VOLUME XXVII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS

JULY 26, 1963

NUMBER 56

On November 9 the people of Texas will vote on whether the poll tax shall be abolished in their state. Or, applying a popular complaint of many people who oppose poll tax, this election will decide whether the price of a person's voting privilege remains at $1.75, or whether it will be reduced to 25 cents.

Reason requires, of course, that some provision must be made whereby each voter gets a card assigning him to a voting place, and whereby each polling place gets a list of persons permitted to vote. Without some such arrangement some people could and would go from poll to poll voting as often as they please.

The provision to accomplish that is registration. Each citizen would get a registration card serving the same purpose that his poll tax receipt serves now. The fee for registration would be 25 cents. So, if the law is repealed, it will still cost to vote. The difference, however, is that the value will have been cheapened. It's a point to be remembered by folks who have been harping that there should be no price on a person's voting privilege.

Another point should be remembered also. Voters over 60, who previously secured over-age exemptions, will have to register like the others — and pay like the others. The service is no longer free to them. So, one segment of the population, which used to get a free vote, will have to pay for the privilege if the amendment passes.

Because of that, word is getting around that folks over 60, in towns of 10,000 or more should get their poll tax exemptions as promptly as possible after October 1, when they become available. That way they'll save two bits if the law should be repealed.

But oldsters of rural areas, or towns under 10,000, needn't bother. As under provisions of the poll tax law, it is assumed that the older folks are known and do not need official identification. They do not need to register.

All of which brings up the question of why people under 60 in small communities should be required to register. They are known as well as the old folks. Personnel of their voting box would allow them to vote. Personnel elsewhere would not. They don't need identification. There's no need for them to register.

As it appears to us there will be no difference in the method of one's qualifying for a vote. Getting a registration card is about the same as getting a poll tax receipt or exemption. The only difference is the fee.

And that leads to another problem. What tax plan will be adopted to make up for the loss of revenue resulting from repeal of poll tax? As it is, the state gets $1.50 more from each person than it would through the registration fee. Roughly that means $1.5 million less income to the state.

We know, of course, that the state budget will require that money, and that it will be raised somehow. We'll pay it, directly or indirectly. If it isn't added to our ad valorem tax it will be sneaked in as a tax on items we buy. The people of Texas can not, and will not, gain by voting down the poll tax.

It's time for responsible organizations of the state to start presenting some pertinent facts to the public in an effort to keep the poll tax. There has been much appeal to sentiment, on the basis that no one should have to pay to exercise his right of citizenship, but too little appeal to common sense, on the basis that poll tax represents a reasonable and just obligation of every citizen to the state.

The plain fact is that every citizen of the state between 21 and 60 is required by law to pay the personal tax, most of which goes into the state school fund. And its only bearing on voting is the penalty provided by law for failure to comply. Obviously a law is meaningless unless it specifies a penalty for violation.

In this case the penalty is forfeiture of voting right the following year. In other words it is not a case of a good citizen buying his vote but rather of a delinquent person being deprived of a right he does not deserve.

That's the true nature of poll tax. That's the fact which should become more generally

OLD AND NEW—Marked contrast between the old and new is seen in Basle-Mulhouse, on the Swiss-French frontier. The 35-year-old car of the type Austin 7 arrived from England via cargo plane for the Swiss Traffic Museum.

NEWS OF THE SICK

Lenny Vogel was dismissed from Gainesville Hospital Wednesday, six weeks to the day since he entered for treatment of injuries sustained in an oil field accident. He's up and around at the home of his parents, the Joe Vogels, but won't be going back to work for some time.

Hank Sicking and his mother Mrs. Wilfred Sicking were in Dallas Tuesday for his checkup. The specialist said it will be another month before surgery can be done. Hank hurt his left hand in a hay baler accident several weeks ago.

Danny Wilde was dismissed from Gainesville Hospital Saturday following treatment and overnight care for a knee injury and shoulder and elbow bruises after being in a car accident. John H. Wimmer driver of the other car involved in the collision at Hickory and the Highway, was not hurt.

Bonds Close up Gap in Hospital's Building Fund

Financial problems in the construction of Muenster's hospital were cleared away Wednesday morning when representatives of legal and brokerage firms completed delivery and sale of a $300,000 bond issue.

J. M. Weinzapfel, president of the hospital authority, promptly placed the money in the hospital fund and announced that it will be more than enough to meet the local share of remaining costs of construction, equipment and supply.

He added, however, that the bond issue, while relieving an immediate financial strain, has actually added to the community's cost. Legal fees and expenses in the preparation of bonds plus the interest to be paid, will increase Muenster's share by many thousands of dollars. That could have been avoided, he said, if the goal had been reached in the drive for funds.

To satisfy requirements of the bonding company bonds were issued on a revenue basis and payments are to be made out of hospital earnings. But directors decided before applying that payments will be made out of contributions, and the drive will continue until the full fund is raised. As originally promised to the Benedictine Sisters, their administration will not be burdened by a debt.

Among the many requirements for the bond issue was assurance of an adequate medical staff. Inquiries by the authority in that regard brought formal applications from seven doctors of the area for admission to the staff along with offers from others to help as consultants.

Notes on Building and Improvement

Started Monday is a new home for the John Mosmans snuggled in the trees adjoining their present home. It will have three bedrooms, two baths, central heat and cooling, double garage, brick siding.

Another new one is Ed Knauf's northeast of town. It includes three bedrooms, two baths, basement, fireplace, central heating and cooling, attached garage, brick siding. The lease house occupied by Ervin Walterscheid north of town is getting a new roof and asbestos siding.

Mrs. Ben Sicking is giving her home a general exterior fix-up and paint-up.

J. P. Flusche is doing interior remodeling on his house, mostly the bath. Emmet Sameck is building a 40x60 sheet metal hay barn on his place near Hood.

Exterior woodwork is being repainted at Muenster Public School and at Sacred Heart High School.

Another paint job is at Willie's Mobil Station, inside and outside.

Sister Remigia Former Teacher Dies in Convent

From Jonesboro, Ark., comes word of the death of Sister Remigia Dietsche, a former teacher in Sacred Heart School. She was in her 70s. Death came after a several years' illness that did not permanently confine her to bed. She passed away on July 7 at Holy Angels Convent where she had made her vows as an Olivetan Benedictine Nun more than 50 years ago.

Funeral services in the convent chapel were followed by burial in the convent cemetery beside her sister, Sister Paula Dietsche, who died in August last year.

Sister Remigia was a native of Switzerland, arrived at Jonesboro in 1909 and made her vows in 1911. She observed her golden jubilee in 1961.

Her teaching duties were mostly in Arkansas where her longest stay was at Paragould for 15 years. In 1923 she spent several months in her native country recruiting candidates for the sisterhood and brought 11 back to Jonesboro with her. Of these one returned to Switzerland on account of poor health, two died after having been in the Lord's service a decade or more, while eight now long since silver jubilarians are left to mourn her death. Among them are Sister Canisia and Sister Theresina.

Among survivors are a brother, the Very Rev. Paul Dietsche of Switzland, who came to this country to help Sister Remigia celebrate her golden jubilee, and a cousin the Rev. Stolz, who also came from Switzerland for the anniversary in 1961.

League Moms and JC's Wives Slate Another Ball Game

Little League mothers and Jaycee wives took up softball as a money making project to help finance the kids' schedule, but aren't sure now whether they are playing for profit or fun.

Last Thursday night they had no crowd, so no one bothered to pass the hat. Nevertheless they enjoyed a hot game, 14-10 favoring the kids' mothers, and promptly scheduled another encounter for next Monday night.

They are looking forward to another lively contest and would like also to enjoy a better financial response.

Adults Take over Final Weeks of Baseball Season

Burglar Gets $80 From City Safe Leaves over $100

The strange behavior of a burglar has folks baffled at the Muenster city hall. They are still trying to figure out a possible motive for a thief to leave more cash than he took.

The theft was discovered Saturday morning after the door of the city safe was found open. Mrs. Arnold Henschel, city secretary, verified that it was closed Friday night, because she recalled leaving her car and coming back to the office especially to check the safe before going home.

Inside the safe all seemed to be in order, especially the canvas bag with checks and currency. Nevertheless they decided to count the money and check against their records. They noticed that some $20 bills were missing and the bag checked $80 short. More than $100 in smaller currency and all checks were still there. Apparently the burglar had taken four $20 bills, and only that.

City Policeman Bill Pratt took fingerprints of the safe door and is currently investigating the case.

He determined that the burglar broke into the city office by forcing the lock on the door leading to the fire station. The safe was opened by manipulating the combination. Departing the burglar re-locked the door to the fire station but had forgotten to close the safe door.

Charter Banquet Address Praises Record of Jaycees

Members of the Muenster Junior Chamber of Commerce at their charter banquet Saturday night heard a pep talk complimenting them on the energetic pace they set in the past few months and urging them to continue their program of improvement to this thriving community.

The speaker was Miles K. Brown Jr. of Fort Worth, this year's selection as outstanding Jaycee of the state and state director of publications. He referred to Muenster as a busy town, also said that the excellence of schools, churches, hospital, swimming pool and streets is evidence that it is an exceptionally progressive community. By applying the Jaycee tenet of service to others, he said, the members can keep it improving constantly and improve themselves in the process. The subject of his talk was "Leadership Training through Community Development."

Brown also noted that Muenster's exceptionally large Jaycee membership, 53 of them, is an indication of the organization's spirit. Few towns have as many members in proportion to population, he said.

Formalities preceding the address consisted of presentation of charters and installation of charter officers and directors by Dub Huffington of Wichita Falls, Region 3 director of the JCs. There were three separate charters, designating affiliation with the state, national and international levels of the organization.

President Joe Galloway spoke briefly, principally listing projects and recognizing special efforts of the members. He also presented the speaker a plaque, hand carved by the Muenster Wood Carvers.

Don Bayer was master of ceremonies for the program and also introduced guests. Father Bruno Fuhrmann gave the blessing, William Fisher recited the Jaycee Creed, Henry Weinzapfel introduced the speaker.

Charter officers installed were Joe Galloway, president; Donald Bayer, first vice-president; Jerry Wimmer, second vice-president; Henry Weinzapfel, secretary; Tommy Herr, treasurer; Joe Mosler, Dan Haverkamp, William Walterscheid, Arthur Bayer and Bill Pratt, directors.

One of the great mysteries of life is how the boy who wasn't good enough to marry your daughter can be the father of the smartest grandchild in the world.

THE DISCARDED WORD

Americans owe a great debt of gratitude to a word.

It may be one of the most important words in the world's history.

It enabled 6 per cent of the world's population to acquire 50 per cent of the world's wealth.

It brought riches, abundance, prosperity and a dedication to peace to a nation of people — and without force.

It created a system whereby people must serve each other in order to succeed.

It has come the closest to eliminating the spoils system, whereby people use governmental force to plunder each other.

It allowed the poorest citizen within its reach to enjoy living conditions and diets rivaling that of the elite in other parts of the world.

It gave the people so much — and instilled such a respect for private property — that they found no need to think of conquering other nations.

It provided the essential climate for a state of religious liberty, freedom of belief and expression, and protection of one's own property.

And yet, despite the revolutionary benefits it has brought to so many people, this word has been discarded — and could even be called unpopular today. It is rarely used, even by those who should be its advocates, unless it is qualified with a moderating adjective.

The word, of course, is capitalism.

It describes the system that enabled a nation of people — no stronger of weaker than any other — to create the most prosperous civilization ever known to man.

Today, when there is so much concern about communism, socialism and fascism, shouldn't we take the time to understand what capitalism is?

Since it is the capitalist system that has virtually supported the whole socialist world since 1941, shouldn't we be concerned enough to find out what makes it tick, and how we can extend its influence?

When politicians who appear never to have studied economics decry capitalism, when they seek to curtail it, when they want to kill the goose that has laid our golden eggs, shouldn't we be concerned enough to defend it?

And, more important, shouldn't we be anxious to extend its influence to every sector of our economic lives? Shouldn't we be avid in our desire to eliminate all vestiges of the bankrupt socialist, fascist and communist systems from our national economy?

Shouldn't we strive to abolish government operation of businesses (socialism), government control over agricultural production (fascism), and governmental redistribution of the wealth (communism)?

If the American capitalist system fails, there will be no other nation to save us — as we have saved so many others.

On the other hand, if we will rededicate ourselves to capitalism in America, it will provide the beacon light of freedom and abundance that may save the whole world.

The rewards of capitalism await us. Are they worth your effort?

WHAT IS HAPPENING TO YOUR MONEY?

When you look at that weekly income tax deduction shown on your pay check, that may amount up to $1,000, $2,000 or much more in a year, do you contemplate where those earnings of yours are going?

Do you realize that it is your earnings that supply the money for all the government handouts and at the same time supply the bureaucrats, the congressmen and others with their livelihood, as they move forward, in many instances blindly spending your money on foolishness?

Get down to the grass roots of the thing. You are the mainstay of your nation. You supply the wherewithal by which we exist.

You pay for the government-in-business projects that pay nothing in taxes, but take away income and development of the free enterprise system.

You are paying for the vast foreign aid programs that have been so good, yes, but billions have been poured down the drain. And it's your money.

THEY CALL IT 'TAX REFORM'

One of the presidential brain trusters over in Washington has hit upon something new to tax. He wants to tax people "imputed income." You probably never heard of it and neither did we until Congressman John Ashbrook of the 17th Ohio congressional district started talking about it. But many of us have imputed income and Professor Surrey thinks Uncle Sam should start taxing it.

"Imputed income" is the fair rental value of owner-occupied homes and the professor thinks this should be added to other income on the federal income tax return and taxed the same as salaries, wages, etc. This is called "tax reform!"

Probably realizing that any congressman who voted for such a thing would be a dead duck politically, Congress didn't swallow the idea, but the professor and some of his cronies like Professors Heller and Schlesinger are going to be at the White House as long as the present tenant is there and some of their proposals, equally shocking, are likely to be pressed in the future.

Tax expert Surrey would also like to do away with the deductions individuals receive for paying state and local property and other taxes. He would tax the proceeds of life insurance policies, social security and other retirement benefits, payments to veterans. He would eliminate the extra $600 deduction for persons over 65 and disallow interest charges as a deduction.

Their idea is that the income tax should not be for revenue only but to expand the "social programs" of the government, looking toward the day when we'll have the complete welfare state with everyone living on a government dole. Barnesville, Ohio, Enterprise

A REAL CAT FIGHT

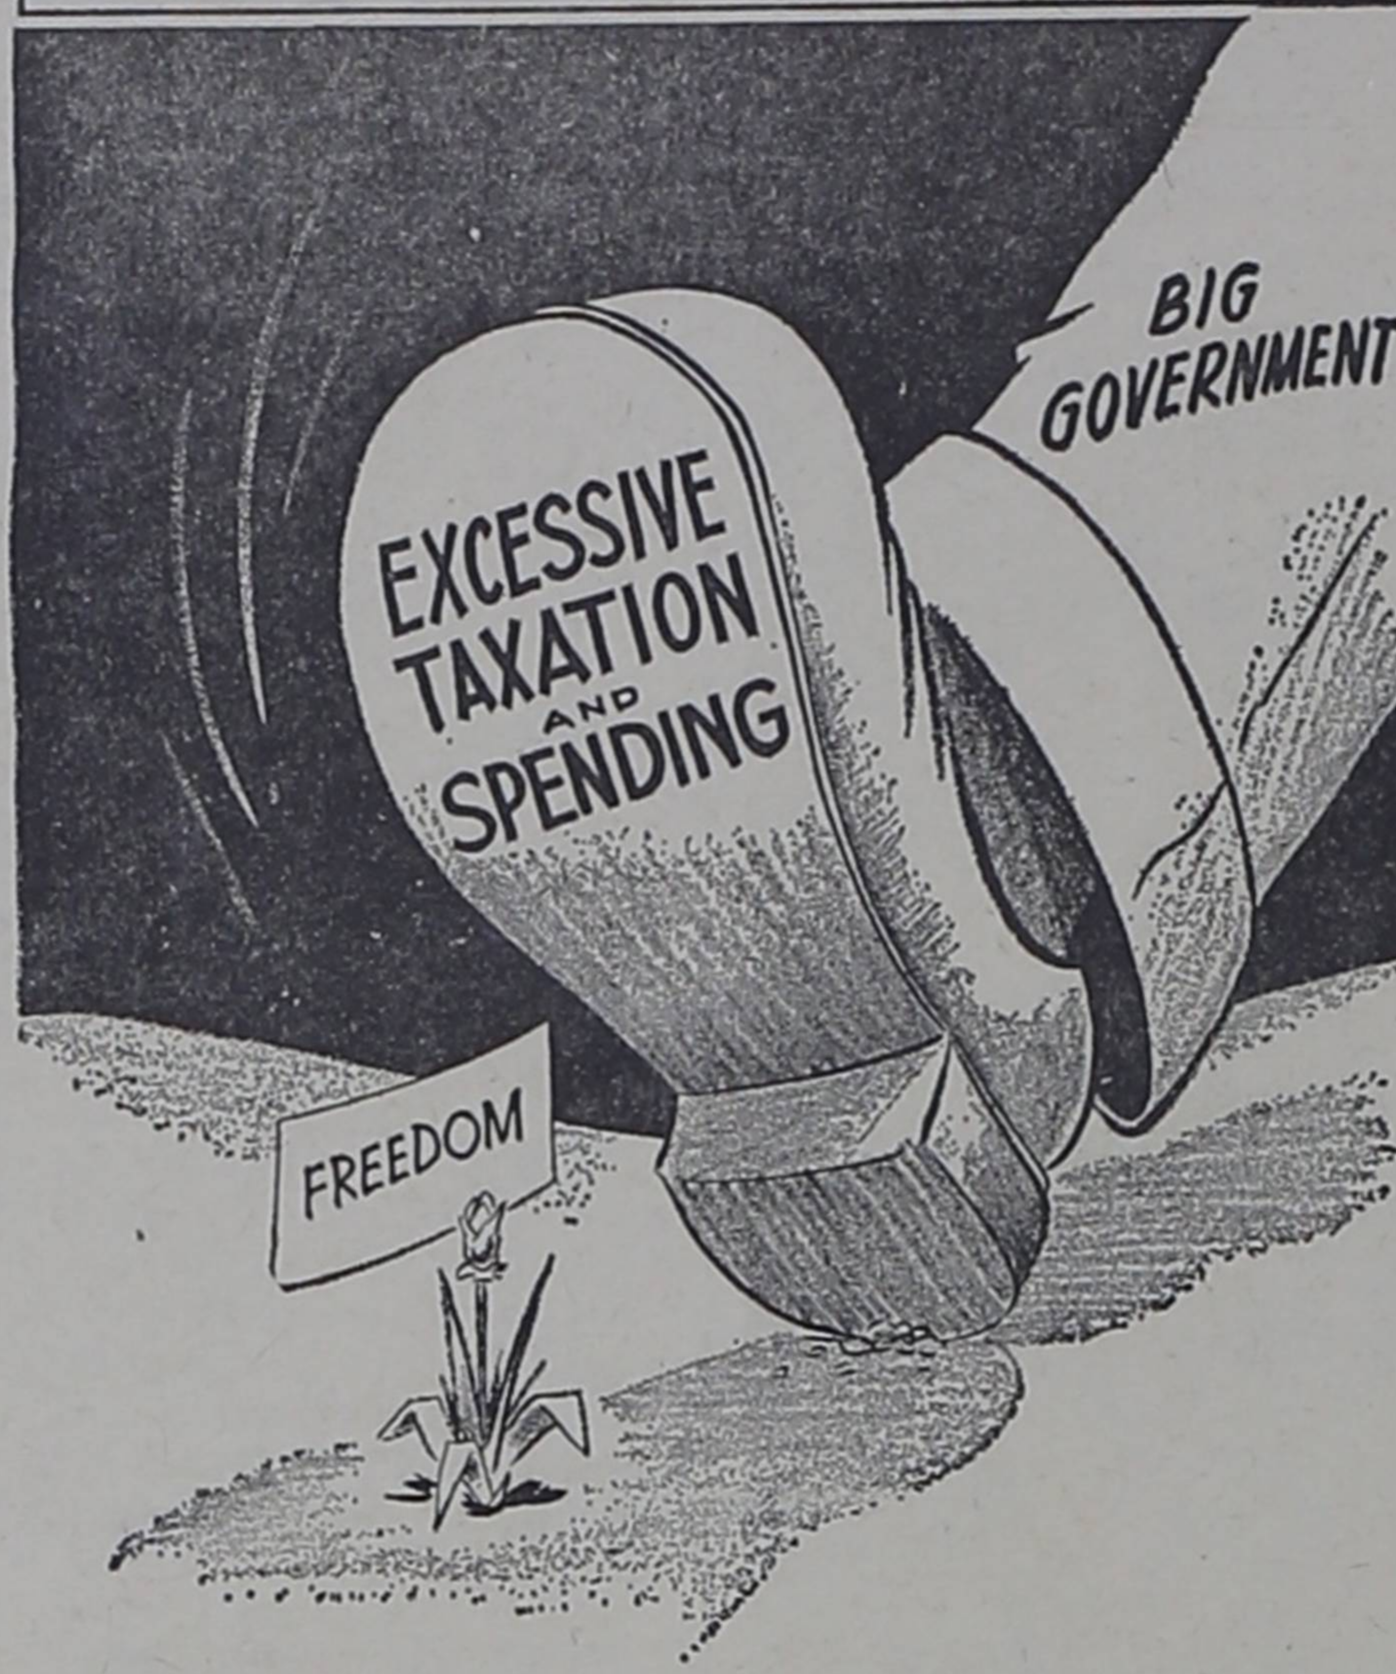

Senator Goldwater, in a TV interview, reported that President Kennedy once said to him that if they were to oppose each other for the Presidency it would be a real cat fight.

So it would. And it would provide the nation and the voters with something that has been lacking in contests at the peak political level in late years.

There has been a failure, on the part of candidates of both parties to provide the electorate with a clear and unequivocal choice between two platforms, two philosophies, two diverse attitudes. Issues have been blurred. They have been made wishy-washy and indistinct, as conservatives and liberals alike have tempered their views in the fear of alienating masses of voters. President Kennedy and Senator Goldwater have made their records. The differences between them are profound, particularly in the primary domestic issues, such as federal fiscal policy and the whole Welfare State concept. There are important differences in aspects of foreign and military policy too.

It would be a real battle, between able and articulate men who would give no quarter. The people would have a choice that really meant something.

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Inevitable Result

FODDER FOR KUCHEL

All's quiet on the Potomac, and California's maverick senator, Thomas Kuchel, is the quietest of all. The reason for the quietude? The John Birch Society has been investigated by a fact-finding committee of the California Senate, and has been completely vindicated. The committee has noted for the record that the JBS is "neither secret nor fascist, and there is no evidence of anti-Semitism."

Senator Tom Kuchel charged in his "speech" that the Birch Society was Un-American and un-patriotic. Since he was yelping under the protection of senatorial immunity, we can expect that he will not correct this libel, even if the State Senate report proves him wrong. Nor will Attorney General Stanley Mosk nor Governor Edmund Brown nor the Women's International Strike for Peace. Nor will the Hollywood set, who have had a lot of fun at the expense of the John Birch Society.

Senator Kuchel has needed and accepted the guidance of outside influences in his attacks on the JBS. Realizing this, let's give the solon this hint, in hopes that it will influence his future activities: The Senate report found evidence of communist infiltration of so-called peace groups, and has branded the communist movement "the largest hate group the world has ever seen, and still hard at work in California."

If Senator Kuchel is interested, let him launch one of his celebrated attacks against the Reds. And then, let's see if he enjoys the same support as he received when he slammed the JBS and the millions of other conservatives who elected him too many times.

 The Texas Safety Association reports that property losses from farm fires in the nation have increased steadily since 1940. In 1961 the total was $163 million, an increase of 155 percent in 22 years.

Is Pocket Rocket The Coming Thing?

The commuter of the future won't be restricted to a train schedule if rocket propulsion engineer Wendell F. Moore is right. Moore believes the businessman will put on hat and topcoat, pick up his furled umbrella, strap on a rocket belt and zoom home to the suburbs. The U.S. Army has adopted Moore's invention (1953) to transport infantrymen across canyons and rivers, scale cliffs, take buildings and do rescue work. A rocket in the pocket is the coming thing, Moore says, and reminds scoffers that people laughed at the early airplane, too.

Do Fence 'Em In

Texas Highway Department has endorsed the idea of building "median rails" on busy urban expressways. Rails — heavy-duty fences which keep traffic from careening into opposite lanes — have been or will be installed on expressways around Houston, Fort Worth and Austin. Also under development by highway engineers is a woven-wire mesh fence — similar to backyard chain-link jobs — to reduce headlight glare and to prevent pedestrians from crossing the freeways.

Farm Facts

Dr. Herrell DeGraff, Professor of Food Economics at Cornell University, notes that on a worldwide basis the typical family spends about 60% of its income for food (devotes about 60% of its productive effort to securing food).

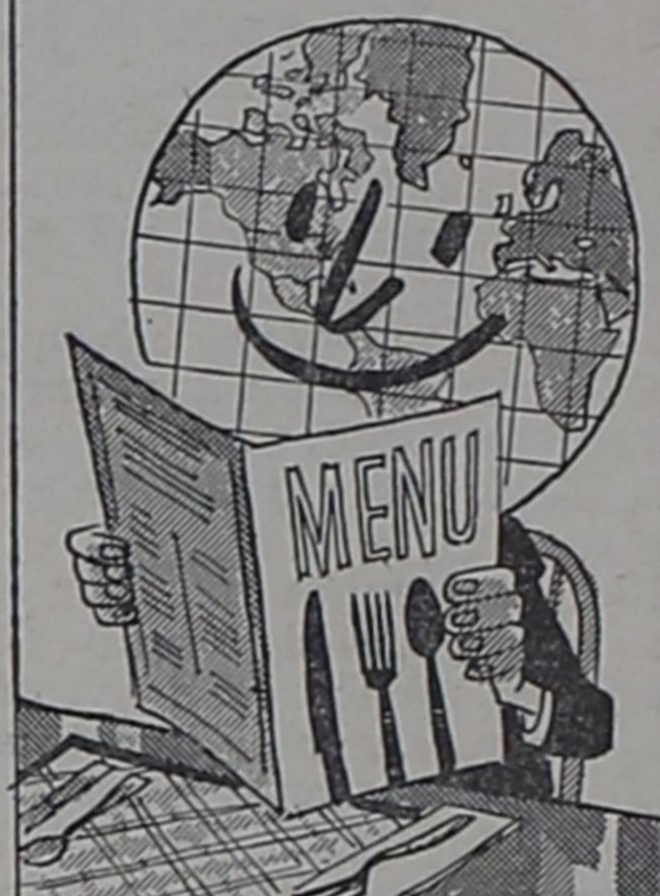

"In this country, by contrast," he said in an address to the Super Market Institute, "the typical family acquires a far superior diet for barely one-quarter of its disposable income."

"Moreover," says Dr. DeGraff, "ours is a food supply without limitations of geography or seasonality, and with a large part of the work of preparation done by the food industries instead of burdening the homemaker."

"We eat as well and as cheaply as we do only because of the enormous contributions which science has made to food production, processing, and distribution."

"Fully a third of the quantity of food available to us has resulted directly from new contributions of science

Symbol of Responsibility

COMPANY and product emblems and trade-marks are as much a part of the American scene as hot dogs and ice cream and one of the outward evidences of a free-enterprise society.

Texas Power & Light Company's familiar emblem is more than a symbol of identification... it is also a symbol of responsibility.

TP&L was organized 51 years ago as a free-enterprise business venture... a business of supplying a service which was rapidly to become an essential living need.

TP&L is an investor-owned company... owned by thousands of people like yourself and your neighbors who entrust their savings because they have confidence that such an investment will return a reasonable profit or dividend.

TP&L is a business-managed company. More than 2,200 people, whose progress and remuneration depend upon performance, direct and carry out the wide variety of specialized tasks which are necessary to produce, transmit, and distribute electric power and to conduct related activities.

TP&L is a tax-paying business. In many of the cities and towns which it serves, TP&L is the largest single taxpayer. Approximately 26 cents of each dollar of the Company's revenue goes for local, state, and federal taxes.

TP&L is a regulated business. Regulatory laws give assurance the public will be provided first-class, dependable service at prices that allow the Company to provide a reasonable return on savings invested with the Company.

Of all the "unseen" characteristics of the electric power business, perhaps one of the most important to customers is embodied in the activities of planning and building ahead to meet future power needs.

This, in brief, is your supplier of electric light and power, Texas Power & Light Company. We hope these few facts serve to help you know us better.

City Gets Award For Safety Record

The waterworks department of the City of Muenster has received an Award of Merit in recognition of its excellent safety record for the year 1962. The award is made by the Southwest Section of the American Water Works Association, comprising members in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. To qualify for it a city must spend a full year without loss of time due to accident. The city has received several such awards in past years.

Purpose of the program is to promote safe methods in the operation of water systems. A continued safe record over a number of years entitles a city to a plaque from the national association.

The story of
WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE and The Church Bell

"I don't need to advertise," an established merchant in Kansas once told William Allen White, renowned publisher of The Emporia Gazette. "Everybody knows me and knows what I sell."
"In that event," replied the thoughtful publisher, "we can dispense with the oldest advertising medium for the oldest institution in the world. See that church down the street," continued Mr. White, pointing to one of Emporia's oldest and most beautiful structures, "That church has been established here for many years. Everyone knows what it is and what it does. In the tower of the church is a bell and every Sunday it rings out to remind folks to come to church."
"Shoppers go where they are invited and stay where they are well treated," concluded the publisher.

"Regardless of how well established a firm may be, newspaper advertising is a repeated invitation and a reminder to come and do business with that store."

California Visit Is Vacation Treat

Two lively granddaughters kept Rosa Driever entertained and on the go while she was in Santa Clara, Calif., vacationing with her son Michael Driever and family.

Rosa Roxanne, almost three, and her big sister Kimberly who had made her first Communion in June were a never-ending source of delight and Rosa admits having "grandmaitis" all the time she was a way. Seeing sights through the eyes of the two little girls was a fascinating experience.

Among interesting tours was that of Winchester Mystery House in San Jose and an Egyptian Museum with Oriental antiques which they all enjoyed—until they got to the exhibit of shrunken heads.

Old Santa Clara Mission and the University of Santa Clara with its beautiful park grounds provided interesting tours. Also interesting were Boise Cascade Corp. where Mike works, and window shopping.

The weather was always beautiful — pure sunshine — but cool enough mornings for heating and for fire in the fire place in the evening — and sleeping under blankets. One night the Driever's entertained with a cookout for his mother, Mike doing the barbecuing. He sent back home regards to all his friends.

It was a train trip and going out the train was packed. Everyone seemed to be trying to get where they were going before the threatened strike. That Wednesday afternoon when news came that they were going to keep 'em rolling there was general jubilation.

Early Celebration 25th Anniversary Fetes Tony Hoenigs

An early celebration of their silver wedding anniversary was an honor for Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hoenig Sunday while their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Blockus of Naticoke, Pa., were back for their first visit in Muenster in two years. The celebration gave them an opportunity to see most of the relationship.

A group of about 70 was together at the Hoenig home for a lawn party with supper. Those attending brought gifts for the honorees in keeping with the anniversary theme.

Present were Mrs. Hoenig's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Otto, and brothers and sisters of both Mr. and Mrs. Hoenig and their nieces and nephews. In addition to Mrs. Blockus the Hoenigs have four sons, Eugene, Daniel, David, and Alvin.

Mr. and Mrs. Blockus will end their vacation in Muenster the latter part of this week.

A woman motorist was heard to say, "The thing I don't like about parking a car is that noisy crash at the end."

Society Freezes Peaches for Nuns

A group of members of St. Anne's Society had a "peachy party" one day preparing peaches for the Benedictine Sisters' freezer.

Mrs. Herb McDaniel and Mrs. Wesley Landsfeld went to Montague and picked the peaches and the group that gathered at the Parish Hall to process them consisted of Mrs. Victor Hartman, R. R. Endres, Alphonse Hoenig, Frank Herr, Alfons Koesler Sr., Leo Henscheid, John Fleitman and John Kathman and Misses Mary Becker and Ann Sicking.

Big Boys Division Of Little League In Four-Way Tie

The big boys' division of Little League baseball is right back where it started, in a 4-way tie. The big knotting event was last Friday night when the Giants beat the Braves and the Dodgers beat the Yanks. Each team's standing is 4-4.

As a result the boys have two more evenings scheduled to determine final standings for the season. After Friday's games there will be a tie for the top and a tie for the bottom of the bracket. The following Friday the two tops will play for the title and the other two will play for third place.

For the Pee Wees it's all over. Playing the final games Wednesday Jays spoiled the perfect record of the champ Ravens by a count of 8-4, and the Hawks beat the Crows in those teams' struggle to keep out of the cellar. Score was 9-6.

Final standings in the loop are Ravens 7-1, Jays 4-4, Hawks 3-5, Crows 2-6.

A cubic meter of air may, in season, contain as many as 10 million particles of ragweed pollen, a major cause of hay fever, reports the Smithsonian Institution. The air's population of invisible micro-organisms — plant and animal — is enormous, the scientists say. Apparently there is no such thing as "pure air" anywhere on earth.

So you think TV and radio commercials are to loud? You are experiencing a "subjective and psychological phenomenon" that can't be proved, says the National Association of Broadcasters. Reason is, the Association points out, no device can "hear" sound as the human ear and no two humans agree on how loud "loudness" is.

Unless we conserve our soil, posterity will suffer the ills and woes of an impoverished land.

Miss Jane Hesse
And Jim Myrick to Wed September 7

Wedding plans have been announced by Miss Jane Hesse and Pvt. Jim Myrick. They'll be married Saturday, Sept. 7, in Sacred Heart Church at nuptial mass at 6 p.m.

Miss Hesse who is employed in Fort Worth is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hesse of Muenster. She is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School.

Pvt. Myrick, on duty at Fort Sill, Okla., is the son of Mrs. T. S. Myrick and the late Doctor Myrick of Muenster. He was graduated from Muenster High School and attended East Texas State College at Commerce and North Texas State University at Denton before enlisting in the army. He took basic training at Fort Polk, La.

Selected by the couple as wedding attendants are Miss Lu Ann Reiter, maid of honor, Miss Jane Endres of Fort Worth, bridesmaid, Bernard Hesse, best man and James Walterschied, groomsmen.

The poorer the land becomes the faster it washes away.

Mmes. Myrick and Stelzer Back from Vacation in Maine

First trip to Maine was a wonderful vacation for Mrs. T. S. Myrick and her daughter, Mrs. Pat Stelzer. They returned Saturday from a visit with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Arthur Bordeau and family at East Peru, Maine.

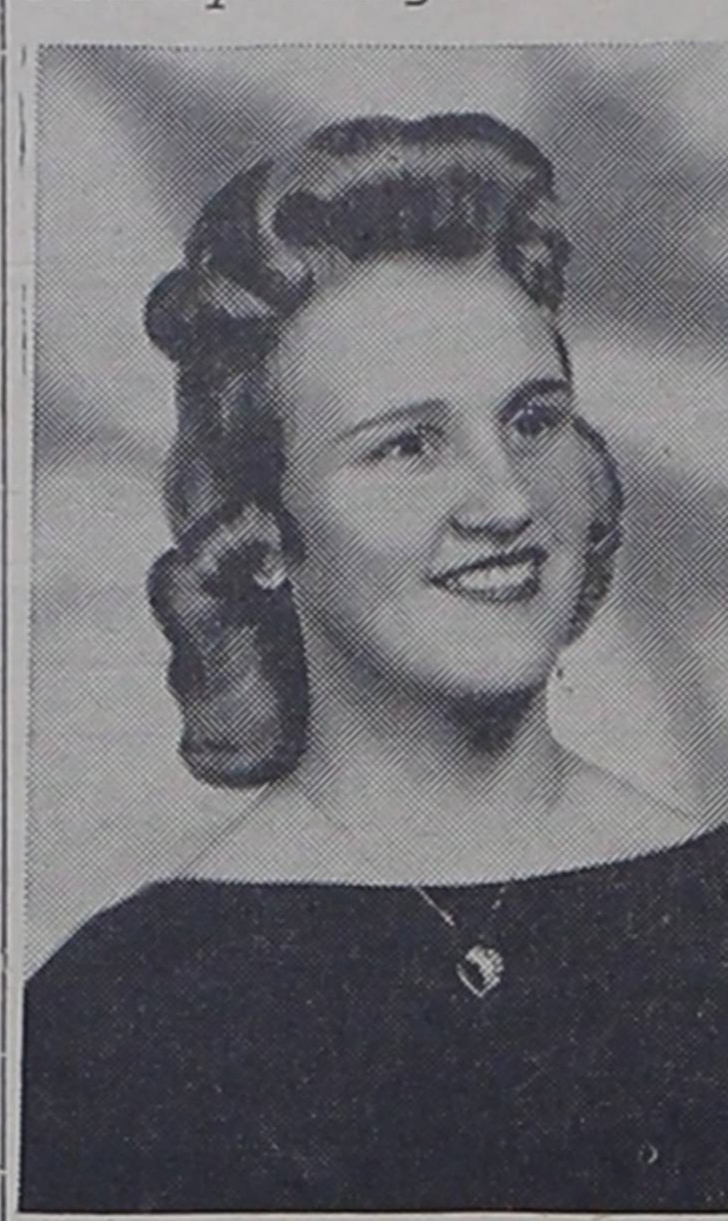

It was their first visit with Mr. and Mrs. Bordeau and children Paula, Rene, James Michael and Thomas Patrick since the family left Muenster and brought the thrill of getting acquainted with the newest baby, Thomas Patrick now eight months old.

The Bordeaus live on a tree farm and he was harvesting pine trees. During the school term he teaches in Mexico, Maine.

A new experience for the Muensterites was picking blueberries and strawberries which grow wild on the farm. The weather was beautiful — cool enough for a bit of fire in the mornings.

It was a train trip with a stop-over in Boston for sight-seeing and window shopping.

Della Hartman and Harvey Schmitt to Marry August 24

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartman have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Della Hartman, to Harvey Schmitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Schmitt.

The couple has selected Saturday, August 24, as the wedding date. The ceremony will be solemnized at nuptial mass in Sacred Heart Church at 4 p.m.

Miss Patsy Hartman, bride's sister, will be maid of honor and Miss Loretta Schmitt, groom's sister, will be bridesmaid. Tom Schmitt will be his brother's best man and Gene Hartman of Denton will be groomsmen in his sister's wedding. The bride's niece, Deana Wolf of Gainesville will be flower girl and her nephew, Bobby Hartman will be ring bearer.

After their wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Muenster. He is employed at Endres Motor Co. She has been employed at The Center but has resigned. Both are graduates of Sacred Heart High School.

Humble Oil & Refining Company moved this steel tower, tall as a 20-story building, from New England to Texas to take part in the company's continuing, $6 million-a-year campaign for clean air and water in the communities where it operates. A stack the same height also made the long trip. They were dismantled at Everett, Mass., near Boston, and transported more than 1,600 miles, to be reassembled near Houston, at the Baytown refinery of Humble, the nation's largest oil refiner and marketer. Replacing a shorter tower and stack, the new equipment will result in more efficient dispersal of vapors, high above the ground, if an emergency requires the venting of vapors through safety valves. The 250-foot tower is in the final stages of construction at a Baytown refinery processing unit. The slender stack, still to be erected within the tower, needs the support the tower will give it against high winds. Moved by rail, both pieces of equipment served a refining unit no longer in use at Humble's Everett plant.

More Accidents,
Higher Claims Hike
Insurance Rates

A growing toll of accidents on city streets and freeways, heavier damage claims and an act of the Legislature... all have combined to cause insured motorists in Texas a double-dip premium increase during the next five months.

First boost for most drivers will come on policies renewed after August 1, when new auto insurance rates set by the State Board of Insurance go into effect.

Many others face a second increase in liability insurance premiums after January 1. This is effective date of a new law requiring financial responsibility of $10,000 per person and $20,000 per accident.

Present law requires $5,000-$10,000. So those now carrying minimum insurance will pay an average of $4 more after January 1.

Increasing accident losses, mainly in urban areas, forced the Insurance Board to hike liability and collision rates in most sections of the state.

Average premium boost after August 1 will be 5.2% for bodily injury, 9.7% for property damage and 8.4% for collision. This will cost policyholders a total of $12,000,000. Drivers in some rural areas, however, escaped the rate increase.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hartman and daughter Madonna of Fort Smith, Ark., were visitors Sunday especially to extend condolence to Alfons Koelsler Jr. They visited Willard's parents, the Victor Hartmans and made a pop call with the Clarence Wilsons.

Facts About Social Security

Many people are not aware they don't have to retire completely to receive social security benefits according to Gus Jones, Sherman social security district manager. Jones stated that special provisions in social security law make it possible to receive some social security benefits even through a person may have fairly high earnings. He explained that a person can earn $1200 during the year and receive all of his benefits. And just $1 in benefits is withheld for every $2 earned between $1200 and $1700. For earnings over $1700, $1 in benefits is with-

Tips Offered on Beating the Heat

Whether it's the heat or the humidity or both, it's hot in most of the United States in July. In some places it's hotter than others, but it's still hot.

After a month or so of sweating and steaming, it's not uncommon to find the heat is beginning to wear you down.

There's nothing you can do about the outside temperature. Unless you're fortunate enough to have air conditioning in your office or shop, home and auto, there's nothing much you can do about it inside either.

But there are some things you can do to be more comfortable — things that can help you beat the heat.

Stay out of the sun as much as possible, especially during the middle of the day when rays are hottest. Wear light, loose clothing, the less the better. The ladies have an edge over the men in this respect. Drink more liquids than usual, but take extra salt only on your physician's advice, particularly if you have liver or kidney trouble or a heart condition.

Take a shower or a dip in the pool once or twice a day to cool off. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Eat your regular diet and don't go overboard on cold cuts, and salads, unless you like them anyway.

Get up early in the morning to do your heavy work on the lawn or garden. Or work at dusk in the evening, but try to avoid heavy exertion during the hottest hours of the day.

You need exercise in the summer as well as in the winter, but don't overdo it, especially on extra hot days. Don't overdo physical exertion, whether at work or play.

The more relaxed outdoor life of the summer months has many advantages to compensate for the heat. Stay relaxed and use common sense, and you can beat the heat — at least somewhat.

Hefton Named to Interim Committee On Education

House Speaker Byron Tunnell announced the appointment of Representative Don Hefton of Sherman to the interim committee on education.

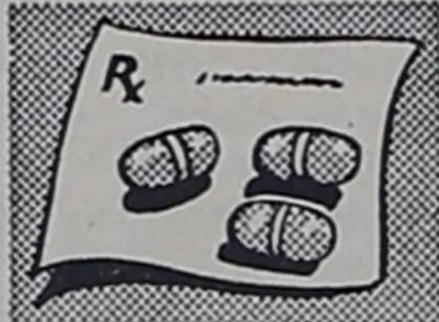

The five man committee, authorized by resolution, is charged with the responsibility of studying the problems confronting education in Texas in an effort to improve the type and quality of educational opportunities for the school children.

In making the announcement, Speaker Tunnell said, "Rep. Hefton, during his service in both the 57th and 58th Legislatures, demonstrated an excellent legislative ability. His keen insight into the educational problems in Texas well qualifies him for this appointment."

known to the people of Texas to offset the propaganda about the price of a vote, and more so to remind people that they have a personal obligation to pay toward the state's upkeep.

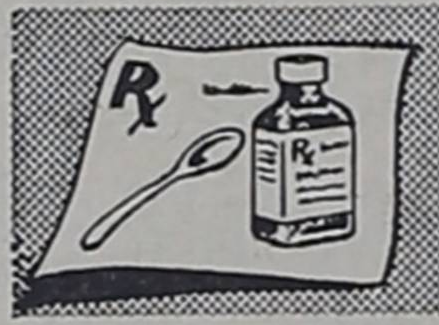

Honest consideration should convince the average person that many forms of tax are needed in order to apply to all people. And the poll tax is a way of getting support from many who pay no other direct tax. As such it is reasonable and fair. But its real merit lies in the fact that it requires a direct act of civic responsibility from persons who intend to exercise their civic rights. Certainly it's not unfair to say that anyone who fails to do so little for his state does not deserve a vote.

Still more of the poll tax law's merit is inherent in its application. Requiring an act of responsible citizenship, as it does, assures a more responsible class of voters. It eliminates many of the free riders and something-for-nothing people from a voice in our elections. It reduces the opportunity of demagogues to promote their own interests by appealing to the socialistic inclinations of such people.

Furthermore, its worthy of note that poll tax does not fit as well in the scheme of crooked politics. It's comparatively easy and inexpensive to muster mass votes from people who don't know or care what's going on, as long as each vote costs only 25 cents. But paying $1.75 per vote to stuff ballot boxes gets expensive. We can expect better government if we see that votes do not get too cheap.
