CROWDS RUSH AL SMITH'S TRAIN IN CHICAGO

ALTHOUGH the Al Smith Special was switched into an isolated section of the Chicago railroad yards, five hundred Chicagoans stormed the private car in which Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their party were riding. At the right is Smith's daughter, Mrs. Emily Warner, and at the other side, in the shadow of the brown derby, is Mrs. Smith. Notice the upraised hands.

TWO MILLION PAID FOR PHONE STOCK

STOCKHOLDERS of the West Texas Telephone Company have sold their entire holdings in that city in order to handle the business more satisfactorily. Mr. Strickland said Wednesday morning. "The Brownwood district exchanges, including sixteen exchanges owned and operated by the West Texas Telephone Company and four others which our company has acquired in this territory, will be operated from the district offices here as in the past, and we contemplate no change whatever in the operating policies. We will strive to give the people who have been served by the West Texas company the same type of service as heretofore."

The purchasing company, which for some time has maintained its general headquarters at Little Rock, Arkansas, has established general offices in Dallas, which is the center of the territory in which it operates. District offices for the management of the group of twenty exchanges will be maintained in Brownwood, Mr. Strickland said, and there will be no change in the policies of the company here and probably no change in the operating personnel.

Fred W. Greber, J. H. McKee and other officials of the West Texas company will continue temporarily in charge of the business of the West Texas company's group of exchanges. Mr. Greber stated Wednesday morning that his plans are not matured, but that he expects to remain in Brownwood until the first of January, at least.

Over Hundred Exchanges

The Southwest Telephone Company operates more than a hundred exchanges within two hundred miles of Dallas, according to Mr. Strickland. They include 22 exchanges in the Georgetown district, 23 in the Grand Saline district, 20 in this section, 19 at Fredericks, Oklahoma, 20 at Wreath, Oklahoma, and 21 in the Little Rock, Arkansas, district, not including the Little Rock exchange.

County Superintendent Oscar Swindle declared at the good roads meeting at Memorial Hall Tuesday that he saw in the building of good roads in Brown county an opportunity for the upbuilding of the rural schools of the county to a degree that could never be brought about without the roads.

There should be a system of rural high schools, Mr. Swindle declared, and this would depend upon the transportation facilities afforded by the better roads. He said that the progress of nations was measured by their transportation, and that this was equally true of counties and sections of country. Mr. Swindle brought out this phase of the road movement near the close of the meeting when he asked permission to speak and presented this very important angle of the road question.

For Whole County

Another speaker who especially stressed the road proposition affecting and benefitting the county as a whole was E. B. Gilliam. Mr. Gilliam declared that while the roads would benefit Brownwood greatly, he would not be for the road bond issue if it were something to benefit Brownwood to the exclusion of the other parts of the county. He believed that the roads were something that the entire county needed, that the program for building had been so mapped out that the entire county would be benefited.

The largest crowd that has been assembled during the present road campaign, and the largest that has gotten together in Brownwood for the discussion of any public question in several months, attended the meeting Tuesday. Fred S. Abney presided and called on quite a number for expressions concerning the campaign. That those present were practically unanimous in favor of good roads and for voting the bonds to secure the roads was shown when Mr. Abney that work was needed to carry on a thorough campaign and to get all facts concerning the road issues before the people, and that all might be called upon for work. He asked all who were willing to do whatever they could to aid in the campaign to stand, and practically all present rose to their feet.

Mr. Porter discussed several other road questions and issues that have been raised, and said that many inquiries had been received from other counties as to the Brown county plan. He believed that no other plan had been worked out that so fully provided for all parts of a county.

H. V. Hennen, city manager of Brownwood, spoke briefly to the meeting as a representative of the city council. It was explained that members of the council would have been at the meeting but for the fact that the regular weekly session of the council was convened at that hour. Mr. Hennen said that he brought the message that the mayor and council were one hundred per cent for the road proposition. He said that he also brought the message that they were ready to cooperate to the full extent of their ability in building the connections of the roads through Brownwood when they are built to the city limits.

Reports By Chairmen

A lively feature of the road conference was the hearing of reports from the chairmen of the road wards in Brownwood, as they were called upon by Chairman Abney to make a statement for their respective wards.

Will H. Talbot reported for Ward 4, Brooke Ramey for Ward 1, W. D. Armstrong for Ward 2, and G. B. Bohannon for Ward 3. Ernest Clardy spoke for Woodland Heights. They are reported organization under way or getting under way to see that everybody was fully acquainted with the good roads proposition and to get out a full vote on election day. Ben Stone was called on for a report as to his precinct. He said that he didn't know but one vote that he could influence, and that was his wife's. They were both going to vote for good roads.

Among those making short talks in the interest of better roads were Louis Yarbrough of Bangs, Dr. Joe E. Diddy, P. A. Glanville, Mrs. Ira Hall, Mrs. W. D. Armstrong, Mr. Patterson and Mr. Reynolds, Judge E. M. Davis and F. W. Greber.

Perry Taylor said that while some in his precinct, Mt. View, just west of Brownwood, were against the road bond issue, he wanted to state that they were not all against it.

FIVE MILLION DOLLARS LOSS RESULT STORM

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 20.—(P)—Property loss of $5,000,000, river floods and extensive damage to the crops and buildings are described in newspaper dispatches from Tampico as the result of a heavy storm which has been raging in the region between San Geronimo and Tuxpan for several days. Petroleum companies suffered considerable damage.

The region affected is on the north coast of the state of Vera Cruz. William Gren, superintendent of the La Huasteca Petroleum Co., was given authority for the $5,000,000 estimate of damage. He was quoted also as declaring the visitation was the worst of its kind that he had seen in his thirty years in that zone. No loss of human life has been reported.

The La Huasteca and the El Aguila Petroleum Companies suffered their losses when the floods damaged docks and other equipment and carried away barges whose steel mooring cables were snapped by the forceful waters.

Another violent storm was reported in a dispatch to El Universal from the west coast seaport of Manzanillo in the state of Colima. A heavy gale pounded the harbor and forced the steamer Washington to cast loose her moorings in order to avoid being pounded against the docks.

CURTIS TELLS SIOUX TRIBES HOW TO VOTE

ROSEBUD, S. D., Sept. 20.—(P)—Responsibilities of the newly acquired citizenship of the Indians were stressed in an address today by Senator Curtis, a son of the Kaw and the republican vice-presidential nominee, before the Sioux tribes.

Tracing his own ancestry back to the Sioux, Senator Curtis who spent some of his youth with his Kaw kinsmen, devoting most of his long prepared address to words of caution and suggestions to his "Red Sioux" brothers.

He cautioned them particularly against the use of "firewater" or liquor and against excessive indulgence in "modern dancing." He urged them to vote, to go to school, to build homes and to till the soil.

A good attendance at a road meeting held at Cross Cut last night, with a good interest shown in the pending bond election and the move for better roads in Brown county, is reported. The meeting was held in the Cross Cut Methodist church.

Those attending the meeting from Brownwood and discussing the road question with the people of Cross Cut and some of the neighboring communities were Fred Hayes, Gib Callaway, H. Burks and E. P. Kilgore. E. B. Phillips and Emmitt Evans were at Cross Cut during the day and took occasion to talk over the good road program with several of the citizens.

The pamphlets "Facts" which give a comprehensive statement of the proposed road program were distributed, and the program as outlined was discussed by the speakers. Several people from Byrds attended the meeting. A poll was taken of those living within the Cross Cut precinct, and it is said that of these all present were for the road bond issue.

Fred Hayes, chairman of the Young Men's Good Roads Organization of Brown county, and County Judge E. M. Davison will attend tonight. Mr. Hayes and others will attend a meeting at Winchell Friday night and at Brooksmith Saturday night. H. Burks will attend a meeting at Thrifty tonight.

BEATS COTTON CROP

In his opening remarks Mr. Abney called attention to the fact that voting of the $1,850,000, together with the amount that would be received from the state and federal highway departments, would mean the putting into circulation here approximately $3,000,000 for labor and material, and pointed out the benefit this would be to the people of the country, in addition to securing the good roads.

L. G. Porter of Bangs, was the first speaker called upon. Mr. Porter referred to the pamphlet "Facts" and know the facts.

Mr. Porter referred to the tax rate of 48 cents, which has been

TWO CHEMISTS BADLY BURNED

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 20.—(P)—Two chemists of the Gulf Refining Company were burned severely and another slightly burned in an explosion in his company's laboratory on the fifth floor of the Gulf building today.

The explosion, which blew out all the windows, drew hundreds of persons to the busy streets below, and witnesses said that just after the blast flames shot out of the windows and reached two floors above.

The injured were J. Von Henst, E. T. Gregg and C. H. Davidson. The latter was the least severely burned.

Gregg said the explosion occurred while the chemists were conducting an experiment in cooling gasoline. The blaze was extinguished quickly. The blaze was extinguished quickly.

QUELL PRISON RIOT AFTER TWO DAYS OF DESPERATE BATTLE

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20.—(P)—Tear gas and isolation of the alleged ringleaders of the "Noise Riot" and battle which kept the Maryland state penitentiary in an uproar for two days, today seemed to have quelled the rebellion which has had city police officers on duty at the prison since Monday night. Throughout last night quiet reigned in corridors to which the recalcitrant inmates had been removed, some by force, yesterday. The 100 who still balked at work yesterday and continued the strike which followed the "Noise Riot" of Monday night were still adamant in their demands that a public hearing be given the prisoners on charges that cruel treatment was used in administration of the prison.

MINES FIELD, Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 20.—(P)—The class A division of the $20,000 Los Angeles-to-Cincinnati air derby got off to a late start here today when eighteen planes, held up since four a. m., took advantage of a sudden lifting of a heavy fog and began taking the air for El Paso, Texas.

Entered in the race were several veterans and prize winners of the Class A race of the national air meet from New York to Los Angeles, completed last week. They include T. W. Kanyon, Boston, in a Challenger; Eugene Deimas, Tarrytown, N. Y.; Travalar; R. E. Dake, Pittsburgh, American Moth; M. E. Greenberg, a Lincoln-Page; W. N. Emery, Jr., Bradford, Pa., Travelair; George Hopkins, Detroit, Stinson Junior; S. J. Wittman, Pleasanton; A. S. Kreider, Haverstown, Md., Challenger; and Sidney Riley, Travelair.

The course takes in three night control points, El Paso, Fort Worth and Pine Bluff, Ark.

BYRD STARTS EXPEDITION

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 20.—(P)—Commander Richard C. Byrd's aerial feet set out today for its great adventure at the bottom of the world.

The giant whaler Larsen, said to be the largest in the world, swung into the stream of Hampton Roads and the second ship of the Antarctic expedition was under way. Aboard were the four planes and the pilots who will guide them over the frozen mountains of the South Pole.

RAIL COMMISSIONER RETURNS FROM MEET OF I. C. COMMISSION

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 20.—(P)—Lon A. Smith, railroad commissioner, returned today from St. Louis where he attended a conference of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

One of the purposes of the conference was to determine whether petroleum and its products should be classified as farm products, rates on which are being investigated under the Hoch-Smith resolution passed by Congress. Smith said.

The commission determined that crude petroleum was not a farm product, but that petroleum products should be added to that classification.

THRILLING RESCUE FROM LEAKY STEAMER

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(P)—The thrilling rescue of a woman and two children from a leaking San Francisco steamer off Cape Hatteras was described today in radio messages from the liner Guayaquil.

Caught in the terrific West Indian hurricanes, the lumber steamer Willabaco sprang a leak. On board were the Captain C. H. McGahan of Brooklyn, his wife and two small children, a boy and a girl and crew of 39 men.

The crew worked night and day at the pumps, but the water finally reached the engine room. With the gale raging, the steamer drifted helplessly.

Yesterday the Willabaco's SOS was picked up by the steamship Guayaquil of the Panama Railway line. The Guayaquil went to the rescue, and the skipper's family were transferred to her in the high seas.

Captain McGahan and his men refused to leave their ship. A hawser was finally made fast to the Mallory tanker Hoxbar, bound from Cartagena to Bayonne, N. J., which also had responded to the SOS.

The Hoxbar is towing the Willabaco to New York through comparatively calm seas today. The Guayaquil is scheduled to dock late tomorrow or Saturday.

CHARGE FOUR WITH FORGERY

Francis Brewer of Brady, who was charged with forgery in justice court Tuesday, was given an examining trial before Judge E. T. Perkinson Wednesday morning. At the conclusion of the trial, Brewer's bond was placed at $1,000.

According to the testimony of Robert L. Robertson, teller at the Citizens National Bank, which was taken before Judge Perkinson Wednesday morning, Brewer is said to have presented a check for payment to the Citizens National Bank, Sept. 11, for $240, said check being drawn on the Citizens National Bank made payable to Frank Taylor, signed by Zeno Stapleton and endorsed by Frank Taylor. Robertson stated that he paid the $240 to Brewer, who it is alleged forged the name of Frank Taylor to the check.

Tom Gardner and Walter Irvin, both of near Brady, are also charged with forgery in connection with the same check. It is alleged that the two, working together, wrote the check and signed the name of Zeno Stapleton to it. Neither Gardner nor Irvin had been arrested Wednesday.

Zeno Stapleton also of Brady, is charged with forgery in justice court here, it being alleged that he presented for payment a check for $340 to the Citizens National Bank drawn on the Charles Schreiner Bank of Kerrville, made payable to Zeno Stapleton and signed by J. F. Gardner. It is alleged that Stapleton left the check with the bank for collection and that the check was honored when presented to the Kerrville bank. Stapleton was given credit for $340 by the Citizens National Bank. It is stated, it is charged that Stapleton made a check, he had not been arrested Wednesday noon.

Stapleton is said to have stated that he left the check drawn on the Kerrville bank with the Brownwood bank for collection and that when notified that the check was good and that he had credited with $340 he issued a draft to his home bank for the $340. This draft was not honored, it is stated, and Stapleton came to Brownwood to investigate and found that the check for $340, alleged to have been signed by him and made payable to Frank Taylor, had been deducted from his account.

It is stated that Stapleton then made complaint to local officers and that as a result four men named have been charged with forgery.

Service Troops to Stage Competitive Drill Here Nov. 12

Captain John Shockley, commander of Company A, 142nd Infantry, located in Brownwood, announces a feature Armistice Day attraction in the nature of a competitive drill between his company and Company B, 142nd Infantry, located in Coleman. Captain Shockley recently issued a challenge to First Lieutenant Elgin Shield, commander of Company B, and the latter has accepted the challenge.

According to Captain Shockley, the competitive drill will be staged in the afternoon just prior to the Armistice Day football game to be played between Daniel Baker and Austin College. If present plans materialize the drill will be staged on the Daniel Baker football gridiron just prior to the Billy-Kangaroo clash.

Ranking officers of the 142nd Infantry will be invited to come to Brownwood for this occasion and serve as judges of the competitive drill. For several years Company A has been the leading company of the 142nd Regiment in drill but the Coleman Indians indicate that Company B will be given much practice between now and Armistice Day in an effort to win from Company A the laurels now held by that organization.

Net Seeking State School

Representative D. R. Montgomery of Edinburg has announced that Edinburg will not seek to have the State establish a university, a technological college or a State teachers' college in that city. This statement came as a result of a recent announcement that the South Texas Chamber of Commerce proposed to add technical work to the State Teachers' College at Kingsville and that Edinburg would endeavor to have the State take over the Edinburg Junior College and make it a South Texas Technological College, Edinburg, he says, is pretty well satisfied with its splendid junior college.

Fire Losses Heavy

During the last five year period losses totaling $75,851,333 were paid out by fire insurance companies operating in Texas, or more than $15,000,000 a year. The premiums collected by the companies, according to the report of the State Fire Insurance Department, were $136,107,000, the average loss ratio of losses to premiums collected being 55.7. However all of this difference does not represent profits to the insurance companies, as the operating expenses of the companies are given at $58,628,480, leaving only a small margin for carrying the risks. The figures, though, show that Texas fire losses have been excessively heavy and make too much of an financial burden, which in the ultimate must be borne by the people.

Free Fair Pays

The Tri-State Fair Association at Amarillo has accumulated a debt of $14,000 after five years' operation. It has hit upon the novel plan of free admission to pay off the debt and advance of the opening, which is to be next week, the plan gives promise of succeeding. The receipts are coming altogether from concessions, exhibit profits and commissions. Free parking and camping spaces are provided for all who may wish them. Free entertainment features have been contracted. Sunday night has been set apart as "Ministers' Sunday Night," and the churches have arranged for an imposing program including a chorus of 500 voices. Already more money has been taken in than last year.

Uvalde Gets Water

Uvalde seems to be on the way to solving its water and irrigation problem for all time. Texas have resulted in the discovery of apparently inexhaustible submerged streams of sufficient capacity to provide all the water that may be needed for domestic uses and irrigation, and reports, "the fountain head for irrigation in this part of Texas." Texas is only beginning to realize that the best development of any town or section rests upon a plentiful supply of water properly conserved and utilized.

Highway Department Saves

It is to the credit of the State Highway Department that at the end of the fiscal year, September 1, it had an unexpended fund of $177,000, after all its expenses had been met. The appropriation for the department for the year was $778,343. To save one-seventh of an appropriation for its support is something of which to be proud. Usually when any branch of a government finds the year coming to a close with money likely to be left over, ways are studied and provided to use all the budget, on the theory that if it is not used it will be difficult to get as large an appropriation in future.

Reduces Light Rates

Something unusual, and almost unheard of in public utility management, is taking place in Central Texas. A power and light company serving a large number of small cities and towns has voluntarily reduced its rates, in some places the reduction being approximately 23 per cent. Such action tends to dispel the opinion generally held that corporations are grasping and hard-hearted. Public utility companies need only to be fair and to take the public into their confidence to remove whatever prejudice there may be against them.

Hotel Building Goes On

There seems to be no end to the building of hotels in Texas, not only in the cities, but in the towns as well. This indicates that the people travel and have money to spend for their comfort. In a paper just read, a single issue of the paper, there are news reports of hotel buildings at Austin, Point Isabel, Mason, Crystal City, Yoakum, Llano, Taylor and Cisco, and these are not half the hotel projects under way throughout Texas at this time. Texas is getting ready, with modern hotels and tourist camps, to lure the traveler that comes this way from other sections as well as for that necessitated by its business.

Edgar Godbold, President of the Howard Payne College, Brownwood Baptist institution, Tuesday was appointed chairman of this senatorial district by Alvin S. Moody, chairman of the Anti-Smith Democrats of Texas.

In a letter to The Associated Press, made public Tuesday, Mr. Moody said that if Texas could vote tomorrow, "Hoover would carry the state by 100,000 votes."

Mr. Moody announced the appointment of the following Senatorial District Chairmen and Chairwomen for his organization:

INTERIOR OF NEW DRUG STORE IN KEEPING WITH ITS NAME—THE PALACE

Palace Drug Company, Brownwood's latest and most modern drug store, located on Austin Avenue, offers something to the public that very few smaller stores in Brownwood can offer. The store is suitably located to serve business men not only in their places of business, but in their homes as well.

The Palace Drug Company is like its name—a Palace. The interior of the store is beautiful, more so than any other in town, and this alone, probably accounts for the rapid growth in trade that the store is experiencing.

When we say that the interior is beautiful, we are not saying enough, and neither are we doing justice to the store. Although the complete interior has not been finished, what has been completed is best, and in many cases, original ideas were brought forward. Probably the most original ideas put forth in the erection of the store, and the arranging of the interior, is the clear case, and desk, each being made of brick, with the necessary glasses inserted, making a stationary case, as well as an attractive one. The desk is likewise made of brick, with a top that can be used for a desk, wrapping counter, or, or practically any other use that might be needed for. The front of the desk has a glass inserted, and the interior contains notions, and other similar things offered for sale by the store.

The desk and cigar case are interestingly some of the originality used in finishing the interior of the store; however, there are many other things on the inside that are as attractive, if not more attractive than the original scheme used by those in charge of the arranging the interior.

White Tile Floor
The floor of the store is of white tile, which blends with the color of the cases and fountain, as well as the wall, to make a beautiful color on the inside of the store. To those who drive up to the new drug store, and get curb service, they do not know what they are missing by not going on the inside and see the beautiful view attract their eyes. One cannot keep from noticing the many features that stand out before them when they enter the store.

To those patrons that visit the store for fountain service, and who do not wish to have it served them

OPENING NEW DRUG STORE LATEST STEP EXPANSION SOUTH SIDE BROWNWOOD

The opening of the Palace Drug Store on Austin Avenue is another step in the rapid growth and expansion of that section of Brownwood south of the Santa Fe railroad. An area of the city that was for many years without a business house of any kind, has now a large number of thriving businesses and they are growing rapidly, both in the number of establishments and in the metropolitan character of these institutions.

There are now over 50 business concerns, stores and filling stations, caterers and so on. It is said, south of the Santa Fe in Brownwood. A check up a few weeks ago showed that there were 48 business establishments on Austin and Coogan Avenues alone, and the number has increased since that time. To this is to be added the business houses on other streets in that part of the city.

Subway Store First
The Subway Grocery and Market, the Bulletin is informed, was the first business concern to be established in that part of the city, or in other words, it was the pioneer in that part of the city. That was some twelve years or so ago. A ride through that part of Brownwood now will quickly reveal how great the growth and development has been in these dozen years.

The South Side, or that section south of the railroad, has in a way been a favorite residence section of the city all through the history of Brownwood, but it is only in recent years that the move toward making it a great residential section became general.

Now, as was pointed out by a Brownwood citizen in conversation only yesterday, you will not go many blocks through that part of the city, without seeing three or four houses under construction, and as soon as these are completed others are started.

Changing Conditions
As was pointed out by Mr. Brooke Smith a day or two ago in commenting on the growth of that part of Brownwood, the automobile and the telephone are making a wonderful difference in the settlement of cities. The rapid growth of the south side of Brownwood in latter years, without going into further discussion, is an illustration of that fact.

Forty and fifty years ago, said Mr. Smith, a great many had an idea of locating on the south side of Brownwood—or at least that that would be a very desirable part of the city—but it was not until the founding of Daniel Baker College, thirty-seven years ago, that there began to be any settlement in that section. Then that section built up for two or three blocks around the college but waited for several years to spread over the large area that now makes up that thriving section of the city.

Parking Space
The tendency in what may be termed the suburban store to build back several feet from the sidewalks has been noted with interest in relation to the business feature of the extension of the areas of this and other cities. Parking space is getting to be one of the big American problems. Every city has such a problem to deal with.

The building back from the sidewalks by the suburban stores makes a great convenience for customers who drive to the stores in their cars to do their shopping, and who do not wish to be continually hurried by the fact that their car is in the street and must be moved, and who do not wish to park their cars several blocks from their shopping.

The room afforded in the front of these buildings, enabling customers to wait with their cars until their shopping is over without blocking the street is a convenience that is greatly welcomed.

Work faithfully for eight hours a day and don't worry; then in time you may become the boss and work 12 hours a day and have all the worry.

Silas: "There goes Hi Smith. Hi ain't the man he used to be."
Zeke: "No, and god darn him, he never was."
"I shall never marry," Reginald declared, "until I meet a woman who is my direct opposite."
"Well, Reggie," said Mable, "there are a number of intelligent girls in this neighborhood."
"Could you give a poor fellow a bite?" asked the dust-stained tramp.
"I don't bite myself," answered the lady of the house, "but I'll call the dog."
"Do you see much of your husband?"
"About an hour each day."
"Oh! What a shame, dear."
"It's all right, darling. An hour soon goes."
A doctor had been to see one of his patients, a widow.
"You are worried slightly morbid, my dear lady," he said. "You should look about you and marry again."
"Oh, doctor, she answered coyly, "is this a proposal?"
"Allow me to remind you, madam," came the reply, "that a doctor prescribes medicine, but he doesn't take it."

Not only music that is provided for by music can be heard at the Palace, but out of the best radios that money can secure has been placed in the store, and music from all corners of the earth can be heard coming in nearly every hour of the day, reports of baseball games, and soon football games will be heard. This is only one of the many attractive things that can be found at the store.

Even the show-windows are of the latest type, with plenty of space for display, and arranged so that the customers at the curb, as well as the people that pass along the street, can see the merchandise displayed.

Fountain Service
To merely mention the fountain that has been installed, would not do justice to it, because it is exceedingly attractive, and has every modern convenience, that an up-to-date fountain should have, which makes it very easy for the clerks to make the drinks, and to rush the service.

Decorations have been placed in the most attractive places in the store and in some of the places that are not so attractive, making those places loom up and appeal to customers.

It might be appropriate to give a brief description of the arrangement of the interior of the store. On entering the store the first thing that greets the eye on the right is a large Zenith electric radio, which furnishes music for the store. Behind the radio is the magazine rack, with various magazines. Then comes the cases that are arranged along the wall containing various types of articles, in plain view of the customer. On top of the cases are some very beautiful pictures, with the necessary decorations around them to enhance their beauty. On the right side of the store in the rear is a door leading to the spacious store-room in the rear. The cases in the middle of the store in the back contain various articles, most of which can be reached while standing on the floor. Then on the left side of the entrance door can be found the cigar case, made of brick, which is very original.

In line with the cigar case, extending along the left side of the room is the soda fountain, attractive, yes, modern, decidedly so. Next, the original desk of brick looms up, and a door leads to the rear of the building from this side, as from the right side. Back of the fountain, starting at the cigar case, and extending to the rear of the room is a large case and mirror, containing various types of articles, and the mirror is just back of the fountain, reflecting the view of the customers as they stand at the fountain or as they pass about in the room.

A Real Modern Store
This is merely a brief outline of the arrangements in the store, but it will serve to acquaint you with the arrangements.

Taken as a whole the Palace is indeed and in truth a real, modern drug store, that has opened for the supreme purpose of serving the public, and is accomplishing that aim.

They would and do appreciate the patronage of their friends and welcome all to the Palace of Brownwood.

"Why, Sam, you don't mean to tell me you've taken up begging?"
Sam: "Yessah, boss. Ah ain't got no other way to get along."
"Why, you told me once that you had a business."
"Yassah, Ah did have a business—a one-hand laundry, but Ah-dote lost my business."
"How did you come to lose it, Sam?"
"Well, sah, de way it was, she just up and divo-ed me."
Generous Uncle: "Have you got a dime bank, Willie?"
Wise Willie: "Nope, but I got a bill fold."

ELEGANCE MARK OF OUTFITTING NEW STORE

If you haven't been out to the Palace Drug Store, 1419 Austin Ave., you'll enjoy a visit there just to see the beautiful new fixtures with which the place has been fitted up. Everything is new and attractive, and in several instances, original ideas have been introduced with very pleasing effect.

The cigar stand and the wrapping stand, or counter, each has a beautiful front constructed with ornamental brick from the Texas Brick Company plant in Brownwood, and the fountain counter, between these two stands, has a front of beautiful tiling.

The fountain itself is a very handsome piece of the store's equipment.

There are still other improvements to be made, the management states, and the store altogether will present—and indeed already presents—a very metropolitan appearance.

STANDARD NEW MERCHANDISE IN DRUG STOCK

Newness, completeness and standard quality are three terms most applicable to the stock of goods with Brownwood's latest drug store, the Palace, has provided for its patronage.

The store carries a full line of high class staple merchandise, such as is found in the best and most modern drug stores. Toilet sets, stationery, school supplies and all the first class and attractive lines expected in an establishment of this kind.

A full line of Coty's Preparations and Flours D'Amours Preparations and Karess lines, and in fact the toilet goods and so on most popular and most in demand have been supplied here.

The Palace also carries a good line of magazines and readers will find it a convenience place to select the periodicals they desire. Of school supplies the Palace will always have a complete lot of all that may be needed for the colleges, high schools and rural or graded schools.

The fountain service is the pride of the Palace and is already establishing the popularity of this new business. A fine line of nice fresh candies is kept in stock.

Salvador's most important export products—coffee and sugar—are shipped in imported jute bags, 65 per cent of which are purchased in England and 20 per cent in India.

SPACE FOR NUMEROUS CARS AT PALACE CURB SERVICE

While the ample space for car parking is by no means the only merit of the fountain service at the Palace Drug Store, the new establishment at 1419 Coogin Avenue, that is a feature that is adding greatly to the curb service there.

Located on the corner, the place has room for ten to fifteen cars at a time, a nice, attractive paved space for all of them, without blocking the street. No trouble about parking space while being served, and no crowding in to the street or blocking traffic, together with the prompt service from the elegant new fountain, makes stopping at the place for drinks an unusual pleasure.

STORE IS NEW AND MODERN IN EVERY RESPECT

When the public accepts the invitation of the Palace Drug Store, 1419 Coogin Avenue, to attend its formal opening Friday night, it will be to see an institution in Brownwood that is new in the completest sense of the word.

The Palace is a new business institution of this city, and in choosing its location it has extended its class of business into a new part of the city. It is in a section where some other nice business houses have been serving the public for some time, but where there has been no drug store heretofore. And the drug store is now an outstanding one among them.

A new brick building, erected especially for the drug store, new fixtures and an absolutely new stock of goods fully entitle it to be known not only as something new, but also entirely modern.

The Palace, not waiting for its formal opening, has been doing business for two weeks, and the management is greatly pleased with the patronage received. The store has had a fine trade, they state, and the curb service from their fountain appears to have made a popular appeal from the very first. While getting ready for the formal opening, and while hoping to have everybody there then to receive their formal greetings, the management wishes to pause even now to express its appreciation of the patronage that has been received and to extend its sincere thanks to all customers.

The proprietor and manager of the new store is Tully Embrey, and associated with him is his brother, Myron Embrey. And at this point the word new only partially applies. It is true that the Embrey brothers are in a new business, that they are in a new building and have a new stock of high class and popular lines of the goods found in the modern drug stores, and that they are proceeding with a new determination to give the people of Brownwood and the surrounding country a service that is unsurpassed in their line, but they themselves are not new to the people of Brownwood. Both were born and reared in Brown county and they have a host of old friends that will extend congratulations and good wishes on the opening of their new business.

Light Lunches Are Included In Palace Service

The soda fountain service at the Palace Drug Store will include toasted sandwiches and light lunches. This will be convenient for school trade, or for any one wanting a lunch at any time of the day. Care will be taken to keep this up to the high standard of the general service of the new store.

Very Pleasant Evening Assured All Visitors To Palace Formal Opening

The public is very cordially invited to attend the formal opening of the Palace Drug Store Friday, Sept. 21, from 6:00 to 11:00 p. m. There will be something to entertain all visitors during these hours.

While the invitation is to a formal opening, there is nothing formal about the invitation itself. The management extends a heartfelt invitation to all to be present. A welcome awaits everybody. More than that, a delightful treat awaits everybody, as fountain drinks will be served free throughout the evening.

Not only is every one welcome to the free fountain drinks, but the Palace management will take great pleasure in serving the free refreshment drinks on that evening to the public as its guest, and hopes that no one of the hundreds, who may attend this opening, will go away without being served.

And that is not all. There will be cigars given to the men, and favors to the ladies.

There will be music and other entertainment. Just what the program will be has not been announced, but it is said that there will be many enjoyable and entertaining features and that at whatever time within the hours named for the reception any one may visit the store there will be something in the way of entertainment to be enjoyed.

Again, it may be repeated, the Palace management extends to everybody a very cordial invitation to its formal opening.

PALACE HEADS WELL KNOWN CITIZENS HERE

Tully Embrey, proprietor and manager of Palace Drug Store, is well known both to the citizens of Brownwood and Brown county as a whole and to the druggist trade.

Mr. Embrey was for four years with the Peerless Drug Company of this city, and was also formerly with the Camp-Bell Drug Company. He has been engaged in Brownwood and Brown county for the last five years.

Mr. Embrey was reared in Brown county, as was his brother, Myron Embrey, who is associated with him in the Palace management. Both have host of friends who congratulate them on the opening of their new business here and wish them much success in the enterprise. They extend all friends—and the public generally—a very cordial invitation to attend the Palace opening Friday night.

You May Listen In On The Ball Games At Palace

The Palace Drug Store management is installing a $300 Zenith radio for the pleasure and convenience of its customers. You are invited to visit there for the ball game reports or for radio programs in which you may be interested.

"Any installments due today?"

"No, dear, I think not."

"Any payments due on the house, the radio, the furniture, the rugs, or the books?"

"No."

"Then I have ten dollars we don't need. What do you say if we buy a new car?"

If this column were devoted to telling the ladies how to be beautiful we could think of nothing better to say to them than to remind them of the fine line of standard toilet preparations at the Palace.

If you have passed this way you have noticed that nice and ample parking space for the Palace curb service.

It is nearly seven weeks till the general election, but the man who comes to the Palace drug store, service is already elected.

Something to read? You find the magazines at the Palace.

Some of the towns are sending parties to visit the neighboring towns on "friendship trips." Every trip you make to this store we look upon as a friendship trip, says the Palace management.

Into a druggist's shop came a woman with a bottle which she handed to the proprietor.

"Is this all right to take?" she asked.

"The chemist carefully inspected the bottle.

"You didn't buy it here," he said.

"Oh, no. It's nerve tonic I saw advertised, and I thought you'd tell me whether I ought to take it."

The chemist handed the bottle back.

"I don't think," he replied, "there is any necessity for you to take it. There's nothing wrong with your nerve."

A man was "surprised" while robbing a store in San Antonio, the other morning, the papers tell us. He was surprised by the officers while he was in the store. Now we don't want or expect anything to lead to surprises of that kind, but if you haven't already been to the Palace you will certainly be surprised by the beautiful and well stocked new store that you will find.

SCOUTING FOR THE PINK BOLLWORM

Field scouting to determine if any new pink bollworm infestations have appeared in the 1928 cotton crop along the Rio Grande is now under way, according to George B. Becker, Entomologist in Charge, Pink Bollworm Field Service of the Plant Quarantine and Control Administration, United States Department of Agriculture.

R. W. White and two assistants are in charge of the scouting work, assisted by a corps of twenty-seven trained men who are thoroughly familiar with the life history and the habits of the pink bollworm. These men are now scouting in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and as the season advances will cover other sections in Texas and Arizona where, in the opinion of the Department, there is danger of infestation.

The conditions under which the cotton is produced on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, together with the fact that pink bollworm infestations have in the past been known to occur across from Eagle Pass and Del Rio, Texas, provide a source of possible infestation which make it necessary to keep a close watch along the Mexican border to be certain that any stray invasions of this insect are located as soon as they happened to become established. It has been found that trash removed from cotton by the cleaner at the gin contains a large number of insects of various species and that the pink bollworm will be very likely to show up in this trash when infested cotton is ginned. Supplementing the field scouting, inspectors examine the gin trash at all the ginning territory being scouted as an added precaution in checking up on the distribution of this insect.

Mr. Becker said that every possible precaution is being taken to prevent an extension of the pink bollworm into the main cotton producing areas of the cotton producing present extent of infestation and by the enforcement of regulations in the quarantined area which will prevent the insect from being carried into new territory.

MOODY WON'T TALK FOR AL

DALLAS, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Jed C. Adams, National Democratic Committeeman from Texas, announced today that Governor Dan Moody had declined his request that he speak for the National Democratic ticket at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo September 22 to 29.

Adams, in a telegram to Governor Moody last Saturday, urged the Governor to accept the Amarillo engagement on the ground that 35,000 to 50,000 persons would be there to hear him. Governor Moody's answer, received today, was brief.

"Your wire. Cannot arrange to fill date at Amarillo. Regards."

It was understood that Governor Moody had not yet replied to a request from Senator Millard F. Tydings, Maryland, Chairman of the National Democratic speakers committee, that he stump doubtful states for the national ticket during October.

George B. Terrell, Commissioner of Agriculture, in a letter received at State Democratic headquarters today urged that Governor Moody should be asked again to stump the state for Governor Alfred E. Smith and Senator Joe Robinson.

These two men can do more than any in Texas if they will," he wrote in part. "They said they would support the Democratic ticket. Let's see how strong they will go in its support."

BROWN COUNTY FAIR CLOSED

Brown County's Sixth Annual Fair came to a close Saturday night after a five-day session and according to officials of the Brown County Fair Association, under whose auspices the 1928 exposition was held, this year's fair was one of the most successful held here in recent years. Despite the fact that the entertainment program arranged for the fair did not function in entirety as anticipated, the 16,000 or 18,000 who paid admission to the fair grounds and grandstand were well pleased with the entertainment offered.

Total gate receipts at the entrance to the fair grounds and to the grandstand amounted to $5,250, according to Rev. C. A. Johnson, president of the Board of Directors of the Brown County Fair Association, who also had charge of admission. Dr. Johnson estimated that the total attendance at the fair, including those who attended the races, was approximately 16,000 or 18,000. Those who carried passes and season tickets attending the 1928 exposition swelled the total attendance to approximately 30,000. It is estimated. Dr. Johnson stated Monday that a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Fair Association would likely be held Tuesday and at that time a final checkup can be had of the receipts and disbursements.

DISCUSS PENDING ROAD BOND ISSUES AT BLANKET TUESDAY

Fred Hayes, Gib Callaway and W. L. Thomas attended a road meeting at Blanket last night. Callaway and Hayes made speeches for good roads.

There were about 30 Blanket voters present at the meeting, it is stated, and interest was shown in the discussion of the proposed bond issue.

Mr. Hayes, chairman of the Young Men's Good Roads Organization of Brown county, went thoroughly into the plans made out for road work under the proposed bond issue. Mr. Callaway discussed the importance of road improvement. He referred to his opposition to certain road bond issues before coming to Brown county, but said that the plan proposed here was the best that he had ever seen worked out in any county and one that he believed ought to meet with the favor of the people.

Young Brownwood Cow Makes Record For Silver Medal

Benedictine's Golden Cleo, a purebred Jersey heifer owned and tested by Shelton Brothers of Brownwood, has qualified for a silver medal in an official production test started when she was just two years of age. In this test Cleo produced 492.82 lbs. of butterfat and 19,811 lbs. of milk in 305 days. Her yield of butter fat was above $9.00 per month for four months of this test and she was with calf for 215 days of the ten months, qualifying for a silver medal awarded by the American Jersey Cattle Club.

Benedictine's Golden Cleo is the seventh daughter of the silver medal bull, Benedictine's Ruler, to complete an official production record. Her dam is Jolly's Golden Cleo, a cow which holds the junior two-year-old 305-day record for Texas. As a junior two-year old she produced 529.19 of butterfat and 2,222 lbs. of milk with calf. A year later she made a record of 659.21 lbs. of butterfat and 11,749 lbs. of milk.

FAVORS FARM AID SMITH SAYS IN SPEECH AT OMAHA TUESDAY

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer
OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 19.—(AP)—

With a flat declaration that he favors the "principle" embodied in the twice-voted McNary-Haugen bill as a working basis for adequate farm relief legislation, and he did not consider liquor "the great issue" in the present campaign, Gov. Smith has opened his drive for the presidency in the West.

In an auditorium crowded to the doors and as millions listened throughout the nation over the radio, the Democratic presidential nominee, in his first campaign speech in the heart of the corn belt, last night tore into the Republican party for what he termed its failure to keep faith with the farmer, in naming by name his opponent, Herbert Hoover, and President Coolidge in his indictment.

His own solution, he said, and one on which he and the Democratic platform stand squarely, was the principle laid down in the McNary-Haugen bill to "establish an effective control of the sale of exportable surplus with the cost imposed upon the commodity benefited."

He added, however, that he did not "imitate" himself to the "exact mechanics and method embodied in that bill" and proposed, if elected, immediately to name a non-partisan commission to work out the details of the problem. The equatorial line was not mentioned.

His references to prohibition came at the end of his hour address, which was delivered for the most part extemporaneously when he answered a series of eight questions propounded to him in a full page advertisement in the morning newspapers by ten Nebraskans who styled themselves "Citizens classified all of them as Republicans."

Liquor Stand
In his replies, he declared in substance that the president can do no thing about liquor, except to make recommendations to Congress and assume a leadership on the question, and further that he would not attempt to persuade any Democratic member of Congress to go against his constituents if they wanted prohibition.

The governor emphasized at the start of his address that he would speak in plain language so there could be no misunderstanding of where he stood on any question and would carry this policy out for the rest of his campaign which carried him southward today to the border state of Oklahoma for a speech tomorrow night at Oklahoma City.

"Various people have attempted to misrepresent and confuse my attitude with respect to the McNary-Haugen bill," he said. "I do not propose to leave the slightest doubt in anybody's mind on that subject. As I read the McNary-Haugen bill, its fundamental purpose is to establish an effective control of the sale of exportable surplus with the cost imposed upon the commodity benefited."

"For that principle the Democratic platform squarely stands, and for that principle I squarely stand. Mr. Hoover stands squarely opposed to this principle by which the farmer could get the benefit of the tariff. What remains of the McNary-Haugen bill is a mere matter of methods, and I do not limit myself to the exact mechanics and methods embodied in that bill."

Continued, the nominee, interrupted frequently by applause, said there was "a clean cut issue which the farmers and students of this country must decide."

"It remains but to work out the details," he added, "by which this principle shall be put into effect, and I have pledged myself to name a non-partisan commission of farm leaders and students of problem to work out these details. I shall make that appointment, if I am elected—not when I take the oath of office as president, but immediately after election; and I pledge to the farmers and to the people of this country that no stone will be left unturned to give immediate and adequate farm relief by legislation carrying into practice this definite principle for which my party and I stand."

Here ended the prepared address given out in advance to newspapermen, and the nominee took up the questions asked him in a newspaper "open letter" addressed to him.

Several American collar companies have attempted to enter the British market, but only one has attained any success.

crow in one of the banks of that city for several days pending the passing on all titles and other details necessary to the final closing of the transaction, and representatives of the purchasers left immediately for Brownwood with the papers to be recorded.

The leases involved in this sale have a present daily production of 600 barrels. It is understood that the purchasers will proceed with other production there.

Headed by Hoffman
The Anna Belle Oil Company was headed by P. L. (Pete) Hoffman, an operator, well known to the oil men of this and other fields, and was named for his wife. The leases sold embrace a total of 996 acres, as follows: J. S. Armstrong lease, Patrick Curlong survey, 306 acres; C. P. Dunn lease, Curlong survey, 20 acres; E. P., C. M. and W. H. Kilgore lease, Hugh McClure survey, 240 acres; E. P. and W. H. Kilgore lease, Hugh McClure survey, 240 acres; E. P. and W. H. Kilgore lease, N. B. Mitchell survey, 75 acres; Roy Hickman lease, John McGloin survey, 180 acres; H. H. Henslee lease, Curlong survey, 25 acres; C. T. Butler lease, John McGloin survey, 100 acres, and Thomas Benson survey, 50 acres.

These leases were practically all obtained by Hoffman in the early days of 1923, but the organization of the Anna Belle Oil Company and the development of the production is of more recent date, some good wells there having been brought in within the last few weeks. The production is on the Armstrong, Moore, Hickman and Butler leases.

Tennessee Concern
Young Brothers & Alexander is a Tennessee Corporation with a Texas permit, with offices in Fort Worth. They have been operating in this section of the state for some time. They were represented in this transaction by Woodruff & Holloway of Brownwood. The Woodley Petroleum Company is a Louisiana corporation with a Texas permit, with principal office in Shreveport. The company was represented in this transaction by Bryan Stone, Wade & Agerton of Fort Worth.

Mr. Young of the firm of Young Brothers & Alexander and his son were in Brownwood Monday in connection with this deal and Major J. R. Parton of Shreveport, representing the Woodley Petroleum Company, was expected here Tuesday.

The property involved in the transaction closed Monday lies principally directly between Blake and Cross Cut, in the northwestern part of Brown county.

TWO BROWN COUNTY SCHOOLS OPEN FOR '28 TERMS MONDAY
Chappell Hill School, the only two teacher school in Brown county that will have a nine month term, opened its doors for the current school year Monday morning, according to County School Superintendent J. Oscar Swindle. Floyd S. Eoff is principal of the school and he is being assisted by Miss Lydia E. Snicke.

FEED SPECIALIST IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT DAIRY MEET HERE
Guy White, dairy feed specialist, of Dallas, was the principal speaker at Monday night's meeting of the Brown County Dairy Association at the Southern Hotel. Mr. White discussed "Balancing Dairy Rations" and the representative crowd of Brownwood and Brown county dairymen listened with interest to the talk by this specialist.

The committee, appointed recently to confer with the City Council relative to the adoption of enforcement of the Standard Milk Ordinance in Brownwood and the employment of a dairy inspector, reported Monday night and gave a very unfavorable report upon their appearances before City Council on the project sponsored by the Dairy Association.

The committee was instructed to continue to function and to work with local Parent Teacher's Associations and other civic bodies in an effort to bring the need of the milk ordinance and a dairy inspector to the attention of the City Council.

Other routine business was transacted and the meeting adjourned to meet again, October 16.

MRS. C. ROSENBERG RETURNS HOME FROM VISIT TO EUROPE

Charles Rosenberg of the Economy Store, returned Monday from New York where he has been on a shopping trip for several weeks. Mr. Rosenberg met his wife in New York, upon her return from an extended tour of Europe which took her to various points in Germany, France, Holland and England.

Mrs. Rosenberg did not return Monday, but is expected home Tuesday. She left Brownwood in April and has spent the last four months or more in travel. According to Mrs. Rosenberg, she had a very pleasant trip and visit with friends and relatives while in Europe.

LARGEST OIL DEAL CLOSED

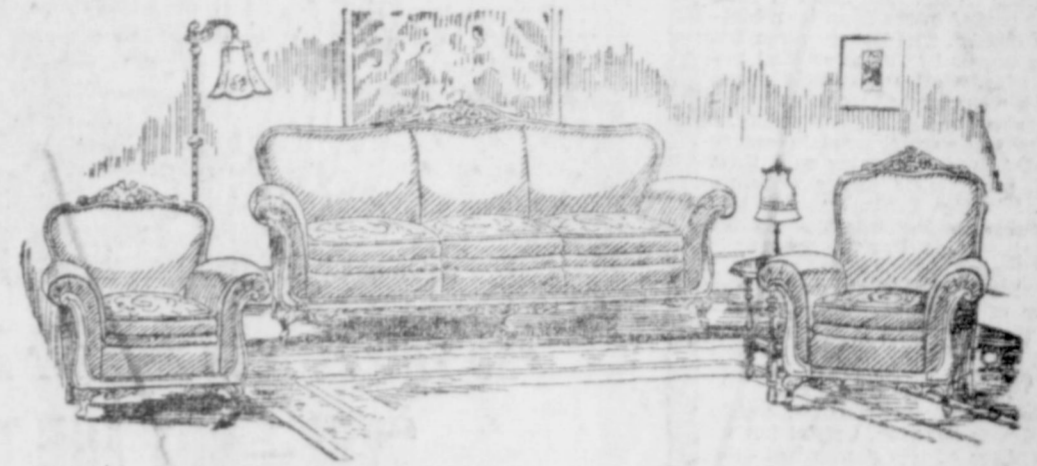

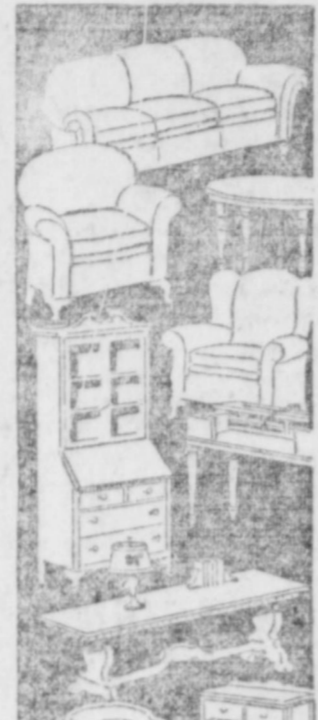

One of the largest oil deals in this section in several months was closed Monday afternoon in the sale of the properties of the Anna Belle Oil Co. in the Blake field in Brown county to Young Brothers & Alexander and the Woodley Petroleum Company for a consideration of $400,000. Of this amount $250,000 was paid in cash and $150,000 is to be paid from one-half of the owners' seven-sixteenth of the oil produced.

The deal was closed in Fort Worth Monday afternoon, where the purchase money had been held in escrow.

The Day of the Used Car Is at Hand.

TWO ARRESTED FRIDAY NIGHT GET 30 DAYS

Mose Cox and Lee Simpson were arrested about 11:30 o'clock Friday night by Night Officers Guy Preese and Joe Boyd and Motorcycle Officer King after the two men had been caught in the act of stealing an automobile casing, tube and rim from a car parked in the downtown business district. The two men ran but were caught by the three local police officers after a spirited chase. Cox is a Brownwood man and Simpson is said to live in Mills county.

The two were charged in county court Saturday morning with theft and after being brought before County Judge Davis, entered pleas of guilty to the charges against them. Judge Davis placed their punishment at fines of $50 each and jail sentences of 30 days each. The value of the casing stolen is estimated at $6 with the rim and tube being valued at $2 each. Mr. E. May owned the car from which the casing, rim and tube were stolen.

Cox was also charged in county court with carrying a pistol but no disposition of this charge had been made Saturday afternoon. It is understood that Cox now has a car on appeal from district court here, he having been found guilty of a liquor law violation and given a penitentiary sentence.

"SO YOU'VE JUST BOUGHT A USED CAR?"
"YES—BUT THE TIRES"

"Say, let me put you on to something. Good tires increase the riding ease of any car, especially a used one. The thing for you to do is to go around to the Safety Tire Company and invest in a set of Goodyear Double Eagles or Goodyear All-Weather Treads. And Mileage—I've driven mine nine thousand miles and you'd think they were practically new."

LOYD JONES MOTOR COMPANY HAS THREE USED CAR LOTS SEVEN SALESMEN IN CHARGE

During the past few years the "used car business" has been a serious problem with all automobile dealers, despite the type, class or price of automobile handled. Dealers have been confronted with the problem, that to sell a new car an old car must be taken in as a trade, at least that has been found to be the case in approximately 90 per cent of all sales. This holds true with all dealers, regardless of the state in which business has been or is being transacted.

The best policy of handling the second hand, more politely called used cars, is still a problem with all automobile agents. The used car problem starts even before the automobile dealer comes into possession of the automobile that is being traded in on the new machine. Not only must a salesman sell his customer on the new car but he must make a fair and equitable trade for the old car that is being offered as part payment on the new one. If the salesman overvalues the old car, it is done at the ultimate expense of the company and if it is undervalued, the customer is often dissatisfied with the trade.

Used Car Specialists. Lloyd Jones Motor Company, local agents for Dodge Brothers products, has taken the lead in the used car market and this department of the business is today almost as well organized and equally efficient as the new car department. Used cars have for several years been a feature with Lloyd Jones Motor Company and the success that has been attained in this field is ample proof that the used car department is being operated satisfactorily, to both agents and customer.

According to Mr. Jones, the used car department is operated on three fundamental rules. First of all, Lloyd Jones Motor Company never turns out a used car, or even offers it for sale, without first reconditioning the car. Seven experienced mechanics are used to recondition used cars taken in by Lloyd Jones Motor Company. Henry Kruttsch is superintendent of this force of mechanics and ever, car that comes into the shop is reconditioned under his personal supervision. He has been with Mr. Jones for eleven years and is therefore well qualified to perform the work entrusted to him. Mr. Kruttsch's motto in reconditioning used cars is "make it give dependable service" and that is what all cars turned out by Lloyd Jones will do.

Cleaning and Washing Plant. A second factor in the success of the used car department of Lloyd Jones Motor Company is the company's own steam cleaning and washing plant. Here the used cars are not only washed but are cleaned and cleaned thoroughly. Vacuum cleaners are used on all upholstery and the motor and chassis are thoroughly cleaned by steam. And if necessary the car is then sent to the paint shop, another department of the local company. The paint shop is equipped with the latest machinery and equipment and only the very best Duco paint and colors are used. Cars are finished in appropriate colors.

After the mechanical part of the used car has been completely overhauled and the body reconditioned the car is then priced to sell. The management fully realizes the poor business policy of keeping several hundred dollars tied up for several months in a reconditioned car and with this in view, the price placed on a used car when offered for sale is well below the actual value of the car, especially when considered from the standpoint of efficient service that will be given by that car to its purchaser.

Three Sales Lots. Used cars when ready for the market are placed on one of the three used car lots owned and operated by the company. These lots are located at Center and Chandler adjacent the main unit of the Lloyd Jones Motor Company, on Webster between Center Avenue and Park Street and on Main and Broadway, adjacent the Barr Motor Company building. These three lots make it convenient for all customers and affords the company ample room for the proper display of all cars.

The No. 1 lot is the main plant of the Lloyd Jones Motor Company, is supervised by Claude Glascock, who also supervises all the used cars traded in on new cars. Mr. Glascock also passes on all trade at Lot No. 2, which is in charge of Sid Munsey. Mr. Glascock has been with the Lloyd Jones Motor Company for one year, coming here from Oklahoma where he has spent several years in automobile sales and service.

Seven live wire salesmen are employed in the used car department and these men are only too glad to show all prospective purchasers through "Goodwill Dependable Used Cars." When wishing to purchase a used car, it will pay to visit one or all of the used car lots operated by Lloyd Jones Motor Company, is the opinion of those in charge of these efficient automobiles.

GREGG HANDLES GREAT NUMBER OF USED CARS

The Gregg Motor Company, agent for the Chrysler automobile handles a great number of used cars in a year, said Mr. McLean of that company today.

"We have learned," he said, "that many people would rather have a good used car than a new cheap one. For instance, a man may wish to own a car in the higher price field, but his financial condition will not permit his buying a new car in that class. His next thought is for a good, reconditioned car which he may obtain at a much cheaper price than a new one would cost him."

Gregg Used Cars undergo an exhaustive examination before they are offered for sale, said Mr. Stewart, salesman for the Gregg Company. Every part that is not in good running condition is replaced. The motor is gone into and where new parts are needed, where everything is not in perfect condition, that part or condition is changed.

Even the tires are, in many instances, replaced. When the rubber is too thin for a good amount of mileage, new casing replace the old ones. The salesman pointed out several cars on the sales floor wearing new tires.

It has been found at the Gregg Motor Company that in many cases a used car may be somewhat more economical than a new one. This is because the reconditioned automobile, having undergone the strictest tests, is in good condition as a new one would be, consequently saving the purchaser a great percent of the first cost of the vehicle.

Satisfied customers all over the country testify to the excellent quality of Gregg reconditioned autos.

BLACKWELL MOTOR COMPANY PRIDE IT

WE take particular pride in conditioning for sale of "Used Cars," said Mr. Bettis, the Blackwell Motor Company, this morning. "It is just as important that we have satisfied customers in used as well as new cars, conditioning a used Buick other make of used car, every that car is inspected and if any, new parts installed to put first class condition. In this way we are able to give the purchaser any guarantee against any fault or workmanship."

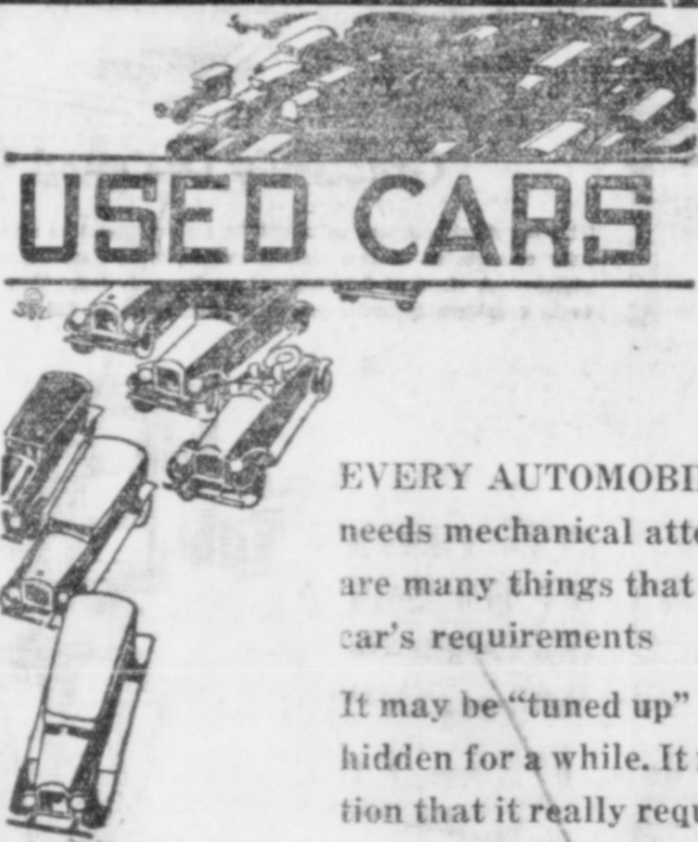

This is done, he says, so that the purchaser will be satisfied and receive in return for his money many miles of comfortable and economical transportation. That man, said the Blackwell salesman, will sooner or later become a prospect for a new automobile.

Speaking of preference for used or new automobiles, the used car expert believes that many people would rather buy a used car when they know," he said, "that they are buying a car they can depend upon. In doing this they save the depreciation on the car and usually have less cost per mile on this kind of car, than if they had bought a new car."

Customers Satisfied
Customers who have purchased Blackwell Used Cars are boosters for the company, said Mr. Bettis. "Because they know our methods of trying to give the customer value received for every dollar he puts into a used car," he gave as his reason.

The Blackwell Motor Company, during its years of service to Brownwood, has won the confidence of the citizens of this territory. For its customers, they say, are rather than the exception.

Selling the Buick car steadily giving to the public best service possible has placed Blackwell Company in a position

Pot of Paint and a Patch

EVERY AUTOMOBILE OWNER knows that when a car needs mechanical attention, or repair of any sort, that there are many things that might be done about that particular car's requirements

It may be "tuned up" a little so that its defects are perhaps hidden for a while. It may be given a partial amount of attention that it really requires and put in shape to "get by" temporarily.

It is the same with USED CARS. Many a car that we take in and expect to offer for sale again could be made to look very well with a minimum of effort. A "Pot of Paint and a Patch" might often serve to make a car salable, if we were not concerned about what happened afterwards, but we are concerned. We consider it mighty important that the USED CARS we sell shall justify every claim we make for them.

We consider it mighty important that we KNOW of our own knowledge through the thoroughness of our work, that they are ABLE to justify our offering them as: LOYD JONES MOTOR CARS.

It is important that we sell a great many USED CARS, but it is vastly more important that every one we DO SELL shall build up our reputation for fair dealing and shall deliver to the buyer complete VALUE for every penny he pays.

THE USED CAR HAS A FIELD ALL ITS OWN IN AMERICA AS DOES THE NEWER CREATION

THE Used car has a field all its own in America as does the new automobile and the respective fields of the two classes of cars used by the American automobile purchaser do not conflict one with the other. Each class of automobile fills a distinct need and automobile dealers have learned that the proper handling of used or second hand cars taken in as partial payments is a vital and important part of their business and that in offering these reconitioned used cars to the automobile public is fully realized by up-to-date dealers that a real service is being rendered.

Automobile dealers will not tell their prospective customers that a used car is better than a new one but in many cases dealers will advise prospects to purchase a good used car rather than a new one.

Perhaps the most important field of service that is served by good used cars is that of supplying dependable transportation to people who are unable or at least could not well afford a newer model. There are thousands of people today who are driving automobiles that were not for the used car market, these would be walking or be greatly inconvenienced financially if a new car had been purchased.

As A Second Car
Another popular use for used cars is that of making the used car a second car in the family that wishes to join the two-car class. Many people who could well afford two new automobiles, or even more, purchase good used cars as a "second car," to be used except on special occasions. Many business men of today purchase good used cars to use in going to and from their work, while the new car or family car is left in the garage at home or left for the use of the family. The usage of used cars is becoming more popular all the time and many families in Brownwood, as well as elsewhere, are joining the two-car class.

Local dealers, as well as owners of new and expensive automobiles, will readily point out the folly of using new cars for daily service to and from work, when the car is really driven only a few miles each day. It is pointed out that the deterioration on a new car that is allowed to sit out in the weather while its owner works, will amount to much within a year's time and that it will be much more economical to purchase a good used car and leave the new and expensive car at home to be used on special occasions.

Offer Good Values
Contrary to the general opinion that a used car is never satisfactory from the standpoint of service rendered, local dealers point out that in by far the greatest number of cases, there is more service per dollar in a used car than in a new one. This statement is substantiated by the fact that very few cars placed on the market have been driven as much as half the distance that it should be driven and still give dependable and satisfactory service.

WIFE SENTENCES ERRING HUSBAND

ROCKY RIVER, O.—Husbands in this metropolitan suburb are watching their "P's and Q's." It's all because of Mayor Leonard E. Weitz who recently permitted a wife to pass sentence on her husband, who had been arrested on a charge of intoxication. Luckily this particular wife was fairly lenient. She ordered her husband to stop driving the family car for two months. "We'll see how he behaves," she said, "while I do the driving."

A GREASY RAIN

CREBITO MINIERE, Roumania.—Oil became a real problem here recently when a gusher came through and before it could be stopped, had flooded the town. Citizens who ventured out their home used umbrellas to protect themselves from the downpour of oil.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF. © 1928, BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

On the other hand, the used car is seldom ever offered for sale at more than half its original value. Many users of automobiles demand a new car at least once a year, this being due to the fact that these users must have at their command a car that will stand the daily grind over all manner of roads and at all weather conditions for months at a time. As a result a new car is bought and another used car is placed on the market. Many drivers of automobiles are ever after the latest models and make efforts to always drive cars that are in step with the latest productions of the factories and as a result purchase new ones, trading in their old cars and in many instances these old cars have thousands of miles of satisfactory and dependable service left.

Attractive Price Made
Local automobile dealers have many good used cars for sale and all of these are offered at attractive prices. The dealers do not attempt to make a profit on their used cars, it being their object to sell these cars for the actual amount of money they have tied up in the cars offered for sale.

Loyd Jones Motor Company, local agents for Dodge Brothers products, Blackwell Motor Company local agents for Buicks, and Gregg Motor Company, dealers for Chrysler products, have an attractive array of good used cars for sale and each of these companies has a corps of salesmen anxious to show any or all of their used cars to prospective purchasers. These companies believe that it will pay one and all to visit their used car lots before purchasing a used automobile.

The companies have a complete line, including all makes and models, with prices ranging from a small sum upward, depending on the car selected.

ONE DOLLAR ONE YEAR

BILL ANDERSON DISPUTE IS ONCE MORE IN LIMELIGHT

THE dispute over whether the Bill Anderson, who died near here last November was the Missouri guerrilla leader of that name, has again been started. The following article appeared recently in The Kansas City Star.

I suppose it was because I was older and able to observe more, but my education advanced more rapidly at Gallatin. There were more notable men there than at any other place I had lived; among them a war hero who had killed Bill Anderson, a guerrilla leader, in a fair fight, and defeated his band.

In this paragraph, in his autobiographical story, "Plain People," now appearing in The Saturday Evening Post, E. W. Howe unintentionally stirred up the old controversy regarding the end of the famous guerrilla chieftain.

Was he killed at the height of his bloody career by Mr. Howe's "hero" or did he escape to Texas and there attain to a ripe old age, finally passing out as a respected, law-abiding veteran of the stormy days of the Civil War?

It is a point of history which may never be settled definitely, but most writers of the period and those living in Ray county, Missouri, at the time have united in the assertion that the leader of the "hush-hackers" was killed near Orrick, that county, by Federal "home guard" soldiers under the command of S. P. Cox, doubtless the man to whom Mr. Howe refers. The account of his death went practically unquestioned until about four years ago, when it developed that an "Uncle" Bill Anderson, then 84 years old, was living near Brownwood, Tex., claiming to have been one of Quantrell's lieutenants at Lawrence and Centralia, familiar with all the activities of the guerrillas; in short, claiming to be "the" Bill Anderson, although it was said he did not talk much "unless drawn out by particular friends."

Now Dr. L. E. Skinner, ophthalmologist of Tyler, Texas, picks up Mr. Howe's paragraph and writes:

"Mr. Howe is in error in this statement. Many Texans know that Bill Anderson was not killed; that he escaped, came to Texas and settled in Brown county, where he spent the remainder of his life. I was personally acquainted with him. He was a man that did not confide in everybody. He never did tell me the story of his life, but did others. He died a few years ago on his ranch, near Brownwood, Texas, and was buried near the spot where he first located after coming to the Lone Star state. 'Uncle Bill,' as all called him, was a good citizen and helped to drive the Indians from Central West Texas.

Escaped by Changing Horses? Uncle Bill knew the Younger boys, Frank and Jesse James, was well acquainted with Quantrell. No doubt he was with all of them on some of their expeditions. This, however, I do not know. I know that Anderson was not killed in this fight. Several years ago Cole Younger came to Brownwood with a carnival show. Bill Anderson awaited his coming with great pleasure. When Anderson met Younger the latter did not know him, as he thought he was dead as reported. Anderson established his identity beyond question with Younger. It was a great meeting and they spent much time together while Younger filled his engagement.

"Anderson was scheduled to be killed in this ambush, but escaped by exchanging horses with another man. The man riding Anderson's horse was killed, and naturally this hero thought he had killed the real Anderson. It seems that they didn't know Anderson and only identified him by his saddle bags.

The existence of the Bill Anderson of Texas first became known to Missourians in 1924 when a short article about him appeared in The Houston Post and was copied in Missouri papers. At once Colonel James S. Hackley, an early settler of Moberly, Missouri, presented his knowledge of the facts preceding the slaying, his story indicating that the guerrilla's body was identified by his 'Hackley's' mother, a cousin of the slain Confederate irregular.

Saw Attempt to Take Guerrilla "We lived on a farm which cornered on a state road leading one way to Knoxville and the other to Millville," he said. "One day about six months before Anderson was killed my father and I were plowing corn. As I came near the end of the row I heard pistol shots. "In my excitement I climbed on the fence to find out what was going on. I saw Bill Anderson, Frank and Jesse James, Arch Clements and Edger Reynolds on horseback. In pursuit was Captain Tiffen, leading probably 100 men. A moment later Anderson turned his horse and plunged across the road into what we called our sugar tree woods.

"Captain Tiffen ordered my father to take his horses from the plow, hitch them to a wagon, and take one of his wounded men to Richmond. When we returned home that night the house was brilliant with lights. We found five strange horses that had been fed. In the house were their owners—Bill Anderson and the men we had seen with him that morning.

"Seven chickens were killed; supper was served at midnight. About 3:00 o'clock in the morning the men got their horses and rode away. That was the last time I saw Bill Anderson alive.

Mother Viewed Cousin's Body "About six months later we drove to Richmond. My mother's brother, Tom Bayless, kept a hardware store there. As Mr. Bayless came out to greet my mother, a boy ran up and said that Bill Anderson had been killed and his body was at Tice's gallery.

"We went to Tice's gallery. When my mother saw the blood on Anderson's face, and his clogged hair, she pleaded that the picture not be taken until she had washed his face and combed his hair. Her plea was refused by Captain Cox, who was present and claimed to have killed Anderson.

"Anderson was buried in Richmond. The bullet that ended his life struck him in the back of his head and came out through his forehead. "We stayed that night with Uncle Tom. About midnight there was a rap on the door. On opening the door we found Jim Anderson, Bill's brother, who remained there until 11:00 o'clock the next morning. That was the last time I saw him."

Colonel Hackley related that in later years he discussed the killing of Anderson with Frank James, James said the guerrillas were eating a lunch with their horses picketed nearby when, without warning, they were surrounded by Cox and his men. The little band jumped on their mounts and attempted to dash through the ring of soldiers and Anderson was brought down by a bullet through his head when it appeared he would make good his escape. According to James, Anderson shot six men in his attempt at liberty.

statement appeared in The Star, a communication was received from Mrs. Sarah T. Mann of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, who stated that the account was "in the main correct." She said she had lived in Richmond from childhood and had been well acquainted with Tom Bayless, but explained that "Anderson's body and his horse were brought to Richmond that evening, and the following day taken to the office of Dr. R. B. Klee to be photographed. The cut in The Star was made from that photograph and was a good copy. He was buried the next day in what was then the city cemetery on North Thornton street, and, so far as the writer knows, has never been removed."

She added that "Anderson's sister was the widow of the warden of the state prison at Austin, Texas, and his niece the wife of the representative from Murray county, Oklahoma, and lived at Sulphur, the county seat."

In August, 1924, Jewell Hayes, secretary of the Missouri state board of agriculture and member of a pioneer Ray county family, received a letter from Henry C. Fuller of Brownwood, Texas, with a photograph of the Texas Bill Anderson. Mr. Fuller asked that the picture be shown to some of the surviving members of the Quantrell band and an effort made to clear up the mystery. "One thing is certain," he wrote, "the (Texas Bill Anderson) knew Quantrell and all his lieutenants. His talk shows that."

So far as can be learned no member of the Quantrell or Anderson bands has passed upon the resemblance of the likeness of the Texas Bill Anderson to the Missouri

A NEW VICTORY SIX BY DODGE BROTHERS

SMARTER, BOOMIER, MORE COMFORTABLE

With Famed Victory Performance Made Still More Brilliant

Striking improvements in beauty, comfort and roominess, set Dodge Brothers new Victory Six apart as a distinctive and impressively attractive motor car.

Seat dimensions are more generous; cushions deeper and more luxurious; doors higher and wider; and passenger vision materially increased.

New Victory lines sweep gracefully forward to a radiator that expresses new ruggedness and power; and improved fenders further accentuate the vigorous and arresting charm of Victory Six design.

Moreover, new Victory Six construction insures many unique and vital advantages.

The wide Victory chassis frame, flush with the body lines, provides a foundation for the body—which is directly mounted without sills. This remarkable construction lowers the all-important center of gravity, increases the head room, and eliminates the customary body overhang.

And as a consequence, the new Victory grips the road at the curves, travels rough pavement with incredible smoothness, obeys the four-wheel brakes instantly—yet with no discomfort to passengers. And provides a quality of pick-up, flexibility and fast flashing action that we urge you most earnestly to investigate.

AMAZING STORY OF MURDER IS SUBSTANTIATED

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—(P)—An amazing story of torture and the murders of five boys was before Los Angeles police today as they renewed search of the George Cyrus Northcott "murder farm" near Riverside for graves of the supposed victims of Gordon Stuart Northcott, 21, a fugitive.

Questioned for two days regarding the reported killings, the elder Northcott, held in custody here, finally opened up last night, police said, "talking like a streak" unfolded a gruesome account of some of the acts of his son, whom he described in appearance as resembling an ape.

Following sensation after sensation unfolded in his vivid story the elder Northcott today led police to the garage on the small Northcott ranch near Riverside, and search for the corpses of three of the supposed victims was begun under a concrete floor.

Riverside authorities have announced complaints charging murder will be filed against young Northcott, and his mother, Mrs. Louise Northcott, whom the father said was the only person having any control over the youth, and who is believed to have been an accomplice in the suspected murders.

The elder Northcott told the police that his son and grandson, Sanford Clark, 15, now held by the authorities, had told him of the murders, but that he did not believe their stories.

First reports of the "murder farm" were given police by young Clark following his arrest for the Canadian immigration authorities. He said young Northcott had forced him to aid in one of the slayings. Four of the victims, he said, were young boys kidnaped in suburbs of Los Angeles in the past few months, and held and abused at the farm before they were put to death.

Account of a fifth murder was added by the father of the suspect in his rambling story. It was reported to have occurred in a miner's cabin nearby where Northcott and a miner are reported to have slain another miner. Finding that a boy had witnessed the killing Northcott seized him, he was taken to the farm where a few days later he was put to death.

The father described his son as an "ape man" over whom only an indulgent mother had any control.

FRIDAY ATTENDANCE AT FAIR BREAKS ALL RECORDS FOR WEEK

Friday, the fourth day of the Sixth Annual Brown County Fair, was the banner day of the 1928 exposition as far as total attendance counts, it being estimated that approximately 5,000 people passed through the turnstiles during the afternoon and night program. Of this number only 1,600 paid admission at the gate, others entering on passes and season tickets. The major portion of the afternoon and night crowds was composed of school children who were admitted free throughout the day.

The 1927 exposition comes to a close Saturday night and officials in charge of this year's Fair expected that all former attendance records would be smashed before the night crowd finished pouring through the turnstiles.

WON'T DANCE, WIFE IS SLAIN

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Sept. 15.—(P)—Apparently infuriated by the refusal of his divorced wife, Mrs. Bertha Stallings, 38, to dance with him, Lawrence C. Stallings shot and killed her in a crowded dance hall here last night. Miss Mary Griffin, 28, was critically wounded and Jerry Hagen, with whom Mrs. Stallings was dancing, was shot through the wrist and hip.

IN MURDERERS' ROW HE SINGS OF GOD AND JUSTICE

THE United Press carries the following story:
EVANSVILLE, Sept. 14.—O. C. Wells, convicted of the murder of J. C. Mitchell at Coleman in July, 1925, and sentenced to death, from which he has appealed, has turned to writing poetry for solace.

Tired of smoking endless cigarettes, Wells has written a poem in which he mentions God, the law and other things which he said he failed to consider during his days of freedom.

Wells is regarded among peace officers as one of the champion jail breakers of Texas. He has broken out of the prison several times during his present incarceration. He is fleet of foot.

Mitchell was slain during a hold-up in his grocery store at Coleman. Wells denies that he was in Coleman that night, alleging that he was robbing a warehouse at Menard at the time of the hold-up.

Wells' poem follows:
THE PERFECT JUDGE
By O. C. Wells
Far out in the deep blue ether,

Many millions of miles away
There shall be a final judgment
On some wonderful perfect day.

There will be no jury of low morons;
No pusillanimous judge in command.
For the truth shall be available
Before He that understands.

There will be no politicians;
No rush for greed and gold.
All of those of truth and virtue
Shall be awarded an everlasting soul.

There will be no false witnesses;
No vendors of hypocrisy and shame.
For all shall have a due accounting
Before He that fully understands.

The client will need no attorney;
There will be no tricks to be played.
Service will be rendered free gratis
And justice will not be delayed.

No questions will be asked the defendant;
For the facts will be at His command.

The judgment will be perfectly rendered.
Before He that fully understands.
There shall be a full bill of particulars
For each and every individual soul
And no need for further explanation,
For the judgment will be foretold.

Before a perfect God in His wisdom
The unjust shall be duly rewarded
While expressing their sorrows with tears.

It shall be a day of vindication
For those who have stood for right,
And for those who have been faithful.

The Chemins de Fer du Nord
Has always held first place among
French railroads for speed.

When frightened, rabbits stamp several times on the ground with their hind feet, making a sound which can be heard a long way off.
This is a danger signal to fellow rabbits who scamper off to safety.

Summon Venire In Trial For Murder

DALLAS, Sept. 17.—(P)—A special venire of 350 men has been ordered summoned for jury service in the trial here October 1 of V. Ray Adams, Bartlett farmer, charged with murder in the death of Orville L. Mathews, bank employee, who was shot to death at the corner of Main and Akard Streets here September 1.

Due to the prominence of the victim and the sensational character of the shooting, at the preliminary hearing last week, when Adams was released under $25,000 bond, the courtroom was packed with spectators with an overflow in the corridors.

An argument over payment of an election bet, of which Mathews had been stakeholder, was said to have precipitated the shooting.

LIVESTOCK AWARDS

The livestock department at the fair has been such a success as to be very pleasing to all connected with it, says George Baugh, the superintendent, and he and all those interested in the management of the department and in the fair generally wish to thank all exhibitors. They appreciate very much the exhibitors from out of the county. Carraway & Sons of Comyn, Kay Brothers of Dublin, Scott & White of Temple and all others who have stock at the fair this year.

The Jersey men of Brownwood and Brown county are preparing to entertain the exhibitors in the cattle department at a luncheon at the Southern Hotel tonight, it was stated Friday morning.

There is no better Jersey show in the state than at the Brown County Fair this year, said Mr. Baugh Friday morning. All exhibitors have promised to be here and with more cattle, next year, he stated. Having no competition here, there were no Herefords shown this year. Mr. Baugh states that three men have already promised to bring Herefords to the fair next year.

The Holsteins from the Scott & White herd at Temple were an appreciated feature at the fair this year. Kay Brothers of Temple exhibited fine stock, as shown by the number of times their names appears in the premium list. Shelton Brothers, Cropp and others of Brown county showed exceptionally fine stuff, which is well known here.

The Carraway & Sons herd of Durhams is worthy of special mention and has been admired by visitors to the livestock department. This herd has been exhibited at other fairs, and is always in the prize winning class. It will be taken from here to the fair at Stephenville, and later will be taken to the Kansas City Royal.
