MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, OCTOBER 21, 1949

NUMBER 48

There's plenty of satisfaction in last week's report that the notorious eleven top communists have been convicted of plotting the violent overthrow of our government. There's even more satisfaction in knowing that Judge Harold Medina did not permit a pack of unscrupulous shysters on the defense to get away with their smelly shenanigans during the trial.

For 39 weeks while the case was in progress Judge Medina was a model of patience. He passed over innumerable instances of contempt and insult. There were times when it seemed that no self-respecting judge could possibly tolerate it.

But now the judge shows his hand. While he seemed to be swallowing insults he was only marking time until his chance to beat a pack of contemptible rats at their own game. Tirades, insinuations and other varieties of judicial irregularity were handled with the greatest dignity. Regardless of what the communists did or said, the judge always managed to restore order and proceed with the trial. He got the cases fully presented and he got a final verdict from the jury.

Then he lowered the boom on the trouble makers. Turning on the five defense lawyers and Eugene Dennis, who had acted as his own attorney, Medina sentenced them all to jail for contempt during the trial. He let the shysters know in plain words that their unscrupulous procedure instead of winning a case for their clients had backfired.

The patience he had exercised so commendably at many times in the trial was still apparent. But along with it was a resentment which had been concealed before. He told the attorneys that they had deliberately tried to cause delay and confusion so as to make the trial impossible, also to provoke incidents to result in mistrial or impair his health.

The judge had to exercise a lot of restraint. But in doing so he performed a great service to his country. He outfoxed the guys who thought they would make this nation a world-wide laughing stock. He refused to fall into a trap and then surprised everybody by cracking down on those who had set the trap.

The case itself stands out as a model of American justice. Every right of every defendant was carefully observed in spite of outrages that would have justified immediate and drastic punishment. By all the standards of fair play, the defendants in this case got better treatment than they deserved. The court stuck strictly to the charges and did not permit itself or the jury to be prejudiced by the misbehavior of the defense.

Every one of the defendants had previously admitted his allegiance to the communist cause and his admiration for everything Russian. Those facts alone marked the men as traitors at heart. But American justice was too fair to convict them on their proposed labels. Before branding them as traitors it held an impartial trial to establish beyond the shadow of a doubt that they had actually been guilty of treasonable acts. They were already getting the benefit of the utmost in fairness and leniency and still they sought by trickery and technicality to defeat even the mild form of justice this country demands. What brass! To seek the overthrow of this government by one that ignores human rights and still claim that an American trial violates their rights.

Another significant point is the leniency of sentence the eleven guilty persons face. A maximum of 10 years in prison and $10,000 fine. Remember, that's the penalty America imposes for plotting the overthrow of our government. How does it compare with the Russian penalty for treason?

By way of comparison let's consider for a moment what

Cowan Succeeds Neyer as School Superintendent

Effective Wednesday morning Oct. 19 Weldon Cowan became the superintendent of Muenster High School succeeding Leo Neyer who submitted his resignation at a regular meeting of the school board the previous evening. At this time the board has not announced its selection to succeed Mr. Cowan in the position of principal.

In an interview Wednesday Mr. Neyer said that he had no statement to make regarding his resignation, and that at this time he has no definite plans for the future.

City Sewer Grief Caused by 4 Feet Of Sand and Junk

With a four foot layer of sand and all sorts of debris removed Muenster's sewage disposal plant is as good as new and supposedly ready for a long period of trouble free service. The cleaning it got the latter part of last week was its first since the system was built.

Work became necessary when the plant ceased to function properly. An inspection then revealed that accumulated sand and junk had raised to the level of outlet pipes and clogged them.

In the opinion of Steve Mosier, waterworks and sewer superintendent, a great deal of the sand apparently washed in during floods of the past several years. But rubbish must have been put into the sewer by the people of Muenster. The assortment seems to indicate, Mosier said, that some people consider the sewer as a disposal place for any object that will flush through a commode. Such people caused the trouble this time and they will cause more trouble unless they discontinue that practice.

Improvement Noted In Otto Polio Cases

This community's two polio victims, Harriette and Charlene Otto, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Otto, are both responding favorably to treatment at Gainesville sanitarium, according to reports Wednesday. Harriette, 10, entered the hospital for treatment on Friday Oct. 7, and her sister, 5, entered the following Thursday. Charlene is said to be progressing faster than Harriette. The older girl is still suffering from leg spasms and will require treatments for a longer period.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hess had as guests for a week, her nephew, Frank Crenshaw, and his friend, Joe Eden, both of Louisville, Ky., who were enroute home after a visit in California. The boys left here Thursday.

IT'S JUST TIRED—There's no camera trickery here. This swayed-backed taproom on Chicago's northwest side just grew weary and sagged. Tipplers out on the town often go straight home after one glance, but to old customers the off-center tavern is a familiar sight.

Hornet Reserves Shine in 20-7 Win Over Callisburg

The little fellows had a big night Friday when they carried the colors for Muenster Hi and came through with a 20 to 7 win over Callisburg.

With only one exception the entire lineup of Hornet regulars warmed the bench for the entire game. Gilbert Yosten directed the second stringers for the first quarter but left the ball totting up to them. By that time they had a 13 point lead and he joined his team-mates on the sideline.

Another touchdown in the second quarter set up a comfortable margin and Coach Hood turned the game over to his little boys.

Through most of the last half Callisburg had the advantage and carried the ball almost the full length of the field for its only touchdown.

The first quarter was all Muenster's. From the kickoff the Hornets drove all the way for a touchdown, Knabe crossing for the marker.

Next the visitors received and kicked when their first series of downs bogged. Taking the punt Muenster launched its second scoring drive — went over for the second quarter just as the second quarter opened.

Touchdown No. 3 came the same way. Callisburg failed to advance after the kick-off and booted to Muenster. And the scoring drive was on again, Hamric taking the scoring honor.

Another start late in the quarter failed when time ran out.

The second half opened on fairly even terms as Callisburg made a first down then lost on downs in midfield. Muenster kicked after failing to advance and got the ball on a fumble on its 30. From there it got as far as the 8 before losing on downs.

As Callisburg took over Coach Hood sent in the pee-wees who put up a gallant fight but were outpowered by the visitors' steady drive. Callisburg went all the way and added the extra point.

Toward the end of the fourth quarter Hood relieved a few of the tiny tots and the game tightened accordingly. From then on the match was fairly even and neither side made much headway.

City Council Room Location Changed

The City of Muenster this week is moving its meeting place from the small room adjoining L. A. Bernauer's Cafe to former location of Wimpy's radio shop at the corner of Main and First streets. The new location is considerably larger than the old.

John Hoffman is supervising preparing for the move Mayor a general repair job and Fisher's Market is changing a partition to add some of its former warehouse space to the council chamber.

RURAL YOUTH AT FAIR—The parking lot at the State Fair of Texas was crowded with school buses from all parts of Texas by early morning last Saturday. The buses brought part of the vast contingent of farm boys and girls who attended the Fair in the biggest gathering of its kind in the nation's history. There were 75,000 4H Club members, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers among the Fair's biggest crowd of all time—a total of 276,984 visitors. The rural youth came from 200 counties of the 254 counties of the state. The Fair's last big day is Sunday.

News Of Sick And Injured

Mrs. Joe Linn is recovering normally from a gall stone operation performed at Gainesville sanitarium Monday morning.

Mrs. Joe Felderhoff has been confined to her home for the past three weeks suffering from a severe case of the flu.

Mrs. E.P. Buckley returned Tuesday from Gainesville sanitarium where she was a patient five days receiving penicillin treatments for a left arm bone infection.

Rufus McElreath was back at his school bus driving job Monday for the first time in a week as the result of an injury on Oct. 7. He suffered a back injury when a piece of timber hit him while he was working on the school building. He was in Gainesville sanitarium for treatment.

Word reaching Muenster this week indicates that Rev. Father Thomas Buegler is recovering satisfactorily from an illness that has confined him to Spohn hospital in Corpus Christi for three weeks. He expects to be back at his duties at St. Therese's parish this weekend. While he is hospitalized Father Cyril, who teaches at Corpus Christi College-Academy, is in charge of St. Therese's parish.

Test in 22 Year Old Pool Yields 20 Barrel Producer

Oil activity was renewed in this community's oldest pool last week when Voth Brothers brought in a 20 barrel producer just across the creek from the Muenster city limits. It is on the John Bayer land about 200 feet south of Brushy Elm and 300 feet west of the South Muenster road.

An interesting fact about the well is its location near a well that was drilled in 1927 and abandoned about 10 years ago because of low production. The favorable test raises a hope that with modern improved drilling and servicing methods, the old pool, which was believed to be dwindling away, may possibly be revived into a valuable field.

The owner of the well is a recently formed partnership consisting of Dick Cain, Steve Fette, Frank Needham and J. P. Flusche.

Mrs. Ed Eberhart has returned from a month's visit in Post with her daughter, Mrs. Julius Stelzer and family. She returned home in company of her husband and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eberhart, Mrs. Bill Flusche and Margie Lou Eberhart who spent Sunday in Post to make the acquaintance of Chris Julius, the Stelzers' new son.

Vernon Q. Martin, 38, Dies Suddenly Of Heart Ailment

Vernon Q. Martin, 38, died suddenly of a heart attack at 1 p.m. Thursday while at work at the Gainesville city water pump station where he was employed since he left Muenster about two years ago. He was a cheese plant employee here.

Funeral services were held at 3:30 Friday in the George J. Carroll and son funeral chapel. Rev. C.M. Thomas, pastor of the First Baptist chapel officiated. Burial was in Fairview cemetery, conducted by the Gainesville Masonic lodge.

Mr. Martin was born at Freemound on April 22, 1911, and lived in Cooke county all his life.

Survivors are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Cason of Muenster, and Dell Martin of Gainesville; two sons, Dale and Gary of Gainesville; his mother, Mrs. Sam H. Martin of Freemound; a brother, Sam Martin of Borger; and a sister, Mrs. Era Harris of Idabel, Okla.

Floor Is Next Step In Construction of New School Project

With foundation work complete there's a lull in actual construction at Muenster's new public school building but plenty of activity. A base is being prepared for the concrete floor, which is the next

About half of the 1600 cubic item on the building schedule, the 8 inch cushion under the yards of sand to be used for floor was on hand Wednesday. Ten trucks are hauling. Meanwhile a bulldozer is knocking down high spots and making fills to establish a proper level of the ground. The dozer is also spreading sand.

Among materials at the site are huge heaps of sand and gravel, which will fall considerably short of meeting requirements of floors, sidewalks, plaster and mortar.

Also on hand is a sufficient quantity of Haydite blocks for the auditorium and gymnasium.

Haydite is a building material new to this area. As explained by Building Superintendent Jack Owens, it consists of shale fused and moulded under terrific heat and pressure. The result is a rough gray block about half the weight of a concrete block but superior to concrete in strength and acoustical quality. It is also more water resistant than concrete.

Walls of the gym and auditorium will be built of Haydite and veneered with brick. Other walls of the building will ed outside. The bricks are plastered inside and veneered with cream and light buff in color and will be mixed to produce a two tone wall.

Barn and Contents Destroyed by Fire At Norbert Knabe's

A barn and all its contents went up in smoke about mid-afternoon on Wednesday Oct. 12 when a fire of undetermined origin broke out at the Meurer-Weinzapfel-Reiter place occupied by Norbert Knabe. Principal losses besides the building were 1200 bales of hay, a milking machine and a quantity of grain.

Losses on both the building and its contents are about half covered by insurance. Construction on a new barn to replace it is due to begin in the near future.

John Culp, 61, of Gainesville Dies Of Heart Attack

John W. Culp, 61, well known Cooke County attorney who practiced law in Gainesville for 40 years, passed away at his home there Friday morning at 8:15 after a heart attack that afflicted him less than four hours earlier.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 2 p.m. at his residence with Rev. Earl J. Patton, Methodist minister of Greenville, officiating, with burial in Fairview cemetery.

Mr. Culp was born in Gainesville on April 5, 1888, and was educated in the public schools. He received his law degree from the University of Texas in 1909 and had since practiced his profession in Gainesville.

He served as mayor of Gainesville and as city attorney during his extended career as an attorney and civic leader. He had never been ill and had carried on his legal work Thursday as usual.

Hornet-St. Joseph Game to be Battle Of Little Fellows

It's going to be a battle of the midgets when Saint Joseph's Hi of Sherman comes here for a game with Muenster Hi Friday night. With a 144 pounder as the huskiest boy on the team and a 106 pounder as the tiniest, the visiting lineup will be definitely the lightest to face the Hornets in recent years.

Likewise the Muenster team will be mostly lightweight. Coach Hood stated this week that he has no intention to run up a big score on the little visitors, and may not take his regulars off the bench during the entire game. This game is for the boys who have been sitting out the other games, and for the fans who have been waiting to see them in action.

To date the Sherman boys have been hopelessly outweighed and out classed. St. Xavier and St. Marys both trampled them by more than 50 to 0. But they have shown commendable spunk and ability, which, in Friday's game is expected to show up more favorably on the score board.

The time of the game is 8 p.m.

Sunday guests in the Henry Streng home were Mr. and Mrs. Alois Pels and son of Pilot Point and their guest, Mrs. John Altner of Centralia.

Eugene Schmitz and Miss Derichsweiler
 Marry Here Oct. 18

Miss Lorene Derichsweiler became the bride of Eugene Schmitz Tuesday at 8:30 a. m. in rites performed in Sacred Heart church. Rev. John Walbe officiated at the ring ceremony and at the nuptial high mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Derichsweiler and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H.M. Schmitz.

Roses, marigolds and greenery adorned the altar before which the couple exchanged vows. The church choir sang the Mass of the Angels with Anthony Luke, organist, playing the accompaniment. Mr. Luke also played the traditional wedding processional and recessional.

The bride wore a lovely white satin formal gown with high neck line, full gathered skirt that extended into a long train, petal point sleeves and a fitted bodice. The bodice was accented with a V insert of lace, edged with satin folds and featured a Peter-Pan collar. The bridal veil was finger tip length, edged with lace, and fell from a crown of seed pearls. The bride carried an orchid on top of a white prayer book, and a crystal rosary.

Attending the bride were her sister, Miss Alvina Derichsweiler, as maid of honor and her cousin, Miss Alvina Steinberger of Windthorst, as bridesmaid. They wore identical satin frocks in shades of yellow and orchid, respectively. The tight waisted, full skirted dresses were designed with round neck lines and shirred short sleeves. They wore matching braided halos with shoulder length veils and carried colonial bouquets of orchid and yellow chrysanthemums.

The groom's attendants were the bride's cousin, Richard Grewing, and Alvin Hartman.

The groom's mother wore a blue suit with black accessories. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Peter Bindel of Windthorst, wore a navy blue ensemble and black accessories. The three wore shoulder corsages of white carnations.

After the church services the bride's parents' home was the scene of a wedding breakfast for members of the bridal party and in the afternoon at 3 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Derichsweiler received relatives into their home for an informal reception and a supper at 6 o'clock. The bride's table carried out her chosen colors and held a beautiful tiered wedding cake which was baked by Mrs. Herman Fette. Roses and zinnias decorated the party rooms.

A dance in the K of C hall at night concluded the day's festivities.

During the dance Mr. and Mrs. Schmitz left on a wedding trip. The bride wore a brown suit with green accessories and the orchid she carried at the wedding. When they return they will make their home here.

Both are natives of Muenster and attended Sacred Heart school.

CDA'S SOLICIT COFFEE COUPONS, SOAP WRAPPERS

The local court Catholic Daughters of America has launched a drive to secure valuable premiums by redeeming Bright and Early and Admiration coffee coupons. At their regular meeting Friday night they appointed Miss Olivia Stock to head the drive. The court asks every user of these brands of coffee to save the coupons and hand them to Miss Stock or to other members of the court. The court also solicits Swan soap wrappers and asks that the wrappers be left in the back of church or handed to Mrs. Steve Moster. For every two Swan soap wrappers sent to CARE that organization sends two bars of Swan soap to needy families overseas.

The American Way

ABOUT FACE

By George Peck

Something happened in the 26th Pennsylvania Congressional District in September that the politicians of both major political parties would do well to heed. The special election held there could well have set the pattern to be followed by candidates in the Congressional elections next year, that is, if they would insure victory.

In November, 1948, just ten months previously, the Fair Deal candidate, Robert Lewis Coffey, Jr., walloped the Republican incumbent by a majority of 12,000. He met an untimely death as a result of an airplane accident, thus necessitating the special election that was held in September. His mother, Mrs. Robert L. Coffey, ran on the Fair Deal ticket in the special election. It looked like good political strategy because it should have rolled up a lot of sentimental votes for her, and undoubtedly the lady did garner quite a number of votes on that score.

During the campaign Mrs. Coffey left no doubt as to how she stood on the Fair Deal legislative program. She was one-hundred percent for each and every one of the socialistic pieces of legislation that the Administration, without too great success, is trying to bludgeon through the Congress. The lady, also, was for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Her opponent, John P. Saylor, on the other hand, campaigned on a platform of sound "Americanism." He declared in no mistakable language his opposition to "Statism," the "Welfare State," "deficit governmental spending" and "exorbitant, punitive taxation." He, also, spoke kindly of the Taft-Hartley Act, and with a few minor changes, pledged himself, if elected, to vote for its retention.

The voters of Pennsylvania Congressional District Number 26 were left with no doubt where these candidates stood. For once voters had a clear-cut choice—to vote for the lady candidate who promised support of more and more governmental hand-outs, or to vote for the male candidate who stood unequivocally for a return to the fundamental principles on which America was founded and upon which this nation flourished up to the advent of the New Deal.

Well, the voters made their choice. They elected Saylor by a majority of close to 11,000. They proved what I have long maintained that, given a real choice, the American electorate will declare itself for the maintenance of our Republic as defined by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

Now, this 26th Pennsylvania district was a fair testing ground. Johnstown (population 70,000), its largest town, is a steel manufacturing city with a large union membership. The three counties of the district have many soft coal mines with a large U.M.W. membership, in addition to a farming population. Combined the steel workers, coal miners and farmers constitute a big majority of the district's population.

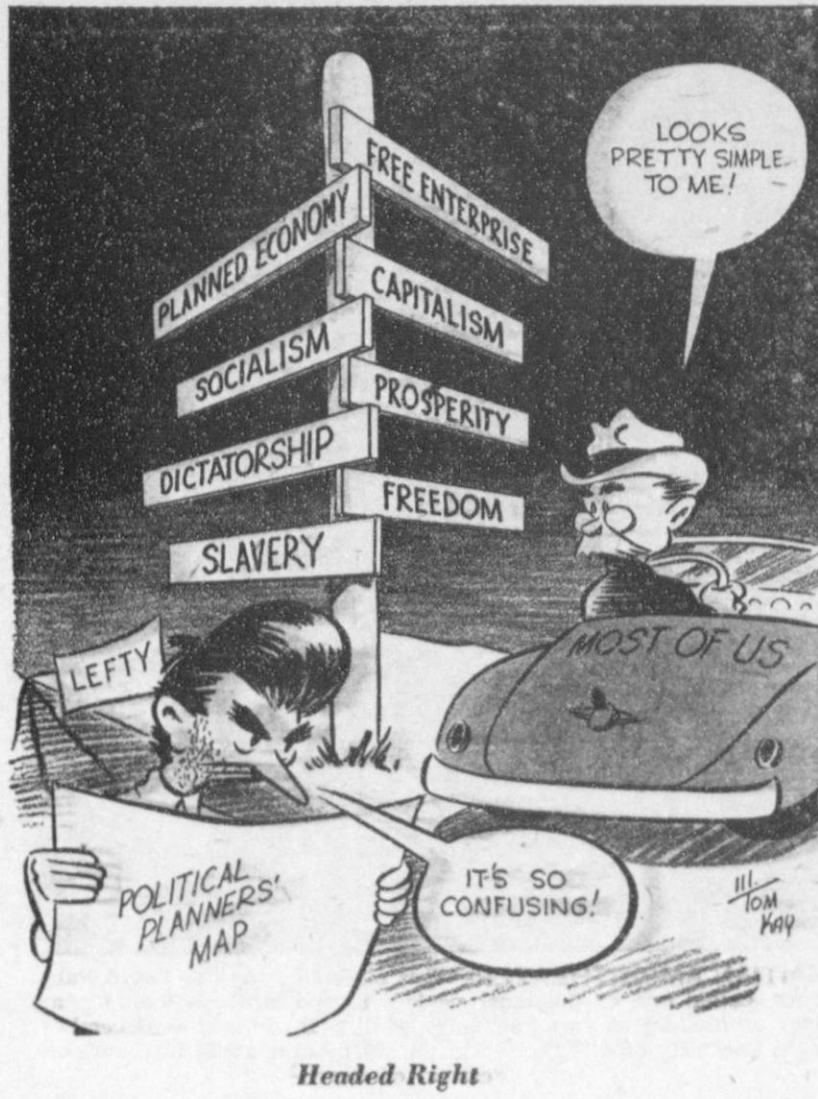

Union Labor leaders received a severe jolt in this special election. Had not a majority of union members voted for Saylor, he could not have won. His victory conclusively proved two things: (1) that union leaders cannot deliver the union vote, and (2) that union workers do not consider the Taft-Hartley Act the slave-labor legislation their leaders claim it to be.

Yes, something happened in the 26th Pennsylvania Congressional District last September—something very important. In the official record it will be recorded as a victory of a Republican candidate over his Democratic opponent. But in my book, it transcended that. It was a triumph for sound Americanism over unsound Paternalism—a demonstration that, given an opportunity to express itself, our American citizenry still believes in "The American Way." That bye-election could mark the start of America's about-face on the road towards Socialism down which this nation has been marching these past sixteen years.

THE LOWDOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Folks, I gotta have more help. Just me and Senator Byrd and Senator George and Senator Bricker and a half dozen or dozen others are not making too much headway in getting Uncle Samuel down to earth—his spending spree is not just a fling, it is now chronic. The Old Boy is due to take the "cure."

But the old rascal's case is not completely hopeless yet. I write my man there in Congress often, but I can't do all the writing—help is what I need. Writing your name there—if enough people write—will work wonders. So, next time any of you see where the Govt. is fixin' to pour in another 100 million on some project like re-claiming a raft of land on which to raise more wheat, etc., by pumping water 1000 feet up, like it is planning in Washington State—and next day they ask another 100 million bucks for building storage space for crops that are already and now too big, it is time to chime in and lend a hand.

So, all you non-writers, get hold of yourself, sharpen a couple of lead pencils, and write—don't just gripe back and forth with your neighbor. Write big—lay down the law. Don't depend on me and just a few Senators to save your country for you.

Yours with the low down,
Jo Serra

Question

"There are forces in government that would like to break up the big private corporations in order to slap a real monopoly on the Nation—an airtight government monopoly over all phases of enterprise. That's one way to get rid of big business in the private enterprise sense. But before we go any farther on that path let's see what has happened in the countries that have tried it. Russia has gone all the way; England is part way along the road. Are they living better than Americans? Or half so well? Do they have more freedom than Americans? Or half so much?"

Check Your Cooling System Before You Add Anti-freeze

A thorough check of the cooling system prior to adding antifreeze is a major step in preparing your car for winter driving, according to L.L. Pierce, national service manager of Ford Division, Ford Motor Company.

"Thousands of motorists lose their antifreeze every year through boiling away or leakage simply because they failed to take this precaution at the start of the season," Mr. Pierce explained.

"Not only should the hose lines and connections be thoroughly checked for leaks, but the radiator and the entire cooling system should be flushed out removing the sludge and dirty water, which prevents free circulation."

"Starting assurance" for your car despite freezing weather can be gained if the motorist also observes these few additional precautions:

1. Keep the battery fully charged and charging. A fully-charged battery will not freeze in temperatures ordinarily encountered, but a very low battery may freeze and burst the case open at temperatures not much below 32 degrees F. See that the generator regulator is working properly.
2. At the approach of cold weather, the crankcase should be drained, flushed and refilled with the correct grade of oil for the coldest weather you expect during the winter. Ford recommends use of SAE 10 or 10W oil in below freezing weather and 10W with one pint of kerosene added in extreme cold (colder than 10 below zero).

3. See if the engine needs a tuneup to insure quick starting.
4. If the manufacturer recommends it, change to winter grease in transmission and differential. (No change is necessary for 1949 Fords.)
5. Have brakes checked for winter driving and be sure that tires are not worn so dangerously smooth they will make driving on icy roads doubly hazardous.

"Careful motorists will drive slowly until the engine reaches normal operating temperatures," Pierce said. "And by keeping the fuel tank full as much of the time as possible, they will prevent condensation of moisture and resultant freezing-up of the gas line. A good plan is to fill the gas tank at the end of the day's driving, rather than at the start."

Never Mind the R; Sanitation Governs Quality of Seafood

AUSTIN, TEXAS. — Some people claim oysters are good only during the months which have R in their spelling.

But the Texas State Health Department says oysters are not safe any month, with or without the R, if the seafood has not been cultivated, shucked, packed, and shipped under sanitary conditions.

Texas' veteran state health officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, says oysters have much to commend them as a source of food.

"They have protein of good quality, iron, and copper (important as a protection against anemia), iodine, which is essential to proper working of the thyroid and a fair amount of vitamins," Cox says. But he adds emphatically, "Beware of uncertified oysters."

According to the doctor, each oyster grower in Texas is given a certificate of approval for the oyster beds he uses, provided health department officials find the beds are free from pollution, and the shucking houses are clean and well-kept. Otherwise, no certificate.

Each shucking house (where oysters are opened) must have a certificate showing all employees are free from communicable diseases, especially typhoid fever. The certificates are issued annually.

The Federal government co-operates with the State by keeping a list of all certified shippers in Texas. If a shipper isn't certified by the State Health Department, his oysters can't be shipped in inter-

Did Tea or Coffee Hasten Their Death?

In 18th-century Sweden a countrywide controversy arose over the possible injurious effects of tea and coffee. So the king chose twin brothers to act as guinea pigs. He released them from a prison, where they were serving life sentences, on condition that one would drink a large quantity of tea and the other a large quantity of coffee every day. Decades later the question seemed settled when the tea drinker died at the age of eighty-three from senility, and the coffee drinker died at ninety-four as the result of an accident.

"K" RATIONS WOULD HAVE BEEN A TREAT

WASHINGTON. — The familiar K ration may have seemed a sad repast to the GI of the last war, but to the soldiers of ancient Greece it would have been a sumptuous banquet. Military research has found that in the year 150 B. C., Greek soldiers were given emergency rations in the form of a pill about the size of an olive made up of a mixture of sesame, opium poppy, honey and squill.

The honey provided carbohydrate, the sesame provided protein, the squill acted as a tonic and the opium deadened the pangs of hunger.

Strikes Cost Workers Millions in Pay Loss

There were 300 strikes in the U. S. during July, 1949, involving 110,000 workers, according to the U. S. Bureau of Labor statistics.

These strikes meant that 16,800,000 man-hours of production and earning capacity were lost. Based on an average hourly pay of $1.38, workers lost $20,184,000 in wages. An average industrial worker whose weekly wage is $55.20, on strike four weeks, lost a total of $220.80 in pay.

Cancer Was Second Among Texas Death Causes Last Year

HOUSTON — Cancer, including leukemia, which has often been termed "cancer of the blood", is now the second cause of death in Texas, according to statistics just released by American Cancer Society, Texas Division, Inc.

Last year 6,913 Texans died of the disease. In 1947 a total of 6,823 died, the report shows. And yet, just six years ago the total cancer deaths reported in Texas amounted to only 3,867.

The sharp rise in death totals can be attributed to three or four factors, the American Cancer Society comments.

During the past few years efforts of the State Department of Health to acquire accurate tabulations of cancer deaths from hospitals and medical men throughout the state have shown good results.

Also, there is the "paradox of an aging population".

"Paradoxically", the report says, "the rise in cancer deaths may be attributed largely . . . to the great advances which have been made in medicinal science. One after another, the disease which caused the greater number of deaths in the past have been brought under control. Death rates from common infectious diseases, tuberculosis, and pneumonia have declined very rapidly during the twentieth century while death rates from cancer and heart diseases have increased. The explanation is quite simple. The control of other diseases has resulted in an increase in the average duration of life, and this in turn has resulted in an aging of the American population. Since cancer death rates increase with age, a higher overall cancer death rate is to be expected in an older population."

The facts and figures were prepared by the Statistical Research Section of the Medical and Scientific Department of the American Cancer Society. They are based upon statistics compiled by the U. S. Department of Health.

Texas' capitol building in Austin covers about three acres of ground and contains nearly 18 acres of floor space.

Bubble Gum 'Relief' Fund May Blow Up

WASHINGTON. — The Economic Co-operation Administration plotted Tuesday to stop the flow of Marshall Plan bubble gum to European youngsters.

ECA auditors announced they are drawing up a list of goods which should not be purchased with precious Marshall Plan dollars because they make no real contribution to the European recovery program.

ECA's action stems from several purchases made by the Marshall Plan countries of such things as bubble gum, nail polish and other materials.

Merchants Prefer Farmer Customers

A survey among storekeepers in five small cities, made by Country Gentleman, reveals that the average store-keeper considers the farmer a much better customer than the city resident. Among the reasons for this given by the storekeepers were these:

1. Farmers' mental attitude about business conditions in general is better than that of city people.
2. Farmers not threatened with unemployment, fear of strikes, or parttime work.
3. Farm income is at an all-time high level.
4. Farmers have more money to spend after the cost of living.
5. Farm business is more stable; does not have the ups and downs of urban trade.
6. Farmers buy the best quality.
7. Farmers buy a greater volume of merchandise.
8. Farmers are more selective in their buying.
9. Farmers usually pre-determine the nature of their purchases before they come to the store. As a result, they are easier to wait on.

The grass judging team composed of Douglas Robison, Glenn Hellman, and Wilfred Klement were in Dallas Wednesday to compete in the State contest. These boys were the winners of the District contest last month. Ralph Maglaughlin and Ed Helton accompanied them to Dallas.

HE BUYS HIS OWN—Never bothered by flying eggs from the audience, American opera tenor Eugene Conley drinks them raw whenever he feels low. Recently ignored by an invitation to sing at La Scala Opera in Milan, Italy, Conley uses his own egg candler to check his supply for imperfections.

The FFA boys with their sponsor Ralph Maglaughlin, attended the Dallas State Fair Saturday, October 15. During the morning the boys visited the various exhibits and the aquarium. At 1 p. m. free sack lunches were served. The afternoon was spent "doing" the midway.

Billy Whitt, Reporter

A letter from Mrs. M. J. Endres, now visiting with her son, Leonard and family, in Huron, S. D., reveals that both of the family's polio patients are recovering satisfactorily. FDR's Advice . . . in '32

"If, in some crisis, a Government lives beyond its income for a year or two, it can usually borrow temporarily on reasonable terms. But if, like a spendthrift, it throws discretion to the winds, is willing to make no sacrifice at all in spending, extends its taxing beyond the limit of the people's power to pay, and continues to pile up deficits, it is on the road to bankruptcy."

One Day Clinic for Crippled Children To Be Held Oct. 25

Members of the Auxiliary of the Cooke County Medical association announced this week that they are sponsoring a free Crippled Children's Clinic next Tuesday, Oct. 25, in the health unit building at Gainesville. The hours are from 8 a.m. to noon.

A much-married man was trying to chisel some free advice from a lawyer friend. "Isn't there some way in which a man can avoid paying alimony?" he inquired.

"Yes," replied the lawyer. "Two. He can stay single or stay married."

Confetti---

normally happens under similar circumstances in Russia. Anyone who provokes the displeasure of the ruling mob is summarily brought to trial, and the cause is usually less serious than openly professing one's allegiance to a hostile organization. A person may only object to a violation of his personal or property rights. By the commissar's interpretation that makes him an enemy of the people. So he's hauled into court and promptly confesses to a mess of terrible crimes against his government. The pattern is well established. The accused seldom utters anything in his own defense because too many are aware of the mysterious and unfortunate things that happen to the families of the few who do not accuse themselves. The person convicts himself knowing that the penalty is prompt execution or slow death at slave labor.

Maybe what this country needs is just a little bit of the red brand of iron fisted justice. Not going so far as to haul in everyone who causes an officer's displeasure nor coercing defendants by threatening reprisal to loved ones, but rounding up every one who has admitted his red allegiance or who has been caught working for the red cause. Next give them a good American fair trial but crack down with a vengeance on any attempt to obstruct justice by trickery or technicality. Then, if they're found guilty, stick them with a stiff sentence. In other words adopt as much of the red severity as American standards can tolerate and apply it as a special treatment for those who are so anxious to have the red methods prevail here.

19 Scouts Eligible For Advancement In Court of Honor

Muenster Boy Scout Troop 264 will hold a court of honor in the K of C hall next Monday night, Oct. 24. Scoutmaster Nick Miller announced this week. Nineteen boys will be tagged for advancement during the ceremony.

Three boys will advance to Star Scouts, six to First Class Scouts, and six to Second Class Scouts. Four will become Tenderfoot Scouts.

In making the announcement Scoutmaster Miller stressed that all parents are not only invited, but urged, to attend the program. Other persons are welcomed also.

An added feature of the program will be a public speaking test for six boys who are working for merit badges.

The ceremonies will begin at 8 p.m. in the K of C hall.

Jones was telling Smith that he had gone to a lawyer for advice. "Why spend money on a lawyer?" asked Smith. "Didn't you notice that he read the advice out of a book?" "Sure," replied Jones. "But he knows what page it is on."
