

Hot Game Features Eventful Program For Homecoming

The poll tax repeal amendment has been defeated. Long live the poll tax. It seems, Brother Texans, that we will be able to continue at least a while longer with a proper relation of taxation and representation.

But while we're cheering over the outcome of that issue, let's also remember that the question of paying this year's poll tax is now definitely settled. We owe the dollar six bits as usual. And we'll have to pay before January 31 if we expect to exercise our rights as citizens in next year's state, county and local elections.

Special mention of that point is made here because many people who have already paid their property tax may forget if they do not make a special effort to remember. The situation happens to be a bit different this year. Because the fate of the poll tax regulation depended on the Nov. 8 election tax offices could not accept it along with regular tax payments. That disturbed the customary routine, and some folks will have to remember to pay the poll tax separately, that is if they have already paid property tax. If not they can follow the old custom again and pay both together.

As a person considers that election of last week he sees one very significant factor. Down the line the electorate voted one "nay" after another on proposals that would have authorized additional taxes, but they also voted "nay" on a proposal that would have eliminated a tax. Perhaps many were thinking that the registration law was a poor substitute, but it's also possible that the majority consider the poll tax law as good and fair and want to retain it for that reason only.

To put it another way, the voters in this election were taxpayers and they deliberately retained a small tax burden as a sort of insurance against other taxes.

The merit of the poll tax was never better demonstrated. Had this election been like those in many other states, in which any Tom, Dick or Harry over 21 can scratch a ballot, the chances are that the wishes of the gimme-boys would have prevailed and the taxpayers would have found their load considerably increased. It's easy to vote in favor of something, you know, when the other man has to pay the bill. But if the voter also happens to be a pay-off man he's more inclined to stop and wonder whether the proposal is worth the price.

Back in this country's early days, we are told, the big beef of the colonists was taxation without representation. England was soaking the pioneers but refused to give them a voice in the government. It was quite a system. The bewigged gentlemen cooked up all sorts of schemes and handed ever increasing bills to the colonial taxpayers. Colonists considered the abuse as serious enough to fight over.

A slightly different version of the same principle exists in many a state of this country today. It's representation without taxation, which, when completely analyzed means taxation without adequate representation.

Thank goodness Texas avoided that condition in the Nov. 8 election. But it has little reason to be smug about its achievements, according to reports that have since come from Washington. Apparently some congressmen up there don't share our opinions on taxation and representation and are determined to railroad the anti-poll tax measure through the next session of congress. We resent it, of course, first because it is an unfair system of voting and secondly because it violates the state's sovereign right to determine its own voting rules.

There's only one thing wrong with the poll tax, and that is its name. It gives critics an opportunity to misrepresent it as a price on the citizen's vote. If instead it were called a personal tax, which it actually is, there would be less occasion for criticism.

But regardless of name it is a good regulation and serves a good purpose. It is good because it places at least a small responsibility on many who pay no other direct taxes. Like dues in a club it makes a person a better member of his state. He is a better citizen for having remembered his obligation and paid for it, he thinks more of his vote and is more likely to cast it wisely. It is a good regulation also because it is a means of getting a little support from thousands of people who pay no ad valorem tax. What's (Continued on Page 10)

With fair prospects for one of the best football thrillers of the season and a full program to boot, the Muenster Hi Homecoming celebration Friday night looms as a big and memorable event.

According to Coach Hood the football contest with the Gunter Hi Tigers should be a treat for the fans. He predicts an action packed tussle with plenty of touchdowns.

Playing against Whitesboro last week Hood said the Tigers were fast on a muddy field, and they can be depended upon to play a lot of flashy football, especially if the field is dry. Neither team is likely to stop the other, he added, and our main concern is to find the Hornets ahead at the end of a scoring match.

The evening's program will begin at 7:30 with a procession of the football queen's party preceded by the pep squad from the north goal post to the 50 yard line. In midfield the members of the queen's court will meet their respective escorts, Captain Emmett Walterscheid will crown Anna Grace Fette as homecoming queen and she will present him with the football to be used in the game. After that the queen will be escorted to her throne and her attendants to their places near the throne.

Fathers of the players will also share in the ceremony. They will sit on the sideline benches with the players, each identified by the number his son is wearing.

After the game members of both teams and both pep squads will be guests of the Mothers Athletic Club for lunch.

The evening's finale is a dance in the K of C hall to be formally opened by the royal party. Players and pep squads of both schools will be guests of the sponsor, Muenster Square Dance Club, and others will be charged an admission of 25 cents.

Duchesses who will attend Queen Anna Grace Fette are Wanda Lee Todd of Gunter Hi, Pauline Mages of Sacred Heart Hi and representatives of all the public school grades as follows: Lue Edythe Cherry, Jeanette Fisher Eva Muller, Ann Grier, Rita Cain, Joyce Cherry, Patsy Cain, Milly Cravens, Carolyn Cain, Linda Hammer and Sherry McGowan.

Rufie's Mustangs Stampede to 20-12 Win Over Hornets

An inspired herd of St. Mary's Mustangs avenged the defeats of yester-years by trampling the Hornets 20 to 12 at Leeper Stadium last Thursday night.

Taking advantage of the opportunities that faltering Muenster lads handed them and creating a few more of their own, the Gainesville boys pushed over three easy touchdowns while their ancient rivals worked like slaves and accumulated greater total yardage for only two touchdowns.

The first break came in the opening minutes. St. Mary's received the opening kick, failed to gain and booted. Muenster also failed to make required yardage and attempted to kick but a bad pass to Yosten changed the play and Yosten's attempted run fell short of 1st down on the 41. On the second play Richard Hermes passed to Adam Wolf to reach the 10 and four more running plays netted the score. Adam Wolf crossed for the touchdown and Lee Wolf plunged for the extra point.

The Hornet comeback was interrupted just past midfield as the second series of downs failed and Yosten kicked over the line giving St. Mary's the ball on its 20. The Mustangs failed to gain and the Hornets again had the ball on their 41.

After Yosten's 3 Herr faked two handoffs and dashed around right end for 28, Yosten added 13 on the next play and alternate plunges by Walterscheid and Yosten added 11 more to reach the 4. From there a 1 yard gain and a 5 yard loss were followed by Herr's touchdown pass to Damian Hellman. An attempt for extra point on the same pass combination was broken up and the Hornets trailed 6 to 7.

Receiving the next kickoff on the 37 St. Mary's again hit hard with an 8 yard pass and a 15 yard sprint to Muenster's 40. But 2 (Continued on Page 10)

PLAYING IN JAPAN—Frank "Lefty" O'Doul, manager of the San Francisco Seals baseball team, now touring Japan, shakes hands with Prince Akihito and Prince Masahito before a Tokyo game with the Eastern All-Stars of the Japan Professional League. The Seals, who have won every game of their exhibition, shut out the Japanese club 4-0.

Gridders to Feast And Get Awards at Fancy Party Sunday

Flowers, finery and fancy food will formally close the Hornet football season next Sunday night when members of the team, the pep squad, the players' fathers, and a number of others who helped the Hornets in a special way during the season will be guests of the Mothers Athletic Club at a football banquet in the school lunch room.

The featured speaker on the program is R. E. Jackson of Denton, popular North Texas humorist and after dinner speaker. He will be introduced by Rudy Hellman.

Superintendent Weldon Cowan will preside as master of ceremonies, Mrs. Ray Evans will give the welcome address, Captain Emmett Walterscheid will respond and Coach Doyle Hood will introduce players, announce lettermen and present trophies.

A high spot of the evening will be the award of the two Charm Shop trophies to the outstanding players on the team. Eligibility is based on scholastic standing and performance in both games and practice and the identity of the two players will not be revealed until the banquet.

The evening's program will close with a football movie.

First REA Rural Telephone Loans to Be Available Soon

The administrative machinery for making loans authorized by the rural telephone amendment to the Rural Electrification Act signed on October 28 by President Truman is now set up in the REA and applications for loans can be considered in the near future. Present activity consists of organizing the staff for the telephone loan division of REA and working out policies and procedure required to carry out the purpose of the new legislation.

Under provisions of the act loans may be made for the development of rural telephone service similar to the REA loans for developing rural electrical service. Up to 40 per cent of the loan may be used to refinance existing indebtedness.

Little Hornets and Callisburg Meet in '49 Football Finale

The honor of winding up this year's Muenster Hi football season will go to the little fellows and not to the Hornet regulars.

Coach Hood disclosed this week that the lightweights will have another game with Callisburg, next Tuesday night, Nov. 22 on the Hornet field.

In a game played here on Friday Oct. 14 the Hornet youngsters triumphed 20-7 over Callisburg.

Muenster is Host To District Knights At Initiation Dec. 4

With the big day only a little more than two weeks distant members of the Muenster K of C Council are well advanced in their plans for an all day celebration featuring a First, Second and Third Degree initiation here on December 4.

Grand Knight L. H. Baumhardt disclosed this week that all committees are striving to make the event the biggest ever in the district. Candidates will be from the five councils of the 6th Texas District, which includes Muenster, Gainesville, Denison, Sherman and Pilot Point.

Getting off to an early start candidates and members will assemble at the K of C Hall at 7:15 to organize their procession, beginning at 7:45 to church for the 8 o'clock mass. Fourth Degree Knights and Boy Scouts, all in uniform, will lead the procession.

Exemplification of first and second degrees will begin at 10 and a banquet for candidates, members, wives and girl friends will begin at noon.

The third degree initiation will begin at 2 and end approximately at 5. The final event is a dance for members and their ladies in the K of C hall.

During the exemplification of degrees visiting ladies will be entertained by Muenster members of the Catholic Daughters of America. Their special program is being arranged under the direction of Grand Regent Mrs. Joaline Richter.

Committee members in charge of the K of C program are Arthur Endres, general chairman, and L. H. Baumhardt, J. A. Fisher, Joe Vogel, R. H. Tracta, Nick Miller, Leo Henschel, Joe Knabe and Jerome Pagel.

Building and Improvement Notes

Improvements are under way this week in at least five homes of the city.

At Mrs. Carra Pagel's and Mrs. Catherine Gehrig's a surface of asbestos siding was applied over the old weather boards.

Fred Hennigan's house is getting a new roof and John Tempel's house is getting a new roof and several interior improvements.

At Tony Hoepig's it's a complete outside paint job.

Tivis Car Burns

A fire of undetermined cause Monday night completely destroyed the 1942 Ford sedan belonging to Garland Tivis, employee of the local Texaco station.

While driving home about 9 o'clock he discovered the fire under the hood and was powerless to prevent its spread over the rest of the car.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swirczynski of Fort Worth spent Monday here with his parents.

Hornets Will Play Basketball Opener Dec. 2 at Saint Jo

Exactly two weeks after the Muenster Hi Hornets pack away their football rigging they will meet their first opponent in interscholastic league basketball competition.

According to a revised schedule received this week by Coach Hood the local team's opening game will be played with Saint Jo in the latter's gym on Friday December 2. Games originally scheduled for Nov. 22 have all been postponed to Dec. 6.

The district race consists of a double round robin in which each team meets each other team twice. Each engagement will be a double header, the boys and girls of each school playing the same place each night.

At the end of the season trophies will be awarded to the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners in both the boys' and girls' divisions. In addition the 5 outstanding boys and 6 outstanding girls will receive individual awards.

The schedule of Muenster's conference games is as follows: Dec. 2, Saint Jo, there; Dec. 6, Stoneburg, there; Dec. 16, Prairie Valley, there; Dec. 21, Forestburg, there; Jan. 6, Saint Jo, there; Jan. 20, Prairie Valley, here; Jan. 27, Forestburg, here; Jan. 31, Stoneburg, there.

Games are scheduled on a home and home basis, but since Muenster has no gym except that at Valley Creek, Coach Hood expects to make special arrangements for some and perhaps all of the Muenster home games. For two of those contests the arrangement is already complete. The games of Dec. 2 and 6, both scheduled for here, will be played at St. Jo and Stoneburg.

Drains and Pump Expected to Stop Basement Seepage

Whether or not the drainage problem at the school lunch room has been solved will not be known until the next gully washer, but Father Anthony and members of the church committee are confident they have the flood waters under control.

Their problem came from seepage into the basement annex. In heavy rains like that several weeks ago almost all of the basement floor was covered with water.

To remedy the situation the church committee first built gutters to lead as much water as possible away from the building then built a drainage system to dispose of seepage. The system consists of drainage tile laid in a bed of crushed rock and leading to a sump pit. Water that reaches any side of the annex is led away quickly before it has time to seep into the building. As it reaches a certain level in the pit the water automatically turns on a float controlled switch starting an electric pump which carries away the water.

As an extra precaution the workmen sealed the lower part of the wall with a coat of tar.

Parish Count Here Next Week Is Part Of Diocese Census

Bright and early next Monday morning, Nov. 21, twenty one men of the Muenster Sacred Heart Parish will begin an official count of the total parish membership.

The census, which is scheduled to be completed within the week, is part of a comprehensive census of all Catholics within the Diocese of Dallas. It is being taken in compliance with a directive sent to the 140 parishes of the diocese by Most Rev. A. Danglmayr, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of the diocese. The Very Rev. John T. Gulczynski, Chancellor, has been named diocesan chairman of the census.

Approximately 2000 volunteer workers are expected to enumerate over 65,000 Catholics during the week.

The complete roster of workers in the Muenster census is as follows: Honorary chairman Rev. Anthony Schroeder; Chairman Roy R. Endres; Secretary, Melvin Herr; Captains, Martin Bayer, Wm. Becker, Joe Vogel, Chas. J. Wimmer, Werner Becker, Al Fleitman, Alvin Hartman; Workers B. J. Sicking, A. J. Lutkenhaus, John Albers, W. H. An old fashioned picnic will be in progress all afternoon and will continue during the evening hours. There will be eats, drinks and entertainment galore.

A dance in the K of C hall at night will be the concluding feature of the day's entertainment. Bill Tanner and his orchestra will play.

Immediately preceding the dance, which is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock, the Thanksgiving Carnival Queen will be crowned in ceremonies at the hall. Sponsored by the Sacred Heart High school students, the queen's contest has been in progress for the past three weeks. In an elimination contest Misses Gladys Hoffman, Floradell Endres, Marianne Luke and Olive Haverkamp were the winning contestants and they will continue soliciting votes at a penny each until a few hours before the coronation ceremonies.

Safety Habits Will Prevent Accidents In Cooking Meals

Home accidents are on the increase. Many of them have to do with the everyday job of preparing meals for the family. Most of them result from careless practices and work habits.

Undue hurry and fatigue are responsible for many of the injuries. Miss Gladys Ward, home management specialist, University of Illinois college of agriculture, suggests that we analyze work schedules. Allow enough time to take care of meal preparation and do it safely. Then study habits and practices and work for improvement.

Take time to cover your hand with a dry cloth before opening a steaming kettle or roaster. Remove the cover away from you to permit the steam to escape away from your face and body. Make it a rule to use a dry padded cloth to lift any hot dish or utensil.

To avoid burns from deep-fat frying, thoroughly dry the food to be cooked. Water causes the grease to spatter, presenting a fire hazard. In addition it may cause a painful burn. Keep the handles of all pans and pots turned toward the back of the range.

Take time and care in using grinders, beaters, slicers and other powerdriven appliances. Be sure the extension cord is of approved make and in good condition. Turn off or remove the plug before changing the location of a fan or beater. Check the outlet from time to time and have repairs made promptly.

Rancher Moves Out Panthers Take Over Mountain Domain

ALPINE.—Panthers have waged and won a long battle with Albert Chambers, sheep and goat rancher, to determine whether they or he was entitled to rule the mountainous area in Northwest Presidio County, between the Rio Grande and the "Rim Rock," 25 to 35 miles southeast of Van Horn.

In Alpine recently Chambers announced that he had leased a ranch 12 miles northwest of Fort Stockton and is abandoning the disputed area to the panthers.

What is left of his livestock, mostly horses and cows, are being removed as fast as possible.

The area around Porvenir on both sides of the river has long been a habitat for panthers, because of abundance of small animals and the rugged terrain. Range and water conditions are good.

With two grown sons and a pack of "varmint" dogs, Chambers made a valiant fight for survival but only managed to kill three panthers this year, which was a drop in the bucket compared with replacements produced by the panthers.

"By raising sheep and goats," said Chambers, "I merely assured those varmints easier pickings, so I decided to let them and the eagles work harder to get fat."

All this talk about what the youngsters are doing is silly, especially to the adults who recall what they did when children.

1950 Model U. S. Senator Will Cost Taxpayers $50,905 a Year . . . And Up

WASHINGTON.—The 1950 model United States senator is going to cost the American taxpayer $50,905 a year—and up.

That's the package cost in salaries and expenses for a single senator and his office staff. The bill for all 96 of them will run around $5,000,000 a year.

The cost per senator went up about $3,000 a year when Congress voted the money to permit senators to increase the pay of their office help or add another worker to their staff.

One Midwestern senator put the blame on the taxpayer for the high senatorial costs. He didn't want his name used.

"I'm snowed under with mail," Senator X said. "We get about 1,000 letters a day in my office. That means that five or six stenographers and clerks do nothing but handle the mail. I never see most of it. I can't. Because if I tried to answer each letter personally—I'd be doing nothing but dictation all day."

A senator's pay is $12,500 a year. It's generally agreed the salary is modest enough. A top-rank ambassador receives $25,000 a year plus expenses.

But the senatorial salary is only the down payment. The real cost is in fine print. Take the case of Senator X.

In addition to his salary, he gets another $2,500 a year for expenses. This expense money is tax free. He need make no accounting of how he spends it.

The senator comes from a state with a population of less than 3,000,000. That means he can draw $35,400 a year for his office help. Each senator is entitled to six office workers, an $8,400-a-year administrative assistant and an additional $6,720-a-year aide.

Their salaries all come out of the $35,400 for office help. If Senator X goes over this amount, then he must pay the difference out of his own pocket. And some senators say they lose money on this.

In addition to salary, expense money, free office rent and office help, Senator X gets $105 worth of free stamps each year. This is out side his free mail privilege.

He also gets $400 a year for stationery. He can have 250 minutes of long-distance telephone calls for free—or 50 calls. And he receives a payment of 20 cents a mile for travel pay at each session of Congress—the amount based on the distance from Washington to his home town.

If Senator X's state ever grows above the 3,000,000 population mark, he'll get more office help. The size of his staff payroll depends on the size of his state. A senator from a 3,000,000-5,000,000-size state gets $36,900 a year for his office expenses; the 5,000,000-10,000,000 size gets $42,420, and the 10,000,000 New York size state draws $43,920.

The new law increased Senator X's office pay roll by $11,520. This raised it from $23,800 up to $35,400. But the increase isn't as big as it looks.

Now the senator must pay his administrative assistant out of the office salary pool. Heretofore, his assistant was paid separately by Congress and the cost was not included in the office expenses.

Assuming Senator X pays his administrative assistant the basic $8,400 a year, then he will have $3,120 left over. He can use the money either to hire a new office worker, to increase office wages—or both.

It so happens Senator X pays his top aide $10,000 a year. So he'll only have $1,520 out of the $11,520 increase to give pay raises to his office help.

"None of us are starving," the senator said. "But this job isn't a gravy train even with the extras."

NEW FIBER IS THREAT TO SILK AND COTTON

NEW YORK.—A new fiber plant developed in Germany is expected to displace both cotton and silk, says a Munich dispatch to Informaciones de Madrid, and to free European textile industries from dependence on tropical lands for these staples.

Discovered by a German engineer, the plant is said to belong to the Obuzinum family. Its fiber is superior to cotton for strength and softness, it is reported, and is as sheer and shiny as silk. Cultivation of the new plant is being started on a large scale, it is added.

Let's not work too hard between now and Christmas and we might have strength enough to draw up some resolutions for the New Year.

Small boy: A stomach completely surrounded by curiosity.

"I think I ought to be frank with you," declared the young fellow as he relaxed his embrace, "and tell you that you're not the first girl I've kissed."

"In that case, I'll be frank with you, too," replied the girl, "and tell you that you've got a lot to learn."

National unity is accomplished when a minority concludes that the majority may be right.

COTTON GARMENT IS ONLY SAFE GARMENT FOR HOSPITAL WEAR

HOUSTON.—Nurses have to replace silk and nylon undergarments with cotton while on hospital duty, a fire protection expert said.

Charles L. Smith of Chicago, field engineer for the National Fire Protection Association, said even nuns have to change from woolen habits to cotton.

In a speech before the southern section of the International Association of Electrical Inspectors, Smith said nylon, silk and woolen garments are potential hazards because they tend to generate static electricity which can cause other explosions.

Cotton garments are standard hospital equipment, he said.

"The Vatican has been asked for special dispensation to permit nuns to substitute cotton garments for woolen habits where the situation makes substitution advisable," he added.

BETTER EQUIPMENT, BETTER WAGES

By George Peck

Justification for the existence of industry lies in the fact that it makes capital and management available to workers, thereby enabling workers to enlarge their contribution to our national income and their own earnings as well.

Let's use a very simple example by way of illustration. A man without any tools is given an excavation job. He is pretty helpless and his accomplishment is small over the course of the day, the week, or the year. His performance would be greatly enlarged if a hand shovel were made available to him. If, also, he were able to equip himself with a wheelbarrow to carry dirt from one point to another, his achievements would be further increased. If someone were to loan him a steam shovel and teach him how to operate it, obviously his productive labor would be multiplied manifold.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation that may appear in the columns of the Enterprise will be gladly and fully corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publisher.

Working without tools, this man's work would have a very low market value. Equipped with a steam shovel, on the other hand, his income would be increased many times. It is true, in the latter case, that the man would have certain expenses. He would have to pay for instruction on how to run the machine and rental for the use of it. But, he would have an enormously increased gross income out of which to meet these expenses, leaving him a much larger net income.

This man would have very little expense for rental of a hand shovel, slightly increased if he rented a steam shovel. Is it not reasonable that the income to the man who rented out the steam shovel to this worker should be larger than that to the man who rented him a hand shovel? Is it not true that the worker should be able to make a greater contribution to the national income if he uses a steam shovel instead of a hand shovel? Is it not a fact that the total income for all concerned, would be greater if he uses a steam shovel? Wouldn't it naturally follow that the worker would greatly increase his own individual earnings because he would be participating in the division of a far larger income, of which his portion would be far greater than his income would have been from his efforts with fewer or no tools?

This simple illustration of the man with the shovel exemplifies industry. Industrial companies make capital available in the form of plant and machinery to their workers, plus instruction on utilization of that equipment. The better the machinery an industry makes available to its employees, the greater are the gross earnings, resulting in greater facilities to insure the safety, health and comfort of the workers; greater wages for the employees and quite reasonably a larger profit per employee for the company. Both capital and labor benefit thereby.

Conversely, the poorer and less efficient the plant facilities made available to workers, the lower are the gross earnings, resulting in fewer facilities to insure the safety, health and comfort of the employees; smaller wages for the worker and a smaller profit per employee for the company. Both capital and labor lose thereby.

Therefore, it is unfortunate that certain business-haters are loud in their condemnation of certain industrial companies because of their large earnings per employee. With the Left-Wingers' customary disregard or ignorance of the truth, they do not tell the whole story—they fail to point out that companies earning high net profits per employee are paying their employees higher wages than is the case with industries that are not earning high net profits per employee—they entirely ignore the basic fact that better equipment furnished to the employee enables him to make better wages.

Still Sound Advice

"Were we directed from Washington when to sow and when to reap we should soon want bread. I am for a government rigorously frugal and simple. . . and not a multiplication of offices and salaries merely to make partisans and for increasing by every device the public debt on the principle of its being a public blessing."

—Thomas Jefferson

The professor of biology carefully unwrapped a package before his afternoon class, explaining that he would show them a fine specimen of dissected frog. The package, however, proved to contain two sandwiches, a banana, two radishes and a hardboiled egg. Scratching his head in bewilderment, the professor muttered, "But I know I have already eaten my lunch!"

When you stop to think, don't forget to start again.

THE LOWDOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Funny as it sounds, new stuff is old stuff—most of it. Take the shepherd boy hollering wolf when there was no wolf. Then take the Govt. Bureau Boys today who yelp that "chaos is around the corner" or "disaster lurks," if congress does not ante another 100 million to fix some cooked-up problem. Chaos and Disaster—brothers and sisters—there you have 2 words that agitate me, no end.

And like it was when the farmers rushed in with pitch forks to slay the phoney wolf, congress now rushes in with the key to the U.S. Treasury.

For a long spell now, a topic for one of these learned essays, now and then, has been "Aesop." If a congressman cannot tell a parrot from a confidence-man—a sheep from a sharper—it means there is something wrong in our school houses, colleges, and universities. They teach you there the rumba, the social sciences, but they neglect the foundation. Horse sense is becoming obsolete. So you college presidents and school superintendents—do us citizens a good turn—put Aesop into all curriculums, up to and including the PhD.

Yours with the low down,

Slot Machine Pays Off Jack Pot Plus $5,500

DETROIT.—Mrs. Ernest Somlo, Cleveland, got a $5,000 jury award for injuries received when a slot machine struck back after she hit the jackpot.

Mrs. Somlo won the jackpot on a single nickel at Mt. Clemens, Mich., in 1945. But when she stooped to pick up her winnings the tipsy machine fell on her.

A federal court jury also decided that Mrs. Somlo's husband was due $500 from the vengeful slot machine for loss of his wife's housekeeping services.

It's more important to get in the first thought than the last word.

Europeans Snubbed First Self Starters; Chauffeurs Cranked

If most early European cars had not been chauffeur-driven, the U.S. automotive industry might never have heard of C.F. Kettering, its best-known research expert.

Kettering was part owner of a tiny electrical engineering shop in Dayton when in 1911, he built the electric self-starter that was to end the hand-crank era in motoring.

European car firms had worked on self-starters but gave up because Europe's car buyers didn't want them. They had chauffeurs to crank their cars.

But since most U.S. cars were owner-driven, Kettering's starter won instant approval. It let women begin driving, let engines grow more powerful, and sped the day of mass ownership of cars.

Kettering entered automotive research work, and out of the laboratories he headed came today's diesel and gasoline engines, freon gas for refrigerators, and scores of other products.

Castaneda Completes
Seventh Volume in K-C
"Catholic Heritage" Series

AUSTIN, TEXAS—A Mexican led the Texas cavalry charge against his own people at the San Jacinto battlefield.

That is one of the little-known Texas history facts revealed in a book by University of Texas Professor Carlos Castaneda.

"Fight for freedom, 1810-1836" is the sixth in a series of seven volumes on which Dr. Castaneda has been working since 1933. The final book will be ready for the press by next Spring.

The series, sponsored by the Texas State Council of the Knights of Columbus, has been called the most complete narrative history of Texas yet written. It is titled "Our Catholic Heritage in Texas."

In recognition of his contribution to religious history through the seven-volume series, Dr. Castaneda was made a papal knight of the highest laymen's order in 1941 by Pope Pius XII. He has been a University history professor for 22 years.

The weather-beaten old sailor listened intently to the mission preacher's sermon on the Ten Commandments in which he detailed at length the many ways they could be broken without its being realized. The old sailor departed in a very subdued mood. After walking a few blocks, though, his face brightened. "Anyhow," he muttered, "I never made no graven images."

CDA Court Will Have Cake Baking Contest At Thanksgiving Bazaar

As a part of the annual Thanksgiving carnival the local court Catholic Daughters of America will sponsor a cake baking contest and sale, members decided at their regular business session Friday night.

Each member is asked to bake at least one cake and submit it for a grand prize to be presented through the courtesy of the makers of Softasilk cake flour. Cakes will be judged on texture and it will not be necessary to ice them, according to the contest rules. After the cakes have been judged they will be sold. Mrs. Henry Pick, who won first prize on a cake at the Dallas Fair, has been placed in charge of the committee and further information may be obtained from her.

District Deputy Marie Mosman announced that a reception for new members will take place sometime in January, and Mrs. J.M. Weinzapfel gave a report on the NCCW diocesan meeting she attended in Abilene last week. She emphasized that the National Council of Catholic Women is a federation of Catholic women's clubs and not an organization in itself. This was further explained by Father Anthony, chaplain of the court, who attended the meeting.

Hostesses for the November social are Mrs. John Wieler and J.M. Weinzapfel. They will entertain in the parish hall on next Tuesday night, the 22.

Colds Steal Money And Time and Lead To Serious Illness

AUSTIN, TEXAS. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer declares there's hardly anyone who hasn't caught cold at one time or another. The common cold is common indeed! Besides making you feel miserable, colds steal your time and money. They fool you, too, because the early signs are often the same as those of more serious illnesses. And long-continued colds may pave the way for an attack of pneumonia, tuberculosis, or a chronic infection of the nose, throat, ears, or sinuses. So, do your best to keep from catching cold. And if you do catch one, take proper care of yourself so you can get rid of it.

- When you have a cold:
1. Get as much rest as possible. Stay in bed or indoors for the first day or so if you can.
 2. Keep comfortably warm and dry. If you must go to work, wear clothes that will protect you adequately when you go outdoors, and avoid drafts and sudden chilling when overheated.
 3. Drink plenty of citrus juices, water, and other liquids. Eat simple foods which agree with you.
 4. Protect other people as much as possible. Cover your mouth and nose when you cough or sneeze. Use paper handkerchiefs or paper napkins that can be burned. Wash your hands frequently with soap and water.
 5. Blow your nose gently. If you don't, you may force infected material from your nose into sinuses or middle ear and develop sinus trouble or serious ear infection.
 6. If a cold starts with chills, fever, or aching, or seems more severe, or lasts longer than usual, consult a physician without delay.

You who think our jokes are rough Would quickly change your views If you'd compare the ones we print With those we're scared to use.

Take your choice, there's only a comma's difference: "Woman, without her man, is helpless;" or, "Woman, without her, man is helpless."

Styling of the 1950 Ford Custom Deluxe Fordor sedan includes features which add to the performance, economy, safety, comfort and appearance of the new cars. With improved quality as the keynote, the 1950 Fords introduce a new treatment of the grille and parking lights, a colorful new crest — the first in Ford history — a new ornamental rear deck handle and lock, new instrument knobs, new and larger horn ring, foam rubber front seats with non-sag seat springs and a complete new line of interior trim fabrics. In addition the powerful Ford V-8 and 6-cylinder engines have been improved to give Ford the quietest and smoothest running engines ever produced by the Ford Motor Company.

Be careful. The life you save may be your own.

'Tis said that girls of today don't blush as readily as they did in grandfather's day. Why, grandpa! what in the world did you say to them?

"Why didn't you deliver that message as I told you?" the man scolded his servant.

"The best you could! Why, if I had expected to send an idiot I would have gone myself."

This has been a good year for the native grasses and they have produced excellent seed heads with lots of seed where they have been managed properly. Some native grass meadows that were cut early and not grazed afterwards are now showing many seed heads. This extra growth allowed the grass to store more reserves in the root system, which will make for a more vigorous growth next spring. The seed produced will produce new plants to thicken and renew the stand of grasses in the meadow.

Richard Harris of Tyler Bluff has constructed a farm pond that will enable him to cross fence his pasture and practice deferred rotational grazing to improve and increase his pasture grasses.

Henry Wiesman has constructed a farm pond that will provide year around water and enable him to better utilize the grass in his northeast pasture. John Rohmer also has a newly constructed pond in his pasture.

J. H. Coursey is building another terrace to give added protection to his cultivated land. Mr. Coursey sodded part of a waterway last spring by dropping Bermuda sprigs in corn rows. The cultivation given the corn helped the grass grow and spread. It produced as much growth as any we have seen this year.

Jin Dennison planted 10 acres of alfalfa and it is now up to a good stand. The alfalfa is to be used mostly as supplemental feeding. Jin planted about 5 acres of Indian grass last spring for seed production. The Indian grass was planted in rows and made good growth this summer. It should produce seed next year. Part of the road ditch adjoining the Dennison farm has been shaped so that he may sod the banks sloping back to his field with Bermuda grass this spring to prevent washing and caving. The terraces that now empty into the road ditch will be cut to empty on a waterway when it is covered with sod.

Cattle Grubs Cost State Stock Raisers $65 Million a Year

COLLEGE STATION.—There is no profit in feeding cattle grubs and they can be very effectively controlled, says James A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A&M College.

The losses caused by cattle grubs are borne by the livestock producer and only the livestock producer can reduce them, adds Deer.

These losses annually amount to about $65 million and according to Deer, most of this could be added to the national farm income if cattle producers would use the following control measures.

He recommends the use of a power sprayer—with a pressure of 200 to 400 pounds. Lower pressures decrease the effectiveness of the treatment, he says. Spray the animals in a chute and hold the nozzle no farther than four inches from the backs of the animals. It is best, he says, to use a full gallon of spray on each animal and from 10 to 15 seconds are required for the application if you want to get the best results.

The spray material should consist of 7½ pounds of 5-percent rotenone dust for each 100 gallons of water. Mix it thoroughly, he adds. This is the cheapest and most effective treatment you can use, he says.

Make the first application as soon as the grubs appear and repeat the treatment at three week intervals as long as needed. Usually not more than three or four treatments are needed. Deer says grubs are beginning to make their appearance now in some sections of the state and control measures should be used if the grubs are to be controlled.

He says if you'll use this spraying program now, you may not have to spray the same animals again for grubs. A good control job should increase your cattle weight gains by 20 percent and also the value of the hide and animal when you go to market. The dairyman with a grub free herd can expect a good increase

Fisher and Knabe Herds Lead County In Milk Production

Dairy herds belonging to Paul Fisher and John Knabe took top honors for production during the month of October according to the newest bulletin released by the Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

The Fisher herd of 17 cows was first for averaging 873 pounds of milk with a test of 4.7 and an average butterfat content of 40.9. Knabe's 27 Jerseys were second with 544 pounds of milk testing 5.2 and averaging 22.1 butterfat.

Thirteen member herds were tested. Of the 206 cows 54 produced 40 pounds of butterfat or over. Muenster members had 20 cows in the 40 or over bracket as follows:

Paul Fisher, ten cows, averaging 40 to 70; J.W. Fleitman, one, 41; Thomas Sicking, five, 41 to 52; John Knabe, three, 41 to 49; C.A. Fisher, one, 47.

in milk production. Deer says if you need additional information on how to control cattle grubs, your local county agent will be glad to help you.

To read, without thinking, is not to become informed.

Confronted by a fierce-looking man who threatened him with mayhem for erroneously publishing notice of his death, the country editor retracted as follows. "We regret very much that the notice of Colonel Burly's death that appeared in our last issue was not true."

Parents Expected To Follow Up Tests On School Children

AUSTIN, TEXAS—The schools of Texas have been in session for several weeks. The routine screening tests by teachers and nurses, or the physical examinations of the children by physicians have been completed. They are complete so far as the nurse, teacher, or examiner is concerned, but the "follow-up" to correct any abnormal conditions disclosed is yet to be done. To make these screening tests and the follow-up examinations of the greatest value, the needed care for correction of defects should be available. This is the responsibility of the parents of each child in order that a maximum of health may be his lot, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Health is a cardinal attribute of living. With the best health a child may have, he will do his best work, will have joy in play, and will grow to be the most efficient citizen he is capable of being. The future of our country is in the hands of these children who are now in school.

All adults as well as the parents of the school age children should feel the responsibility and privilege of sharing in a sound and safe future for our country by helping to build good health for the children of today.

Through the check made each year in the schools the gross defects may be learned, and more detailed examination may be made by the family physician, with treatment for correction of these defects as he finds necessary.

Immunization against the diseases, for which known protection is available, should be given all children unless their physician finds contraindication.

Your physician is your best friend and guardian of your health.

The football "blues".

Since the football season opened an intense waiting ended Thursday night by the walloping defeat the St. Mary's Mustangs gave the Muenster Hornets. The game which was played at the Gainesville Stadium ended in a 20 to 12 victory for the Mustangs. Our sincere congratulations go to the coaches, Rufus Bezner and David Sturm and the team, especially to six energetic, super-duper boys from Lindsay Hl. They are: seniors, Frank Haverkamp, James Hermes, Leonard Hermes, Richard Hermes; junior, Walter Hermes; sophomore, Raymond Haverkamp.

If the loyalty of a pep squad can be measured by sore throats cracked voices, and bitten off finger nails after a game then Lindsay pep squad rates "tops".

We are looking forward to a volley ball game with the Muenster Red Sox next week.

Foundation Stones Being Removed at Old Church Site

The long delayed last step in clearing off the old church site got under way this week when workmen started removing the old foundation stones. All of the building down to the foundation had been torn down early in the year.

Some of the stones have been stacked for possible future use by the parish and all others are offered to anyone who will haul them away.

The clearing project will continue, Father Anthony said, until the place is bare and ready for construction of the new church.

FORTY-TWO CLUB MEETS IN RAY KLEMENT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Klement entertained in their home Monday night for members of the Forty-Two Club.

In progressive 42 series Ed Endres won the high score prize, Albert Henscheid received the consolation favor and Evelyn Swingler won the galloping award.

Mrs. Klement served refreshments to twenty-two members.

There are two sides to every law suit, the legal and the moral side.

Hornets - - -

penalties for 20 yards nullified other neat gains and the Hornets took over on downs on their 31. Yosten, picked up 23, Walterscheid 3 and Hellman 15 to reach the 29 but the halftime whistle ended the drive there as Yosten's pass to Mollenkopf in the end zone was broken up.

The second half started as a deadlock with Muenster and St. Mary's both kicking after failing to gain. On its second series Muenster lost on downs on its 30 as hard charging Mustangs thundered through to spoil Yosten's fourth down kick.

Again the Hornets held for three downs but a desperation pass over the line to lanky Jim Hermes was good for the second Mustang touchdown. Lee Wolf carried the ball over for the extra point.

Fate took another slap at the Hornets only a few plays later. After running the kickoff back to the 34 they promptly gained 26 on two passes. Herr to Mollenkopf and Yosten to Herr. But the next play was the heartbreaker as Yosten faded deep for a long heave to Mollenkopf. Three Mustangs charged him and broke his attempted throw. The result was an easy toss to Jim Hermes who scampered 50 yards in the open for the touchdown. The attempted run for extra point failed and the Mustangs led 20-6.

Starting again from their 35 the Hornets got to the Mustang 46 and fumbled, Adam Wolf recovering for the Mustangs.

Four tries were good for a first down but the next series resulted only in losses and a bad kick gave Muenster the ball on its 39. After 3 lusty plunges reaching the Mustang 48 Red Walterscheid crashed through tackle into the open for 34 yards before being forced out on the 14. Yosten added 13 on two tries and Herr carried across on a quarterback sneak. The attempted run for extra point was no good.

Only the final whistle stopped another Mustang score as the Wolf and Hermes combination tore away at the Hornet declining defense. With Yosten limping and Walterscheid out on an injury and the Hornet lineup generally demoralized the Mustangs made their only sustained drive of the game but it was a little too late to be converted into additional points.

more it is not bad, as often charged, because it deprives some of their right to vote. Citizenship has obligations as well as rights, and the person who shirks his personal tax obligation does not deserve the right to vote.

The good purpose it serves was demonstrated in the recent election. The American way of life has a much better chance of survival when people who save and invest in farm, real estate and other property have a way of guarding their interests against the encroachments of socialistic gimmecrats. To destroy that safeguard is to open the door to more and more welfare state schemes to the detriment of real social, political and economic welfare.

It isn't a mere accident that traditional Americanism is stronger in the South today than in some of the northern and eastern states. Down here the voting is done almost entirely by the people who pay the bill. In states where anybody can vote the issues are frequently decided by an irresponsible element following the demagogue who promises to give them everything and let the state pay the bill.

There are plenty of reasons why Texans should be proud of their poll tax and make every effort to retain it.
