ARMY BOMBER CRASHES

VALLEJO, CALIF.—A light B-18 bomber on flight from Hamilton Field to Sacramento crashed and exploded Friday on the taller of the Twin Sister Peaks, fifteen miles northeast of Vallejo, killing the crew of five officers and men. All were attached to the seventh bombardment group, Fort Douglas, Utah. Two of the bodies were thrown clear while the other three men were burned beyond recognition.

CUDAHY OPPOSES SHIP ARMING BILL

Lt. J. H. Flood Goes To Army; McNelly Is Co-op Manager

J. H. Flood, manager of the local rural electric system, left here Thursday to take up his duties as First Lieutenant in the army signal corps at Fort Monmouth, N. J. He has been a reserve officer in the field artillery since his graduation from A. & M. College in 1932 and has served in camps and on CCC duty on several occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. Flood first drove to Waco where she and the two children will spend three months with her family while he completes special training at Fort Monmouth. They will join him thereafter, when he is permanently stationed as instructor at some army camp.

Flood received his instructions from the army last week and promptly submitted his resignation as manager of the electric co-op. Meeting in a special session Sunday, the directors named R. L. McNelly as his successor. Leo Sicking was appointed line foreman in McNelly's place. Appointments were effective on Nov. 1, the day Flood reports for duty in the New Jersey camp.

The Floods first came to Muenster in 1937 when he was engaged as resident engineer on the REA construction project. They lived here several months at that time and returned in March 1940 when he became manager of the rural electric system. They completed a new home here the past summer.

They were honored with two farewell parties. Monday night a small group of friends surprised them with a supper party. Tuesday afternoon members of the Garden Club honored Mrs. Flood with a surprise handkerchief shower.

EXTENSION LINE FOR LOCAL REA SYSTEM COMPLETE SATURDAY

The local electric cooperative line extension project will be ready for energizing next Monday—unless the weather or some other unavoidable difficulty causes a final delay. W. B. Autrey, superintendent for Taylor Construction Company, told co-op officers this week. This work completes the project undertaken last Spring and interrupted several times because of difficulty in securing materials.

About 50 miles of the 102 mile job now remain to be energized. More than 30 miles had been connected after construction was halted in July and another 15 mile section was heated this week immediately after completion.

The new extensions bring the system's total line mileage to 404. The membership is about 950.

Old Band Checks Out

Meeting in a special session with Father Richard Monday evening, members who formerly constituted the Muenster Men's Band, dissolved this organization in favor of the Youth Band, gave their sheet music to the new group and offered their instruments for use if needed.

Auction Sale Date Changed

This week's community auction sale will be held on Friday instead of Saturday, John Bayer, manager, stated Wednesday. The change was made to avoid a conflict with special church services on Saturday, All Saints Day.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—John Cudahy (center), former U. S. Ambassador to Belgium, who told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, last week, that the Administration's ship arming bill "is another step edging us into war by subterfuge" is shown talking to members of the committee after the hearing. Left to right: Senator Tom Connally of Texas; Mr. Cudahy; and Senator Walter F. George of Georgia.

'JUNIOR' ENDRES WINS WINGS AS MEMBER OF ARMY AIR CORPS

MOFFETT FIELD.—Winning his wings as a member of the United States Army Air Corps is Meinrad J. Endres, Jr., 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Endres of Muenster.

Endres completes his basic flying here October 31 with a class of approximately 170 aviation cadets, and is to report next week to the Air Corps advanced flying school at Phoenix, Ariz. for the final 10 weeks of training as an aviation cadet before receiving his commission as a second lieutenant.

Upon receiving his wings and a commission in the Air Corps Reserve he will be assigned to an Air Corps tactical unit or to an Army flying school as an instructor.

Today's graduation from the Moffett Field Air Corps Basic Flying School marks the completion of 20 weeks of Army Air Corps pilot training for Endres, who arrived at this field August 18 after primary flight instruction at the Allan-Hancock College of Aeronautics, Santa Maria, Calif.

He is a graduate of Corpus Christi Academy and later studied at Texas A. & M. College and North Texas State Teachers College. Prior to enlisting as a cadet in June, he had flown 35 hours under the C. A. A. pilot training program.

Pupils Enjoy Holiday Tuesday While Teachers Attend Conference

Rural schools of Cooke, Denton, Collin and Grayson counties had a holiday Tuesday so that teachers could attend an all-day district elementary education conference in Denton.

The conference, sponsored jointly by Texas State Teachers College for Women and North Texas State Teachers college, was designed to cover by demonstration and informal discussion the elementary program of the 12-year school system.

Superintendent Randolph O'Brien authorized the holiday in this county to comply with a request by S. O. Murdock, state deputy superintendent, with headquarters in Denton. Murdock likewise has supervision over rural schools in Denton, Collin and Grayson counties.

Muenster's five teachers, Virgil Lee Welch, J. E. Gray, Miss Charles Bradshaw, Miss Mary Wiedeman and Miss Elfreda Luke, attended the meeting.

Miss Josephine Hirshey of Dallas, was the weekend guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hirshey.

STOMACH AILMENT SENDS JACOB PAGEL TO HOSPITAL SUNDAY

Jacob Pagel, local grocer, was reported improved and apparently out of danger Wednesday, following a serious stomach illness after a hemorrhage Saturday afternoon. His condition grew steadily worse until Sunday afternoon when he was rushed to a Gainesville hospital for emergency treatment. According to reports from members of his family Wednesday he will probably be able to return home this week end, however, he will spend many more days in bed and will be on a strict diet.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pagel of Smithville, visited at his bedside Monday and his wife remained with him during the week.

15 Join K-C Ranks Sunday At District Degree Ceremonies

Fifteen young men of Gainesville, Muenster, Denison and Sherman were received into the Knights of Columbus at a district initiation in Gainesville last Sunday, October 26. Honoring the memory of a pioneer member of the Gainesville council the group of candidates was named the F. X. Sched class.

The event was marked by a full day program. Members and candidates gathered at the K of C hall at 9 o'clock then attended 10 o'clock mass at St. Mary's church in a body. At 1 o'clock they returned to the council chamber for the second and third degrees of initiation. The first degree had been held the previous Thursday night in the Denison council's hall. Ceremonies were followed by a supper and social gathering in the Lindsay community hall at 6 o'clock.

The initiation was honored by a large representation of the district membership and a delegation of visiting Knights from Fort Worth besides Supreme Warden and Past State Deputy C. K. Walsh of Wichita Falls, Oklahoma's Past State Deputy Matt Theisen of Muskogee, and District Deputy Crumley of Fort Worth. Herbert Meurer, local district deputy, conferred the honor of knighthood upon the new members.

Muenster's candidates in the class were Richard Trachte, Ray Fuhrmann and Charles Bernauer.

MUENSTER CHURCH TO CONDUCT MISSION WEEK OF NOV. 16-23

The week of November 16-23 will be mission week at Muenster's Sacred Heart Church, according to an announcement made by Father Brown, pastor.

Services are to be conducted by two Franciscan Fathers, Rev. Honoratus Bonzelet, O. F. M., and Rev. Servatius Ritter, O. F. M., of Chicago.

Pointing out that the object of a mission is to offer extraordinary opportunities for hearing the word of God and reflecting on the serious side of life, the pastor urges all members of the parish to arrange their affairs so that it will be possible for them to attend. Non-Catholic friends are also invited, he said. For them the mission is an excellent opportunity to become better acquainted with Catholic doctrine.

The last mission conducted in the local church was during the latter part of 1936.

Disagreeable weather seems to have set in for an indefinite siege. Rain came again Friday of last week and, except for two rather pleasant days this week, has been consistently bad. Friday's rain of .19 inches was followed by 1.35 on Saturday and .15 on Sunday. Clouds continued to hang around, bringing another 1.5 between Wednesday evening and Thursday 8 a. m.

The excessive moisture has become a serious problem to many farmers who still lack a few acres of getting their grain planted. Some were fortunate enough to finish their jobs Wednesday and Thursday of last week before rain returned. Those whose fields had poor drainage are still waiting for a chance. A few farmers are reported to have corn still left in the field.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Swifczynski of Olney, Ill., arrived Friday for a visit with his parents and other relatives.

Quota is 4 Car-Loads; Prices are 20 Per Cent Higher Than in 1940

Another Thanksgiving turkey marketing and packing program for this community begins Monday, November 3. The market officially opens on that day and, if a sufficient number of birds is received, dressing and packing will also begin. As during recent years, the program is conducted by Wilson and Company of Oklahoma City. The Farmers Marketing Association provides only packing and refrigerating facilities. Roy Callahan of Oklahoma City, will again be in charge.

For more than a week Callahan and Rudy Hellman were working the territory to find birds and establish dealer connections. As a result of their survey they expect fewer turkeys but better quality than last year. Heavy Spring rains which caused serious losses in young flocks also produced better vegetation for the survivors to thrive on. In spite of a more extensive territory they expect only about four car-loads of dressed birds as compared with 5½ car-loads in the 1940 Thanksgiving season. The Christmas packing program will produce another 4 car-loads as compared with 6½ last year, they predict.

Prices on the average will be 20 per cent higher, according to word from Wilson's Chicago office. On that basis the price should be 18 to 20 cents, Hellman said.

Wilson will have three representatives here for the program, an accountant and a dressed bird grader besides Callahan, who is general supervisor. John Herr, Joe Horn and George Jetzelsberger will assist them as live grader, weigher and packing room foreman respectively.

The latter three, along with Rudy Hellman spent Tuesday at a special one-day session at the Wilson plant in Oklahoma City.

Grading this year will be more rigid than in the past because of more rigid specifications imposed by the Pure Food and Drug department.

Should a dressed bird be found to have lice, especially sores or marks of disease, the entire crate of birds is subject to rejection. Packers are trying to avoid such penalties by special care in grading live birds. That policy will be in effect here, Hellman said, and farmers are asked to cooperate by leaving defective turkeys at home.

COUNTY AGENT SETS MEETING TO DISCUSS CONSERVATION AREA

Efforts to establish a definite soil conservation practice area in this community were begun this week by County Agent Albert Brient. The locality favored is a section of the Brushy Elm watershed east of Muenster.

This unit is to be the third in the district, Brient said. The two already established are near Montague and the Pecan Creek project near Gainesville. He will return here Monday at 3 p. m. for a meeting to explain the benefits of a project and the method of procedure. Farmers living east of town are especially urged to attend.

The farmer has everything to win and nothing to lose in the soil conservation program, Brient said. The first move is to organize an area and file application. Thereafter technical advisers of the Soil Conservation service will consider with each farmer the characteristics of his own land and prescribe a method of improvement. If the farmer likes the plan he can follow it, however, he is not under obligation to do so.

Work is to be done by the farmer himself, but it is possible that NYA assistance will be secured for some of the hard work. An application for NYA funds has already been submitted to the proper authorities. Farmers, themselves, must furnish power and tools for the work whether or not they get NYA assistance.

In summing up Brient said technical help, and perhaps manual help, is assured by forming a project, but such help cannot be secured without an organization such as will be discussed at Monday's meeting.

Soil conservation work in the district is due to begin within the next few days. Members of the soil conservation service will set up their office in the Gainesville city hall on November 1.

"SLOW POKE" DRIVING

Texas' new speed laws have this significant paragraph:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to operate a vehicle upon the public highways or streets so as to willfully obstruct or impede the normal movement of traffic. Police are authorized to enforce this provision by directions to drivers."

The Enterprise plant had its first taste of real defense program procedure last week trying to replace one insignificant piece of equipment. The item was an inking roller for the proof press. Actual value of the material in it is no more than two bits. But before the manufacturer could ship, he had to have a statement to the effect that it was an emergency inventory item. After that it was delivered promptly. Newspapers, somehow, are on the priorities list. In an emergency they can get fair service provided the items are available and the order includes a sufficient amount of red tape.

It was news to us that inking rollers are affected by the defense program, and we still haven't learned just why. We suspect however, that glycerine, which is used in explosives as well as in inking rollers, is the real answer. (Most people, seeing a roller, think it is made of soft rubber. Actually it's made of such humble stuff as glycerine, molasses, and Borax, plus a few ingredients I don't remember and a few that the manufacturer would not disclose—trade secrets, you know.)

Speaking of explosives, how come so many firecrackers have been blasting around here lately? In the first place how do they happen to be available at this time of the year? And how does it happen that a material so vital to defense is permitted to be wasted on anything so non-essential as fireworks? Unless these crackers are old stock the government must have overlooked something. It's unthinkable that anyone is still producing fireworks.

Perhaps Hallowe'en has something to do with the appearance of firecrackers. To our knowledge that isn't a traditional fireworks day, but what difference does that make if a fellow likes to shoot 'em and can get 'em?

The mention of Hallowe'en recalls the local pastor's reminder last Sunday that the evening is not one of special license for the destruction of property. Unfortunately, there are people whose idea of fun is to satisfy a pet grudge by causing some sort of damage. That's being crude, not amusing.

Everybody likes to have a laugh and this town will be glad to welcome a lot of them Saturday morning... and it will be equally disgusted with every trace of vandalism. For the pranksters who intend to make the rounds Friday, here's an idea that might be worth thinking over. Don't do anything you would be ashamed to admit before the whole community the next day. It's better to hear people remark "that's a clever trick" than "what stupid barbarian caused that mess?" Let's have a clever Hallowe'en or none at all.

Have you ever heard an excerpt of "The Star Spangled Banner" over the radio. If what you heard lately is true, you haven't — you heard the entire verse. I did not know until then (and I do not know whether the information is reliable) that the number, because it is the national anthem, is always accorded the honor of a complete rendition.

Nevertheless, every time I hear the Star Spangled Banner I wonder why it continues to hold that distinction. The thought is OK and the incident it immortalizes is truly inspiring. But the sad fact is that not one person out of ten can sing it. No foolin', how many have a vocal range including the bass profundo of "Oh say, can you see" and the high tenor of "The rocket's red glare"? There are lots of patriotic songs we can sing that are worthy of the honor. God Bless America isn't a bad choice.

The boys at Bud's station had quite a surprise the other day when they lifted the hood of a car and found a hen perched up on the motor. She had rode only a mile or so but that distance was something considering that Carl "Boob" Schil-

Neglect Will Take Profits Out of Milk

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 29.—The opportunity for Texas' milk producers to capitalize on tremendous crops of home-grown feed and the annual demand for milk for defense purposes will be seriously minimized if milk producers do not pay strict attention to State and Federal Sanitary regulations covering the handling of dairy products.

"Neglect has already taken the profits out of many a Texas' dairy farmer's operation," says M. E. McMurray, Manager of the Texas Dairy Products Association. Qualifying the statement McMurray says, "Since May 1 creameries doing business in Texas have dumped 7,240 cans of unfit cream in the sewer or returned it to farmers or buyers. This condemned cream would have made more than 8 carloads, or $57,195, worth of butter. Credit to the loss side, also 7,500,000 pounds of milk returned by Texas' cheese factories to farmers as unfit for use, based on present market values, represents another loss of $18,750. This milk if used would have accounted for 39 carloads of badly needed cheese. The total loss represents all the milk that 3,249 cows would give in one year with an additional loss of time, feed and wasted effort. Coming as it does when there is a distinct need for every ounce of dairy products for defense use, it is a severe indictment of the dairy farmer."

Texas is not alone in this dilemma of carelessness. Practically no state in the Union is exempt. The national loss from poor quality cream and milk is estimated as high as $40,000,000 annually which makes quality improvement the No. 1 issue facing the dairy industry. The government agencies will accept no half-way methods. The dairy industry is faced with cleaning up or getting out. Observance of Federal regulations covering milk production does not involve any elaborate lay out of equipment for sanitation. On the contrary, the principle requirement is a little more attention, hard work and hot water.

SILVERFISH RELISH BOOKBINDINGS AND DELICATE FABRICS

College Station, October 28.—Less familiar to housewives than perhaps other insect pests, the silverfish may do much harm to bookbindings and thin fabrics.

According to Cameron Siddall, entomologist of the A. and M. College Extension Service, silverfish feed upon the sizing in paper, bookbindings, wall paper and starchy insulation materials. They eat holes to some extent in thin fabrics, especially those made of rayon. Starched clothing and lace curtains may be ruined by the insects as they extract the starch from them. They prefer vegetable foods having a high starch or sugar content and are very fond of moist wheat flour.

The bodies of the silverfish are clothed with shining scales. The more common of two known species has a uniform silver or pearl gray color and the other, called the fire brat, is distinguished by dusky markings on the back.

Siddall says that silverfish thrive best in warm, damp basements, but cause serious harm almost anywhere, even in rooms and attics of country homes which never are artificially heated. Usually books stored in damp rooms are most seriously injured by the insects. Fresh pyrethrum powder sprinkled freely and often on shelves and books is a common method of preventing injury. Books, starched clothing, stiffened silk and similar fabrics may be stored in tight trunks or boxes and treated with paradichlorobenzene. Liberal use of this liquid in loose bureau drawers, cupboards and closets will act as a strong repellent but usually the gas will not become concentrated enough to kill them.

A safe and effective spray for home use is a saturated solution of paradichlorobenzene in carbon tetrachloride. The formula of a satisfactory poison bait may be obtained from county agricultural and home demonstration agents, or upon request to the Extension Service at College Station.

Food For Freedom Campaign Requires More Milk and Eggs

Cooke county farmers were asked today to do their part in the "Food-For-Freedom" campaign by increasing their production of milk by 1,400,000 pounds and eggs by 130,000 dozen in 1942.

Tentative production goals set for the county are announced by the Cooke county USDA Defense Board as follows:

40,230,000 pounds of milk, increase of 1,400,000 pounds over 1941.

1,430,000 dozen eggs, increase of 130,000 dozen over 1941.

10 per cent increase over 1941 in number of hogs for market or to be slaughtered on the farm.

11,950 milk cows, increase of 340.

Number of family gardens—2750 in 1942.

Corn—25,800 acres, increase of 400 acres.

Feed grains (oats, barley and Grain Sorghum), increase of 8 per cent.

Vegetables for sale—400 acres in 1942.

Sweet Potatoes—285 acres in 1942.

Peanuts harvested—2,400 acres in 1942, increase of 400 acres.

Sheep and lambs—6 per cent increase in 1942.

1,500 acres of soy-beans for crushing in 1942.

100 acres of flax.

"These goals are minimum rather than maximum goals" J. T. Biffle, chairman of the county board, pointed out.

"Perhaps the farmers of the county can produce more than enough to meet the goals. If they can, then that's all to the good. The county USDA Defense Board considered the goals, which were submitted to us by the State USDA Defense Board, the local situation seems to warrant accepting the goals as set by the State Committee."

The principal factors to consider in setting the goals, the board chairman said, are the actual productive capacity and outlets in the county. It is important, he pointed out, that the state board and the Secretary of Agriculture know definitely how much production of the needed foods can be expected.

"We have been promised that the U. S. Department of Agriculture will use its powers to maintain fair prices for the products needed in the Battle of Food," Mr. Biffle declared.

"Production of these foods is important—just as important as winning battles on the sea and on the land. I know that Cooke county farmers will do their part in the production of the greatest food crop in American agricultural history."

Postal Chess Game Began 40 Years Ago; Contenders' Grandson Now Carry On

The longest chess game on record is being played out by correspondence between S. Truman Phelps, attorney for the State Liquor Control Board, and W. C. Roebuck, Jr., of Pine Bluff, Arkansas. The game was begun forty years ago by the grandfathers of the two present contenders. Only two moves on a side had been made when Grandfather Roebuck died on August 3, 1903. Records of the game were found by the younger Roebuck recently, in going over his grandfather's papers. He located Phelps and challenged him to play the contest out.

The final round in the game began with no advantage to either contender, for the original players had made sound and conventional moves. The issue will give Phelps the championship of Jefferson county, Arkansas, as well as of the liquor control board, or it will add the latter championship to Roebuck's honors.

Bits o' Fun

Visitor: Do you like reciting, dear?
Child: Oh, no, I hate it, really. But Mummy makes me do it when she wants people to go.

"Thank you for the balloon, uncle."
"Oh, it was a very small gift, my dear!"

"That's what I thought, but mother said I was to thank you just the same."

"My dear, I never imagined you would marry the man you did," said Gladys.

"Neither did I, my dear," replied her friend. "I disliked his ways, but I adored his means."

A silk hosiery manufacturer and an aluminum household utensil manufacturer sat next to each other at the club. Both remained quiet for many minutes, gazing with worried and beaten expressions into space. Finally one of them gave vent to a long-drawn-out sigh. The other looked around sympathetically and said:

"You're telling me!"

Willie: Mamma, do people who lie go to heaven?
Mother: Why, of course not, Willie.

A department store recently put in escalators. A young attendant noticing that a woman shopper had waited some time by the device, walked up to her and said, "May I be of service to you, madam?"

"No, thank you," was her reply. "I am going to the basement and was just waiting for the steps to reverse."

She went into a shop to choose a present for her husband. She had the salesman to ransack the department, pulling everything out for possible approval.

"I want to give him a surprise," she said, "what would you advise?"
The salesman said, wearily, "If I were you I should jump out from behind him and shout 'Boo!'"

AWARD of Merit

These advertisements advising our customers on the use of gas service were selected among the best examples of public utility advertising during the past year.

(a message especially for mothers)

Yes Sir, he's "tops"!

... and his welfare is an important responsibility.

Children live in a different world

...and the climate is 5 to 10 degrees colder!

THE FLOOR is the most popular winter playground. Have you ever asked yourself, "How is the climate down there?" So far as healthful comfort is concerned, it is a different world as floor-level temperature than it is in the comfort zone in which grown-ups move about in the household.

In guarding your family's health against winter illness, give serious thought to proper heating. Give your floor the "Heating Test." Note the temperature at floor level and compare it to the temperature at five-foot height. You'll find it to be 3 to 10 degrees COLDER at floor level, depending upon the manner in which you heat your home.

Heat your entire home and live all over it this winter. Provide adequate heat in every room and at all times avoid danger of uneven, unhealthy temperatures.

THIS is not an ordinary advertisement. It offers neither goods nor merchandise for sale.

Its purpose is to remind you of the added obligation of parents during the winter season. At the same time we are ever mindful of our own responsibility in keeping your gas service dependable so that you may have the protection of adequate heat to safeguard your family's health.

You see, we too, have children.

We know of the anxious hours in every mother's life when illness threatens those she loves. We have watched with alarm a child's mounting fever of serious illness that started as a simple, common cold. With sleepless, fear-filled eyes we've watched through the night into the sunrise of a new day—as across our worried mind flashed that grim published warning—one death every four minutes from pneumonia! It was then that "prevention is the best remedy" impressed us with its full significance. It was then we recognized the vital importance of guarding against the simple, common cold.

Don't give a cold an even break! See to it that temperatures at floor level are healthfully comfortable for your children during the winter season.

A PRAISEWORTHY SPIRIT

The recent institution of a schedule of Protestant religious services is the most noteworthy happening in this town in recent years. There was no fanfare, no elaborate ceremony. A group of persons simply got their heads together and arranged for a meeting place and a minister.

From this humble beginning definite and far-reaching benefits are to be expected. Members of the newly organized congregation will be better pleased with Muenster, because henceforth this town will be their religious, as well as their social and economic home. And the town itself will be better because it offers to a greater number of its residents facilities for practicing their religion.

Leaders of the movement were delighted with the splendid cooperation they received in their venture. Realizing that this community is traditionally Catholic and is more than ninety per cent Catholic today, they expected to encounter some resentment. Instead they found a most welcome attitude. Business men and farmers praised the idea. The school board, which is composed almost entirely of Catholics, unhesitatingly granted the use of its building as a church for as long as it is wanted. Furthermore there is many a devout Catholic ready today to contribute toward the erection of a Protestant church.

Every Muenster resident who has the slightest touch of civic pride can look upon this incident with a glow of satisfaction. Here is the kind of spirit our forefathers hoped for in their dreams of religious freedom, a spirit that not only permits, but encourages and aids every person to worship according to the dictates of his conscience. Here is a fine application of Christian tolerance which overlooks doctrinal conflict completely. It makes allowance for the inevitable fact that sincere Protestants and Catholics both think the others are in error, but prescribes mutual respect for one another's sincerity.

We hopefully anticipate that the feeling of friendly understanding manifest here will continue to grow.

LOG - JAM

"Industrial management will never strike against defense."

In spite of uncertainties of what the future holds in the form of unnecessary restrictions and controls, industry has rolled up its sleeves and gone to work in record time. And it will continue to work, come what may. Such is the promise that NAM president Walter D. Fuller recently made to the nation.

According to Mr. Fuller, however, industry could do an even better job than it is doing if some of the uncertainties were removed. At the present time, for example, management "wonders how important defense production really is, when government sits blandly by while two groups of labor leaders make defense plants the battleground for jurisdictional warfare.

"It builds armaments for the defense of freedom, while the principles and institutions on which that freedom rests are progressively being sacrificed. It worries whether we may not be preparing to defend the assassinated corps of freedom rather than our liberties themselves.

"It sees, for the first time in the Republic's history, the individual's right to work made subject to the arbitrary whims of private organization, all with the implied sanction of the government itself.

"Here is the basic log-jam of defense... Unless American industrial management has freedom to pursue its function of free enterprise and unless the American worker has the right to work, neither can contribute its 'full participation in the national defense program' which the President requests, and which the people of the nation are entitled to get."—Industrial Press.

Government... can curb abuses in the field of labor as it curbs abuses in other fields—by penalizing those abuses and making them illegal... It can punish union leaders, as it punishes ordinary mortals, for conspiring to restrain trade. It can, by proper legislation, enormously reduce labor racketeering. All that is required is the courage to act.—The New York Times.

SPARE THAT TREE!

Economic Highlights

Criticism of this nation's arms effort continues to mount. According to one of the latest surveys, it will be another year before our military production rivals that of England. Inasmuch as we have three times the population of Britain, and have many times the resources of all kinds, it is apparent that we are still a long, long way from anything resembling an "all out" armament program.

In some quarters it is believed that our actual production may be greater than official announcements indicate—that, in other words, the extent of our arms output is being deliberately played down as a matter of policy. Whether this is true or not, however, a great many authorities are convinced that some radical changes must be effected, before this nation's "arsenal of democracy" dream is even partially realized.

There are three definite factions. Number one is the government. Here involved in the defense program there has been an excessive overlapping of activity. There has been too much divided responsibility. Some of the more extreme New Dealers, according to informed critics, have put their ideological ambitions ahead of anything else, at the expense of military production. A number of much-touted experts who have been given key jobs, have proven failures. And the age-old vices of bureaucracy—slothfulness and lack of initiative—have been retarding elements.

The second factor is industry. By and large, it has responded well to the demands of the emergency. But certain important segments, consciously or otherwise, seem to have been unwilling or unable to abandon the "business as usual" idea. This segment of industry, in the opinion of its critics, has been too cautious, too fearful of losing profits. That has delayed the harsh change-over from a peacetime to a wartime basis of operation.

The third factor is labor. Here, again, an important segment has put personal power and profit ahead of the nation. Strikes in defense industries have cost the country millions of man-days of work. They have prevented the manufacture of unknown quantities of planes, tanks and other weapons of war. In these days, a strike carried on by a few workers in a vital plant, can stop production in a hundred plants. A late example is the strike in a plant which produces transmissions for motor vehicles. That brought the production of trucks, tanks, jeep cars and other motorized equipment to a standstill. This particular strike was purely a jurisdictional disagreement between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O.

It is reported that the President is considering a tremendous "victory drive" involving the spending of $50,000,000,000 a year. Some of the more level-headed friends of labor are telling it that continued strikes will result in disaster for the trade-union movement. There are rumors to the effect that production of heavy consumer goods, such as motor cars, may come to a virtual stop inside a few months. What will come of all this remains to be seen. In any case, it is plain that the tempo of America's war effort must be tremendously accelerated if we are to produce the goods which the beleaguered Allies abroad must have if Hitler is to be stopped.

The hand of Hitler can be seen in the recent changes which have taken place in the Japanese government. And time may prove that Hitler won a considerable diplomatic victory when the moderate Konoye government gave up the ghost, and the saber-rattling government of Axis-admiring General Tojo came in.

The advantage of this to Hitler is clear. First, if this country is forced to face a naval effort in the Pacific, its naval efforts in the Atlantic will necessarily be limited. We haven't got a two-nation navy, and we won't have one for four or more years. It is unquestioned that a U. S.-Japanese naval war would be of immense service to the Axis.

Second, the new Japanese government constitutes a threat to Asiatic Russia. Rumors fly about that Japan may seize the vital port of Vladivostok. And the only fresh troops Russia has are in Eastern garrisons. If Japan offered no danger, Russia could bring them and their supplies to bolster her weakened forces in Europe. But if Japan threatens, she is between the devil and the deep blue sea.

In Washington, the Japanese change of government made a comparatively small stir. As columnist Paul Mallon put it, "The fluctuating wrath of Tokyo caused considerably less than the expected reaction. Over-committed in China, torn with political dissension within, threatened with economic starvation, Tokyo would have to exhibit a lot of wrath to frighten anyone."

It is an open secret that many high-ranking U. S. naval officers would welcome a naval showdown with Nippon. They think we could win that war in fairly quick time. But, should it come, our aid-to-England program would certainly have to be slowed down to a walk for the duration of hostilities in the Pacific.

LIFE

Man comes into the world without his consent and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contraries and misunderstandings. In his infancy he is an angel. In his boyhood he is a devil. In his manhood he is everything from a lizard up. In his duties he is a damned fool. If he raises a family he is a chump. If he raises a check, he is a thief, and the Law raises hell with him. If he is a poor man he is a poor manager, and has no sense. If he is rich, he is dishonest and considered smart. If he is in politics, he is a grafter and a crook. If he is out of politics, you can't place him as he is an "Undesirable Citizen." If he goes to church, he is a hypocrite. If he stays away from church, he is a sinner. If he donates for foreign missions, he does it for show; if he doesn't, he is "stings" and a "Tight Wad." When he first comes into the world, everybody wants to kiss him. If he dies young there was a great future before him. If he lives to a ripe old age, he is in the way—only living to save funeral expenses. What's the use?

New sailors are urged to drink limeade. It is the only thing that tastes good both ways.

Good Management

as Important as Time-Locks

The banker can easily protect the money that is in the bank by means of strong vaults, time-locks, burglar alarms, insurance, etc.

But the real job which calls for all the banking knowledge, experience, intelligence, and strength of character which he possesses, is that of safeguarding the bank's money while it is out of the bank—in loans and investments.

Good management must throw a shield around every dollar that is out working for the community or that is a part of some of the bank's investments. This means that the banker must use careful judgment in finding a safe job for each one of these dollars. His ability to do this assures safety for the bank's depositors.

MOSAICS

of Sacred Heart High

Edited by Evelyn Wiesman, Marian Starke, August Felderhoff

Latin

The second year Latin class of Sacred Heart received its first issue of the Auxilium Latium this week. Listed in the "honorable mention" column of this copy were the names of these three Latin students: Rose Marie Endres, Lucille Wimmer, and Imelda Felderhoff. They received this honor for having had a grade of ninety per cent or above in a Latin contest held by the Auxilium Latium last year. We hope that this year's Latin class will strive to win first prize and we know the students can do it.

Basket Ball

The Sacred Heart High basket ball team met with its first defeat of the season last Wednesday afternoon, when it played the public school team. All we can say is, "better luck next time boys." The boys have a new addition to their basket ball equipment. This includes a new basket-ball and new baskets.

Typing

The typing students have been making wonderful progress. After having had only two months of typing, some students are able to type as many as twenty words per minute. A new student, Henry Koehler, will receive typing instructions every Tuesday and Thursday during the regular classes and in an extra class outside of school.

Mr. Woodpecker Again

The Mr. Woodpecker, mentioned in last week's column was not satisfied with just one visit but last Friday came back for another visit. He again came down the chimney and this time took the stove pipe leading to the Senior-Junior class room, where he was extracted. He escaped and flew about the room. In attempting to recapture him, a handful of tail feathers were pulled out. If Mr. Woodpecker persists in coming back it will be his own fault, that, if when winter comes he will no longer have any feathers left.

Book-A-Month-Club

For the past two week the students belonging to the "Book-A-Month Club" have been waiting anxiously for their books to come. On Monday morning they were rewarded for their patient waiting. From the look on the faces of the students enrolled in this club they do not regret having joined it. The volumes are marvelous, and the expense is so negligible that those who joined consider themselves fortunate indeed.

From School Papers

The faculty members wish to thank Ray Wilde for the nice letter they received from him concerning his activities at school. They were informed that Ray is a reporter on the staff of "The Rattler", a paper issued by St. Mary's University. It was stated in the Rattler that Ray "is making the students feel like movie stars by snapping their pictures with his candid camera." His article "Sophomore Commerce Students Forming Booster Club" merited a prominent place on the front page of the publication.

The Mount Mirror, published by St. Scholastica College, Atchison, Kansas, which is the Alma Mater of one of our teachers, Sr. M. Agnes, announced that they, with St. Benedict's college, are going to present a play entitled "Berkley Square." It is the story of a young American architect who dreams his way into the days of Queen Anne.

St. Edwards University, Austin, announced that one hundred new books have been added to the library stock in recent weeks. If Sr. Agnes, our librarian, could procure that many books at once, she would think she was in heaven.

Seen and heard about the campus:

Harold Sicking proudly displaying his new pair of cowboy boots.

Dolores Lehmerz giving the girls playing volleyball unwanted advice. Sis Luke, Juanita Weinzapfel, Gladys Wilde, and Johnny Ann Seyler still talking about that wonderful football game they attended last Friday night.

Joe Starke sitting in a corner very solemnly trying to compose some poetry.

Beatrice Rieter always talking about the army and national defense.

Lucille Wimmer's books always falling out of her desk.

The Public School had its first holiday Tuesday, October 28. There was a district teachers meeting at Denton Teachers College. The program included lectures by Dr. McConnell, president of the college, Dr. Hubbard, president of T. S. C. W., and Dr. L. A. Wood, State Superintendent. There was an open forum discussion by the county superintendents from several counties.

An exhibit of a broadcasting program for the Texas School of the Air and other demonstrations of educational interest were to be seen.

The meeting closed with a banquet for all those who cared to stay.

Muenster had a football game October 24, with Myra. Muenster had to put all its little players in for Myra did not have any big players. At the end of the game Muenster

Two sixth graders, Ruby Lee Jennings and Millie Yeakley, are learning to write paragraphs in the English class. Combining the two papers that they handed in read like this:

One day some humming birds came to our house. They were very small and buzzed around all of our flowers like bees. A turnip grew in the garden. It was white and grew from little to big.

Then we moved and guess what! It seemed as if the humming birds followed us, for when we went into our new flower garden we saw the same humming birds again.

A turnip is a vegetable. I like turnips very much. You can boil them and then add cream to them. They go wherever we go. We enjoy eating them.

Miss Bradshaw was riding her horse the other evening and picked up three small children to give them a ride. One was sitting a good ways back on the horse and did not have a blanket to sit on. He went home crying that he didn't like that horse because he had to sit back where the "feathers" were wet.

LINDSAY SCHOOL NEWS

There were no classes at the Lindsay school Tuesday because the teachers attended a teachers' meeting in Denton.

Pupils of the school were glad to welcome back to classes Monday Miss Frances Bengfort and Freddie Neu who had been absent during the past few weeks on account of operations for appendicitis.

A Fire Prevention skit, written by Dorothy Dieter, freshman, was enacted by members of the F. S. Literary Club on Friday, October 24, during a regular weekly meeting.

In a series of volley ball games, Lindsay vs. St. Mary's, Gainesville, the Lindsay teams I and II snatched every victory. The Pep Squad, with Mary Louise as cheer leader, deserves credit for the spirit and enthusiasm its yells put into the team.

The Citizenship Club of the Seventh and Eighth Grades declares the following members 100 per cent courteous: Robert Bezner, Gertrude Bengfort, Dorothy Beyer, Agnes Zimmerer, Georgia Spaeth, Florence Zimmerer, Eugene Mosser, Emilia Hermes, Evelyn Block, Jerome Dieter, Jerome Neu, Beatrice Fuhrmann, Bernard Fuhrmann, and Lucille Fuhrmann.

Lindsay school announces its HONOR ROLL for the first six weeks. Students on the "A" Honor Roll are the following: Lucille Bezner, Gertrude Bengfort, Bettie Lou Bezner, Imelda Bierschenk, Viola Bezner, Rita Hermes, Josephine Bierschenk, Gerald Fuhrmann, and Louise Ann Fuhrmann. The following students are on the "B" Honor Roll: Hubert Bezner, Alphonse Bengfort, Agnes Fuhrmann, Dorothy Dieter, Dorothy Beyer, Lu Ella Arendt, Elizabeth Kuntz, Emma Neusch, Betty Rose Zimmerer, Virginia Fleitmann, and Maria Fuhrmann.

INHERIT SEVEN MILLION CASH

Be Sure That Turkey is 'Ripe' Before Selling
College Station, October 29.—The year's biggest demand for turkeys is in the offing. It is timely, therefore, for producers to go over all marketable birds carefully, much as livestockmen cut out their cattle, says George P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman of the A. and M. College Extension Service. Only those turkeys often referred to as "ripe" are in best condition to go to market.

Growers can determine whether birds have developed well in flesh by feeling the keel along the shoulders and thighs. If they are well fleshed then examine further to see whether they have put on fat. This is best indicated by layers of fat found along the thin feather tract of the breast and of the thigh. Examination should continue to see whether they have developed pin feathers.

Pin feathers, McCarthy explains, cut a turkey in grade probably more than any other thing. If a turkey has not developed pin feathers to the point where they protrude thru the skin and have taken on a fanlike shape, then it can easily be classified as green. Should a turkey of this kind be dressed out a heavy scattering of pin feathers would be found over the breast and on the thigh. The degree of pin feather development easily can be determined by folding back some of the feather tracts along the breast to see whether feathers have developed well in the area, then looking on the inside of the wing to see whether the pin feathers have protruded through the ling was the driver. She even liked the place. She made no attempt to get away when the hood was lifted. Another queer one then hereabouts is the one that walks like a penguin. Obviously it was crippled while a mere chick. Seems to be thriving though. Quite husky and apparently well fed in spite of trouble in getting around.

It was adding insult to injury last week when the fellows were calling Jimmy Lehnertz a draft dodger. He was unfortunately timely in running a piece of steel through his foot exactly two weeks before his scheduled induction into the service. Nevertheless he expects to be navigating satisfactorily on induction day.

What with current reports on military life and world events the thought of entering military service nowadays is anything but cheerful. Chance remarks made by boys on furlough indicate camp life isn't quite as rosy as the army would have us believe, whereas the thought of war is even worse. Facing two such alternatives, young men just getting started in a successful business career have to either sell out or make other sacrifices. No wonder the American youth is peeved at Hitler and every other person or circumstance responsible for this mess.

The time is coming, too, when regular citizens will be acquiring a multitude of pet peeves. The strain of new taxes is bad enough in itself. Then comes one shortage after another adding inconvenience to burden. For instance, copper and brass are running low and two items already affected are zippers and containers for lipstick. Women aren't going to like that. Housewives won't like it either when shortages force the price on lard, eggs, and dairy products as high as a kite. All that and more is coming, says the OPM.

There is no doubt about it, war is hell. It's bad enough for those who enjoy a safe distance from the line of fire and are concerned only with the sacrifices they have to make. It's worse for the flowering young manhood that must suffer and die.

Local 4-H Girls Have Interesting Program On Annual Achievement Day

Annual Achievement Day was observed by the local 4-H Club girls Monday. An interesting program, open to the public, took place during the regular meeting of the club in the parochial school basement in the morning and the articles were left on display during the day.

Handcraft, baked goods, canned foods, sewing and records of achievements were on exhibit and each girl who displayed an article gave a short talk on how it was made.

Miss Nette Shultz, county agent, members of the Garden Club, mothers and others interested in 4-H work were in attendance.

Miss Shultz addressed the girls, using as her topic, "What a 4-H Club Girl Is." During the business session Miss Lillian Wimmer, president, presided.

An interesting discussion by Miss Shultz and the girls was that on making a frame garden and it was decided that this work be taken up at the next meeting when such a garden will be made. It will be taken care of by the girls.

Several of the girls gave reports on the annual club picnic-outing in Gainesville last Saturday. It was attended by 25 local members, chaperoned by Mrs. Tony Grimminger and Mrs. Rudy Hellman. Weaving learned at the outing was demonstrated by Thelma Kathman to the assemblage.

Harold Pembroke had his tonsils removed at the local clinic Friday and has recovered normally.

SIGNS AND BY-LAWS READY FOR MEMBERS OF GAME PRESERVE

Signs to identify member farms in the South Muenster Game management association are now on hand, Rudy Hellman, secretary, disclosed Wednesday. In cooperation with the A. & M. Extension Service, he urges all members to procure and post their signs as soon as convenient.

The signs are made of sheet metal, 10x18 inches, with "Game Preserve Demonstration under supervision of Extension Service of A. & M. College" lettered in black on a white background. The price is 20 cents, the actual cost of manufacture and transportation, and represents the only expense of a person's membership in the organization.

A copy of rules and by-laws for the association is also ready for the members. It was mimeographed under the direction of County Agent Albert Brient and will reach members through the mail this week.
