NUMBER 23

To pay or not to pay a state poll tax. That issue, long a bone of contention in Texas political circles, is being submitted directly to voters on the primary ballot of both political parties in the election of May 5. Now it's up to the people to decide whether this tax will remain a part of the state constitution.

This column hopes that the count will show a strong endorsement of the poll tax. As pointed out here several times in the past, it is a good and reasonable arrangement with far more merits than demerits. In fact, its only bad feature is its name, which, regrettably, leads many to believe that it places a price on a person's right to vote. Too few are aware that the name derives not from the intent or use of the tax but from the penalty for non payment.

When first levied in 1877 it was purely a financial measure. Every citizen between 21 and 60 was assessed $1.50 to help pay the expense of state government. One dollar of it went into the permanent school fund the other 50 cents went into the general fund. And it is still applied that way, that is, the $1.50 which the state receives. Not one cent of it has any relation to voting. Another provision permitted counties to add 25 cents to the tax for their purpose. All but 17 are doing that, hence the charge of $1.75.

But then came the problem of a penalty for violation of the law. Since the tax was strictly personal the penalty had to be personal. Those who failed to pay were denied their right to vote during the next year. From that it naturally followed that receipts were issued principally to certify people's eligibility to exercise their right at the polls. It's understandable how, in time, some got the idea they had to "buy a poll tax" in order to vote . . . why so few are aware today that loss of one's voting right results only from being delinquent in one of his duties as a citizen.

Getting back to the merits of the law, no one can reasonably object to the way its revenue is applied. Nor can anyone reasonably object to the feature which requires all citizens, since they all share in the state's services, to make at least some direct payment to the state's support. Without this law there would be no requirement of direct tax payment on the many millions who render no real or personal property for ad valorem tax. Does it seem fair to excuse all those people from an obvious obligation? Is the small amount of the personal tax too much to ask for the benefits they receive?

These considerations leave little justification for any beefing about the poll tax. In fact they give strong support to the opposite view . . . that anyone who shirks his duty of citizenship does not deserve the right of a vote in his state's government. Let's not be taken in by the sob-sister claim that all should have the unrestricted right to vote. Instead let's go on demanding that duty of citizenship be required to qualify for the right of citizenship.

Another thought. Suppose poll tax were abolished, does anyone suppose that state expense would decrease accordingly? Of course not! What then would be the source of the 2.5 million now coming from poll taxes? One way or another it would be collected anyway, but it's very doubtful whether the method adopted would be as reasonable and fair as the poll tax.

After last week's comment on the moral considerations on both sides of the pari-mutuel issue, this column received one of those folders on the evils of race track betting. Whoever sent it wasted his effort. The flood of campaign stuff reaching this desk in recent weeks contained that same sheet and lots more on the subject. The information was not needed, but it was disappointing not to know who thought that the column needs wising up. The sheet would have been more interesting if it had been endorsed by the sender.

For the benefit of the anonymous informer, this is to explain that last week's article was not intended to endorse either side of the issue. It was only an interesting observation that moral principle can be violated either way a person votes.

On the premise that betting is evil only when it is excessive, the article suggested that the correct solution would be to allow pari-mutuel but crack

Dedication and Open House Planned Sunday for New Post Office Building

Muenster's new post office building, in use since early March, will be dedicated and shown next Sunday in special ceremonies beginning at 2 o'clock.

Headliner on the program will be Hon. Graham Purcell, representative of the 13th Congressional District. He will be the principal speaker. The actual dedication will be conducted by James R. Martin of Dallas, regional controller of the Post Office Department.

Mayor Herbert Meurer will be master of ceremonies. Also on the program are invocation by Father Alcuin Kubis of Sacred Heart Church, benediction by Rev. Donald W. Hokett of First Baptist Church, remarks by Postmaster Arthur Endres, music by Muenster High School Band and introduction of guests by Mayor Meurer.

The color guard of the Muenster VFW Post will assist at the flag raising ceremonies. Sponsor of the entire event is the Muenster Civic League and Garden Club and its members will be the hostesses serving refreshments at the open house following formal ceremonies.

The handsome new post office building, located in the second block of North Walnut, is modern and roomy inside and has ample parking space outside. It has 2700 square feet of floor space divided into three areas, the box lobby, the service lobby and the personnel's working area. The box lobby is open 24 hours a day, has 400 boxes and room for 100 more. The former post office had 300 boxes.

Construction is of concrete tile with red brick facing, and solar plate glass, which reduces glare and heat, fronting the box lobby and the service lobby.

Floors are vinyl tile. Walls are painted two tone green. Two heaters and two air conditioners control temperature year round. Seventy one fluorescent fixtures with two tubes each provide abundant lighting.

The building is leased to the Post Office Department on a commercial leasing plan which is being used extensively in recent years. Private capital rather than tax money is used to finance construction according to Postal Department plans and the government arranges a long term lease.

As explained by Postmaster Endres, this gives the Department flexibility in adapting its building program to changes in population, transportation and mail volume.

"The fact that Muenster has been chosen for a new post office," he said, "reflects credit on our growing contribution to the economy and life of the nation."

He also pointed out that the new facility is one of over 45,000 postal installations serving 180 million Americans and handling over two thirds of the world's mail. There are 580,000 postal employees handling 65 billion pieces of mail a year, including a billion parcels. Anticipating population increase of near 3 million persons a year, the Postal Department expects a corresponding increase in this community. The new building, combining increased efficiency with expanded facilities, is intended to meet local needs for the next thirty years.

The rate of local growth is indicated by its increase of postal revenue from $9,500 to $19,000 during the past decade. When first established in 1890 receipts were about $150 a year.

Postmasters who served since the local office opened and their starting dates are as follows: August Flusche, Feb. 1, 1890; John Knoll, May 2, 1890; J. H. Richter, Mar. 16, 1898; John Meurer, Dec. 28, 1900; Henry Bernauer, Oct. 22, 1918; Charles Reiter, Oct. 1, 1923; Joe Luke, June 16, 1933; Herbert Meurer, May 1, 1934; Arthur Endres, Mar. 4, 1941.

Fix-up, Paint-up Job in Progress At Ferd's Station

Ferd's Gulf Station is getting a thorough fix-up and dress-up job. It has been closed for the work since last week Monday and is likely to remain closed until the end of next week.

Principal jobs being done in the project are replacement of the front canopy, replacement of most driveway concrete, replacing two underground tanks, general repair or replacement of walls, doors, windows shelves and racks, and finally a new coat of paint outside and inside.

Abbot Alfred Attends Convention

Abbot Alfred Hoinig, O.S.B., president of Corpus Christi Academy, is in Detroit this week attending the 59th annual convention of the National Catholic Educational Association.

On his way through Gainesville he stopped for a pre-arranged supper visit with family members from here, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoinig, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Hoinig and Mrs. Johnny Otto.

The convention has particular significance to Texans because Corpus Christi Abbey and Academy is one of the institutions in the United States having an ecumenical center as a master plan.

Bank Displays Sketch of Hospital

The Muenster Hospital will be big and beautiful, an outstanding object of community pride. That opinion is easy to accept after a look at the artist's sketch on display in the bank since last weekend. It's a colored drawing of the planned building and landscaping.

Along with the sketch Architect J. R. Killibrew sent assurances that present progress is close to the schedule mentioned several weeks ago. Plans are almost ready for the final OK and advertising for bids will likely be released about mid-May. A month later the contractor should be selected and construction can begin shortly after that. Hence the starting date is probably early in July.

Meeting Monday To Form Chapter Of Young Farmers

Young farmers and other young persons interested in farming are invited to a special meeting in the Muenster High agriculture department next Monday night at 8 o'clock to consider formation of a local chapter of Young Farmer Organization.

The purpose of the organization, as explained by Muenster's ag teacher, Edgar Dyer, is to help young farmers with problems concerning their crops and stock by bringing in consultants and research personnel for discussion meetings, and also by cooperating in programs to help students.

On a state wide basis it is sponsored by the Texas Education Agency and advisers of FFA chapters are assisting in introducing it to their communities. Eight chapters are now organized in the North Texas area.

Headliner of Monday's meeting will be E. L. Tiner executive secretary of the advisory staff of the state wide organization. He will be accompanied by a member of the Bridgeport chapter and the ag teacher of Bridgeport High to explain how the organization is working out in their community.

Membership is limited to persons under 36 years old who are either farming or are in a business or activity related to farming.

Knights Net Over $2200 on Picnic For Hospital Fund

The Easter Monday hospital benefit picnic and dance sponsored by the Knights of Columbus apparently went well over its goal.

That was the opinion of Chairman Alphonse Felderhoff as he deposited receipts in the bank Tuesday morning. He declined to give definite figures because some bills were still unpaid, but estimated that the net would be more than necessary to complete the KC council's subscription of $5,000.

Last year's picnic brought in $2,785.60, leaving $2,214.40 as the goal for this one. Apparently more than that will be left when accounts are cleared.

NEWS OF THE SICK

Mrs. Joe J. Wimmer was dismissed from the Sanitarium and Mrs. E. S. Lawson was dismissed from M&S Hospital in time to spend Easter at home. Both are up and around the house doing well after surgery. Mrs. Wimmer had a gallstone operation and Mrs. Lawson had surgery for a ruptured appendix.

Lynn Huchton, 7, son of the John Huchtons has a bandaged left hand and arm, the result of an accident at home when he fell on a tin can. A long gash on the hand required 22 stitches, a cut on the arm needed five stitches.

Joe Fette is a patient in M&S Hospital since last week Wednesday for observation and medical treatment.

Mrs. Herman Luttmann was dismissed from the Sanitarium Monday after being a patient five days for medical care.

Plans Shaping For Soil Conservation Awards Banquet

Plans for this year's awards banquet and program honoring conservation champions of the Upper Elm Red Soil Conservation will be made Thursday afternoon in a meeting at the First State Bank in Gainesville.

Sponsors, as in years past will be banks, newspapers and radios of the Upper Elm Red district. At their meeting they will decide on place, date, menu and program for the banquet, then go to the Mo-Jo Lodge on Leeper Lake as supper guests of First State Bank.

Saint Anne's Sets Reception Sunday

St. Anne's Society of Sacred Heart Parish will have reception ceremonies for new members Sunday afternoon beginning at 3 o'clock in church.

There are some 20 candidates signed up for membership and others are welcomed. All are invited to attend the Sunday afternoon service.

Wonderful Rain Worth a Fortune To Local Crops

The rain was wonderful, and its value to farms of this area runs into big money. Scattered soaking showers with occasional short downpour did a double job of saturating the soil and also running off in sufficient quantity to give lakes and ponds a nice fill.

Total measure since Sunday was 3.39. Readings on Steve Mosler's official gauge were .56 Monday morning, 2.13 on Tuesday and .70 on Wednesday. Many private gauges of the area recorded more than Muenster. Combined with .81 early in the month that makes a total of 4.20 for April. Total for the previous three months was 3.37, bringing the year's measure to 7.57.

Once again the rain demonstrated the value of detention reservoirs, especially along Brushy Elm, which apparently received more rain than the other areas. Despite a good fill in the three lakes the creek was brim full, breaking over the bank in spots. Unhindered, the water would have flooded bottom lands. Big Elm, with more control and lighter rain, ran calmly.

Crop prospects are as good as can be hoped for considering the hard winter freezes. What's left of oats is looking good. Wheat, unhurt by the cold, promises another big crop. Moisture is ample to mature both of them.

The same applies to other growth. Pastures are doing well, hay is almost ready for a lush first cutting, row crops have a good start.

Charlotte Wolf Is Winner of County FB Scholarship

Miss Charlotte Wolf, junior at Muenster High, was first place winner in the Cooke County Farm Bureau's Scholarship contest Tuesday night in Gainesville.

As the county winner she will go to the Oklahoma Citizenship Seminar July 9-13 at Oklahoma Christian College in Oklahoma City.

There were six county contestants presenting talks on "Exploring American Freedom," speeches they worked out for themselves the week before the contest.

Other entries in the contest were from Gainesville High, Callisburg, Lindsay, Sacred Heart and Era High. The seventh high school in Cooke County, Valley View, did not have an entry.

Charlotte is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Wolf and is active in school and 4-H Club work. She recently won the senior division of the Dress Revue and placed first in the county Dairy Foods Show. She is a leader and instructor for Sacred Heart 4-H Club and a member of the senior club.

Second place winner and Charlotte's alternate for the seminar is Ladd Kelley of Era. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Durham and nephew of Mrs. W. M. DeBorde of Muenster.

The all-expense paid trip and study will be provided by Farm Bureau. The elimination and selection of a winner was a feature of the Bureau's Victory Rally closing a membership drive.

Rain Shorts Out Telephone Service

Muenster's communication with other cities was temporarily suspended Tuesday as a result of heavy rain. The long distance telephone connection was cut off when an underground circuit of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Gainesville shorted out about 9 o'clock.

S. W. Bell sent over a mobil phone for emergency calls and Muenster line men helped with the repair work.

Service on two lines was restored by 11 a.m. The others were in service by 6 p.m.

FEDERAL AID FOR FEDERAL AID

One of these days in the not too far future this nation is going to need federal aid for federal aid if the current trend continues. And when that point is reached, then socialism will have come into full flowing and a great many misled and misguided citizens will rub their eyes in wonderment, shake their heads in shocked dismay and look for someone else to blame. With federal finance being as it is, debt beyond reckoning, inflation disaster threatening, deficit financing becoming chronic, it is quite beyond me how anyone could possibly urge that federal government be called on to take over financing of our schools. This smacks of asking a drowning man would he kindly hold a hundred pound package for a while and tossing the thing to him. It has the appearance of a fire department using gasoline to spray on a fire to put it out.

Just ignoring the federal fiasco doesn't excuse. To believe the great foolishness about it "being a debt we owe ourselves" is too childish to merit serious concern. To subscribe to the mystical belief that government can spend on and forever with no repercussions or negative reactions is to stand with the morons.

To shrug off the whole deal on the point that the future will take care of itself — this is criminal unconcern for our children who are certain to shoulder the debt monstrosity.

Federal aid for education? The great need is for education on federal aid, the facts of economics. We have the facilities and the teaching staffs now entirely adequate to teach simple sense and logic about two and two, personal and citizen responsibility, honesty in financial affairs.

Federal aid for federal aid —

that's the point where all of us will get educated real good, real quick, and real hard, where cold fact clamps in on fanciful theory. It is the point we are coming to if we don't stop turning to Washington to solve all our problems.
 Ellsworth, (Kansas), Messenger

A QUESTION OF OBJECTIVE

Last January 15, the Secretary of Agriculture, at the National Conference on Land and People in Washington, D. C., stated that: "Some recent studies estimate that by 1980 when we expect our population to have grown to around 250 million people we will be able to produce the food and fiber for all domestic and international needs on about 50 million fewer acres than we have in production today."

About two weeks later the Assistant Secretary of Interior told a Pueblo, Colorado, audience: "Realization of the 1980 needs will require crop yields 41 per cent greater and a net addition of 20 million acres of cropland. Year 2000 needs will require crop yields 75 per cent greater and the addition of 63 million acres of cropland."

From these statements at least two conclusions can be drawn. In the first place, one of the gentlemen must be wrong. And in the second place, we would do well to peek behind the window dressing of so-called "public need" for more cropland, and see whether such conclusions are merely a build-up for more government dams, ostensibly for irrigation, but in reality primarily for tax-exempt government power projects.

Federal control of electric power means federal control of the nation's economic life. If we place any value on preserving for our children's personal freedom, the right to own property and the leeway to build their lives and fortunes that we have been privileged to enjoy, we will resist the liberty-destroying effects of socialism.

The taxpaying investor-owned electric industry expects to nearly double its investment in plant and equipment in ten years from $46 billion in 1960 to $88 billion in 1970.

Viewpoints obviously vary according to whether one is pointing to the U. S.'s increasing agricultural efficiency, or justifying desires to build more public dams.

COMBAT — OR CASH

There should be news in the report that Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek and US Secretary of State Dean Rusk are in agreement. Both contend that there is a serious split between the USSR and Red China.

To Mr. Rusk, this means, somehow, that we should step up foreign aid. To Chiang it means — in combination with the starvation, disaffection and rumbles of a purge on the mainland — that it's time for his long-planned, all-out attack.

This time, the Chinese mind is easier for us to follow. If we can believe the reports from Red China, Chiang's hour is about to strike and we should slip his leash — if we have any thought of ever doing so.

GIVE AND TAKE

We just can't get too enthused over Khrushchev's announced willingness to cooperate with the US in joint adventures in space. Perhaps it reminds us too strongly of a kid's willingness to cooperate on another's ice cream cone.

Disarmament, says K, will speed us (jointly) to the moon, Venus and Mars — but he won't cooperate to the extent of permitting test-ban inspections.

He believes in give-and-take — when we give and he takes.

Flusches Observe Two Birthdays and Easter with Dinner

A Sunday gathering at the J. P. Flusche home observed two birthdays and Easter. The hosts' son Harold Flusche and their grandson Kenny Hermes were the birthday honorees.

Kenny was four. Dinner at noon was followed by visiting for the grownups and an Easter egg hunt for the children. Together for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hermes Jr. and sons Bobby, Kenny and Stephen of Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Martin and son Chris of Irving, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Flusche and Connie Jo and Cathy, the hosts and Harold, Billy, Tommy, Susan and Ronnie Flusche. Greetings came from the Dave Flusches and family of Lubbock who were unable to attend.

Live Bunnies at Easter Egg Hunt Add to Tots' Fun

Five live Easter bunnies in the midst of an egg hunt at the Dick Cain home added to the fun and excitement for the Cains' five grandchildren when the family was together for Easter. And the youngsters took their pets home with them. The bunnies were a surprise arranged by Dick Cain who let the pretty little things out of a cage onto the lawn just as the egg hunt started. Enjoying the day in reunion with the Cain family were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Richey and Craig, Robynn Ann and Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Cain and Tammi Sue and Mr. and Mrs. Bill McColium and Kelley Lynn of Dallas. Another guest at the Cain home during the holidays was Mr. Cain's aunt, Mrs. Maud Chadoins of Memphis, Texas. At 80... she'll be 81 in July... Mrs. Chadoins enjoys traveling. She came alone by bus. After visiting here she went to Myra for Easter and a several weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. J. S. Bagwell, and Mr. Bagwell where she will headquarter and make visits with other relatives.

Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel wasn't away for Easter after all... she came home Friday night after a week's trip, five days of which were spent in Milwaukee, Wis., with her son-in-law, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Birden, and included a round of sight-seeing in that city. Monday Msgr. Thomas Weinzapfel came from Dallas for visiting with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kathman had their family together in their home for Easter. Spending the day were Mr. and Mrs. Stan Wylie and children George, Jimmy, Jeanette and William of Lewisville and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Insel and children Sandra, Cindy, Linda and Eddie of Gainesville. Mr. and Mrs. Don Muller and children Ron and Gay Lynn of Dallas joined other members of his family at the home of his parents, the Matt Mullers.

Easter Birthday Brings Reunion

Birthday and Easter came together this year for Mrs. Werner Endres and a celebration was held at the family home Sunday afternoon and night. All the children and grandchildren from here were present and the Bob Kuppers and their children came from Marlin for a surprise visit. An egg hunt, a covered dish supper, birthday cakes and gifts and picture taking were party highlights. The Kupper family returned to Marlin Monday.

Three hometown girls and a companion — all OLV Convent nuns — had a holiday Easter Monday and came to Muenster to visit family members. Sister Benedict of Dallas was with her family, the Albert B. Knabes; Sister Christina of Fort Worth was a guest in the home of her brother, Leo Hesse; and Sister Francesca of Arlington and Sister Margaret Rose of Fort Worth were with Sister Francesca's parents, the August Walterscheids.

I Heard The Other Day... "Bill Carroll wants to do away with Muenster's deputy sheriff. Bill Carroll does not support the Muenster Hospital. Bill Carroll wants to raise Cooke County taxes."

These statements are not true... but you can hear anything around election time...

THE TRUTH IS that Bill Carroll is conducting an active campaign with ideas and plans to upgrade county services with no increase in county taxes.

The present county judge is asking for fourteen years in the courthouse. Bill Carroll believes this is much too long for Cooke County. Bill Carroll believes that every youth in the county should have a job opportunity in Cooke County equal or better than opportunities in other counties. Bill Carroll believes that with proper management and active leadership the county government can provide better service with the very same tax dollars we are spending today.

Let's begin now to practice economy and stop tax increases in Cooke County. Let's begin now to provide job opportunities for our children in Cooke County.

Elect Bill Carroll Your County Judge

P. S. Bill Carroll will vote to keep a deputy in Muenster! Bill Carroll does support the Muenster Hospital! Bill Carroll is against a raise in Cooke County taxes!

The names of the parties in said suit are: Odie B. Turner as Plaintiff, and Robert Victor Turner as Defendant.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows to wit: Suit for divorce. Defendant dis regarding the solemnity of his marriage vows, and his obligation to treat Plaintiff with kindness and attention, did on the 5th day of June 1961, leave the home of Plaintiff and Defendant without telling Plaintiff where he was going and she has not heard from him to this date. Such conduct on the part of defendant constitutes cruelty as that word is legally defined and renders plaintiff's and defendant's further living together as husband and wife insupportable.

Issued this the 20th day of April A.D., 1962.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Gainesville, Texas, this the 20th day of April A.D. 1962.

THESE TRUTHS WE MUST HOLD

WHAT IS JUSTICE—THE LAWS OF MANY OR OF A FEW?

Americans believe:

That the accepted standards of justice are the laws which have been formulated through hundreds of years of man's struggle to find a livable code. They find expression in the law of the land and in our great heritage of common law. These laws are clearly promulgated. Judges in our system are sworn to live up to this law and not to impose their own arbitrary standards of judgment. Thus, we are a government of law and not a government of men.

Communists believe:

That the proper and final test of right and wrong is "does it serve the ultimate Communist purpose?"—if it does, it is good; if it does not, it is bad. With this cornerstone of Soviet justice, if any law exists that interferes with the Soviet goal, it is conveniently by-passed. Arbitrary decisions by Communist superiors overrule the law. Rule of man satisfies the Communist need, not rule of law.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY
To renew and awaken interest in our precious heritage of Freedom, and its superiority over the Communist philosophy, these messages are being published by the Texas Power & Light Company, an investor-owned, tax-paying electric utility.

"Prescription Is Our Middle Name"

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN TEXAS... a new governor, Francis Richard Lubbock, guided a bankrupt state through that bitter Civil War year. Cotton, exported through Mexico, brought desperately needed foreign gold. Homefront industries were established. Comforts were few, but morale stayed high... and there was good Texas beer, enjoyed then as now.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southwestern hospitality to any occasion. Texans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

down on those who abuse it, gamblers and racketeers alike. But in this case the voter is confronted with a choice of extremes. One deprives the moderate better of a right. The other allows the evils of abusing that right. It's that simple, so basically one vote is just as right as the other. For the record, however, Con thinks that there is too much abuse of the right of pari-mutuel betting and intends to vote accordingly.

CITIZENS OF COOKE COUNTY
Stop and Consider where we are going

Here are the facts. The state's fiscal year starts September 1st and runs until the next September 1st.

Last September 1st, the state had a deficit of approximately THREE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS, notwithstanding that it had no deficit but a surplus of EIGHTY MILLION DOLLARS when Price Daniel took over from Allan Shivers; so the Legislature enacted the SALES TAX which went into effect last September 1st. That was going to fix everything up hunky-dory so the Governor said. Now, let's see what has happened the first half of this fiscal year with the sales tax on our backs.

From September 1st, 1961 to March 1st, 1962
the state has collected a total of $623,058,512
But it has spent: 655,380,544
That is a deficit in six months of 32,322,032

So it looks like Daniel will be able to run up a deficit this fiscal year of over SIXTY-FOUR MILLION DOLLARS.

The deficit last fiscal year was $54,840,191.

It therefore appears that the more we pay in, the greater the deficit. And, dont forget, this has to be paid by the people.

So, what is the next deal if we continue the present gang in office in Austin? Raise the sales tax or a State Income Tax. Neither will be necessary if we elect John Connally Governor. He has the ability and courage to cut the expenses so that the state can operate on its income without additional taxes. Vote for him May 5th.
