels and she carried two purple orchids and stephanotis atop her prayer book. For something borrowed she wore a gold chain and cross belonging to the groom's mother and as additional sentiment wore an antique ring formerly belonging to her great-grandfather Bruns.

Bride's attendants, all from Fort Worth, were Miss Ruth Endres, maid of honor; Miss Kathleen Pagel, bridesmaid; and Mrs. Tommy Herr, a sister-in-law, bride's matron. They wore identical dresses of mint green silk organza over taffeta with glitter crowns and short circular veils and carried daisies. Little Miss Tina Herr of Wichita Falls, niece of the bride, was a small duplicate of the trio, carrying her daisies in a basket.

Groom's attendants were two brothers, David Dunham of Fort Worth and Jeff Dunham of Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls, and Floyd Morbitzer of Fort Worth. A cousin, Tommy Dallefeld, was ring bearer. Huey Buénot and John Chilton of Fort Worth ushered.

Anthony Luke, organist, and the church choir provided music for the mass with Bill Luke and Miss Lidia Hernandez of Fort Worth as vocal soloists. Mr. Luke sang "On This Day" pre-nuptially and Miss Hernandez presented "Mother at Your Feet" after mass when the bride placed a bouquet of white gladioli on the Blessed Mother's altar.

Wedding reception and buffet were held in the Parish Hall where about 250 guests were registered by Miss Arlene Malone of Fort Worth and Miss Dianne Endres.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Herr wore a mist green lace sheath with matching hat and Mrs. Dunham, mother of the groom, was in a green and beige outfit with beige accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations as did the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Katie Roberg.

When the newlyweds left on their trip the bride was wearing a yellow linen suit with beige accessories. They will make their home in Fort Worth. Both are employed in that city and he is enrolled at Arlington State College.

Back from 2-Week Vacation in Ohio

Mr. and Mrs. Al Fleitman have returned from Dayton, Ohio, where they spent two weeks with their daughter and family, the Gene Strassbergs and did a good job spoiling their little granddaughters, Brenda and Karen.

They also went sight-seeing, visiting the Grotto of the Immaculate Conception and many beautiful churches, parks and Wright-Patterson Air Force Museum and other interesting places.

They report crops looking good from the train. All the way there was rain. Farmers were just starting to harvest. The Fleitmans wished they could have brought some of the rain back with them — just what they were having too much of in Dayton. But they brought back greetings — best wishes from Lorine and Gene Strassberg to all their friends.

The future senior class, assisted by Mrs. Al Schmitt and Mrs. Harry Otto, mothers of Misses Loretta Schmitt and Charlene Otto, who will be Miss Frasier's bridesmaids, directed games and served refreshments of punch and cake. They also presented the honor guest a pink carnation corsage.

The honoree's colors of pink and white were accented and roses were the floral decor. Each of the classes came in a separate group and presented a class gift. Thirty-three attended between the hours of two and five.

To Big Attendance
At Sunday Benefit

Muenster court Catholic Daughters of America at their July meeting Friday night arranged plans for a benefit social and set Sunday, July 30, as the date for the event. It will be a table-game party with home made pie and ice cream and will be a benefit for the local hospital fund — to take care of the court's pledge for this year.

Members look forward to having a large attendance and are preparing refreshments accordingly.

Planning ahead, the membership also discussed arrangements for a fall bazaar scheduled for some time in November. This to be a CDA benefit for the organization's chief projects, the library and communion bread.

Mrs. Steve Moster, grand regent, announced that the court has been assigned the week of September 10 for prayers and mass that week for the nation's present administration. Over 70 courts in Texas are participating in the movement and each has a special week assigned.

In other announcements Mrs. Joe Swirezynski, mission chairman, reported on recent activity which included shipment of clothing and shoes.

One hundred pounds went to St. Vincent's Store in Fort Worth, about fifty pounds went to the State School for Girls at Gainesville and hospital shirts and religious articles went to the mission exhibit at the Catholic State League meeting in Weimar for distribution to the needy.

Farmers Advised To Apply Soon for Gas Tax Refund

College Station — Farmers are reminded by C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, of their eligibility for a refund of the 4-cent per gallon Federal gasoline tax on that used for farming purposes. The claim should include all eligible gasoline gallonage purchased between July 1, 1960 and June 30, 1961. The claim for refund should be filed on Form 2240 and not later than September 30, Bates said.

The gasoline on which a refund may be claimed covers that used for farming purposes and includes most normal production operations. Three exceptions, however, are noted by the specialist. They are gasoline used on the highway, even though for transporting farm products; that used for processing, packaging, freezing or canning operations and that used for non-farming or personal purposes.

Records of fuel purchases should be kept to verify refund and care should be exercised to avoid inaccurate or excessive claims, Bates said. He noted that Form 2240 does not apply to diesel and special motor fuels. Farmers who have questions regarding taxes on these fuels are advised to contact an Internal Revenue Service director.

The man was more than a little annoyed when a neighbor telephoned at 3 a.m. and complained: "Your dog is barking so loudly that I can't sleep." The neighbor hung up before he could protest.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

This is the season for terracing in the Muenster-Saint Jo area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district, according to local technicians.

Some cooperators are busy terracing to help control erosion of sloping fields. Terraces in combination with rotation of soil building legumes and proper crop residue management can stop expensive losses of soil and water from cultivated fields.

Landowners are able to build terraces for about $40 a mile this year under the agricultural conservation program of cost-sharing.

Johnny Bayer is building about 15,000 feet of channel type terraces on the Aldridge place he farms north of Muenster. These terraces will move excess water to a Bermuda grass waterway that was sodded in the spring of 1960 to provide a safe disposal area.

Andy Walterscheid is adding 5000 feet to his terrace system on his farm southwest of Muenster. Water from these terraces will flow onto Bermuda grass which was sodded for the purpose. Dangelmayr Brothers are building another 5000 feet to empty onto pasture grass on their place southwest of town.

If rills and ditches appear on sloping cultivated fields after a rain or if silt deposits form at the foot of slopes terraces are needed. Rilling on the slopes and silting on the flats mean a loss of precious top soil. And when top soil is gone a landowner is out of business.

$5.00 License Tag For Farm Trailer Is Now Available

AUSTIN — New license plates for farm trailers not used for hire are now available, according to Bob A. Lilly, Texas Farm Bureau legislative director.

Lilly said the Department of Public Safety has advised him that the $5.00 license tags are now in county tax collectors' offices across the state. Owners of farm trailers of between 4,000 and 10,000 pounds gross weight must have these tags displayed on their trailers in accordance with a new law passed during the regular session of the 57th Legislature. The law also provides a 30-m.p.h. speed limit, but exempts trailers up to 10,000 pounds gross from brake requirements.

The DPS indicated that it will give trailer owners a "reasonable" period of time to secure the tags before strict enforcement begins, Lilly said. The law became effective with the Governor's signing of House Bill 1082, the farm trailer bill, on May 29, but the new tags were not available until just recently.

Lilly said that the Texas Farm Bureau has been attempting to secure passage of a farm trailer law for several years. He explained that the $5.00 license cost was a compromise to forestall a veto of the bill.

The TFB legislative director said that the new law was necessary to permit farmers to continue using their trailers to haul farm products. The DPS had warned that it was planning to begin strict enforcement of trailer licensing law if a special farm trailer law were not enacted this year. Before the new law was passed, farmers were required by law to obtain commercial licenses for trailers over 4,000 pounds gross weight even though they normally use their trailers for only a few weeks each year.

Farmers who fail to obtain tags will be subject to a fine and must immediately register their trailer as a commercial trailer and obtain a commercial license plate. A commercial license for a 10,000 pound trailer would cost $55.00.

Naturally no one ever gives the groom a shower — he's all washed up anyway.

The boss called in one of his subordinates and said: "John, we have had a good year and you have helped to make it so. I appreciate it and I have made out this check for $500 to your order. Now, if next year is as good as last year, I'll sign it."

SOUTHWEST ATTRACTING MANY WORKERS TO NEW INDUSTRIES

50,000 TOWN WORKERS TO BE MOVED TO UKRAINE FARMS

SHOULD GOVERNMENT BE MAN'S SERVANT OR MASTER?

Americans believe:

Government should be strong enough to protect the people from aggression, foreign and domestic, but not strong enough to regiment them. The law should create and maintain the conditions under which the people are free from monopolistic restraint to plan, work, produce and develop themselves to the full measure of their individual abilities. Americans believe that a strong nation is based fundamentally on strong, self-reliant citizens.

Communists believe:

Government should be strong enough to dictate the work efforts of the people and channel them into the activities which, in the sole opinion of government, will best advance the security and welfare of the state. The individual is of insignificant importance except as a member of a disciplined mass. The law, therefore, must suppress individuality. Communists believe that a strong nation must be composed of servile, regimented citizens.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY

To renew and awaken interest in our precious heritage of Freedom, and its superiority over the Communist philosophy, these messages are being published by the Texas Power & Light Company, an investor-owned, tax-paying electric utility.

just think for a moment about the alternative. Our chance of survival is far better if we choose the equal or superior weapon. An oversize bully has all the advantage in a bare handed death struggle with a little fellow, but they become equal if each has a gun. In fact, the advantage shifts to the little fellow if he has the better gun. Furthermore the bully is less inclined to fight if he realizes he's only equal, or perhaps inferior.

We hope President Kennedy will decide to shoot the works in his warning to Khrushchev.

A disappointment in the President's speech was his failure to assert as much firmness toward Cuba as toward Russia. Absence of a statement was especially conspicuous after a Castro agent had just hijacked a commercial airliner in Florida and delivered it to Havana.

What's the reason? Is JFK retaining the same appeasing advisers for his dealings with Cuba? Obviously something must be wrong if he will accept an insult such as Monday's plane stealing stunt.

This column agrees with the Washington legislators who say that it's absurd to talk tough to Khrushchev but fail to retaliate for the antics of Castro. Right is right in Cuba as well as Berlin. If we are so determined to live up to our principles we ought to take over the island, clean out the reds, and give the people a chance to re-establish their own government.
