NUMBER 29

Drought Busted by 3.03 Inch Soaker

Every few days, it seems, the administration strives for new records in economic and political absurdity. The latest prize caper, one that dwarfs all other boners to date, is the roll back of the livestock market. It looks like the biggest monstrosity so far to raise its ugly head in the price control nightmare.

It isn't surprising that cattlemen all over the country are considering a seller's strike. When people are suddenly told that by order of the Potomac bureaucrats, their cattle have just decreased about 20 per cent in value, they have fairly good reason for becoming indignant and rebellious. No wonder they refuse to sell. No wonder they prefer to sit tight and sweat out the nightmare, hoping that the brain-stormers will come to their senses and save the beef raising industry from wholesale bankruptcy.

Adding insult to injury, some people are criticizing cattlemen for their attitude. They say stockmen lambasted labor for its strikes and now they are equally guilty of failure to cooperate with the national effort. Which simply amounts to so much yackety yack. Circumstances are altogether different. Here are men who have vast amounts of money already tied up in their herds . . . because of conditions which were encouraged and fostered by the administration.

We all remember quite clearly what happened. There was talk and more talk about price and wage freezes, all of it amounting to an invitation to raise prices and wages. The nation responded just that way. Prices and wages went up providing the bureaucrats with an excuse to clamp on their controls. When everything got sky high they stepped forward and proclaimed "this is the limit, we will not permit any more of this inflation."

The important point, however, is that they imposed mostly top level freezes. Roll-backs in either wages or prices were negligible. But not so in livestock. That roll back was terrific and knocked the props out from under every stockman in the country.

As of this writing the OPS boys insist that they will stick by their decision, but we can see a ray of hope in the optimism of cattlemen's representatives now fighting the edict in Washington. They insist that their case is too sound for reasonable people to turn down. For the sake of the whole country they'd better be right.

Possible developments as analyzed by some of the economists are little less than terrifying. Suppose stockmen do sweat out a better price. Families will quit eating meat, except those that can afford black market prices. Meat markets will take a beating, maybe go out of business. Packing houses will close, throwing thousands of employees out of work. And the few stockmen who sell through legitimate channels will take a loss on every animal. Looks like quite a mess, doesn't it? It presents quite a dilemma too. Cattlemen refuse to be suckers. Truman refuses to admit a mistake. You guess what will happen.

Another absurdity about the whole thing is that this provides the biggest spread ever between cattle prices and wholesale beef prices. So it seems that the do-gooders, whose hearts constantly bleed for the dear common man, have loused their calculation and helped the big packers instead. Packers, of course, are amazed by the boner, but they're not laughing very loud. They know their handsome paper profit will not pay off if stockmen refuse to sell.

After fussing and fuming about the whole thing we return once more to the inevitable conclusion that you can't beat the law of supply and demand.

That drought buster arrived at last. A dandy measuring 3.03 inches fell Saturday afternoon giving this community its first taste of plentiful rainfall in more than 6 months. It was the heaviest since those days of excessive rain last August. More rain, measuring .02 Monday and .12 early Wednesday, starts the month of June, after only 6 days with 3.17 inches which is .19 more than the total for May. Added to the 2.98 inches in May and 5.56 in the previous four months, the rain raises this year's figure to 11.71 inches.

Garden Club Stages Annual Flower Show

With "Flowers on Parade" as the theme, members of the Civic League and Garden Club staged their annual flower show on Friday night, June 1, in the home of Mrs. Joe Luke from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Out of town judges, Mmes. E.C. Mead, Paul Morgan and W.D. Hurley all of Gainesville, judged each arrangement on its own merit, not as competing with other arrangements.

Flower show chairman Mrs. Lou Wolf and her committee, Mmes. Joe Luke, Ralph Maglaughlin and T.S. Myrick were in charge of the show and took care of the various details in connection with staging it. The judges announced the winner and tagged winning entries with blue, red and white ribbons designating first, second and third place. They tagged honorable mention entries with green ribbons and sweepstake winners with tri-colored ribbons.

Illness Handicaps This Weeks Paper

With apologies, the Enterprise staff asks its readers to kindly make allowance for any shortcomings in this week's issue.

Emmet Fette, the linotype operator, has been under the weather since Sunday. After spending Monday in bed he toughed out the day on the job Tuesday and entered the hospital Wednesday. The cause of his trouble has been diagnosed as the Virus X bug.

In the emergency, Herbert Fette, now on leave from Warren Air Force Base, substituted for Emmet. But after three years away from the linotype he had troubles with the accumulated stack of copy.

We regret that circumstances forced us to cut some stories short and to omit others.

J. P. Flusche Heads Muenster Knights

In their annual election of officers Wednesday night members of the Muenster K of C council elected J.P. Flusche as their 1951-52 grand knight to succeed Herbert Meurer.

Prior to the election of officers, Arthur Endres read a report prepared by Herbert Meurer and himself as delegates to the state K of C convention. Meurer gave a detailed and comprehensive report on the past year's council activity, also a message on the aims and achievements of the K of C supreme council.

About 125 members attended the meeting which opened with a barbecue lunch for members and ladies. During the meeting ladies played cards and dominoes in the club room.

SOFTBALL

Ruffnecks 8, Pilot Point 6 In a tight game here last Thursday night Muenster's Ruffnecks nosed out the Pilot Point nine in a last inning rally that produced the winning tallies. Up to the seventh they led their visitors by a close margin but the Pointers tied it in the 1st of the 7th. In their half of the same inning the Ruffnecks put over the deciding runs.

Scouts 10, VFW 9 The Boy Scouts had a big night Friday when they trimmed their sponsors, the veterans, by a count of 10 to 9. Though trailing from the start they crowded the veterans all the way until they moved ahead near the end of the game.

Peewees 14, Jr. Scouts 8 A more one-sided affair was the contest between the younger scouts and a group of kiddies, mostly pre-scout age. The Peewees took an early lead and increased their margin steadily through the game.

Chicks 25, VFW 13 It was a two-sided scoring spree when the Chicks and veterans met here Monday night. For a while they kept it fairly even entering the fifth with the visitors leading 10-9. That's when the Chicks hit their stride and carried on until the end for an additional 15 runs. Meanwhile the veterans got only 4 more.

Nocona 13, Ruffnecks 7 Softballers of Nocona simply outplayed the Ruffnecks here Tuesday night to mark up an easy 13-7 win. The game was routine all the way through, Nocona taking an early lead and adding scores steadily for the rest of the contest.

The Joe Floods, formerly of this city and now living in Waco, are here for a few days as the guests of the Myricks.

Amos Beyer Dies of Rifle Wound; Burial at Lindsay Monday

Andrew T. (Amos) Beyer, 33, of route 2, Gainesville, died at 9 o'clock last Saturday morning from a gunshot wound sustained about three hours earlier at his home five miles northwest of Gainesville.

Members of his family believe that the fatal wound was caused by the accidental discharge of a .22 calibre rifle found beside his unconscious body.

Tony Beyer, brother of the victim, found him near the kitchen entrance a few moments after being awakened by the shot, about 6 o'clock.

According to officers of the Sheriff's department the bullet entered Beyer's forehead near the left eye and came out the top of his head. He was rushed to a Gainesville hospital but efforts to save his life were unsuccessful.

Beyer, a veteran of the armed forces, had been in ill health for some time prior to his tragedy and had tried without success to enter a veterans' hospital. Only recently he returned from treatment in a Glen Rose hospital and expressed his intention to go back soon for more treatments. He was living with his brother Tony and a brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beyer.

Requiem mass for the deceased was held at St. Peter's Church in Lindsay at 9 o'clock Monday with Rev. Hubert Neu as celebrant. Rev. A.W. Behrens of Sioux City, Iowa, gave the funeral address. Burial was in the Lindsay cemetery under the direction of George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home.

Rosary was recited on the two nights preceding his funeral, at the Carroll chapel Saturday and at the home of his mother, Mrs. Adam Beyer, Sunday night.

Survivors in addition to his mother are four sisters, Miss Rosalie Beyer and Mrs. Frank Sandmann of Lindsay; Mrs. Ferd Luttmner and Mrs. Richard Swirczynski of Muenster; five brothers, Tony, Frank Robert, and Lambert all of Gainesville, and Carl Beyer of Fort Worth.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By ED GOSSETT

Washington, D. C., June 2. — This is late Saturday afternoon and I have not had time to prepare this week's newsletter. Congressman W. R. Poage, of Waco, has written a newsletter on the burning subject of the day, to-wit; inflation. With his permission, I am simply substituting his newsletter of this week and sending it in lieu of my own. I do not necessarily agree with my distinguished colleague in all particulars, but his observations are sincere and significant. Our readers I know will be interested in his views.

"Today I received a petition containing about 50 names. The letter with the petition stated that this was identical with hundreds of similar petitions. This petition protested the "rapidly increasing cost of living" and urges "that prices be rolled back to pre-Korean levels, and that A NEW LAW strong enough to protect the consumers be enacted." It then states that "we also urge that new taxes not be placed on low income families, and suggests that needed revenue be secured from corporations with their record profits and from high income families who are not carrying their share."

It is but natural for all of us to seek a simple solution. The tendency of the hour is to feel that we can cure any problem by "passing a law." We have tried to stop inflation with a law. Last August Congress passed a law giving the President power to freeze ALL prices and ALL wages. I voted FOR this law. I thought that if we acted promptly it would be possible to use the law as a sort of temporary stop-gap to hold the line until we could attack the real causes of inflation. I still think we could have done much to stabilize the situation had we acted at that time. No action was taken to use the powers Congress granted. I fear the time in which these control devices could be used has passed. We must now follow the slower but much more fundamental policy of attacking the CAUSE of inflation. Our people were ready last summer to accept controls ACROSS THE BOARD—controls which would control EVERYBODY. Since that time they have seen controls applied to some groups for the benefit of other groups and the American spirit of fair play has revolted against this practice. Last week we saw the price of cattle rolled back (with no reduction in the price of meat to the consumer). The livestock producer's standard of living which is today about one and one-half times what it was in the base period was reduced about 10 per cent. He was told that it would be reduced by about the same amount again this Fall. The same week saw the packing house workers granted an increase of not quite 10 per cent in their wages. Their living standard was already almost exactly twice what it was during the base period.

Last year in his message to Congress, President Truman said: "Price and wage controls do not CURE the basic cause of inflation — the inflationary gap between the supply of goods and the value of buying power. — The cure can only come by closing the gap." This statement is, of course, true. It seems to me that it is high time that we began to treat the cause of inflation, rather than the result. The cause is lessened production for civilian purposes, and increased buying power (more money.)

Most price ceilings and all price roll backs tend to REDUCE production (because there is less incentive), and they increase demand (because there are more customers at the lower price). Therefore, over any extended period of time, they actually add to the inflationary process. Like a narcotic, they should be used only for a limited time in the most critical situations.

I have voted for higher taxes, and shall vote for still higher taxes. Taxation is not, however, the best way of checking inflation as it definitely lowers people's living standards. It simply makes it impossible to buy so much.

It is, however, necessary if we are to pay as much as possible of the current costs of government. With taxation should go a reduction of governmental expenditures. I have voted, and expect to continue to vote, for such reductions.

It is a mistake to believe that we can raise the funds needed simply by additional taxes on corporations, or the "rich". The total corporate income in the U. S. is only about $20 billion per year — less than one-third of our governmental expenditures. We now take approximately one-half of this income. The "higher income families" pay taxes up to 87 per cent of their income already, and their incomes make up only a small part of the money needed. There is no easy way to carry the tax load. We must all share it.

The simplest and most effective attack on inflation would, it seems to me, be for everyone to work longer at present hourly rates. If we increased the work week by only 4 hours we would increase production by 10 per cent. The workers would have more money, but there would be more things to purchase. That, as I see it, is the way to strike at the cause of inflation. Inflation cannot be stopped by asking someone else to make the sacrifices. — Is it too much to ask America to GO TO WORK?"

Atomic Weapons For U. S. Field Troops

The atom, originally conceived as a crippling force in strategic bombing, can be used by troops in the field, according to a Washington observer who was among the "invited guests" who witnessed the top secret atomic weapon tests at Eniwetok this month.

Contrary to the general impression, according to this witness, troops using atomic weapons on an enemy may advance in a matter of minutes after the atomic blast without danger from radiation, either immediately or later.

A fuller and more authoritative report on the Eniwetok tests is expected shortly. Lieut. General Elwood R. Quesada of the Air Force, in charge at Eniwetok, is reported on his way back to Washington, and has announced that he would hold a press conference on the operation.

The information given out however, suggests the tremendous significance and effect the later report may have on both military tactics and civilian defense.

mand. Controls and rations don't solve the real problem, but only seek, and too often unsuccessfully, to deal with economic complications resulting from the real problem.

Suppose instead of our present cockeyed method we'd have gone about this thing the way an ordinary citizen tackles his personal problem. When the Korean war started our government might have said, "We've got an emergency. That will increase the supply. All you extras on the federal payroll, get jobs and start making a little more so we'll have all we need for civilian and military demand."

What do you think of that? Would it have worked? Would we have any need of bureaucratic meddlers if we had seen that our supply is equal to the demand?
