F-M Road Project South of Muenster Begins This Week

With more than a little satisfaction the column this week takes notice of the community's awakened interest in the long anticipated and sadly delayed new church project. Indications now are that big things will be happening soon and they will keep happening right through to the completion of the new building.

Early Monday workmen of the Ernest Loyd construction company of Fort Worth started at the south extremity of the preliminary grading job. Equipment had been moved in during the weekend. The project, officially designated as FM 373 by the state highway department, begins at Highway 82 in the city limits and extends south 5.21 miles to the crossroad near site formerly occupied by the Linn school.

Its specifications are similar to that of the North Muenster road completed last spring. After the road bed is shaped a six inch gravel base will be applied and permitted to settle until the return of favorable topping weather next spring. Final surfacing will consist of a double course of asphalt and crushed rock.

The two main bridges on the road, crossing Brushy Elm and Big Elm creeks, will remain. However culverts, numbering 14 in all, will be replaced by new drainage pipes of heavy corrugated iron.

Gravel for the road will come from the Alphonse Hoenig farm. Most of us hadn't looked at it that way before. We excused ourselves on the ground that it is prudent to wait for better building conditions. Besides we were inclined to boast that the temporary church was a bit above the average as an emergency measure.

But the truth jolted our pride considerably. More of us are awakened to the fact that the piddling of the past is unworthy of Muenster and that we're actually shirking a grave obligation when we permit this unnecessary delay to continue. Proper respect for God demands that we hasten to provide more than a makeshift house for Divine Services.

If that conviction will soak in generally around the community our big problem is licked. Muenster has the money to complete the fund in the coming drive . . . if every member of the parish decides to give generously. That is especially true if those who have the available cash will shoot the works now instead of remitting their quota in dribbles over a period of years. Cash on the barrel head is what we need. And it's what we'll have if Muenster still has a fair portion of its old time community pride.

A recent news release reminds us again that the bumper crop of war babies is beginning to exert pressure on the nation's primary school facilities. The natural consequences of which is that lots of ambitious planners are already talking up a nation wide school expansion program.

But out of the emergency comes another suggestion that is worthy of serious consideration. Why not readjust our system to get year-round use of the facilities we have? In that way it would be possible to accommodate one third more children than we do at the present time.

The scheme in general is to divide the full year into 4 periods, three of which will complete a year's scholastic work. Then divide enrollment the same way so that a different group starts each period as another group enters its vacation. That way three fourths of the total school population will be constantly attending and one fourth will be constantly vacationing.

That much is simple, and because it is so simple and so practical it deserves a trial. As every school man knows it will bring up a lot of complications in class schedules, but there again the problem does not seem insurmountable.

Of one thing we are certain. If a farmer or industrialist ever got the notion that he can make 3 of his investment dollars do the work of 4 he'd figure a long time to find a way. But big school bosses think another way. They operate on the taxpayers' money, so they prefer to stick to custom and draw on the public purse rather than their ingenuity to meet emergencies.

The situation is somewhat similar to that of hospital space in the armed services. The demand for more buildings (Continued on Page 10)

Community Council Will Hear Surratt At Meeting Tonight

When the Community Council reconvenes Thursday night for the first time since last June, it will have John E. Surratt of the Kessler Plan Association of Dallas as guest and principal speaker.

Surratt first visited Muenster some 12 years ago in behalf of the Dallas organization in order to give technical assistance in planning long range projects of community progress. The organization, composed of civic and industrial leaders, offers the service in keeping with its policy that help to any locality within the Dallas trade area is an indirect help to Dallas.

The outstanding result of Surratt's previous visit here was the organization of the Ladies Civic League and Garden Club. Impressed by his recommendations for a women's civic club, a group of ladies organized. The club clicked and became the outstanding civic group of the community.

Other suggestions included in Surratt's plan of community development, which have since become a reality here, are rural electrification, soil conservation, a sewer system and building improvements.

Muenster Knights Set For District Initiation Sunday

Members of the Muenster Knights of Columbus Council are making big plans this week to entertain brother members from all over North Texas at a district initiation next Sunday, December 4.

About 35 candidates are expected to join the order. Of that number about 15 are from the local council and the others are from Gainesville, Sherman, Denison, Pilot Point and (Continued on Page 10)

TRIO TUMBLED, TWO SENT TO HOSPITAL BY OIL WELL BLOWOUT

Herbert McDaniel was back in circulation Monday, looking none the worse, after being showered on the face and arms with oil and sand when gas pressure blew out around a casing of an oil well he was working on Friday. The painful, but not serious injuries, were treated at Gainesville sanitarium.

Similarly injured was D.C. Murray of Myra. Herb Russell, also working on the well, was not injured but his hat was torn to shreds by the gas pressure. All three men were thrown about 15 feet. They were working on Leo Haverkamp's cleanout machine.

IT'S ABOUT TIME—Dr. Robert S. Black of Corpus Christi, Tex., is the inventor of a new dental drill which reportedly eliminates most of the pain in drilling teeth. The unit at left mixes an abrasive in a chamber with carbon dioxide gas, minimizing heat, pressure, vibration and noise. Dr. William Mann, above, demonstrates the device on Gerald Fitch.

Eberhart Infant Dies Friday Night

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Michael John Eberhart, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Eberhart, who died shortly after birth Friday night.

Rev. Anthony Schroeder, pastor, officiated at the brief service and at the burial in Sacred Heart Cemetery. Nick Miller was in charge of funeral arrangements. Survivors are the parents, two brothers, Allen Dale and Gene Louis, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Eberhart and Mrs. Catherine Gehrig, all of Muenster.

Improved Grinding Equipment Installed By Muenster Mill

The biggest feed grinding improvement in the history of Muenster Milling Company is complete. On its first run Tuesday the new outfit handled a grinding job in about one-third the time usually required by the old outfit.

The entire improvement program consists of a 15 inch hammermill, a 120 HP natural gas engine, a feed collector and a 12X20 foot addition to the building.

The feed collector is specially arranged for efficiency and convenience. Mounted about 30 feet high, it has one pipe for direct loading in a truck and another for sacking. A third pipe, to be installed soon, will lead directly to a mixer.

She is back at her home and is regaining her strength nicely, being able to sit up a part of each day. She says many thanks for blood transfusions, flowers and cards while she was in the hospital.

Mrs. J. G. Richards, Former Resident Dies November 23

Mrs. J. G. Richards, 75, formerly of Muenster, passed away on Wednesday, Nov. 23, in Warren, Penna., where she had resided since last February.

Funeral services were held Saturday in Warren, with interment beside her husband who died there in June, 1949.

Mrs. Richards was well known in Muenster and Gainesville where she and Mr. Richards lived for many years. He was one of the early developers of the oil industry in Cooke county and continued in that work until his health failed. Mrs. Richards assisted him as bookkeeper of the business. She suffered a broken hip in December last year and was confined to a Gainesville hospital until they left for Pennsylvania in February.

Mrs. Ralph Richards of Gainesville is a daughter-in-law. Other survivors are several cousins.

Parish Membership Count Reveals 1778

Muenster's Sacred Heart parish has a total membership of 1778 persons. Father Anthony Schroeder revealed after receiving final reports on last week's parish census.

Conducted by some 30 volunteers of the parish, the count was made as part of the annual census of the Diocese of Dallas.

The total membership, Father Anthony explained is included in 413 families as compared with 397 families in last year's count. There are 1041 adults and 737 persons under 18.

Father Andrew Wewers of Corpus Christi Academy is temporary assistant pastor at Muenster. According to a report from Father Anthony Schroeder Wednesday, he is expected some time Thursday.

Father Andrew is pinch hitting for Father John Walbe who left Monday to spend two or three weeks in a Booneville, Mo., hospital, and will remain here until after Christmas.

RICHARD WIMMER OK WITH BROKEN NECK

Richard Wimmer is very uncomfortable but apparently out of danger as the result of a broken neck and head injuries received Sunday at about 5:30 p.m. while working for Hess brothers on a Texas company oil lease. A section of casing, weighing about 800 pounds, struck him. He is a patient at M&S hospital. Traction will be applied for about ten days after which Wimmer will be placed in a cast. He is the son of Mrs. John Wimmer.

Early Start on New Building is Goal of Church Committee

Interest in Muenster's proposed new Sacred Heart church emerged from the dormant stage this week. A pep talk given at the Sunday masses was followed that night by a pep rally of the parish and building committees and the announcement Monday that steps are being taken to get construction under way within the next few months.

The first objective is a financial drive intended to secure a sufficient amount in contributions and pledges to justify the beginning of actual construction. This action is in keeping with a diocesan policy that no church be started until its financial security is assured.

Accordingly the committees are now organizing a drive which will be conducted early in December. In it every member of the parish will be requested to donate immediately what he can spare and give a pledge for the balance of his intended total contribution.

Meanwhile the committee continues with other aspects of the building program. It has agreed to a total seating capacity of 1000 with 800 on the main floor and 200 in the balcony. And it will, in meetings of the immediate future, decide on materials, dimensions, designs, fixtures, equipment and other details of plans and specifications. The architect was announced as Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth.

Olive Haverkamp Wins Contest for Thanksgiving Queen

Miss Olive Haverkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Haverkamp, won the title of Thanksgiving Festival Queen Thursday and reigned during the dance, the concluding entertainment feature of the traditional Thanksgiving observance in Muenster.

The coronation ceremony, a highlight of the day's program, took place in the K of C hall immediately preceding the dance. A capacity crowd attended.

After the crowd assembled in the hall at 8:30 the royal party entered while Bill Tanner's orchestra played the grand march.

Leading the march was Princess Marianne Luke, first maid of honor, escorted by Willard Hartman; following were Princess Gladys Ann Hoffman, second maid of honor and crown bearer, escorted by David Endres, and Floradell Endres, third maid of honor and bouquet bearer, escorted by Ronald Herr.

Her Highness Queen Olive of the House of Haverkamp was escorted by Julian Walterscheid, captain of the 1948 Sacred Heart Hi football Hornets.

Tiny train bearers for the queen were Dianne Endres, Eileen Endres, Lu Ann Reiter and Diana Horn.

Rev. John Walbe, at the P A system, made the announcements. (Continued on Page 2)

NEW YORK.The life expectancy of Americans has increased in the last century from less than 40 years to about 67 years, according to Louis I. Dublin, chief statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Dublin declared that with the progress made in health conditions in the United States there is "good reason to expect a life expectancy of 75 years within the next generation."

"Ever branch of the medical and sanitary sciences has shared in the unparalleled progress of the past century," he declared, "with the result that the death rate has been greatly reduced and many diseases which once were rampant are now either under control or well on their way to control."

The American Way MORE DOUBLE TALK

By De Witt Emery

Secretary of Agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, complains that the 81st Congress refused to adopt the Brannan Plan because the Republicans in Congress misrepresented the plan by calling it "socialistic" and an instrument of the "welfare state." Mr. Brannan says these are scare words used to frighten the people and defeat his program.

In making this charge, Mr. Brannan overlooks the very significant fact that there aren't enough Republicans in the House or in the Senate to defeat anything the Democrats want to pass. If this is true and Congress rejected his program — it did just that — then quite a few Democrats in both the House and the Senate must have thought and voted like Republicans so far as the Brannan Plan was concerned.

If his plan, which Mr. Brannan admits is basically a program of price supports for farm products to maintain satisfactory prices for both farmers and consumers, meaning high prices for the farmers and low prices for the consumer with the taxpayers paying the difference, is not socialistic and is not an instrument of the welfare state as was charged by some members of Congress, both Democrats and Republicans, then certainly it is up to him to refute these charges.

At a recent meeting of Democratic leaders in San Francisco, Mr. Brannan undertook to prove that his plan is not socialistic and is not in any sense an instrument of the welfare state. But strangely enough what he actually proved is that his plan is exactly what the opponents of it say it is. Here are his words:

"Price supports will never be a one way street. If there are to be price supports they must be backed up with marketing agreements, acreage allotments and marketing quotas for use when necessary."

This means that if farmers are to get the high prices they desire for their products at the expense of the taxpayer, the farmers must operate under a system of bureaucratic regulation and control which gives the Federal Government the power to tell them what they may grow, how much of it they may grow and when and where and how and at what price they may sell what they grow.

If that isn't socialism and the welfare state all nicely wrapped up in the same package, then what in the world is it?

It's regimentation and totalitarianism in a form and degree utterly foreign to our American way of life. Americans as a matter of tradition and heritage have been free, the world's first free people, which is one important reason why Americans made much greater progress in 160 years than the other peoples of the world in the preceding 3,000 years. Yet despite this, Mr. Brannan now wants to take their God-given freedom away from American farmers and put them under full and complete bureaucratic control, covering everything they grow and sell. And at the same time, he assures the American people that there is nothing socialistic or which remotely resembles the welfare state connected with the Brannan Plan.

This is more of the same kind of double talk which the American people have been subjected to for a good many years. This double talk is based on the idea that the average citizen is "too dumb" to understand anyway, so it's perfectly all right to tell him anything you want to and the poor sucker will swallow it whole no matter how far from the truth it may be. Then when he wakes up, if he does, it will be too late as by that time the Federal Government will be master of his life and his soul. So far, the double talk has worked pretty well for the welfare state crew, but even so I still think Lincoln knew what he was talking about when he said, "...but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

Milk production can be increased by as much as 10 percent during the winter and on less feed if the dairy cows are kept free of lice, grubs, stomach worms and other parasites.

Name Texas Top Ranking 4-H'ers

TRIPS to the 28th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago were given three Texas club members as rewards for their outstanding records in the 1949 National 4-H Clothing, Home Improvement and Tractor Maintenance programs. The state winners and brief outlines of their records follow:

Barbara Dean

Lee Wolf

Dorothy Kastner

Though seven years in 4-H were filled with many exciting events for Barbara Dean, 17, of Alvarado, none climaxed the thrill of being chosen State winner in the 1949 Home Improvement program. Receiving this honor means that Barbara accomplished more in the way of home improvement than any other Texas 4-H'er. Among the many things she did was to remodel her closet, refinish bedroom furniture, reupholster rocker and chair, make new curtains and skirts for stool and dressing table. She has repapered her bedroom walls and has helped her family in the laying of a hardwood floor for their living-dining room. Her work as a demonstrator of improving bedrooms won her the 1949 Maggie W. Barry Scholarship award. Her award, provided by Sears-Roebuck Foundation, was a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago.

Learning proper care and operation of tractors not only paid off in fuel saving for Lee Wolf, 19, Gainesville, but brought him the distinction of being chosen 1949 State champion in the National 4-H Tractor Maintenance program. By putting into practice what he learned, Lee kept the family tractor in year-round working order. He also served on the committee making plans for county-wide tractor clinic, and helped put up tractor maintenance display at county fairs. Active in club affairs, Lee has held every office in the St. Mary's 4-H Club, including junior leader. As a reward he was awarded an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, provided by Stanolind Oil and Gas Co.

A fitting climax in the National 4-H Clothing Achievement program is to be chosen State winner. The 1949 honor went to Dorothy Kastner, 18, of McDade. Her record indicates that she made, altered or mended 575 garments for herself, her grandmother, two sisters and three nieces. The actual cost of the garments has been $729.51, and if she had bought them ready made would have cost $1,999.22. Therefore, she has saved $1,169.71 on her clothing project in eight years. Rounding out a successful club career, Dorothy has served her club in many offices and is their leader. In recognition of Dorothy's good work, Spool Cotton Co. Educational Bureau provided the award of an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago.

was here last Thursday to visit members of the Fisher families.

Miss Marilyn Gremminger, a student in Wichita Falls, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, the Ted Gremmingers.

Messrs. and Mmes. J. W. Hess and Frank Klement and John Klement spent the Thanksgiving holiday in Sunray and Hereford with relatives.

Since Monday Mrs. Steve Moster is employed at the Muenster State Bank. She replaces Arthur Hennigan who joined his father, Fred Hennigan, in business.

Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Siekman of Tulsa were Saturday overnight guests at the Henry Fette home and left Sunday for Dallas, where he transacted business this week.

Miss Ernie Zipper of Dallas was here for a holiday visit with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Flusche entertained with a dinner party Sunday honoring her brother, Tommy Otto, who is here on a leave from Navy duties. Members of the family were guests.

Miss Genie Herr and Earl Sheppard of Dallas, Miss Ann Herr of Gainesville, and Leonard Bengfort of Lindsay were Sunday guests of the girls' parents, the John Herrs.

150 Million in Federal Funds Now Available for Building Texas Hospitals

AUSTIN, TEXAS—More money is now available for building hospitals and health centers in Texas, State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox has announced.

Federal money channeled to the states for hospital construction has been increased from $75 million to $150 million, and the program of federal assistance to hospital construction has been extended through the fiscal year ending June 30, 1955. The increase in time and money is contained in an amendment to the Hospital Survey and Construction Act.

Under provisions of the Act, the various states, to which the federal money is appropriated, makes the money available to local areas for hospital or public health center construction, if a survey shows the area is in need of such facilities.

As of October, when the Amendment became effective, the states will put up half the money for new construction, and the local area, in which the hospital or public health center is to be built, must provide the other half of the total construction costs.

Prior to October, the states put up only one-third, and the local area was held responsible for raising two-thirds of the total construction costs. On new projects which had been approved prior to October, the local area must still put up two-thirds of the entire cost.

Several hospitals have been completed under the program. Other projects are currently under construction throughout the State.

GRAPHITE MAY REPLACE OIL AS LUBRICANT FOR AUTOMOBILE ENGINES

Graphite as a lubricant is not new, but using graphite instead of oil as a lubricant for automobile engines is new! Oil has been the natural lubricant to use in auto engines because it could be circulated through the engine to do the required job. Recently, however, two Los Angeles chemists, Ralph and Edwin Hall, have developed and patented a process for applying graphite coating by impregnating the surface of metal with graphite in such a way that the graphite doesn't wear off. Mr. J.E. Droege, General Manager of the electrofilming corporation that is introducing this new process, states that some 50 automobiles, trucks, and racing cars have been "graphited" and show increased performance. In the "graphited" engine, it is claimed the dry pistons slide up and down as easily as if they were floating in oil.

According to the inventors, in experiments performed by the Navy, the graphite coating has proved to be more resistant to extreme temperatures and salt water than any other lubricant yet used.

Fish Yield More Per Acre Than Beef, Say Wildlife Experts

WASHINGTON. — The Fish & Wildlife Service advises farmers to "get in the swim" and put a fish pond on their farms. It says that if they do they can realize more pounds of fish per acre than they can beef.

Returns of from 50 to 100 pounds of fish per acre can be expected from a natural pond and as much as 300 pounds from a pond that is fertilized and well managed, the service asserted. Beef production is about 150 pounds an acre.

The agency said that farm fish ponds are becoming popular and growing in importance. The service will stock such ponds with bluegill, sunfish, large mouthed black bass, bullheads, catfish and if the water is cool enough, trout.

In Texas 200,000 such ponds have been built in recent years, and about 50,000 have been built in Missouri in the last ten years, the service said. Mississippi farmers have built 22,000 in five years and Oklahoma is adding about 7,000 ponds a year. Western States are showing an increasing interest in ponds.

A fish pond may be as small as a quarter of an acre but in Northern States they must be from 6 to 15 feet deep to prevent winter killing of fish. Some states help farmers survey the land and build their ponds.

The construction of farm ponds in soil conservation practices completed last week in the Muenster Work Unit Area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District.

A.E. Leslie of the Northeast Saint Jo group has completed construction of a farm pond in his north pasture. The water will enable him to graze portions of his pasture that usually go untouched because of the distance from stock water.

J.W. Hess of Muenster has built a stock tank on his farm at Hays. The tank provides water for a new pasture at the south end of his sodded waterway.

Charlie Schmitt, Charlie Clayton and Earl Robinson have recently had new tanks constructed on their farms. All these tanks serve dual purposes. In addition to providing excellent stock water and a place where the farm family may raise fish and enjoy the fine sport of fishing, the ponds conserve water and soil by ponding the water and decreasing the amount of runoff on areas below the dam site. Each pond performs the function of a small flood control reservoir.

Matt Mueller of Muenster has recently had about 4000 ft. of terraces constructed to add to his terracing system.

Leonard Hartman is using his tractor to construct another terrace on the J.J. Hartman farm east of Muenster.

Oscar Walter is using his tractor and the island method of terrace construction to build terraces in the field east of his home.

J.W. Fleitman is building a short diversion terrace through his pasture to divert hill water from his cultivated land.

A Yoke is a Sign That Cattle Do Not Get Proper Grazing

COLLEGE STATION.—One way for the farmer to get a good calf crop and fast growing calves is to take the yokes off his cattle. That statement may not make sense at first but a little explanation will show that it has a definite relationship to the kind and number of calves produced on the farm, says M.K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist of Texas A. & M. College.

To Thornton yokes on cattle show that the farmer isn't furnishing his cows with enough good forage to make them want to stay on their side of the fence.

When we drive along the highways at this time of the year, says Thornton, we see large numbers of cattle with yokes around their necks which indicates their restlessness in trying to get the quantity and quality of feed they need. Then, as we drive on, we see contented cattle grazing on good pastures—the result of using the type of fertilizers that produce high quality grazing. This contrast, says Thornton, makes him believe that the best way to keep yoked cattle from tearing down fences is to provide them with the same kind of grazing that the contented cows are getting.

Getting rid of the yokes and furnishing cows with good winter grazing is a question of building pastures with fertilizer, he says. And this should not be considered an unnecessary expense; it is nothing but a profitable investment. From fertilized, well-developed winter pastures will come more calves that weigh more and are more alert and vigorous, he adds. At the same time, cows will produce more milk and stand up better under nursing.

Without high quality forage, the old cow will "miss a calf" once in a while, and the calf she does produce will be small and will grow off slowly. Good winter forage will keep the cow's weight up, and she'll be ready to produce a good calf every year.

Now is the time, says Thornton, when stockmen should begin to fertilize pastures, if they are to provide their cattle with good green forage during the winter months. A sack of fertilizer applied on the pasture is a step toward a big crop of quality calves, and a better conditioned herd of breeding stock.

And Thornton concludes that eliminating yokes on cattle through pasture fertilization is eliminating yokes placed on the farmer by poor pastures.

Plumbing fixtures are heavy. Be sure that the supports under the bathroom are strong enough to support them.

If possible, work counters should be installed on each side of the kitchen sink, accessible to either the refrigerator or range.

The farm water supply should be adequate for all needs and should be tested for purity before expensive equipment is installed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gruber of Fort Worth visited his parents and brothers here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sandman, Mrs. George Spaeth and daughters, Frances of Dallas and Georgia of Denton, returned Sunday from a week's trip to South Texas. They visited relatives in San Antonio and went to the Rio Grande Valley and Old Mexico, returning home by way of Corpus Christi.

Bill Zimmerer, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.J. Zimmerer, sustained a broken right knee Sunday while gathering pecans. He was in a tree on his father's farm. His right foot became wedged in a fork in the tree and in attempting to pull it loose he twisted his leg and caused the injury. He was treated at M&S hospital and dismissed.

WOLF FAMILIES HAVE REUNION AT ARENDT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arendt Jr. entertained in their home Sunday with a turkey dinner and family reunion for members of her family.

Guests from out of town included her parents, the Adam Wolfs and family, of Gainesville; her uncle, Rev. Anthony Schroeder of Muenster; an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lindemann of Windthorst, and her grandfather, William J. Schroeder of Windthorst.

Jackie Reiter has a discharge from the Navy and is back here employed with Steve Fette Trucking service. During the past two years Jackie saw duty in the China and Japan areas. He is the son of Mrs. Gussie Reiter.

Muenster Hi Opens Cage Season Friday Night at Saint Jo

After an absence of 12 years Muenster High School will return to Interscholastic League basketball competition Friday night in a season opener with Saint Jo in the latter's gym. The evening's program is a double header between both the boys and girls of the two schools.

The next contest on the schedule is another twin bill at Stoneburg next Tuesday night.

Regarding the school's prospects for the season Coach Hood said this week that he has no hope of finishing anywhere near the top in league standing. In his opinion anything better than the lowest average of the district will constitute a successful season.

Two factors account for the feeble outlook. The players individually have had little previous experience and this is their first year to train systematically under a coach. Besides practice sessions are cut short because of the long drive each night to and from the Valley Creek gym.

By contrast other teams of the district have the advantage of previous experience and home gymnasiums.

Actually this season will consist mostly of groundwork for the future. Next year with a season of training behind them and the facilities of a gym to work in they have better chances of developing into a coordinated team.

TEXACO STATION IS NEW BUS STATION

Muenster has a bus station again. The confusion which existed here for several months over where to catch a bus, where to leave and call for shipments or where to inquire about schedules is settled. Ted Probst's Texaco Station is the place.

Denton. The latter city does not have a council at this time but plans are under way to establish one there in the near future.

Ceremonies of the three degrees will be under the direction of State Deputy M. J. Babin Jr., and District Deputy J. W. Fisher.

An unusual detail in the day's program is a noon banquet instead of an evening banquet. Officers settled on that arrangement as a special convenience to visiting members. It solves their noon problem besides enabling them to take in the full program and return home at an early hour.

The day's program begins at 7:15 when candidates and members assemble at the K-C Hall to organize their procession, beginning at 7:45, to the 8 o'clock mass. Fourth Degree Knights and Boy Scouts, all in uniform will lead the procession.

Exemplification of the first and second degrees, beginning at 10, will be followed by the banquet for candidates, members wives and girl friends.

The third degree begins at 2 and ends approximately at 5. During the exemplification of degrees visiting ladies will be entertained by the CD of A under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel.
