"CENSORSHIP THROUGH TAXATION"

The hometown editors of this country don't favor "censorship through taxation". Here is the story:
 Some time ago the Internal Revenue Service laid down a rule which says that a business cannot deduct, as a business expense, money spent to influence legislation, even though the legislation in question directly and seriously affects it. This fiat has been applied to numbers of businesses — notably the electric utilities which, as a life-and-death matter, oppose the government ownership and legislation advancing it.

 Pending in Congress is legislation known as the Boggs bill, which would revoke the IRS ruling, and permit business to present its side of controversies through advertising and otherwise without paying a heavy tax penalty for that privilege.

A short time ago The American Press, a magazine serving the hometown papers of America, polled editors on a number of current legislative issues. One question asked whether or not they favored the Boggs bill. The "Yes" response was 69 per cent, as against 28 per cent saying "No", and three per cent offering no opinion.

Free speech and free expression of opinion, within the limits of established laws covering such matters as libel and misrepresentation, have always been considered basic rights in this country. But they approach the point of meaninglessness if a man or an organization has to pay through the nose in taxes in order to exercise them. The Internal Revenue Service ruling may be legal, but it scoffs at simple justice. The Boggs bill would correct injustice.

RULES OF THE GAME

A chaplain's advice to a boy on graduation day:
 "I am giving you the ball, son, and naming you the quarterback for your team in the game of life. I am your coach so I'll give it to you straight. There is only one schedule to play. It lasts all your life, but consists of only one game. It is long with no time out and no substitutions. You play the whole game all your life."

"You'll have a great backfield. You are calling the signals but the other three fellows in the backfield with you have great reputations. They are named Faith, Hope and Charity."

"You'll work behind a truly powerful line. End to end, it consists of Honesty, Loyalty, Devotion to Duty, Self Respect, Cleanliness, Good Behavior and Courage."

"The goal posts are the Gates of Heaven."

"God is the referee and sole official. He makes all the rules and there is no appeal from them."

"There are ten rules. You know them as the Ten Commandments and you play them strictly in accordance with your own religion."

"There is also an important ground rule. It is, 'As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.'"

"Here is the ball. It is your immortal soul. Hold on to it. Now, son, get in there and let's see what you can do with it."

WHAT ENGINEERS?

Just how many engineers are being turned out by Russian Schools?

Americans have heard warnings for several years that the Soviet Union is turning out engineers in far greater numbers than this country.

U. S. scientists just back from the Soviet Union have found out, though, that Russian statements about how many "engineers" they are developing are no more reliable than some of their others claims. After looking into the Russian school system, they reported that what the Soviets call "engineers" are the equivalent of U. S. bachelor of science graduates — not true engineers by any international standards.

They also were intrigued by the discovery that many of these "engineers" chose that particular field because it was non-political and non-controversial. It afforded less threat of a trip to Siberia for political blunders. — Dallas Times Herald.

The Big Shrinkage

TIME TO BURN THE FLAG

The uproar over the "Liberal Papers", advocating surrender to the Reds on every front, is justified, not so much by their content as by the fact that they were sponsored by 35 members of Congress. That they are Democrats is less significant than the fact that they are members of Congress, the body that has always been regarded by the common man as his shield against the ambitions, caprices and failures of the Executive Branch and the ever-expanding bureaucracy through which it operates.

Ordinary people who have not yet conquered a love for their country (once regarded as a virtue) begin to mistrust the meaning of words when they read: "As the cold war continues, it becomes difficult for decent Americans, humane enough to prefer peace to egocentric national honor, to be outspokenly and genuinely anti-Communist."

They are threatened with nausea to learn that we should invite Russia to "plug in" on our Distant Early Warning line or radar sentries in the Arctic; not merely recognize Red China but give Quemoy, Matsu and the Pescadores to Mao and invite him to take Nationalist China's seat in the Security Council; unilaterally abandon atomic testing and open up our defenses to UN monitors; recognize East Germany and realize that West Berlin is only a "moral liability" unsupported by law.

And if such quaint Americans are puzzled that there has been no denunciation of the Liberal Papers from the White House, they shouldn't be. Not after release last September of "Department of State Publication 7277" and formal submission to the UN of this three-stage plan to scrap our weapons, military rockets, planes and ships and disband the US Army, Navy and Air Force — except for those elements turned over to the UN "Peace Force"!

There can be little doubt that both of these blueprints for surrender sprang from the same fuzzy heads and that the Liberal Papers are but a freewheeling endorsement and embellishment of the official State Department proposal. Their common root is the "Better red than dead" philosophy. But we should like to ask the 35 Congressmen, by what fatuous reasoning are they assured there will be such a choice? In any case, their political demise should be made in November.

THE HOPE OF HELL

"Senate Approves U.N. Loan; May Prove Balkier," says a headline in one of the state daily papers.

Our earnest prayer is that the House will balk so absolutely that this monstrous sell-out of America will be halted in its tracks. And the Senators who voted for it ought to have their heads examined for they're possessed of vacuums from the neck up.

What's more, we are fed to the teeth with the nonsensical phrase parroted by the unthinking that "The U.N. is the hope of the world." God help us if this be true! As for us, we recognize only one hope for the world, and that is our blessed Saviour Jesus Christ, who is carefully excluded from all U. N. deliberations while they dicker with Satan-in-the-Red.

Let's make it even stronger: Any Christian who endorses the U.N. as "the hope of the world" repudiates His Christ, and lends aid and comfort to Satan's cohorts.

FOR and AGAINST

for CHRIST-against COMMUNISM

BY BILLY JAMES HARGIS, L.D.
 FOUNDER CHRISTIAN CRUSADE

American Communists vs. Conservatives

What's behind all this publicity on the right-wing movement? There are two things behind this publicity concerning the growth of the anti-Communist movements in the United States. A great authority on psychological warfare, Edward Hunter (who was a member of our faculty during the Seminar) testified last July before the Committee on the Judiciary, United States Senate, concerning "The New Drive against the Anti-Communist Program." In this startling testimony, Mr. Hunter pointed out that the Communists planned a program to repudiate the anti-Communist and conservative movements of the United States during an international meeting of Communist conspirators held in Moscow in November, 1960. At that time, the use of left-wing or liberal publications in the United States to accomplish this job was outlined.

In the Senate report of July 11, 1961, entitled "The New Drive against Anti-Communist Program," there is a list of publications which fell right into the Communist trap of smearing the anti-Communist movements in this country. In the report, Cabell Phillips of The New York Times is listed as "The New York Times Axe Man in the Anti-Communist Movement." Two of the articles written by Cabell Phillips which appeared in The New York Times and which were entered in the Congressional Record as proof that American publications were following the Moscow order to discredit and repudiate reputable anti-Communist groups in the United States were entitled "Anti-Red Dispute Grips Illinoisans — Intensive Right-Wing Efforts Arouse Controversy" (May 5, 1961) and "Right-Wing Officers Worrying Pentagon" (June 17, 1961).

The Washington Post has also helped in the Communist-instigated move to discredit anti-Communist groups in the United States. Articles which appeared in this disreputable newspaper were also submitted to the Senate Committee as evidence of this. One such article which was called by Edward Hunter an exemplification of the red anti-anti-Communist drive appeared in the July 16, 1961 issue. It was entitled, "American Right Embraces A Curious Mixture," by Edward T. Follard.

Khrushchev must spend many enjoyable hours laughing over the stupidity of the liberals and left-wingers in the United States. By now, he surely has realized that the Communists do not have to actively work to overthrow this government; that if he will just leave us alone, the liberals will take care of the job for him. When you read an article attempting to make an anti-Communist leader look ridiculous and even treasonous, remember the source of the drive is international Communism and Khrushchev.

A celebrated clergyman of the last century on opening his mail one morning, withdrew a single sheet from an envelope. On it was written one word: "Fool."

During his sermon the next Sunday, he referred to the message in these words: "I have known many an instance of a man writing letters and forgetting to sign his name. But this is the only instance I've ever known of a man signing his name and forgetting to write his letter."

"Living in Germany is an experience I will never forget" says Mrs. C. C. Blanton (Eva Muller) who is in that country with her soldier husband, stationed at Bamberg.

Among interesting excerpts from a recent letter are the following:

"We are living on the local economy until government quarters are available so we have first hand information on how the Germans here live and their customs. We have become experts at building coal fires for cooking and heating. Our apartment is one of the nicer ones but I feel I am living in the Early American era . . . washing dishes in a dish pan, building fires . . . no laundry facilities.

"As for food: we buy almost everything from the commissary. Milk, eggs, butter come from Denmark; most of the fruits from Italy, and vegetables from Germany. Frozen foods down to TV dinners are available so actually it is like a supermarket in the states.

"For clothes we must go to Nuremberg, Frankfurt or some other large PX. It is almost like buying from Sears as everyone is dressed alike as we all buy from the same store. The Germans have beautiful clothes but under size 14 is hard to find. "We went to Konnersruth to see Theresa Neuman during Lent but she was ill and would see no one. Konnersruth is on the border so we had to have clearance and escort to go.

"Last month we went to Italy for two weeks of sight-seeing — Venice, Florence, Pisa, Rome, Isle of Capri, Naples and Pompeii. Vatican City was the highlight, a dream come true. The Italians are as friendly as Texans and always anxious to help in any way. We have also seen Austria, Switzerland and France." Captain Blanton is with the 3rd Avn. Co., 4th Infantry.

Also Danny, Janice and Joan Wilde, the third generation, who were especially helpful in dispensing what must have been barrels of coffee and cold drinks and hundreds of cookies. Mrs. James Bezner and Mrs. Rufus Bezner of Lindsay, sisters of Ray Wilde, also helped with hostess duties, along with the company's twelve employees.

Top Chevrolet officials, representatives of Sun Testing Equipment and representatives of Lee Tire Company were among visitors. Congratulatory messages came from far and near.

Prize winners at the drawing were from Bellevue, Nona and Muenster. Doris Fenoglio of Bellevue won the tape recorder, C. O. Seeds of Nona, the flash camera and Andy Monday of Muenster the transistor radio.

Children's prizes for registration were toy model Chevrolets and the winners were all from Muenster: Gary Fetsch, a Chevy II; Phyllis Bindel, a red Corvair; Dale Walterscheid, a convertible; Gracie Mosler, a Chevy II; and Chris Hess a Corvair.

City Council to Meet Monday for Tax Equalization

Muenster's annual tax equalization procedure will get under way next Monday night when members of the city council meet as an equalization board to consider renditions and make assessments.

As in several years past the council does this job itself because of the troubles it has had finding persons willing to serve on the equalization board.

Date for the second step of equalization will be announced later. That will be the hearing at which taxpayers have the opportunity to appear before the council with any complaints they may have regarding assessments.

An official notice sent by the council will inform them of any raise in their tax assessment. If the property is assessed higher than it was rendered, or in case it was not redereed, if it is assessed higher than the previous year, the person will be notified. No notice will be sent if the assessment is the same as the rendition or, in case of no rendition, the same as the previous assessment.

In Phoenix, Ariz., the Administration Committee of the Arizona Senate issued this directive: "Senators who have no secretaries of their own may take advantage of the girls in the steno pools."

Confetti - - -

China, Korea, Southeast Asia, Europe, Africa, Cuba and the UN has resulted either from our direct help or from our failure to stop what we could have. Even now we are pressuring Laos to agree to a coalition government, the device which has been used time and again by reds as a step leading to eventual take-over.

Is it possible that we will soon see the light? We hope so. Because the odds are definitely stacked in our favor if we will only start exploiting our opportunities.
