

Recommended reading for anyone desiring an idea of what to expect if Russia should ever attain its goal of world domination is the book condensation of "Comes and Comrade" in the November Readers' Digest. It tells what happened when the red army "liberated" Hungary of Nazi domination.

The book was written by a lady of means and culture. Family possessions acquired over a period of many years included a fine home with automobiles, lovely furniture, fine crystal, china, linen and many other items generally associated with comfortable and gracious living.

Into that atmosphere stormed the "liberating" conquerors of Russia, and by the time they ended their welcome visit the place was a total wreck and their unwilling hosts were nervous wrecks.

To describe the average Russian soldier as a barbarian is to complit him. That is a term applied to human beings, whereas those creatures are more properly described as beasts. Lying and stealing are the least repulsive of their vices.

Some of the outrages perpetrated in the process of liberation included breaking up priceless furniture for firewood while an ample supply of wood lay just outside the house, smashing all china and crystal for no reason whatever, defiling everything with their filth and raping some of the women. They appropriated the family's food and wine and slaughtered the few milk cows. About the only article not wrecked or defiled in the entire house was the bathroom commode, which they never bothered to use.

Such was the Soviet process of freeing people from Nazi domination. In that connection a significant fact to notice here is that the Germans during their occupation had left the estate intact. As the author reveals the Hitlerites were arrogant and suspicious and kept one in constant fear of being arrested as a spy but they did at least conduct themselves as human beings.

Our first reaction on reading such an article is pity for the poor victims of Soviet benevolence and contempt for the beasts who bestow that "benevolence." But let's bear in mind that the people liberated were presumably friends. What, then, could the enemies of the Soviet expect if they were over-run by the Red army?

It's a sobering thought in view of the present state of world affairs. It should shock every one of us into a firm determination that no amount of sacrifice is too great if it succeeds in putting an end to Russia's campaign of world conquest. Not only the instinct of survival as concerns ourselves, but the instinct of basic human compassion as concerns other peoples, prompts us to resolve that the monstrous goal of communist conquest will be checked.

The Korean war has furnished other cases of communist benevolence. Liberated South Koreans can give testimony of looting, raping, murder, destruction, atrocity, and forcing innocent children to take up arms against their own friends and kinsmen. A few hundred fortunate survivors can tell what happens to American war prisoners. It is against the entire element of humanity which lives and thrives by those beastly standards that decent people everywhere must unite and work and sacrifice.

That very thought was the principal topic of President Truman's address Tuesday commemorating the anniversary of the founding of the U.N. He was lavish in his praise of all nations which participated in turning back the red conquest of Korea. He stated that similar cooperation in the future is the key to establishing world peace and restoring the eagerly awaited day when the world will beat its swords into plowshares.

In all quarters of the country the president's statement meets with enthusiastic approval. America is heartily in accord with (Continued on Page 8)

Gossett to Speak At Soil Meeting Monday in Nocona

Another step in organizing groups to assist the Upper Elm Red Conservation district in its soil conservation and improvement program is anticipated next Monday at the Rotary Hall in Nocona when representative ranchers and landowners of the district will meet for a luncheon with district supervisors, bankers, publishers and radio men.

In similar meetings earlier this year bankers and publishers have formed separate organizations to give their systematic assistance to the cause.

A special attraction at the Nocona meeting is an address by Congressman Ed Gossett. His subject was not disclosed in the invitations sent out this week by James McCall, program chairman.

Others on the program, who will explain the aims and methods of the soil district and the purpose of the proposed new organization are J. W. Hess, Clyde Wells, Claude Jones and McCall.

Six Muenster men are included in the group of some 40 persons invited to the meeting.

FHA Receives 12 New Members in Formal Ceremony

In a beautiful ceremony on a beautifully decorated stage twelve Muenster High School girls were admitted last Wednesday night into the local chapter of the Future Homemakers of America.

They were received in the traditional FHA candle-light ceremony and the official FHA ritual in which the special significance of each candle is explained as it is lit. The ceremony was conducted under the direction of Miss Ruby Kelly, counselor of the chapter.

Another impressive ceremony on the evening's program was the installation of new officers. It too was conducted by members under the direction of Miss Kelly. After the installation the membership presented Margie Kathman with a sterling chapter pin in recognition of her services as past president.

Enhancing the beauty of both ceremonies were flowers donated and arranged by Mrs. Joe Luke. She also presented a corsage to each of the new officers and Miss Kelly.

All of the ceremony was recorded for broadcast over Station KGAF at 2:30 Thursday.

The initiation raises the chapter's membership to 43. Charter members admitted last year numbered 31 and all of them are now working on Junior Homemaking degrees.

New members admitted are LaQuita Cain, Carol Hellman, Barbara Miller, Ruth North, Anna Margaret Hacker, Rose Mary Knabe, Edna Swirczynski, Earlene Walterscheid, Julia Wolf, Helen Jetzelsberger, Lorine Haverkamp and Angeline Grewing.

New officers installed are Lillian Vogel, pres.; Jeanette Fisher, vice-pres.; Pauline Myrick, secy.; Mildred Hall, treas.; Norma Vogel, historian; Marceline Wimmer, parliamentarian; Eva Muller, reporter; Jeanette Walter, song leader; Anna Lee Mitchell, pianist.

News of Sick And Injured

Billy Dean Owen, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Owen, sustained a compound fracture of his right arm Friday in a fall from a clothes line pole. He was taken to Gainesville Sanitarium to have the arm placed in a cast.

Eddie Fleitman, who broke his right arm about six weeks ago, was in Dallas last week for an operation on the arm by a bone specialist. The break failed to knit and surgery was necessary.

Charles Sicking, 4 year old son of the Leo Sicking, suffered a mashed right index finger and lost the finger nail last Wednesday when the endgate from a pickup fell on his hand.

GRIM WITHOUT FAIRY TALES—Small fry in the South Korean capital of Seoul examine a new plaything, a Communist tank knocked out by UN forces in the recent bitter battle for Seoul. The U. S. flag in the background signifies that peace has been restored to the city but it will be months before this crippled dreadnaught and other reminders of war are removed from the lives of Seoul's young citizens.

Parochial Benefit Hallowe'en Party To Be Held Sunday

A Hallowe'en carnival with plenty of old time black magic and lots of new tricks and games awaits visitors Sunday when roommothers of the parochial grade school sponsor a benefit party. The affair will begin at 2:30 and continue until about 7 p.m.

During the past week the mothers, assisted by students, have been busy arranging their program to include entertainment for the whole family.

Youngsters will enjoy the spook attractions, a costume contest, fortune telling, a grab bag and children's games. Adults will find a variety of games and there will be an abundant supply of food for everybody. One booth will feature home made candy and cookies.

The costume contest will open the program with a parade, judging and selection of winners. There will be three divisions with prizes in each as follows: for preschool tots, for children from grades one through four, and for children from grades five through eight.

Wichita Pastor Is Speaker for NCCW Quarterly Meeting

Rev. Anthony Daly of Wichita Falls will be the principal speaker when the Sherman deanery National Council of Catholic Women holds its quarterly meeting here on Nov. 21. His subject will be "Moral Influence of Parents Over Children's Character."

The complete program for the meeting is to be announced in the near future.

Hornet Reserves to Play Era Reserves

Reserves of the Hornet squad will line up next Wednesday night for their third game of the season when they take on the reserves of Era.

Other encounters to date for the Muenster second stringers were with Callisburg, both of which the local lads dropped by a one touchdown margin.

P-TA and Students To Share Benefits Of Hallowe'en Party

Lots of pet projects are due for a financial lift at the Hallowe'en carnival to be held next Tuesday night in the public school. At least seven groups are in the running, and each has a concession of some kind.

The big deal is the PTA's big chicken dinner at 6. Baked chicken and dressing with all the trimmings and baked ham to boot. Money raised by the dinner will be used to buy more library books.

Smaller concessions will be run by each of the four classes and the FHA and FFA chapters. Each organization will get to keep its own profits for whatever purpose it wishes.

The concessions, to be scattered in various parts of the building will feature games, eats and drinks and a dance beginning about 10 o'clock.

The party is not a costume affair but two special prizes will be awarded for the best kiddies' costumes. One prize will be for high school age the other for elementary age. Any child, whether a student at the school or not, may compete in that contest.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henschel, their son Harry and his wife and two children, all of Norman, spent Sunday here with their relatives of the Henschel and Hartman families.

Cities represented in the assembly are Muenster, Gainesville, Denison, Sherman, Wichita Falls, Electra, Megargle, Scotland, Windthorst and Rhineland.

Lubbock Man Will Be New Manager Of Electric Co-op

The Cooke County Electric Co-operative has a new manager, subject to the approval of REA headquarters in Washington. After waiting more than 3 1/2 months, since the resignation of Ed McKinney on July 1, directors in their meeting of Oct. 18, decided on Maurice D. Kaderli of Lubbock out of their list of about 60 applicants.

Kaderli's present work is safety instructor for the Texas REA Safety and Job Training institute. He calls on member units of the area and conducts personnel safety meetings. Prior to that he was engaged in other REA work in West Texas.

Unless approval from REA headquarters is unduly delayed, Kaderli is expected to begin work here about November 15.

FHA Starts Series Of Radio Programs

Hornets Lose 19-6 In Tough Contest With Pilot Point

The scrapping Hornets have no reason to hang their heads for the 19-6 defeat handed them at Pilot Point last Friday. Holding the husky and versatile Bearcat team, regarded as one of the chief contenders for the 15-B district title, to a 3-touchdown score is quite an achievement in itself.

But that's not the half of it. Figured on any basis but the score the Hornets gave the Bearcats a first class tussle. They led 14 to 11 in first downs and came within 14 yards of matching the Bearcats in total gains. Their trouble was that too many hard earned gains were lost by fumbles or losses on downs at the time they should have paid off in points.

The first half was a heart-breaker for the Muenster boys. Three times they threatened. Twice they fumbled and once their offense bogged down. The Pointers, on the other hand, were clicking beautifully and crossed the goal line 3 times with little trouble.

The second half was different. Though still plagued by hard luck the Hornets held the initiative almost all the way through and pushed over a well earned touchdown while holding the huskies to a few scattered gains.

Pilot Point took the opening kick and booted on the fourth down. Muenster racked up a first down on Yosten's 9 and Walterseid's 4, but the next series fell a yard short and the Bearcats took over on the Hornet 49. From there it was six plays for two successive first downs on 39 and 23 followed by Bolton's power drive to the goal. Another plunge added the extra point for an early lead of 7-0.

The Hornets came back strong after Hellman's beautiful kick return to the Hornet 35. Yosten, (Continued on Page 8)

Sub-Par Hornets Face Hard Fight Friday at Alvord

With the memory of a tough tussle at Pilot Point and their second loss of the season still fresh on their minds the Hornets are getting set this week to get back into the victory stride.

The intended victims are the Alvord Bulldogs, on their field Friday night beginning at 7:30. It will be the Hornets' third District 13-B conference game of the season and their opportunity to advance a step closer to runner-up honors in the loop race. The powerful Valley View Warriors, champs of the '49 season, are strong favorites to retain the title this year. Muenster's conference record to date includes a loss to Valley View and a win over Bryson.

Coach Hood expects a tight game. With Emmet Walterscheid out of the game because of a shoulder injury, John Aytes still ailing from his illness of last week, and Gilbert Yosten still nursing a tricky knee, the Hornets will not be playing under full steam. Hood estimates that the handicaps will offset the advantage indicated by comparative records of the two teams. The only opponent played by both to date is Bryson. Both defeated that team, Muenster by a score of 31-6 and Alvord by a score of 6-0.

Schedule of Coming Events

- FRIDAY, Oct. 27, Hornets vs. Alvord, there.
- SUNDAY, Oct. 29, Hallowe'en Carnival, church basement, 2:30.
- TUESDAY, Oct. 31, P-TA Carnival, public school, 6 p.m.
- WEDNESDAY, Nov. 1, K of C meeting, 8 p.m.
- WEDNESDAY, Nov. 1, Hornet Reserves vs. Era Reserves, here.
- THURSDAY, Nov. 2, Civic League and Garden Club meeting, the home of Mrs. Nick Miller, 8 p.m.

Milk production is the final test for keeping a cow in the dairy herd but other factors should also be considered before a cow is culled from the herd. To Experiment With Grass and Legumes

Members of the Muenster Future Farmers chapter intend to learn by experiment which grasses are best adapted to local soil.

In that study each member will have his own personal plot of ground on the school lot to take care of his grass or legume project and his crop will be under the observation of the entire class.

The land was plowed for the boys by Hugh Jackson, Ford tractor dealer.

Tuesday of last week the FFA boys went out and picked Indiangrass seed which the chapter expects to sell to the soil conservation service. Proceeds from the sale will be placed in the chapter treasury.

Social Security Will Affect Everybody
Starting Next Year

Under the new 1950 law, federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance protection is extended to the self-employed. Persons who work for themselves in their own trades and businesses are brought into the federal insurance system beginning January 1, 1951. When their net income from self-employment is $400.00 or more a year, they must report it for posting to their Old-Age and Survivors Insurance accounts.

Self-employed persons must have account numbers which are issued as small cards called "social security cards." These cards will be needed in 1952 when the self-employed file reports of their net self-employment income tax returns. And at that time they will pay their Old-Age and Survivors Insurance premiums on their net self-employment incomes. Through the year 1953 the premium rate of the self-employed will be 2 1/4 percent on net income up to $3,600.00 a year.

45 Women Learn
Metalcraft in Adult Homemaking Class

Fancy things galore are being made nowadays in the adult homemaking class conducted on Tuesday nights by Miss Ruby Kelly in the public school library.

Beginning small several weeks ago, the last class had an attendance of 45.

The project now under study in the class is metalcraft, which is divided into aluminum and copper work. At the present time the ladies are making aluminum trays. Starting with a flat disc they etch designs with an ice pick and shape it with padded pliers. Next they will etch aluminum with acid and after that they will work on copper which is also made from flat discs. Designs are put on the copper by another process but shaping is done with pliers, as in the aluminum work. The finished articles range in size from serving trays to ash trays.

Leathercraft will follow the metalcraft. It will consist of tooling and sewing leather.

Also on schedule, for the latter part of the year, is upholstering.

AMERICA IS WAKING UP

America's most strategic communities, in which large concentrations of people or important groupings of industries are centered, have begun to organize for the eventuality of an atom bomb attack and other forms of airborne invasion, such as, for instance, paratroop raiders. If the day comes when Soviet military power strikes boldly at the heart of our nation's strength, the population in these strategic communities will be alerted by radio and other means, setting into motion intricately worked-out mass evacuation and defense plans.

For successful execution of such emergency plans, the whole population must spring into action within the space of a few minutes. Sirens, mill whistles and other signals will set plans in motion and summon the population to radio sets, telephones and public loud speakers for detailed instructions. Thus the mass communication facilities become the very heart of our civilian defense—and also the No. 1 objectives for invading forces and their fifth columnists.

send squads of parachuting raiders into cities in the pathway of the Wehrmacht and seize the radio stations. In some countries Nazi fifth Columnists who had been posing as loyal citizens suddenly produced machine guns and seized the stations. Then an unsuspected French or Belgian or Dutch announcer would interrupt programs and announce: "Emergency orders! All citizens remain indoors with blinds drawn!" The civilian population was thus perfectly controlled by the invaders.

The Communist Red Army and its farflung fifth column, highly organized in every nation in the civilized world, have perfected this Nazi total war strategy and added the diabolical infiltration technique. They used it with decisive effect in Korea. In the United States where virtually every family has a radio, radio stations would be invaluable. In fact, our radio industry long has been one of the high priority objectives of infiltrating Communists.

"One Voice . . ."

In a recent issue of the Radio-Television Daily, important publication of the industry, the danger of American fifth column Communists and fellow travelers was recognized in the following terse warning: "In an emergency (at any given time) it would require only three persons (Communists or sympathizers) To Reach 90 Million People With A Message. One engineer in master control at a radio network. One director in a radio studio. One voice before a microphone."

The popular magazine, Broadcasting, also warned: "Can you conceive of anyone more potent when an emergency strikes than the man at the network mike? That should be sufficient to guide broadcast management in the screening of personnel." And last June, J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, who will have the responsibility of "neutralizing" the fifth column in any emergency, told a Congressional Committee: "Communist efforts toward infiltration have been intensified in . . . the communications industry."

Red Influence

In view of these facts, the recent publication of a report by a group of former high placed FBI men would be of interest to the American public. The report said, in part: "With radios in most American homes and with approximately 5 million TV sets in use, the Cominform and the Communist Party USA now rely more on radio and TV than on press and motion pictures as 'belts' to transmit pro-Sovietism to the American public." Substantial funds earned by Communists and sympathizers employed in the industry find their way to the Party through contributions to 'fronts,' the former FBI men said.

The 215-page report, entitled "Red Channels," lists approximately 150 actors, directors, commentators, writers, technicians, announcers, musicians and producers of radio and TV and gives the Communist or Communist front organization to which they reportedly have belonged, affiliated with, or in whose activities they've participated. The former FBI men responsible for this report are not "witch hunters." They have a genuine concern for the safety of our nation. They say Communism has gained powerful influence in the strategic communications field. They want the public to know the facts. They are putting their finger on a real danger—when the time is not yet "too late."

You Can't Build A Better Mousetrap!

"They're not the best-looking boarders a man ever had," Hack Turner said one day, "and they've got awful tempers. But I've found it pays to have 'em around."

Hack was talking about a family of barn owls, nesting in his silo this year. Some folks believe those little white-faced screechers kill chickens—and ought to be shot on sight. But Hack disagrees.

"Up at State University they've studied barn owls for years—and never known one to eat a chicken. On the other hand, a daddy owl will clean up around 300 mice a month. Farmers that kill barn owls are throwing away the best mousetraps known to man!"

From where I sit, when someone shows a prejudice against any group of animals or humans—it's usually just based on misunderstanding. For instance, some folks are plumb intolerant about those of us who enjoy an occasional quiet glass of beer. Get to really know us and you're liable to find we're pretty good birds at that!

Common Colds Cost America More Than $2,000,000 Annually

AUSTIN — Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, estimates that there are 500 million colds a year in the U.S.A. and they take an economic toll of two million dollars. This does not take into consideration the inconvenience suffered, or the fact that following or during a cold, other serious illness such as pneumonia, tuberculosis or mastoiditis gain a foothold. And the common cold is only one of the many winter enemies that encounters everyone from the crib to the coffin; some of the others are influenza, bronchitis, ear infections, sinusitis, and pneumonia. These are all respiratory diseases and they are caused by many different germs. Some of these germs are called bacteria, and some are called viruses.

Just because you have had a cold is no reason you won't catch another. Two out of three people have three colds a year, and two out of eight people have four colds a year. Wet feet, drafts, chilling, exposure to bad weather, etc., do not cause your cold but they do weaken the body's resistance to a cold. So we say that there are favorable conditions for germs, one is the strength and number of the germs, and the other is body resistance which includes undernourishment, fatigue, irritation of the nose and throat by airborne substances, or chilling of the body.

The best way to avoid catching cold is to:

1. Avoid people with colds as much as possible.
 2. Beware of fatigue, avoid overwork, get plenty of rest, exercise moderately out-of-doors.
 3. Keep feet warm and dry.
 4. Keep out of drafts.
 5. Eat a well balanced diet.
- If you have a cold, help yourself and others by staying home, eating light foods and calling your doctor if necessary.

Widows of Veterans Are Now Entitled to Social Security Pay

Another important change in the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system concerns the men and women who served in our armed forces during World War II. The new law provides wage credits of $160 for each month of military service in World War II.

This change may qualify many widows and children of those who were killed in action or who may have died since the war. Insurance benefits may be payable with the month of September, 1950. Although a widow may have remarried the children or dependent parents may qualify for benefits.

The Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Office is attempting to contact all persons who would be entitled to monthly benefits as survivors of World War II veterans. Also we would like to contact such survivors who may have been previously informed that no benefits could be paid, because it may now be possible for them to qualify with the added credits for World War II service. Widows, children and dependent parents of men and women who died in the service or after they had been discharged, ought to contact the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance office in Dallas, or see its representative when he visits our county. Ask your postmaster when the representative will be coming to our county.

The name Indiana originated from the fact that a company of traders purchased it from the Indians.

A legend relates that the largest lead-silver mine in the world was discovered in Idaho by a peevish burro pawing the earth while his master slept.

The state of Kansas received its name from an Indian tribe called the Kansas—meaning "People of the South Wind."

Dead River Flows The Wrong Way, Has A Delta At Its Head

KENT, Ohio — The fabulous horse with its head where its tail ought to be has a counterpart in a short river in the state of Maine, which has a delta at its head instead of at its mouth. This curious phenomenon is described in today's issue of the journal, Science, by Dr. C.N. Savage of Kent State University here.

The stream, known as Dead River, normally drains water from Androscoggin Lake into the Androscoggin River. Its course, mainly northwesterly, is six or seven miles long. It is very sluggish, since the usual difference in level between lake and river is only four or five feet.

However, during the time of spring freshets, the high-water level in the Androscoggin River becomes higher than the lake, and the current in the Dead River is reversed, so that it "flows backward" into the lake. At such times, the river water is heavy with rock silt, and this burden, dropped when the current of the Dead River enters the still water of the lake, is forming the delta.

The delta is now about one and one-half miles long and a quarter of a mile wide.

Mmes. Frank and Ruth Needham had as guests Monday Mrs. Lucille Fancker and son, Frank Jr., of Gainesville.

Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District News

DISTRICT SUPERVISORS

J. W. Hess, Muenster V. W. Redman, Saint Jo
John Rice, Collinsville Ed Blackmon, Bowie
Willard Kemplin, Valley View

The cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District are continuing planting winter legumes for soil improvement, protection against erosion and to furnish winter grazing for livestock.

The Myra conservation group has found that winter legume crops pay big dividends in increased production of the following crop, in soil protection and improvement, in green winter forage and in a cash seed crop and are going in strong for this year.

Jake Biffle is planting Dixie Wonder peas on land that will grow corn next summer. The peas make their growth in about ninety days and will be incorporated into the soil in ample time to get corn planted. The peas will add nitrogen from their nodules on their roots and tons of organic matter from their topgrowth to the soil to increase the soil fertility and improve soil tilth.

Ike Fulton is planting 30 acres of cropland to vetch and is using a different method for inoculating the seed with the bacteria culture. To prevent the inoculant from being killed by drying and to provide the bacteria with a food so that they can multiply rapidly he is mixing a solution of syrup and water with the culture and then mixing in cottonseed meal. This makes the seed easier to put thru a drill and at the same time adds more plant food. This method should go far toward insuring the survival of inoculant in dry soils.

Parker Fears of Myra is planting 18 acres to vetch for soil conditioning. After two years of this soil building legume the land will be seeded to a permanent grass. Roy Townsley and Ralph Davidson had vetch last year and they know its benefits. Both are increasing the acreage of this crop on their farms this fall.

In the Forestburg area the district-owned combination grain and fertilizer drill is still busily metering out vetch and phosphate on cooperators farms. Mack Trayler used the drill to put vetch and fertilizer on 30 acres of cropland. W. L. Blankenship used the drill to sow alfalfa on his bottomland field and to put vetch on some of his pasture land. The vetch will be used as a soil conditioner and native grass is to be seeded with it this winter or early next spring. Louis Pinton seeded 30 acres to vetch with the drill. The legume will be used to improve and protect the soil and to furnish some winter grazing. Pryor McGee and Ben Perryman have also completed the planting of vetch on their land and are now ready for the overdue rain to come.

J. W. Hess used the district drill to put vetch and phosphate on 25 acres on his farm north of Muenster. Joe Mage is using a three disk plow and the island method of terrace construction to build one-half mile of terraces in one of his fields. Additional terraces have been staked for Gary Hess and construction will probably be completed this week. Gary's terraces empty on his bermuda grass waterways.

Buddy Reiter seeded a waterway to K.R. Bluestem last spring on his place south of Muenster. The grass has become established and is producing seed this year. Buddy is building a stock pond in the waterway so that he can graze the grass next summer.

Vetch, The 6-Purpose Crop

Between now and next June it is likely that there will be many comments of praise for the vetch crop from the farmers in the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District. That is as it should be, according to technicians of the Muenster work unit. Vetch earns all the praise it receives by being a handy crop to have on the farm. In fact, on the agriculture ball team, vetch plays six positions. It is grown for soil improvement, winter cover crop, winter grazing crop, a hay crop, the seed is harvested for a cash crop, and the many blossoms make it a good honey crop. This multiple threat legume develops best in a cool climate so it is a natural for fall planting with this area's mild winters.

Vetch planted early in the fall with favorable moisture conditions will make enough growth before the hard freezes hit to cover the soil with a green blanket of protection against the damaging splash effect of falling rain and water erosion. The fact that vetch thrives in a cool climate makes it ideal for furnishing green forage to livestock thru the winter months when grass is dormant.

Vetch doesn't seem to be very choosy about the soil in which it grows. It grows well on both sandy loams and the heavier Grand Prairie soils and is grown widely on these soils as a soil improving crop. Vetch belongs to the legume family and if properly inoculated at planting time will play host to nitrogen fixing bacteria that set up housekeeping in the small nodules on the plants' roots and go about their business of taking nitrogen from the air and converting it to nitrates which the host plant and others can use to make better growth. The fibrous root system of vetch leaves tons of organic matter in the soil to form humus which helps keep the soil granulated and improves soil structure.

Vetch is a weak stemmed plant with lots of leaves so it makes good quality hay when cut in the early bloom stage. Hay yields will run from one to three tons per acre depending upon the fertility of the soil and weather conditions.

The vetch crop comes into bloom early and stays in bloom for a long period. This blooming stage gives the bees an excellent source of nectar and steps up their honey production. The visits of the bees to the vetch blossoms have a dual benefit to the vetch grower. The supply of honey is increased and the vetch blooms are pollinated so that more seed is formed and a higher seed production can be obtained. Vetch seed yields average around 200 pounds per acre, but yields of 500 pounds are not uncommon.

In spite of all its virtues and its ability to withstand winter weather and winter grazing, vetch needs some help in getting started. On most soils, 200 to 400 pounds of super phosphate fertilizer should be applied before vetch is planted and for all vetch plantings, fresh inoculant should be applied to the seed just before it is put into the soil. The fertilizer and inoculant are cheap crop insurance and pay big dividends in increased production.

Pilot Point Game - - -

Hellman and Walterscheid shared the totting in nine plays for 3 first downs reaching to the Bearcat 19 but the drive fizzled there and Pilot Point took over on the 13.

A blocked kick three plays later gave the Hornets another chance but a fumble recovered by Pilot Point blasted hopes again.

Then things happened fast, Dunn reeled off 12 and Wiesman 5 to the 32 where Stephens heaved a long pass to Branum who scampered 40 yards in the open for touchdown number 2.

Again the Hornets came out trying. Wylie returned the kick to the 35. Hellman gained 5 and Yosten advanced to the Bearcat 34 after a short pass from Wylie. Hellman added 9 more and another drive ended abruptly in a fumble recovered by the Pointers on their 28.

Then came a bitterly contested but sustained drive in which the Bearcats made five first downs followed by Stephens' 3 yard plunge for another touchdown.

The first half was clearly Pilot Point's with 8 first downs and a total yardage of 214 as compared with Muenster's 5 first downs and 109 total yards. The second half was Muenster's with 9 first downs and 137 yards against Pilot Point's 3 first downs and 46 yards.

Opening the second half the Hornets fell short in yardage and kicked but regained the ball 2 plays later on their 35 on a Bearcat fumble. Hard driving from there advanced the ball to the Bearcat 14 on 4 first downs and Walterscheid's 6 yards seemed to set up a touchdown but another fumble blasted hopes and the Pointers took over on their 12.

Failing to gain they booted and the Hornets started again from the Pilot Point 45. Yosten accounted for most of the gains in 3 successive first downs to the 3 and Glenn Hellman plunged over for the touchdown.

Starting from the 50 after a muffed kickoff Pilot Point appeared to be on the march again, reaching first downs on the 38 and 28, but lost the ball as Hamric intercepted a pass on the 15.

A pass Yosten to Aytes reached the Hornet 46 and after four smeared plays the Hornets lost the ball on downs on their 37.

Branum scampered 15 to the 22 after which the Hornets held for downs regaining the ball on their 19.

A short pass Wylie to Yosten added 8 and Yosten carried for 9 more. Another pass Yosten to Wylie added 7. Two desperate long passes just before the final whistle failed to connect.

Confetti - - - his attitude toward communism and Russia as a threat to world peace, but ever so many Americans continue to wonder how he can reconcile that attitude with his policy of pampering pinks in this country.

Let's hope that his recent awakening in world affairs will lead to a similar awakening in domestic affairs. We'll all be more pleased and more comfortable when he cracks down on Stalin's stinkers over here the same as he cracked down on Stalin himself.

We'll feel like we're really getting places when he cooperates fully in getting commies out of the government, the labor unions and the schools... when he abandons politics for real statesmanship and does the country a real service instead of pussy-footing to retain the marginal support of pinks.

The whole thing is as plain as the nose on his face. Pinks up North and East have voting power which has been helpful, and as a grateful politician he's doing his bit to help them. Just a sad case of misplaced loyalty. So he hands us that stuff about human rights. Well, we're still not convinced that an avowed enemy of this country has a right to continue unhampered his efforts to destroy the country.

Anyway, we're making progress. It used to be that the administration helped Commies both here and abroad. Now we've quit helping them abroad.
