VOLUME XV

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS, APRIL 6, 1951

NUMBER 20

Conducting its own less spectacular version of the Kefauver investigations, our Lone Star State apparently has decided that professional gambling is about as undesirable here as in the rest of the country. Saturday's news releases disclose that Attorney General Price Daniel encouraged by some 200 county and district attorneys, will take immediate steps to rid the state of slot machines and illegal marble tables. The attorneys recommended that the ban be made to include football betting cards, punch boards and other types of gaming devices.

All of which is welcome news to a mighty large segment of the state's population, including the majority of those who do not object to a friendly game of penny ante or a toss of the coin. Gambling is one thing, but reaping fat profits on fixed gambling and using the tainted income to exert influence over public officials is an altogether different thing.

Of course every variety of gambling has its moral implications. Any reasonable person will agree, for instance, that no one has a right to place the welfare of his family in jeopardy on games of chance. He doesn't even have a right to place his own welfare in jeopardy. However, many will agree . . . and with apparent good sense . . . that gambling is all right when it does not impose a hardship on any one. It would seem as a general rule that a person has a right to lose as much as cards as his circumstances permit him to spend on any other form of relaxation. In other words, a reasonable view is that the evil, if any, in gambling is strictly relative to the persons concerned and the stakes. Anyone can take a chance on being stuck for another's cup of coffee, but not anyone can conscientiously gamble for high stakes.

That phase of the subject, however, is not the attorney general's concern. What he's after is a widespread evil connected with gambling. Chances are that nothing will ever be done about the fellow who sits in a friendly card game but we can expect plenty to be done about the so-called professional gamblers, who aren't real gamblers at all but plain chislers taking advantage of gamblers.

Yours truly has often wondered why any thinking person would play a slot machine or a punch board or the games in a professional gambling house. It's a generally known fact that the odds are stacked against the player. The slot machine pays off 20 or 30 cents for every dollar it takes in. A punch board prize is worth a small fraction of the total required to punch it out. Gambling houses have a system of odds that nets them a fat percentage of the money they handle. Every professional gambling scheme on earth is figured to make money for the operator. The gambler who plays it cannot win in the long run.

It is doubtful whether even this fact would have caused much public concern if the leeches who live off the suckers had been content to accept their easy money and let things go like that. But the thugs were not satisfied. They had to expand their domain and their income, using gangland violence and corrupt politics in the process. They became a burden and a nuisance to decent society. As the senate investigation revealed, they have brought their dirty influence into high offices on the city, state and national levels.

Fortunately for us, the gangster influence still has not made much headway in Texas and we ought to be deeply grateful to our attorney general for his attempts to eliminate the source of gangster power. Deprive those hoodlums of the easy money and we won't have to worry with them.

Kenneth Yoder, 4, son of the Emmitt Yoders, had his tonsils removed at Gainesville sanitarium Monday.

District Initiation To Feature K of C Event Here Sunday

The Muenster Knights of Columbus Council will be host next Sunday at a district initiation admitting about 40 candidates into the order.

Herbert Meurer, local grand knight said Wednesday that initiates will be from the Muenster, Gainesville, Sherman, Denison and Pilot Point councils, which comprise this district, and possibly also from a few councils of the Wichita Falls area. Sherman officers have advised that, with a large group of Perrin Air Force Base men in their delegation, they expect to have the largest representation at the initiation. The exact number of candidates from each council is not definitely known at this time.

The initiation is part of the traditional all day program beginning with group attendance at the 8 o'clock mass and extending into the night. After mass members and candidates will have breakfast in the parish lunch room. About 10 they will assemble at the K of C hall for exemplification of the first and second degrees. Meanwhile visiting ladies will be entertained by a committee of local CDA members.

At noon knights, candidates and their ladies will have dinner at the parish lunch room. At 2 knights and candidates will return to the K-C hall for exemplification of the third degree and visiting ladies will again join the CDA hostesses until about 5:30 when all will assemble at the KC hall for a lunch and party.

Saint Jo took the trophy and Muenster came out second, last Friday in an all day district interscholastic league athletic and literary meet held at the local school. The final count of points after a long and busy day showed Saint Jo with a total of 221, Muenster 192, Forestburg 52 and Prairie Valley 35.

Coaches and teachers of the four participating schools had charge of the events, which included declamation, debate, spelling, typing, essay writing, arithmetic, picture memory, tennis, volley ball, softball and track and field events.

City Removes Old Concrete Sidewalk Humps at Crossings

Latest in the city's street improvement program is the removal of four nuisance humps at First, Second, Third and Sixth Streets at the east side of Main.

* Originally built as sidewalk crossings for the streets the concrete strips were several inches above the Main pavement level and constituted a nuisance to cars entering or leaving the pavement at those places.

The improvement plan, as explained by Steve Moser is to remove the concrete, grade down the remaining hump and put down a layer of gravel. After the gravel has had a reasonable time to settle it will be surfaced with asphalt.

News of Sick And Injured

Frederick Hoedebeck, two and a half year old son of the Norbert Hoedebecks, is in Gainesville sanitarium with a fractured skull and severe body bruises sustained Tuesday at about noon when he fell from a moving car driven by his father. At the hospital x-rays revealed no broken bones and physicians in charge said his condition is considered "good". Principal treatment now is centered on keeping down infection and complications.

Alvin Hartman is spending 10 days in McBride Clinic, 605 NW 10th St., Oklahoma City, for an operation and treatments on his left elbow to correct the ill effects of an injury received about 8 years ago when he fell from the top of a load of hay. The operation removed an infection that has returned every few months since his injury. Heretofore he has depended on penicillin shots which cleared up the infection but did not prevent recurrence.

Peter Kappas, 7 year old son of Mrs. Mary Kappas, had his tonsils removed at M & S hospital in Gainesville Friday.

Robert Knabe Jr., 10, has recovered from minor surgery at Gainesville Sanitarium Friday.

Mrs. Herman Fleitman of 511 N. Weaver street, Gainesville, underwent surgery Thursday at the sanitarium. The Fleitmans lived here before moving to Gainesville.

At the Ralph Eskers' the whole family is ill this week. Mr. and Mrs. Esker have the flu and measles and the three children have measles.

Aubrey Jennings is back at home after being a patient at M&S hospital. He was taken to the hospital last Wednesday for examination and treatment for injuries sustained Tuesday evening when a truck he was driving turned over and skidded on slick pavement west of town. Examination revealed painful but not serious shoulder and neck injuries and body bruises. He drives a truck for F&M Drilling Co.

Mrs. John Beard was in Dallas Tuesday for a regular check-up. Her doctor said she is improving nicely and that the heart condition is under control. He placed her on an absolutely salt-free diet for an indefinite period and asked her to return for a checkup in a month. Mrs. Herb McDaniel took her to Dallas.

Injuries Received In Accident Fatal To John C. Hogan

John C. Hogan, 29, of Lubbock and formerly of Muenster, passed away at about midnight Tuesday in an Amarillo hospital as the result of injuries sustained in a car accident the preceding Wednesday.

Exact cause of the accident was not determined but it is believed that he fell asleep at the wheel. The car turned over and he was thrown to the highway. The accident occurred near Tulia as he was returning to Lubbock after having taken his mother, Mrs. J. S. Hogan, from Lubbock to Amarillo. She had visited her son and family for about a week caring for Mrs. Hogan and their new baby.

Picked up by passers-by, Hogan was taken to an Amarillo hospital. He was paralyzed from the waist down but never lost consciousness. He seemed to rally and by Tuesday morning had regained the use of his legs but died suddenly that night at about 12 o'clock.

Funeral services were to be held Thursday in Amarillo.

Survivors in addition to his wife and four small children are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hogan of Amarillo; six brothers, C. C. Hogan of Fort Worth, W. C. and W. H. of Gainesville, Jack of Muenster and Cpl. Gerald D. Hogan with the Marines in Korea; four sisters, Mmes. Dick Cain of Muenster, T. C. Rhone of Bowie, and Pete Smith of Lubbock, and Miss Bobby Hogan of Amarillo.

Muenster and Gainesville relatives left Wednesday morning to attend the funeral services.

Budenz to Lecture In Dallas Sunday on Red Menace in U.S.

The Red menace in America will be described by a former leader of the Communist party, Louis F. Budenz, in a lecture at Dallas' Fair Park Auditorium Sunday night, April 8, at 8:15 p.m.

The public lecture is sponsored by the Christian Culture Series, a civic educational service of the Dallas Council of Catholic Women.

Budenz, now a professor at Fordham University in New York and a best-selling author, was formerly one of the most active members of the Communist Party in the U. S. For ten years he was managing editor of the Communist Daily Worker, and a member of the party's national committee.

In 1945 he publicly announced his rejection of Communism and his return to the Catholic Church. He made a complete revelation of Communist activities in this country, which enabled the U. S. government to apprehend, try and convict the eleven top Red leaders in the U. S. Budenz served as chief witness for the government in the Foley Square trial. It was also he who named Gerhard Eisler as chief representative of the Communist International in the U. S.

Budenz has written two best-selling books, "This Is My Story", exposing Communist operations in America and his own experiences in the party, and "Men Without Faces," recently published, revealing Communist plans for the overthrow of the U. S. government. He is now an assistant professor of economics at Fordham and has lectured throughout the nation warning of the Red menace.

Tickets to Budenz's Dallas lecture may be ordered from Mrs. Charles W. Cooper, 9807 Redondo Drive, at $2.50 for adults and sixty cents for students. Subscribers to the Christian Culture Series will be admitted by their season ticket cards.

Record City Vote Returns Hoffman To Mayor's Office

A surprisingly large turnout of voters climaxed a quiet campaign here Tuesday when Muenster residents favored John J. Hoffman over Dick Cain by a count of 180 to 87 for the office of mayor. Hoffman was seeking reelection and Cain was a former alderman.

In the election for aldermen Rudy Hellman and Urban Endres were unopposed for reelection and Herbert Meurer was unopposed for the position formerly held by Dick Cain.

Hold-overs on the city council are John Wieler and Ben Seyler.

KC and CDA Give Benefit Party for Church Window

About 125 Knights of Columbus and Catholic Daughters had a big time Sunday night and added a sizeable sum to their joint fund for the purchase of a stained glass window in the new parish church.

The occasion was a joint party of the two organizations in the lunch room. Carrying out a birthday theme the committee had 12 tables each decorated for a month of the year. Each person sat at the table of his or her birth month and paid an admission charge of 1 penny for every year in his or her age.

The evening's activity started with bingo. Next came an amateur contest in which any person made an offer to see some other person perform a requested act. The person called on had a choice of performing or paying the double amount. Then came a quiz program in which a person earned a prize by answering 4 questions in a row but paid if stumped on any of the questions.

An auction of the 12 cakes decorated for each month netted another tidy sum for the window fund.

Refreshments consisted of cake and coffee.

Little David Stewart of Gainesville is here with his uncle and aunt, the Herman Fettes, while his mother, Mrs. J. Q. Stewart is confined to the sanitarium with flu.

Community Tops Quota of $600 in Red Cross Drive

This community's record of generous response in the annual Red Cross drive remained unbroken this year. Chairman E. S. Lawson disclosed Monday that Muenster had topped its $600 quota by $2.50.

Checking deposits at the bank Monday, Lawson disclosed that the total turned in by himself and his assistants amounted to $598. To complete the quota he boosted his personal contribution by $2. Before he reached the Enterprise with his report he had received $2.50 more.

Along with the report Lawson expressed his gratitude for the fine cooperation given him and the other solicitors in the drive. Muenster's record is especially impressive this year, he said, because money is less plentiful and most places are falling short of their goal. He feels that every contributor as well as himself has good reason to be proud of the community's record.

Workers who assisted Lawson in the drive are:

Mmes. Lawrence Roberg, J.C. Trachta, Leo Lawson and John Huchtons in the city, and Joe Mages and Messrs. and Mmes C. B. Fowler, Ed Helton, G. H. Hellman, Adolph Walterscheid, Starling Lawson and Bernard (Continued on Page 8)

Two Trustees on School Board to be Elected Saturday

Residents of the Muenster school district will have a ticket of four candidates from which to select two new school board members at the annual election of school trustees Saturday.

Those on the ballot are Bernard Sicking (seeking reelection) and J. J. Wimmer, Paul Endres and Frank Schilling. The two high men will succeed J. B. Klement and Bernard Sicking, whose terms expire this year.

Polls will be open at the public school from 7 to 7. I. A. Schoech will be election judge and Steve Moser, Earl Fisher and Mrs. Al Walterscheid will be clerks.

Scholastic Census Count Unchanged; Total is Still 585

With a count of 585 the Muenster school district's scholastic census this year remains exactly the same as it was in 1950, according to figures announced Wednesday by Superintendent Weldon Cowan.

A break-down of the figures, however, reveals a few noteworthy changes. The new census list includes 67 youngsters who will be 6 years old as of Sept. 1, 1951, and drops 37 former scholastics who will be 18 years old as of the same date. That represents a gain of 30, which is exactly offset by the net loss of 30 children in the past year's transfer of school age children from one district to another.

More than 30 children have moved away but very few have moved into the district. Several of the lost transfers are children whose parents lived here during the school construction job.

Carolyn Wiesman,
Joe H. Walterscheid
Marry Wednesday

Miss Carolyn Wiesman became the bride of Joe H. Walterscheid Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock in solemn services held in Sacred Heart church. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Wiesman of Fort Worth and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walterscheid.

Rev. Anthony Schroeder officiated at the double ring ceremony and at the nuptial high mass. Anthony Luke, organist, played the wedding marches and remained at the organ to accompany the choir in singing a Gregorian chant mass in honor of the Blessed Virgin.

The altar before which the couple exchanged their vows was adorned with snapdragons and hyacinths in purple and white.

The bride was lovely in a formal gown of white satin and chantly lace with a bouffant overskirt of net. The fitted lace bodice had a high neckline and long fitted sleeves that came to points over her hands, and was accented with a graceful peplum. The wide skirt with its overskirt of net extended into a cathedral length train.

A finger-tip length veil of illusion was caught to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a shower bouquet centered with a white orchid and surrounded by stephanotis on top of a white prayer book.

Carrying out the traditional bridal sentiment she carried a white rosary, a gift from her late grandmother, Mrs. Theodore Wiesman; wore a single strand of pearls a gift from the groom; borrowed a prayer book from Mrs. Rufus Bezner; carried a blue handkerchief and wore a penny in her shoe.

Miss Ethel Mae Bayer, niece of the groom, was maid of honor, and Eddie Fleitman, cousin of the bride, was best man. Denis Walterscheid and Don Wiesman were ushers.

Miss Bayer wore a lilac colored taffeta dress with a net overskirt made similar to the bride's and a headdress of white carnations. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a tan chiffon dress with pink accessories and the groom's mother wore navy blue with matching accessories. Both wore pink carnation corsages.

After the services, some 40 relatives and friends were guests for a brunch in the Joe Walterscheid home with parents of the couple as hosts. Mmes. Joe Lehnertz and Bob Yosten were in charge of preparing the meal and Misses Dorothy Mae Walterscheid and Eileen Fleitman served.

The bride's table was laid with white linen and held a large fan shaped wedding cake surrounded with a ruffle of lilac colored maline. Appointments were in crystal and silver.

Floral arrangements in the home consisted of lilacs, snapdragons and fern.

Miss Katie Mae Walterscheid, sister of the groom, presided at the bride's book.

Shortly after noon the newlyweds left on a wedding trip. The bride was wearing a navy blue and white ensemble and accessories and the orchid she carried at the wedding.

When they return they will make their home north of the city where the groom operates a farm.

Both are natives of Muenster and attended Sacred Heart school, the bride graduating with the class of 1950. The groom was in the army during world war II as a member of the 42nd Infantry Division and was on duty in France, Germany and Austria.

cheesecloth, that can be disinfected or burned or otherwise safely disposed of.

"The sterilization of dishes and utensils used in the sick room, by boiling after each use of them, and of the patient's clothing, sheets, towels, and pillow cases, are equally necessary. Then, at the close of the illness, a thorough cleaning of the room, bedding and personal belongings of the patient, scrubbing the floors and woodwork, and opening the place to the fresh air and sunlight, are urged as a final precautionary measure.

"Fortunately, the best disinfectants yet discovered are within reach of everybody. They are plenty of hot water and soap, fresh air and sunshine."

PARTIES COMPLIMENT BRIDE OF THIS WEEK

Miss Carolyn Wiesman who became the bride of Joe Henry Walterscheid this week Wednesday was honored with two parties and miscellaneous showers before her marriage.

On Friday night Mmes. Martin Bayer, Herman Danglermayr and Al Fleitman were hostesses entertaining in the Parish Hall for about 40 guests.

The bride-elect's colors of white and orchid were noted in flowers and other decorations in the hall.

In the 42 games the high, low and galloping award winners were Mmes. Alfred Bayer, Gary Hess and John Hartman, respectively. They presented their prizes to the honor guest.

Sunday afternoon Mmes. Ray and J. B. Wilde were hostesses in the former's home for a party and shower for which classmates of Miss Wiesman and co-workers of Steve's Cafe were guests.

A bingo series entertained the guests and winners presented their awards to the honoree. The prizes were kitchen items.

The party rooms were adorned with daffodils and hyacinths and the refreshment table was attractive with its pink damask cover, punch service, platters of fancy sandwiches and angel and chocolate cake. Mmes. James Bezner and Rufus Bezner assisted with the serving.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By ED GOSSETT

Washington, D.C., March 31— I have just returned from having a cup of coffee with Honorable Marvin Jones, in the House Cafeteria. Mr. Jones, who served in Congress for 20-odd years, is now Chief Justice of the Federal Court of Claims. Coming out to the Capitol on Saturday morning for coffee at the Cafeteria round-table has long been one of his customs.

The House has been taking an Easter recess this week, but it re-convenes on Monday. The main order of business in the House on Monday will be a speech by the President of France, the Honorable Jules Vincent Auriol. Washington papers report that 4000 so-called dignitaries attended a big reception at the French Embassy last evening in honor of the French Presidential party. Having an aversion to white tie and tails, and also to crowds of such kind and proportions, Mrs. Gossett and I declined the invitation to attend this big affair.

Aside from personal letters, a Congressman receives from 25 to a 100 other pieces of mail daily. Among such mail on my desk this morning, I note the following: A copy of a note from the Ambassador of Israel to our Secretary of State asking for an additional loan of 150 million dollars; a 20 page booklet from the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, on price controls, government finances, foreign trade, and business in general with charts and statistics; the usual CIO releases attaching speeches by President Philip Murray and Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey. These speeches are filled with platitudinous professions of patriotic fervor and of organized labors' claims for more power in our defense setup, and a particular attack upon Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson. Evidently the labor czars are determined to dominate or destroy the country's economy. Many intelligent Americans feel that their domination would mean eventual destruction of the Nation's economy.

Another item is a brochure from the American Tariff League. An interesting statistic in this treatise shows United States exports in 1938 to have been 3.1 billions of dollars while 1950 exports were 10.3 billions. Imports in 1938 were 2.0 billions while imports in 1950 were 8.8 billions.

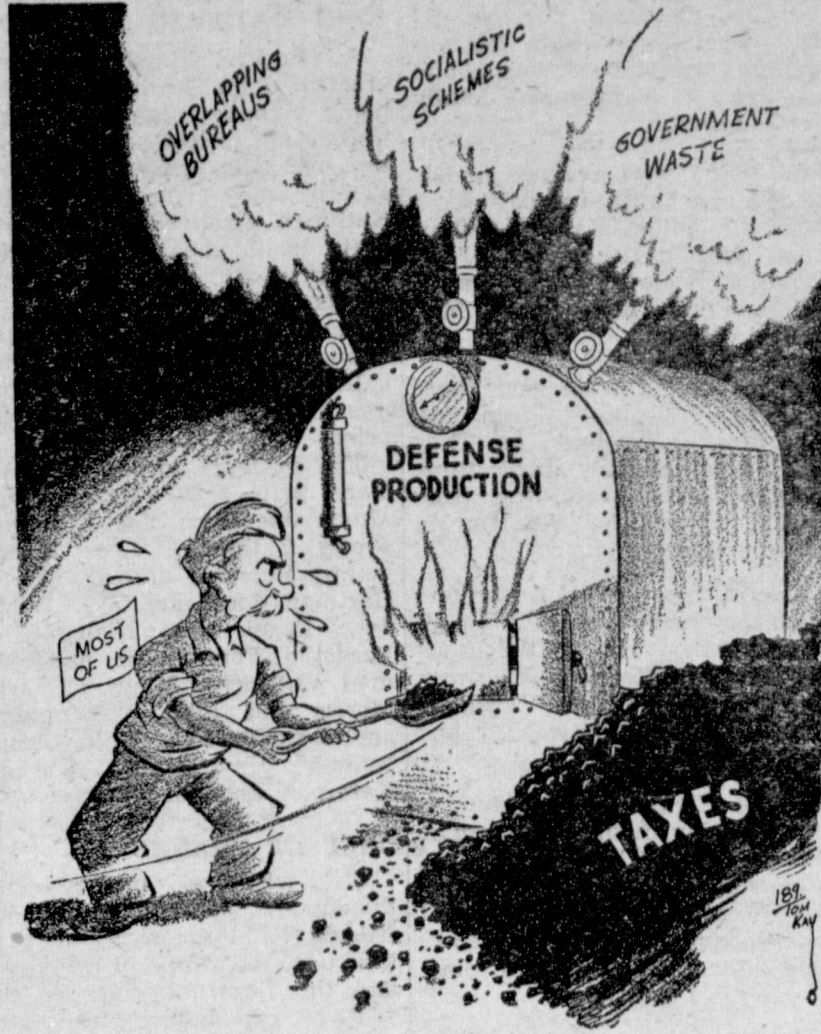

A letter from Il Progresso Italo-Americano attaches a vitriolic essay, entitled "Inciting Racial Hatred." This essay is an attack upon Senator Charles W. Tobey for reading a telegram during the Kefauver Committee hearings which is alleged to reflect upon Italians generally as furnishing an undue proportion of our leading gangsters. Another leaflet is from the National Small Businessmen's Association, with the headline "Letters May Stop Spending Orgy."

We could write several pages listing these various items.

Yesterday, I attended a dinner in the Vandenberg Room of the Capitol given by the Association of Attorneys General. Attorney Generals from some 15 different States were represented. In conversation, I learned that many States do not elect their attorney generals. In Maine the Attorney General is selected by the State Legislature. In Tennessee the Attorney General is appointed for an 8-year term by the State Supreme Court. The Association of Attorneys General is actively supporting the States in the matter of tidelands legislation. We are hopeful of getting something on tidelands with the reconvening of the Congress.

Yesterday's papers report Red losses in Korea to be 760,300 and American casualties in Korea to have been 57,120. This is no cause for undue elation. If we should trade one American for a dozen Chinese, or Reds, we are still being cheated in the bargain. Americans generally are demanding that we find some way to resolve this undeclared war and to minimize our losses in lives, as well as in treasure. With Reds generally, both life and money are far cheaper than with us, and in the contest of spending money and sacrificing lives, they apparently have the advantage.

All Congressmen are getting numerous letters now, urging the continuance of the Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee. There are hundreds of investigations that Congress could make that would benefit the country. For example: Congress ought to have an investigating committee on military waste. 85 per cent of our spending now is by the Armed Services and Defense agencies. If substantial savings are to be made, and if the budget is to be balanced, we must have economy and efficiency in defense spending. The Senate has a so-called "watchdog" Committee headed by our very able Junior Senator from Texas, the Honorable Lyndon Johnson. However, their time and facilities are extremely limited. There simply aren't

Close Those Valves

Social Security Pay On Farm Hired Help Begins This Week

Mr. Farmer, this week is April. In April you are required by law to make a report on your regular farm and household hired help so they can get credit for the wages you have paid them during January-February-March in their Old-Age and Survivors Insurance accounts.

Do you know how to make your report, where to send it, and when? A circular called "Notice to Farmers with Regular Hired Help" tells you how to do it.

You can get the circular from the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance or Bureau of Internal Revenue in Dallas, your County Agricultural Agent, and I think you can get it from your hometown bank.

The dime may not be as good as the dollar, but we bet it goes to church more often.

Slim And His "Ali Species"

Slim Baker, who's always doing something crazy, had a lot of people smiling last week because his entry won a ribbon in the Women's Club Annual Pet Show.

Seems as though Slim saw a strange-colored alley cat with no tail over at Central City and brought it home. He washed, combed, and brushed it and put a collar on it with a card reading "Ali Species." Then he enters it in the show.

Hanged if the ladies didn't think it was some rare kind of cat and gave it a special award! When one of them asked Slim where she could get one like it, he said, "It's all yours, M'am—I can get an 'Alley Cat' anytime I want!"

From where I sit, some of us are pretty easily "taken in" just because someone else says it's so. Whether it's awarding prizes or passing judgment on a person's right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer—let's take a good look from stem to stern, and learn what it's all about before making up our minds.

You'll have oil!

The oil industry is better prepared than ever before in history to supply the country's needs for petroleum products. Continuous exploration and development have established the necessary reserves, refining capacity has been increased, transportation facilities have been improved and extended.

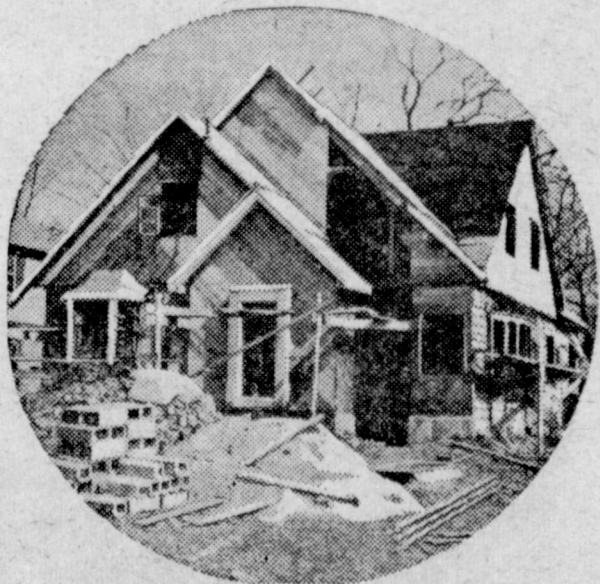

Operating competitively in free America, the oil companies have brought U. S. oil resources to a state of readiness not equalled in any other country.

In the past year, the daily needs of the American people plus the extra needs of national defense increased the demand for oil by about a half-million barrels daily. It was produced at once. Cars and trucks continued to roll, farmers' equipment stayed in the fields, industries powered by oil continued to operate; not an airplane was grounded, not a ship stayed in port, for lack of fuel.

Nevertheless, the industry recognizes that all-out defense preparations will pose many new problems; that some petroleum products may be reduced in quality; that some sacrifices may become necessary.

But the oil is here; it's available. You'll have oil.

Mother of Two Praises Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Deficient Systems With Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron

Mrs. Elmer Hise, 3225 2nd Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a good mother, and like all good mothers she keeps a careful watch for the welfare of her two young children. And when little four-year-old Lucille Hise wasn't feeling as her mother knew she should she decided to do something about it. Mrs. Hise gave Lucille HADACOL because she had heard how much it was helping children who had poor appetites and stomach distress caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin. It helped her so much that now Mrs. Hise gives HADACOL to both of her children.

Here is what Mrs. Hise says: "My daughter has taken two bottles of HADACOL and she has been eating more than before and also sleeps better. I think HADACOL is the best thing for children who do not have an appetite. My daughter is four years old. Before taking HADACOL my daughter complained of her stomach hurting her, and I got her a bottle of HADACOL and she says her stomach doesn't bother her any more. I think HADACOL is wonderful. I am also giving HADACOL to my three-year-old daughter."

HADACOL is So Effective
An important thing about HADACOL is that you get Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body.

The honoree opened and displayed many lovely gifts.

The hostesses directed pencil and paper games and Mrs. Mary Wiesman won the door prize which she presented to the honor guest. Refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by their sister, Lorine Fleitman. Plate favors were mint cups filled with colored mints and ornamented with a miniature bride and groom. Napkins were inscribed with the engaged couple's names.

Fourteen guests were present and others who were unable to attend sent gifts.

Miss Bauer and Mr. Fleitman will be married on Thursday, April 12 in St. Mary's church at Gainesville at 9 a.m.

A report on quilting and routine procedure furnished the principal business at the regular meeting of the parish St. Anne's society Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Frank Herr, president, presided and Father Anthony led the opening prayer.

Mrs. Ben Hellman reported that during recent weeks, especially in the lenten season, 55 members reported regularly for quilting and completed 20 quilts. Of these eight went to missions seven were made for local persons, one was sold, one was presented as a farewell gift to Father DeCritz of Gainesville, and one was a gift to Father Cletus. Two are still on hand for emergency giving.

Money derived from custom quilting and for the quilt sold has been added to the quilting treasury for the purchase of materials and to defray the cost of mailing to missions.

Some materials are still on hand and will be utilized when the ladies begin quilting again. At the same time Mrs. Hellman thanked all who contributed to the work in any way.

She also reported on the social that Mrs. Joe Fisher Sr., committee chairman, arranged in her home recently as a treat to the quilters. The ladies spent their time visiting and were served refreshments by the hostess.

A report from A. C. Flusche of Denison on the financial status of the North Texas District of the Catholic State League was read, as were cards of thanks from those receiving quilts and from the relief bureau to which the society sent $20 recently for clothing for women in war countries.

Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District News

DISTRICT SUPERVISORS
 J. W. Hess, Muenster V. W. Redman, Saint Jo
 John Rice, Collinsville Ed Blackmon, Bowie
 Willard Kemplin, Valley View

Farmers in the Muenster area of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District are still firing their big guns in the spring offensive in their battle to stop the relentless advance of erosion. The big guns in this case are the planting of sweet clovers and alfalfa for soil improvement and summer cover crops, the sodding of bermuda grass in waterways for safe disposal of run-off water and the seeding of grasses on lands to be used for pasture. The sweet clovers and alfalfa when grown as soil improving and cover crops are one of man's best weapons against erosion. They provide above ground protection with their leafy foliage and their roots penetrate and open up compact soils to allow more water to soak into the soil, leaving much less to run off the land. The organic matter added to soils by these crops promotes a crumb structure which prevents the running together and crusting of soils.

Charlie Clayton used the district owned combination grain-fertilizer drill to put Hubam sweet clover and phosphate fertilizer on 10 acres of his farm northeast of Muenster. Oscar Walter used one of the district drills to put alfalfa seed and phosphate on 10 acres and Ed Sicking has put Madrid sweet clover and fertilizer on 30 acres on the farm he operates southwest of Muenster. Johnny Klement also used a district drill to sow clover on his land. Meirad Hesse has seeded Hubam sweet clover, an annual, on 20 acres of his farmland. Shorty Walter has 20 acres of clover already up to a good stand.

Grass has long been recognized as man's best tool for tying down the soil and keeping it at home and along that front, advances are still being made as "Operation Waterway" goes forward.

The district owned bermuda grass sprig planter is busily putting grass roots in the ground of prepared seedbeds, covering them and packing the ground and doing it at the rate of two acres per hour. Ed Knauf used the machine to sod 8 acres to bermuda grass. The grass will act as terrace outlet area and as pasture when it is well established. Al and Tony Hesse used the sprig planter to widen the waterway they sodded by hand last year and also to plant grass on parts of their fields that are designated to go to pasture. Frank Bayer is using the machine to plant grass roots on land that is to be converted to pasture.

Joe Hoenig seeded an area in his field to King Ranch Blue-stem last week. When established this fast growing, aggressive grass will receive terrace water and will be fenced and grazed. Reeves Cook used the district owned grass seed drill to plant a mixture of Native grasses on 10 acres of cultivated land that has been earmarked for pasture. The grass will be protected from grazing until it is well established, then the area will be included in the pasture. J. T. Cole has planted 5 acres of K. R. in rows. He hopes to produce enough seed to plant grass in portions of his cultivated land that is to be converted to grass production. He also planted 8 acres of field area to native grass mixture.

animal health field has been broadened and improved by their participation in the Globe Conference. Watts Bros. in Gainesville, features Globe's health products for livestock, poultry, and dogs.

MAKE YOUR DOLLAR

Work Harder, Go Farther

Save up to 40% on your fuel costs —
LP gas is more efficient, delivers more power per fuel dollar.

Save on oil and maintenance costs —
LP gas burns clean. It does not dilute oil, hence prolongs the life of your crankcase filling. It leaves no sludge to foul up the engine and cause excessive wear.
