

The latest and most surprising thing to come from behind the Iron Curtain is a magazine that has something good to say for the United States. News reports Tuesday told of the publication which actually went so far as to praise Americans for ingenuity, efficiency and a few other desirable qualities.

All of which can be very significant. Considering the way things are run in Russia, we know the magazine is not published without the official approval of Stalin and the other big shots. No one in the Soviet Zone would dare stick out his neck on a venture which displeases the Politburo. So there is only one explanation. Stalin apparently is switching tactics from hostile to friendly methods. He seems to have reached the point where he expects to accomplish more by a civilized attitude than by hatefulness.

Of course there is one little detail about which we Americans have our serious doubts. Is the magazine a bona fide publication distributed among Russians or is it something special to be exported for the purpose of lulling other countries into a belief that Old Joe is a pretty decent and likeable fellow after all? The report says that the magazine is printed in English, which would seem to indicate that its contents are intended more for us than the Russians. In fact there are very few Russians who could read it if they happened to get a copy.

Nevertheless, the pretended friendship carries a good deal of significance. When Stalin quits pushing people around and starts coaxing there has to be a reason. Perhaps he feels less able to dominate than he used to. Perhaps he's getting scared of our atomic stock pile or of our air power. Perhaps he's trying to slow down the growing alliance of other countries against the Soviet bloc. Perhaps he's just trying to condition us for a first class rooking in Japanese or Korean peace treaties. Perhaps he wants to throw us off guard so he can arrange a fat grab in the Iranian oil fields.

From here Stalin's friendly gesture appears to have all the characteristics of the Trojan horse and our first impulse is to suspect it. When a scoundrel and sworn enemy offers a gift we'd better be cautious. There may be a bomb inside.

Events like this have to be appraised in the light of our knowledge of communism. The objective of the Kremlin is as unchangeable as the course of the planets. Stalin is headed for world domination. He changes methods when he thinks a change will serve his purpose, but he never takes his eye off the goal.

This latest slick trick seems to fit into a general pattern of civility which the Kremlin gang turned on a few weeks ago. By a strange coincidence Russian diplomats in several countries suddenly became congenial about the time Malik first suggested cease-fire negotiations in Korea. Over night the whole gang of them changed from beasts to human beings. Why?

And how about developments at the cease fire parleys? First the reds put on the air of conquerors, parading armed guards in the presence of our unarmed representatives and exploiting the incident to the limit through propaganda channels. At the same time they made mighty boasts of conditions they will demand and pretended a right to decide what persons would be admitted to the conferences.

In the sphere of their propaganda they did a convincing job of pretending that they were the victorious heroes, and now they're all set to convince those same people that every concession they make during negotiations is prompted by their willingness to bend over backward in the interest of world peace.

We know the score, of course. The Chinese have taken a terrific beating and they're tired of sacrificing to do Stalin's dirty work. Stalin is maneuvering for peace because his game is run-

White Emphasizes Farmer's Part in National Economy

Speaking before about 175 persons in a meeting of the Cooke County Agricultural Club in the public school auditorium Monday night, John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, explained the vital part that farmers are playing in their state and national economy.

He said that agriculture is this country's greatest bulwark against radicalism, explaining that a large percentage of farmers own the land and tools they work and are interested therefore in protecting the human right to own property. Quoting the pioneer statesman Daniel Webster he said, "Those who do not have property usually do not favor laws protecting property."

White also told his audience that the average American farm family's production sustains seven other families. One out of every 8 American workers is a farmer. By comparison 88 per cent of the workers in Tibet are farmers and the standard of living they sustain is much lower than that provided by our 12 per cent. In addition to all this, White said, American farmers produce a surplus which is distributed among needy nations. Their efforts constitute an important factor in winning the friendship of other countries.

Another point emphasized by White is the mistaken opinion that farmers get a fat share out of the final consumer's dollar. Out of last year's average food bill of $709 for two persons, he said, the farmer received $352 whereas processors and distributors received $359. As a few examples: a 16 cent loaf of bread contains 2 cents worth of wheat, a $3.75 shirt contains 20 cents worth of cotton, and a 23 cent quart of milk nets the farmer only 11½ cents.

The basic nature of agriculture, White said, is further revealed by the fact that farm and total national income maintain a constant ratio of 7 to 1. The nation does not prosper unless farmers prosper first.

Mr. White opened his address by explaining the service performed by his department. Its job is to enforce laws pertaining to control of plant diseases and insects as well as marketing regulations.

Senator Joe Carter introduced the speaker and Carter in turn was introduced by County Attorney Carroll Sullivan. Ray Kupper, president of the club conducted the meeting. Superintendent Weldon Cowan welcomed the group before Kupper took over.

Refreshments of ice cream and soda water were provided by the Farmers Marketing Association.

OPS Regulations To Be Explained at Gainesville Clinic

The Fort Worth OPS has announced a price clinic for Gainesville to be held at the Chamber of Commerce on July 31 beginning at 9:00 A.M. The Clinic is for all businessmen who may have OPS problems, the Fort Worth office indicated.

With the announcement of the price clinic for local businessmen, Ellis H. Boyd, district OPS director, also announced the formation of a small merchant's sub-committee for the National Retail Industrial Advisory Committee of the OPS.

This committee was formed in order that small storekeepers would be given adequate consideration in the price stabilization program, Boyd said.

The OPS director indicated that retail advisors had felt that not enough consideration had been given to the smaller merchants, thus a new sub-committee has been formed, he said. A representative of the Southwest, E. L. Burks of Dallas, Texas, has been named a member of the committee which will study the problems of small retailers under price regulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Pels of Pilot Point spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Henry Sicking.

Both left Monday morning to return to camp.

SOFTBALL

Muenster's Ruffnecks got off to a good start in the softball league standing Tuesday night by nudging the Bezner Chicks for a 3 to 2 upset.

The game was a pitchers duel between Cain and Bezner and a tight contest all the way through. Early in the game the local boys took a 1 run lead and held it until the 6th when the Chicks scored 2 making the count 2-1. But a Muenster rally in the last half of the same inning brought in 2 more and put the Ruffnecks in front again. That was all. The visitors failed to score in the top of the seventh inning.

Next on the Ruffnecks schedule is Nocona here Thursday night. After that they will be idle until Thursday of next week.

In a strong first inning Wednesday night Lindsay scored 7 runs to take a long lead over the Muenster Veterans then added 2 in the third and 3 in the fourth for a comfortable margin that assured a final victory of 12 to 7.

In the sixth, however, the Vets rallied and revived lagging interest in the game, but the effort fell short, netting only 6 runs. The Vets' other run came in the second.

Frank Haverkamp and Donald Hermes pitched for the visitors and Jack Reiter pitched for the Veterans.

Next on the Veterans' schedule is the game with Era here Friday night and Saint Jo there Tuesday night.

Construction on Red River Ferry Begins This Week

After three days of steady work most of the frame and bottom work on the Muenster ferry is complete, and another week will probably complete the finishing touches sufficient to permit its transfer to Red River.

Work is being done at the Community Lumber Company by C. J. Fette, Rody Klement and Harold Knabe. When finished it will be moved by heavy oil field trucking equipment to the river bank.

The structure, measuring 50 by 14 feet, is built of 2 inch lumber over a framework of heavy timber braced by iron rods. When completed it will contain approximately 10,000 board feet of lumber and weigh more than 25,000 pounds. Its load capacity will be in excess of 60,000 pounds and its deck space will accommodate a large trailer truck, two smaller trucks or four passenger cars or pickups.

Construction of the boat started in an upside down position, the 6 inch sides and framework being followed by 2 inch center match lumber for the bottom. Joints were caulked for waterproofing and as an extra precaution the whole structure is being coated with tar. Heavy angle iron strips along the length of the ferry bottom edges are intended for extra strength and wear. When the bottom is finished the craft will be turned over with winch trucks to permit work on the deck and additional bracing and necessary fixtures.

Local sponsors of the project hope to see the ferry in service in late August or early September. An operator for it will probably be selected on a competitive bidding basis.

Another part of the project is the construction of approaches on both sides of the river. On the Texas side the distance is only about 200 yards but it includes considerable excavation to lower the road sufficiently for a proper approach to the ferry. The Oklahoma side requires about a mile of new road but construction will be less difficult.

The river's span at the point of crossing in normal times will be about 100 yards. It begins at the bank on the Texas side and ends on a sandbar on the Oklahoma side. Traffic will move another 100 yards on the sandbar before reaching the Oklahoma shore line.

The craft will be anchored to either shore by cables and will be powered by a motor boat tug. It will operate in shallow water, displacing a depth of slightly more than 2 feet when loaded to capacity.

The ferry project is financed by a group of Muenster business men who are endeavoring to extend their trade territory to the semi-isolated river bend area north of here. A ferry connection will make Muenster their nearest market. By ferry Leon and Jimtown are about 20 miles from here. By the nearest present route they are more than 50 miles from here. Livestock from that area has been coming to Muenster. With a ferry crossing complete it is believed that a milk route to Muenster can also be organized.

Local sponsors also have hopes of eventually developing sufficient traffic to justify a bridge across the river.

MHS Gridders to Get New Uniforms

When the Muenster Hornets line up for their first football game next fall they'll be sporting new uniforms. Coach Doyle Hood ordered the new equipment last week.

As before the uniforms will be red and white, but there has been some change in color arrangement. Jerseys will be red nylon with white numerals and inserts of red and white. Pants will be all red and made of 2 way stretch nylon. Socks will be white nylon with red stripes.

Wilde Completes 25 Years as Local Chevrolet Dealer

This month the J. B. Wilde Motor Company observes the completion of 25 years as Chevrolet dealer in Muenster.

It was in July of 1926, Mr. Wilde recalls, when he received his first car load of Chevrolet cars. At that time the Model T Ford was the popular inexpensive car and Chevrolet was just making a start as a competitor in the low priced field. But he felt confident that the gear-shift type would win in the long run and had the satisfaction only a few years later to see the old Model T go off the market. Since then he has had the further satisfaction of seeing Chevrolet take the lead in the automobile field. For more than 10 years, he said, Chevrolet has led all other cars in sales.

Prior to 1926 Wilde was a farmer and an agent for the Case and Rumley line of farm machinery. He continued the machinery dealership when he left the farm to begin the car agency and a wholesale distributorship for Magnolia petroleum products. His brother, H. S. Wilde, joined him as a partner in the venture and continued as a partner until 1934 when J. B. became sole owner. For the first several months

Hartman Attends Firemen's Course

Alvin Hartman is representing the Muenster Fire-Department at the 22nd annual Firemen's Training School at Texas A&M College this week.

More than 700 firemen, fire marshalls and instructors from 12 states are learning how to fight all kinds of blazes, from the wood shack to the fire of oil tanks.

Eighteen wooden shacks, 4,000 gallons of gasoline, 12,000 gallons of oil and a quantity of butane gas, valued at $40,000 are being burned for actual experience in fire fighting for those attending the course.

The Ervin Hamrics and son, Dan, left Sunday to spend several days in Portals, N. M., with his sister and family, the John Hellmans who moved to that city recently from El Paso. Dan will remain for an extended visit with his aunt and family.

11 Detention Dams On Elm Watershed Await Easements

The Soil Conservation Service is ready to start work on a 2 million dollar flood control program for the Elm creek watershed if easements for the detention lake sites can be supplied, members of the Upper Elm-Red soil conservation district were told in a special meeting in the district conservation office at Gainesville last Thursday.

The group, consisting of district supervisors and flood control committeemen, met for the purpose of considering ways and means by which easements can be secured in order to permit the work to go ahead.

District Conservationist Clyde Wells informed the group that an allotment sufficient to start work on 11 of the watershed's proposed dams is now available but pointed out that no money is provided to buy easements. Interested persons will have to make the sites available before Soil Conservation Service can begin its work.

In some cases, it was pointed out, landowners have expressed willingness to grant the easement in return for the benefits they expect to derive from the lake. In other cases, however, especially where large acreage will be given up to the lake, committeemen expect greater reluctance on the part of landowners in granting easements.

According to engineering estimates the system of proposed detention reservoirs would prevent flooding in rains equivalent to the heaviest the county has had during the past 100 years.

The plan proposes a dam on the Big Elm near Saint Jo and other dams on each of 22 other streams that flow into Big Elm. Every dam will retard the flow of water into the main Elm channel keeping the volume down to the capacity of the channel, provided the rainfall is no heavier than the worst in the past 100 years.

Whenever it rains, water flows first into the detention pool from which it is released at a comparatively slow rate until the water is back down to the permanent pool level. Drainage speeds are so designed so that the detention lake when filled

The American Way Religion In the Schools

by Dr. Alfred P. Haake

From Mr. R. E. Vaughan of Louisville, Kentucky, comes a letter which profoundly impressed me. The thoughts expressed by Mr. Vaughan should be given widespread circulation. In the hope of accomplishing just that, I am passing on his comments to the readers of this column. Here follows the letter:

"I am taking the liberty of laying before you the following thoughts on the grave problems confronting our nation, as I see them. Since I have no other thought than to see our country again stand four-square with the Lord and the Republic as our Founding Fathers established it, I hope you will receive this letter in the spirit in which it is sent.

"Through recent revivals over the country, the churches have added many converts, but since there are still 75 million churchless people, the numbers added are merely a scratch on the surface.

"To remedy this situation, it will require the deepest searching into the hearts and minds by every sincere believer, 'spurred on by love of God and Country, prayerfully united with the other denominations. Thus, a plan can be developed which will plant a spirit of religion in the hearts of all citizens, such as existed generally in the nation's early life and from whence came the great minds that fashioned our Constitution.

"This document clearly reflects that the Founding Fathers were earnest Godly men. The charter they erected that has come to be recognized as one of the noblest documents of all times, bases its authority in Almighty God.

"Brief, for such an instrument, its God-fearing authors seemed determined to make clear truths which they feared those to follow might discard — truths which they knew were fundamental to a Republic and without which it would perish. Hence, they wove into the Declaration of Independence, four clear references to the Divine Power, closing it with this sublime sentence: '... and for the support of this Declaration; with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence we pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.'

"Compare this Godly-inspired document with the God-hating philosophy of Communism and Stalin's avowed purpose to subjugate the entire world and his declaration that co-existence with any other form of government cannot be tolerated. Then, consider that among our 75 million churchless people, there are many outright unbelievers, many devoid of all moral stamina. It is through these agnostics that Stalin expects to take us over when his legion of promoters, left-wingers and fellow-travelers, in all walks of life, have prepared America for the kill.

"Confronted with this perilous situation, God-fearing people of all faiths simply must get together. To make a proper start, they must begin with the children and install religious instincts

Say A Prayer For Mao Tse-Tung

by Rev. James Keller

A young housewife in Albuquerque, New Mexico, was doing the washing for her husband and family of three small children one morning when she started thinking about the condition of the world and what could be done about it.

When the washing was finished, she sat down and put her thoughts in a letter which she air-mailed special delivery to New York. Her letter pleaded "to get word to the people of the United States as fast as we can and urge them to pray for a change of heart in Stalin."

Can Start Now

That's a big order, knowing Stalin as we do! However, as this lady emphasized throughout her letter, the power of prayer is a terrific force that can be put into immediate use by anybody and everybody—in the home, the Church, the school, the hospital, the shop, the factory, the office.

For instance, if a million housewives started to offer their prayers and sufferings each day for Stalin, it might well be the means acceptable to God of helping to restore peace to the world. . . This was the promise of Our Lady of Fatima.

And if another million people would pray likewise for Mao Tse-Tung, the Red leader of China, it might bring about a change of heart in him, too! At least it might avert some of the terrible bloodshed and hardship being inflicted on American servicemen as well as on hundreds of millions of helpless Chinese and Koreans.

Lenin's Last Words

All of this is especially significant in view of the following declaration made by Lenin himself during his last illness:

"I have made a great mistake. Our main purpose was to give freedom to a multitude of oppressed people. But our method of action has created worse evils and horrible massacres. You know that my deadly nightmare is to feel that I am lost in this ocean of blood, coming from innumerable victims. It is too late to turn back now, but in order to save our country, Russia, we should have had ten men like Francis of Assisi. With ten such men we could have saved Russia."

Changing Stalin's Heart

This startling statement of Lenin certainly indicated that he was much closer to a change of heart than most people imagine. One wonders if a few more prayers for him 30 years ago might not have changed the course of history.

If enough persons, sparked by Christ's love for all mankind, would pray fervently each day for a change of heart in Stalin and Mao Tse-Tung, it might have far-reaching results. We have tried everything else. This is worth our best efforts too. And these efforts will not be wasted for we know that every prayer is answered in one way or another.

In 1836 Andrew Jackson not only had the U. S. A. out of debt for the first time in our history but also had a surplus of $37,468,859! He turned over the White House to Martin Van Buren in 1837 and by 1840 we owed 21c per capita and have never been out of debt since.

A preacher called on one of his parishioners — an elderly woman who was deaf. When she expressed regret that she could not hear his sermons, he modestly and sympathetically said:

"O, you don't miss much."
 And she surprised him with: "So they tell me."

"The Lazy J's Ford Express did itself proud in the Ford Truck Economy Run," says Stephens. "Daily records kept during the entire six months show that our Ford Truck ran up a total of 5,109 miles. My out-of-pocket expense for gas, oil, maintenance and repairs was exactly $123.51 . . . about a $20 bill each month . . . only 2²/₅ cents a mile!"

Sen. Wagonseller States Policy in Congressional Race

Wayne W. Wagonseller, State Senator representing the 22nd Senatorial District, stated today that he is a candidate for Congress to succeed the Honorable Ed Gossett who will resign July 31. Senator Wagonseller stated, "I did not presume to make a formal announcement of my candidacy for this office until Ed Gossett had officially placed his resignation in the hands of the Governor." That resignation is now on the Governor's desk, and the special election has been set for September 8.

Wagonseller, age 30, was born on a tenant farm in Montague County and has lived in that county all of his life. His parents are life long residents of Montague County. He graduated from Nocona High School and attended college at North Texas State at Denton and the University of Texas.

When the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor, Wagonseller volunteered his services in the United States army, and served as a plain enlisted man for the duration. His two brothers also volunteered their services and saw action in the European theater of war. Wagonseller landed on the Beach of Normandy during the invasion of France, which was the greatest military feat in the history of warfare. He was wounded first in the Battle of St. Lo. Several months later after being on the front lines continuously, he was wounded a second time at the city of Brest, France, when the Second Infantry Division took that vital seaport. He spent a year in army hospitals and received his discharge at Harmon General Hospital in Longview.

On December 28, 1949, Wayne W. Wagonseller, married the former Miss Betty Clarice Benton, whose family was among the first pioneers of Montague County.

Wayne W. Wagonseller has served four years in the House of Representatives. While a member of the House, Representative Wagonseller sponsored the Anti-Check Off Bill, which prevented the Labor dictators from withholding the workingman's dues or fees without his written consent. He also helped pass the other Texas labor laws which later became the model for the Taft-Hartley Law passed by the Congress.

Elected to the State Senate in 1950, Wagonseller served as Chairman of the Military and Veterans Affairs Committee; Chairman of the committee on Stock and Stock Raising; member of the powerful State Affairs Committee, which passes on all tax bills; member of the Public Health Committee; member of the Labor Committee; and the committee which passes on all of the Governor's nominations.

As a member of the State Senate, Wagonseller offered the amendment which brought the Korean War Veteran under the Veteran Land program.

Senator Wagonseller stated, "The recent session of the Legislature just adjourned, will long be remembered as a courageous one. In order to provide sufficient funds for our rural road program, our school system, our eleemosinary institutions, I voted to levy a gas gathering tax upon those pipe lines which are transporting natural gas out of Texas. This was part of my platform for my campaign for the Senate, and we succeeded in carrying it out in spite of opposition from the powerful Transmission Line Lobby."

Senator Wagonseller stated, "Never in the history of all the world has there been a greater need for experienced leadership, clearer call for Divine guidance, a clearer call for an instructed verdict — that verdict — an adherence to the principles of our constitution and a belief in our American democracy."

"It is without hesitation that I ask to be your Congressman, for I feel that my experience in political circles and parliamentary procedures is ample and sound enough to merit your consideration."

"If I am chosen as your Congressman, I shall constantly devote my best efforts toward the complete destruction of the Communist movement in this country. I shall fight other enemies of the American Democratic Ideal."

"Cash-basis thinking and cash-basis action are sorely needed in the Congress today."

"An alarming tendency has developed in this country to bypass the State as an arm of government. This is tied in with the tendency to make our government one of men rather than of Laws."

"Government of the people, as we have traditionally known it in the United States, can survive. It will survive so long as our people jealously observe the safeguards of our Federal and State Constitutions."

"This is my fourth political campaign. The people have never turned me down. They have always sustained me at the polls. As always, my campaign will be conducted with all of the people of this district."

"I want to be your personal Congressman. I know that my experience in the House and Senate of Texas and my knowledge of Parliamentary Procedure, will assure you of diligent and faithful service."

Joe Jackson of Wichita Enters Race for Congress

Joe Jackson, Wichita Falls independent oil producer, today announced that he is a candidate in the special election for Congress to be held September 8th.

Herewith is the text of Mr. Jackson's statement:

I know that I have been too guilty too long of sitting on the side line complaining about the way our Federal Government is being run. Many of you I know feel the same way I do, but we have all been much too interested in our own personal affairs and far too lax about the way our country is being economically destroyed.

In 1941 I felt it was my duty to fight Fascism — today I know it is my duty to fight socialism. I hope from the bottom of my heart that the good and God-fearing people of this district are willing to give me that chance to fight.

I am certain you will be glad to know I do not represent any special groups. I do not have to cater to anyone. If you elect me I will be your Congressman and yours alone.

When you elect a man to public office I think it is very important that you should know as much about him as possible. I am looking forward to meeting many of you in person, very soon, but, in the meantime I know you will be interested in my past experiences.

I was born 34 years ago in Brownfield, Texas. In those days, my father, J. S. Jackson and my mother, Mary Gertrude Jackson, were farming. In 1920 we moved to Wichita Falls, and father entered the oil field trucking business. I was educated at Wichita Falls High School and then entered Texas A&M. Then, as now, I was an ambitious young man; I wanted to get out into the world, earn my keep and stand on my own two feet. So, in 1936, like many other young men, I thought the oil business would make my fortune. I had to start somewhere so I became a roughneck in the West Texas Oil Fields. After a while I was promoted to driller and worked for the firm of Akin and Dimoch.

A year later I formed a partnership with Fowler Gilchrist of Wichita Falls, and we went into business as drilling contractors. This was during the days of the Battle of Britain. I felt that a little man called Adolf Hitler was getting ready to take over the world, including the United States, so I made up my mind to do my share in this struggle for survival. I traveled to Canada and enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Soon I was flying in Great Britain helping to kick Herman Goering in the pants.

In 1943 I transferred to the United States Air Corps and flew 42 combat missions over Italy, France and Yugoslavia. The British and French people were very kind to reward me for the little I did, the distinguished flying cross and the Croix de guerre are still today two of my most precious possessions.

In January, 1945, I was transferred to the Pacific Area a few missions before V-J Day, I was honorably discharged as a Captain in 1946. Like millions of other young men I had lost five years of my life, but I thought it had been worth it. We had won the war and I felt certain that our leaders would never let anything like this ever happen again. I came home and entered the oil business again as a lease broker.

In 1948, together with Ben Shultz, Jr., the firm of Shultz and Jackson was formed, and God has been good to me. We have become small successful independent oil producers.

My platform in this special election is going to be as follows:

1. America first — Politics last.
2. Fight communism, socialism and nationalization on any industry.
3. Protect YOUR freedom, dignity, and rights as an individual.
4. Fight the unnecessary high cost of living.
5. Protect the independent small business man.
6. Fight the Truman "fair-deal" socialized democratic corrupt pendergast machine.
7. The preservation of state's rights.
8. A firm constructive foreign policy.
9. Give the farmers and ranchers an honest price for their products in comparison with the price they must pay for goods.
10. Balance our national budget through economy in governmental operations.
11. Reduce the number of federal bureaus, agencies and employees.
12. The law of supply and demand through free enterprise.
13. Represent YOU on a full time basis NOT as a professional politician but as a guy named Joe.

You know as well as I do that after having won World War Two, we have lost World Peace Two. Fascism was a small danger compared to Communism. Adolf Hitler was a small dictator compared to Josef Stalin. Hitler was elected in 1933 and after six short years he was prepared to conquer the world.

Soviet Russia has had not only six years but over 30 years to prepare herself to take over the free people of this universe and while Hitler conquered with arms, Russia today is conquering with poison. Poison that destroys people's minds.

Communism is a disease that no Atom Bomb can stop. Only we, free people of this world, can stop this disease by not letting it affect us in the first place.

If you believe in this great country, if you believe in this economic system that has made us the most progressive nation in the world, it is your duty and your heritage to fight Communism and Socialism with all the force you can muster.

It is my sincere belief that certain members of our Administration have already been infected with this disease. Now is the time to show them that no real American will ever accept Communism, Socialism, or any other "ism". I am willing to fight for my freedom, dignity, and rights as an individual till I die. "United we stand, divided we fall." How very true that saying is. Let us put America first and politics last.

No nation on earth, regardless of its form of government, ever gave to human beings so much liberty and material prosperity as our own Constitutional form of Freedom. We started out as thirteen little States, ridden by poverty and threatened by savages. We were, however, blessed by God. We now represent the utmost in individual freedom and individual prosperity but our great form of government is on trial for its life.

Now is the time to run up every warning flag and sound every alarm. It will depend on you and me whether this country will continue to progress for the next 100 years. Our only hope of survival is in our devotion to the principles and ideals that have built this country and have made us a nation of peaceful and friendly people.

I beg you to pray as never before. Unless you do, our form of government of for, and by the people will most surely perish from this earth. I know your principles are the same as mine.

I am confident that with your help we can re-establish sound and constructive government again.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Mages and daughter left Lindsay Monday to make their home at Hereford.

Leon and Basil Reiter of Muenster are spending the week with their sister, Mrs. Andy Arendt and family while their mother is visiting in Hereford.

Sgt. Walter Schmitz left Sunday after being with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schmitz on a 30 day leave. He will be on duty at Patrick AFB in Florida.

The Artie Arendts and two daughters who have been living in Ardmore, Okla., for the past several months have returned to Cooke county to reside and are making their home at 1605 N. Weaver in Gainesville.

KUBIS-FELDERHOFF RITES SET FOR THURSDAY, AUG. 9

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kubis of Lindsay have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to A. J. Felderhoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Felderhoff of Muenster.

The wedding will be solemnized in St. Peter's church at Lindsay on Thursday, July 9. Rev. Alcuin Kubis of Corpus Christi, uncle of the bride-to-be, will officiate at the ceremony and nuptial high mass at 8 a.m.

The bride elect has chosen as her attendants her sister, Alma Louise Kubis, and the prospective groom's sister, Joan Felderhoff. Attending Mr. Felderhoff will be his brother, Joseph Felderhoff and the bride's cousin, Willard Zimmerer. Little Judy Danglemyr and Tommy Zimmerer will be flower girl and ring bearer.

A series of pre-nuptial parties are planned for the bride-to-be.

to capacity can be drained to the permanent lake level over a period of about 4 days. In that way the surplus water, which normally gushes down the creek in a few hours is spread out over a period of 4 days and does not reach flood volume at any time.

Benefits to be derived from the detention dam system were indicated in a report by Mr. Wells that the Elm watershed has had 18 major floods and 64 minor floods between the years 1923 and 1942. Damage to crops and property during that time have run into many millions of dollars. Besides eliminating such losses the flood control program would return hundreds of acres of currently abandoned land back to cultivation. Soil conservation technicians have estimated that the system's annual value would be more than $3.00 for every dollar invested.

Other benefits are recreational facilities, irrigation, and extending the life of larger reservoirs down stream by retarding their rate of sedimentation.

One reason that an appropriation has been made available for detention lakes on the Elm is that the watershed generally has met the specified soil conservation requirements. Lakes that are likely to be filled with silt in a few years are not regarded as sound investments.

Flood control committeemen for the Elm watershed are Arthur Kingrey, J. M. Weinzapfel, J. R. Danglemyr, Robert Myers, Tom Hickman and Buster Pace.

Wilde Anniversary

of their partnership the Wilde brothers conducted their agency from their homes. Erection of the building which still houses the business began in the fall of 1926. It was occupied early in 1927.

In recent years the agency's facilities were expanded by using an old frame building adjoining the main building on the south as a warehouse and paint shop. During the past few weeks a project has been under way to move that building to the back of the lot and convert the front space into a modern used car lot.

Next on the improvement program is removing the front wall of the garage and enlarging the building to take up the space now used for a driveway. The new front and show-room will follow modern building design. The roof now extending over the driveway will be moved to the used car lot.

As originally, the business is again a partnership. Looking forward to his retirement, J. B. took in his son, Ray, as co-owner shortly after Ray's return from the army following the end of World War II.

Wilde estimates that the business has sold about 1500 new cars and trucks during its 25 years. For many years his average annual sales ran at about 60 and the slack period during the war has been offset by heavy sales since. Last year, he said, was the best yet. The company sold over 150 new units.

ning out and he's trying to make the most of a bad deal. We only hope our leaders will keep that in mind and stand pat on every detail in checking further red aggression. We hope against hope that our State Department will finally wake up and insist on a settlement of justice and real world harmony instead of just another round of appeasement.

As much as we desire peace, there is one circumstance about the pending settlement that every reasonable person should regret. As it stands now the parley offers little chance for us to right our shameful betrayal of the Chinese Nationalists. It was our folly . . . or treachery . . . which surrendered China to communism. It was our duty, when Chinese Red intervention in Korea offered an opportunity, to right our previous wrong by helping the Nationalists to take back their country. We've failed in that and Americans will have to be ashamed of it from now on.
