

Since last week's pint size travelogue has brought no objection to date, the column this week will continue to ramble along the route of our recent ramblings. And unless the objections for next week come in promptly, and forcefully, there's likely to be another installment. Not because the stuff especially merits a lot of attention, but rather because in this case it's a matter of following the line of least resistance. A columnist, you know does have the privilege of picking his subject, just like a reader has the privilege of disregarding it.

A study of road maps at Santa Fe revealed that two days of hard driving were between us and Los Angeles, especially if we were to leave the main route for a look at the Grand Canyon and the Hoover Dam. Fortunately that stretch of road was fine for making good time so we did all right by the schedule. Mostly desert, flat and wide open, perfect for breezing along at a merry clip. And whatever scenery there is along the way, like lava beds, painted desert, distant mountains, and the like can be seen and appreciated without stopping.

The Grand Canyon is really something. Another of those wonders of nature that transcend the power of words, anyway this column's choice of words. Stupendous, immense, magnificent, sort of apply when considered in the super-superlative.

Scientists say it is the world's most spectacular example of the power of erosion. A chasm 217 miles long and averaging in width from 4 miles to 20 miles. The average width is 10 miles, the average depth one mile. Looking from the rim down, or across, it's a wonderful sight. We may regret some day that we did not take time for a trip to the bottom, but just then we were too conscious of crowding the deadline. As a guide at Hoover Dam said the next day, people will drive all day to get somewhere, and can't get away fast enough after they have arrived.

The big ditch, they say, was formed by the Colorado river cutting down as the land moved upward, owing to the slow transformation of the earth's surface. Geologists figure that process has been under way 7 to 9 million years, and it's still going strong. According to figures at the gauging station the mighty river is now moving an average of nearly a million tons of sand and silt every day. The mere thought of it helps a person to appreciate local soil conservation efforts. Betcha this community will look better than that 7 million years hence.

Don't ask me where all that silt is going. I failed to get the answer, but I have a notion that Lake Mead, which now ranks as the world's largest reservoir, will eventually be a mere puddle. After the river passes through the Grand Can-

Father Anthony Is New Pastor of Muenster Parish

Rev. Anthony Schroeder, O. S. B., is the new pastor of Muenster's Sacred Heart Parish. He arrived here last Friday, August 26, to succeed Rev. Herman Laux, O.S.B., who served as pastor since Oct. 1, 1945. At the same time Father Herman succeeds Father Anthony as pastor at St. Mary's church, Altus, Ark.

Another local change in the local pastorate concerns Rev. Cyril Lange, O.S.B. He has been transferred to Lindsay to assist Father Conrad Herda. Father John Walbe continues as assistant pastor here.

Father Anthony is a native Texan born at Tours. In 1906 his family, the Wm. J. Schroeders, moved to Windthorst arriving the same day that the late Father Frowin Koerdt arrived to become pastor of the Windthorst parish. From the railroad station at Henrietta the Schroeder family and Father Frowin shared a surrey to their destination.

Father Anthony was ordained at Little Rock, Ark., on Dec. 16, 1928 and became pastor at New Blaine, Ark., the parish now served by Father Francis Zimmerer, on the following Jan. 26. In September of the same year he returned to Subiaco as secretary-treasurer and athletic director of Subiaco Academy and a few months later assumed additional duties as Procurator of Subiaco Abbey. Meanwhile he continued as missionary pastor at New Blaine until 1940 when he became pastor of the Subiaco parish. Five years later he became resident pastor at Altus, Ark.

Father Anthony is among home folks in the local parish. He is a brother to Mrs. Robert Knabe of Muenster and Mrs. Adam Wolf of Gainesville and a cousin to other families of the area.

Father Herman's pastorate represents an era of extensive changes here. Under his direction the Sisters' home was remodeled, and the parish rectory was remodeled and enlarged. In 1948 a 40 foot annex was added to the parish hall enlarging it sufficiently to serve as a temporary church and also providing urgently needed space in the school lunch kitchen. The work was completed early in December and the old church furnishing moved into it before the end of the month. Services were held there for the first time on New Year's Day, 1949, and the building was dedicated as a temporary church on Jan. 9 by Bishop Lynch. Within the next few weeks the old church site was cleared and materials stacked away for use on the new building.

Mrs. Earl Fisher underwent surgery Saturday morning at Gainesville Sanitarium and is recovering normally.

State League Holds District Meeting at Windthorst Monday

Saint Mary's parish, Windthorst, will be host on Labor Day, Sept. 5, for the Fall district meeting of the North Texas District of the Catholic State League of Texas. The day will also commemorate the golden jubilee of the organization of the Mother's Society in the Windthorst parish.

Frank Heitzman of Tioga, district president, released the official program for the day this week and at the same time extended a general invitation to everybody to attend.

The program will open at 9 a.m. with a solemn high mass Rev. Conrad Herda of Lindsay, a former Windthorst pastor officiating. Rt. Rev. Abbot Edward Burgert, pastor of the host city, will extend welcome and the business session will be concluded at noon.

The "Catholic Day" program will open at 1:15. Speakers will include Jos. A. Kraus of San Antonio, president of the League; Mrs. Frank Scheffe, president of the Womens Section; Mrs. Tony Korloth of Sherman, and others as announced.

Rev. John Walbe of Muenster, moderator of the Youth Section, will be in charge of the youth program. It includes a speaking contest.

Sacramental Benediction at 4 p.m. will close the meeting.

Muenster Girls Lead in Alvord Softball Tourney

Muenster's softball girls are a cinch for one of the two top places in a current double elimination tournament at Alvord. Returning Wednesday night with their third straight victory, the girls are leading as the only undefeated team in the meet.

The final decision comes Saturday night when they meet the winner of an elimination play-off by the one-time losers. If they win that game they are the tourney winners. If they lose they are still even with the other one-time loser and play a second game to decide the winner.

Teams included in the tournament are Muenster, Alvord, Ponder, Denton, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls. In its first three games Saturday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights Muenster defeated Denton 10-3, Ponder 18 to 5 and Wichita Falls 6 to 4. In other games Denton was eliminated by being defeated the second time while the other four teams survived with one loss each.

A double header Friday night will decide winners in the Fort Worth - Wichita Falls match and also the Alvord - Ponder match. Those two will play the opening game Saturday and the winner will meet Muenster in the final.

Local High Schools Get 50-70 Split in Early Registration

An attendance of at least 120 students was assured at Muenster's two high schools at preliminary registration held on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. According to a report from Sister Theresina, principal of Sacred Heart High, 50 students have arranged their schedule of courses. Superintendent Leo Neyer of Muenster High reports that 70 have registered there. Both stated also that they expect additional registrations on opening day next Tuesday, Sept. 6.

Registrations at the public school, Neyer said, reveal a keen interest in the newly instituted vocational courses. Over 90 per cent of the students are taking at least one vocational subject and a few are taking more than one.

Along with its registration report the parochial school announced its list of teachers and the reassignment of rooms to be used by the classes. The room changes were made in order to provide more space for the crowded classes.

There will be two first grade teachers, Sisters Louise and Cabrini, in rooms 1 and 2. Others are as follows: Sister Christine, second grade, room 4; Sister Pauline, third grade, room 3; Sister Gertrude, fourth grade, room 5; Sister Evangelista, fifth grade, room 8; Sister Canisla, sixth grade, room 6; Sister Remigia, seventh grade, room 7; Sister Carmelita, eighth grade, high school building. The high school teachers are Sisters Theresina, Eymard and Celine. They will teach in the remaining three rooms of the high school building.

Working against the Sept. 6 deadline school trustees this week are installing equipment in the K of C hall basement, which was leased for the year, for the vocational home economics course. Other emergency arrangements pending completion of the new school building include the use of the K of C hall main floor as a study hall and the former shop and home ec building as a primary grades room. Shop and agriculture classes will be held in the bus building and remaining classes will be held in the main building.

H & H Store Quits Feed Line; Continues As Electrical Store

Effective Thursday, September 1, the H & H Store discontinued its retail feed department and became an electrical store. At the same time Albert Henscheid, a former partner in the business, took over as owner. Meinrad Hesse, the other partner, who formerly divided time between the store and his farm, will go to full time farming.

The inventory of feed, seed, fertilizer and other feed store items has been purchased by the Muenster Mill.

Henscheid's plan is to make the business a complete electrical store including appliances, fixtures, wire, supplies, electrical repair service, and contract wiring.

Mrs. Gus Knabe sustained a broken left arm when she fell at her home Monday morning. The fracture is at the wrist. She was working in a flower bed at the time of the mishap.

Dick Cain, behind the microphone, acknowledges a bid in the middle of his auctioneer's chant at a recent sale in the Muenster Livestock Auction Barn. The regular Saturday auction which originated when E. A. Felker and Frank Solomon built the sale barn and lots in September 1946, has developed into big business for Muenster. Now regarded as one of the outstanding livestock auctions of North Texas, it attracts sellers from a radius of 200 miles and buyers from as far distant as Kansas and New Mexico. In an average sale approximately $30,000 worth of stock passes through the auction ring. In exceptionally large sales, such as that on August 27, more than 1000 head of livestock are handled.

Cain's interest in the auction sale dates back to Dec. 1946 when he bought Solomon's share in the business. In May 1948 he bought Felker's share and became sole owner.

He attributes the sale's growth to the mutual confidence developed between good buyers and good sellers. Buyers are confident that they will find plenty of good stock while sellers are confident they will find a good market.

Above is an outside view of the auction barn and a few of the vehicles gathered for the sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cook had as guests Sunday Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Neaves and five children of Denison. Rev. Neaves was the first pastor of the Muenster Baptist church.

Boyd on the 16th. Since then he succeeded in matching a game with Bells, to be played under the local lights on Sept. 9. He had made a great deal of effort to start the season at home because he wants the boys to break in their new uniforms on their own field.

The new attire is a striking combination of red and white. White plastic helmet, white jersey with red numerals and red shoulder insert, and red pants with white insert.

Little is known of what to expect when the local boys clash with Bells, except that both teams are in the Class B bracket. The visiting team has that rating and the Hornets are seeking admission to the interscholastic league with that rating. Coach Hood feels confident that they will be admitted in time to participate in conference competition next year.

Other developments of the week bring the team's list of scheduled games to seven. The schedule to date is as follows:

Sept. 9	Bells	here
Sept. 16	Boyd	there
Sept. 22	Anna	there
Sept. 29	Electra B	here
Oct. 7	Laneri	here
Oct. 12	St. Xavier	there
Oct. 28	Pilot Point	here

Hood is still looking for games in the hope of having no less than 10 for the season.

Marian Gremminger
And Robert Mayer
Marry Thursday

Miss Marian Gremminger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Gremminger, became the bride of Robert H. Mayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mayer of Pilot Point, Thursday morning, Sept. 1, in a double ring ceremony performed in Sacred Heart church at nine o'clock.

Rev. Thomas Weinzapfel of Valley View, cousin of the bride, officiated at the ceremony and was celebrant of the solemn nuptial high mass. Rev. Paul Charcut of Pilot Point was deacon and Rev. John Walbe was sub-deacon.

Anthony Luke presided at the organ for the wedding marches and to accompany the church choir in singing the Centennial Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with high round neckline and shoulder yoke of chiffon, long fitted sleeves and moulded bodice. The extremely full skirt featured a modified bustle and extended into a cathedral length train. Lace edged the train and was repeated on the sleeves falling softly over the hands.

The bride's full length veil of chiffon was the one worn by her mother at her wedding 25 years ago. It fell from a queen's crown of seed pearls. The bridal bouquet consisted of tube roses and white glads centered with an orchid. Miss Dolores Gremminger attended her sister as maid of honor, Mrs. Maurice Pagel, another sister, was bride's matron, and Miss Frances Mayer, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore identical frocks of slipper satin in fall shades of burgundy and green. Miss Gremminger wearing burgundy and the other two attendants green. The dresses were made with fitted bodices, full skirts and short sleeves. They wore matching halo hats and carried arm bouquets of yellow roses.

The groom's attendants were his brother, Billy Mayer, best man, and Don Stephens, James Heitzman, Maurice Pagel and Billy Joe Miller, ushers.

Mothers of the couple both wore navy ensembles with white carnation corsages. Immediately after the services all church guests were served coffee and cake in the parish hall dining room. Presiding at the coffee service and serving the cake were Mmes. Ted Gremminger and Joe Lehnertz and Misses Marilyn and Patsy Gremminger and Joan Felderhoff.

Mr. and Mrs. Gremminger were hosts in their home at noon for a dinner followed by an informal reception for immediate members of both families, the clergy and out of town guests, including the bride's grandfather, H. J. Weinzapfel of Windthorst.

A lace cloth covered the bride's table and a three-tier cake, flanked with white tapers in crystal candelabra, formed the centerpiece. Mrs. Don Stephens, sister of the groom, registered the guests.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Mayer left by car on a wedding trip, the bride wearing a suit of D'Or blue satin topped with a silver grey jacket, and grey accessories and an orchid corsage.

When they return they will make their home in Pilot Point where he is employed in the post office.

Mrs. Mayer was born in El Reno, Okla., but came to Muenster as a small child. She attended Sacred Heart school graduating from high school with the class of 1947. She attended a beauty culture school in Dallas and since graduation there was employed in the Muenster Beauty Shop.

Mr. Mayer was born and educated in Pilot Point and served in the navy two years with overseas duty.

Mrs. G. W. Cole and daughter, Norma Jean, of Grand Prairie, and Mrs. H. E. Vann of Dallas, were Sunday night and Monday guests in the home of Mrs. Carra Pagel to visit her and their daughter-in-law and sister-in-law, Mrs. T. W. Cole and infant son.

Former Local Boy
Weds at Hereford

Of interest to relatives and friends here is the marriage, on Monday, of Raynold Herr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Herr of Hereford, to Miss Dorothy Jean Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stone of Amarillo. The groom's parents are formerly of Muenster.

The couple was married in St. Anthony church in Hereford, the bride wearing the traditional formal wedding gown of white satin. She carried a white orchid on top of a white prayerbook.

Attending the couple were Miss Geraldine Knabe and Wilfred Herr. Miss Knabe wore pink taffeta and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

When they return from a wedding trip the newlyweds will make their home in Hereford.

Attending the wedding from here were Mrs. Joe Luke, Mr. and Mrs. John Herr and daughter, Trese, and Frank Herr.

BERTIE LOU BAUMHARDT, BRIDE-ELECT, IS HONORED

Mrs. Callie Baumhardt has announced the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Bertie Lou, to Ernest D. Webb of Wichita, Kansas, son of Mrs. Maude Webb of Wichita.

The couple will be married early in September in rites performed in this city.

Complimenting the bride-elect, Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel and daughter, Miss Juanita, entertained with a lawn party and miscellaneous shower at their home Friday night.

Games of 42 and rummy entertained the guests with Miss Marian Starke and Mrs. Nick Miller receiving the high score awards and presenting them to the honoree.

After the honoree opened and displayed her shower gifts the hostesses served delicious refreshments to about 30 guests.

Miss Bertha Haverkamp is now making her home in Gainesville where she has accepted employment.

Visiting here Tuesday afternoon and night with the Friske families were Mrs. Aug. Friske's sister, Mrs. Walter Eschberger and her two daughters, Mmes. Oliver Stone and Mabry Cardwell, all of Robstown. They stopped here enroute to their home after attending the wedding of Raynold Herr to Dorothy Jean Stone in Hereford on Monday. Mrs. Joe Luke, who also attended the wedding, drove to Muenster with them. They were over-night guests at the Luke home. During the evening they were joined by the Arnold Friske family of Gainesville for a visit.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26—The House has today quit until September 21 under a recess agreement. Neither the House or the Senate can adjourn for longer than 3 days at one time without a joint resolution in which both Houses concur. The House attempted to secure Senate agreement for the House to adjourn for one month but the Senate voted down such House Resolution by a 58 to 25 vote. Thereupon, the House agreed to quit for one month under a 3 day recess arrangement. That means that every third day the House will meet and promptly adjourn for another three days. A few Representatives will be left here to carry on this procedure.

It will be necessary for me to remain here for several days, since I am Acting Chairman of a Judiciary Subcommittee now conducting hearings on Tidelands bills. These hearings will be concluded early next week. Following that, I have an appointment with Secretary of State Acheson to discuss with him the serious problem of oil imports. Other departmental and office work will have to be concluded before my departure for Texas. The Gossett family will have to remain here because three of our children will start back to school early in September. Because it is impossible to know just where I will be and what Congress will be doing between now and January, this will be our last newsletter until the convening of the Second Session of the 81st Congress on next January 3.

We have been receiving numerous letters urging a reduction in various taxes. Eighty-four year old Representative Bob Doughton of North Carolina, who has served in the Congress for better than 35 years and who is Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee that considers all tax matters, has just stated that there would be no tax reduction this year. Representative Doughton makes the point that by the end of this fiscal year on next July 1, we will be between four and five billion dollars in the red. For this ensuing fiscal year, we will spend in excess of 45 billions of dollars. Just how, when where and if federal spending is to be reduced, remains the big question. All agree that we should operate on a balanced budget and should not spend billions more than we collect. Forty-five billions of dollars, the amount our government will spend this fiscal year, is considerably more than our total national income was during the depression years.

Secretary of Defense, Louis Johnson, created quite a flurry in Washington this week by asking all members of Congress to be in his office at 9:30 on Wednesday morning for an important announcement. Some 125 members did go to the Secretary's office to hear him announce the closing of numerous military bases and the proposal to discharge some 130 thousand employees. The possibilities are that most of these employees will eventually remain on government payrolls by transfer to some other agency or post. Someone has said "there is nothing so permanent as a temporary government job."

On my desk is a resolution recently received from a conference of State Governors. The Governors go on record as favoring increased efficiency and economy in government. The Governors then conclude by saying—"The Governors' Conference does not in any way suggest a curtailing of public services." There certainly is a crying need for higher efficiency and for the elimination of waste and duplication. However, government expenses are not going to be greatly reduced without at the same time reducing some of the government services and activities. Officials and citizens cannot demand more services and expect to receive any substantial reduction in taxes. Unless the American people insist on keeping government within due bounds, then government will continue to grow and grow, both in size and in cost, and we will eventually drift into what is commonly called the welfare state, which, according to all available evidence is not a state to be desired, and is not in the last analysis for the general welfare.

Free checks will be made on the brakes, steering, headlights rear and stop lights, tires, windshield wipers, muffler, glass, horn and rear view mirror.

The Endres Motor Co. will place an attractive safe driver reflector insignia on the car or truck inspected and motorists will be given an entry blank to participate in the contest.

The motorist must then complete in no more than 50 additional words the following statement:

"All cars and trucks should be safety-checked periodically because _____."

A jury of prominent persons in national safety circles will judge the winners. Only one entry per car or truck may be presented.

Other details of the contest are available at the Endres Motor Co.

Burglars Get $5,300 In Bonds and Cash From Shorty Herr

Thieves made a good haul Monday night when they robbed the Herr Motor company* in Wilson, Okla., of $5000 in bonds and about $300 in cash.

Adolph Herr, owner and manager of the business, discovered the loss when he reported for work Tuesday morning.

According to officers who investigated the robbery the burglars gained entrance into the building by forcing a lock on a front door of the establishment. They took the bonds from a safe that owners apparently thought was locked but whose dial was only turned past the first number. The cash came from a desk drawer in the office. A small lock was forced. Nothing but the safe and desk was bothered.

Officers said they had several good leads and fingerprints and should establish something definite soon.

Notes On Soil Conservation

Jake Seibold has a 40 bushel per acre field of corn that followed a vetch green manure crop. His farm is in the Clear Creek conservation group. The corn is planted on a sandy field that was previously fertilized with phosphate and seeded to hairy vetch. The corn was planted after the vetch was plowed under. Mr. Seibold planted a hybrid white corn and almost every stalk matured two full grown, firm ears. The green manure crop was responsible for fifteen to twenty bushels of this corn yield.

Paul Fisher of Muenster has harvested 2500 pounds of biennial white blossom sweet clover seed off of 12 acres. He also harvested 700 pounds of vetch seed off of 4 acres. These crops help control erosion, rebuild soils, increase yields of following crops and in addition they will pay their way as a cash crop. Paul has used vetch and sweet clover seeded with small grain for grazing, for hay and for seed production.

Jim Denison, whose farm is northeast of St. Jo, has harvested 80 pounds of re-cleaned weeping love grass seed. This is probably the first time this grass seed has been harvested in commercial quantities in the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District. 80 pounds of some kinds of seed is not very much but 80 pounds of weeping love grass seed will plant 160 acres in rows. Some early trial plantings of weeping love grass were criticized locally because cattle did not graze the grass readily in all seasons. Recent experience has shown that this grass will make good growth on eroded and sandy soils that are not producing a good grazing grass. Cattle will graze it in winter and early spring when the grazing is needed most. Palatability is improved by fertilizing with nitrates and phosphates. It should be used for temporary grazing rather than for continuous grazing.

Health Department Suggests Measures For Rabies Control

AUSTIN.—The Texas State Department of Health during the first seven months of this year has a record of the examination of 2709 animal heads for rabies and of this number almost one fourth were found positive, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Rabies is transmitted to man through a bite or having a cut exposed to the saliva of a rabid animal. If a person is bitten, the offending animal should be penned, if possible, for a period of at least ten days. If the animal is in the infective stage, he will die within this time. This does not mean that he may not be in the noninfectious or incubative stage and develop rabies later. All dogs bitten by a rabid animal should be confined six months. If it is necessary to kill the animal, this should be done in such a manner that the brain is not destroyed.

When sending a head to the State Laboratory it should be put in a container, sealed and packed in ice to prevent decomposition.

Dr. Cox said that rabies is a hard disease to eradicate, but that it could be done if all owners would have their dogs vaccinated each year and eliminate all stray dogs. If you have a dog, get him vaccinated the same as you have your children immunized against diphtheria and smallpox.

Rabies is commonly supposed to be a disease of warm weather, but it is more prevalent during the spring and fall because the dogs congregate and move about more, therefore the chance of exposure is greater during this time. It is true that more dogs are killed during the summer months, but the percentage of rabies is low.

A man had barely paid off the mortgage on his house when he mortgaged it again to buy a new car. Then he sought out a loan broker to try to borrow money on the car so he could build a garage.

"If I do make you the loan," asked the broker, "how will you buy gas for the car?"

"It seems to me," the man replied with dignity, "that a fellow who owns his own house car and garage, should be able to get credit for gas."

BIGGER and BETTER

Thanks to both sellers and buyers last Saturday was an eventful day in our history. We handled over 1000 head of livestock, and our prices were consistently better than the day's market quotations. For instance:

Top calves	24.80
Top bulls	17.40
Butcher cows	15.75
Stocker cows	16.00

And other classes of stock sold proportionately high.

Lindsay Gin Quits After Fifty Years; Not Enough Cotton

For the first time in 50 years the Dieter cotton gin in Lindsay, will not be in operation this season.

The Dieter brothers, Mike and Val, who followed their father, Nick Dieter, in the cotton ginning business, decided against operating the gin this year when they saw that the amount of cotton planted in the area would not justify remodeling and replacement of machinery.

The planting and harvesting of cotton had from the first days of the establishment of the colony in 1891, held an important place in the agricultural life of Lindsay residents. Ginning was one of the very first businesses. The first gin is remembered by some of the oldsters, who were youngsters at the time, as a horse-powered machine that crudely separated the seed from the lint with the assistance of helpers who stomped it with their feet.

Nick Dieter, who migrated to Lindsay in 1894, introduced the new ginning methods of the day. He kept abreast with the times, improving and replacing as better machinery was developed. After his death his sons took over. The Dieter gin rounded out 50 years of faithful service.

Larry Hellinger, 6, of Lindsay Dies Thursday

Funeral services were held Saturday at 8:30 a.m. in Saint Peter's church at Lindsay for Larry Leo Hellinger, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hellinger, who died at the home of his parents Thursday. Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, officiated at the funeral service and at the burial in the Lindsay cemetery.

Rosary was recited in the Geo. J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home chapel Friday night. Larry was born in Lindsay on March 12, 1943. He is survived by his parents; two sisters, Mary Ann and Nelda; three brothers, Pete Jr., Milford and James.

Sunday dinner guests of the Ray Koppers were her parents, the J. J. Haverkamps and family of Muenster.

Albert Spaeth, 77, Former Lindsay Man, Dies Aug. 16

Albert Spaeth, 77, a former resident of Lindsay, died at his home in San Antonio on Aug. 16, after a long illness. He was a retired farmer.

Funeral services were held in St. Joseph's church in San Antonio and burial was in San Fernando cemetery.

Mr. Spaeth was a native of Austria where he was born on April 18, 1872. He came to the United States with his parents when he was 11 years old, settling with them in New Braunfels. The family later moved to Lindsay where he married Miss Josephine Block on Nov. 28, 1911. He had been living in San Antonio since 1942.

Survivors in addition to his wife are eight daughters and two sons. One daughter, serving in the army nurses corps, came from her station in Japan to be with her father during his last illness. The other children all reside in San Antonio. There are also five grandchildren surviving and two sisters, Mmes. Joseph Flusche of Lindsay and Ed Blumberg of Pilot Point, and two brothers, R. Spaeth of Harlingen and Fred Spaeth of Gower, Mo.

Among relatives at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fleitman and daughter, Rita Block, John Block and Mrs. Pete Block, all of Lindsay; Mrs. Ed Blumberg, Dorothy Mae and Jeanette Blumberg of Pilot Point and Mrs. R. Spaeth of Harlingen.

Mrs. Willie Fuhrmann accompanied her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stoffels of Muenster, on a trip to Wichita Falls Thursday to visit relatives. Sunday the Fuhrmann family and Mrs. M. J. Stoffels and son of Muenster spent the day in Wichita with their daughter and sister Mrs. Gerald Wachsmann and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wachsmann of Wichita Falls are the parents of a 7½ pound son, Ronald William, born on Aug. 24. The mother is the former Miss Tillie Fuhrmann. Mr. and yon, you know, it's halted in Lake Mead for the Hoover Dam power plant, and unless the silt settles out before, it has to settle there.

Mrs. Willie Fuhrmann, grandparents, were baptismal sponsors for the new grandson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gruber of Fort Worth spent Sunday with his parents, the F. J. Grubers.

No less spectacular than the canyon itself is the Hoover Dam. One is a masterpiece of nature, the other a masterpiece of human achievement. Considered as one of the greatest engineering feats of all time. Stupendous is an understatement for that job. The dam is 726 feet high, 1,244 feet long, 45 feet thick at the top and 660 feet thick at the bottom. It required 3,250,000 cubic yards of concrete. It holds enough water to release 90,000 cubic feet every second the year around and deliver a constant flow of 1,835,000 horsepower of electrical energy. The turbines which harness this tremendous power are 30 feet in diameter, 15 of them. And the four pipes which carry the water to the power plant are each 30 feet in diameter. From the top of the dam to the floor of the power plant is 558 feet, about 45 stories. There are plenty more statistics to indicate the enormous size of the place and the almost unbelievable engineering feats that went into its construction. And incidentally, it's plenty fancy. Terrazzo floors, marble and chrome practically all over. As elaborate as any office building, and just as well kept.

Driving thereabouts is interesting too. Rough and barren. Plenty of additional evidence of erosion but no spectacular canyon walls and no vegetation. Unless the land has some mineral value it's absolutely worthless . . . except to provide a place to put the dam.

Farther west the country isn't much more attractive. Lots and lots of Nevada and California desert. In fact if our view of Nevada was a fair sample of the state we can understand why legalized gambling is so widely publicized. Without sucker money those people would probably have a hard time getting along.

Coming from a state where people sometimes have legal troubles over pin ball machines, we were naturally impressed by signs in Nevada. They advertise dice, blackjack, roulette. One place advertised "liberal slot machines." And one place, Harold's of Reno, really reaches out for the suckers. We saw his signs all the way from Nevada to Texas, the last one this side of Wichita Falls. The signs were wasted on us.

however. We breezed through Las Vegas without even stopping to look. Wish now we had. It would have been interesting to see where the big time playboys goof off their money. If the interiors of those joints match the fancy exteriors they'd have been worth a pause, too. But we were in a hurry then. Thinking only of getting to Los Angeles.
