Electric Co-op Has 2937 Members on 1185 Miles of Line

Recent deadlocks in the Korean peace parley seem to indicate that it is intended to serve one purpose only, that is to give the communists whatever time they want to build up for another big offensive. By now it is abundantly clear that the reds have no desire to arrive at a reasonable settlement. They'll agree to a cease fire, of course, if our representatives will accept their absurd demands, but they no doubt realize as well as the UN representatives that such demands can not and will not be accepted.

In connection with the disagreement, however, there is one point on which we must admit that the reds actually have some basis for their demands. No less a dignitary than our own secretary of state can be credited with putting the words into their mouths. During the MacArthur investigation he said that our mission will have been accomplished if we drive the aggressors back across the 38th parallel. His ill advised remark certainly isn't giving us any help in the controversy.

Fortunately the remark does not carry much weight with our top brass. We're pleased that they aren't willing to give up an inch of ground that was won in battle. And we'll be even more pleased when the eventual break comes and reveals that the main red objection in this farce conference was only to trick us into giving up a desirable defensive position.

Every day the scheme of the communists becomes more apparent. They're maneuvering for advantages they could not attain in battle. When it serves their purpose they'll start the fighting all over again. . . unless they can horse trade us out of every objective they sought in battle, which would amount to a humiliating surrender and a disgraceful betrayal on our part.

We might as well face the cold fact that it will take a lot more fighting before our job is finished in the Orient. That's because our only just and reasonable objective is so much greater than we can ever hope to attain by negotiating with the reds.

Our goal should be to help undo the harm we have done to both China and Korea. Our bungling turned both of those countries over to the reds and conscience demands that we stay with the job until both countries have been liberated. Its a gigantic job, but we brought it on ourselves and we have a duty to see it through. Christian principle, by which we claim to abide, requires that we make restitution for the injury we have caused, and it applies to nations as well as individuals.

To accomplish this it's high time that we start making Moscow swallow a little of its own medicine. . . to back Chiang in an attack on Red China just like Russia has backed its puppets in all their attacks.

Ever since the end of World War II America has been a fire department rushing all over the world to put out fires set off by the Kremlin fire bugs. The Greek incident the Berlin blockade, the Korean war, the economic and political distress caused all over Western Europe are all parts of a monstrous plan to make us fight and spend our way to ruin. We countered with aid to Greece, the Berlin Air Lift, our campaign to Korea, the Marshall plan and the present European defense organization. We're wearing our fire department out while Stalin uses a few matches.

Well why not fight fire with fire, especially when it can serve the multiple purpose correcting our former folly, putting some wear and tear on Joe's fire department, and swinging 400 million Chinese to our side of the fight? Backing Chiang in an attack on the mainland can do all of that . . . and eventually stop communism in Asia.

The merit of such a plan is so obvious that it cannot pass. (Continued on Page 10)

The week of August 19-25 has been designated by Governor Allan Shivers as Rural Electrification Week in Texas. Joining with the other seventy-six rural electric co-operatives all over Texas is the Cooke County Co-operative Association at Muenster. This member-owned business had its beginning in April, 1939, when 197 miles of line were first electrified to serve 375 members. Since that time 988 miles of line have been built to a total of 1,185, and today the Co-operative is serving 2,937 members.

For twenty years prior to 1935, private interests worked with the idea of rural electrification, and they came up with the answer: It couldn't be done. The Rural Electrification Administration was set up as an agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, it was established on May 11, 1935, by Executive Order, and was authorized to make loans at 2% interest over a 25-year period. Again the private power companies were offered the job, and again they refused. Then the job was turned over to the farmers and ranchers.

In the Cooke County area, it was men like J. W. Hess, J. M. Weinzapfel, Bernard Voth, Henry Fette, J. H. Otto, Casey Jones, R. M. Felty, Joe Bengfort, W. L. Young and J. C. O'Brien, who started the ball rolling. They worked many hours, giving freely of their time and energy until they had signed up 400 members, and then they applied to the Rural Electrification Administration for a loan to build 200 miles of lines. On the 10th day of October, 1938, the loan was granted and work was soon underway on the construction of lines for the Cooke County Electric Co-operative Association.

This same story was repeated 77 times over Texas and more than 1,000 times all over the United States, Alaska, and (Continued on Page 10)

He was in constant demand as a speaker and during his more than fourteen years with Lone Star made many appearances at civic and church meetings through the gas company system in Texas and Oklahoma.

"Jim Floyd's aim was to be of service to his fellow man and he projected this attribute in his business, his church, his social and community affairs. He entered into all his activities with eagerness and enthusiasm and was the exemplification of a Christian Gentleman, never too busy to help a friend. He was a credit to the industry which he served and he shall be sorely missed by his many friends and associates."

'Poss' Swirczynski Seriously Hurt in Shawnee Accident

Herman 'Poss' Swirczynski is in a critical condition in Saint Anthony's Hospital, Oklahoma City, with a fractured skull and possible brain injuries sustained in an accident in Shawnee, Oklahoma, about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

A report from his wife shortly before noon Wednesday revealed that he was still unconscious but a general improvement in his condition was indicated by his pulse and temperature, both of which were near normal.

The accident occurred in the Kraft cheese factory at Shawnee. Shut down some time ago, the plant's equipment is now being removed. Swirczynski, engineer at the Muenster cheese factory, was at the plant to remove valves, gauges and various other items which had been purchased for use in the local plant.

All that is known about his injury is that immediately after hearing the noise of falling pipes others rushed into the boiler room and found Swirczynski unconscious on the floor. It isn't known whether he was hit by the pipes or fell in his haste to get off the step ladder and out of the way. His son, Max, working on the opposite side of the boiler, was the first to reach him, but was not able to see how the accident happened.

Plant personnel immediately had the injured man removed to the Shawnee hospital and phoned Rudy Hellman at the local plant. He called Mrs. Swirczynski and the two of them immediately rushed to the Shawnee hospital. There they were told that Swirczynski was critically hurt and needed the attention of a specialist. Then they arranged for the transfer to the Oklahoma City hospital.

His skull operation is being postponed until he has had time to recover from shock.

THINKING OUT LOUD

by Lynn Landrum

Joe Jackson

Eight men are running for Congress to succeed Ed Gossett in the Thirteenth Congressional District (Wichita County, Denton County, Cooke, Wilbarger, Montague, Hardeman, etc.). So far as the column knows, all eight of them are respectable citizens with clean records.

But it will not be overlooked that the Thirteenth District has in this election a very real opportunity to do a signal service to the State of Texas. The Democratic administration at Washington has taken from the school children of Texas the tidelands. It deserves to be told that Texas is utterly angry and utterly disgusted with the treatment it has received. The Thirteenth District has the opportunity to send that word to Washington.

All-Texan

The Thirteenth District is all Texan and all-American. And it has an honorable record in defense of the tidelands title of Texas. Ed Gossett put up a magnificent fight, recently climaxed with a magnificent victory on the floor of the House at Washington.

Now, there should be no unfairness to the candidates of this election. It is understood that all eight of them are in favor of the return of the tidelands to Texas.

But if the Thirteenth District really wants to make the cold chills run up and down the backs of the Queer Deal politicians in Washington, it will turn out a whacking big vote for Joe Jackson. Nothing else will do so much to make Harry Truman chew the staff of his pen before he signs a veto on the tidelands return. Nothing else in this race would have a greater effect upon the forthcoming Democratic National Convention, when it gets ready to decide whether it is going to let Harry Truman renominate himself.

Quite a Man

Mr. Jackson is quite a man. He talks the language of a straight shooter, and he shoots with both barrels when he has the target clearly in view:

"If Mr. Truman were running your business, the way he is running the country's business, you would be bankrupt right now. If he were your employer, and you were working for him, you would be out of a job at this very moment. . . . The whole platform of the Fair Deal party is against our fundamental principles. We believe in State's rights. We know the tidelands belong to the State. We don't believe in socialized medicine. We believe in economy in government spending. We believe in free enterprise. We believe in clean, decent, moral government . . .

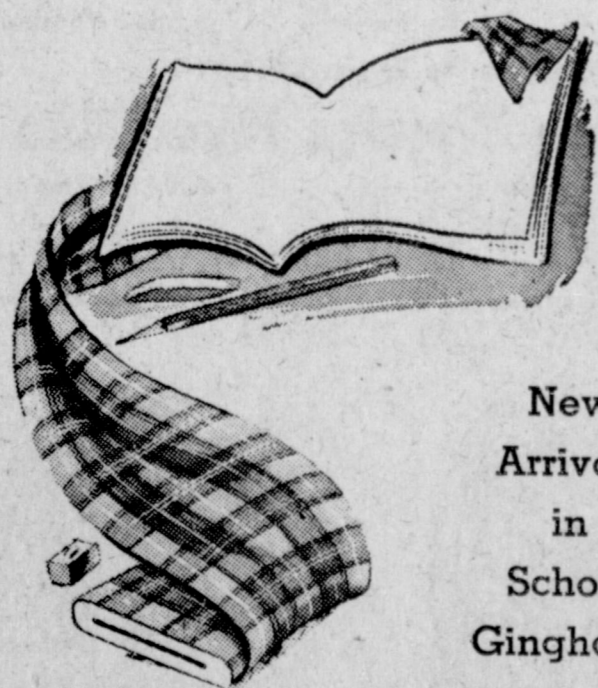

"Six years ago the United States was the most powerful nation on the face of the globe. We had the strongest army, the strongest navy, the strongest air force in the world. We had a monopoly on the atom bomb. Six years have passed; six years of conferences, of little wars like the one in Korea, of lack of leadership in Washington."

If the Thirteenth District doesn't like the situation, it has in Joe Jackson a wonderful messenger of its wrath.

Lesson From History

There once lived a popular political leader who seemed destined to change the basic economic and political concepts of his nation. He had been born to "blue blood," had attended the best schools, and as he'd grown into manhood support and began to put his he'd begun to show unusual talent as a speaker. What he said and the way he said it had fascinating charm. He influenced people disarmingly. When he rose to the administrative leadership of his nation, after holding other political offices, he was not displeased upon being described a reformer. His mission, he said was to improve the plight of the "common man."

Some critics considered the leader's program to be "socialistic" and in the long run dangerous to the "common man" as well as to all other citizens. But these voices were in the minority. They did not deter him. He carried popular support and began to put his he'd begun to show unusual exchange. They were shocked when his manipulation brought about a drastic change in money values. At one point he blithely "doubled" the value of metallic money by directive! Further serious trouble developed when his administration began to be plagued with dishonesty among officials who had golden opportunities for graft.

Soak The Successful

His philosophy on taxation was that most of the taxes should be levied upon the well-to-do; that the "common man" should pay very little. He succeeded in having such a tax program established. In fact, taxes sufficient to provide a reserve fund were thus levied, and a social security program was established, providing numerous benefits: pensions for the aged, unemployment compensation, regular grants in all categories of welfare.

Within a few years, his administration was well along toward the full-fledged paternalistic welfare state in spite of the fact that a number of his own political colleagues wanted to call a halt. Year after year government was assuming more control over business, industry and agriculture. Special benefits were provided for various groups. Seed loans and grants were made to farmers. An ambitious, costly program for reclaiming wasteland was carried on. Most programs were administered by bureaus with agencies throughout the country.

Playing God!

The leader's ego thrived. It was said he actually considered himself incapable of error or wrongdoing. "I have been," he said, "an omnivorous reader of books of all kinds; even, for example, of ancient medical and botanical works. I have, moreover, dipped into treatises of agriculture and on needlework, all of which I have found very profitable in aiding me to seize the great scheme of Heaven."

Yet, after a number of years, the reform ideas began to go sour. Both the "common man" and his uncommon neighbor were in a sorry plight. The monetary structure of the government was giving trouble. The economic planning wasn't paying off. People became distressed when the peerless leader dabbled, apparently without knowledge or experience, in the realm of foreign trade and

Nation Falls

The country was weakened morally and financially. The impractical reformer was removed from office, his abortive reform programs cast off. Yet the effects lingered on; and so infectious had been his charm over people that after his death his name was chiseled in stone and placed for a time in a shrine alongside the great names of his nation's history. Later it was removed. Some historians subsequently termed him "imposter" or "charlatan."

His name was Wang An-Shih. He was the all-powerful chief-of-state in China from 1069 to 1079 under the rule of Emperor Shen Tsung of the Sung dynasty. Historians are not in agreement on the extent of the injuries done to China by Wang An-Shih's 10-years of political-paternalism and economic planning. However, it is a matter of historical record that the people did not have the necessary moral and physical strength when, many years later, the Godless hordes of Genghis Khan, bent on world conquest, overran and plundered the whole country from the northern border to the China Sea.

The lesson: Throughout the ages paternalistic governments have been fashioned by "peerless" political leaders, and when continued for long they have ruined nations — again and again and again!

There isn't anything wrong with the United States that a good old fashioned honest election couldn't fix.

TV In The Home

by Rev. Clarence Brissette

Child psychologists claim that all the innate qualities of goodness or viciousness are instilled in the minds of children before the age of six.

This means that in the home the future success or failure of the child is determined. In the home the seeds of virtue are sown and the roots of vice prevented from spreading.

While nature forces children to cry for food, drink and shelter, she seems indifferent about truth and love and spiritual values. It is up to the parents to formulate these matters in the lives of their little ones.

Like Begets Like

This is the fact simply because children are not manufactured articles but raw material to be chiseled or molded and wrought into shape. They are not put on earth as finalities, but possibilities.

Born imitators, children copy the actions, mannerisms, tone of voice, and the attitudes of their parents. Harshness breeds harshness, kindness begets kindness, and purity engenders purity. Whatever faults or virtues parents display, these will be literally translated into their children's lives.

The situation used to be hard enough for the parents. But with the coming of television new problems arise over which parents may seem to have little control. Children were at one time influenced mostly by their parents; now a glamor world forms their everyday surroundings.

On children's TV programs very little effect is given to instill the ideal in their minds, that God is supreme, that they are here for one purpose, to save their immortal souls, and that the 'body beautiful' the programs glorify will return to dust.

Job For Parents

Because of the influence of TV, parents have the obligation not only of supervising what the children see, but an added obligation to offset the evil that accompanies television. More than all else, they must give good example.

You can talk to children most eloquently, give the best of advice; surround the home with all the externals a Christian civilization can offer. You can send them to the best of schools and have the holiest men and women train them.

But if the example of your own lives proves sorely disappointing, you are failures as parents, and your children become heirs to unhappiness in this world and the next.

Flusche Family Has 2nd Annual Reunion

Sunday was an enjoyable day for members of the Joseph Flusche family who gathered in a reunion at the old home place north of Muenster for a covered dish supper and social evening. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fetsch now live on the farm where the Flusche children were born and grew up.

Reminiscing during the meal, which was served under spacious trees in the yard, J. P. and Andy Flusche recalled that they planted the trees when they were small boys.

Last year the family got together for their first reunion in 11 years and decided then to make it an annual affair.

Adding special joy to the occasion for Mr. Flusche in addition to having all of his 12 children and their families in attendance was the presence of his sister, Sister Cordula, a member of the Sisters of Divine Providence who is teaching in the Pilot Point parochial school this term. Group pictures were made.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Flusche, the Joe J. Neus and family, the Raymond Zimmerers and family and the Lawrence Zimmerers, all of Lindsay.

The Henry Henscheids and family, the Gus Lutkenhaus family, the Paul Fetsch family, the J. P. Flusches and family, the Wilfred Bindels and daughter, all of Muenster.

Urban and Andy Flusche and their families of Pilot Point Lawrence, Al and Conrad Flusche and their families of Decatur.

Other guests were Sister Cordula and Sister Basilia of Pilot Point, Father Cletus of Muenster, Father Conrad of Lindsay, Father James Tucek and his nephew, Jim, of Decatur and Father Hubert Neu of Dallas.

Sam Tuggle Family Has Annual Reunion

The annual reunion of members of the Sam Tuggle family was held Sunday at Leonard Park in Gainesville. For years the family has set the second Sunday in August as the day for the reunion which is always held at Leonard Park. About a hundred persons attended this year's get-together. They enjoyed a picnic dinner, visiting swimming and picture taking.

Among the relationship present were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tuggle, six of their children, Hugh Lee of Gainesville, Mrs. David Parsons of St. Jo, V. R.

of Nocona, and Aubrey, Bob and Arthur and their families of Muenster.

Mr. Tuggle's brother, Pete and family and his sister Mrs. Bertie Finley and family of Tioga, another brother Clinton and his son of Nocona, and an uncle Henry Tuggle and family of Tioga.

Other relatives came from Denton, Fort Worth Pilot Point, Valley View, Ardmore, Spencer-ville and Fort Sill, Okla.

FAREWELL PARTY HONORS
JERRY PELS MONDAY

About 40 relatives and friends gathered Monday night for a farewell party honoring Jerry Pels who left Tuesday for the army. Mrs. Henry Sicking arranged the courtesy for her son-in-law.

The party was held on the lighted lawn at Mrs. Sicking's home where chairs were arranged under the trees. A long table at one end of the outdoor living room was laden with delicious food for a buffet supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Pels have been living in Pilot Point since their marriage. He left Tuesday morning from Denton to begin his army career. Until he is settled and his wife can join him Mrs. Pels is here with her mother and family.

Official Memorandum

BY

ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

The percentage of farm homes in Texas receiving central station electric service has increased from 2.3 per cent to 90 per cent during the past 16 years, largely through the stimulation of the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) program.

More than 282,000 rural families of Texas now enjoy the benefits of electric lights and power through cooperatives which they themselves own and operate.

Each of the 77 rural electric cooperatives in Texas is a free and independent, tax-paying business enterprise, chartered under the laws of the state of Texas, and owned and controlled by the farmers and ranchers who receive service along its lines.

The availability of electricity has brought about a wholesome revolution in farm methods, production and living standards; has lightened the drudgery of farm tasks and increased farm output and profits; has been instrumental in keeping young people on the land, and has promoted the general welfare not only of rural people, but of urban residents as well whose prosperity and well-being depends upon a sound and prosperous agriculture.

THEREFORE I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of August 19th to 25th, inclusive, as in Texas, and call upon all citizens of the state to observe during this week the splendid progress that has been made in electrifying rural areas during the past 16 years, and to resolve anew that the program shall continue to expand until every farm family in the state shall enjoy the blessings of electric lights and power.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 18th day of July, 1951

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 8 proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas amending Article III, Section 51a, providing that the Legislature shall have the power to provide assistance to and provide for the payment of same to residents of the State of Texas who are needy aged persons over the age of sixty-five (65) years; needy blind persons over the age of sixteen (16) years; needy children under the age of sixteen (16) years; removing the Thirty-five Million Dollars ($35,000,000) limitation upon expenditures for such purposes and providing for a limitation of Forty-two Million Dollars ($42,000,000) upon such expenditures; providing a maximum payment of Thirty Dollars ($30) per month from State funds for old age assistance; prohibiting payment of assistance after disposition of property under certain conditions; providing for acceptance of financial aid from the Government of the United States of America for such assistance; providing that the payment of such from State funds shall never exceed the payments from Federal funds; providing for the necessary election, and providing for the form of ballot, proclamation, and publication.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 51a of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended, and the same is hereby amended so that the same shall hereafter read as follows:

"Section 51a. The Legislature shall have the power, by general laws to provide, subject to limitations and restrictions contained, and such other limitations, restrictions, and regulations as may be by the Legislature be deemed expedient for assistance to, and for the payment of assistance to:

"(1) Needy aged persons who are over the age of sixty-five (65) years; provided that no such assistance shall be paid to any inmate of any State-supported institution, while such inmate; and provided that any resident of the State, if otherwise eligible, may not be excluded who has resided in the State for five (5) years during the nine (9) years immediately preceding the filing of the application for such assistance including the one (1) year continuously immediately preceding the filing of such application; provided that the maximum payment per month from State funds shall not be more than Thirty Dollars ($30) per month.

"Any applicant for or recipient of assistance, including the spouse in each instance, who shall dispose of any property after June 1, 1952, and any person who initially applies for assistance after June 1, 1952, who has disposed of any property within five (5) years prior to the date of application, shall be ineligible to receive assistance; provided, that if such property was disposed of by bona fide sale and conveyance, and for value commensurate with the actual market value thereof, such disposition shall not affect eligibility for assistance if it is shown that all proceeds from such sale have been used by such person and spouse for normal living expenses, or for the purchase of other real property of like value. If any recipient of assistance or spouse shall sell any real property, neither such recipient nor spouse shall thereafter receive assistance until all net proceeds of said sale have been expended for normal living expenses; and in case of disposition of such property by gifts or for an amount less than its actual market value, such person and spouse shall not thereafter receive assistance until the expiration of the period of time during which the net proceeds of said sale would have paid their normal living expenses had the actual market value been realized therefrom.

"(2) Needy blind persons who are over the age of sixteen (16) years; provided that no such assistance shall be paid to any inmate of any State-supported institution, while such inmate; and provided that any resident of the State, if otherwise eligible, may not be excluded who has resided in the State for five (5) years during the nine (9) years immediately preceding the filing of the application for such assistance including the one (1) year continuously immediately preceding the filing of such application.

"(3) Needy children who are under the age of sixteen (16) years; provided that any child, if otherwise eligible, may not be excluded who has resided in the State for one (1) year immediately preceding the filing of the application for such assistance, or, if said child is under the age of one (1) year, whose parent or other relative with whom the child is living has resided in the State for one (1) year immediately preceding the birth of such child.

"The Legislature shall have the authority to accept from the Federal Government of the United States such financial aid for the assistance of the needy aged, needy blind, and needy children as such Government may offer not inconsistent with restrictions herein set forth; provided, however, that the amount of such assistance out of State funds to each person assisted shall never exceed the amount so expended out of Federal funds; and provided further that the total amount of money to be expended out of State funds for such assistance to the needy aged, needy blind and needy children shall never exceed the sum of Forty-two Million Dollars ($42,000,000) per year.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws and provide an additional appropriation hereto in anticipation of the adoption of this Amendment, such Acts shall not be invalid by reason of their anticipatory character."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of Texas at the Election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the Second Tuesday in November, 1951, at which election there shall be printed on such ballot the following clauses:

What can I plant that will give me the most grazing?

That's a question that's been cropping up into the minds of an increasing number of Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District farmers lately. The demand for dependable winter pasture in this area is increasing steadily due to the increased importance of dairy farming and the high price of beef. Farmers and ranchers realize that by growing a high protein cool season crop throughout the fall and winter the cost of increased milk production and added pounds of beef can be greatly reduced.

Heretofore livestock growers have depended upon ryegrass combination and small grains to furnish winter grazing, but while these plants are good they are still annuals.

They must come from seed each fall and are dependent on sufficient rainfall to bring them along. The most dependable way to get winter grazing is thru the growing of cool season perennial grasses and winter legumes. Many farmers from Muenster saw green pastures during last winter's drought on a visit to the Renner Research farms. They also saw beef animals that had gained an average of 1.8 pounds per day on the winter pasture alone. After the deep rooted grasses are established they draw on moisture and minerals deep in the soil and can produce a lot of top growth with limited rainfall.

Co-operators in the Muenster area who are preparing their land and readying it for the planting of winter pasture grasses and legumes include Ollie Truebenbach, Alfred Bayer, Paul Fisher and Jake Biffle Jr. The District has purchased a cultipacker seeder for use in seeding winter pasture and for planting alfalfa and other small seeded legumes. The cultipacker seeder is designed to pulverize and pack the soil and insures a better stand with a reduced seeding rate.

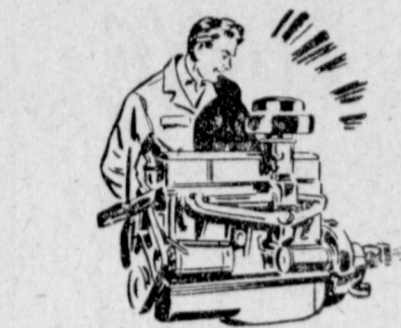

Tony Walterscheid and sons have just finished construction of 1.2 miles of terraces on their farm northeast of Muenster. The terraces were built with a whirlwind terracing plow.

Construction has begun on farm ponds on the Joe Hoening farm and on the John Fette farm operated by B. H. Hilburn. The ponds will furnish stock water so that more uniform grazing and better pasture management can be carried out.

Joseph Hundt, 80 Observes Birthday

Joseph Hundt who was 80 years old Sunday was honored with a 6 o'clock birthday dinner and family reunion when his wife, their five children and their families gathered for the occasion in the home of the Gregory Hundts.

Everyone brought covered dishes for the delicious meal, centered the table with a large decorated cake, and presented gifts to honor the guest.

Children of the honoree are Herbert, Gregory and Joe Jr. of Lindsay, Mrs. Al Hess of Muenster, and Mrs. Francis Dieter of Dallas. There are 13 grandchildren.

Mr. Hundt was born in Decorah, Iowa, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hundt who moved to Lindsay with their family of five children in 1893, the year that brought a substantial increase to the number of residents in the two-year old community. The parish then numbered 35 families.

As an early resident of the community, Mr. Hundt was active in parish work and community undertakings. His wife is the former Amelia Flusche. They were married at Lindsay in 1914. Mr. Hundt farmed until he retired from active work.

Electric Co-op

The Virgin Islands. Their facilities today include more than 1,100,000 miles of lines serving about 3,500,000 farms and other rural consumers. By May 1, 1951, R. E. A. had advanced $1,784,578,022 in loans, and by April 1st of the same year, $282,196,238 in principal and interest payments had been returned. This included $30,239,015 in payments on principal ahead of schedule. Less than $750,000 was reported more than 30 days overdue. Only one loan foreclosure has been necessary to date on an operating power system; it was on a loan that had been made to a commercial power company. To date Cooke County Electric Co-operative Association has borrowed $1,536,527.75 from the Rural Electrification Administration, and $147,873.18 has been paid on the principal, and $52,824.60 has been paid as an advance payment on the principal. The Rural Electrification Administration does not operate rural electric facilities, and its program involves no grants or subsidies.

Cooke County Electric Co-operative Association is locally owned and operated tax-paying business, it being owned by those it serves. It is one of 77 rural electric co-operatives which have brought about the 90 per cent electrification of the rural area of Texas. It is one of 1,000 Co-operatives which have brought about the 86 percent electrification of the rural area of the United States. But the job is far from complete. Killowatt hour consumption per month per member has

That's why this column still entertains a hope that we'll team up with the Chinese Nationalists whenever the time is ripe. It prompts the column to wonder also whether we're not as willingly as the Reds to let the peace talks drag out at this time. No doubt we're using the delay to as much advantage as the Reds.

Could be that we're getting set to use the measures recommended by MacArthur. Surely we don't intend to enter the second phase of this struggle with one hand still tied behind our back.

If we have to keep fighting there's no sense in settling for a limited goal and half way measures. We'll have to discontinue the police action and turn to all out war. Our objective will be to wipe out communism all over Asia not just check its advance in Korea.
