VFW Flag Service Donates $600 to Hospital and JCs

The evident satisfaction in official circles over the nuclear test ban agreement with Russia is disturbing, but we still have reason to hope that it will not get final approval of the Senate. A good deal of opposition existed there from the beginning, and we can depend on a powerful presentation of objections which may convince cautious men that we have far more to lose than to gain if the treaty goes through.

Despite the fact that the idea itself has a strong humanitarian appeal, there are practical reasons why it should not appeal. All nations would like to avoid the atmospheric pollution resulting from test fall-out. And certainly all would be pleased by a decline in the threat of nuclear warfare. But one has to ask one's self honestly whether those objectives will actually be achieved by the agreement. Will it really stop the fall-out, or just postpone it until Russia is ready to test again? Will it deter Khrushchev's intention to keep driving for nuclear superiority, and to use it if it serves his purpose?

Some very reliable reports point to the probability that this agreement is another Khrushchev trick to gain time in his race for superiority. He has done lots of testing lately to check on results of his laboratory work. On the other hand this country is at the stage where some of its work needs testing. Observing the agreement now practically stops, or at least seriously impairs our progress of development. It's understandable why K shows his delight. The ban serves his purpose.

But you can bet his attitude will change when he is ready for more testing. The agreement will become as worthless as the previous one was. Remember how that one turned out? He started with propaganda blasts at this country. Said we were preparing to test so he had no other course. Days later the explosions were going on, indicating that preparations were in progress long before. That's his way. That's the kind of deal we are naively being suckered into the second time. But still lots of folks high in our government are hailing this agreement as a wonderful contribution to world peace. What makes them think his agreement is any more dependable than the other?

What makes them think that can depend on the Soviets in any agreement? The record shows that Russia broke 50 of the 53 agreements it made since the World War. With such a record, can it be trusted? You know the answer. This is just another deal in which we will do as we agree and the reds do as they please. They will abide by it only as long as it serves their purpose.

The most frightening thought about this is the possibility of success in the red scheme. If we fall back to second place in nuclear power rating what will be the chance of preserving world peace? What will be the chance of our own survival? While we held the big stick we were able to command respect even though the Soviets had a big advantage in conventional arms. We cannot feel safe unless that ratio is maintained.

We hope the Senate will consider the agreement primarily along those lines. If so it needn't even bother to waste time on details of the document. The really important things are that no one can expect an agreement to be honored by men who have no honor, and we can't afford to lose time in the race for superiority.

Above all, let's not lose sight of the fact that we are presently at war with Russia. We still call it a cold war but we are also aware that the Soviet objective is to conquer and enslave us. We are losing that fight, floundering nearer and nearer the brink of disaster. It makes us wonder . . . will we ever start winning or will we just keep backing up until it's too late?

To our way of thinking it's essential that we hold our nuclear superiority. It's also essential that we stop helping the enemy and let his ugly empire tumble from its own rottenness and inefficiency.

It's pathetic that we have been and still are going along with a red scheme by which we pay for our own repeated defeats. Directly and indirectly

Folks who use the VFW flag service to display Old Glory on commemorative days during the year have indirectly contributed $600 to community improvement. That is, $400 to the Muenster Hospital and $200 to the Jaycees for the tennis courts in the city park.

The donations were made by the VFW Post out of the first two years of their flag service earnings.

Sixty seven individuals and business firms are now subscribing to the service for a fee of $14 a year. For that the flag is placed in front of their homes or business houses on the 14 days officially designated for flying the nation's colors and also on special community events. On an average the flags are on display about 16 or 17 times during the year.

The donation represents practically all of the flag service profit for two years. Balance of the revenue is needed for service at $100 a year and for payment on flags and receptacles.

The VFW Post also makes a special request of its flag service subscribers. Each person is asked to bring the flag inside in case of rain. Obviously the service men do not have time to gather all the flags in case a shower comes up. So far luck has prevailed and there has been no rain on a flag day. But such luck cannot last, and subscribers are asked to cooperate in keeping flags dry.

Rain Measures .90 Total for Year Is Far Below Normal

Occasional showers Monday and Tuesday, adding to .90 inch, brought welcome drought relief to Muenster and nearby area, but its benefits did not reach far. Most of the community got little or no rain. Also welcome, and more general, was a drop in the temperature. Arrival of clouds and the scattered showers over North Texas broke the recent series of 100-plus days.

The rain brings Muenster's moisture measure for July to 2.37, which is slightly below normal for the month, and far below community needs after the previous shortage of moisture, especially the .67 which set a new community record of dryness for the month of June.

So far in 1963 Muenster has had three months breaking former records of dryness — .10 in January, .40 in February and .67 in June. March was not a record breaker but it was a puny 1.19, completing the driest first quarter ever known here.

Dandy rains in April and May changed the crop situation from critical to good. Wheat yields were high, oats below normal but far from crop failure. Hay fields, pastures, corn, sorghums were all brought up to par, only to get a big let-down in June. There have been exceptions, however. Timely showers came to some areas, and the result now is that corn and maize crops range from good to poor.

Dryness has also hampered plowing in the community. Not much was done before the rain early in July, and activity soon tapered off again as the blazing heat steamed the moisture out of the land. Total rainfall for the year now stands at 13.71 inches, about 6 or 7 inches below average for this time.

Muenster Sends Representative to Firemen's School

Alvin Hartman was Muenster's representative last week at the 34th annual firemen's training school held at Texas A&M College.

The course, recognized as one of the most advanced in the world, presents the latest developments in equipment and methods for fighting fires and instructors from fire departments all over the nation which are especially noted for their efficiency.

It was attended by 1086 firemen from 431 cities of Texas, 8 cities of other states and 3 foreign countries. Along with their training they got to see a display of more than $200,000 worth of fire fighting equipment.

The course was divided about 50-50 between theory and practice — in the classroom and at the permanent facilities built especially for the school, at which students get experience at various kinds of fires. This year emphasized oil fires and about 70,000 gallons of petroleum products were used.

The purpose of the school is to make new methods and equipment available to all cities. Those who attend are expected to make reports to their respective departments. Its value has been recognized by the State Fire Insurance Commission to the extent that each city represented gets a reduction in its key rate. As a result Muenster's cost in sending a representative is more than offset by local savings on fire insurance.

Myra Church Will Have Homecoming Sunday, August 4

Myra Baptist Church has completed plans for a Church Homecoming Sunday, Aug. 4. The program will begin at 10 a.m. and will conclude about 3 p.m.

NEWS OF THE SICK

It happened Friday on the farm when he pulled at an iron gate and it fell on him. He's in traction and will be a patient indefinitely. His parents take turns staying with him. Cute and funny cards will mean a lot to the young patient and help him pass the long days in bed.

Mrs. James Eckart was dismissed from Nocona Hospital Saturday after five days of hospitalization and leg surgery for varicose veins.

Baseball Tourney Scheduled Here For August 9-11

Plans are in the making now to have a hot baseball tournament here on August 9-10-11. The event, sponsored by Muenster Jaycees, will present teams of no age limit, probably consisting of young men who have been out of school a few years.

Six teams are entered and they will play seven games in deciding the titles of champ, runner-up and consolation winner. Game times are set for 5:30 and 8:30 Friday and Saturday and Sunday games will be continuous starting at 2. Ample time spacing in the evening games is planned that way in order to avoid the twilight period when the ball is harder to see. As scheduled the first should be finished in daylight, the second will begin after dark.

Also, the field is due to be brighter than it has been all season. Willie Walterscheid, tournament manager said twenty 750 watt lights will be replaced by 1500 watt lights and four more big bulbs will be added.

The schedule of games and tournament rules will be determined in a meeting next Tuesday of representatives from the six participating teams.

Mr. Hanna said Wednesday that the place will be stocked at convenient times during August. Meanwhile the owners will attend to licenses and other necessary details and be ready to begin business on September 1.

Mr. Hanna has rented the house at 412 Maple as his home but did not indicate how soon he and his wife will occupy it.

The two nuns will continue to Ireland visiting at Dublin, Knock and Killarney and leave August 20 for home with the rest of the tourists.

When Mr. and Mrs. Weinzapfel left Monday they drove to Memphis, Tenn., with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders who took their nephew Carl Webb, back after his visit. At Memphis the plane loaded for the trip overseas.

Sam Biffle, 90, Pioneer of Area Dies Saturday

Jacob Samuel Biffle, better known as Sam Biffle, died at 2:45 a.m. Saturday in Gainesville Hospital. He was 90, a Myra pioneer, and a former resident of Muenster.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in Vernie Keel Chapel at Gainesville and burial was in Fairview Cemetery. Officiating ministers were the Revs. Lary Eaton, Methodist, and Max Love, Baptist, both of Myra, where Mr. Biffle resided about 50 years. He was a Methodist.

Bearers were Joe Enderby, Morris King, Albert Reiter, Ike Townsley, John Richey and Rafe McElreath.

Mr. Biffle was born Sept. 11, 1872, in Tennessee and was a young lad when his family moved to Myra.

At the time Muenster was being colonized and had no railroad. He worked with a livery stable at Myra and drove many of the new settlers to Muenster after they got off the train at Myra. The trips were made in horse-drawn buggies.

He also homesteaded at Guymon, Okla., as a young man and, back in Cooke County, served as foreman for R. W. Trew on his farm north of town for more than 30 years farming and raising cattle. Local people recall that he was adept at trapping coyotes and often brought them into town.

His wife to whom he was married in 1900 died at Myra in April 1940.

He was still up and going until Jan. 1961, when he broke a hip. Since that time he was in a rest home at Gainesville but recovered sufficiently to be up and around.

Surviving are three sons, Jack Biffle of Myra, Bill Biffle of Rosston, and Edgar Biffle of Oroville, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Anna Mae Campbell of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Winnie Lou Barksdale of Chico, Calif., a sister Miss Iva Biffle of Gainesville, 15 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

MORAL ISSUE

The president continues to insist that, in the nation's racial crisis, "we are confronted primarily with a moral issue." He has not elaborated, as the plaintiff in a legal case should, so he lays himself open to questions.

It is risky to mix the moral with the political — but he has done it, so it is fitting that he be put on the stand for cross-examination on the morality of other issues in government.

For instance: Is it moral to follow the communist line, which is an atheistic, god-less line? (The American Communist party long has advocated that Mr. Kennedy now asks the Congress to approve as civil-rights bills.)

Is it moral to lend indirect support to the forces of disorder and violence — many of which forces have communist-front affiliations?

Is it moral to take a man's income tax and, without his permission, spend it abroad as "foreign aid" in countries which deny the existence of a Supreme Creator and imprison those who want to worship as they please?

Is it moral to "manage" news, when the American people have a right to the truth?

Is it moral to foster inflationary policies which reduce the value of insurance and annuities that people invested in for their security? Is this any different from stealing out of their pockets?

Is it moral to protect statutes that encourage women to bear children out of wedlock? Is it moral to permit lag-gards and indolent to loaf half the year on unemployment compensation, while the conscientious continue to work for a living?

Is it moral to prosecute a farmer whose only offense is raising a little wheat to feed his own livestock?

If these questions seem ridiculous, then so is the insistence that a political potato like civil rights be baked and served with a "moral" wrapping.

Truth is, nearly every problem in this country can be interpreted as a "moral issue." The racial struggle is no more entitled to this exclusive designation than aid to communist Tito or compulsory unisonism.

The civil-rights struggle is like so many others in statecraft: It has the elements of prejudice, selfishness, greed, sincerity, sectionalism and votes. It even has the element of morality — but it isn't "primarily" so.

NEW 'SKIN GAME'

We thought we'd encountered just about every kind of confidence game. But we came on a new one, and we're quite sure the bleeding hearts of government are not likely to do much about it.

A woman reports she had $75.24 due as a refund on her 1962 federal income taxes, and she was offered a choice of taking the money or U. S. bonds. Since she did not propose to spend the money right away, she said she would take the refund in bonds.

After the normal wait, she received a $25 (maturity value) bond and a $50 (maturity) bond plus a check for $4.24.

It didn't seem just right so she did a little figuring, not being a product of the current non-counting school programs. Since a $25 maturity bond has a cost of $18.75 and a $50 bond costs originally only $37.50, her figures indicated she was receiving only 60.49 instead of the $75.24 she had coming. If she waited 10 years for the bonds to mature she would receive back a little more than the amount of her 1962 refund. But the interest would be only about one-half of one per cent to say nothing of the loss of value of her money through inflation.

She has a few questions:

1. "Why should I have to wait 10 years for my 1962 tax refund?"

2. "What is the point of offering bonds as refunds?" "Purchase price is the same for all. Why charge me for the interest?"

She checked with the local internal revenue office and was told it was a mistake. So she wrote to the District office, and received a letter back indicating there was no mistake and that's the way it should be figured.

She's still trying to get the rest of her refund, either in bonds or money.

As we said, the lawmakers who are so concerned to see that businessmen and loan agencies do not "cheat" their customers with hidden charges probably will not be much interested in doing anything for this individual who is being "taken" by the agents of the government.

WHAT PRESIDENT KENNEDY CAN DO FOR HIS COUNTRY

Nobody could take all the foos out of the country but, if foos got the country into its present mess, they should certainly be fired from positions of trust in government.

We mention this because there is a tiresome running battle between so-called "liberals" and "conservatives" over whether our nation's present peril was bought about by subversives. The "liberals" scream back at "extremists of the right" for accusing them of being "infiltrated by the Americans for Democratic Action (the ADA)" and accuse the "conservatives" of being "nothing less than Birchites," whatever that is.

All the uproar is beyond the point. Whether deliberate subversives or blundering soft-heads guided the policies that led America down into this valley, the important thing is to get rid of them if the nation is ever to climb out. The end result is the same, whether the guidance be treason or folly. Our nation has been placed in its greatest peril. Our atom bomb secrets were stolen. The Red military machine in Cuba is just a step from our "soft underbelly." Brazil, Mexico, Venezuela are tottering. The cancer of Communism threatens our half of the world. The greatest intelligence at our command is now required to redeem and hold for free men the Western Hemisphere at our doorstep. And, on that, survival depends:

A nation that condones and excuses fools is in just as much danger as one that allows deliberate treason. If our government has been "infiltrated by fools," they should be kicked out and not upstairs. If myopic-eyed stupidity is the internal threat to our security it must be removed just as fast and just as completely as subversion.

Mr. President, we remind you of a memorable sentence from your own acceptance speech when you took over the helm of the United States: "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country."

It applies to you. What you can do for it — you, personally — is to fire from all appointive positions and places of trust the proven idiots who led us down the path of folly. Get rid of the fools.

SO WE'RE COMPLAINING

Carlos Todd, former political editor of the Times of Havana, and a victim of the Castro crackdown on the independent press of Cuba, is considered one of the best-informed and most reliable sources of information on what goes on in Cuba.

Commenting in the June 29th issue of his non-profit Cuban Information Service, published in Coral Gables, Fla., on the State Department announcement that Russian troops in Cuba were "thinning out," Editor Todd says:

"Cuban exile leaders scoffed at the notion that Russian troops had left the island in appreciable numbers. Tony Varona of the Cuban Revolutionary Council stated: 'The information received from Cuba, from our clandestine cells, says exactly the contrary.' Manuel Artime said that "very few troops have left. On the contrary, "technicians" continue to arrive." Luis Conte Agüero maintained that 8,000 troops had arrived at Santiago de Cuba last month, in full view of the population of the city. Another Cuban exile leader pointed out that many Soviet troops have changed over to Cuban uniforms and insignia; but people inside the island are not fooled."

Editor Daniel James of the Free Cuba News, published in Washington, asks in his July 6 issue: "Is Russia withdrawing troops from Cuba?" and answers:

"The answer, from inside Cuba, is no. US claims of a 'thinning out' of Russian forces," he says, "... are contradicted by underground sources and newly-arrived refugees who say that, on the contrary the Russians are digging in deeper."

"Families of Russian soldiers are coming into Cuba, according to a Matanzas lawyer, Ricardo Fernandez. To him that means that the Russians intend to stay.

"An incoming former Uruguayan Embassy employee says, 'The Russians are all over Cuba.' That is just one of innumerable reports ... that today, Cuba is swarming with Soviet citizens.

"More and more Cuban military installations are coming under Soviet control. ... Testimony taken from more than 400 (refugees) who recently escaped reveals that Soviet officers are in command of Cuban troops which are to be used in crushing a Hungary-type revolt

"Cubans are being steadily evicted from residential areas in the cities of Havana, Camaguey, Santiago, Matanzas, Caibarien and Santa Clara to make way for incoming Soviet military 'technicians,' according to escapees from these cities."

Against that background, it is interesting to note that our State Department has asked Britain to forbid planes from Cuba to land on her tiny Grand Cayman Island, where "Communist agents and troublemakers" from Cuba are said to change planes for Central American countries!

Perhaps we should ask ourselves: "How did they get to Cuba in the first place?" And: "What are we going to do to disinfect this plague spot?"

Golden Years Club Has 17 Grandmas At Noon Luncheon

The Golden Years Club reorganized last Wednesday when Mrs. Dick Cain was hostess in her home for a covered dish noon luncheon attended by 17 grandmas.

After the meal, Mrs. Ada Mitchell of Hardy who is in her 80s played the piano for group singing of old time favorites. Mrs. Mike Schilling and Mrs. Denis Hofbauer presented accordion selections and two of the grandmas did some old-fashioned dancing. They went through a two-step and some waltzes.

The group plans to meet regularly and set Wednesday, Sept. 18, for the next get-together. Mrs. Tony Trubenbach Jr. will have the meeting in her home.

More members are welcomed. All that's required is to be a grandmother and bring a covered dish to the luncheons.

"See that man over there?"

"Sure. What about him?"

"He saves fifty dollars a day."

"Man, he must have a good job!"

"No, just an ordinary job. But he rides to work every day on the bus and there is a fifty-dollar fine for annoying the driver and he doesn't annoy him."

Seven Girls in FB Queens Contest to Compete for Crown

Seven Cooke County girls — four of them from Muenster — will be competing for the Farm Bureau Queen's title on August 12, according to announcement by Mrs. B. F. Almon, chairman.

Contestants are Misses Sandra and Debbie Cain and Rita and Linda Fisher of Muenster, Gayle Paclik of Gainesville, Kay English of Rosston and Sue Dillard of Sivelis Bend.

The queen's contest is set for 8 p.m. on August 12 at Cooke County Junior College. A rehearsal will be held at the college on August 9.

Girls participating in the contest must be a daughter or sister of a Farm Bureau member actively engaged in agriculture production. All girls must be 16 by Sept. 1, 1963 and not over 22 by that date.

Each contestant will be required to speak about one minute on "Why I Am Glad My Family Belongs to Farm Bureau." Girls will be judged on grace, poise, charm, vivaciousness and other qualities that go to make up future homemakers. The three main points to be judged are appearance, poise and personality.

The seven attended a special meeting last Tuesday to hear Mrs. Jack Beall and Mrs. Robert Blaine who discussed walking, the art of pivoting and the art of makeup.

Edna Rose Hagan And Herbert Knabe Wed in Fort Worth

Miss Edna Rose Hagan and Herbert Knabe exchanged wedding vows Saturday in St. Patrick's Co-Cathedral at Fort Worth in a 7 p.m. service. The Rev. Michael Flanagan performed the double ring ceremony and was celebrant of the nuptial mass.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lois Hagan of Clyde and Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Knabe of Muenster.

High mass was sung by the male choir and Mrs. Patricia Bradley was organist. They presented Ave Maria when the bride placed a bouquet on the Virgin's altar.

The bride's formal gown of white silk organza over taffeta was designed with a fitted basque of Chantilly lace. The Sabrina neckline was embroidered with pearls and iridescents. Long sleeves tapered to points over her hands, and the bouffant skirt was embellished with lace medallions sprinkled with iridescents. A large flat Dior bow enlivened the back of the skirt. Her triple tiered veil of illusion was hand made by Mrs. Martin Becker and cascaded from a crown of pearls. She carried white gladiolus and valley lilies on a lace covered prayer book. Her father gave her in marriage.

Miss Cecilia Hagan of Clyde was her sister's maid of honor wearing pink lace over taffeta. The dress had a rounded neckline, cap sleeves and bell skirt. Her pink chiffon headpiece was covered with veiling and her flowers were pink carnations and roses in a crescent arrangement.

Naval Airman Pat Knabe of Point Mugu, Calif., was his brother's best man.

Charles Sicking, Muenster and James Hagan, Lubbock, were ushers.

Wedding reception was held in St. Anne's Club with sisters of the couple as members of the house party. Miss Mary Knabe registered guests, and Misses Elizabeth Knabe and David Wayne and Nancy Dussault star in the world premiere of "Apollo and Miss Agnes," Broadway bound musical to be seen at the Dallas Music Hall Aug. 5-18. Featured supporting roles go to Portia Nelson and Reginald Gardiner.

"WHEW!"

"And I've really been busy keeping you folks cool!"

Weeks before the official first day of summer, June 21, many Texas thermometers had already topped the 100-degree mark and the temperature has been soaring to record-breaking readings almost weekly since then.

Yes, our summer weather arrived early, but thanks to air conditioning, the heat has been a little more bearable for the thousands of people who have given Reddy Kilowatt the job of removing heat from their homes and providing mountain-cool comfort.

So, if your electric service bill is a little higher than usual, consider how much more work Reddy is doing night and day to keep you comfortable. Electricity is still the biggest bargain in your household budget!

Sister Christine Makes Final Vows At OLV Convent

Relatives and friends of Sister Christine — the former Miss Edna Hesse of Muenster — were in Fort Worth Friday to witness her perpetual profession as a member of the Sisters of St. Mary of Namur at OLV Convent. Three other nuns made perpetual vows in the services.

Attending the 8:30 a.m. ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Werner Cler, Mrs. Nick Yosten, Tony and Theresa Hesse, Bernard Hesse, Agnes Eckart, Mrs. Leo Hesse and daughter

Margie, and Mr. and Mrs. John Rohmer, all of Muenster; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Neu and daughters Diane and Janelle of Madill, Okla., and Jane Hesse, Ida Rohmer and Johnny Rohmer of Fort Worth. Also Sister Christine's sister, Sister Roberta, a cousin Sister Francesca Walterscheid, and Sister Marie Cecile Endres, of the convent. The group visited together after the services.

Sister Christine will teach school at Denison when the fall term opens.

Richie, you're a pig, You know what a pig is, don't you?"
"Sure, Daddy. A pig is a hog's little boy."

Forestburg Sets Homecoming Date Sunday, August 11

Annual Forestburg Homecoming has been set for Sunday, August 11, and Forestburgers are going all out to make it one of the best ever. Meeting place will be in the park south of the log cabin.

Social activity will begin at about 11 a.m. and will follow worship services in Forestburg's three churches, Baptist, Methodist and Church of Christ.

Everybody is invited and all who come are being reminded to bring eats and drinks for a picnic at noon. Pre-Homecoming events are two rodeos in the Forestburg arena. The rodeos will be held on Friday and Saturday nights, August 9 and 10.

Every year science enables us to get there more quickly. If it would only provide something to do when we arrive.

"Brothers", said the preacher, "the subject of my sermon today is liars. How many in this congregation have read the 69th chapter of Matthew?" Nearly every hand went up. "You are the people I want to preach to," said the reverend. "There isn't such a chapter."

"Quick, quick!" screamed the small boy, rushing into the drug store. "My Pop's hanging by his pants legs from a barb wire fence!"

"What do you need?" asked the druggist. "Is he hurt or do you need help in getting him down?"

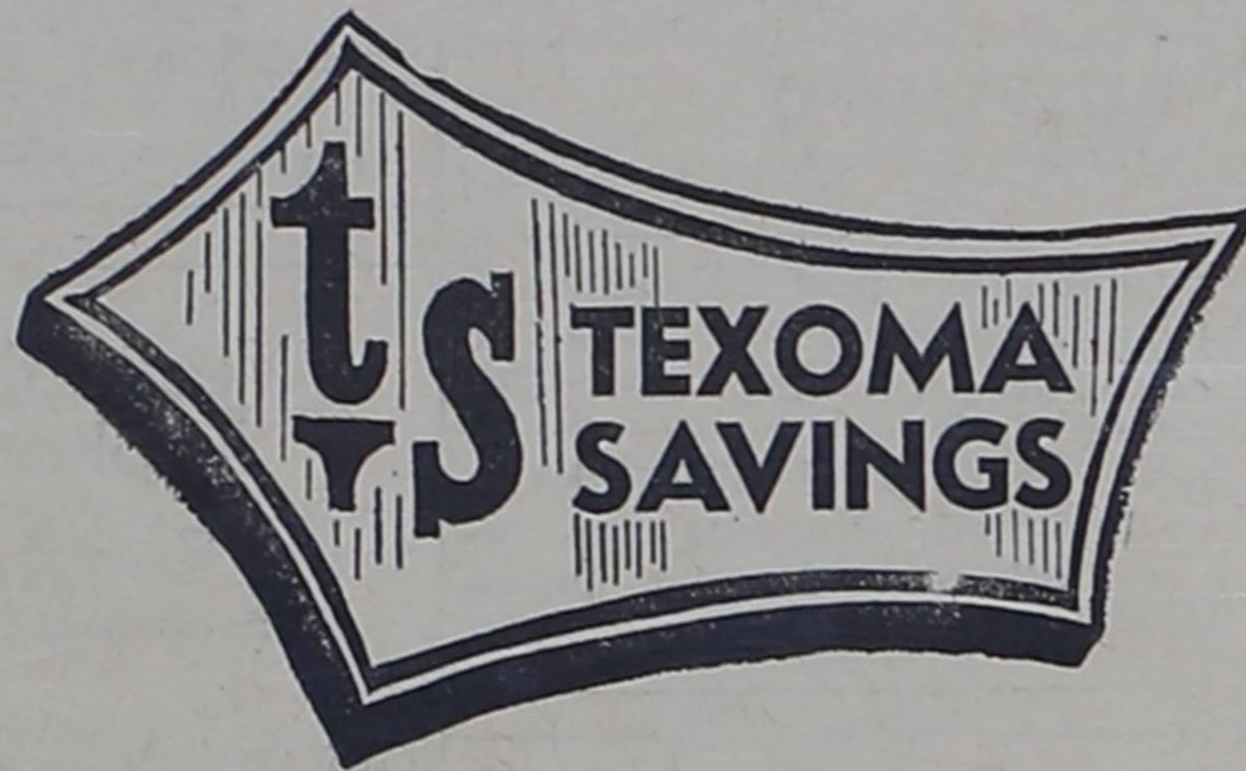

"No, no," shouted the boy. "Just gimme another roll of film for my camera!"

An old lady walked into court and addressed the judge, "Are you the Judge of repro-bates?"

"I'm the judge of the pro-bate," he replied. "Well, I reckon that's it. You see my husband died de-tested left me with a couple of infidels and I want to know if I can be appointed their ec-utioner?"

Family Fun Is Not Affected by Rain On Vacation Trip

Rain plagued the Lawsons, but didn't dampen their enthusiasm for sight-seeing and camping-out on their vacation this year. They had to dry their tent out several times — by automatic dryer and lantern — but considered it all great fun and crowded in a lot of tourists attractions and scenic beauty.

The Lawsons — Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lawson and children Margaret Ann and Jimmy and his mother, Mrs. E. S. Lawson — traveled through the Texas

Panhandle, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas and Oklahoma.

In the Colorado Springs area they visited Seven Falls, Garden of the Gods, Ghost Town, Cliff Dwellings, North Pole, St. Jude Shrine, zoo and Will Rogers Shrine. They also visited with a John Hartman brother of Stanley Hartman of Sadler, friend of Leo, and he accompanied them on some of the tours.

Monument Lake, Canon City, the Royal Gorge with a ride on the railroad to the bottom and a walk over the hanging bridge, were other highlights. And there was some fishing, Estes Park, Boulder and Denver also provided interesting sights.

Another time they camped near Mt. Elbert in the Arapaho Forest camping area where it was very cold. They enjoyed the beautiful drive along the west side of the Continental Divide into Wyoming. Visited Old Faithful and saw it "play". Also saw Great Fountain Geyser "play". The bears delighted Jimmy.

Several times they had to run from the rain and from weather alerts but they visited Boot Hill Cemetery and Museum in Dodge City, Kansas. Finally the Quartz Mountains and other points of interest in Oklahoma before crossing the line back into Texas and home.

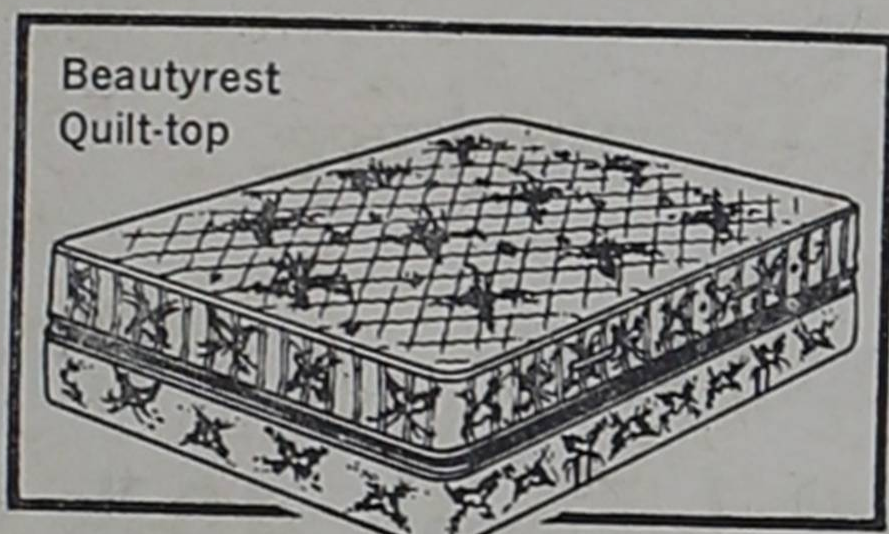

You can't take it with you but can send it ahead.

we have paid billions to sustain a system that could not sustain itself. But we keep on sending aid, feeding the monster that seeks to devour us. Isn't it time to stop that foolishness? That subject has been aired plenty in recent years. The wheels of Washington should have known long ago what is happening. Also that a very effective way to start winning the cold war is to be sure our help goes only to friends. There should not be another penny of aid to any red country, nor to so-called friendly countries that accept our handouts while dealing with the enemy.
