Special Pow-wow To Consider 3-way Deal on Pavement

To have or not to have pavement at the new public school building. That is a question which has bothered the school board for some time, the city council since last Monday and will soon be presented to the church committee of the Sacred Heart Parish.

The problem was brought out for serious consideration Monday night when the school board informed the city council that it would install curbs on its property hence expected to qualify for the customary street graveling job. At the same time it suggested that some plan be worked out whereby the school can get pavement instead of the gravel.

According to an agreement of long standing the city has cooperated in a residential improvement plan by improving the street whenever property owners install curbs.

In its present financial embarrassment, however, caused by several expensive water line and sewer extensions, the city is reluctant to take on the cost of a big street improvement job, especially a pavement job. Likewise the school board advised that construction costs are crowding the budget and will not allow the board to put in the pavement without a financial lift.

Net result of the discussion was a proposed meeting of members of the school board, city council and parish committee in an effort to arrange a three way deal for the mutual benefit of both the church and the school. The proposed pavement is to be between the parish property and the public school property. The meeting of committees has been set for next Tuesday night, March 14.

Stolen Car Case Fumbled by Cops, Solved by Flusche

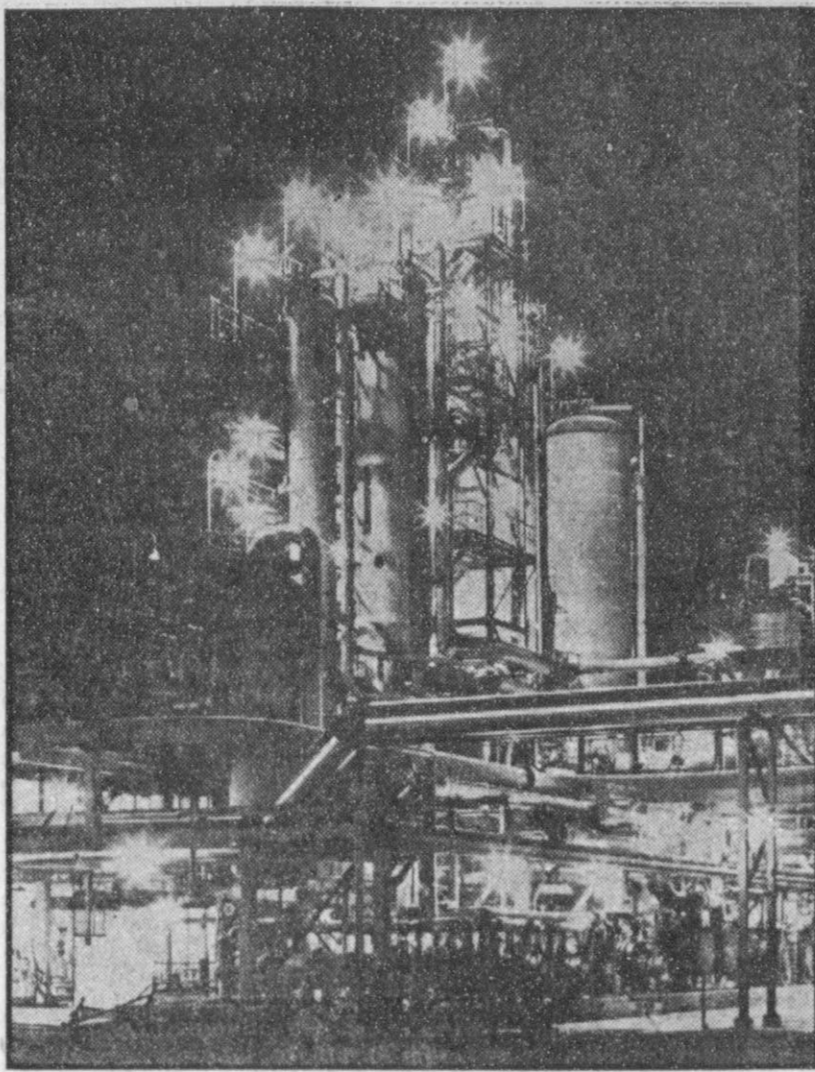

After waiting ten days for officers to locate the owner of an abandoned car parked in front of his house J. P. Flusche started an investigation of his own Tuesday morning and solved his case before noon.

As a result of J.P.'s efforts Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McLaughlin of Wichita Falls were happy and grateful beyond words to learn that their 1948 Ford 2 door sedan missing since February 25 was found in good condition.

It was shortly before 11 on the night of Saturday, February 25 when Flusche noticed the strange automobile parked in front of his house. When he found it still there the next day he suspected it might be an abandoned stolen car, and his suspicions became stronger when he discovered that ignition wires were torn loose in such a manner that they could be hooked together to operate the car without an ignition key. He notified the county sheriff's office Sunday and called the Highway Patrol at Gainesville the following day.

Patrolmen Bill Simmons and Lester Robertson, while here on Monday, Feb. 27, radioed a report to the Highway Patrol's central headquarters on lost and found cars at Arlington. At the same time the car was identified from its license as a Vernon car and a phone call to that city revealed the identity of the person who bought the license plates. Vernon police, however, were not able to give more information on the owner.

The case rested at that stage until Tuesday of this week when Flusche started some detective work on his own. Looking through the car he found a personal letter which referred to the Bridwell Oil Company of Wichita Falls as an employer. A call (Continued on Page 10)

Lawson and Clayton Seek Re-election to Local School Board

E. S. Lawson and C.G. Clayton will both be candidates for re-election to the board of trustees of the Muenster school district at the annual election to be held on April 1. Up to Wednesday no one else has announced for either of the positions, according to Herbert Meurer, secretary to the board.

In order to have their names appear on the ballot candidates must announce at least ten days before the election.

Other members now on the school board are J. B. Klement and Bernard Sicking whose terms expire next year and Tony Walterscheid, J. H. Bayer and Arthur Hellman, whose terms expire in 1952.

School Census of Muenster District Begins This Week

The annual scholastic census of the Muenster Independent school district is again in progress, according to an announcement made this week by Weldon Cowan, school superintendent and district enumerator.

Along with his announcement Cowan explained that the scholastic age includes children born between the dates of Sept. 1, 1932 and Sept. 1, 1944. Any child born before or after those dates cannot be included.

Cowan also called special attention to that part of the census blank which is intended to show children's handicaps. The purpose of that record, he said, is to determine whether there are a sufficient number of handicapped children to justify engaging a special teacher for them. For the good of the children themselves he urges parents to be frank in discussing physical or mental handicaps.

He also asks that parents be prepared in advance to give all information pertaining to birth dates, grades and handicaps so that the report can be completed with the least possible delay. Since the report must be turned in before April 1, Cowan expects to crowd his spare time schedule considerably in order to finish the job on time.

The number of children enumerated on this census will determine the amount of per capita money received by the school district next year. Under the present law the district receives $48 for each child properly enumerated.

Generous Response Marks First Calls In Red Cross Drive

In spite of a cash deposit of only $48, encouraging reports Wednesday indicated that this year's annual Red Cross drive is off to a good start.

Chairman E. S. Lawson quoted two of his solicitors as saying that their contacts to date have met with generous response. Both expect to finish their areas this week or early next week. A few of the other workers have also reported favorably, some do not intend to begin soliciting until the end of the week.

Workers on Lawson's committee are Ed Helton, J. H. Bayer, Walter Luttmer, Ralph Maglaughlin and Mesdames Ervin Hamric, Herman Fette, R. N. Fette, G. H. Hellman and Leo Lawson.

Names of contributors will appear in future issues of the paper until the close of the drive.

Red Cross Helps Victims of 330 Disasters in 1949

In Oklahoma, terrified flood victims clung for life to the treetops. In South Dakota, 17 expectant mothers were rushed in airplanes from a white wilderness of snowdrifts to the safety of hospitals.

Incidents like those could be repeated almost endlessly in connection with the record 330 domestic disaster operations in which the American Red Cross took part in the last fiscal year. This is the largest number of operations in any single year of Red Cross history.

It was at Guthrie, Okla., last May 19 that the people took to the trees. When rain-swollen Cottonwood Creek suddenly burst from its banks, 1,000 persons literally fled for their lives. Many clambered into treetops.

The Oklahoma City Red Cross chapter rushed in several boats, a loudspeaker, and a powerful searchlight. The searchlight was played through the trees to aid rescue workers. Words of guidance and encouragement from the loudspeaker kept the stranded or panic until help came.

The 17 expectant mothers in South Dakota were among 300 persons evacuated to hospitals (Continued on Page 10)

Seyler and Trachta Run, Wieler Coasts, For Alderman Jobs

Three names will appear on the city election ballot on April 4. Mayor John J. Hoffman disclosed at the city council meeting Monday night that David Trachta will seek the position now held by Ben Seyler and Seyler and John Wieler will both seek re-election. Trachta officially filed his candidacy just before the deadline last Saturday. Anyone else wishing to get on the city council will have to conduct a write-in campaign. New election laws are in effect that all candidates must file at least 30 days before the election.

Theatre Closes to Prepare for Move Into New Building

Getting ready for the move into its new building the Relax Theatre will close its present location after the show Sunday night.

According to plans disclosed Wednesday by F. E. Schmitz, owner, the new building will probably be opened on Saturday, April 25, or a few days before. Between next Sunday and that date the management will have the two projectors, completely overhauled and have all cushions of the old seats re-upholstered to match the new seats. The work will be done in Dallas.

Meanwhile work continues steadily on the new building. Walls and the roof are complete and interior work is well on its way.

Mrs. McNelley Buys Store in Gainesville

Since last Saturday Mrs. Louise McNelley is the new owner and operator of the Band Box, the ladies clothing shop at 103 East Elm St., Gainesville, formerly owned by Mrs. Mabel Cunningham. She expects to move from here to Gainesville within the coming week.

Other transactions involved in Mrs. McNelley's change are the sale of her home to Mr. and Mrs. M. H. King and the sale of the King home to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swirczynski.

Mrs. McNelley will continue to carry the same lines of merchandise formerly stocked by Mrs. Cunningham and will add a hat trimming service. Later she also intends to add hand made blouses.

Mrs. McNelley operated the Vogue shop here from 1944 to 1946. Prior to that she had 10 years of millinery experience with a hat company in Dallas.

News Of Sick And Injured

Gertrude Esker is up and around her home but still not able to return to her cafe work as the result of a dislocated shoulder sustained last week. The accident occurred while she was at work.

Angela Dern, 5 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Dern, had her tonsils removed at Gainesville Sanitarium Friday.

Diocesan Charity Drive Hits Jackpot In Muenster Parish

Muenster's Sacred Heart parish is already $5000 over the top and still going strong in its present fund raising campaign for the Bishop's House of Charity of the Diocese of Dallas.

Father Anthony Schroeder said Wednesday that tabulations after Tuesday's collections brought the parish total to almost $18,000 of which about $10,000 was in cash and the remainder in pledges. The membership to date is about 300.

The quota set by the diocese for the Muenster parish was 260 memberships of $50 each. Solicitors have not only exceeded the membership quota but in many cases have secured donations in excess of the $50.

Father Anthony declined to estimate the final membership count or the total fund to be raised by the parish. He said that workers had not reported to him how many of the persons on their lists were still to be contacted, but added that so far as he knew none of the men had seen all the persons on his list.

He also stated that the local response has been very gratifying and will reflect very well on the record of the parish.

The group of solicitors is composed of 36 persons. R.R. Endres is the chairman and under him are 7 teams each consisting of a captain and four workers.

Enthusiasm for the drive is equally apparent in the parochial school. Since last week the youngsters have been going strong in a contest to raise the highest class donation. Besides contributing their nickles and dimes they are sponsoring at least a few money making projects. Some are collecting old rags for sale. Some are collecting scrap iron. Some are doing odd jobs and putting their earnings into the fund.

Funds collected are to be used in the 7 point charity program sponsored by the Diocese of Dallas.

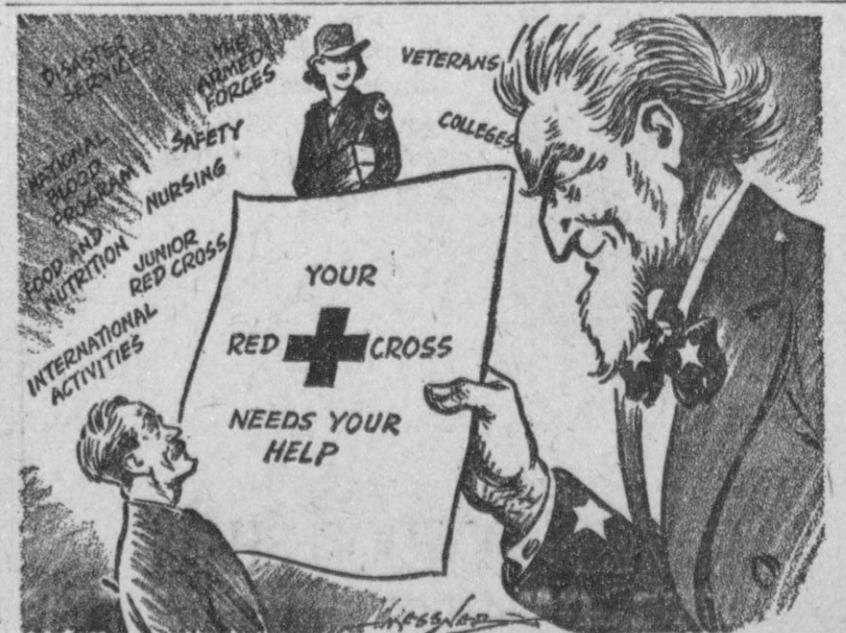

Margie Kathman is Muenster Duchess For Circus Roundup

Miss Margie Kathman, junior student at Muenster High School will represent this community as duchess at the queen's coronation ceremony of the seventh annual Circus Round-up in Gainesville Friday night, April 22. She was chosen last Thursday night at a meeting of the Garden Club, which sponsors the local duchess.

The queen of the Round-up will be determined by a contest now under way in Gainesville. She will be attended by a court comprised of duchesses and escorts from Gainesville and other cities of North Texas. Coronation ceremonies will precede the circus performance at 8 o'clock April 22. After the circus the queen's court will be guests at the Queen's Ball.

WHAT PRICE GOOD ROADS?

It is certain that my seven point program has caused some discussion and it deserves further thought and consideration. If you question the wisdom of its adoption then it must be the cost. (MONEY)

I asked a dealer in materials if it would cost more to build small bridges of concrete rather than lumber. His reply was, "I think it would cost less, certainly over a period of time the cost would be much smaller."

You pay taxes for road upkeep and improvement. If the roads are to remain as they are now or have been, how much will it cost you in wear and tear to run your car and truck in the next four or five years?

Why not begin now to make some permanent and lasting improvement on our roads?

Please continue to discuss the seven point plan.

Thank You
JOE WYATT

Austin Westbrook Is Candidate for State Legislature

Austin E. Westbrook of Gainesville has authorized The Enterprise to make his formal announcement as a candidate for representative in the state legislature from Cooke county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries next summer. As a slogan for his campaign, Mr. Westbrook has adopted the catchy expression, "Send Austin to Austin." His formal statement of his candidacy is as follows:

To the People of Cooke County:

In being a citizen of Cooke county 27 years I have always been proud and happy that I have been permitted to associate with people who take pride in being from Cooke county, Texas. This pride took on a real meaning when I joined the army in 1942. Throughout my army career even while on the front lines as a "foot soldier," I can remember boasting that I was from Gainesville, Texas.

When the war was over and I was discharged, I came home with a better idea as to what the people of this nation really need. I knew that in the government lay the ultimate being that influenced the daily lives of our people. Realizing this, I started what few plans I had made by enrolling in the University of Texas.

For four years while attending classes at the University of Texas, I worked in the various departments of our state government. I did this with the intention of finding out for myself exactly how our state departments operate. In these four years I made it a point to find out who was who in our Texas government and I can definitely say that I did, and in doing so, have made many friends among them.

For four years I have witnessed our legislature in action and in these four years I have been doing things that I could do in the capacity of my various positions in our state departments for Cooke county. I know that I am qualified to represent you, the people of Cooke county and I can assure you that I will represent you in an honest and honorable way.

Representation to me means that you citizens of Cooke county send to Austin, our capital city, as your servant-delegate, a person who can and will represent the majority of the people in this county in what they want and need.

I can assure you that before the July primary I will have contacted you and talked with you about what you consider important to be done in our state legislature. I am taking upon myself the task of contacting you and discussing with you such matters as you deem important to our state government

Sunday guests in the J. M. Weinzapfel home were their daughter, Mrs. Hugh Jackson and family of Fort Worth.

A new home is under construction for Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Miller in the west part of the city west of the Joe Kathman residence.

In doing so I am sure that I can truly represent you as you would want me to.

As your representative I would report to you the situation in our legislature from time to time, letting you know exactly what I am doing and what is going on.

I would represent you honestly, intelligently and honorably; be your servant-delegate and let the people of this great state know that there is a Cooke county, Texas, and you the people of Cooke county can be assured that when you "send Austin to Austin" you will be, with the best of my ability, honorably and honestly represented.

Respectfully

Sacred Heart Girls' 4-H Clubs Have Sewing Lesson

Cutting a school garment was the demonstration given by Mrs. Fern Bruce, home demonstration agent, at separate meetings of the Sacred Heart Girls' 4-H Clubs on Wednesday, March 1. Mrs. Bruce explained how to cut, lay and sew the garment, and emphasized good posture in wearing it.

Mary Ann Felderhoff, president, presided during the business session of the senior club and members worked out further organizational details. Adult leaders were suggested and a committee was appointed to get in touch with them.

Miss Felderhoff explained the new 4-H Club Council which she and Dolores Gremminger attended as delegates recently in Gainesville.

Four new members were admitted. They are Anselma Knabe, Rita Hoenig, Gracie Friske and Rose Marie Walterscheid.

For the Junior Club meeting Carol Ann Hellman, president, presided for the business session and Mary Nell Hellman, song leader, led the group in singing "Lil' Liza Jane and Missouri Waltz."

The next meetings of the two clubs will be held on April 1.

The domestic quarrel was increasing in acrimony as wifey declared, "I wish to heaven I had taken mother's advice and never married you."

"Do you mean to say that your mother tried to keep you from marrying me?" he demanded in amazement.

"She certainly did." "Merciful heavens!" he exclaimed remorsefully. "How I've wronged that woman!"

SCHOOLS TAKE TURNS AT DECORATING LUNCH ROOM

The school lunch room has taken on a festive air with artistic decorations made by the 8th grade parochial school under the direction of Sister M. Carmelita.

At a recent PTA meeting the suggestion was made that students of both schools take turns in making the lunch room more attractive with appropriate placards, seasonal decorations or artwork pertaining to food.

This month's theme is entitled "S.H.S. Health Serenade" and presents dozens of whimsical, fantastic creatures, each one a vegetable, fruit or dairy product about 18 inches tall realistically done in cardboard and painted. Each character has its own facial expression and "dancing feet". Musical notes and clefts accompany the food parade around the lunch room walls, and each of the food groups is topped by a printed two-line jingle that rhymes its specific value as a body builder.

Next month's theme will be arranged by the public school pupils.

ATTENDS TWO-DAY CLINIC FOR TRACTOR MAINTENANCE

Martin Bayer, adult leader of the Sacred Heart 4-H Boys Club, attended a two-day tractor clinic in Gainesville recently. A total of 50 men, county agents and leaders from 17 counties of the area attended.

Knowledge derived from the course will be offered to 4-H members of Cooke county sometime in May when a class will be conducted for their benefit.

Representatives of the Stanlind Oil and Gas Co. and of the Texas A&M Extension Service conducted the classes and tractor dealers of Gainesville furnished used tractors for the demonstration which was held at the Johnnie Wilson Farm Implement company.

An increasing number of women are taking up the study of law. The usual number continue to lay it down.

BOYS' SOCIETY COMPLETES PLANS FOR SUNDAY PROGRAM

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By ED GOSSETT

WASHINGTON, D. C. March 4 —Today is the 37th anniversary of Speaker Sam Rayburn's coming to Congress. He first took his seat as a congressman from Texas 37 years ago today. Only two members of the House have served in Congress longer than Mr. Rayburn. Those two members are Mr. Adolph Sabath, from Chicago, Illinois, and Mr. Robert L. Doughton, from North Carolina. Mr. Sabath has been in Congress 44 years continuously. He holds the all-time record for longevity of Congressional service.

The city of Washington has been plagued with a 'flu epidemic this week. The Gossett household has not escaped. All of us have had the 'flu and none of our children have been able to attend school during this week.

On yesterday we enjoyed very much a visit from about 25 school superintendents and school officials from back home. Among those calling on me were Miss Waurine Walker, President of the Texas State Teachers Association, along with Mr. Joe Humphrey, Superintendent of Schools in Tempel, and Mr. Joe B. Golden, Superintendent of Schools in Vernon, who are members of the Texas Teachers Tideland Committee.

The House and Senate conferees are now trying to agree on an important amendment to the cotton allotment act. Time is growing short for the cotton farmer to know how many acres he can plant for this year. The Senate bill provides for 60% of the average cotton (includes war crops) acreage on the farm during 1946, 1947, and 1948, but not to exceed 40% of the farms "adjusted" tilled acres. The House bill allows 70% of the average cotton planted for the years 1946, 1947, and 1948, or 50% of the cotton planted in any one of those years, and or not to exceed 40% of the total cultivated acres on the farm. The problem now is to work out these differences. Certainly a farmer can be sure that he will not be cut lower than the Senate provisions. House conferees are trying to get the Senate figures increased somewhat.

The House on yesterday passed the Alaskan Statehood bill; that is a bill which would make Alaska the 49th State in the Union. Most Texas members of the Congress, including myself, voted against the bill. Alaska is more than twice the size of Texas, yet has only around 80,000 white inhabitants. The Federal Government owns 99% of the 365 million acres of land in the Territory of Alaska. Giving Alaska Statehood at this time seems to me to put the cart before the horse. If the Federal Government would open up Alaska for settlement and encourage its development, then in due course enough people would live there to entitle them to statehood. Speaking of Federal land ownership, it is interesting to note that in a number of States the Federal Government owns more than half of all the land. In Arizona the Federal Government owns 69% of the land, in Idaho 65%, in Nevada 85%, in Oregon 53%, in Utah 71%, and in Wyoming 52%.

Several prominent British newspapers this week have called upon former Food Minister Strachey to declare himself on communism. Mr. Strachey, whom Mr. Atlee now seeks to make Minister of War, has long been noted for his pink tinge. In one of his recent political speeches he boasted that only 250 persons in Britain had incomes of more than $14,000 per year, after taxes; whereas before the war there were at least 11,000 such persons. Mr. Strachey's ideal seems to be reduce all Britons to the lowest common denominator. Certainly many great Englishmen must weep from grief and shame when they compare their country now with her former greatness. Almost 200 years ago, William Pitt boasted that:

"The poorest man may in his cottage bid defiance to all the force of the Crown.

Look Who's Talking!

The American Way A SOLID AMERICAN

By George Peck

In the mail the other morning came a little poem—its author unidentified. It gave me a chuckle or two. It had a few cuss words in it and so with humble apologies to the unknown author, I have revamped it a bit. The revision follows in the hope that it may create a smile or two for the readers of this column:

SOAK THE RICH

"Father, must I go out to work?"
 "No! No! my darling son.
 We're living now on Easy Street
 With funds from Washington.
 "We're cared for now by Uncle Sam
 So don't get exercised;

It may be frail, its roof may shake;
 The wind may blow through it;

The storms may enter, the rain may enter,
 But the King of England cannot enter.

All his forces dare not cross
 The threshold of the ruined tenement."

Now, the Agents of at least 19 different ministries can go into an Englishman's home and ransack the place from cellar to attic without even a letter of introduction, much less a search warrant.

You've a good reason to keep calm

"Because we're subsidized."
 "But if he's going to treat us well

And give us milk and honey,
 From whom, my darling Dad, please tell

He's going to get the money?"
 Don't worry, child, there is no hitch

About this glorious plan—
 He'll get the money from the rich

To help the common man."
 "But, Father, won't there come a time

If we take all their cash
 And they are left without a dime

When things will go to smash?"

"You need a lot of seasoning;
 I'll slap you on the wrist;
 You do too darn much reasoning

To be a Socialist!"

That bit of doggerel would be right funny were it not for the fact that it aptly describes the viewpoint and attitude of all too many Americans. Sometimes I get to wondering if it isn't too late to save this nation from destroying itself by going all-out for a socialistic economy. Then something happens to revive my faith in the self-reliance, industry and common sense of the average American citizen. Here's a "for instance":

A few months back we suffered a severe loss. Old George, a faithful old Negro, who over a long period of years had cleaned our offices, passed on to his greater reward, to that land where we are told there is no dirt or dust. All of us loved old George—perhaps he wasn't the world's best cleaner, but his was a radiant, cheerful personality—just to have him around made you feel good.

One early morning the office door opened and in walked a younger man, who introduced himself as Georges' son-in-law, saying: "I got bad news for you. George died last evening."

After we had appropriately expressed our sincere sympathy, the young fellow explained that he had come to see us because he wished to take over the cleaning job. I'll try to reconstruct as nearly as possible his sales talk in applying for the job:

"My father-in-law left my mother-in-law practically penniless. She will have $33 a month from Social Security and that's about all. Rose (she's my wife) and I talked things over last night. We thought if I could have this cleaning job along with the one on the floor below, we could turn the money over to Mother.

"I have a regular job during the day but it takes just about all I make to keep my own family. I could come down here in the evenings and promise to keep your offices real clean. If you and the gentleman below will let me have the job, we'll turn the money over to Mother, and that will give her enough to get along on—you see, Mr. Peck, we don't want our Mother to be a ward of the government."

You've guessed it. Mansfield got the job. It was most heartening, in these days of widespread Government handouts, to hear this young fellow express his aversion to having his wife's mother go on a Government dole or be an object of public charity. To avoid such a contingency, he was willing and anxious, after a hard day of eight hours at his regular occupation, to put in some extra hours of toil. He puts to shame many an other citizen whose hand is extended for Government bounty.

And there's a sequel to this true story. Purposely, I've waited several months to tell it, because I wished to be sure it wasn't a "new broom sweeping clean." Never have our offices been kept so tidy and neat. Mansfield, in addition to being a solid American, just hates dirt.

You can't enjoy the cream of life if you bottle up the milk of human kindness.

Garden Club Hears Mrs. Meador Speak On Chrysanthemums

With Mrs. S. T. Meador of Saint Jo as guest speaker and "Chrysanthemums" as her subject, members of the Civic League and Garden Club enjoyed an interesting program hour at their regular meeting last Thursday night.

Mrs. Meador's entertaining and informative talk on Chrysanthemums began with the legend and early history of the flower. She stated that chrysanthemums are divided into garden and exhibition types and gave important points on the culture and growth of each type. An open forum was held after the talk and Mrs. Meador answered members' questions on the subject.

During the business session President Mrs. Nick Miller presided and committee chairmen gave reports.

Park Chairman Mrs. T. S. Myrick reported that 13 Red Radiance roses had been planted at Veterans Memorial Park and Mrs. Tony Gremminger, sanitation chairman, announced the annual Spring Clean-up.

Other business was the selection, by vote, of a young lady to represent Muenster as duchess at the annual Circus Round-Up in Gainesville. Margie Kathman won over four other nominees.

Members voted to contribute a $15 donation to the current Red Cross drive, and set Sunday March 19, as the date for the pilgrimage to TSCW campus in Denton. Members who intend to make the pilgrimage are to notify Mrs. Lou Wolf several days in advance so that arrangements for transportation can be made.

Twenty-two members and guests, Mmes. F. T. Bolen and Clyde Rounsville of Muenster, and Miss Ruth Scott, Mrs. Loy-al Burchfiel and Mrs. Meador of Saint Jo were present for the evening and Mrs. Robert Bell was admitted as a new member. The meeting was held in the Home Economics room in the K of C hall with Miss Ruby Kelly as hostess. She was assisted by several of her students in serving refreshments of homemade ice cream, cake and coffee.

An added feature, following business, was a plant exchange by members.

Health Department Urges Clean-up As Typhoid Preventive

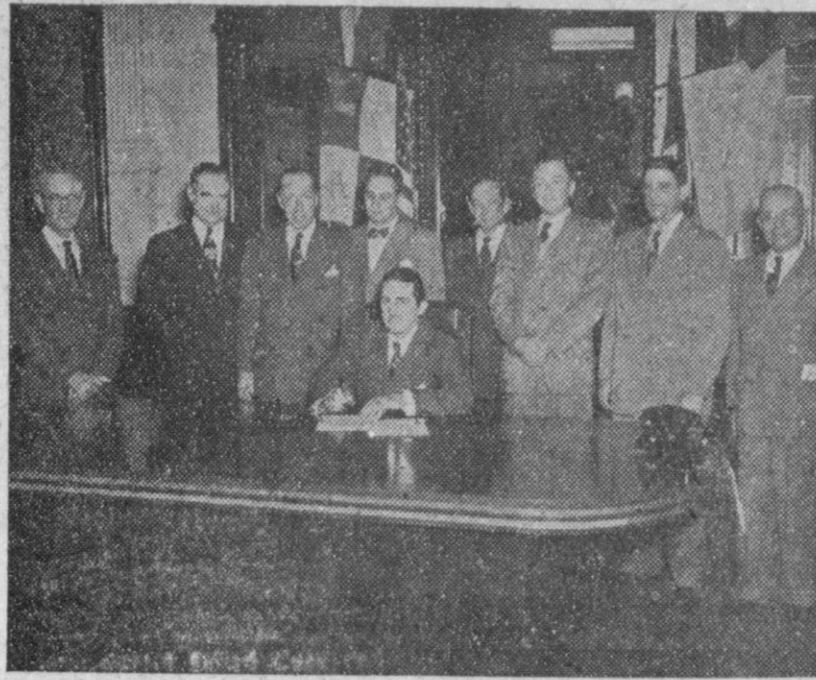

AUSTIN, TEXAS, — Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that the season of the year when typhoid fever is most prevalent will soon be here and urges everyone to clean up their premises to eliminate flies and other insects. A town is only as clean as the individual citizens and public health should be everyone's concern.

The typhoid germ travels from an infected person to the well person; this is generally accomplished by water, milk, flies, fingers, or food. Every case is contracted by the way of the mouth and digestive system.

A carrier is a person who has had typhoid fever at some time and who even after recovery carries the germs of the disease in the urine and discharge of the bowels. Carriers who are careless in their personal habits are likely to infect any food they handle with unwashed hands. Some of the most serious and far-reaching outbreaks of the disease have been caused by drinking milk or eating foods that have been handled by carriers. Persons may be carriers without knowing it.

Typhoid fever is unnecessary and preventable. Every case is due either to community negligence or to the carelessness of some individual. Persons planning a vacation or trip where sanitation may not be rigidly enforced should protect themselves against this disease by being immunized. Its prevention is accomplished by the enforcement of public health measures to protect food, milk, and water supplies, and by immunization. The purity of water, milk, or food cannot be judged by looking at it, so the best thing to do is to play safe and have your physician protect you.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Holland of Fort Worth spent Saturday night and Sunday as guests of her mother, Mrs. Bob Yosten.

Package of Slices Is Latest Advance In Cheese Business

The first cheese in slices packaged at the factory immediately after pasteurization, the most important development in cheese manufacturing and merchandising in recent years, will be distributed nationally by early spring, according to G. C. Pound,

Mother and Baby Doing Well

Expectant mothers learn how to bathe baby painlessly and happily in a special Red-Cross home nursing course in Mother and Baby Care.

executive vice president of the Kraft Foods Company.

Kraft Deluxe Slices are processed in such a way that they come apart readily when the package is opened, regardless of temperature. As the blended and pasteurized fluid cheese runs over a chilled rotating drum, the cheese leaves the drum as a "ribbon" several feet wide and an eighth of an inch thick. Razor-sharp cutters slice the cheese into strips three inches wide. Eight such strips then are automatically gathered into a stack. Another cutter slices through the stack to produce three-inch squares, which are automatically packaged. These packages are automatically sealed and ready for distribution and marketing.

The package of eight sandwich-size slices has been proved in extensive test marketing to be one of the greatest advances since Kraft in 1921 first introduced its revolutionary five-pound loaf of pasteurized process cheese which immediately came into universal use, Pound said.

New cars in the community are Frank Felderhoff's 1950 Chevrolet and Leonard Walterscheid's 1950 Ford. Both are tudor sedans.

Brazos Power Co-op And TP&L Agree on Mutual Aid Deal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22—An interchange agreement between the Brazos River Transmission Electric Cooperative, Inc., and the Texas Power & Light Company for the purchase and sale of electric power was approved by Claude R. Wickard, REA administrator, here Tuesday.

"This is the kind of agreement which I strongly advocate between public utilities and REA bodies," said Congressman W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco whose efforts are largely responsible for the organization of the Brazos River Transmission Electric Cooperative, Inc. "It is both a purchase and a sales agreement by which both parties are mutually benefited. It provides for connections between the transmission lines of each, thus making it possible for them to help each other during times of emergency," Congressman Poage said.

"Under terms of the agreement the Transmission Co-operative will sell to TP&L Company a portion of the electric power generated at the Morris Shepard Dam which the Co-operative purchases under long term agreement from the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District. In turn, TP&L will sell to the Transmission Co-operative power and energy at existing points of delivery to its member distribution co-operatives. Also, the TP&L Company will supply power and energy for serving member distribution cooperatives at future load centers. The Transmission Co-operative also is interconnected with the Lower Colorado River Authority and the Cooperative will soon complete its generating station between Temple and Belton which will likewise have an interconnection with the Texas Power & Light Company," he explained.

TP&L Company also will deliver for the account of the Southwestern Power Administration a maximum of 10,000 kilowatts of power and certain energy to the Transmission Co-operative for its member distribution cooperatives in accordance with the provisions of the SPA-TP&L existing contract, Mr. Poage said.

The new contract between Brazos River Transmission Electric Cooperative, Inc., and Texas Power & Light Company takes the place of the war-time contract of January 11, 1943, which expired when hostilities were declared at an end. Since that time, the TP&L and Brazos River Transmission Electric Co-operative have extended the agreement by mutual consent on a day-to-day basis.

VOL. I NUMBER 23

Edited by Wilfred Klement and Mildred Hall

The regular meeting of the Public School PTA was postponed from March 7 until March 14. An interesting program has been arranged and all patrons are invited to attend.

The FFA boys are realizing some money and a great deal of experience from the sale of dressed chickens. Too, there must be satisfied customers for some are reordering each week.

The first class in Vocational Agriculture made a strawberry barrel last week. A perforated pipe for watering was inserted in the middle of a wooden barrel. Holes were drilled in the sides of the barrel and the strawberry plants were planted in the holes and on top of the barrel. Sandy loam was used for soil.

On Tuesday of each week, the Agriculture Classes test milk for butter fat. Boys bring milk from home from a particular cow or from the whole milking. The new milk tester is used.

Mr. Maglaughlin cautioned the agriculture boys who are feeding livestock for home projects that they should take about three weeks to get a bunch of steers up to full feed. To crowd cattle faster than they can handle it may result in founder, scours, and slow gains.

The five officers, agriculture teacher, and four guests will attend the District FFA banquet to be held the early part of April in Pilot Point.

Now that spring is just around the corner, the sodding of bermuda grass waterways and planting of sweet clover top the list of soil conservation practices. Farmers in the Muenster Work Unit area have available a good supply of bermuda grass roots south of Era, on the Bill Odom farm.

Cooperators who got bermuda sprigs this past week for new waterways are J. J. Haverkamp, Thomas Sicking, Ben Fleitman, Joe Hoening, and Ed Knauf of Muenster and Joe Lewter of Hood. Felix Becker has converted an old corn planter into a sprig planter. He intends to plant sprigs between the rows he planted last year, to thicken the stand and speed up the coverage. Oscar Walter and Leonard Hartman plan to help each other sprig their waterways, combining their tools and labor to speed up the operation.

Danglmayr Bros., J. W. Hess, Buddy Reiter and Andy Fleitman have seeded their waterways to King Ranch Bluestem. This grass, once established is very aggressive, and besides making a good terrace outlet area, will also furnish seasonal grazing or good quality hay.

Tony Fleitman, Norbert Klement and Ben Fleitman have planted buffalo grass borders along their bermuda grass waterways.

Cover cropping and soil building with legumes is becoming a more popular conservation practice every year. All farmers who have ever experienced the benefits of a legume, such as clover and alfalfa, never fail to have a portion of their cropland in either or both. Their neighbors, after witnessing the benefits are also going for the practice.

Buddy Reiter who has 15 acres of Madrid that was planted last year, planted another 15 acres last week. Joe Hoening after harvesting a good crop of both Hubam and Madrid last summer, planted 17 acres of Hubam and 18 acres of Madrid this year. Among other co-operators who have planted their clover are, Leonard Hartman, 35 acres of Madrid, Felix and Walter Becker, 8 acres Hubam and 22 acres of Madrid, Kleiss Bros. 15 acres of Madrid, Tony Hacker, 15 acres of Madrid, Joe Mages 5 acres of Madrid, Joe Lewter of Hood, 5 acres of Madrid.

Tony Hacker, Gus, Lutkenhaus, Kleiss Bros. and Eugene Klement have good stands of fall planted alfalfa and Cecil Welch of Hood has 6 acres of alfalfa planted this spring.

Ben Fleitman, Ed Knauf and Albert Fleitman have planted buffalo grass seed on areas that are to be retired from cultivation and turned into pasture. George Gehrig planted buffalo grass where he has cleared off brush.

W. H. Endres and Danglmayr Bros. planted K. R. Bluestem in rows for seed production. V. W. Redman of Saint Jo planted K. R. Bluestem on some old fields that have been in vetch for several years.

COUNTY ABA HAS GOOD RECORD PAST 4 MONTHS

Up to Wednesday, March 1, 286 cows had been bred under the program of the Cooke County Artificial Breeders' association which began operations last Nov. 1 Also as of this date, the association had 75 members, county dairy farmers who had pledged 917 cows for breeding in the program.

Paul Fisher of Muenster is president and Jack Barnhart of Gainesville is the group's technician.

County Agent B. T. Haws said Saturday that records show that artificial breeding operations in the county during the past four months are somewhat more efficient than the state record for the same period.

LINDSAY FARMERS SOD WATERWAYS TO BERMUDA

Waterway sodding has been occupying the time of a number of Lindsay farmers as a part of their soil conservation programs. Cooperators sodding bermuda are Vincent Zimmerer, Adolph Fuhrmann, Hundt Brothers and Ed Schad.

When cover is established it will provide an adequate outlet for terraces thereby protecting valuable cropland which would otherwise be subject to erosion from excess runoff water during periods of heavy rainfall.

to Bridwell revealed that McLaughlin was a former employe, then living at Vernon, and that he had quit the company to take another job at Wichita Falls. The Bridwell office did not know where he lives or works and the city phone book did not have his name listed.

The next call went to the Wichita Falls police department which immediately recognized the case as connected with the report it received shortly after

Census Enumerator Applicants Will Be Interviewed Mar. 13

Interviews for the selection of enumerators for employment with the Bureau of Census for the coming decennial census will be held in the Chamber of Commerce Building in Gainesville on Monday, March 13, at 1:30.

In making that announcement, Benjamin E. Hausler, supervisor of the Wichita Falls district, which includes Cooke county, said that persons who now have their applications on file in the Wichita Falls office will receive a notice by mail to report for interview.

Marilyn Gremminger of Wichita Falls spent the weekend here with her parents, the Ted Gremmingers. Her aunts, Mmes. Guy Short and Henry Martini and sons brought her to Muenster Friday and visited relatives before returning home.

the car was stolen on Feb. 25. Police gave Flusche the number the owner had given them, and he called it to convey his good news. About 2 hours later Mr. McLaughlin called back to advise that he could not come to claim the car until an insurance man had checked over its condition. Early Wednesday the car was still at Flusche's.

For a full week the one link in solving the case was within easy reach of the police and highway patrol departments of Wichita Falls. One office had a report on the car as stolen, the other had a report on it as found. But apparently neither thought to compare notes with the other.

in Red Cross chartered planes during the Plains Stated blizzards last winter. The planes, many ski-equipped, flew 3,566 missions bringing medicines, food, fuel, and clothing to approximately 31,000 marooned persons.

A total of 228,500 persons received Red Cross disaster aid in 1949 and $6,574,741 was spent for the domestic disaster relief program. Of this amount approximately 75 per cent was for long-term rehabilitation—rebuilding and repairing homes, re-establishing small businesses, providing medical treatment, etc. The remainder was for emergency aid—food, clothing, medicine, and shelter.

The disasters during the fiscal year in which the Red Cross participated killed 530 persons, injured 4,412 others and destroyed or damaged 49,953 buildings. Red Cross chapters provided relief assistance in 576 counties in 45 states and Alaska.

the fine work and record of the Red Cross. As far as your donation is concerned it means that a few pennies out of each dollar are wasted. But remember, all the rest of that dollar does a wonderful job. It does things that cannot be evaluated in terms of money. It brings comfort and hope, often life itself, to the unfortunate victims of calamity.

Similar recommendations apply to the Bishop's House of Charity, which embraces a multiple program of urgently needed charitable institutions. Among projects under consideration are a foundling home, an orphanage, a charity center, an old folks' home, a seminary and catachetical organizations . . . institutions intended to minister to the physical and spiritual needs of all age groups in the diocese.

Few causes can be more worthy than helping those who through no fault of their own are suddenly left helpless. Babies and orphans are entitled to an opportunity to develop in pleasant surroundings into useful citizens. Oldsters who have been buffeted by the rough hand of fate deserve to spend their last days in peace and security. People who need a temporary lift deserve the helping hand a charity center can offer them. And plenty of other people deserve the spiritual lift that will result, from the seminary and catachetical training.

Again, this drive is not so much a matter of giving up some hard earned money but rather an opportunity to bring urgently needed relief to someone's physical or spiritual distress. To give is to participate in a program that will enable helpless children to grow into happy and useful citizens, that will bring comfort to oldsters, that will spread the word of God and enable ever so many spiritual paupers to find their way to a more sublime respect for God, their country and their fellow man.

The good that is to be accomplished transcends the mere measure of dollars and cents. A contribution to the cause is an investment in citizenship and Christianity.
