VOLUME XIV

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, JANUARY 20, 1950

NUMBER 9

Have you paid your poll tax?
If you haven't, now is the time to do it. Or, if you can't possibly do it right now, at least do something to keep yourself reminded until you actually get it done.

If you happen to be a second rate citizen who doesn't give a hoot about the caliber of men we put in office or about the merits of issues to be decided, just skip over the next few paragraphs. The remarks here are intended only for persons who are interested in exercising their rights and duties as American citizens. Con believes this column will have been worth while if it helps just one person remember to qualify himself for a vote in this year's elections.

Remembering is especially important this year. Besides the possibility of voting on special issues of some kind or another we know for sure that we are going to vote on county, district and state officials. What's more the indications are that at least a few races will be hot and close, and the fellow who doesn't get set to have his say on election day may hate himself later.

So don't give yourself a chance to forget. Do something special to make yourself remember. Wear a string around your finger. Carry a rock in your pocket or a potato in your purse. And remember too that the deadline is January 31.

Your status as a voter or non voter is reason a plenty for paying your poll tax. Your right as an American citizen to have a voice in your nation's government is a precious one. But let's keep in mind also that this involves a duty as well as a right. A right to participate in government must be accompanied by a corresponding duty to do a good job of it. Every citizen has a moral obligation to vote, and vote conscientiously.

While on the subject of obligation, let's remember another little angle deserving of attention. Poll tax, as originally intended and as it actually applies now, is a personal tax, the citizen's personal debt to the state. The man who fails to pay it, even though he claims to have no interest in qualifying for his right to vote is shirking a very definite moral obligation. The debt is as real as any other and its payment is as necessary as any other.

One of the most serious messages ever presented to the people of this community was contained in the four speeches by O.F. Armstrong here last week. Backing his remarks with impregnable logic, Armstrong asserted that saying and rebuilding the soil we have left is both an economic necessity and a sacred duty.

We Americans, lavishly enjoying the bountiful resources laid before us, have permitted a sad condition to develop. We have robbed the soil of its productive minerals by taking off one crop after another but returning nothing. We have exposed our soil to the elements by stripping it of protective vegetation. We have relentlessly pursued a two way plan of land destruction.

And what is the result? Land that once produced abundantly is deserted because no one can make a living on it. Here in Texas as 17 million acres of once productive land will never be farmed again. And the loss continues at an appalling rate. Engineers estimate that the Mississippi river at flood stage carries away the equivalent of a 40 acre farm every minute. The nation as a whole is still losing an average of two million acres a year. Such a loss considered in the light of increasing demands of our growing population presents a problem more alarming than international complications or atomic control.

The effects are apparent in our own county, our own community. Crops have dwindled in the past half century. Acres upon acres have been completely stripped by erosion.

Another alarming fact in this connection is that conditions get worse faster while neglect continues. As pointed out by Armstrong, erosion accelerates. When land is first exposed a thin layer of topsoil is washed away by heavy rain. With that gone the absorbing capacity of the land is reduced. At the next heavy rain less will soak in and more will run away carrying an even larger volume of soil with it. In places that process has continued until the original deposit of porous virgin soil capable of absorbing more than 12 inches an hour is worn down to a thin hard crust capable of absorbing less than 1 inch per hour.

Affiliation Prospect Looks Bright, Says State School Man

More encouragement on prospects for affiliating the Muenster public school was received Monday and Tuesday when Frank Hubert of the Foundation School Program division of the State Auditor's office was here to advise with the local faculty and board on requirements and procedures in getting the school affiliated.

In general the school has a fine record of progress up to now, he said, and the few slight deviations from recommended methods can be changed in plenty of time to remove what small handicaps now exist.

In another respect, he said, the school is well above the minimum standard prescribed for accredited rating. The teaching staff here is larger than required for the enrollment and the program followed in the vocational subjects offers more than minimum requirements.

Considering physical handicaps and the small enrollment, Hubert said, Muenster is doing an excellent job. At the rate it is going it will be an outstanding school when it begins using the facilities of the new building and adds more students.

Assuming all requirements are met, there is still a possibility that the accredited rating will not be received this year. That is because of difficulties attending the changes in the state department of education.

Final judgment will be passed by a board of accreditation which meets during the summer, and their judgment is based on data secured by field men. Up to now the state department, in its period of transition, has no men in the field securing the necessary data. The general opinion however is that schools seeking accredited rating will be the first visited if the field men are appointed in time. In that event some other schools now accredited may get by this year without their usual check up.

Stop Erosion and Depletion of Soil, Armstrong Urges

The alarming state of soil depletion and loss in this country was emphatically explained here last week when O.F. Armstrong, southwest representative of the Friends of the Land society spoke before four groups on Wednesday and Thursday.

Wednesday night Armstrong addressed members of the adult vocational agriculture class. The next day he spoke to a joint assembly of the two local high schools, to the annual FMA general meeting and to the Community Council monthly meeting.

Explaining that soil conservation and improvement is everybody's business, he stated that business men as well as farmers are faced with an obligation to halt our waste of land and restore as much of its productivity as possible. Unless farms continue

Earl Walterscheid Seriously Hurt in Oil Field Accident

Earl Walterscheid sustained serious injuries Tuesday night at about 9 o'clock when a piece of drilling equipment fell and struck him on the back. He was working on an oil well in the Walnut Bend oil field for Roy Guffey Drilling company.

A George J. Carroll and Son ambulance took him to M&S hospital where a physician and nurses worked on him for several hours. It was stated Wednesday that he had some fractured vertebrae and possible internal injuries. His condition Wednesday afternoon was reported "fair".

Earl is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Walterscheid. He makes his home at 700 North Morris street in Gainesville.

Father Schmitt Of Fort Worth Dies Of Heart Ailment

Rev. Anthony Schroeder was in Fort Worth Saturday to attend the requiem mass for Very Rev. Aemilian Schmitt who died last Wednesday night after being troubled with a heart ailment for several years. He was 57 years old and had been pastor of Saint Mary's church since 1928.

His Excellency Bishop A. Dangelmayr of Dallas officiated at the mass after which the body was sent to Subiaco, Ark., for services and burial on Monday.

Father Schmitt was well known in Muenster and had visited here on numerous occasions. He was ordained to the priesthood in June 1916, taught at Subiaco Academy and served as sub-prefect until 1921 when he was assigned as assistant pastor of St. Edward's church in Little Rock. In 1923 he became pastor at Clarksville, Ark., and in 1928 of St. Mary's in Fort Worth.

He was principal of Laneri High school until last September when he relinquished duties due to his failing health, but remained principal of St. Mary's parochial school. For his deep interest in the youth of the parish and for his work at Laneri his abbot awarded him the title of "very reverend."

He is survived by a sister, a niece and a nephew in Germany.

News Of Sick And Injured

Clarence Wilson is showing improvement but is still confined to bed due to a blood clot in his leg. The ailment started bothering him about two weeks ago.

Poll Tax May Be Paid at Bank

Persons wishing to avoid the inconvenience of a special trip to the court house to pay their poll tax can find a welcome service awaiting them at the Muenster State Bank.

With the poll tax deadline only a little more than a week away J.M. Weinzapfel, president, announced this week that the bank will assist anyone in taking care of the matter without leaving town. There is no charge for this service.

All the taxpayer has to do is fill out an Order for Poll Tax receipt with the necessary data concerning age, residence etc. and pay the $1.75 tax directly to the bank. The bank will forward data and remittances directly to the county tax office which will mail the receipt a few days later directly to the taxpayer.

Anyone who prefers to mail his remittances and data directly to the tax office can get the form at the bank.

District Tourney On Feb. 3 Will End MHS Cage Season

A feeble basketball season at Muenster is rapidly drawing to a close. Coach Hood disclosed this week that the high school teams have three more scheduled games before the district tournament on Feb. 3 at Prairie Valley.

In games of the past week the teams maintained their undisputed claim to the cellar position in the conference race by losing to Prairie Valley by two one sided scores. Games still to be played are with Forestburg, Stoneburg and Callisburg.

Meanwhile the Muenster Independents, after being idle for about three weeks, are preparing to enter a double round robin schedule with Thackerville, Callisburg, Hood, Gainesville Pirates and Gainesville Junior College Lions. Muenster's first encounter will be with Thackerville at the Valley Creek gym Thursday night. Muenster, formerly not in the loop, has taken Sanger's place in the league and has added Doyle Hood, Earl Fisher and L.B. Bruns to the original squad.

District Coaches Announce Schedule For '50 Grid Race

Four conference games, two at home and two away from home are on the Hornets' 1950 football schedule. Dates were set here last Wednesday night in a meeting of coaches of District 13-B.

With the district loop games all scheduled Coach Hood's next concern is to fill the balance of his schedule with non-conference games. According to district rules each team is permitted to play ten games during the season.

Most of the remaining six games Hood said will be with last year's opponents.

FMA Plant Makes More Cheese But Less Money in '49

The Farmers Marketing Association in 1949 made more cheese but less money than in 1948, members of the organization learned at their annual general meeting on Thursday, Jan. 12.

According to a report given by Manager Rudy Hellman, the plant increased its production of cheese from 1,502,000 to 1,682,000 pounds but decreased its total cash receipts from $1,011,000 to $910,000. The drop is explained principally by a drastic drop in the price of cheese.

Nevertheless the plant continued its custom of dividing a handsome dividend on the basis of each member's volume of business. Total dividends of $70,000 were issued on the following basis: 2 cents per pound on poultry, 3 cents per dozen on eggs and 11.6 cents per pound of butter fat.

Three men were recognized and awarded prizes as top producers of the year. Albert Knabe led in milk production with slightly over 9,000 pounds butter-fat. John Knabe ran a close second with just under 9,000 pounds. Joe W. Fleitman with 70,000 dozen led the egg producers. Fleitman was also third in milk production.

In the election of directors Albert Henscheid, Al Fleitman and Henry Wiesman were all retained for another term. Other members of the board are J.B. Klement, president, and J.W. Hess, Joe Vogel and John Knabe.

Rheumatic Fever is Number One Killer
Of School Children

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Rheumatic fever causes more deaths than any other disease in children of school age, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The first attack usually occurs in children at the age when they are in the first or second grade and recurrences are most common up to the age when children are leaving high school. The insidious onset of so many cases during the school year suggests that teachers and others in daily contact with school children should be aware of early signs and symptoms which may mean acute rheumatic fever. Dr. Cox said, "There should be more and improved examinations of school children by physicians with time enough for the nurse or teacher and parents to plan with the physician for any needed medical attention. "School absence due to illness or vague disorders, if investigated, may disclose early cases of rheumatic fever. Teachers need to be more alert to visible signs and symptoms suggestive of substandard health. Among these signs and symptoms which should bring children to the attention of teacher or parent are: Failure to gain weight; pallor; poor appetite; fatigue; frequent colds and sore throats; scarlet fever or any known streptococcal infection; unexplained nosebleeds; unexplained fever; pain in arms, legs and joints; unusual restlessness; history of previous rheumatic fever; behavior changes; decreasing achievements in school by a child who has previously done well. "Children reported by the teacher as showing evidence of substandard health should be medically reviewed by the physician and needed medical care arranged for such children as soon as possible."

Understatement

An old prospector, who had collapsed in the desert, was found by a passing caravan. On being revived, he told his benefactors how Indians had burned his cabin and shot him in the back with an arrow. For three days, he said, he had crawled in the boiling sun before collapsing. As she wiped the blood from his arrow wound, one woman said, "Goodness, but that must hurt terribly."

"Yes, ma'am," the old-timer said. "It shore does, especially when I laugh!"

Never-ending preparations
protect your gas service

THESE pictures record the reasons you face winter without fear. They show a few of the never-ending preparations necessary for you to enjoy dependable gas service. So vital are these preparations that neither time, money, nor manpower is spared for them.

ROUND-THE-CLOCK drilling operations on this well were in their eighth week when this picture was taken. Months of painstaking work preceded the drilling. It has taken years of exploratory activity to obtain 1,140 wells (in over 100 gas-producing fields) that now supply you natural gas.

ON FLOOR OF RIG at right, Lone Star geologist saves "core" of well being drilled. "Core" reveals information vital to proper completion and operation of well.

BEHIND GAS SERVICE there is something to build, paint, or repair every day, oftentimes in remote places. Above, a crew completes a control valve installation, part of a new compressor station. In the last three years, Lone Star has invested over $100 per customer to assure dependable service. Yet, you enjoy conveniences and comforts of natural gas service for a year around average of less than 15c a day.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By ED GOSSETT

Washington, D.C., Friday January 13, 1950.—While the day on which this is written is considered by some to be unlucky, I have never gone in for superstitions. I recall a day some years ago on which I was driving in Vernon. Two big black cats ran across the road in front of me. On that particular day, the Supreme Court of Texas decided one of my biggest lawsuits in my favor and on the following day I was elected District Attorney of the 46th Judicial District.

Yesterday, the House Committee on Agriculture reported out an amendment to the cotton acreage allotment law. The proposed amendment does three things:

notwithstanding other provisions of the law. (1) It permits a farmer to plant up to 70% of his average cotton and war crop acreage for the years 1946-47 and 1948; or, (2) 50% of such acreage in any one of those years, or, (3), 40% of his cultivated acreage. While this will not take care of all of the inequities, it will be very helpful in most instances and will relieve some of the distress of thousands of farmers in our section of the country. We will do our best to get this amendment up for action in the House within a week. We hope and expect to get it passed by the House of Representatives. After that, it will go to the Senate. Time is terribly important in this matter and it is hoped the Senate will act promptly and favorably. An entirely new cotton acreage allotment bill will soon be written for 1951 and subsequent years.

This morning, I went with Senators Connally and Johnson, and most of the members of the House of Representatives to the offices of Secretary of the Air Force, Mr. Stuart Symington. Mr. Symington had invited us to witness his presentation of the Air Force medal to Mr. Amon G. Carter, the owner and editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Tribute was paid to Mr. Carter as a long-time booster for the cause of aviation.

In 1936, we were net exporters of crude oil and crude oil products to the amount of 200,000 barrels per day. That means we exported 200,000 barrels more than we imported. Although we still produce a great deal more crude oil than we need for home consumption, the trade balance has changed and today we are net importers of crude oil and its products by more than 300,000 barrels per day. This importation is done by major American oil companies. The State of Texas alone lost more than $30,000,000 in 1949 in State tax receipts, because Texas had to reduce oil production. Now, we are told that imports of crude oil is to continue to go up and soon a million barrels per day will be coming in from foreign sources. On Monday of this week, I will introduce a bill to increase taxes on imported crude oil to around $1.00 per barrel. This will bring in around $300,000,000 per year in taxes for the federal government and will perhaps afford the small, oil producers, oil field labor, and Texas in general some protection from the cheap labor, non-conservation, foreign oil producing areas.

While speaking of foreign competition, a New York Congressman this week made an impassioned speech, saying that some 200 onion growers in this District were being run out of business through the importation of onions, grown in Hungary by communist slave labor. On the radio this morning I heard a New England broadcaster complaining that New England fishermen were being destroyed through the importation of fish, primarily from Nova Scotia. He said the Canadian fishermen worked for 50 cents per hour, whereas the New Englanders were paid $1.50 per hour, and the Canadian fish in the Gloucester markets were ruining the New England fishermen. Then, in today's mail, I got a letter from the Stuard Ranch in San Juan, Texas, saying their tomato market had been ruined by the importation of duty-free cheap tomatoes from Mexico. Another letter from the West Virginia Glass workers, saying their jobs are imperiled by cheap foreign production. Thus, it goes. Where to strike a fair balance between high protection, and no protection for American workers and industry is a serious problem, and is going to become an even more serious one. Perhaps in this, as in some other matters, we should take a middle course.

Meeting Adjourned

In one of the towns of the Pacific coast a distinct earthquake was felt. When the municipal building rocked perceptibly the city fathers, then in session left without bothering about the usual formalities.

The clerk, a man of rules and regulations, was hard put to give his minutes the proper official tone. Finally he evolved this masterpiece:

On motion of the city hall, the council adjourned.

THE LOWDOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

For folks who have not yet got around to their New Year's resolution—and to do my first "good turn" for the new year—I have a suggestion. If it catches on to some considerable extent and the good citizens live up to their resolve for 12 months, then I will feel pretty skookum about our U.S.A. getting over its phony notion that you can have permanent prosperity via big spending of borrowed dinero.

Dishing out 100 million bucks of Govt. cash for any reason—or no reason at all—makes times good for the guys getting same. That's a cinch—no debate so far. But the folks that divvy to the income tax man—this same 100 million—good times for them are around the corner—a far corner—a mirage like you sometimes see on the Mojave—"taint there.

Being a sucker for any kind of racket is no compliment. So, for a 1950 resolution—"I will be no sucker this year for anybody, black, white or bronze, or for any such tomfoolery that the Govt. can spend my money and make me more prosperous and happy than it I hung onto it as mine or spent it my ownself as I see fit." End of resolve for 1950.

Yours with the low down,

MISCELLANY

A calendar of triumphs, defeats and contortions of the human spirit during 1949:

In Salt Lake City, the editors of a prison newspaper had a consoling word for fellow convicts: "No one is entirely useless. Even the worst of us can serve as horrible examples."

In London, a judge gave G.E. Croxford 30 days for biting the nose of Arthur McCartney, added sternly that such behavior was "not British."

In Manhattan, Comedian Jack Carter reported that after his weekly television show he got a letter from a dentist: "I would like to call your attention to a dark spot in your upper bicuspids area . . . May I be of service?"

In Melbourne, Rodeo Rider Reginald Cakebreak tried his niece's rocking horse, fell, broke his collar bone.

In St. Louis, Delphia Mercurio explained to police why she had fired three shots from a revolver over her fiance's head: he had suggested postponing the wedding.

In Miami, Fred H. Krautzmann charged that the James Drug Shop had mixed two prescription labels, causing him for the past year to rub stomach medicine on his scalp and drink his hair tonic.

In San Antonio, a woman fined $25 for drunkenness indignantly denied the charge: all she had had, she averred was a fifth of whisky and eight beers.

In Mobile, Mrs. Mildred Rice read the fine print on her divorce decree, learned she had been given custody of her ex-husband rather than her child.

In Manistee, Mich., 83-year-old John Schultz admitted burning down his house and four other buildings on his farm, explained that it was the only way to stop his relatives from wrangling over who would inherit his property.

In Long Beach, Calif., the Rev. Ralph M. Grove called in engineers to help his hard-of-hearing parishioners; the church's new earphones were picking up nothing but local police calls.

In Los Angeles, as an added service to a lubrication job, Mechanic J. H. Fisher removed a squeak from a car door, put it back next day at the owner's request, because it had "sentimental memories." —Time Magazine.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY
HONORS MRS. MIKE KLEISS

A surprise party greeted Mrs. Mike Kleiss on Thursday, Jan. 12, when she observed her 75th birthday.

Her daughters, Mmes. Clem Hofbauer and C.M. Walterscheid, arranged the affair and after an informal social hour served a delicious hot barbecue supper.

The table held a large decorated cake, baked and presented by the honoree's granddaughter, Mrs. Leo Lawson.

Fourteen guests presented Mrs. Kleiss with a shower of birthday gifts.

Mrs. Kleiss has resided in Muenster since 1903. Her husband passed away here in 1937.

Doctor: I can't find any cause for your complaint; I think it's due to drinking.

Patient: Okay, I'll come back some time when you're sober.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HONORS
MRS. C. M. WALTERSCHEID

A delightful party honored Mrs. C.M. Walterscheid in observance of her 47th birthday on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 16, when her daughter, Mrs. Leo Lawson entertained in her home.

A social hour preceded the opening of many lovely gifts by the honoree after which the hostess served refreshments.

The table, laid with a lace cloth, was beautifully appointed with Bavarian china, sent from Germany by Leo Lawson who served there with the army. The centerpiece was an attractive arrangement of flowers presented by Mrs. Joe Luke, and flanked with blue candles in crystal holders. The table also held a decorated cake. Places were laid for the honoree and 16 guests.

Assisting the hostess during the afternoon were Bernice Walterscheid, Mary Evelyn and Irma Hofbauer and Mrs. Earl Walterscheid.

Double Thanks

Delighted by the gift she had received, the lady spoke warmly to the farm boy:

At church tomorrow, I'll thank your mother for this lovely pie. If you don't mind, ma'am, the boy suggested nervously, would you thank her for two pies?

DISAPPEARING ACT—Visitors to the California Academy of Science in San Francisco spend a lot of time in front of this tank of Turkey Fish. A spectacular breed, they measure about three inches and are distinguished by a dorsal spine which is extremely poisonous. They live under reefs which blend with their coloring which is normally pink with a white stripe. Can you spot the second fish in the picture?

VOL. I NUMBER 16

Edited by Wilfred Klement and Mildred Hall

Lue Edythe Cherry was honored at a slumber party given by the Freshman girls Monday night at the K of C hall in the homemaking department. Lue will transfer to Denison High School Monday, January 23.

The girls served coffee and cookies to the teachers, Mr. Frank Hubert, and the board members who were present at a conference at the school building.

The evening was spent dancing, popping corn, making candy, taking in a show, and playing. Despite their earnest attempts, not many girls were able to sleep because of pranks and stunts carried on most of the night; however all were able to attend classes on Tuesday.

Those present were the honoree, Mildred Hall, Joan Klement, Doris Reiter, Lynette Walterscheid, Josephine Grewing, Anna Grace Fette, Anna Grace Herr, and Miss Kelly.

The Future Homemakers of America had their regular meeting Friday, January 13, in the Homemaking department. The decision made by the chapter in conjunction with the FFA at the last meeting to invite the high school to the square dances was rescinded. Only the two chapters will participate in the dances.

The program chairman, Eva Muller, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Robert Bell, who gave an interesting discussion of vocations. The girls sang songs and the meeting ended with the closing ritual.

Lawrence Dankesreiter accompanied Wilfred Klement to the District FFA meeting in Era on Wednesday, January 11. Applications for Lone Star Farmer Degrees were given to the boys who had taken Agriculture for at least twenty-four months, who had at least $250 in cash, two-thirds of which was realized from projects carried on through the FFA, and who had met some other specifications. Douglas Robison will attend the next meeting.

Glen Hellman and Emmett Walterscheid will go to the FFA camp on Lake Texoma to make plans for the summer encampment.

The chapter project, raising chickens, is progressing nicely. The chickens are in the box type brooder.

At the 4H Club meeting Thursday, January 12, Mr. Haws discussed plans for showing Dairy calves at the Dairy Show in Gainesville and showing hogs at the Stock Show to be held in Gainesville in April.

Out of school this week because of illness are Wendell Rfchey, Pauline Lutkenhaus, Henry Weinzapfel, John David Meurer, Pauline Myrick, Jerry Hoenig, and Milburn Cravens.

At a special assembly, Monday, January 16, football awards were distributed. Jackets were awarded Bernard Luke, Neil Fisher, Mitchell Wolf, Harold Knaoe, Glen Hellman, Nick Yosten, Emmett Walterscheid, James Knabe, Pat Stelzer, Damian Hellman, Roger Wolf, Gerald Walterscheid, and the managers, John Dave Meurer and Irvin Derichsweiler. Gold-filled engraved footballs were given to Douglas Robison, Theodore Owens, Johnny Fisher, Henry Weinzapfel, W.L. Wylie, Donald Muller, Murt Evans, Richard Knabe Tommy Walterscheid, Maxie Swirczynski, Burt Hamric Herbert Fleitman, and Clyde Muller. George Mollenkopf and Ronald Herr from Sacred Heart were awarded jackets. Gene Luke and David Endres were given football awards.

A new member of a certain government bureau made life miserable for his associates by pretending to absolute infallibility. One day, however, he startled his co-workers by admitting that once he had been wrong.

"You wrong?" exclaimed one of his listeners.

"Yes, replied the infallible man. Once I thought I was wrong when I wasn't."

Mr. Dodd shook his head wonderingly. Just look at this suit I'm wearing, he observed. The wool was grown in Australia, the cloth was woven in New England, and the thread comes from India. The suit was made in Baltimore and I bought it in Buenos Aires.

What's so remarkable about that? asked his friend.

Isn't it wonderful, mused Dodd, that so many people can make a living out of something I haven't paid for?

A northerner seeking an ideal southern town stopped at a small hamlet and asked an old mountaineer if the place was healthy. Healthy? the man roared. Why, this is the gol' darn healthiest place you ever did see. Shucks, nobody ever dies in these parts. That's strange, the northerner remarked. On my way into town I passed a funeral procession.

Oh that, the mountaineer grunted. That was only the local undertaker. The fool starved to death.

It sometimes seems as if we should fear the lawmakers more than the lawbreakers.

HADACOL IS HELPFUL TO FOLKS OF ALL AGE GROUPS

Countless thousands have proved that HADACOL is beneficial to folks of all ages. That is the reason so many purchase the large economy size bottle so all the family can benefit from nature's vitamins and minerals in HADACOL.

For instance, Miss Ethel Guidry, 822 Montgomery St., Port Neches, Texas, only 17 years old, was "feeling nervous, had little appetite, her face was pale and drawn and she suffered from gas on the stomach."

Her system lacked the B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains and this may cause digestive disturbances such as heart burns, indigestion, and often times Miss Guidry says she could not eat the kind and type of food she wanted without feeling terrible afterwards.

Miss Guidry, who recently graduated from high school, is already working in a bank. She said that after taking several bottles of HADACOL she is now "feeling wonderful," and has "lots of pep and energy."

Most folks take HADACOL because it has worked such wonders for relatives or friends. Miss Guidry took HADACOL because her mother had taken 12 bottles with excellent results.

In nearby Port Arthur, Texas, Mrs. W. M. Thompson took HADACOL because it had done her husband so much good. He, in turn, had taken HADACOL because an elderly neighbor told him of "feeling so much better after taking several bottles of HADACOL."

Mrs. Thompson's normal weight is 135 pounds but she was down to 110 pounds before taking HADACOL and after taking a few bottles of HADACOL she regained her normal weight.

"I was bothered with stomach trouble, gastric disturbances, I had lost my appetite and was bloated," said Mrs. Thompson.

She had tried several preparations before taking her husband's advice on HADACOL and now she enthusiastically recommends HADACOL to her friends.

Mrs. Thompson

She, too, like Miss Guidry and the others, was suffering from the lack of the B Vitamins and Minerals in her system which HADACOL contains.

A lack of only a small amount of the B Vitamins and certain Minerals will cause digestive disturbances. . . . Your food will not agree with you. . . . You will have an upset stomach. . . . You will suffer from heart burn, gas pains, and your food will sour on your stomach, and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the symptoms and signs of the lack of the B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the Vitamins and Minerals which your system lacks.

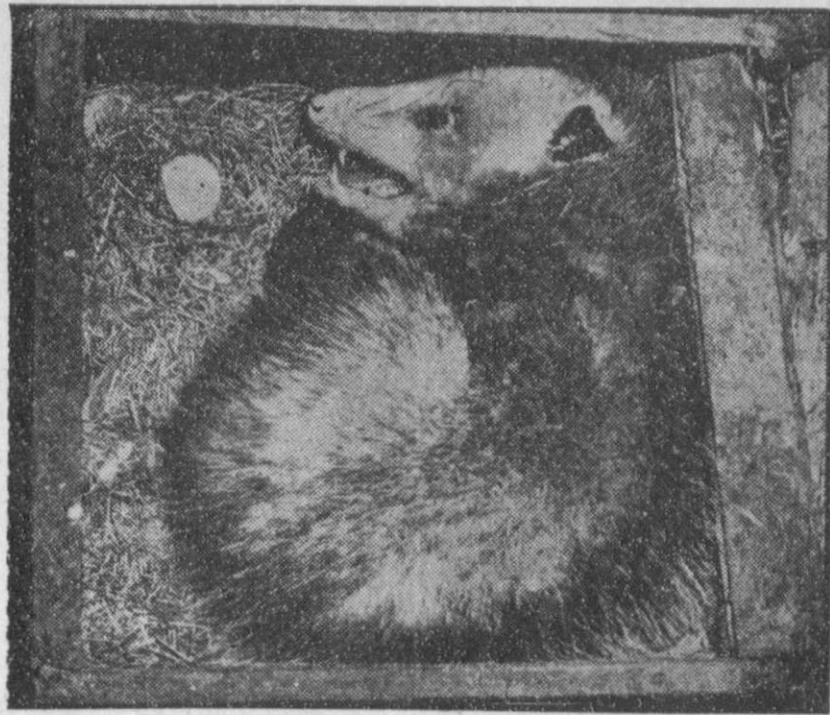

HADACOL contains not only one, but five of the B Vitamins. HADACOL contains not only one, but four of the necessary Minerals. It comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have already been benefitted by this amazing tonic, HADACOL.

So, it matters not who you are. . . . it matters not where you live. . . . or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation a trial. Don't go on suffering! Don't continue to lead a miserable life.

Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years or even longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives again because HADACOL supplied the Vitamins and Minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Give HADACOL a trial.

—Adv.

ANYBODY WANT A 'POSSUM?—When Mrs. John Broeker of Quincy, Ill., went to gather eggs she found this 'possum curled up in one of the nests where a hen had just laid an egg. Mr. Broeker is now looking for someone who wants a 'possum. He says it's one of the largest he's ever seen.

Bank Officials At Ease After Big Bet Is Called Off

BATON ROUGE, La.—The Louisiana National Bank persuaded two men to call off a $2,000,000 bet, although the payoff wasn't due for 483 years.

The bet was made 17 years ago by R.E. Collens, now in business in Fairfield, Ill., and John Stotler, a Baton Rouge businessman. They each posted $5, at interest, with officials of the bank.

The bet was whether the state capitol, then being completed, would last 500 years. Collens and Stotler agreed that at the end of 500 years the bank would pay to the winner's heirs, the $10 deposited, plus all interest.

Bank officials estimated that principal and interest would total about $2,000,000,000 in 500 years. It seemed funny at the time, but in later years the officials were less and less amused at the prospect of their successors having to pay out $2,000,000,000.

Collens visited Baton Rouge yesterday, and bank officials asked him and Stotler to call off their bet. They agreed and the bank paid them each $5, plus $1.50 interest.

Neither Collens nor Stotler could recall whether he had bet that the capitol would or would not last 500 years.

Serious Trouble May Result From Neglected Cavities

If you're neglecting your teeth—especially those cavities—you're courting one of the worst kind of dental trouble.

It's the abscess, a tiny but powerful villain both to your teeth and to your general health.

It's a particularly unkind villain. Frequently you never know he's there. You feel no pain. But then you may awaken some morning and find your cheek swelled up like a balloon.

Maybe you do something about it. Maybe you don't and the swelling goes away. That's fine, you think. No more trouble. But you're only kidding yourself. The abscess is still there, tucked away under the tooth, dealing out trouble to your other bodily organs through the bloodstream.

Abscess come to the teeth when the pulp dies and begins to decompose, usually because of neglected dental decay. There are other causes, but decay is the big item in most cases.

This is especially true with the periapical kind of abscess, which forms at the apex, or extreme root end, of the tooth. Another is on the side of the tooth root. Like the other type, it may be caused by decay but also it frequently is the result of one of the diseases of the gums and supporting tissues, pyorrhea or gingivitis.

Both types can be intensely painful. That's when you get the swell in your jaw and you feel like someone had landed a hay-maker against the side of your face. But lacking these symptoms, abscesses can be detected by X-ray examination.

Fortunately, an abscess doesn't always mean you'll lose the tooth, though this frequently is the case. The offending villain can be removed through a minor surgical operation and the tooth saved by proper treatment.

Much depends, however, on how soon you quit kidding yourself about the care of your teeth. The villain may be there already, doing his dirty work.—American Dental Society Bulletin.

THE SPECIAL SUPPLEMENT FOR RANGE CATTLE

Muenster Milling Co.

An employer, despairing of the procrastination on the part of many employees, directed that "Do It Now" signs be placed all over the plant. No sooner was this done than his cashier ran off with $20,000 a bookkeeper eloped with his private secretary, twelve clerks asked for salary raises, and his office boy ran off to Hollywood to get into the movies.

The hard-up sportsman bought a horse but neglected to pay for him. A few weeks later, he met the man who sold him the horse.

"I'm not at all satisfied with that animal," the sportsman said. "Why, what's the trouble?" asked the dealer.

"Well, he won't hold his head up."

"That's just his pride," said the dealer. "Wait until he's paid for."

Slide! Slide! Slide! That's what we did for three days last week at recess and noon when the sleet which fell formed an ice sheet for us to show ourselves how well we could keep our balance when we made the final dash to the end.

But now that is of the past. The tune now has changed to Review! Review! Review! for our semi-annual exams. All the classes are busy at this exercise we are sure, but we juniors and seniors really felt we had to give our brains a good going over for our book-keeping exam.

Another activity that is keeping us on our toes is reading the books necessary to reach the deadline of the required number of reports by January 19! The recent books added to our library offer us all a challenge which we hope we will reach by May.

This week, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday offered us all a special opportunity to show our love and loyalty to the Eucharistic King because on these days we had the Forty Hours Devotion. Reporters: Viola Kuhn

ATTEND SCOUT LEADERS BANQUET AT GAINESVILLE

Scoutmaster and Mrs. Nick Miller, Rev. Anthony Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Moster and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Seyler attended the annual county banquet for Scout leaders and their guests last Thursday night at Gainesville.

Woodrow Clegg was installed as 1950 chairman of the Boy Scout committee, and Ben Seyler was installed as first assistant chairman.

Major speaker at the banquet was B.V. Hammond Jr. Scout leader and owner of radio station KRRV at Denison.

Frank Cockrell, former Scout field executive installed the officers. He was transferred from Cooke county to Texarkana recently. Lay Leath, 23, replaces Cockrell. Leath comes to Cooke county from Southern Methodist University where he recently has been a student.

1950 RAIN MEASURES 1.91 INCHES TO DATE

So far this year the city of Muenster has had a total of 1.91 inches of rain, according to Steve Moster's official rain record.

Last Friday's measurement of .84 was the heaviest to date and the combination of rain and sleet on Jan. 4 measured .82. The balance of the rain fell on six other days since the first.

to provide the basic support, he said, there will be a decline in schools, churches and business.

He also stated that at the present rate of soil loss and population gain this country is rapidly approaching the point at which it will no longer be able to feed itself.

He complimented the community however in being far ahead of the average farm area in conservation work. Based on observations made during a drive through the community, he said that Muenster is on the right track. At the same time he deplored that some of the local projects were late. Erosion has already left its scars.

Armstrong expressed the opinion that when the earth was created it contained all the essentials to sustain life for all time . . . if properly used. Land will last indefinitely if its elements are replaced as they are used by crops, and if protected against erosion. Otherwise it gradually deteriorates or disappears until it is no longer worth working.

Unless we of this generation correct our faults now, he said, we will be guilty of the hunger of coming generations. In addition, many will also be guilty of their own future economic distress, because neglected land is headed for the time when it will no longer produce a decent living. By way of contrast Armstrong cited cases to prove that conservation and rebuilding methods not only preserve productivity for the future but pay off immediately. In one case after another farmers have raised their income more than enough to pay for their improvement expense.

one case after another farmers have raised their income more than enough to pay for their improvement expense.

The speaker also explained that wasteful soil practices of the past are responsible for much of the present water shortage. There was a time, he said, when soil was deep and porous and soaked up practically all rain as it fell. Surplus water settled gradually through the soil until it found its way to water sands or broke out in springs to form brooks. But now most of the water gushes away as soon as it falls and much less of it settles down to the water sand level.

The Ted Gremmings had as guests Sunday, their daughter, Marilyn, and two sons, all of C.L.L. Marilyn, and the Henry Martins and two sons, all of Wichita Falls. Mrs. Gremminger and Martini are sisters.

Mrs. J. T. Biffle and son, Mike, who arrived from Caracas, Venezuela, S.A., for a visit with relatives at Myra, visited here Tuesday with the Needhams. When Mrs. Biffle returns to South America this weekend young Mike will remain in Myra with his grandparents, the Ernest Biffles, to attend school. J.T., who works for an oil company, is being transferred to a place where there are no school facilities. Mike will join his parents again during the summer. The Biffles make their trips by plane.

Confetti - - -

That is the story behind several sad conditions of our time. Many a field, besides being robbed of essential minerals, cannot absorb enough water to grow a decent crop. But the water that should have remained to do some good gushes away instead carrying more precious soil and destroying millions of acres of crops.

Meanwhile another problem develops. Water sands that once yielded a plentiful supply of clear water are running dry. Why? Because the water which was once caught by a porous soil and gradually trickled down to water sands or escaped from springs to feed a clear constantly flowing brook are now permitted to rush away in torrents of destruction.

Everything the speaker said was packed with common sense, and indirectly it stands as a serious indictment of some of our federal government's current policies. For one thing we have lavish farm production subsidies which encourage farmers to get all they can out of the soil. Then the products, spuds for instance, are wasted by millions of tons. The man who thinks must realize that every wasted spud represents a little bit of wasted land . . . because the potato took something out of the land.

How much more sensible it would be to help the farmer in another way. Subsidize his efforts at soil conservation and soil improvement. Encourage people to save and increase productivity, not squander it. Replace the lush cover crop that once provided a porous soil capable of holding moisture. Hold water at its source where it can do some good besides eliminating the present damage of erosion and flood. Who knows, it might be a lot less expensive.
