ALL THE HALLS in the main building of Muenster High School were used for display tables laden with hundreds of articles donated for the Garage-Bake Sale hosted by MISD students, assisted by the faculty, to benefit the Gilbert Knabe family. From the opening moment Saturday morning, and throughout the day, attendance was outstanding, in an outpouring of support, love and respect for friends in an emergency. At the end of the day, items that still remained were taken to the Boys Club Thrift Store, which will reimburse the Knabe family periodically so they will continue to benefit, until every item is sold. Janie Hartman Photos

Muenster readies for 2nd Oktoberfest Oct. 10 and 11

Sponsors of the Muenster Oktoberfest are gearing up for two big fun-filled days on Oct. 10 and 11. The weekend's activities include a quilt show and auction, polka music, bed races, firemen's water polo, horseshoe tournament, 3-on-3 basketball on Saturday and sand volleyball on Sunday, antique car shows and much more. There are 51 prizes to be given away in the 1992 Beautification Drawing, which will be held during that weekend. Topping the list of prizes are a 243 caliber model Ruger deer rifle with a 4x32 scope and hard gun case; a 19" Magnavox color TV with remote; a king- or queen-size quilt; and a full-size quilt. Chances are available from local businesses or at the Chamber office. Tickets are a $1 donation each or 12 for $10.00. Sunday's happenings include a Youth Rally from 2 to 4 p.m. on the Community Center parking lot featuring Doug Weisbruch. He is a young children's recording artist and a youth minister at Nolan High School in Fort Worth. Margie Starke of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce asks that any local group needing to earn money or wanting to perform a service project contact her at 759-2227. Those wanting to sign up for any of the local contests can do so at the Chamber office.

Muenster ISD to award bid Monday

Muenster school trustees are hoping to award the bid for the construction of a new gymnasium at a 7:30 p.m. meeting on Monday, Sept. 21. Trustees set a deadline for receiving bids for today, Friday. The deadline had originally been Sept. 8, but the district only recently received the final plans and specifications for the project, said Muenster Superintendent Steve Cooper.

Trustees have set a local school tax rate of 9 cents per $100 of assessed property value. The rate is divided with 8 cents for maintenance and operation and 1 cent for debt service. With the 83-cent county tax rate, the total tax rate for the Muenster district is 92 cents. Overall, the rate is a 6-cent decrease from last year's total rate of 98 cents.

In other business, the board: -Approved Hibbs-Hallmark Company to provide group health insurance for those district employees who wish to purchase it. -Approved campus plans and goals for 1992-93. -Hired Martha Sicking as a teacher in the district's new pre-kindergarten program which has about 20 children.

MISD begins bus route

MISD plans to start a hazardous/town bus route beginning Monday, Sept. 21, 1992. The district has previously requested names of those who might be interested. We have on file, at this time, about 25 names. We will use these names to establish the original route. Parents that have indicated a desire for their child to ride and who have notified us will be contacted by Friday, Sept. 18, as to when and where their youngsters will be picked up and dropped off. If you have not notified our district and you think your youngster might be eligible, please contact me at the administration building, phone number is 759-2281. Deadline for receipt of bids on our new gym is Friday, Sept. 18, at 2 p.m. in the administration building. MISD has tried to encourage as many local bidders as possible; as a matter of fact, the reason we are soliciting component bids is to give our local contractors many different opportunities to bid. We anticipate doing some of the work ourselves and using local businesses as much as possible. Action will be taken on bids received at a special meeting to be held Monday, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m. in the administration building. Our school year has started well - our new computers and printers have been purchased and are in place. We've had one day of teacher training already with additional days to be scheduled. We are in the process of purchasing software to facilitate instruction. Our plan is to phase in, as quickly as possible, elementary use of our computers on a daily basis (K-6) and to continue to broaden our curriculum in junior high to allow more hands-on time for 7th and 8th graders. We are excited about the potential we have to really prepare our kids to compete in the work place. Our computers give them the chance to develop the skills that are a must in the ever-changing work place.

Plans include the construction of a 15,000-square-foot gymnasium east of the present administration building. The gymnasium will have seating capacity for 650 people, about 200 more than the present gymnasium and will include dressing rooms, concessions and a lobby. The district plans to pay for the project using district reserve funds. In other action during the board's regular September meeting, trustees approved a hazardous bus route which will pick up students within a two-mile radius of the school. The route is expected to start on Monday, Sept. 21, Cooper said. Between 20 and 25 students will initially be picked up along the route. The state allows a school district to run a school bus within two miles of the school if there are students within that area that must cross a major thoroughfare, such as U.S. 82, or who have no sidewalks on which to walk to school.

County coalition formed

by Elaine Schad
Cooke County officials aren't sure why there has been a significant rise in the number of sexual assaults since the beginning of 1992, but they're working together to provide the victim with the best assistance possible and assure that the assailant is brought to justice.

The Cooke County Sexual Assault Coalition has formed to assist sexual assault victims through better coordination of services. In its second month of existence, the coalition is composed of all agencies involved with sexual assault cases, from the schools, to the hospitals, law enforcement, prosecutors to child protective agencies.

"It's going to help all of us," said Muenster Police Chief Helen Tompkins. Muenster's representative on the coalition along with Joan Walterscheid, who represents Muenster Memorial Hospital. "We'll all work together so nothing slips through the cracks," she said. Chief Tompkins thinks Muenster has been very fortunate so far, with the city recording no criminal prosecutions for sexual assault. She hopes that trend continues, but knows that everyone who may have to deal with such a case must be ready.

Despite the predominantly rural makeup of Cooke County with its 31,000 residents, 1992 has shown in the number of reported sexual assault cases involving both children and adults in Cooke County, according to officials who deal with the cases. When a victim already has experienced a great deal of trauma, it's important that those first-line people who are there to help don't end up adding to what is already a bad situation.

"We've seen our county systems inundated, and it's pointed out a need for better coordination," said Cindy Etter, executive director of Cooke County Friends of the Family, a non-profit victim's assistance organization. "There are a lot of things that the agencies do right, but sometimes communication is a problem," she said.

While the statistics may be considered small by urban standards, Cooke County grand juries have indicted 16 people for sexual offenses as of the end of July, said Don King, investigator for the Cooke County District Attorney's Office. That compares to three indictments for sexual offenses for all of 1991 and eight in 1990, he said.

Cooke County Friends of the Family also have handled significantly higher caseloads for sexual offenses so far this year. As of July, the agency worked 16 cases involving sexual abuse of a child, compared to 16 for all of 1991. The agency was involved with 12 adult sexual cases as of July, compared to 8 last year, and 10 cases involving adult survivors of incest, compared to 10 for all of 1991. Etter said some of the people who come to their agency for assistance decide against filing charges.

When in full operation, the coalition hopes to implement a plan where everyone will know exactly what they are to do when they are faced with a sexual assault case, Etter said. School personnel will be trained to not only identify potential sexual abuse, but will know what questions to ask and who to call, she said.

The coalition has formed two subcommittees, one to propose medical coordination and another for law enforcement and child protection. The group hopes to finalize written procedures and implement training within four months.

One of those procedures will include eliminating multiple interviews of the victim by coordinating agencies and through use of videotape, Chief Tompkins said. "If we have a case in Muenster or Valley View, we won't have the police department and other departments doing separate questioning," she said. "We'll be eliminating several steps, but we'll be working together with the least trauma on the victim," she said.

Some medical assessments for Cooke County sexual assault victims are performed in Tarrant County, where there is sometimes a wait of several weeks, Etter said. The coalition is working toward training local medical personnel to handle the assessments.

Coordination is expected to make prosecution of sexual assault easier, King said. "These are difficult cases, because normally, this is a crime of secrecy when you have adults preying upon children, and where you don't have witnesses," he said. "We want it so that no evidence falls through the cracks," he said. "We are trying to vigorously seek and prosecute these cases without causing any more trauma to the victim."

Etter has been very pleased with the progress of the coalition so far and is certain it will make a difference. "We're hoping that merely being formed is making a statement to the public that we care," she said.

Memories stirred at Sept. 13 Sacred Heart Trust Fund Dinner

An afternoon of fond remembrances, shared goals, an optimistic look for the future were complements to the good food and entertainment offered at this year's annual Sacred Heart Trust Fund Dinner and financial report. The event was held Sunday, Sept. 13 in Sacred Heart Community center.

Mark Hess, Trust Fund investment consultant, delivered the financial report. He noted that donations during the 1991-92 year had been very generous. It is expected that the organization's financial goal will be met by 1995.

Guest speakers were Sacred Heart graduates Bert Miller, Class of 1980, and Donna Rohmer McClendon, Class of 1971. Bert is an attorney and Donna is a sales manager. They spoke of how their education at Sacred Heart and the morals that were instilled have helped them with their lives and in raising their children. They spoke on the importance of such an education especially considering the immorality of today's world.

A Pedantic Panel comprised of George Bayer, Werner Becker Sr., Alvin Hartman and Sister Mary John Seyler offered interesting anecdotes of their school days. They also answered questions from those present.

Attendance was good with 191 being served. The Farmer's Kitchen catered the meal. Senior class members served. Musical entertainment was provided by Christy Hesse and Ruth Felderhoff.

Master of Ceremonies was Neil Hesse, Sacred Heart Alumni President. Special guests were Ed Doherty, diocesan superintendent of schools; Father Victor Gillespie, Sacred Heart Pastor, who delivered the opening prayer; and Father Camillus Cooney, associate pastor, who offered the closing prayer. Serving on the Trust Fund Board of Directors are Father Victor Gillespie, Chuck Bartush Jr., Ed Endres, Ray Voth and Julian Walterscheid.

Chuck Skinner ministers to the youth of Muenster

Since July Muenster First Baptist Church has had a new youth minister. Chuck Skinner is excited about his position as youth pastor.

Chuck has worked with teenagers for nine or ten years. He came to Muenster from Temple Baptist in Gainesville where he was helping their youth pastor. "I like being around teenagers," remarked Chuck Skinner. "I just like trying to influence them to live like a Christian is supposed to live. I want to help them to be more like Jesus."

Some of the activities that Mr. Skinner and Rev. Andy Cherry have already done with the youths are a trip to a Ranger's game, putt-putt golf and bowling. Long-range plans include mission trips to Mexico. One is planned for next summer and there is a possibility of one during Christmas vacation. Skinner has been making mission trips to Mexico for five years. His groups have built play ground equipment for an orphanage and have put roofs on homes. "It's easy to talk about missions and the Lord in church, but it's a whole lot easier to show somebody when you're in Mexico in the desert," Chuck said.

Chuck and his wife Jeannene now live in Lindsay. They have two children Faith, 8, and Conard, 3 weeks. Jeannene is an insurance manager at Murray Chiropractic Clinic in Gainesville and Chuck is a P.T. Technician in the Gainesville Physical Therapy Center.

Houston is Chuck's place of birth but he spent his school years in Youngstown, Ohio. His father is a minister, who now specializes in ministering to ministers. "We're very impressed with the people we've met in Muenster. I like the kids," Chuck noted.

Good News!

All that the Father gives me shall come to me; no one who comes will I ever reject, because it is not to do my own will that I have come down from heaven, but to do the will of Him who sent me. JOHN 6:3 -38

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I agree with James L. Robel's opinion as stated in the Friday, Sept. 11, 1992 Gainesville Register, "the deficit vulture has come home to roost."

What can I do as an individual? First, educate yourself. Learn what is going on - how did it happen? By all means, get and read UNITED WE STAND by Ross Perot. It is a paperback $4.95 and also read AMERICA - WHAT WENT WRONG? by Donald L. Barlett and James B. Steele, Pulitzer Prize winning reporters of the Philadelphia Inquirer, another paperback for $6.95. It was published in 1991 and Ross Perot's book is hot off the press, selling like hot cakes. The demand for Ross Perot's book is such that you will probably have to do as I did - put your name on a waiting list to get one.

Then write your Congressman and Senators in Washington, D.C. and also your Representative and your Senators in Austin and, by all means, register and vote.

Why am I in the Texas Silver Haired Legislature, a strictly volunteer organization where the members receive no pay and must pay their own transportation, meals and housing while in Austin? I hope that my voice will be heard as an advocate for proposed legislation.

Yes, as a new member of this organization, I am going to Austin the week of Sept. 14 to 18, 1992 with three prepared resolutions:

1. Be it resolved that the people of Texas be granted the same power of the petition now used by our home rule cities - namely by petition to put an issue directly on the ballot for a vote of the people (both to initiate and to call for a referendum).

2. Be it resolved that Texas voters be granted recall powers over both elected and appointed public officials in Texas.

3. Be it resolved that all ballots in all elections in the State of Texas have NOTA (none of the above) on them.

Time and space do not allow me to elaborate, but I will report again after I get back from Austin.

Dear Editor:

Many area newspapers have recently experienced a barrage of letters and articles overzealously critical of President Bush. Any regular reader of this column knows I've put in my share of criticisms over such things as tax increases, me-tooing to the liberals, and allowing our hostile-to-the-American-people Congress to tax and regulate free enterprise right out the door.

But to blame him for everything from burgeoning medicare and medicaid claims to not caring about the electorate and for causing the aftermath of Hurricane Andy is too much. Too many people are forgetting that government makes no real jobs, produces no real wealth, and will always be prone to inefficiency, wastefulness, and ineptness. It is a price we pay to have that necessary evil called "government." Only totalitarianism shows more efficiency, the brute kind.

If enough Americans are duped into thinking that government should provide anything except protection of "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," they will wake up one day with a government that is providing them with cradle to grave care in exchange for their liberties and freedom to do those things for themselves. A short-cut to that ultimate destination may be reached via communist China or Cuba, if that's what they really want.

I say "enough is enough" of this lambasting of a decent man who has repented of his mistakes in compromising with the liberals (a.k.a. Clinton's main supporters). George Bush stands as our only real choice for correcting the course of the past four years.

While Clinton may speak a slick line, his plan is plain and simple, promising things government cannot do without much higher taxes, more regulation and, with it all, usurpation of liberty. Bush, on the other hand, finally has a grand plan: to get government out of the way so that we, the people (the only real producers of wealth), can once more start building prosperity for all!

Forestburg awarded $5,033 for first responder program

Residents of 77 Texas communities, including Forestburg, will share in $522,000 in emergency medical service grants made by the Texas Department of Health (TDH) this month. Fifty-one of the grant communities are in rural counties. Forestburg received $5,033 to use toward the purchase of an ambulance.

The grants will pay for emergency communications and ambulance equipment, as well as training for emergency medical technicians and members of the public. Seven towns will use their grants to help buy an ambulance or other first response vehicle. TDH began notifying the EMS agencies, hospitals and training groups in August that they would receive funds through the EMS Local Projects grant program of the Bureau of Emergency Management.

This is the third year of the grant program. In 1991, the Texas Legislature began funding the program and TDH added federal block grant funds. "We are working with our state legislators to quadruple the amount of state funding for local EMS agencies," said Dr. David R. Smith, Commissioner of Health. "This is one of the most practical and cost-efficient things the state can do for local emergency medical services. It puts the money right where the need is."

The helpless feeling of watching a friend die of a heart attack in church because an ambulance couldn't respond in time was what inspired the citizens of Forestburg to work for a First Responder Program. "They were trained people around who could have helped but they didn't have the equipment," said Audi Hayes, an EMS trainer in Forestburg.

First Responder is a division of the Forestburg Volunteer Fire Dept. They will go to an emergency and offer treatment until another ambulance arrives. Equipment is now on the Forestburg fire truck and will be transferred after an ambulance is purchased. "We've responded to seven calls already," Hayes said.

Original equipment was purchased by the community. Fund raisers allowed each member to be equipped with pagers. Money from TDH will not be received until October. It is a matching which means Forestburg must match the amount donated. Also the ambulance must be purchased within a year's time.

Seven people have been trained as Emergency Care Attendants (ECAs). There are also four nurses working with the program. "It is being made possible by the efforts of several people working very hard and the support of the community," remarked Audi Hayes.

Other training funded through the grant program includes: initial EMS certification and recertification training, swiftwater rescue training, critical incident stress debriefing training, hazardous material response training, and specialty training in the care of adult trauma patients and pediatric medical patients.

Ric Williamson endorsed by largest law enforcement group in Texas

The 12,200 member Combined Law Enforcement Association of Texas has endorsed State Representative Ric Williamson (D-Weatherford) in his 1992 election effort.

"Your past support of the issues that affect working police officers has earned you our support," commented Ron DeLond, president of the Association.

Williamson has been recognized by the Dallas Crime Commission as one of the Top Ten Legislative Crime Fighters.

"Crime is one of the most important concerns of taxpayers in Cooke County. I am pleased to accept the endorsement of this, the largest association of law enforcement officers in our state," Williamson said.

A GIFT OF LEARNING - Educational opportunities will be provided by the Gilbert F. and Mary E. Endres Scholarship initiated recently through a $10,000 gift presented to the Cooke County College Endowment Foundation. Pictured are, l to r, benefactor Gilbert Endres, CCC Endowment Foundation Director Dr. Artie Thrash, CCC Board of Trustees President Urban Endres and brother of Gilbert Endres, and benefactor Mary E. Endres. Born in Muenster, Gilbert Endres is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Werner Endres. He attended Sacred Heart School and graduated from Muenster High School in 1932. He enlisted in the U.S. Army and was appointed Warrant Officer in 1942 and was released from active service in 1946. He was a long-time Muenster businessman and established Gilbert Endres Distributing Company, Inc. In 1949 he married Elsie Fuhrman, a native of Saint Jo, Iowa who moved to Texas in 1924 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fuhrman. She attended Lindsay Public School and St. Mary's High School in Gainesville and graduated from a Beauty College in Dallas. She operated her own beauty shop in Muenster until 1953. Gilbert and Elsie Endres have one daughter, Lou Ann, who is married to David Spaeth. Their home is in Gainesville. They are parents of two sons and a daughter, George and John and Brenda.

Governor announces crime victim assistance

Governor Ann Richards announced the award of two grants in Grayson and Cooke Counties providing $69,408 to local programs for services to victims of crime. Local programs that are eligible for such grants typically include rape crisis centers, battered women's shelters, abused children's counseling centers and law enforcement and prosecutors' crime victims benefits coordinators.

collected in the form of fines, penalty assessment and forfeitures in the federal courts. Governor Richards noted "it is particularly fitting that those who perpetrate the crimes in our nation share the financial burden of alleviating the trauma and suffering borne by their innocent victims."

The grants are administered by the Governor's Criminal Justice Division; for more information, call that division at 512-463-1919.

Todd Reiter joins hurricane relief effort in Louisiana

by Elaine Schad

Todd Reiter couldn't believe the response he got when meeting victims of Hurricane Andrew during a recent weeklong mercy trip to Louisiana. They were smiling.

Reiter, the 15-year-old son of Randy and Paula Reiter of Era, joined classmates at Beavers Memorial Jr. Academy in Ardmore, Oklahoma in cleaning up and in distributing food and clothing to hurricane victims who live along the bayous along the Gulf of Mexico. Todd is the grandson of Paul and Bernice Sicking of Myra, and Maxine and Reuben Reiter of Era.

School Principal David May thought the trip was a perfect project to reinforce the school's emphasis on Christian service. The school responded to an appeal for aid from the Distribution Center at Gray, Louisiana. A total of eight students and May made the five-day trip to Louisiana.

The group took vans provided by the Seventh Day Adventist Church, which annually collects items for disaster assistance. Todd's mother, Paula, said many Muenster businesses contribute to the annual campaign and much of last fall's donations were used to assist the hurricane victims.

What the group saw when they arrived in the hurricane-stricken area were homes leveled, trees uprooted and families displaced. The group was assigned to unloading truckloads of donated items that were arriving from across the country. In addition, they sorted clothing and food for the distribution center. On another day, the students hand-delivered food, clothing and personal hygiene items to families hit by the hurricane.

Todd was most impressed by the spirit of the Louisiana people. "If they were standing by a boat or their house cleaning up, they always had a smile on their face," he said.

The trip was exciting but also very satisfying for the group, Todd said. "The people were bubbling over with happiness and gratitude," he said. "Seeing that was the most impressive thing."

Haywood calls for major reforms in state government

Calling term limits the first and most important step towards shaking up state government, Senate District 30 candidate Tom Haywood recently released a nine-point government reform package designed to stop abuses by career politicians.

"Although public opinion polls show 75% of Texans support term limits, career politicians like Steve Carraker refuse to allow our citizens to vote on the issue," stated Haywood during an Abilene news conference. "As a concerned citizen of this state, I worked long and hard to sign people up on the 'Texans for Term Limitations' petition drive. As state senator, I will immediately introduce legislation calling for term limits on all state elected officials."

"These reform measures will set us in the right direction," Haywood added, "and we must pass them before we can get down to the real business of jobs, education and health care."

Haywood, a former professor at Midwestern State University and the University of North Texas, currently is a small businessman in Wichita Falls. He is also a former executive vice-president of the North Texas Oil and Gas Association.

TOM HAYWOOD'S CAMPAIGN AND GOVERNMENT REFORM

1. Term Limitations
Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller of Public Accounts, State Treasurer, Land Commissioner, Agriculture Commissioner -- two, four-year terms.
Members of the Texas Railroad Commission -- one, six-year term.
Members of the Texas Senate -- two, four-year terms.
Members of the Texas House of Representatives -- four, two-year terms.
2. Campaign Contribution Limits
$5,000 for PACs and $1,000 for individuals to all state races.
3. Full disclosure of income tax returns for all statewide elected officials and candidates.
4. Cap maximum expenditures by lobbyists to $250 per person, per year.
5. Prohibit lobbyists from giving personal gifts to elected officials.
6. Prohibit lawmakers from casting votes for other lawmakers.
7. Repeal law exempting lawmakers from misdemeanor arrests during legislative sessions.
8. Prohibit retired lawmakers from donating excess political contributions to elected officials.
9. Limit the Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives to four years of service.

PROCLAMATION

by the County Judge of Cooke County

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME:
I, Ray B. Russell County Judge of Cooke County do hereby declare the week of September 20-26, 1992 as FARM AND RANCH SAFETY AND HEALTH WEEK in Cooke County, for the following reasons:

WHEREAS, the President has proclaimed the 49th Annual National Farm Safety and Health Week and the Governor has proclaimed the same period as Texas Farm and Ranch Safety and Health Week; and

WHEREAS, the National Safety Council estimates indicate that in 1991 farm work accidents resulted in approximately 1,400 deaths and 140,000 disabling injuries. The death rate was 44 per 100,000 workers, having fallen slightly during the past decade, agriculture remains the highest of the major industries and four times their workers were killed or seriously injured in home, recreation and roadway accidents. An undetermined number of people involved in agricultural work suffered job-related illnesses known to cause disability or death; and

WHEREAS, during this week, a statewide farm and ranch accident prevention education campaign is being undertaken by the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council; the Texas Safety Association; the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the 4-H Clubs; the Texas Education Agency through the Texas Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America, the Young Farmers and Young Homemakers of America, the Young Farmers and Young Homemakers of Texas and the Cooke County Farm Bureau with the theme, "Take Charge of Your Safety and Health," and

WHEREAS, accident prevention is often a matter of common sense; putting into practice basic safety rules like always buckling your safety belt; reading and following instructions in operator's manuals and product labels; and many other simple sensible measures that involve little or no extra time, effort or expense.

THEREFORE, I urge all those who live and work on farms or ranches to take necessary precautions to protect their safety and health - on the job or off. I also urge leaders in the agricultural community to bolster safety and health efforts in your area by example and by educational programs.

Signed,
Ray B. Russell
Cooke County Judge

Muenster volunteer firemen attend firemen's convention

Muenster Volunteer Firemen attended the West Texas District Firemen and Fire Marshall Association convention held Sunday, Sept. 13 in Archer City. It was the 119th semi-annual meeting. Muenster last hosted the group in the early 1970s.

Beginning at 9 a.m., a 2-hour class was held on ground cover, which will apply to certification. A hamburger lunch was served by the Archer City Fire Dept. at 11 a.m. and a delegates meeting was held during the noon recess, 12:00 to 12:30 p.m.

The convention held its general session in the Archer City High School Auditorium, beginning at 12:30 p.m., with President Bill Fletcher of Electra presiding. Included were a greeting from the Archer City Mayor Bo Wood, the Pledge of Allegiance by Boy Scout Troop 100, an invocation by Jack Snoderly, chaplain, a discussion of the district poster contest by Charles Stewart, and introduction of guests by Danny Skinner.

At the same time the Ladies Auxiliary met in the high school cafeteria.

Following the business meeting, hose races were held on Archer City Square with teams from eight cities competing for trophies in 6-man and 3-man hose races. Six-man times were 1) Windthorst, 23.42 seconds; 2) Vernon 26.04 seconds; 3) Muenster 26.04 seconds. Three-man races were won by Windthorst 12.36 seconds; Lake City and Muenster tied at 13.20 seconds, with Muenster taking third in the run-off.

Six member women's teams winning were Vernon 1st, and Iowa Park 2nd. In three-member hose races, women winners were Windthorst 1st and Iowa Park 2nd.

Water polo was held but a contest was of benefit to no one because of high winds. All of these races are of great value to firemen due to the pressure they put on individuals, just as if they were in a fire situation, stimulating speed and accuracy.

Attending the semi-annual meeting were Fire Chief Herbie Knabe, Jim Koelzer, Bob Endres, Melvin Knauf, Doug Fleitman and Duane Walterscheid.

The Cooke County Juvenile Board, which oversees the department, is comprised of Cooke County Judge Ray Russell, chairman, and 235th District Court Judge Jerry Woodlock. The Advisory Council members include Mary Sowder, Barbara Marshall, Mitchell Shauf, Jimmy Moss, Johnny Pipes and Tom Woods.

Ida Mae Herr honored on 85th birthday

More than 100 attended the open house and party honoring Ida Mae Herr on her 85th birthday Sunday, Sept. 13, in the home of Tom and Virgilla Herr. Hosts included Melvin, Ronnie, Tom and Charlie Herr, Della Rose Walterscheid and Joanie Dunham and their spouses and families.

Guests included many from other Texas cities and one from Oklahoma, other relatives, neighbors and old friends. Remembering, visiting, taking pictures, enjoying a buffet of pick up foods and birthday cake added to the party atmosphere.

Jana Stoffels made the birthday cake for her grandmother, emphasizing her special hobby of sewing. Buttons, ric-rac, a real zipper and a spool of thread accented the special greetings and legend: "You're sew special!"

Balloons decorated the party rooms and the outdoor patio. A family portrait was made Sunday morning. Special surprises included a card shower during the weekend and several long-distance phone calls. A surprise on Sunday was a call from Angela Furbach of Amarillo, a girlhood friend.

Mrs. Herr enjoys good health, walks to church every morning, is known for her home-made bread and spends a lot of time on her favorite hobby, sewing.

J.E.L.L.Y. Retreat on Sept. 20 starts 2nd year

The former Sacred Heart Junior High Youth Ministry is now in its second year and going strong. In March of last year, it was officially dubbed J.E.L.L.Y., Jesus Ever-Lasting Loving You. With the beginning of the 1992-93 school year, it embraced not only the seventh and eighth grade students, but the ninth grade as well. Head Honcho Jeannine Flusche and Top Dog Eric Gray, along with a dozen or so helpers and co-workers, are anticipating the beginning of the new year with optimism.

A retreat at Roadrunner Ranch will kick off the new year this Sunday, Sept. 20, from 2-7 p.m. JELLYs will learn about "Taking a Stand" for right and against wrong. Further items on the JELLY calendar are: a youth rally on Oct. 11, the 2nd Annual All Hallow's Eve Carnival on Oct. 31, work with the Nature Conservancy of Texas at the Clymer Meadow Preserve near Greenville on Nov.

24, a Mass on Nov. 29 to begin the new Church Year, and a dance on Dec. 4 in Gainesville. More outings, retreats and projects are also already scheduled for the winter and spring of 1993, but will be announced later.

These events follow those already experienced last year in JELLY, such as retreats on dating, peer pressure and personal faith, a swim party, a dance, and the first All Hallow's Eve Carnival.

All seventh, eighth and ninth graders of the community are more than welcome to take part in the growth and fun of JELLY. As mentioned above, the first event is this Sunday. Parents, drop your sons and daughters off at the Community Center at 2 p.m. and pick them up at 7 p.m. It is asked that girls bring a 2-liter bottle of a soft drink and boys bring a dozen cookies (or brownies, Rice Krispie Treats, etc.). Come, join us!

"Where do we begin to say 'Thank You' for the many kindnesses shown us in the illness and death of our husband, father and brother? Without all the love, concern and support we could never have made it through these last four months. Your cards, flowers, phone calls, visits, food donations, monetary donations to various projects and your presence at the services were especially comforting to all of us.

Special thanks go to Father Paul for celebrating the Mass; Father Camillus for the vigil service; Father Harry for the visits and participation in the Mass and to Father Victor for his moving eulogy and to the music ministers for their comforting music.

To the McCoy Funeral Home for the many kindnesses shown us during our bereavement and to the Catholic Daughters for the bountiful meal and the Knights of Columbus for the use of the hall go over warmest thanks.

To the special ladies from Home Hospice go our eternal thanks for their care of Gilbert.

To the faculty and students of Muenster High School go our utmost thanks and appreciation for all the hard work and effort put into the garage-bake sale in our behalf. And to anyone who donated or bought items or baked goods a giant 'Thank You'.

Last but surely not least, to our family and friends for their love and support through these trying times - we couldn't have made it without you.

Perhaps 1 Thessalonians says it best, 'We keep thanking God for all of you and we remember you in our prayers for we are constantly mindful before God and Father, for the way you are proving your faith.'

We love you all,
The Family of Gilbert Knabe

The HDL/total cholesterol ratio may be a strong measure of heart attack risk, according to a report in the "The New England Journal of Medicine." Cutting the ratio by one unit may cut risk in half.

Beneficial side effects have been reported for the estrogen-blocker tamoxifen, widely used to prevent recurrence of breast cancer. Doctors from the University of Wisconsin found that the strength of women's bones increased and cholesterol levels were lowered.

New low-calorie sweetener has been developed from a form of sugar found in dates and cheese. Tagatose is said to taste more like sugar than aspartame or saccharine, and is digested like a protein.

Patients who take pills as instructed after a heart attack are twice as likely to avoid a second, fatal attack. Yale researchers say this works even if the pills are placebos.

First aid for a bleeding tongue: press a wet tea bag against the wound. The tannin in the tea helps blood clot quickly.

Check your first-aid supplies at home. Now's a good time to stock up at Wal-Mart Pharmacy in Gainesville Shopping Center.

JOE TRACHTA was born in 1888 on a farm two miles northeast of Muenster. As a young man he owned various businesses. He was in creamery, produce, drug store, bar, and many other endeavors, one of which earned him the name "Jigger Joe." The above picture was made by the late Christopher Fette in 1930. The store was located in what is now Floyd's Bar. Pictured, 1 to r, are a very young David Trachta and Jimmy Lehnertz. In 1940 Joe Trachta opened a drug store in what is now Tops & Teams. In 1948 he bought the building from Richard Trachta. He continued to run the drug store until the day of his death in 1979. The clutter of items for sale shown in the picture completely obscures the huge antique mirror that almost covered one wall. Note the sunglasses sold straight from the display card, as were the pipes for pipe smokers; calendars; a sign that instructed: "Please pay when served;" another sign that offered beer, 2 for 25 cents. In another row there were tins of "Prince Albert" tobacco; pkgs. of chewing gum and candy bars. There were even crepe paper roses on the top shelf. This photo is another in the series of old Muenster pictures sponsored by the Muenster Historical Commission.

Sue Wieler hosts meeting for Homemakers Sept. 8

Mrs. Sue Wieler was hostess to the Muenster Extension Homemakers Club for the regular meeting on Sept. 8 at 2 p.m. The club creed and pledge of allegiance to the Flag were followed by a reading given by Dorothy Fisher "Depression of the '30s left a heritage of mingled memories."

Armella Lutkenhaus told about club members going to Woodbine in July to visit a doll factory and then having dinner out together.

Council reports were given by Dorothy Fisher, including the report that Sheryl Sicking, a Muenster 4-H girl, was nominated to attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago Dec. 4-11. The Muenster club voted to donate $50 toward her travel expenses.

Dorothy Hesse was named a delegate to attend the state convention in Galveston Sept. 22-24.

The Christmas in November sell-o-rama is set for Nov. 13-14 in the Gainesville Civic Center. Dorothy Fisher reported that all tables have been reserved. Club members will work in the concession stand.

Each member brought a fun gift to the meeting. These were passed around several times, before opening to much laughter.

The hostess, Sue Wieler served a strawberry dessert, mints, nuts and coffee to 16 members and one guest, Martha Moore, mother of Florence Williams. The next meeting will be in the home of Armella Lutkenhaus with Dorothy Hesse as program leader. Liz Koesler is club reporter.

Museum features life of Senator Joseph Bailey

A lawyer and U.S. Senator who enjoyed the rough and tumble world of politics. An orator at a time when oratory was considered a fine art. A larger-than-life character. Joseph Weldon Bailey - adopted son of Cooke County - was all of these things and much more. His life (which covers the period between 1863 and 1929) is being examined in more detail in the latest exhibit at the Morton Museum of Cooke County, entitled "The Life and Times of Joseph Weldon Bailey." The exhibit opened Sept. 15 and will be on display through the end of October. For more information, please call the Morton Museum of Cooke County at 668-8900.

BSP in search of Dracula and company

With the witching hour drawing near, the Butterfield Stage Players announce auditions for "Dracula," the classic tale of Gothic suspense. Auditions will be held Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 21 and 22, at 7 p.m. at the theatre, 201 S. Denton. Needed to portray the Count, his victims and adversaries are six males and two females of various ages.

The play developed from the Bram Stoker novel was successfully revived on Broadway in 1977, 50 years after the original production. Since its revival, the play has continued to be produced, evidencing its merit as a great mystery thriller.

Production dates for "Dracula" are slated for Oct. 29, 30 and 31 (with a special midnight performance), Nov. 5, 6, 7, 12, 13 and 14. BSP Artistic Director Thom Talbott encourages all auditioners, as well as interested production volunteers, to attend auditions. For more information, call 817-665-8152.

"Rainbows" program will begin October 6

"Rainbows for All God's Children" is a program designed to help young people in grades K through 12 deal with grief, especially the loss of a parent through death or divorce. Now in its second year, a new six weeks session will begin on Tuesday afternoons, 4 to 4:30 p.m., at Sacred Heart Elementary School, beginning Oct. 6.

The children meet in small groups with a caring adult and go through activities to help them deal with their feelings and discover that they are not alone. It also stresses the uniqueness of each child and the importance of God's love, and forgiving those who hurt others. It is open to any child and there is no charge. The final session is a wrap-up session of several hours and concludes with a Mass for the children and their families.

Anne Poole and Linda Flusche coordinate the program. If interested, both child and parent should fill out the application below. For more information, call Anne at 759-2721 or Linda at 759-2534. Deadline for applications is Thursday, Oct. 1. Mail applications to Linda Flusche, Box 89, Muenster, TX 76252.

Tips on keeping "Heart Healthy" by Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent-H.E. Each year in September, the American Heart Association celebrates with a Food Festival across the nation.

This year's major emphasis is "Keep your fat intake below 30 percent of total calories."

Recommendations are given in three major categories: selecting foods, preserving foods and dining out.

When selecting foods...
-Choose a variety of foods from within each food group.

-Choose skim, 1/2 percent or 1 percent fat milk and nonfat or low-fat yogurt and cheeses.

-Purchase plenty of fruits and vegetables.

-Read labels carefully for ingredient and nutrition information.

-Choose from vegetable oils and margarines with no more than 2 grams of saturated fatty acids per tablespoon.

-Choose from salad dressings and mayonnaise with no more than 1 gram of saturated fatty acids per tablespoon.

-Avoid high-fat processed meat products such as bologna, frankfurters, salami and bacon.

When preparing foods...
-Vegetables can be made more tempting by adding herbs and spices.

-Try main dishes featuring pasta, rice, beans and/or vegetables.

-Trim off all the fat before cooking meat. In poultry, most fat is right under the skin, so remove the skin before cooking.

-Use cooking methods that require little or no fat - boil, broil, bake, roast, poach, steam, stir-fry or microwave.

-Drain or skim off fat from cooked meats before using juices in stews, soups, gravies, etc.

When dining out...
-Appetizers can be enjoyed; try steamed seafood, raw vegetables and fresh melons or other fruits.

-Salads offer variety in flavor and texture without adding unwanted fat and salt.

-Avoid foods that are described as buttery, buttered, in butter sauce, sauteed, fried, pan-fried, crispy, braised, creamed, in cream sauce, in its own gravy, hollandaise, au gratin, parmesan, in cheese sauce, escalloped, marinated, stewed, baked, casserole, prime, hash, pot pie.

-Ask that garnishes such as cheese and sour cream or gravies and dressings be served on the side.

-For a special treat, share a dessert portion with someone occasionally.

Coming as a complete surprise, the wonderful birthday party and Open House celebration hosted by my family on Sunday, Sept. 13 was made even more delightful by the attendance of all my grandchildren, great-grandchildren and many relatives and old friends and neighbors, and surprise phone calls even from girlhood friends. It was a perfect day and its memories will last a lifetime. The shower of birthday cards started during the weekend and continues this week. How does one say "Thank You" adequately for your good wishes and for your friendship? My prayer is that God will bless each of you and carry you in the palm of His Hand.

Tax Talk

by Duane Knabe, CPA

Duane Knabe will discuss a different topic each week. Any questions should be directed to him at 759-4010.

This week's topic is the standard deduction. The standard deduction, which is often misunderstood, is available to taxpayers who do not itemize their deductions. Taxpayers have the choice of itemizing deductions or taking the applicable standard deduction amount, whichever figure will result in a higher deduction.

The amount of the standard deduction varies according to the taxpayer's filing status. This deduction, together with the taxpayer's personal and dependency exemptions, applies to reduce taxable income. A special rule applies to an individual for whom a dependency exemption is allowed to another taxpayer. Such individual's standard deduction may not exceed the greater of $600 or the amount of the individual's earned income. Taxpayers who are age 65 or older or who are blind receive an additional standard deduction amount.

Wildcats swat the Hornets 33-8

The second week of high school football again placed Muenster in an out-matched contest, this time with the powerful Class 2A Archer City Wildcats. And again the Hornets were handed a one-sided beating with a 33-8 loss. A game of turnovers, five interceptions and two fumbles assisted the Wildcats on the scoreboard.

Muenster received the opening kick, but a bad snap on 4th and 3 gave the Wildcats the ball on Muenster's 34-yard line. Three incomplete passes and a failed run gave the Hornets the ball but only for one play. A fumbled ball was covered by Jason Tinney. Four plays later Archer City was in the end zone on a 21-yard run by Chance McCandless. The extra point run failed and the Wildcats took a 6-0 lead with 7:58 on the clock.

A delay flag and a 9-yard quarterback sack forced a Muenster punt on 4th and 22. From midfield the Wildcats mixed runs and passes and in 8 plays hit pay dirt, again on a 8-yard run by McCandless. The extra point counted and the scoreboard read 13-0 with 2:47 remaining in the first quarter.

Jay Hennigan got in a 12-yard run but a previous 10-yard penalty left Muenster short and the Wildcats took the ball into the second quarter.

Archer City's rushing game was halted by Muenster this drive, but pass completions of 23 and 18 yards and a 5-yard touchdown put more points on the board for the 'Cats. The extra point kick counted and with three minutes off the clock, the Hornets were behind 20-0.

Archer City added insult to injury when on the next play Jud Lane picked up a loose Hornet ball and ran 35 yards for another six points. The PAT failed and the score read 26-0.

The Hornets, though assisted by a flag, failed to get the needed yards and punted on their drive. A.J. Knabe picked off an attempted pass the next play, but two downs later, Muenster threw away the ball to the Wildcats.

Muenster's defense held the 'Cats on their next possession, but a roughing-the-kicker call allowed the 'Cats to regain possession. Archer City was moving the ball on good runs until Jay Hennigan picked off a pass and Muenster took the ball on their 35-yard line.

The Hornets took to the air with completed passes to A.J. Knabe for 28 yards and to Jay Hennigan for a 17-yard gain. The third attempt was picked off though and the Wildcats carried the ball into the third quarter. The Hornet defense held and the ball was punted back to Muenster's 15-yard line. Hennigan brought the ball out to the 30 before Muenster punted on a 4th and 16.

The Wildcats couldn't move on their next possession. An attempted punt was blocked by Kody Truebenbach and the Hornets took over on the Archer City 26-yard line. An incomplete pass and a 5-yard loss was followed by Archer City picking off a Muenster pass and running it 62 yards to the 12-yard line. The Hornet defense tightened, not allowing any gain, taking over the ball on their own 15. Muenster mustered only 7 yards and punted the ball out to the Wildcats' 35-yard line.

The 'Cats kept to the ground, moving into Hornet territory and the final quarter. They topped the drive with a 34-yard touchdown run by Brad Page and the extra point gave them a 33-0 lead with a minute off the clock.

Muenster started their next drive on their 30-yard line. Runs by Kenneth Walterscheid, Rodney Vogel and Hennigan gained 40 yards, but the offense came up short on 4th and 1 and the 'Cats again had the ball.

The Hornets' defense forced a punt on 4th and 20, but an attempted return gave the 'Cats four more plays.

Muenster's final drive started on their 32-yard line. Jason Huchton again found his receivers. Kody Truebenbach completed a pass for a 35-yard gain and two to Jay Hennigan for 29 yards took the ball to a 1st and goal on the 4-yard line. Huchton found Hennigan in the end zone for the Hornets' lone touchdown and again for 2 points with a minute remaining in the game.

"We're having a lot of difficulties," commented Coach Grady Roller. "We'll make a few changes this week that will be noticeable." Roller pointed out that we live in a society that if you can't win you don't try and there are a few on the team with that attitude. "They're not trying. If you're in to win, you're in for the wrong reason. We want a team that plays hard and makes the community proud of what you can do." Roller said that they'll treat football like a job, if you can't handle it you get fired. "We don't have the experience and a few think they have the job. But we'll play freshmen if they're willing to play 100%. We may not win, but the changes will be for the better," Roller commented.

Coach Roller credited Jason Huchton for improving his position as quarterback, throwing better and working harder. Jay Hennigan was also noted for several "fantastic" catches in the game.

The Hornets will take on Bryson Friday night at the Cowboys' corral. With only 18 players suited out, Bryson has been scoring 30 points a game. "At this time they have the better ball club. They have eleven guys that are playing really hard," commented Roller.

Game time is 8:00 p.m.

For a quality fly fishing experience... Get off the beaten path and away from crowds

Fly fishing has become the sport of choice for many of today's baby boomers. It's helped many people rediscover the outdoors in a "kinder and gentler way." For this segment of the fishing tackle industry, the increased interest has been good news. But for the enthusiast heading for his favorite lake or stream, crowded conditions can be bad news.

With lifestyles developed around the weekend, it's not easy to plan exotic getaways that insure peaceful solitude, beautiful scenery and perfect conditions for casting a fly. However, relative solitude can still be found with a little planning and extra effort. There's an old adage that says, "if you go one mile off a road, you'll lose 50 percent of the people. After two miles, you'll leave behind 75 percent and at three miles you'll never see 90 percent of those same folks."

Outdoorsmen who use the same philosophy when planning their next trip will be surprised how true those percentages are today. Look for ways to get away from the crowds, whether it requires a longer hike to a favorite trout stream, or heading further into the back country.

"The results of this extra effort and planning can be tremendously satisfying," says Tim Boyle, president of Columbia Sportswear and an avid outdoorsman who has seen the number of weekend recreationists explode.

"The key to getting away from the crowd is carrying all you need for the day. The challenge is to remain lightweight and flexible. Your perspective changes when you start working out of a day pack rather than the trunk of your car," Boyle says. Comfort and safety are other concerns that must be taken into consideration.

Get off the beaten path, but don't get lost. A good topographical map and compass are essential. An updated map will indicate exact locations of secluded streams and high country lakes, in addition to any private property that would require permission to cross.

Take along a day pack or oversized fanny pack that will hold everything needed for the day, including lunch and plenty of water. Emergency items such as matches, first aid kit and flashlight should always be included.

Backpack fly rods that break down are easier to stuff into a pack or carry on a trail. Lightweight waders and wading shoes that also fit into a pack are good choices, too. Sturdy, well-fitting hiking shoes will get the adventurer to his secluded destination with fewer twists and sprains. Be sure to take along a wide variety of flies in a number of sizes, as well as plenty

Hermeses take money in contest

Forty-seven entries were again turned in after week two of the football contest, with most scores improving over last week. Richard Hermes of Lindsay took top weekly honors, picking 22 of the 25 games correctly. Edna Hermes finished second with 21 games.

Guessing 20 winners were Gary Barnhill, Nick Stoffels, Mike Stoffels, Mark Fuhrmann, John Bartush and Peachie Huchton.

Having 19 games right were Ben Bindel, Tim Bindel, Ron Dangelmayr, Mike Felderhoff, Carol Grewing, Weldon Hermes and Joe Pagel. Ten entries had 18 picks.

On the tie-breaker game, six missed Muenster's 8-33 defeat, with two entries left blank. Darrell Herr guessed the closest with a 7-33 score.

Three almost picked a Sacred Heart upset, with only six crediting Lindsay for a win. Eight thought Era would lose with only one picking Alvord to lose. The most missed game was Valley View's victory, 41 picked Jacksboro, while 34 picked Balch Springs over Masonic Home. The TCU, Western Michigan game ended in a tie so everyone was given that game as a win.

Week three will prove another challenge as more high school games will be included.

Weekly winners picked up their cash prizes at the Muenster Pharmacy, the week's tie breaker sponsor.

Texas quail counts best since 1987

The statewide quail hunting season may be the best in several years if the 1992 quail survey is any indication. The 20-mile roadside quail survey routes provided the highest numbers since 1987, the best year since the survey began in 1976.

"The prospects for the 1992 quail season look much better than 1991," said Don Wilson, small game program leader at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. "Most of the state will see the highest quail population since 1987. It should be an excellent year."

Quail counts are conducted by wildlife biologists and technicians recording quail observed along a 20-mile route, beginning at sunrise or one hour before sunset. The information is used to document annual quail population trends.

Of the state's top three quail regions - South Texas, the Rolling Plains and the Cross Timbers - South Texas looks the best.

The median quail count for South Texas was 61, up from 39 in 1987 and 21.5 last year. The Rolling Plains count was 28, the best since 1987 (28.5) and almost double last year's 15. The Cross Timbers count was 12, slightly better than last year's 10.5, but well below 1987's high of 34.

"I think it's going to be a great year," said Don Frels, regional wildlife director in South Texas.

Jay Williams, South Texas district leader in San Antonio agreed. "It is going to be a good year, perhaps as good as 1987. We are seeing all sizes of young quail and some very large coveys."

"It looks very good at this time," said David Dvorak, area manager at the Matador Wildlife Management Area near Paducah. "We are seeing birds from just hatched to fully grown, although most of the birds are three-quarters grown. The hunting is going to be tough because of all the vegetation."

The Trans-Pecos and Edwards Plateau also reported excellent counts.

The Edwards Plateau count was 15 this year, up from 13.5 last year and the best since a count of 22 in 1977, the second year of the survey. "It is going to be better than last year but, overall, not a great year," said Larry Holland, district leader from Brownwood. "However, there are some good counts."

The Trans-Pecos had a count of 18 this year, the highest since 21 in 1987 and up from 4 last year. "This is good year to come to the Trans-Pecos for quail hunting," said Mike Hobson, district leader from

QUAIL OUTLOOK GOOD

Alpine. "We have not had a year this good since 1987. I will definitely buy a Type II permit this year."

The Gulf Prairies remained low again this year. Three of the last four years the count has been 5, down from 12 in 1988.

The statewide season runs from Oct. 31-Feb. 28. The daily bag limit is 15 and the possession limit is 45. The lawful possession limit for quail is the maximum number - 45 - that may be in one person's possession after the third day of hunting. On the first day of any open season the possession limit is the same as the daily bag limit. Legal shooting hours for all non-migratory game birds are one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset.

World champion bullfighter works Bowie Pro Rodeo Sept. 25 and 26

Lloyd Ketchum knows exactly what a bull rider needs from a bullfighter. Maybe that's why he delivers every time.

Protecting a bull rider after he dismounts is the bullfighter's job. Several years ago, however, bullfighting evolved into a sport in its own right. No bull riders are present to complicate the issue in Wrangler bullfight tour events, which are conducted in conjunction with more than 50 Professional Rodeo Cowboy Association rodeos each year, including the Bowie Championship Pro Rodeo Sept. 25-26 in Bowie.

In competitive bullfighting, the bullfighter takes on a specially-bred fighting bull that's smaller and quicker - and therefore, potentially more dangerous - than the bulls used in bull riding. The bullfighter may stop after 40 seconds or continue for up to 70 seconds.

The bullfighter's goal is to remain as close to the bull as possible without getting injured.

"This is a game of inches," Ketchum said. "The bull either gets you by an inch or misses you by an inch. It's all timing. You can't outrun a bull so you've got to keep

Ketchum says one reason he won the 1991 Wrangler World Championship Bullfighter is that he was able to stay that vital inch away from his horned opponent.

"I was just trying not to get hooked," he said. "Everyone else seemed to get hooked and I wasn't sore, which was to my advantage."

The bulls are quick to catch on to bullfighters' maneuvers, Ketchum said. "You've got to constantly be putting new moves on them," he said. "Some of these animals have been around for six or seven years and they've seen every Tom, Dick and Harry. They've seen every move."

The Bowie Championship Pro Rodeo will benefit the Montague County Youth Organization, which has received $5,000 from the benefit in the past two years. Over 400 professional cowboys and cowgirls from all over the United States and Canada will compete for some $20,000 in prize money in this PRCA-sanctioned event. The rodeo will be held Sept. 25 and 26 at the Jim Bowie Rodeo Arena, and is produced by the "Bad Company Rodeo." For more information, call 817-872-4798 or 872-3859.

Knights tame the Wildcats 26-12

The Lindsay Knights and Coach Charlie Meurer got their first season win last Friday with a 26-12 win over Callisburg.

"The boys played well, the offensive line blocked excellently for the running back," commented Coach Meurer. "We were able to control the game because we controlled the ball." The Knights had a turnover-free game, while intercepting two Wildcat passes.

Bobbie Greener started the action for Lindsay with a 13-yard kick return to the 29-yard line. The Knights moved the ball to midfield before running out of downs, punting to the 'Cats. Callisburg's J. Wolfe got in a 12-yard run before Lindsay's defense of George Lutkenhaus, Jeremy Owen, Rocky Barnes, Toby Eberhart and Donnie Cox stopped the 'Cats on a 4th and 10.

Lindsay started their second drive from their 43-yard line. Five runs by Cox for 44 yards, and a completed pass to Jeremy Owen took the ball to the 5-yard line. On 1st and goal a quarterback keeper saw Shane Huchton run the ball into the end zone. The extra point kick was blocked and with 4:03 remaining in the first period, the Knights led 6-0.

Lindsay held the 'Cats inside their 25-yard line and on 4th down an attempted punt was stopped by Jeremy Owen and the Knights took over inside the 20. Short runs gave Lindsay a 4th and 7 on the 13. An attempted field goal by Chris Brown was blocked by K. Ford and the 'Cats took over on their 42-yard line.

Moving into the 2nd period, Callisburg was halted at the 33 by the Knights' defense, including a pass play broken up by Brown. Lindsay ran three plays then booted the ball back to the 'Cats. From their 30, quarterback T. Caver took control of the Wildcats' offense, completing two passes to G. Thurman for 27 yards and a 35-yard gainer to D. Hughes to the 15-yard line. Two runs took the action to the 10 where Caver found Thurman in the end zone for 6 points to tie the game. The extra point kick failed with 3:58 on the clock.

The Knights marched right back, gaining yards on runs by Huchton, Cox and Dan Zimmerer, before running out of downs on the 15. Two plays later Chris Brown picked off a pass and ran it in 20 yards. The extra point run was short and Lindsay took a 12-6 lead with 41 seconds remaining in the first half.

Callisburg took to the air and their third attempt was picked off by Shane Huchton. The Knights played out the remaining seconds.

Lindsay's defense held the Wildcats on their 3rd quarter opening drive. Starting from their 37, a four minute, 10 play, 63-yard drive took the Knights into the end zone. Runs by Cox, Zimmerer and Huchton, with Huchton taking it in from the 3, put another 6 points on the board. The PAT failed for a 18-6 score.

It was 3 plays and punt again for Callisburg and from their 45-yard line the Knights were again on the offensive. Runs by Huchton, Cox, Zimmerer and Doug Hellingner took Lindsay inside the 20 and the final quarter. Cox topped the drive with a 2-yard touchdown run. Huchton ran in the extra point and with 11:25 remaining in the game Lindsay took a 26-6 lead.

The Wildcats kept the ball 11 plays to the 16-yard line before losing it on downs. Lindsay ran the ball to midfield before being forced to punt on 4th and 25. From the 47, A. Garcia took off down the field finding pay dirt for the Wildcats. The PAT kick was blocked and with 2:15 remaining on the clock, Callisburg closed the gap to 14 points.

The Knights killed the clock in six plays then gave the ball back to Callisburg with only eight seconds to go. Two pass attempts failed and Lindsay earned their first win.

"The defense played really well, not giving up any big runs until the end," praised Meurer. "The secondary was also outstanding."

Lindsay hits the road Friday to tangle with the Whitewright Tigers. "Whitewright is a very experienced club, with big, good athletes," Meurer believes. "It will be a hard fought contest. If we go and play hard it will be close, no blow out. Mistakes will make the game." The action begins at 8:00 p.m.

Sports betting can bring problems for gamblers

From betting a few bucks on Friday night football's hometown heroes to wagering heavily on Monday Night Football's glamour teams, sports betting can be a major problem for thousands of Texans when seemingly harmless betting with friends escalates to compulsive gambling.

The Texas Council on Problem and Compulsive Gambling - a non-profit organization operating a toll-free Helpline (1-800-742-0443) to help compulsive gamblers and their families affected by sports betting.

Although sports betting is illegal in Texas, taking bets on sports contests is big business. The illegal nature of sports wagering makes measuring difficult, but authorities estimate that as much as 50 billion dollars annually is bet on sports in the United States.

Texans make illegal bets with neighborhood bookies or find legal outlets for sports betting in Mexican border towns or Las Vegas casinos. These legal sports books offer gamblers wagering opportunities ranging from a simple pick of a game's winner to parlay cards to proposition bets on which running back will win the NFL rushing title.

The Texas Council on Problem and Compulsive Gambling is also concerned about the impact of sports betting because Texans are by nature avid sports fans. Sue Cox, executive director of the Texas Council warns: "Not every sports fan is betting heavily. But because compulsive gambling is a hidden disease and thus difficult to detect, it is very hard for families to tell that the rabid sports fan in their family is also a heavy gambler."

Most fans are just rooting for their team, Mrs. Cox said, but when the money won on a game begins to be more important than which team wins or loses the game, then families should be concerned. She encourages gamblers and their families or friends to call the Helpline (1-800-742-0443) to discuss early warning signs or to find a self-help group like Gamblers Anonymous or Gam-Anon.

Council leaders are particularly concerned about the impact of out-of-control wagering on families. "Little children get very confused when a normally loving father swats them for getting in the way of the television set on a busy Saturday or Sunday afternoon. They have no way of knowing that daddy's frustrations are caused by the actions of a halfback or quarterback on the two or three television sets daddy is watching, not by something they did," Mrs. Cox said.

The Texas Council on Problem and Compulsive Gambling is also concerned about young men in their twenties becoming compulsive gamblers. Mrs. Cox said, "The public's image of a compulsive gambler has been shaped by late movies with the typical excessive gambler portrayed as a middle-aged man playing poker in a smoke-filled room. Instead, what we are finding on our toll-free Helpline is that over half of our calls are from Texans under 34 years of age."

Council President North, 31, said, "Young men in my generation have been trained from birth to be competitive athletes. Sometimes they transfer the aggression learned on the athletic field to excessive betting. When they start losing and doubling up bets to try to recoup losses, debts begin to accumulate faster than their ability to repay their loans."

The Texas Council lists some warning signs for sports bettors and their families:

1. Preoccupation with the outcome of sports contests beyond the usual high interest in cheering for favorite teams.
2. Strong influence of a circle of friends who bet heavily on sports.
3. Bragging about how much money they are winning through sports betting.
4. Unusually high phone bills from calling 1-900 sports handicapping services, often billed at $20 to $50 a call.

5. Increasing the size of the wagers to try to make up for heavy losses.

6. Overt changes in personality, depression, anxiety, physical or health problems and a feeling of desperation brought by the heavy losses sustained by the compulsive gambler.

7. Out-of-character behavior, such as lying, cheating, or contemplating illegal activity to get out of debt.

My Views from the Farm

by Ed Cler

If it wasn't for the school bus coming by each day, I wouldn't really believe Fall is almost upon us. But then there are a lot of other signs pointing in that direction. Fields are bare of crops that only a short time ago were only turning color. The harvesting is over and the residue has been chopped up and plowed under. Since the good rains, seeds that were lost in harvesting have germinated and sprung up, and the fields are green again.

Also, our birds are leaving. Through the summer there were many hummingbirds making their home at our house, I suppose because Aileen fed them so well. These little guys drank over a quart of sugar water each day. The feeders are hung under the kitchen window awning which protects them from the wind and rain, and lets us see and enjoy the tiny birds close up. The barn swallows left several weeks ago, and the dove are migrating south.

The older I get the faster time seems to pass.

In May we were planning our trip to the northwest and soon we were there, and again, all too soon, we were home again. But we did enjoy ourselves enormously.

There are so many things to see when driving through the country. Crops that were so new to us we had to ask what they were. One such crop was Hops, seen in the Yakima Valley in Washington. These vine-like plants are grown on strings, hung from a frame.

Along the Snohomish River, in Washington, thousands of acres of fertile bottom land are used to grow over 200 different crops, many of them for garden seeds, sold nationally. These crops are grown in many different plots, some large and some small, making a patch quilt of colors when in bloom and in different stages of maturity.

Peas are a big crop in this valley and are used for canning. I had often wondered how these tasty little morsels were picked and handled before being canned. I still don't know how the machines work, but we watched five of them in operation one afternoon. They look a lot like combines, but do not use a cutter bar. Each machine takes a swath about 8', using a stripper to get the pods and vines inside where the peas are extracted from the pods and elevated into a bin atop the machine. The man hauling these fresh green peas to the processing plant said when the peas are at their peak quality, they have about 12 hours to get them in before losing quality. That's why they don't stop for night or rain or to talk to kibitzers like us. The operators were friendly, just smiled and waved and moved very slowly along.

The truck driver said they have visitors like us from all over the country, and that he didn't know how the peas were separated from the pods either.

ASCS office urges farmers to sign up for disaster aid and insurance

Sign-up for Phase II of the disaster program in failed, prevented planted, and low yield 1992 wheat, oats and barley will go through Oct. 2. To qualify, you must have suffered a loss of more than 35% on a farm that was insured with FCIC or more than 40% on a farm that was not insured.

If you have a loss of 65% or more on a farm, you will be required to purchase FCIC Insurance on the crop for all farms that you have an interest in for 1993. This includes landlords. At this time, the final date to purchase crop insurance is Sept. 30.

Production records are needed and must show year, farm, producer and amount of bushels, pounds, hundredweights, etc.

Final date for other producers' signatures and proof of insurance is Oct. 9.

Phase III sign-up will begin Oct. 13 and end Feb. 12, 1993. This covers losses on other 1992 crops, and losses from 1990 or 1991 crops that did not previously receive disaster payments.

If there is not enough money to cover these programs, a national factor will be applied to reduce payments.

TWC's control of Aquifer overturned

A ruling by the Texas Water Commission seizing regulatory control of the Edwards Aquifer has been overturned in State District Court, and has been termed a victory for private property owners in Texas, according to Texas Farm Bureau President S.M. True.

"The Texas Water Commission's actions were illegal," said True. "We've always felt the Commission didn't have the authority to regulate underground water."

State District Judge Pete Lowery, in a summary judgment issued Sept. 11 in the case of Danny McFadin and Texas Farm Bureau versus Texas Water Commission, declared TWC rules classifying the Edwards as an underground river - making it subject to state regulation - null and void.

"As of today, the Edwards is by law, an aquifer - not a river - and not subject to state regulation," True said.

Farm and Ranch Safety Week proclaimed

County Judge Ray B. Russell has proclaimed September 20-26, 1992, as Farm and Ranch Safety and Health Week in Cooke County at the request of Leonard Hartman, Cooke County Farm Bureau President. This year marks the 49th annual observance of National Farm Safety and Health Week, co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture; with the theme, "Take Charge of Your Safety and Health."

When you look out your kitchen window and see your land, buildings, machinery and animals, you may smile with justifiable pride. After all, it's your work, determination and management skills that made it possible. But until you look in the mirror, you haven't seen the one who can best "Take Charge of Your Safety and Health." Safety, with your help, will prove protective for you, your family and employed workers:

-Protect yourself and others by making safety part of every activity - on the job, at home, at leisure and on the road. Machines are replaceable if damaged or destroyed in an accident. But, that's not true for people!

-Protect by knowing how to prevent farm injuries and illnesses. Read and follow instructions in manuals and on labels. Note safety and health articles in magazines and newspapers. Read booklets on the subject and pay attention to safety reminders on radio/TV. But, just knowing isn't enough - you must act on that knowledge to reduce risk of costly injury and illnesses.

-Protect by inspecting all equipment and facilities for hazards. Then, correct them without delay. Learn the proper safety precautions when dealing with hazards that can't be eliminated.

-Protect by always keeping shields and guards in place, and by stopping machines before servicing or dealing with operating problems. When the job dictates, use the appropriate personal protective equipment - gloves, hard hat, safety shoes, respirator, safety goggles, etc. - to reduce risks to your health and safety.

-Protect at harvest time by training workers and operating all equipment "appropriately." Take breaks to fight fatigue, especially during hot weather. When hauling harvested products or moving equipment on public roads, drive with care and courtesy.

-Protect by being prepared for each activity. Have the right tools, equipment and/or supplies at hand. Know and respect your limitations as well as your strengths.

-Protect by staying fit and seeking care for health problems. Take some time to do things you enjoy to refresh and relax you and add balance to life.

County Agent's Report

Wheat Update Meeting

On Tuesday, Sept. 22, a Wheat Update Meeting will be held at 5:30 p.m. at the Cooke County Fairgrounds. Topics to be covered include Results of Crop Demonstrations that were held during the 1991-92 crop year. This will include Variety Selection, Fungicide Treatments, Herbicide Results and other production factors pertaining to small grain plantings in the county.

Various industry representatives will be on hand to discuss new products they have available for wheat growers. Interested producers are invited to attend. A Hamburger Supper will be provided.

Forage Choices for Grazing

The cool season annual grasses that are available to producers have various qualities that they offer in grazing situations. Variety differences in all grasses will cause a difference in forage yields. Also, planting dates will have a great impact on the amount of fall or spring forage production.

Wheat tends to be the most widely-grown winter annual forage. The major reason is that we not only get the forage for cattle gains, but we have a marketable grain crop. Wheat tends to have a more even growth curve, allowing for some forage production at all times during the growing season. Producers should look at variety differences in choosing a forage wheat. Soft wheats tend to produce a little more forage than some of the hard varieties. In a haying operation, you will also avoid the beards when hay is cut late.

Cereal rye is the most cold-tolerant forage grain that we have.

There is not a lot of difference among the various rye varieties in forage production and grain production. Most of the forage produced by rye is produced during the fall and winter before April 1. Probably the greatest advantage that we see in rye plantings is this forage's ability to produce during the coldest periods of the year.

Ryegrass - this forage should not be confused with cereal rye. When we mention ryegrass, we tend to confuse it with cereal rye. Growth patterns and physical properties of the plant are totally different. Ryegrass will produce less total forage than the other cereal grains in the fall and winter. One of the problems that we have seen in the past with ryegrass is with winter kill. A variety called Marshall has more resistance to freeze damage than of the older varieties. We have seen some excellent production throughout the county over the past several years using Marshall ryegrass. Ryegrass offers an excellent opportunity for producers in a sod seeding operation in pastures.

And finally, oats - as we all know, the biggest problem that we have experienced in the past with oats is the poor cold tolerance. Of all the cereal grains, oats will freeze out quicker than any of the others. In a grazing and grain situation, oats will provide the extra benefit of an energy source when harvested.

Cool season annuals offer a great advantage to producers throughout the production of winter pastures. Early plantings and proper grain selection will increase forage yields.

THREE SIMPLE RULES TO KEEP TRAGEDY AWAY FROM YOUR FARM

1. KEEP KIDS AWAY FROM WORK AREAS. If they are old enough to help, be sure the task fits both their physical and mental skills to do the job safely.

2. KEEP KIDS OFF FARM EQUIPMENT. Even with an adult, riding on a tractor or other farm machine is one of the most dangerous things a child can do.

3. KEEP AN EYE ON YOUR KIDS. And when you can't, be sure they're under the supervision of someone who can keep watch over them - NOT someone who has other farm duties to perform at the same time.

Residues left in sprayers can cause crop damage

Many new and highly effective herbicides have become available in recent years. And in addition to doing a good job controlling target weeds, they also can injure and kill plants from susceptible crops when mistakes are made with them.

Reports of crop injury from herbicides seem to be increasing. A cause of some costly accidents is carryover of small amounts of potent herbicides in sprayer tanks that aren't cleaned thoroughly enough, says Howard Greer, Oklahoma State University Extension weed control specialist.

"Sprayer tank contamination that causes injury to crops is a new situation for many applicators. It's difficult to imagine the small amount of herbicide left in a tank and the lines and nozzles being enough to injure a crop," Greer remarks.

Unexpected crop injury can occur with growth regulator-hormone type herbicides such as 2,4-D, Banvel or picloram or with the new sulfonylureas such as Glean or Ally or the imidazolinones such as Scepter or Pursuit that affect plants at extremely low rates.

As examples, as little as one-ten thousandth of one pound per acre of Banvel applied postemergence to soybeans can cause crop injury. Similar extremely low rates of Tordon can cause injury to peanuts or soybeans. Ally at rates as low as one-one hundredth of one ounce per acre will kill grain sorghum plants.

Poly tanks, hoses, nozzles and screens are major sources of herbicide residues, Greer emphasizes. So it's very important to clean a sprayer properly after using a herbicide with potential for crop injury at low rates. Proper cleaning agents have the functions of dilution and deactivation of the carryover chemicals.

Ammonia is a common cleaning agent used to remove herbicide residues from a sprayer. It is good at penetrating and loosening deposits of herbicide in the tank, hoses and nozzles. However, ammonia doesn't decompose some herbicides such as the sulfonylureas or imidazolinones. It may improve their solubility.

Chlorine bleach is more effective at decomposing some herbicides. However, ammonia and bleach never should be used together because the two materials react to form chlorine gas.

A fuel oil sometimes is recommended as a solvent for oil-soluble herbicides.

Greer adds it is often helpful to rinse a tank with a detergent after using any kind of cleaning agent.

Some very important points to remember, he says, are that water won't clean a sprayer properly after use of many herbicides, the best cleaning agent to use will vary with the herbicide involved, and the best way to know which agent to use is to read the section on the herbicide label that provides sprayer cleaning instructions.

"Be sure to remove and clean nozzle tips and screens during the cleaning procedure," Greer advises.
