VOLUME XXVI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS

MARCH 30, 1962

NUMBER 19

Noticed last week in the editor's column of two papers from near-by North Texas towns was a comment on the multiple mailing of his weekly newsletter by Congressman Jim Wright. One of them received five copies, the other received 6, all in separate envelopes, all riding through the mail without benefit of postage stamps.

The Enterprise also received six of those letters, but thought little of it at the time except that something must have gone haywire in the congressman's mailing department.

Now Con is inclined to wonder how many such comments he failed to notice and how many did not mention it. And also how many letters were sent out. In other words, how much did the congressman goof off in envelopes, paper and postal service in this king sized boo-boo?

In case you haven't thought of it, the volume of expense in this case could run into big money. Wright doesn't represent our town nor either of the other two mentioned. And we fail to see why these three should be favored over any others outside his district. Can it mean that all Texas papers are on his mailing list and all got five or six copies?

This possibility is suggested in relation to current demands for increase in postal rates. All this extra load on the service we pay for explains partly why the postal system is operating in the red.

That case is the exception, not the rule, of course. However, this column hastens to add, that Wright's big mailing still made up only a small fraction of the postage free mail that came to the Enterprise last week. Every week the story is the same. A big portion of our mail comes from the propaganda mills of federal bureaucratic agencies, all seeking the help of the nation's press in selling the government's welfare state program to the public. There's no telling how many millions of dollars are spent annually preparing this stuff and distributing it at taxpayers' expense for the sole purpose of encouraging the public to become more dependent on the government.

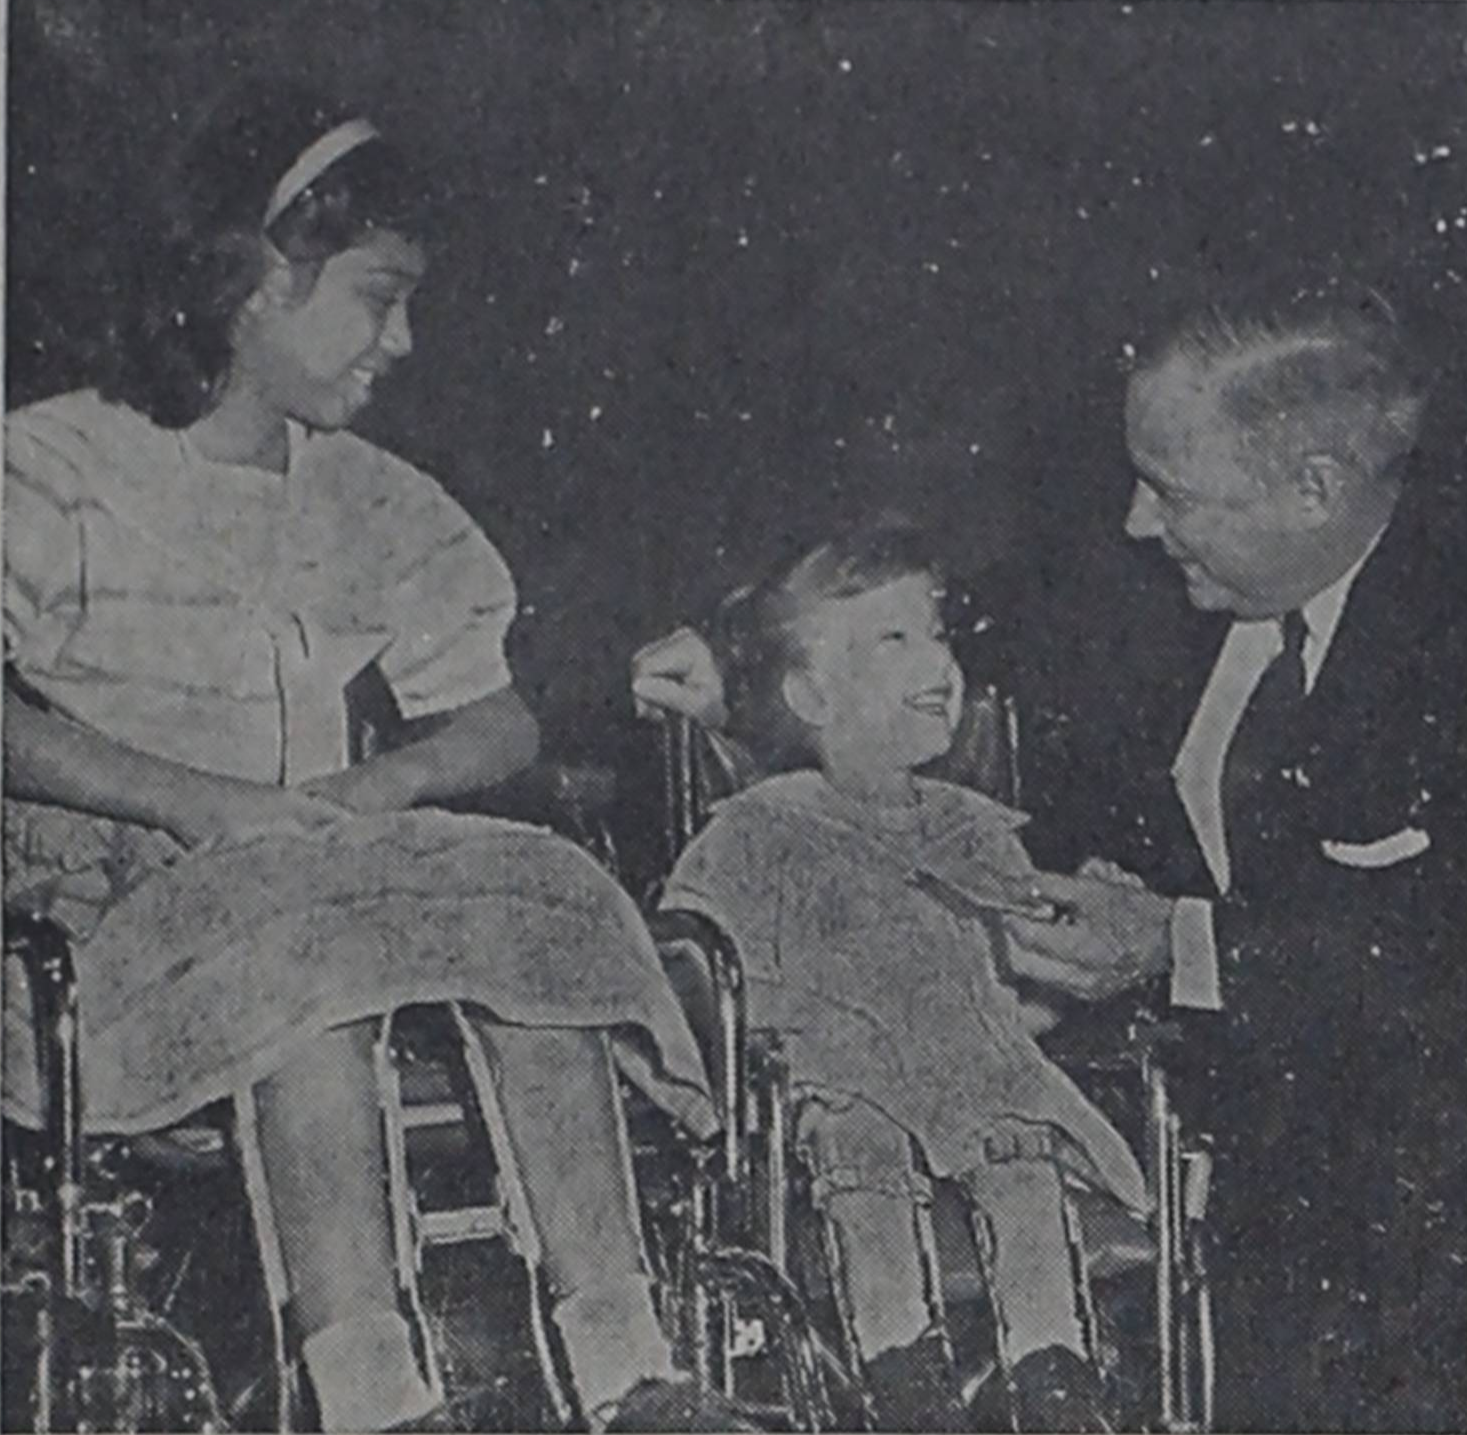

Periodically included in the propaganda material is a fat envelope of big expensive mats for promotion of US Saving Bond sales. Papers are encouraged to find sponsors who will pay for publication of these ads as a patriotic service, otherwise just donate the space and publish the ads on their own. Sponsors are hard to find, of course, but some publishers frequently give the free space when they need convenient material to fill their papers. The same can be said for other propaganda releases. Usually they are used only as a means of filling space.

The whole process works itself into a vicious circle. Propaganda sells the welfare state to the public. Meanwhile the constantly increasing cost of welfare statism creates the demand for more money, which the public obligingly supplies by buying bonds. In the long run the net result is an ever increasing army of bureaucrats whom we give big pay for pushing us around.

Especially ironical in all this is the sales pitch about one's growth of investment when buying bonds. But those who have observed the effect of inflation, which is mostly the result of welfare state policy, know that the increase of bond value is offset by the decrease in dollar value. The person who invests finds that his bond's real value in purchasing power is less at maturity than when he bought it. Isn't that a rather cruel hoax? Encouraging people to invest while following policies that nullify their gain.

Thinking it over we have to admit that the whole government propaganda program is a shameful frame-up on us citizens. Welfare bureau personnel are striving to perpetuate themselves in office by creating constantly increasing demand for their hand-out services. Senators and representatives try to butter up their constituents, for the sake of votes at the next election, by telling of their gallant efforts to divert public funds to their own areas. Senator Ralph Yarborough is a classic example of that practice. Practically every newsletter is a big brag about his part in getting more hand-outs and more projects. He's written volumes on his influence in spending tax money but GOVERNOR PRICE DANIEL recently presented his personal contribution to patients of the Texas Rehabilitation Center at Gonzales to help keep the Center in operation. The Governor urged all Texans to join with him in assisting the state's disabled citizens by mailing contributions to TRC, Box 58, Gonzales, Texas. Directors of TRC have said they will be forced to close the rehabilitation center unless sufficient funds are received within the next two weeks.

Hellman's Record Is Second High at Saint Jo Relays

Boys from out west sacked up most of the honors last Saturday at the Red River Relays which formally opened Saint Jo's brand new track.

Muenster took seventh place with 26 points, but Coach Glenn Richardson was far from discouraged as he compared his team's records with those of others in this district. Mark Hellman, who did all the scoring for MHS, was second high individual of the meet, and several more boys, though not coming in for points, looked good against other entries of their loop.

Era was tops for this area with 34, all marked up by a 4-man team. That quartet is a good bet to win some top places in the district meet next Saturday, but the team's lack of depth will be a handicap in overall scoring. Richardson's guess is that Muenster, Valley View and Callisburg, with larger squads, will be the big contenders for the meet's top score.

Roby was the big winner at Saint Jo last week. It rolled up over 100 points. Jerry Burk of that team was individual high pointer with 3 first places for 30 points. Mark Hellman got his second high 26 points by winning the 100 yard dash and broad jump and running third in the low hurdles. Points earned for first through sixth places were 10, 8, 6, 4, 2, 1.

Other team winners were Valley View (Iowa Park) 61, Petrolia 51½, Newcastle 39, Sanger 35, Prairie Valley 34½, Era 34, Muenster 26, Callisburg 22, Bryson 19, Valley View (Cooke) 14, Byers 12, Alvord 9, Ponder 9, Midway 8½, Oklahoma 7, Saint Jo 6½, Goldburg 4, Slidell 4, Belts 1.

Local Teams Lose In Krum Tourney

All three of the Muenster volleyball teams entered in the Krum invitation tournament last week came home empty handed.

Sacred Heart Alumni ladies came close, however. They defeated Hurst in the opener and Sanger in the second match, then lost to Fort Worth Riverside in the champ semifinal. A win then would have advanced them to the champ final and a cinch for one of the trophies.

Men's teams lost all of their games. Muenster Mill lost to Sanger and River Oaks. SH Alumni lost their opener to Sanger and their next to Ponder.

Lindsay men won the champ trophy in their division. They beat Ponder and Krum, then won the champ final with Sanger.

Next week the same Muenster teams will compete in a tournament at Prairie Valley.

27 Teams Compete In Volley Tourney Here This Week

Going strong at the Sacred Heart gym this week is the annual volley ball tournament sponsored by Sacred Heart Alumni.

Monday and Tuesday completed preliminaries dividing the 16 men's teams and 11 women's teams into champ and consolation brackets and also permitted time for two games in the champ bracket.

Muenster's six teams are evenly divided in the two brackets. In the men's division SH Alumni and Muenster Mill are playing for champ, Muenster Teachers are playing for consolation. In the ladies division SH Alumni is going for champ, CYC and Muenster White Sox are in the consolation bracket.

In champ games played so far Brown's of Pilot Point eliminated David Locker of the same city and Nocona Blues nosed out Lindsay. The latter will rate as one of the best contestants of the tournament.

Action at the tournament continues through Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. The first two nights will complete semi final play and the four finals will be held Saturday. Time of those games will be ladies consolation at 7:30, men's consolation 8:00, ladies champ 8:30, men's champ 9:00. Afterward trophies will be presented to the champ, the runner-up, and the consolation winner of each division.

25 Year Award

J. J. Wieler, wholesaler for Mobil Oil Company in Muenster has been awarded a silver plaque by the Company, honoring him for 25 years of "cordial business relations." Some 125 wholesalers, wives and Mobil officials attended the awards dinner Wednesday (March 21) at the Marriott Motor Hotel in Dallas where Mr. Wieler and others were honored.

Growing Willing To Serve Again On City Council

Muenster voters at their city election next Tuesday will find the same situation they had last year, an office to be filled but no candidate for it.

Terms of two aldermen, Richard Growing and David Trachta, expire this year, and neither has filed as a candidate for re-election. Willie Walterscheid running for Trachta's position, is the only name on the ballot. The other place on the ticket is blank.

However, Growing is willing to continue serving on the council if he is elected as a write-in. He explained this week that he did not file because he was willing to step aside and let someone else have the position. But since no one has asked for the job he will be proud to accept it again.

That solves a problem for voters. They have a capable candidate who is willing to serve even though his name is not on the ballot.

Nocona Teams Win District Contests In Land Judging

Land judging teams of the Nocona chapter of Future Farmers of America were winners of both the senior and junior divisions of the land judging contest sponsored last Saturday by the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District. In addition, one member of the team was individual high point winner.

The contest, held in Gainesville, was followed by a dinner, at which bronze plaques were awarded to the first three teams of each division and individual awards were given to the three high pointers. Willard Kemplin, chairman of the conservation district's board of supervisors, made the presentations.

Teams participating, in the order of their outcome in the contest, were as follows. Senior division: Nocona, Sadler-Southmayd, Whitesboro, Sherman, Gainesville. Junior division: Nocona, Sherman, Sadler-Southmayd, Gunter, Whitesboro. Only teams from the Upper Elm-Red District were eligible to compete.

Tigers Wallop Era 6-1; Wolf Fans 16

Johnny Wolf continued his sizzling pitching record Tuesday mowing down 16 Era batters while the Sacred Heart Tigers marked up a 6-1 win. That gives him a season record so far of 85 strike outs in 42 innings.

Meanwhile Wolf gave up one hit and allowed 6 walks and his team mates made 3 errors. Those factors worked together in the seventh to bring in Era's only run. Ford took first when hit by a pitched ball, went to second on the team's only hit, to third on a walk, and scored on a fielder's choice.

Era's two pitchers allowed 6 hits and 7 runs while giving 11 walks and fanning 5. Three of the runs came in a big first inning made up of 5 walks and one hit before Sluder could settle down.

ANOTHER SCREWBALL U. N. IDEA

Prof. Eugene Staley of the Stanford Research Institute has come up with an idea for raising funds for the United Nations which is as impractical as the organization itself.

Funds would be raised, under the Staley plan, through independent revenue sources not now being tapped by the nations of the world.

The first reaction to Staley's plan is one of astonishment that any nation has overlooked any possible source of revenue.

But the professor tells us what these sources may be—space traffic and communications rights, polar resources and those ocean resources lying beyond the three-mile or 12-mile limit, to mention some of them.

Well this is all very fine in practice.

The professor's theory is based on the assumption that the various nations would pay out whatever the United Nations charged them for whatever rights were involved.

Insufar as space rights are concerned, mostly the U.S. and Russia would be involved. We would have the same old business of the U.S. paying, the Russians renegeing whenever they felt like it.

The same would be true of the other charges. Just as some countries pay U.N. assessments now and some don't, some would pay for "rights" and some wouldn't.

If Russia failed to pay for space rights, who would do what to enforce the rules? If the Red Chinese chose to fish outside the 12-mile limit without paying, whose gunboats would stop them?

The United Nations is dead. It was a nice try, maybe, and if others had been as sincere as the U.S., perhaps it would have worked. But let us not be naive any longer. There are other nations—very powerful ones—who do not want the same kind of world that we want and are prepared to go to any length to see that our idea of a peaceful existence is never realized.

For this reason, the United Nations hasn't worked and never will under the present organization.

This fact will be more universally understood when we fail to be anything more than amused by such illogical theories as that advanced by the Stanford professor.

WITHHOLDING AND PUBLIC APATHY

With the Congress presently considering a bill which would require the withholding of a certain percentage of interest or dividends by the paying corporation or institution it perhaps would be wise to examine the withholding concept in its entirety.

Withholding was a wartime measure with the intent of putting the country on a "pay as you go" basis and like a great many other emergency measures it has come to be an accepted part of our whole tax policy. Undoubtedly many millions of wage earners cannot remember any other system of tax collection, either because they were not in the labor market at that time or because their incomes prior to the war years did not come into the lowest income tax bracket which was in effect at that time.

The present bill, which is merely an extension of the present concept of withholding, seeks to collect additional taxes which it is believed are being evaded, and undoubtedly this is true. The bill is being fought by those groups which feel that their interests will be hurt by such a measure and who rightly feel that they are burdened with enough paperwork already.

But it seems to us that the concept of withholding needs to be challenged on an even broader basis; namely, that it is a cause, in part, for the seeming indifference of the average citizen to the manner in which his money is being spent. Too many people consider their true income to be the amount remaining after all deductions, of which withholding is usually the largest. The money withheld for taxes becomes an abstract thing, something that is noticed only when the W-2 form is received and the income tax is made out and by then the attitude is "you don't miss what you never had." It is our personal belief that if come April 15th John Q. Public had to come up with the full amount of his income tax he would suddenly take a much deeper interest in the fiscal policies of his government and the representatives in Washington would suddenly begin to hear from the home folks in a way that they haven't experienced in years.

The blunt fact of the matter is that we are undoubtedly committed to withholding on wages, interest, dividends and other forms of income for years to come and probably the average man prefers to pay taxes in this relatively painless fashion. But when we hear students of government deplore the lack of interest in politics or we see the shameful figures on the percentage of eligible voters that actually exercise this price-less privilege, we sometimes wonder if this concept of withholding taxes hasn't dulled our interest in something that should be of continuing concern to all of us.

The Big Take

Tax Deduction on Contributions

You may deduct contributions made by you in cash or other property for religious, charitable, literary, educational or scientific purposes. This is one of the itemized personal income tax deductions available to you. However, you cannot deduct contributions which you make, no matter how worthy your intentions, to needy relatives or other individuals, social clubs and political organizations.

If you are on the cash basis and report income as you receive it and expense as you pay it, your contribution must be paid before it can be deducted from your tax return.

You need not make a donation in cash in order to obtain a charitable contribution deduction. In fact, you can often afford to make a larger contribution to charity because the law permits you to deduct the fair value of the property you donate to charity, whether or not this amount exceeds the price you paid for the property with no requirement that you report the increase in value as income to yourself.

For example, if you have a share of stock which cost you $50 and is presently worth $100, you can give the share to a charitable organization and take a $100 deduction. If you sold the stock and gave the cash as a charitable donation, it would be necessary for you to pay an income tax on the $50 profit. By giving the stock to charity you get the $100 deduction and pay no tax.

You also are entitled to deduct as a charitable contribution the fair value of clothing, toys and other articles which you give to charity and also expenses which you incur for travel and transportation in serving a charitable organization. You cannot, however, deduct as a charitable contribution the value of your time which is donated.

On your Federal return, your charitable deduction is limited to 20 per cent of adjusted gross income. However, where one-third of the total charitable deduction is for donations to churches, educational organizations and hospitals, you are entitled to deduct a maximum of 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

Interest expense is deductible in full from your tax return. This expense is often a substantial part of your monthly mortgage payments on your house.

If you are buying a car or other property or appliances on time, a portion of your time purchase price and monthly payment will normally be interest expense. Where the amount of interest expense is not clear or where the time carrying charge includes other charges such as for insurance on your life, you may estimate the interest charge by determining your average monthly balance during the year and multiplying this amount by 6 per cent. It is, of course, preferable to obtain the actual amount of interest which you pay because most running accounts or time charges are based upon substantially higher interest than the 6 per cent figure.

"FINEST HOUR"

David Lawrence writes, in U. S. News & World Report: "Could the spiritual emotion that swept the world as Colonel Glenn was descending to the earth be extended to reach the hearts and minds of the millions of persons behind the Iron Curtain? For by their concerted will they can transform a world beset with fears of self-destruction into a brotherhood of peace. Miracles do happen when the world shows its humility in prayer. The voices that besought Almighty God to save the life of Colonel Glenn can speak again, as even more of us uttition Him to save humanity from nuclear war. For those prolonged minutes of prayer on Tuesday, Feb. 20, constituted man's 'finest hour.'"

FOR and AGAINST

for CHRIST-against COMMUNISM
 BY BILLY JAMES HARGIS, LL.D.
 FOUNDER CHRISTIAN CRUSADE

Kennedy Raps Rightists

Front-page headlines in the communist Worker of November 28, 1961 read: "Kennedy Raps Rightists As People Call for Action." Communist conspirators and sympathizers were given the following explanation of the good news:

"Apparently, the mounting opposition to the ultra-rightists by the churches, organized labor and other mass organizations... has broken the indecision which had afflicted the President up until recently..." At the end of this feature article in the November 26 Worker, approval was expressed of "a report attacking the Birchites which was presented at the annual meeting of the Roman Catholic Bishops of the U.S." They quoted this report as saying that ultra rightists "often consider as Communist views and positions what most Americans consider as legitimate, if controversial attitudes," and that "they tend to label individuals as pro-Communist and to harass and persecute such individuals."

Here is a typical example of gross misunderstanding of communist objectives and their methods of reaching these objectives. The very heart of communist strategy is to use non-communists and even anti-communists to help attain their objectives. When Americans who have taken the time and trouble to study the facts about these communist operations point out the promotion of important communist objectives by non-communists, this does not constitute mere irresponsible labeling of individuals as pro-Communist nor is it harassing and persecuting such individuals. Instead it is an effort to bring truth into the picture and stir up intelligent action against the ever-advancing communist propaganda line.

When President Kennedy rapped the so-called "ultra right" he was doing exactly what the communist conspirators have urged their followers to pressure him into doing. Deceiving Americans into thinking that the enemy they have to be concerned about is anti-communists instead of communist conspirators has long been a key objective of the communists. We should keep in mind that this clever technique is one of several ways in which the communists provide a smoke screen over their continuing day and night activities to bring the United States to its knees in helpless surrender.

The ill-advised November 18 speech by President Kennedy and subsequent unjustified attacks on anti-communists by other prominent Americans help the communists to thicken their smoke screen over the important truths which our people must know if America is to survive.

"It says here that he was shot by his wife at very close range."
"Then there must have been powder marks."
"Yes, that's why she shot him."

"Now don't worry, Harry," the boss said to him in the hospital, "everybody in the shop is going to pitch in and do your work — as soon as we find out what you've been doing."

Tax Return Must Be Filed to Get Refund of Overpay

Special message to students and part-time workers from the Internal Revenue Service. Refund payments of federal income taxes withheld from wages are paid only upon the filing of a proper federal income tax return. James D. Shear, Administrative Officer, of the IRS today reminded Fort Worth taxpayers. "While everyone whose income was $600 or more during 1961 must file a return ($1,200 for those 65 and over)," the IRS representative stressed, "we find frequent cases of people apparently believing that because their tax withheld was greater than their tax owed, they will automatically get a proper refund. "Somewhat the same belief is held by students or other young people who worked during a portion of the year and whose taxes were withheld from their salaries or wages. To get a refund, they, too, must file a return, even if such income was under $600." "For all filers," the IRS representative said, "the filing deadline this year is Monday, April 16, because April 15 falls on a Sunday; but those taxpayers entitled to a refund would do well to file as soon as possible."

Game Wardens Start Check for Fishing License

With the beginning of the spring fishing season, game wardens now are beginning a careful check of licenses, according to Charles Burnette, Conservation Supervisor of the Game and Fish Commission in Tyler.

A resident fishing license costs $2.15 and is required of every person fishing in any of the public waters of the State of Texas. No license is required of persons under 17 years of age or over 65 years of age. No license is required of a person or a member of his immediate family when fishing upon property that he owns or upon which he resides. No license is required of persons fishing with a trot line, throw line or ordinary pole and line having no reel or winding device, when fishing in the county of his residence. The same $2.15 license may be purchased by non-residents.

A pamphlet intitled "Lakes and Streams" giving comprehensive information on the waters of East Texas may be obtained by writing to the Game and Fish Commission, Tyler, Texas and asking for Bulletin No. 38. It also lists the fresh water fishing laws of the State.

The teacher of the first grade had just read to her pupils some nursery rhymes. To find out whether they had been paying attention, she began asking them question concerning the rhymes.

"Why did the cow jump over the moon?" she inquired. Little Johnny at the end of the room spoke up: "Probably because the milk maid had cold fingers."

"See that big fellow over there?" said Jones to his friend at the bar. "He was a famous shark fisherman. His specialty was sticking his right arm right into the shark's mouth to remove the hook. The old-timers used to call him 'Fearless!'"

"Congressman-at-Large" Office Is Confusing to Many

State campaign headquarters for candidates for Congressman-at-Large report that considerable confusion exists about this particular race.

Many voters seem to think that the various candidates for Congressman-at-Large are running against present office holders. Namely the Congressmen now representing the various Congressional districts in the State.

They are not! This is a statewide race wherein Texas gets an extra Congressman — representing all the people of Texas, not just a district.

This office is being created because the population of Texas has increased sufficient to entitle it to an additional representative in Washington. The Texas Legislature has the right to re-district the state to provide for an extra Congressman. But the Legislature has not yet done so. Alternative therefore is to create a statewide position.

Therefore, the following candidates are competing against each other for this high post and not against any present office holder.

Democratic primary: Judge Woodrow Wilson Bean of El Paso; Manley Head of Austin; Warren G. Moore of Tyler; Joe R. Pool of Dallas; Charles H. Stevenson Jr. of Corpus Christi; Russell T. Van Keuren of Houston; and Phil Willis of Scurry.

Republican Primary: Desmond Barry of Houston; Giles E. Miller of Dallas; and Joe B. Phillips of Lubbock.

A Congressman-at-Large race is not without precedent in Texas. The same thing happened in 1952. Martin Dies was elected and served from 1952 to 1958.
