NUMBER 32

A good sign is the nation-wide cry of indignation that rose this week following the Supreme Court's decision that it is unconstitutional to pray in public schools. National leaders from practically every field... politics, religion, economics, business... responded with the most widespread protest that has ever been heard in this country.

The reaction is gratifying especially in these days when there is so much cause for concern over deterioration of the nation's moral standards. There never was a more urgent time for great numbers to stand up and insist on proper respect to Almighty God and public acknowledgement of His place in our national life.

This column particularly commends the statement of an Episcopal bishop in pointing out that the court has gone to a ridiculous extreme in interpreting the principle of church and state. This, he says, is separating the state from God. It goes beyond the constitution's original intent of keeping the state separate from any one denomination.

His is the conviction that ought to be impressed on the mind of every person in this country. Our cherished freedom of religion depends on the equality of all denominations in the eyes of the state. To adopt any one as a state religion would be unfair to all the others. But being impartial to all religions does not require being hostile to all of them and even to Almighty God.

The comment of several congressmen expressed their intent to sponsor legislation which will nullify the Supreme Court's decision. We hope their proposal will be given priority over all pending legislation. As a matter of morality and public pride they should see that this insult to God is revoked with all possible haste. While doing that they should spell out the meaning of church and state so clearly that no court or any other agency could misinterpret it again.

So much for popular reaction, for which we are grateful. But let's not overlook the tragedy of the decision itself, especially the fact that six out of the seven agreed on it. The implications in this fact are terrifying. Of the seven men on whom the country must depend for interpretation of its laws, six are moral illiterates. That's a strong statement, yes, but what else can be said of men who come to such a decision? The most generous assumption, that they only went too far in their ideas of separating church and state, still does not excuse them. A blunder like this marks them as lacking in basic moral knowledge, unfit to determine the proper application of our laws and constitution.

Remember a few years ago, when some people were demanding the impeachment of Earl Warren? That demand should be renewed, and should be made to include the five judges who agreed with him. Regardless of anything that can be said for their personal sincerity and integrity, the nation cannot afford to depend on the judgment of men who banish God from our classrooms.

Imagine what is implied in the decision. By the same reasoning they may decide next that it is unlawful to start legislative proceedings with a prayer. The Supreme Court itself would discontinue its prayer... or has it already quit asking for Divine guidance? Likewise it could say that the oath in court and the Pledge of Allegiance are unconstitutional. And, by the same twisted logic, it could decree that reference to God should be removed from the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. What a thought just a few days before July 4!

This affair is all the more shocking because by its very nature the Supreme Court assumes the role of God's representative in our government. It acts as the supreme tribunal with the final word in deciding how the laws of this country, under God, should be observed. Their job is to apply God's law in judging the validity of human law. Can they really do their job when they show so little regard for God?

In these days of deteriorating public conscience and constant assault by the sworn enemies of God, it is especially urgent to place increasing emphasis on moral values. Will someone

BUILT FOR TWO, OR MORE—"And baby makes three," could be the title of this bicycle built for two with side-car for baby. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cross, of Cardiff, Wales, solved the transportation problem when their now 15-month-old arrived, but expect another little "problem" late this year.

NEWS OF THE SICK

Dwayne Rohmer, 6, was dismissed from Children's Medical Center in Dallas Tuesday and is doing fine after major surgery performed June 15. His mother, Mrs. Emil Rohmer, stayed with him while he was hospitalized and his daddy was a frequent visitor.

Mrs. A. J. Huchton and son Ricky and Mrs. Meinrad Stoffels and son Nickie were in Dallas Saturday for the two little boys' checkup at a plastic surgeon. Both got reports "doing fine."

Mrs. Joe Wimmer has been dismissed from the Sanitarium after major surgery to continue recovery at home.

Mrs. Fred Hoedebeck who was a medical patient at the Sanitarium last week came home Saturday but went back again for more medical care Sunday when her condition became worse.

Andy Hofbauer is back at home, dismissed from St. Paul's Hospital Saturday, but still a shut-in at home for a while.

Barbara Jean Rohmer, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Rohmer, had her tonsils removed Tuesday at Wilson N. Jones Hospital in Sherman and was dismissed Wednesday to continue recovery at home.

Mrs. Gene Schmitz is up and around her home, regaining her strength after major surgery at M&S Hospital last Thursday.

Hearing sounds and noises she hasn't heard in ten years is a new and sometimes disturbing — but always wonderful — experience for Mrs. Ed Klement. Recent ear surgery in Houston was successful and Mrs. Klement is without a hearing aid for the first time in many years.

Clyde Fisher was dismissed from Nocona Hospital Saturday and is continuing recovery at home from surgery.

Burt Hamric Gets Mobil Scholarship

Burt Ervin Hamric, a native of Muenster, has been awarded a Socony Mobil Oil Company scholarship for the 1962-63 school year. The scholarship provides $400 for the school and $400 plus tuition and fees for the student.

Purpose of the scholarship is to encourage, assist and recognize students in fields of study directly allied to the petroleum industry. Primary considerations in awarding the scholarships are academic standing, leadership, character and sincerity of purpose.

Mr. Hamric was valedictorian of the 1953 graduating class at Muenster High School. He received a B.S. degree in Geology from Texas Western College in 1957, and an M.S. in Geology from the University of Oklahoma in 1961. He plans to continue his studies at the University of Oklahoma to earn a Ph. D. degree.

SH Science Dept. Gets Geode Gift

Sacred Heart High School's science department has been gifted with a beautiful Geode — a hollow rounded nodule of rock filled with mineral matter.

The specimen came from John Fuhrback of Amarillo to Sister Theresina, science teacher, and is unusually large and beautiful.

Summertime Stain Removal Problems

Hot, humid weather and summertime activities bring special stain removal problems... perspiration, mildew, fruit and grass stains can ruin valuable clothing unless they are treated promptly and properly.

For best results, act quickly. First, make certain you know what the stain is, next classify your fabric, and finally choose the proper stain remover. Wrong treatment or application can add to the damage.

For latest information on stain removal, get a copy of the newly revised extension bulletin, "Removing stains from clothing". Copies are available from Bernice Thurman, home demonstration agent on the ground floor of the courthouse or call HO5-4931.

Wettest June on Record Has 8.62 Inches to Date

The wettest June on local records continues to get wetter. A short hard shower Tuesday morning accompanied by a blustery thunderstorm added .91 inch to the 7.65 which had already passed the month's highest in previous years.

Former wettest in 10 years was 6.43 in 1955. Former all time wettest was 7.56 in 1951. The total now stands at 8.56 and the year's total to date is 18.89 inches.

Thursday's 7 a.m. reading added .06 to the rain measure, changing the total to 8.62, and additional rain since the reading will boost the figure still higher.

Harvesting, fortunately, was practically finished during the very limited cutting time that was squeezed in between rains. About all that's left now is in low places, which have become mud holes.

Library Day Is Changed to July 5

Muenster City Library has announced a change of Library Day next week. The open day will be on Thursday, July 5, instead of the usual Wednesday so as not to conflict with Fourth of July activities and the Firemen's picnic.

All library days have been busy ones since vacation started. Upward of 250 books are checked out, principally to students who are taking advantage of their summer vacation to read new books as they are added to the library.

Firemen Sponsor July 4 Benefit Picnic and Dance

A community picnic and dance will be sponsored by the Muenster Volunteer Firemen next Wednesday, July 4, as a benefit affair to raise funds for their depleting treasury. Their last event of this kind was held three years ago.

Money raised thereby provides the only compensation the firemen receive for their services... a dinner once a year plus sandwiches and drinks for monthly practice sessions.

The party will be held in the parish hall beginning at 11 o'clock and will continue into the night. It includes a dance in the parish hall with music by Buddy Bruce and his Westwinds of Denton.

Everyone in the area is asked to come and help the firemen in appreciation for their services. City people are reminded that firemen not only protect their homes but also save them money every year on insurance premiums. Without them on the job local rates would be much higher. Rural folks too get valuable protection from the fire department.

Freezing Pamphlet Is Available Free

Freezing is a quick, easy way to preserve fresh greens and other spring vegetables. Mrs. Bernice Thurman, county home demonstration agent says that freezing keeps the natural color, fresh flavor and food values of most vegetables and fruits better than other methods of food preparation.

For best results, select fresh, tender vegetables right from the garden while they are at the right stage of maturity for eating.

Other factors that influence quality are preparation, packaging, freezer loading and length of storage.

Latest information on how to freeze, and how to cook frozen foods is given in extension bulletin, "Frozen Foods." Get a copy from the county home demonstration agent's office on the ground floor of the Gainesville courthouse.

Three Students Win Latin Merit Award

Three students of Sacred Heart High School have won awards of merit in recognition of outstanding work in Latin I. They are Larry Reiter, Eunice Knauf and Shirley Wimmer.

The Gamma Sigma Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, Honorary Fraternity of Classical Languages, of the University of Texas, authorized the awards. The awards have been sent to Sister M. Theresina, Latin instructor, and will be presented to the students next fall.

Contract Awarded for Hospital Construction On Low Bid of $539,900

The contract for construction of Muenster Memorial Hospital has been awarded to A. P. Kasch and Sons of Big Spring, Texas, for $539,900.

The firm was selected Thursday of last week in a meeting of contractors and subcontractors with the local board of directors and representatives of the architect's office and the State Health Department.

Eight general contractors entered bids, which were opened by J. R. Killebrew, architect. The base bid submitted by Kasch was $551,200 and the net after deductions for alternates came to $539,900. The next low base bid was $555,968, and the highest was $628,500.

When informed of his successful bid Kasch said he could get on the job promptly, possibly by July 15.

David Barker of the State Health Department said that the contract is still subject to final approval of the health department and the Hill-Burton federal agency. He indicated however, that it is practically assured.

It was also pointed out at the meeting that the total cost of the hospital is now estimated at $662,500. Other costs, in addition to the contract, are architectural fees and the original cost of equipment and supplies.

Several factors are involved in running the total cost about thirty per cent above original estimates. One is the addition of living quarters for the administrative staff. Another is increased cost because of difficulties with solid rock formation. Still another is an overall increase in building cost since the project was initiated almost two years ago.

Those increases led to another problem. Representatives of the health department said that the original Hill-Burton grant, based on early estimates, was limited to $250,000, and a supplemental grant, limited to $50,000, can likely be added. This means that federal participation in the project will not exceed $300,000 and may be as low as $250,000. Hence the local share in the project is much higher than originally anticipated. At this time the figure is $362,500, and it may possibly be $412,500.

That situation adds a big load to the local fund raising campaign. J. M. Weinzapfel, president of Muenster Hospital Authority, said that it will require renewed enthusiasm and long, hard work to raise $112,000 more than originally planned.

Cash in the fund now stands at $116,740 and outstanding subscriptions are slightly over $100,000. That's about $145,000 short of the project's requirements. And the amount of money still to be raised, promised and un-promised, is almost as big as the original goal.

Council Adopts Plan for Orderly Trash Disposal

A new location and new regulations will apply hereafter to trash hauling at Muenster. Supervised disposal will be allowed every Saturday from 9 am to 3 p.m. in a special area 3 1/2 miles south of town leased from Voth Brothers. It will be opened July 7.

City Manager Steve Moster explained this week that the new arrangement was made by the city because the other dumping ground could not be kept orderly. It could not be supervised because it was accessible to anyone at any time. After the lease expires on June 30 a bull dozer will push trash into a ravine and the two approaches will be blocked to prevent further use.

The new location will be reached by following pavement south of town about 3 miles to a gate marked with a sign reading "City Dump For Muenster Residents Only." The gate will be locked except on Saturdays. A road from the gate leads to the dumping ravine about a half mile farther. A city employee there will direct unloading.

Dodgers Take Lead In Baseball Loop

The Dodgers, with two straight wins, are out in front of the older kids' baseball league. Yanks and Giants are tied for the second and last spots with one win and two losses each. Like the Yanks a week before, the Giants lost both in their double header Friday night.

First game went to the Dodgers in the first two innings. 1 run in the first and 5 in the second and that was all. Winning pitchers were Chris Cain and Tommy Hess.

Next game stood 5-5 in the third and the Yanks made it 13-5 after the next three. Dale Klement's grand slam homer accounted for four of those. Winning pitchers were Louis Hellman and Robert Russell.

OVERTURE

"I suggest," writes Senator Barry Goldwater in HUMAN EVENTS, "that we oppose as strenuously as we possibly can, the extension of executive power. And I suggest we do this 'in the public interest' and for the protection of the 'general welfare'."

The Senator noted that the phrase "public interest" can be adapted to any situation by "a glib executive", noting as a startling example the recent hassle with the steel industry which "generates only about two percent of the gross national product".

"There is no law on the books which says the President shall have the power to fix prices," reminds Senator Goldwater. "There was no request from industry spokesmen that the Government help them, out of its bureaucratic wisdom, to decide what they should charge for their product. There was no existing emergency that warranted extreme executive action.

"There were none of these things. There was only an executive will, backed by the police powers of the Federal bureaucracy, to bring about a stated condition in the economic system. And this will was used to force — to compel, — to intimidate in a fashion usually associated with totalitarian states.

"You can't staff a new administration with liberal professors, labor union officials and theorists from Americans for Democratic Action and expect it to adopt a strong line for business freedom. Fundamentally, the advisors to whom the President listens have long been on the side of more and more government interference with and control of the free enterprise system. As Scripps-Howard writer Henry J. Taylor wrote recently, the White House brain-trusters 'bring less confidence to business than Jesse James brought to a bank'. And I don't care what kind or how many verbal reassurances you businessmen get from government officials. So long as the President listens to the left-wing radicals in his administration the business community is in trouble."

The foregoing except, we think, may be helpful in understanding the strange "olive branch" address of the President at Yale, in which, while courting confidence and fraternity of the business community, he threatened reprisal should "an angry argument" be forced upon his administration; and in which, while asking for cooperation, he appeared to be sneering at experience in demanding that "the cliches of our forebears" be swept aside.

We have reason to expect that "serious dialogue" for which he asked will turn out to be a monologue.

ABOUT CO-OPS

... Maybe we talk too much about co-ops. We have no unfriendly feelings toward the owner-consumers who organized to bring electric power to rural areas. They certainly did a job the big companies were unwilling to do at that time. But we also have a feeling that if someone does not get excited about them and a lot of other tax-exempt operations in this country, we are going to end up with a sorry brand of socialism.

When it comes to paying taxes, we don't like exceptions. We don't like churches owning income-producing property and claiming tax exemptions on it. We don't like farmer co-ops investing tax-exempt profits in mills, grain elevators and food processing plants and operating them in competition with tax-paying businesses.

We don't like the Tennessee Valley Authority setting itself up as a yardstick for measuring the electric power industry. The only thing it measures is the inability of a government-owned enterprise to compete with private producers unless it has tax exemption.

If the private power yardstick were applied to TVA for just one year, requiring it to pay all taxes private companies face, the size of TVA's deficit would shake the Capitol dome. Congress would then realize that government in business is neither good government nor good business. It is a parasitic operation in which no one benefits except a comparatively few customers.

Felderhoff Reunion Held in City Park

Family gathering of Mrs. John Felderhoff and her children and grandchildren was held in Muenster City Park Sunday with a picnic dinner while out of town family members were here.

Chief Petty Officer and Mrs. John Ladd and their sons Robert and Vernon arrived Friday from Norfolk, Va., for a leave with relatives before going to Hawaii for a new assignment. After their visit here the Ladds will visit his parents in California and fly to Hawaii from there.

Mr. and Mrs. Monte Elliott and daughters Joyce, Mary Jane, Carol and Laura Lee were on vacation from Bushnell, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. John Wright and daughters Rene, Colleen and Janet came from Duncanville for the weekend.

Coming Sunday for the reunion were Mrs. Rita Jennings and family of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Felderhoff and children of Gainesville, joining the relationship from Muenster.

It was a complete family gathering with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Schrage and children of Salinas, Calif., who were unable to attend.

Felderhoff Family In Reunion at Lake

The Tony Felderhoff family got together Sunday for an all-day outing at Walnut Creek, Lake Texoma, while their son Ensign Charles Felderhoff is on Navy leave.

The day's highlights were picnicking, swimming, boating and skiing.

Present with the hosts and the honoree were the A. J. Felderhoffs and family, the Joe Felderhoffs, the Alvin Hartmans and Sylvan Walterscheids and their families.

Other guests were Bishop Augustine Dangelmayr of Dallas, Joe Dangelmayr, Miss Helen Alias visiting the Felderhoffs from Yazoo City, Miss. Miss Lou Ann Reiter of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kubis and Alcuin Paul Kubis of Lindsay.

Mrs. Gene Gieb Is Hostess to Club

Progressive Club members had their June social with Mrs. Gene Gieb as hostess in her home. They spent the evening playing 42 and ended the party with cherry chocolate cake, ice cream and coffee served by the hostess.

Mrs. Alvin Fuhrman led the scoring and also secured the galloping award. Mrs. Gieb was second high scorer and Mrs. Buddy Yosten won the consolation award.

Attending with members were three guests: Miss Helen Hess and Mmes. Herman Stoffels and Val Fuhrmann.

Mrs. Joe Trubenbach will be hostess for the July meeting.

Mrs. M. F. Milner is back from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Pete Dickman and family at Penrose, Colo. The special occasion was the wedding of her nephew, Ralph Dickman. Carolyn Swirczynski Pledges Vows With Charles Bayer at Nuptial Mass

Miss Carolyn Rae Swirczynski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Swirczynski, exchanged wedding vows with Charles Joseph Bayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bayer, at 4 p.m. nuptial mass in Sacred Heart Church Saturday, June 23. Father Alcuin Kubis officiated at the double ring ceremony and celebrated the mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white hand-clipped Chantilly lace on silk organza designed with a moulded bodice, portrait neckline and short sleeves. The voluminous skirt with a back pouff was accented by scalloped lace and swept into an aisle-wide chapel train.

Her finger-tip veil fell from a queen's crown of bridal jewels and she carried a purple-throated white orchid and feathered carnations.

Bride's Attendants

Miss Mary Lou Swirczynski was her cousin's maid of honor. Miss Eunice Knauf was bridesmaid, Miss Cindy Lou Swirczynski was junior bridesmaid for her sister and Miss Jeanne Lynn Swirczynski was her sister's flower girl.

They wore identical bouffant dresses of American Beauty silk organza with matching open-crown picture hats and carried white baskets of American Beauty roses, except the flower girl. She carried white gladiolas which the bride placed on the Blessed Virgin's altar after the service. Mrs. Rody Klement was vocal soloist, Anthony Luke was at the organ and the men's choir sang the mass.

Groom's attendants were his brother Claude Bayer, best man; Donny Swirczynski, bride's brother, groomsman; Clinton Bayer, another brother of the groom, junior groomsman. James Walterscheid and Jim Myrick ushered.

The couple's three grandmothers, Mrs. Margaret Decker Hoover of Carmi, Ill., Mrs. Joe Swirczynski and Mrs. Joe Walterscheid, had gladiola corsages.

Mothers of the pair wore beige dresses with American Beauty and beige accessories and purple-throated white orchid corsages.

Reception and Dinner

Wedding reception and dinner were in the Parish Hall, Mrs. Joe Lehnertz catering and guests helping themselves to a banquet menu from a smorgasbord spread.

Misses Cecilia Zimmerer and Betty Ann Dangelmayr presided at the guest book registering about 400 relatives and friends from a wide area.

Other members of the house party were Mmes. Johnny Streng, Conrad Jostwerner and Andy Trubenbach and Misses Sandra Walter, Judy Walter, Patsy Streng, Dolores Monday, Janice and Charlotte Trubenbach and Carol Hess.

The bride's table was decorated with a white wedding bell and American Beauty roses theme. A dance in the VFW Hall concluded festivities.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Bayer will be at home in the west part of the city. He is employed with Bayer Brothers Concrete Contractors. Before her marriage the bride was employed at the River Valley Country Club in Gainesville. Both attended Sacred Heart Schools and he attended St. Edward's University in Austin.

For going away the bride wore a black linen sheath with a white embroidered jacket, black and white accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Auction of Herd Will Close Dairy At Subiaco Abbey

Complications of modern farming have caught up with Subiaco Abbey. An item in the last issue of the school's paper, The Periscope, says that the school will discontinue its dairy.

Two factors figure into the change. By arranging for purchase of surplus milk the abbey can buy cheaper that it can produce. And it can end the problem of keeping adequate labor for the dairy. Hereafter the facilities will be turned to raising beef cattle.

An auction sale to be held at the abbey farm on Tuesday, July 10, will dispose of the dairy herd. Father Christopher Paladino, the abbey's business manager, sends word to his Cooke County friends that the sale will be an opportunity for them to improve their herds. The herd consists of 75 Holsteins highly developed through a 60 year program of constant herd improvement.
