

Plan for Intensive New Church Fund Drive Shaping Up

With feelings of mingled regret and pleasure, people of the Thirteenth Congressional District learned last week that Ed Gossett has resigned as their representative in Washington. Regret because they did not wish to lose the benefit of Gossett's sound judgment and diligent service in the capital. Pleasure because they are happy to see him find a more profitable, more pleasant and less strenuous job. After more than 12 years of the incessant Washington grind he richly deserves the peace and comfort his new position offers.

The predominating sentiment, however, is regret. All of a sudden we realize that the able and conscientious leader on whom we depended all these years isn't there for us to lean on. We no longer have the confident assurance that our representative is okay and there's nothing for us to worry about.

The case is somewhat similar to losing an old trusted family doctor. We accept his young successor, and realize that he may possibly be just as good. But we don't know for sure, so we just don't have as much confidence in him. And we do not acquire that confidence until we can see that he has acquired a comparable record.

It will be the same with Gossett's successor. Perhaps he will be just as good . . . and we sincerely hope he will . . . but until we know for sure we'll keep wondering whether he's doing a good job.

The real comfort in having Ed for a representative was our knowledge of the principles he stands for. He was a Christian first of all. He was an American rather than a party man. He had steadfast convictions on the dignity and responsibility of the individual and applied them down the line in spite of the socialistic trends of modern times.

He had no sympathies for grafters, spendthrifts, subversives, crooked politicians or any other saboteurs of orderly society. He believed that the traditional American way of personal freedom and responsibility is God's way, and did his best to make it prevail.

He had his political enemies among the bureaucrats, socialists, and pinks . . . but they were the kind of enemies which only served to endear him more to his constituents. By his enemies his friends knew him better and expressed their approval more and more emphatically in succeeding elections.

So there's little wonder that we hate to see Ed quit. It's a natural reaction after we've been convinced for years that we had one of the most conscientious and capable representatives in Washington.

At the same time we're glad for him. We think he has earned the increased happiness, peace and security he will find in his new work.

Predictions are that a crowd of candidates will get into the scramble for Gossett's vacancy. All of them will be total strangers to most of us, so we'll have quite a task in learning enough about their qualifications to make a wise choice. Nevertheless we will have an opportunity, if the campaign develops as expected, to make a good selection. Circumstances will force the candidates to take a stand on many vital issues of today. By weighing their policies against the principles we desire in a representative we can at least weed out the less desirable contenders. As regards candidates with the principles, we may be puzzled in making a final choice, but we need not worry. Any of them should do a good job. So from now until election let's watch for all the information we can get on the qualifications of the candidates.

Sailor Tommy Otto is in Cuba for about six weeks, he writes his parents, the Tony Ottos. He will report back to Norfolk, Va., for his next assignment after leaving Cuba.

Plans are shaping up this week for an intensive parish-wide drive which is expected to give the biggest financial boost of recent years to the fund of Muenster's proposed new Sacred Heart church.

The event, sponsored jointly by the local Knights of Columbus and Catholic Daughters of America in cooperation with Father Anthony Schroeder will consist of a two week campaign of soliciting contributions along with a parish picnic and square dance on Sunday, July 1, and a dance on July 4. Other organizations of the parish will be invited to assist the two sponsoring groups.

Arthur Endres, general chairman, said that about 30 men are on the committee to solicit contributions from every member of the parish. They will begin making calls early next week.

A July 4 parish picnic has been advanced to the preceding Sunday in order not to conflict with urgent farm work. Definite plans for that event are not complete, however Endres said that a few of the features are decided. One is a boxed dinner consisting of chicken, french fries, bread and relish. Visitors will be urged to come early and have their noon meal at the picnic. Another feature is a white elephant auction of gadgets, appliances, furniture and other items still in good condition but not used by their present owners. Persons having such articles are asked to bring them to the picnic Sunday. Entertainment is being planned for all age groups and favors will be provided for every child. The party will end with a square dance on the city park platform.

A dance in the K of C hall Wednesday night, July 4, will be the final event in the church fund benefit program.

Building and Improvement Notes

Carpenter work is almost completed on the new 6 room house being built in the northeast part of town by Community Lumber Company. It will be ready for painting by the end of the week.

Another home almost ready for the painters is Hugh Jackson's on the last location of West Fourth. It is another 6 room house, 5 of which are new and the kitchen remodeled from the homemaking building of the old public school.

At Frank Needham's work is almost finished on an addition of 2 rooms and a bath to the present garage apartment.

Frank Felderhoff's 6 room house in the east part of town will be ready for use within a week.

Work started last weekend on the job of converting the former Baptist church into a home for the R.P. Cains. After moving to its new location the building was left on its supports until the foundation under it was finished, then lowered into place. The remodeling in general consists of building partitions, repairing and adding two more rooms and a garage.

At his home east of town Joe Fleitman has just finished a 50 x 60 hay barn.

Endres Motor company continues with the outstanding business construction in town. Outside walls on its new garage are finished except for fancy stuff on the front. The roof is finished, windows are installed and floor work is starting. After that work will start on partitions and inside finish.

Another business structure is a new 30 x 44 warehouse just completed at Shamburger Lumber company. To make room for it the former carpenter shop south of the office building was moved 25 feet east to the front of the lot. The new warehouse adjoins it on the west.

Lightning Strikes At Danglmayr Home

An electrical storm which accompanied the rain early Sunday night left several burned out light bulbs and appliances at the Albert Danglmayr home west of town.

Items knocked out were the television, the telephone, one burner of the electric stove and several light bulbs. Lights and appliances on another circuit apparently were saved when the fuse gave way. The same happened in other buildings on the place. Some lights went out, some fuses went out.

MHS Subjects Get Accredited Rating

The program of acquiring full accreditation for all courses taught at Muenster High School continued through the past school year, according to a letter last week to Superintendent Cowan from the Texas Education Agency.

The agency informed Mr. Cowan that the school's second year courses in shop, agriculture, homemaking, Latin and chemistry were all approved for accreditation.

As a result the school now has a full accredited rating in all subjects taught during the past two years.

As new subjects are added, such as third and fourth year shop, agriculture and homemaking the school will continue striving for accredited ratings in them.

CDA Court Ships 300 Pounds Clothes

The local court Catholic Daughters of America recently shipped three hundred pounds of clothing and twenty-five pounds of literature for distribution among the needy, Mrs. Joe Swirczynski, co-chairman of mission work, reported at the court's meeting Friday night.

Two hundred pounds of clothing was shipped to the National Catholic Welfare Council in New York for re-shipment and one hundred pounds was sent to St. Paul's mission at Dallas. The reading material was shipped to army camps and prisons.

Other mission activity of the court was reported by Mrs. Ben Hellman, chairman of mission work, who advised that she had material on hand for rolling hospital bandages. She invited members to join her to ready the bandages for shipment.

Construction Due To Start Next Week On Baptist Church

Baptists of Muenster are due to begin next week on foundation work for their new church, which they expect to have ready for use in September or October.

E.S. Lawson, member of the building committee disclosed this week that starting materials have been purchased and should arrive in the next few days.

The church will be a T-shaped brick veneered structure consisting of two units measuring 30 x 50 each, the base of the T to face east and serve as the main entrance. It will have an auditorium with a seating capacity of 225, twelve Sunday School rooms, two rest rooms and a baptistry.

The first step toward actual construction was completed last week when the former church was moved to R.P. Cain's lots east of the livestock auction barn. Cain will repair and remodel it for his future home.

All except skilled labor on the church will be done by local church members assisted by volunteer workers from other Baptist congregations of the area. The outside help along with financial help is provided by the county Baptist association.

While the church is under construction services will be held in the school auditorium.

Rainfall Increases As Harvest Begins

A repetition of last summer's exceptionally heavy rainfall appeared as an unwelcome possibility this week as two more rainy days added 1.50 inches to the 3.17 which early this month brought the community's first adequate relief from a drought originating last fall.

As in June of 1950, the rain is delaying the grain harvest, though at this time the delay still is not serious. Nothing has deteriorated. However both uncut and windrowed fields will suffer if the moisture continues.

Meanwhile the farmer's grain worries are somewhat offset by benefits to his other crops. Pastures, alfalfa, corn and maize are thriving.

The increasing rainfall at this time begins a second year of tropy turvy weather. Just when rain normally tapers off to a dry summer it is tapering the other way. Moisture was scarce from January through April, amounting to only 5.25. Scattered rain in May was 3.30 and total for 12 days of June is 4.67. Last year a total of 14.96 through May, a normally wet winter and spring, was followed by 5.51 in June, 7.71 in July and 10.47 in August . . . the wettest summer on record here.

Moster Hears Talks On Water, Sewage

Steve Moster was Muenster's representative last Thursday, June 11 at a regional water and sewage works program at Arlington State College.

The event, sponsored by A & M College and the State Health Department, is an annual 1 day course to assist water and sewage departments of Texas cities to operate their plants efficiently and healthfully. Those who attend can earn credits toward higher rating as licensed water and sewage superintendents.

Along with the latest information pertaining to water and sewage, the program presented a safety demonstration on fires, showing that in many cases people invite disaster without being aware of it. The demonstration Moster said, was especially for small town superintendents like himself who serve as fire marshal along with other duties.

CDA Installs New Officers and Plans July 4th Benefit

The installation of officers and the formation of plans to assist in the annual July Fourth picnic furnished the principal business at the regular meeting of the local court Catholic Daughters of America last Friday night.

Mrs. John Mosman, district deputy, installed the new officers elected in May and Mrs. Lawrence Roberg retiring grand regent, presided during the business session.

Plans for the picnic, which the court hopes will top all other benefits heretofore given for the new church building fund include the court's sponsorship of several concessions for which chairmen were named. The Catholic Daughters and Knights of Columbus will sponsor the benefit event jointly.

Mrs. John Fisher is chairman of food, Mrs. Charley Hellman of a game concession; Mrs. Ben Hellman is in charge of the Country Store; Mrs. Lawrence Roberg is chairman of entertainment for children, and Mrs. Herman Fette is in charge of the White Elephant auction sale.

In explaining the Country Store and Auction Sale it was pointed out that smaller items will stock the store while large items will be solicited for the auction.

Members also decided that beginning with the July meeting they will have their meeting and social on the same night. The social will follow the business session. This month's social will be held on the fourth Thursday, June 28, with Mmes. Joe and Frank Kathman as hostesses.

Washington, D.C., June 9, —

After long and serious consideration, I have just made a major decision to resign from Congress and accept the position of General Attorney for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in the State of Texas. I shall not resign, however, until the last of July, or about the time for the summer recess of the Congress. In the meantime, I hope to be able to get favorable report on a number of bills in which I am interested; also to get favorable House action on the state's rights tideland bill.

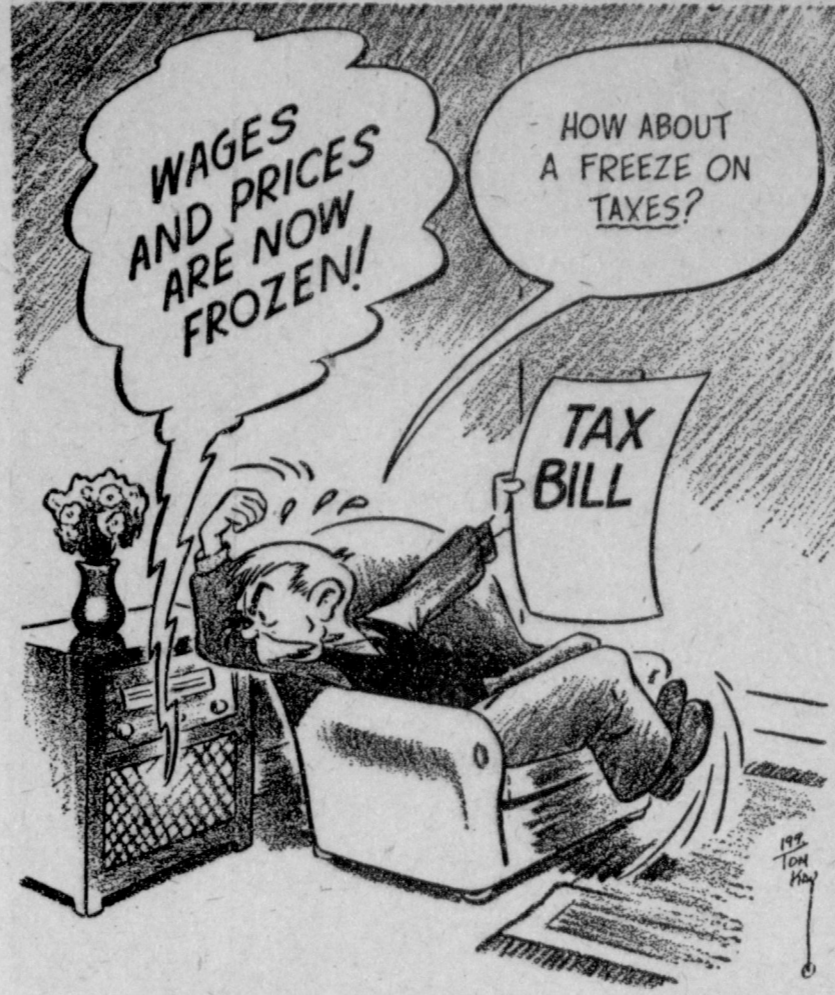

Congressional friends tell me I should be exceedingly happy to escape from the terrific pressure and the terrific responsibilities of Congressional life. Congressional service has become more and more difficult, and living in Washington has become less and less desirable in recent years. It has become absolutely impossible for any man to do his full duty as a Congressman and to do his full duty to his family, especially if he has five small children. There is no doubt but what the Gossett family will be much happier and better off to have a home in Texas, where they can live a normal, peaceful existence.

My wife tells me that, because after 13 years of Congressional service we are able to call most of the members of Congress, of the Supreme Court, of the Cabinet, and many Washington celebrities, by their first names, the Washington glamor may have gotten into our blood. Such is not the case, however.

I resent the accusation. We know that the real strength and security of this country lies in the hearts and lives of the humble, God-fearing folks from whom we came, and to whom we return, the people who live in the thousands of little communities throughout the length and the breadth of the land.

I would not leave this post of duty regardless of other considerations if I thought any Congressman to be indispensable, or if I thought my remaining here would greatly influence the course of events; such an assumption would be highly egotistical. I recall, in the first of my Congressional service, attending a joint session of the House and Senate for the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Supreme Court. Present were all members of Congress, all members of the Supreme Court, all members of the President's Cabinet, and the top military leaders of the nation. Someone suggested to me what a disaster it would be should a bomb fall on the assembly and wipe out all those present. My reply was that the nation would mourn briefly, and the country would survive without serious harm, since all present could and would be adequately replaced.

My parents taught me at an early age that the only measure of a successful life is whether or not the world is any better off because one lived. It shall be my constant purpose as a private citizen to continue in every way possible to be of public service. The Congress of the United States should perhaps lead public opinion. However, the Congress of the United States, by and large, follows public opinion. The American people get from Congress approximately what they demand. Congress follows their wishes. Because public opinion is the real force in a democracy, some of my colleagues contend that I can be of more service as a lawyer and citizen in Texas than as a representative in Congress, especially with the lessons and the experience gained here. The Bell Telephone Company is giving me a free hand as their General Attorney to participate in public affairs, as well as in the practice of the law. As a lawyer and a private citizen of Texas, I shall not only keep in constant touch with the people, but also with the Congress, most of whose members I know intimately and count my friends. It shall still be my constant endeavor to accumulate more credits than debts on life's ledger of service.

Unlike the old soldier, I do not intend to just "fade away". I shall become a lobbyist, so to speak, for the things I consider good, and against the things I consider bad. I shall write letters to Congressmen, both representatives and senators, and shall see them personally as occasion requires and permits, in an effort to be of assistance to them in their loyal efforts to promote public well-being.

Perhaps away from the strife and confusion of Washington, one can get a clearer, better perspective of things as they are, and of things as they ought to be. I know a vast majority of the members of the Congress want to serve their country. Most of them will listen to an old friend who writes without an axe to grind, and especially when he speaks from experience and with sincerity.

I believe I have served my District well, and I am sure my successor will serve equally well. He shall have all the help within my power to give. The folks of the 13th District of Texas shall always have the love and gratitude of the Gossett clan. We will always be proud of, and grateful for, the support they have given us.

Because of voluminous work that must be done, this will be our last regular newsletter.

First steps in restoring free mail privileges were taken this past week when the Senate Postal Committee approved legislation for any serviceman to mail first class mail free. The Senate and the House must approve the bill before it becomes effective.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Hope "Cappy" Told Him Where To Get Off!

"Cappy" Fisher — who just retired after thirty-five years as a railroad conductor — was telling about a salesman who was often one of his passengers.

"That man was so busy," says Cappy, "he used to bring a dictaphone on the train to catch up on his letters. On one trip he'd been rushing around so much he clean forgot to bring his ticket. Left it on his desk."

When Cappy started to tell him not to worry about the ticket, the salesman busts out with "Who's worried about the ticket? It's just that now I don't know what city I was going to get off at!"

Cappy might have been pulling our leg, but from where I sit, lots of us get so wrapped up in ourselves we often forget "where we're going." Some folks get so narrow they even begrudge their neighbors the right to enjoy a glass of beer now and then. Let's not forget that just as trains run on steam and oil, democracies run on freedom and tolerance!

Wonderful Elixir

To the Oklahoma community where I lived as a boy there came one Saturday afternoon a traveling medicine show. It was a wondrous thing. Roustabouts spread sawdust on a vacant lot fronting on the town square and erected a bouncy platformstage with canvas top and red fringe all around. Then they got out and scattered handbills through the streets and among the wagons and buggies and model-T's that had brought farm families on their weekly trip to town. At nightfall the show went on. The crowd out front, standing on the sawdust was enormous.

There were six vaudeville acts staged by a company of three people, including a tableau from the life of Sitting Bull, juggling and trio singing. Then came the pitchman, or spieler. He had a tall brown bottle in his hand, a fine voice and a sparkle of friendliness in his eye. He wore a frock coat. At the left of the stage were stacked at least 200 packages of the "Wonderful Elixir." The spieler made his pitch: Here, he said, was the great panacea, an old Indian herb prescription handed down through generations. And it would positively cure anything, eliminate all pain! He related a half-dozen case histories of the astonishing work of the "Elixir." They sounded amazing — but somehow believable.

The "Let-Downs"
Most of the packaged "Elixir" on the stage was sold — at the stiff price of 90-cents a bottle — before the crowd dwindled out. During the following week everybody in town with real or fancied ills gulped down potions from their tall brown bottles — and seemed to feel much better almost immediately. But before the week ended there began to be talk of "let-downs." (The word "hang-over" wasn't it use.)

It then became known that the "Elixir" contained 85 per cent alcohol, a dash of water, and some powdered green herb bitters to give it the medicinal flavor. It didn't cure anything. It merely intoxicated—worked, as a narcotic, to deaden the sensory nerves and cut off momentarily any existing pain or discomfort. The after-effect was, to say the least, unpleasant. Our town recovered from the medicine show's visit, by awakening to the true nature of the spieler's magic "Elixir." As a cure-all it wouldn't work; as a pain-killer, it merely postponed the suffering.

A Moral

The medicine show story has a moral: There isn't a quick, magical panacea for the ills and pains of the world—or for the troubles and problems of a people. Pain must be traced to its source and adjustment or correction made. Treating pain to kill it, without getting at the cause, only prolongs the ailment. And trying to solve the problems of nations and peoples with magical schemes and panaceas only intensifies the fundamental trouble.

Since the beginning of history a primary human problem has been the quest for economic security, a sufficiency of the material necessities of life. Though the world has seen 19 civilizations come and go, no one has evolved a plan that will give everybody all their economic wants. The American economic system appears to be unquestionably the best pattern. Because of the freedom it gives, and the unparalleled production it stimulates, our poorest citizens have provided themselves with a living standard better than the average anywhere else in the world.

Something For Nothing?

The American system offers all citizens the wide-open opportunity for a large measure of economic security. But its promise is based on the principle of self-reliance and the natural law of recompense. Both the principle and the law are denied in some provisions of the Federal "Social Security" program. The Foundation for Social Research reports, for instance, that under certain age and employment circumstances people are being offered pensions worth $16,000 by paying only $121.50 into the Federal treasury. Millions are eligible. Other millions, the Foundation reports, may make themselves eligible to receive a $50 a month pension for life, beginning July 1, 1952, at a total cost to the pensioner of only 40.50.

Fourteen months ago I appeared before the senate Finance Committee in opposition to further expansion of such out-of-balance provisions. I didn't oppose real social security, but I did oppose a something-for-nothing scheme which in the years ahead can crush the hopes of millions of oldsters and break hearts by bankrupting the nation. I urged that Congress make a thorough study of the whole pension problem, then give the people the unvarnished facts instead of more "Wonderful Elixir."

Special Care Will Avoid Baby Hazards In Summer Weather

Austin, Texas — "Being a baby is a real hazard in either winter or summer but much can be done to avoid or at least lessen some of these hazards that are associated with hot summer days," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Summer is the season in which death from intestinal disorders has in the past exacted its greatest toll.

"To guard the infant against such danger, care must be taken that his food, especially milk is pure and kept safe. If there is any uncertainty concerning the water supply, the baby should drink only water which has been boiled and cooled and kept covered. The baby and all his food must be protected against flies.

"Baby himself and all the things which he comes in contact should be kept as clean as possible. Plenty of fresh air and sunshine are essential for the best health of the infant. The baby's body should be gradually exposed to the direct rays of the sun; begin with exposure of only part of the skin surface for three to five minutes and slowly increase the area of skin and time once or twice daily.

"Care must be taken to keep the baby free from prickly heat by keeping the skin clean and not too warmly dressed or covered. If the baby is comfortable, he will get his usual amount of sleep and will eat and develop normally. In case the child shows symptoms of any abnormal conditions, the family physician should be consulted at once."

Prompt Cooling Controls Bacteria

COLLEGE STATION. — Bacteria counts are always a problem with the dairyman, but the problem becomes more difficult during warm weather.

Prompt cooling is absolutely necessary in producing milk a low bacteria count. Bacteria multiply rapidly, and only through proper cooling of milk can their growth be retarded or stopped.

Milk held at 40 degrees F. for 16 hours will show little or no bacterial growth, while the bacteria will increase 3,000 times in milk held at 80 degrees F. for the same length of time.

Other factors, such as health of cows, cleanliness of equipment and milking practices, also affect the bacteria count, points out A. M. Meekma, associate dairy specialist for the Texas Extension Service.

Wichita Falls Judge Enters Contest for Gossett's Successor

First to announce he would make the race for the 13th Congressional post being vacated by resignation of Rep. Ed Gossett was District Judge Frank Ikard of Wichita Falls. Son of a pioneer ranching family of Clay County, Judge Ikard has been practicing law in Wichita Falls since 1937, after graduating from the University of Texas Law School. As a combat infantry private, Judge Ikard was captured during a delaying action in the battle of the Bulge and held a prisoner of war for seven months.

Elected chairman of the Wichita County Democratic Committee in 1946 and 1948, the judge was head of the Texas Veterans Affairs Commission before he was appointed district court judge in 1948. He was elected Judge of the 30th District Court last year without opposition.

Congressman Gossett is resigning, effective July 31, to accept a job as general legal counsel in Texas for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Gov. Allan Shivers is expected to call a special election for selection of Gossett's successor between Sept. 1 and Nov. 1.

ST ANNE SOCIETY NAMES CONVENTION DELEGATES

During a regular business meeting Sunday night members of the Saint Anne's Society elected their president, Mrs. Frank Herr, and Mrs. Joe Luke as delegates to the state convention of the Catholic State

Members also made tentative plans for the reception of new members on Sunday, July 8, that date having been substituted for July 26, feast of St. Anne so as not to conflict with the Rockne convention.

Large Group Sees Bulcher Get Award

More than one hundred persons gathered at Bulcher last Thursday night for an awards program and saw E. Newby receive a check for $100 from F. J. Deering, editor-in-chief of the Farmer Stockman.

The check was given for outstanding work by Bulcher residents in connection with the Rural Progress contest sponsored by the magazine in cooperation with Texas A&M college extension service.

Bulcher entered the contest for the first time last year and placed ninth in the state. The prize money will be used to further improve the community in 1951-1952.

An impressive program centered around the presentation of the prize money. E. Newby, chairman of the community project for the past year was general chairman. The program was held at the community picnic grounds and was preceeded by a chicken supper.

Mr. Deering gave the main address of the evening, speaking on This Land of Ours. He introduced Lydia Cooper, district home demonstration agent from Denton, who presented the certificate of award to Mrs. Johnnie West, vice chairman of the improvement project.

W. I. Glass, district agent, presented good neighborhood buttons to officers of the committee and to County Agents B. T. Haws and Miss Bernice Puckett. Mr. Glass complimented the Bulcherites on their achievements. They won ninth place in a state contest in which about 100 communities were competing.

Dr. Roy Donahue, Extension Service agronomist and co-author of a book, Our South, presented a copy of the book to the library in the Bulcher community. Mrs. Pearl Samples, librarian, accepted the gift in behalf of the community.

E. Newby introduced three ministers, Rev. Lee Morris of Bulcher, Rev. Travis of Saint Jo and Rev. Cooper of Nocona. Other special guests were introduced by Mr. Haws. Guests were present from Muenster, Gainesville, Saint Jo, Nocona, and Capps Corner.

An added entertainment feature of the evening was a short skit by Jerry Tally of Radio Station KGAF, Gainesville.

Rev. and Mrs. Freeman Wall and children of Sherman were Sunday dinner guests in the Clem Chism home at Bulcher.

MRS. DOWD IS HOSTESS TO BULCHER H.D. CLUB

Mrs. Freda Dowd entertained members of the Bulcher Home Demonstration Club on Monday when the ladies gathered for a social meeting in the community building.

Mrs. Earl Robison won the "Mystery Box" which the finance committee headed by Mrs. Frankie Shields had arranged as a benefit project to benefit the club treasury.

After games the hostess served refreshments to those present.

Marysville Bible School Enrolls 20 Young People

Twenty young people enrolled on the opening day of a Bible School Monday at Marysville Baptist Church. The school period is divided between Bible study and crafts with Mmes. Lawton Moon, Earl Robison and Buford Whitt as instructors for primary, intermediate and junior divisions, respectively. Mrs. James Cole is superintendent and Mrs. John Richey is secretary-treasurer for the school.

Giles Lehnertz of Shreveport, La., arrived Sunday for a week's vacation with his parents and other relatives. On Monday his sister, Dolly Lehnertz and her friend Carolyn Korbel of McKinney were here to visit the Lehnertz family.

Mrs. Brewster, who had always given her pampered daughter more presents than discipline, had just returned from a downtown shopping trip. Now, taking a small package from her bag, she said to her husband, "I bought the loveliest pair of earrings for Valerie's birthday. If I can only hide them where she won't stumble onto them until —"

Mr. Brewster replied, "Why don't you just fold them up in the dish cloth?"

Scouts Pass Tests On Sunday Outing

Muenster Boy Scouts enjoyed an outing Sunday and combined business with pleasure by passing tests in swimming and cooking. The T. Miller farm was headquarters for the day. Three boys, Clifford Swirczynski, Robert Meurer and Jimmy Hellman, passed their Morse code tests and advanced to First Class Scouts. Scoutmaster Nick Miller and the troop left town about 10 a.m. and returned home in the evening.

Citation by Publication
THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: Allene Willison and husband, Ralph Willison, Defendants, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Cooke County at the Court House thereof, in Gainesville, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 18th day of July A. D. 1951, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 28th day of February A. D. 1951, in this cause, numbered 15667 on the docket of said court and styled Pearl Culp Allen et vir, Plaintiffs, vs. Opal Frances Clark et al, Defendants in which the following persons are Plaintiffs: Pearl Culp Allen and husband, H. H. Allen, and the following persons are Defendants: Opal Frances Clark, William Andrew Clark, Anita Harris, Cecil Harris, Allene Willison, Ralph Willison, Thelma Beyer and Ray F. Beyer.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit: This is an action in trespass to try title brought by the plaintiffs, Pearl Culp Allen and husband H. H. Allen, against the defendants to establish that they own in fee simple Lot No. 11 in Block 3 of Sevier and Gribble Addition to the City of Gainesville in Cooke County, Texas, and in which the plaintiffs affirmatively plead the statutes of limitations of three, five and ten years; and in the alternative that they, the plaintiffs, and the defendants Opal Frances Clark, Anita Harris, Allene Willison and Thelma Beyer own jointly and are the sole owners of said property, the plaintiffs owning at 4-5 interest therein having a charge and lien of $2,000.00 against all of said property for permanent and valuable improvements made and placed thereon in good faith, and that said four defendants own a 1-5 interest therein subject to said charge and lien of plaintiffs, and that a fair and equitable division and partition of said property cannot be made, and that it is necessary that a receiver be appointed to sell said real estate, and the proceeds of such sale returned into court and divided among the plaintiffs and said four defendants according to their respective interests, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit. The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs. Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court at office in Gainesville, Texas this 29th day of May A. D. 1951.
