Community Perked Up by Dandy Rain

The best news we have had from England in years was that of last week revealing the return of Churchill and Conservatives to power in His Majesty's government. It makes us feel very much like a man whose mooching son finally mustered enough spunk to try supporting himself.

Apparently the people of that once powerful, proud and self-reliant nation have had their fill of socialism. They went to the polls with a clear knowledge of the issues. And they chose Churchill's platform of attempting a comeback through honorable, dignified sacrifice and hard work, rather than Attlee's platform of more promises for free handouts and continued national deterioration. They've discovered at long last that the socialistic land of milk and honey cannot long endure after the cows have been milked dry and the beehives have been robbed.

It's unfortunate that noble England had to learn the hard way. Common sense and history told them even before they started that socialism divides poverty rather than wealth. But they made the same mistake that other victim peoples have made. They reached too far in their quest for something for nothing and finally discovered there was nothing left to reach for.

There is something tragically misleading about the concept of community ownership which is the core of socialism. Too many individuals are suckers for the notion that they are enriched when the community or nation to which they belong takes over private property. After the change they discover that their personal status has not improved a bit. And invariably they discover also that the waste and inefficiency in the bureaucratic management of "their" property leaves them actually worse off than before. After all it's the production of a plant or mine, not the ownership of it, that benefits the people.

That point is illustrated very clearly in the story of two individual engineers. The Russian proudly stated that an automobile factory belonged to the workers. The cars it made, he admitted, belonged to the red ruling clique and their favorites. The American engineer said that the factory belongs to a private individual but the cars belong to "us workers."

That's England's tragic predicament today. The workers share in the ownership, if that's any comfort to them, but they can't afford to share in the products of industry. They own so much but have so little. As a matter of fact, they are paupers. Except for the billions of dollars of American aid the country would have folded long ago.

The hope that Churchill will be able to reverse the pitiful trend is what makes the change so welcome over here. At last there's a possibility that the American taxpayer will be relieved of the burden of supporting his English cousin.

Equally pleasing is the prospect of a bit of good influence on American politics. The decision of British voters can very well serve as a warning to stop our socialistic tendencies before they get us into the same kind of mess. They've tried and found it wanting. We can profit by their experience and return to common sense standards before the return gets that tough.

Another thought to ponder over: If Britain with all our help fizzled on socialism, how can we ever hope to get along with it? Who is there to help us if we get into that fix?

HORNETS-PANTHERS WILL PLAY ON THANKSGIVING

The Muenster Hornets will play the Saint Jo Panthers here on Thanksgiving day, starting at 1:30 o'clock, instead of the originally scheduled date of Friday, the 23rd. Superintendent Cowan announced the change this week explaining that the afternoon game will probably be more comfortable for the fans and that prospects for a crowd are as good on the holiday as at night.

That long awaited rain arrived during the past week end, and more came Wednesday. Accompanied by a moderate drop in temperature, the moisture came slowly and soaked in beautifully. The total measure was 3.81, and was scattered over three official readings of 1.55 at 7 Saturday, 1.25 at 7 Sunday, and .13 at 7 Monday, plus an unofficial reading of .88 at 5 Wednesday afternoon. According to the weather bureau's method, Steve Moster explained, official readings are taken at 7 a. m. only and Wednesday's rain is listed in November's records. Figures for October, therefore, show a total of 3.60, 2.93 for the week end plus .67 on Oct. 23. The year's measure through October is 29.22.

As things stand now community crops have their best start in years. Practically all seeding had been finished, and the wheat, oats, alfalfa and vetch are on their way. Prospects for good winter grazing are equally bright. Indications now are that pasture will be plentiful on both crop and grass land.

Hornets Favored in Tussle With Boyd

For the last time this season the Muenster High Hornets will be top heavy favorites when they meet the Boyd Yellowjackets there Friday night. Boyd's record includes close games with Era and Boys' Ranch, both of which teams lost to the Hornets by heavy scores. The game will be the Hornets' third attempt to continue their perfect conference record. Up to now their only district opponents have been Era and Valley View.

Not overlooking the possibility of an upset, Hood has instructed his boys to play the game the way they will have to play next week against Sanger and two weeks later against Saint Jo. In his practice sessions this week he has been priming for those last two games, assuming that if the boys will play that brand of football they will be able to take the Yellowjackets in their stride.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

It's Sergeant Robert Bayer since October 15, according to a recent letter to his mother, Mrs. Joe Bayer. Robert is on the fighting line in Korea with the Infantry.

Pfc. Mike Luke is here since last Thursday night on a 10-day leave with his parents, the Henry Lukes. He has completed a course in radio and radar at Kessler AFB, Miss., and will go from here to Kirtland AFB in Albuquerque, N. M., for his new assignment.

Sgt. First Class John Durbin wrote his wife from Japan where he was on a stop-over enroute to Korea. This is his second trip to the war zone. He served there several months at the onset of hostilities.

Pfc. Maurice Stelzer stopped here during the week end for a visit with her grandfather, A. C. Stelzer and other relatives. He was enroute to Post to visit his parents, the Matt Stelzers, where he is on leave until Nov. 7. He has been transferred by the air force from Pittsburgh, Pa., to California.

After 10 days leave at home, Clyde Fisher left Monday to return to duty with the Marine Corps at Santa Anna, Calif. He drove his car and was accompanied by three other Marines of Dallas. Among the several gatherings honoring Clyde during his visit was a birthday party given by his parents on Oct. 24 and a dinner given by his grandparents the Ed Schmitts on Oct. 28. His leave followed completion of basic training at San Diego, Calif., and he reports now for his regular assignment at Santa Anna.

Barney Yosten, 73, Dies in Nebraska

Members of the Yosten families received word Sunday of the death of their brother, Barney Yosten of Wisner, Neb. He was 73 years old and had been ill in a hospital at West Point for two weeks.

Funeral services were held at Wisner Tuesday.

Mr. Yosten was well known locally for his annual visits to this city. He spent most of last winter here with relatives.

Survivors are five children, John of Clarkston, Neb., Mrs. Joe Heimann of West Point, Mrs. Edwin Schula of Wisner with whom he made his home since his wife died two years ago; Mrs. Ralph Bush of Dodge, and Robert of Wisner; one sister, Mrs. Joe Swirczynski of Muenster; and four brothers, Nick and Frank of Muenster, Matt of West Point and George of Dodge.

Hornets Nose Out Alvord 12-6 With Last Minute TD

In a story book thriller the Muenster Hornets nosed out the Alvord Bulldogs 12-6 here Friday night, extending their season record to date to six wins out of seven games.

Less than a minute before the final whistle John Aytes caught Hamric's pass across the goal line for the touchdown that broke the deadlock and served as a belated pay-off for a 78 yard drive which only a few plays before had bogged down 3 yards from the goal.

It was a sad moment for Hornets fans when a series of downs starting at the 12 fell inches short, and the red and white clad boys apparently had missed their chance to win. But stout defensive play held the Bulldogs and a partially blocked kick gave the Hornets another start from the 21. Hellman's 2 and Noggler's 10 made it first down on the 9. Another disappointment as Hamric was caught for a loss before he could pass. But the next play clicked for the TD.

Even then there was a tense moment. Aytes fumbled as a Bulldog tackled him and the stand held its breath awaiting the referee's decision. He ruled that the pass was complete and the touch-

Gladys Hoffman to Reign as Queen at S. H. Homecoming

Miss Gladys Ann Hoffman, junior class representative, is winner of a contest for the honor to reign as queen at Sacred Heart High school's Homecoming ceremony on Nov. 8, when the Sacred Heart Tigers play St. Mary's Mustangs.

The final count of votes Tuesday night at the school's Halloween dance revealed that she was the leader. Other contestants in the order of their standing were Misses Leoba Henscheid, Frances Knabe and Marilyn Miller, who will attend Her Royal Highness at the coronation ceremony and at the Homecoming dance. Other attendants in the queen's court will be Duchesses Sharon Klement, Judy Walter, Joan Herr and Dianne Endres.

The principal event on the program is the coronation ceremony in which Tiger Co-captains Ronald Herr and George Mollenkopf will play leading roles and in which other members of the team and the pep squad will participate. The royal party will have places of honor during the game and will be honored at the dance in the K of C hall after the game.

Game time is 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crow of Archer City arrived here Wednesday following the death of her brother, Raymond Derichsweiler, and will remain through the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Stelzer and children of Post spent the week end with her parents, the Ed Eberharts and other relatives. Her mother, who had visited in Post during the week, accompanied them home.

Parish Park Work Started Tuesday

A new parish picnic spot is in the making. It is an area covering about 3 acres on the parish land about two miles northwest of town.

About a dozen men and one bulldozer were there Tuesday. The men were wielding axes, chopping low limbs off the trees and the bulldozer was cleaning away briars, brush and small trees besides leveling the ground. It has just started and has a few more full days ahead. Besides trimming trees in the park area the men are cutting brush and limbs beside the road leading to it.

The intention is to use the grove for future parish picnics, when the weather permits.

SHHS Tigers Beat Whitesboro 19-7

Playing through intermittent drizzles on a puddled field the Sacred Heart High Tigers muddled through for a 19-7 victory over the Whitesboro Bearcats at Whitesboro last Friday night.

Through most of the slippery fracas the Tigers held a clear advantage. They led in first downs and total yardage and spent the greater part of the time on the Bearcat end of the field.

They were slow in starting, however. Until late in the first quarter the ball changed sides regularly as each team kicked after failing to pick up yardage. Then the Tigers put on a 66 yard drive that fouled up just short of the goal. With 10 to go and 5 of that gained on a penalty against Whitesboro, the Tigers were held for downs on the 4.

The Bearcats failing to gain, booted. Herr ran the kick back 10 yards to the 30 and picked up 10 more on the next scrimmage play. A penalty and two more plays reached the 1 and Mollenkopf charged over for the score.

The second half opened with an

Thousand Attend Formal Opening of Endres Building

Muenster came, saw and praised last Saturday when the Endres Motor Company held its big party commemorating the formal opening of its new building and the observance of its Fifth Anniversary as local Ford dealer.

A conservative estimate of the attendance was something more than a thousand. The figure is based on a count of 716 on the guest register and an estimate of no less than 300 who did not bother to await their turn at the register. Other tributes included 37 bouquets and a large number of congratulatory telegrams and letters.

Souvenirs consisted of whistles for the kiddies and pencils and ash trays for the adults. Each lady also received a carnation.

The reception started at 9 o'clock and continued until the wee hours of Sunday morning. During the day visitors came and went by the few or the dozen, at night they came by the hundreds, the time of highest attendance being about 9 p. m. when Al Moody and his string band, companions started the square dance in the shop department.

Among visiting guests were several representatives of the Dallas branch of the Ford Motor Company. They were Branch Manager D. R. Crandall Jr., Administrative Manager Leon Armstrong, Distribution Manager Zack Brown, Assistant District Sales Manager A. Y. Edwards, and Zone Manager Howard Paul. The latter two were accompanied by their wives.

Another Ford representative who could not appear was C. O. Hudson, amateur magician, who was scheduled to put on a magic show. Sickness in the family required a late change in plans. He sent word, however, that he would like to give his show at a school program or some other gathering.

Clean-Up Saturday If Weather Permits

The city-wide clean up, scheduled for last Saturday and postponed on account of rain, will be conducted this Saturday if the weather permits.

The clean up is sponsored by the Civic League and Garden Club and the work of loading and hauling will be done by members of the local Boy Scout troop.

Everyone is asked to have cans and other junk boxed or sacked and placed in alleys or at curbs for quick pick up. The usual fee for the pick up service will go into the Scout treasury.

Death Ends Illness Of Mrs. C. T. Hamner

Relatives here learned Tuesday morning that their niece and cousin, Mrs. C. T. Hamner of Dallas had passed away at 5 a. m. She was the former Miss Mattie Mae Rebirthish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Rebirthish of Dallas. She had been ill since January.

Muenster relatives attended the funeral services Wednesday.

Mrs. Hamner is survived by her husband; her parents; an uncle, Frank Kaiser of Muenster, and two aunts, Mmes. L. A. Bernauer and John Meurer of Muenster, and cousins, Mrs. Nick Miller, H. A. Walterscheid, Herbert Meurer and C. J. Kaiser of Muenster, and Mrs. C. A. Stelzer of Fort Worth.

Work Started on Water Extensions

With preliminary work almost complete, the city expects to start next week on the actual installation of its water main extensions in three sections of the city.

For the past two weeks workmen have been setting valves the three points where tie-ins are to be made. With those valves installed, the rest of the work can be carried to completion without further inconvenience to customers on the present line.

Water Superintendent Steve Moster, in charge of the work, says that ditch digging will probably be started next week. Nick Yosten's power shovel is to do the job except in rocky areas where the machine cannot operate. Those places will be finished by hand work.

The installation is to be made according to recommendations prescribed by the State Health Department.

The first precaution was to store pipe in a clear spot well above the ground to reduce the chance of collecting dirt and trash in it. As the pipe is laid it gets a double swabbing, once with a dry rag to remove any dirt or trash, and once with a chlorine soaked swab, and when it is in place its open end remains plugged until the next joint is connected. Finally, when the job is finished the pipe is

News of Sick And Injured

Meinrad Yosten, 14, son of the Nick Yostens, sustained a broken left leg during football practice Tuesday at noon. He is a freshman at Sacred Heart High school. The injured leg was placed in a cast at the local clinic and Meinrad was permitted to go home where he is resting as comfortably as his condition permits.

Rev. Anthony Schroeder of Altus, Ark., former Muenster pastor, is in St. Anthony hospital at Morrilton, Ark., recovering satisfactorily from a major operation performed the latter part of last week.

Herman 'Boss' Swirczynski was out for a car drive and a visit in town Tuesday afternoon for the first time since his accident on August 14.

Mrs. Lena Bernauer, 213 Andrew Street, Gainesville, formerly of Muenster, was a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium this week for medical treatment.

Mrs. Charlie Meurer is back at her home in Windthorst convalescing nicely from recent surgery in the Jackboro hospital.

Ray Derichsweiler Passes Wednesday; Rites Friday at 8

Raymond Derichsweiler, 24, died in a Gainesville hospital at 8:20 Wednesday morning after a critical illness that started some 24 hours before.

He had been in poor health since last spring but was active until Tuesday morning when sudden serious sickness sent him to bed. His condition continued to worsen until he lost consciousness in mid-afternoon. Rushed to a Gainesville hospital he was placed under an oxygen tent but failed to regain consciousness.

Funeral services will be held here Friday at 8 a. m., with Father Louis Deuster conducting both in church and at the grave. Bearers will be six cousins.

Rosary was recited Wednesday night at 8 in the Keel Funeral chapel in Gainesville and will be recited again Thursday night at 8 in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Derichsweiler.

Raymond was born on April 26, 1927, at McAlester, Okla., and had lived in Muenster since his family moved here in 1942. Before coming here the family had lived at Tishomingo, Okla., for 12 years. He attended Muenster high school, completing the 11th grade.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Derichsweiler; five sisters, Delphine, Dolores, Catherine and Mrs. Eugene Schmitz of Muenster, and Mrs. Bill Crow of Archer City; one brother, Irvin of Muenster; and his grandmother, Mrs. Peter Bindel of Muenster.

Tigers Face Hard Test With Laneri

A tough struggle is in store for Sacred Heart High's Tigers Friday when they take on the traditionally strong Micks of Laneri High, Fort Worth, on the local field. In years past Laneri has acquired a custom of trimming the Muensterites, and apparently is not disposed to break away from the custom now.

The record also indicates that the Fort Worth boys have a team worthy of respect. Though slightly below average in size they have a stout scrappy line and a speedy backfield that favors a fast, wide open attack. They can be depended upon for lots of passes and end runs.

Among their victims to date is a 12-0 decision over the Whitesboro Bearcats, which, according to comparative figures, indicates that the team should be an even match for the Tigers, who also took the Bearcats by a two touchdown margin.

Encouraged by that comparison and determined to break the old Laneri jinx, the Tigers have been following a tough schedule of intensive practice this week. They intend to be at their very best when they line up against the Micks Friday night at 8.

Pvt. Arthur Bayer left here last Thursday night after completing an overseas leave with his mother, Mrs. Joe Bayer, and is at Camp Stoneman, Calif., from where he will begin his overseas tour.

The Emmitt Yoders and children spent the week end in Glade-water visiting relatives.

Parochial Spook Party Boosts Fund For School Repair

Youngsters had a good time, and oldesters joined in the fun Sunday afternoon when the room mothers of the Parochial grade school sponsored their annual Hallowe'en Carnival in the parish hall. A record crowd turned out to attend the benefit which added a gratifying amount to a fund to be used for school repairs.

The Hallowe'en theme, with ghosts and goblins, spooks and black cats and jack o'lanterns predominated in decorations, and various booths and concessions furnished diversion for visitors.

Popular attractions for the children were a fish pond and a fortune telling booth where Madam Yolga told scores of fortunes.

Homemade candy and cookies, ice cream, soft drinks and hot dogs were available in abundance and there was a cake sale.

More than 150 youngsters entered a costume contest in which six prizes were awarded. Winners in the pre-school age group were Linda Fette as a gypsy, first, and Janet Sue Lutkenhaus as a Spanish senorita, second; in the division for first, second and third graders, Tim Fette as a scarecrow won first, and Joan Kaiser as Little Red Riding Hood, second; in the class for fourth through eighth graders David Flusche in a devil's costume won first, and Melvin Wilde as an aged grandma won second. Mes. Ray Wilde, Steve Fette and Leo Lawson served as judges.

A BILLION BUX IS HOW MUCH?

Pat was walking down the street with three neighbors. One of the men worked for a travel agency, another for an oil company, the third for an employment agency, and the fourth in the bookkeeping department of a theatre.

They got to talking about the billions of dollars spent by the government, and then how much a billion dollars really is.

"A billion dollars would buy a trip to Europe for every man, woman and child in the city of Boston," said the travel agent.

"It would buy enough gasoline to drive every passenger car in the U. S. from New York City to Omaha, Neb.," said the oil man.

The employment agent remarked that a billion dollars would pay the wages of every working man and woman in the United States for two and one-half days.

The bookkeeper added that it would run all the amusement parks, theatres, ball parks and stadiums for a year, paying all employee salaries.

"And at my pay of $60 a week it would take me more than 300,000 years to earn it," said Pat.

"Yeah, if I donated all my pay for 300,000 years, I'd still have 14,000 years work ahead of me—in order to pay off a billion dollars of the public debt!"—Exchange.

Johnny (to teacher)—"I don't want to scare you, but pop says that if I don't get better report cards, someone is going to get a spanking."

Hobo Day is Work Day for FHA Girls

Next week Tuesday, November 6, will be Hobo Day for girls of the Muenster FHA chapter.

It's the day on which the girls will go out in search of odd jobs to earn money for their chapter fund. They'll come to school in working clothes, spend the usual class day at their respective jobs, and return to school in time to meet the bus schedule.

Announcing the event this week Mrs. Gladys Ashlock, faculty sponsor, requests that ladies of the city plan jobs on which the girls can help. Unless they have something else in mind, she suggests, they can postpone washday to Tuesday.

Piping Hot Water Launderers Cottons Most Efficiently

Plenty of hot water is essential for most efficient laundering of cottons, says Margaret Furry, textile scientist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The temperature of the washing water has much to do how fast and thoroughly soil is removed from cotton fabric. This holds true whether the washing is done by hand or machine, whether the water is hard or soft, and whatever soap or detergent is used.

Miss Furry advises "piping hot" water for bed linens, towels, men's shorts and other white cotton clothes. For hand washing, have the water as hot as the hands can bear; for machine washing have it even hotter.

The only exceptions to the rule of hot water for cottons are fragile fabrics like fine lace or sheers, and delicate colors which may be damaged by heat. However, cautions Miss Furry, stains should be removed before clothes go into the hot wash because heat sets some stains.

In tests of laundering soiled samples of cotton, Miss Furry tried more than 50 soaps and synthetic detergents in both hard and soft water. She found that more soil was removed in

Miss Pauline Lutkenhaus joined her sister and husband, the Henry Sandmanns of Valley View, on a week end trip to Oklahoma City, Norman and Lawton, Okla., and Wichita Falls to visit relatives and friends.

Eunah Walton of Houston, who formerly owned a beauty shop here, visited during the week end with her mother, Mrs. C. J. Tuggle in Myra. She was returning to Dallas to reside after living in Houston for about two years.

water of 140 degrees F. than in lukewarm water. Most household cottons are not harmed by the heat and come out cleaner if the washing water is hot enough to dissolve greasy soil and penetrate and soften the fibers.

TRIP TO SOUTH TEXAS CANCELLED BY FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luke who left last Monday to spend a week's vacation in South Texas, were stopped in San Antonio by receipt of a message advising that Mrs. Luke's aunt, Mrs. Henry Michaels, 76, had died at Rhineland. The message had been forwarded by their son, Norman Luke of Fort Worth to the Luke's niece, Mrs. Charles Denny of that city. The Lukes left immediately to attend the funeral at Rhineland Wednesday morning.

At Rhineland they met the Robstown relatives they had planned to visit: Mrs. Walter Eschberger and daughters, Mmes. Oliver Stone and Mabry Cardwell, and Mrs. Henry Mattiza.

This group returned home Thursday by way of Gainesville where they stopped to visit their sister and aunt, Mrs. August Friske.

MRS. TUGGLE HONORS SON WITH BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. C. J. Tuggle of Myra entertained in her home Sunday with a birthday dinner honoring her son, W. B. Martin.

Present were Mr. Martin's children, Mrs. R. P. Cain, her husband and family; another daughter, Mrs. Wanda Jo Hardison of Montague; a son, James Martin, his wife and baby of Saint Jo; and two other sons, Charles Wayne of St. Jo and Billy of Myra; and Mrs. Tuggle's daughter, Mrs. Eunah Walton of Houston.

Early Thanksgiving Dinner Is Son's Farewell Party

The annual Thanksgiving family reunion and dinner party came early this year at the J. B. Wilde home. The party was held Sunday at noon and was a farewell tribute for the Wildes' son, Ray, who will leave this week end for Detroit where he will spend until Christmas at a special school for sons of Chevrolet dealers of the United States. He was one of the few selected from Texas to attend.

The dining table held the roast turkey, surrounded by all the trimmings, and places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilde and children Danny and Janice, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Bezner and Jeffrey of Gainesville, Mr. and Mrs. James Bezner and Brian of Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Wilde, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Eberhart, and Bill Bratcher.

The battalion, originally destined for Korea, had its orders changed en route and was shipped to Port Said to reinforce British troops in the powder-keg Suez Canal zone.

Emilia Hermes and Theodore Voth Wed In Lindsay Service

Miss Emilia Marie Hermes and Theodore Voth exchanged marriage vows on Wednesday morning, Oct. 24, in Saint Peter's church at Lindsay during a nuptial high mass at 8:30.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Hermes of Lindsay and the groom is the son of Mrs. Barney Voth of Muenster.

Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, officiated at the ring service and was celebrant of the mass. Mrs. William Fleitman, organist, played the wedding marches and accompanied Saint Cecilia's choir.

The bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with a fitted V bodice and full gathered skirt that extended into a cathedral length train. A crushed off-the-shoulder collar with chantilly lace trim around a high necked marquisette yoke accented the bodice and the fitted sleeves came to points over her hands.

She wore a fingertip length two-tiered veil of illusion edged with lace and carried a white prayer book topped with a white gardenia showered with satin streamers.

Miss Ann Hermes of Gainesville was maid of honor and Miss Rita Hermes of Gainesville was bridesmaid. They wore bouffant frocks of satin in shades of Nile green and coral pink, respectively, with matching picture hats, and carried colonial bouquets of carnations.

Wilfred Walterscheid of Muenster and Willard Zimmerer of Gainesville were the groom's attendants. Ray Voth of Muenster and Ed Schad of Lindsay were ushers.

Mums and fern decorated the altar and baskets of the same flowers and greenery held vantage spots in the sanctuary. White satin streamers connected pews down the center aisle.

After the ceremony, breakfast was served in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Gregory Hundt. Dinner at noon was held in the home of the bride's parents for the immediate families and close friends. Decorations stressed the bride's colors in floral arrangements and satin streamers.

Saint Peter's parish hall was the scene of an informal reception beginning at 5:30 and a buffet supper was served to about 265 guests. The bride's table held the three-tiered wedding cake, flanked with tapers.

Miss Angela Hermes presided at the guest book and Mrs. Gregory Hundt and Mrs. Ed Schad served the wedding cake.

A dance at night concluded the day's festivities.

During the dance Mr. and Mrs. Voth left on a wedding trip, the bride wearing a purple suit with black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

When they return from their trip they will make their home in Muenster on North Main street. The groom is in business as a member of the Voth Brothers Drilling Co.

Out of town guests at the wedding in addition to those from Muenster and Gainesville, were the August Baers of Rockne, the B. J. Wolfs of LaFeria, Miss Frances Rauschuber of San Antonio, and the Joe Voths of Justin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fletcher spent the week end in Fort Worth with their daughter and family, the Jack Reeds, and with Mr. Fletcher's sister, Mrs. Joe Cochran. On their return home Sunday they stopped in Pilot Point for dinner with Mrs. Fletcher's brother, E. M. Shiflet, and were joined there by her mother, Mrs. F. M. Shiflet, who will spend the winter here with her daughter after spending the summer in Pilot Point.

MMS. WIESE AND STRENG ENTERTAIN FOR CDA COURT

Mmes. Francis Wiese and John P. Streng were co-hostesses Tuesday night to entertain the local court Catholic Daughters of America at their regular monthly social. They entertained in the parish hall.

The hostesses served pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee.

Ballooning Bureaucracy

Unless we who are not on public payrolls do not take action right quick, the day is not far hence when we will be a minority group. As of July, 1951, it is estimated that some 6,356,000 individuals were employed by Federal, state and local governments. This does not include those in our armed forces.

This represents a gain of more than 100 per cent since 1930, or 4 times the rate of growth of the United States population during the same period. One doesn't need to be an alert mathematician to figure that if this mad rush to get on the public payroll is not checked, we will wake up some fine morning to find the tax-eaters outnumbering us taxpayers.

The greatest gains have been made in Federal civilian employment in the executive branch; which in the past 20 years has increased by 320 per cent, or ten times the rate of increase in total non-government employment. The First National Bank of Boston in its New England letter points out that, "If the vast army of government workers were lined up in single file, two and one-half feet apart, it would extend from Boston to San Francisco. Or to put it in another way, total government civilian employment is equal to all non-government workers in the following states: Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota and part of Nebraska."

The New England letter goes on to show that in a bureaucracy such as we have in Washington, government is presided over by a group that is not elected by nor responsible to the people; that we are being ruled by bureaucratic directives instead of by laws enacted by our elected representatives. This has created a spendthrift regime, not only seeking to perpetuate itself in power, but grasping for further power. And as its power increases, individual freedom is withering on the vine.

General Eisenhower recently uttered a warning regarding this sad situation. Said he: "I firmly believe that the army of persons who urge greater and greater centralization of authority, and greater and greater dependence upon the Federal Treasury are really more dangerous to our form of government than any external threat that can possibly be arrayed against us."

Bear in mind that this statement comes from a man who probably better than any other living American knows how serious is the threat to America from forces without our border.

And again the New England letter says: "A study of the growth of bureaucracy and government planning through the ages shows that one step leads to another until finally the entire economy and all institutions are engulfed in some form of totalitarianism under which the affairs and activities of the many are directed by a few with an iron hand."

FOR MERCY'S SAKE—Playing important roles in the successful rescue and evacuation of hundreds of U. S. Air Force and UN ground force personnel are the type of ships shown in the above Air Force photo—the H-5 helicopter and the SA-16 "Albatross" amphibian, both assigned to the U. S. Air Force 3rd Rescue Squadron. Often teamed together in the dramatic and often dangerous work of saving lives, the tiny "windmills" rescue troops in rough terrain near the fighting lines, evacuating them to airstrips from which the longer-range SA-16s can take off to complete the journey to rear area hospitals.

Horrible to contemplate, isn't it, that America is running, not walking, toward a totalitarian dictatorship? So what are we who cherish our freedom going to do about it? For one thing, we can lend encouragement to those Congressmen who valiantly are fighting this centralization of power in the hands of the bureaucrats in Washington, and are struggling for economy in government. Let them know that you are wholeheartedly behind them in their efforts to salvage what remains of the American Republic.

This Is A Time For Strong Prayer

by Rev. Patrick Peyton

Never before in history has there been such conscious striving on the part of all men to achieve the ideal of universal brotherhood.

Dave Boon writing in the New York Sun noted, "The great truth of the times is . . . that in the terrible light of the atomic bomb it is clear now that nothing can save world civilization except acceptance and practice of the brotherhood of man. And the emphasis goes on 'practice'. Few things are accepted more and practiced less."

Yet all our efforts to bring equality, freedom and tolerance to the nations of the world have but meagre success.

In like manner, there has never been more concern for the state of family life, never more anxiety that the home retain its strength and vitality as the foundation and bulwark of society. Yet despite all measures, the statistics of divorce, broken homes, parental and juvenile delinquency continue their steady rise. J. Edgar Hoover's recent statements on this subject are shocking.

Built On God

In the face of such dismal failure are we not justified in examining with great clarity and honesty the methods by which we have sought to reach our admirable goals?

Have we recalled, for instance, that the brotherhood of man must always depend upon and follow the Fatherhood of God? Do we realize that neither individuals nor families will recognize the rights of others, unless they first learn to love and acknowledge the Creator from whom all rights come?

Have we forgotten the warning words of the Psalmist: "Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it. Unless the Lord keep the city, he watcheth in vain that keepeth it." Peace Through Prayer

The simple fact is that the measure of our failure has been the degree in which we have neglected to be guided by our faith in God and in His law. The experience of this war-torn generation should make humble men of us all—and if humble, prayerful also.

Clearly, this is a time for prayer—for individuals, for families, for nations. Thousands of families united in the practice of daily family prayer will gain untold blessings of God for themselves, and for our nation the promise of a glorious era of peace and happiness.

90% For! 10% Against

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dillying and dallying. It is definitely time to END THIS QUIBBLING!

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act largely fathered by the unions themselves—made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employees and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employees Accept
 Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employees—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse
 But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employees. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by BLE, BLF&E, or ORC. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employees are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer?

They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?

Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $.34 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19½ cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?
 The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employees covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?

The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employees in yard service. The employees can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower situation is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitration by a referee appointed by the President.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?

The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with so-called "interdivisional service"—runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would bar progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a situation where they can arbitrarily stop a railroad from establishing such interdivisional runs. The carriers propose that if a railroad wishes to set up an interdivisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround its establishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be submitted to arbitration.

But the three union leaders still refuse.

Rules Can Be Arbitrated

The railroads have not only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the BRT and covered by the White House Agreement, but have even agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed

With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems fair to suggest that the leaders of BLE, BLF&E, and ORC stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employees.

"LORD, TEACH US TO PRAY"

Long before Christ came upon the earth, men were resorting to prayer for divine help.

The people of Israel, we know, realized the power of prayer and prayed often in appeal for God's blessing in gratitude for His favors.

Almost every one instinctively feels the need for prayer in time of danger and emergency.

Many people, unfortunately, do not know how to pray properly. Even the Apostles, watching as Jesus prayed, became conscious for the first time of the mighty power of a proper prayer. They could see on the Savior's face as He prayed, the reflection of a great inner peace and refreshment.

So they said to Jesus: "Lord, teach us to pray."

And Christ replied: "Pray thus . . . Our Father Who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy Name.

"Thy Kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

"Give us this day our daily bread.

"And forgive us our debts as we also forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil."

The words of the "Lord's Prayer" are enshrined, of course, in the hearts of Christians everywhere. And yet Christ, in giving us this most beautiful prayer of all, did not tell us to "Pray this." He said: "Pray thus."

He meant that we must pray with the realization that God is truly our Father . . . that His Name is to be revered as no other . . . that His Will is to be done here and hereafter . . . that we are to be truly sorry for our injustices to others, and forgive those who injure us . . . and that we are to avoid sin.

People who question the value of prayer usually say they have tried it and "it didn't work." They mean by this, of course, that God did not grant the things for which they prayed. A better understanding of proper prayer would make clear to them that petition for God's favor is only one kind of prayer . . . and that God does not grant every favor which we may want or think we need.

Proper prayer is not merely a petition for blessings, but also an expression of our love, our devotion and our gratitude to God . . . a declaration of our acceptance of God as our Father . . . a submission of our wishes and our will to the wishes and the Will of God.

Every day . . . in every land and every tongue . . . a mighty chorus of prayer rises from the hearts of Catholics to honor God—to implore His blessing—to pay Him grateful thanks. For the Church teaches . . . and Catholics know . . . that there is no power in the hands of men so great as the power of prayer.

The most famous collection of prayers known to history is the Book of Psalms . . . prayers in which God Himself teaches us clearly the dispositions with which we should pray.

To help you in your prayers, we will send you a beautifully illustrated edition of the Book of Psalms free of charge. Write today and ask for your copy of Book of Psalms No. 11—KC.

New TU Discovery Keeps Chrome Trim

Austin, Texas—A University of Texas professor's discovery is expected to keep chrome trim on autos and home furnishings despite growing defense production.

Dr. Norman Hackerman, chemistry professor, has developed a new chromium plating technique which by-passes the use of nickel, in critically short supply because of the defense effort.

In present processes, nickel must first be plated on steel to give chromium a "foothold" when it is added. The Hackerman process allows chromium to plate directly on steel.

Plenty of chromium probably will be available for trim on manufactured articles of the near future, Dr. Hackerman said.

You—and the SCRAP METAL EMERGENCY

ANSWERS every farmer should have to questions about scrap iron and steel

- Q. Why is iron and steel scrap a matter of importance to farmers?
A. Steel for our Country's defense program and civilian economy is being produced at the highest annual rate ever . . . and this will be greatly increased in 1952. Farm machinery and equipment needs must come from this over-all supply. As steel production increases the need for scrap increases.
- Q. How does scrap figure in the production of steel?
A. One pound of scrap is needed to make two pounds of steel.
- Q. Is scrap getting scarce?
A. Yes, the supply of scrap at the steel mills and foundries is not increasing fast enough to meet the needs of expanding steel production. Yet, there are millions of tons of idle iron and steel scrap, in small amounts, on farms throughout the country.
- Q. What if the needed scrap isn't obtained?
A. That will mean a serious loss of steel production . . . fewer products will be made of steel. It will mean more shortages of civilian products. Defense needs come first.
- Q. Why not use pig iron instead of scrap?
A. Every ton of scrap conserves ap-

- proximately 2 tons of iron ore, 1 ton of coal, nearly 1/2 ton of limestone—and many other vital natural resources—to say nothing of transportation facilities. Besides, there are not enough blast furnaces to produce the iron needed to maintain production.
- Q. How can more scrap be furnished?
A. By everybody pitching in—as we always do in every emergency—and searching out all possible sources of scrap. Manufacturers of all kinds of products are conducting scrap drives. Old ships are being salvaged . . . scrap is being obtained from countless sources including farms.

- jects made of metal. It may be resting and rusting in fence corners, in the fields, the barnyard or the tool shed.
- Q. What should be done with farm scrap?
A. See that every bit of scrap gets to the scrap dealer located nearest to you. He will break it up into sizes used by the steel mills and foundries. He'll classify the metals then ship the scrap in carload lots. If you do not know the name of your local scrap dealer, consult your local implement dealer for this information.
- Q. What else can I do about farm scrap?
A. Support the scrap drive organized in your locality. Work with your local Scrap Mobilization Committee in getting the scrap started back to the steel mills and foundries through the local scrap dealer.

You'll be helping your country—and yourself!

More Scrap Needed By Steel Industry

College Station—Steel and more steel is needed by industries of the nation engaged in building weapons for defense, as well as items for civilian use. Steel mills can increase their output if greater supplies of scrap iron is made available to them. New steel is approximately half scrap and half pig iron and reports from the steel industry point out that supplies of scrap iron now on hand at the mills are dangerously low.

During the next month, farmers are urged to collect and sell all scrap that cannot be used on the farm. According to B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Mobilization Committee, farm scrap is the special demand since it includes some of the heavier scrap iron and steel now needed by the mills.

Vance suggests that farmers check the farm for such scrap as worn-out plow points and shares, cultivator shovels and sweeps, horsedrawn equipment which has been replaced by tractors, un-useable wire and cables, old storage batteries and other items that no longer are used on the farm.

Farm machinery or equipment that can be repaired should not be scrapped, Vance says nor should metal that can be used for making repairs on other implements or equipment. Farmers are urged not only to make the best possible use of all machines and tools now on hand, but to conserve all essential materials.

Discarded equipment unless collected and sold for scrap usually rusts away and no one derives any benefit from it. Periodic cleanup campaigns covering the entire farm also help to keep the farm tidy and more beautiful, says Vance. And farmers should remember that scrap is also needed to make the new steel that is used in making more and better farm equipment and machinery.

Mr. Fuhrmann has run an average of 35 head of cows and calves on 20 acres of clover and Johnsongrass since about April 15th. "Not all of the forage for the cattle has come from the clover and grass, as the field adjoins a small pasture which was also used, but during the past dry

Importance of driving in accordance with highway conditions is illustrated by this diagrammatic view prepared by Chevrolet in the interest of traffic safety. Standard braking tables reveal 190 feet is required for a stop at 50 miles an hour, allowing three-quarters of a second for a driver's reaction to an emergency. When the pavement is wet, however, the distance increases to 258 feet. On icy pavement 472 feet will be covered before a car brakes to a complete stop.

Cattle Grubs Are Profit Grabbers

Cattle grubs are profit grabbers, when livestock producers fail to control them. The damage caused by these pests is charged back to the producer in the form of lower prices for beef animals and lower milk production from the dairy cows.

According to James A. Deer, associate Extension Entomologist of Texas A. & M. College, the annual loss to livestock producers from cattle grub damage amounts to about $65 million. Most of it could be added to the national farm income if cattle producers would control grubs.

Deer recommends the use of a power sprayer—with a pressure of 200 to 400 pounds. Lower pressures decrease the effectiveness of the treatment, he says. Animals should be sprayed while being held in a chute and the spray nozzle should be held no further than four inches from the backs of the animals. It is best, he adds, to use a full gallon of spray on each animal and from 10 to 15 seconds are required for making a thorough application.

The spray material should consist of 7 1/2 pounds of 5 per cent rotenone dust for each 100 gallons of water. Mix it thoroughly and this is often a rather difficult job because the fine rotenone dust is hard to wet. This mixture, says Deer, is the cheapest and most effective treatment for controlling cattle grubs.

The first application should be made about 3 weeks after the first grubs begin to show up in the backs of animals. Treatment should be repeated at three week intervals for as long as needed. Grubs normally begin making their appearance about this time of the year; however, this will vary with dif-

TWO COUNTY BANKERS ATTEND ARLINGTON SOIL CONSERVATION MEETING

J. M. Weinzapfel, president of the Muenster State Bank, and Claude Jones, vice-president of the First State Bank of Gainesville, met in Arlington last week with bankers from the Dalworth Soil Conservation district to discuss the functions of the local soil conservation district banker's organization.

Thirty bankers from Dallas, Fort Worth, Arlington, Garland, Burleson, Grapevine and Alvarado attended the meeting along with district supervisors from the Dalworth district.

Jack Garrett, president of the Texas Bank and Trust company of Dallas, presided at the meeting and explained his bank's soil conservation awards program, which is to give recognition to five outstanding district supervisors each year. He pointed out that after attending the Upper Red-Elm district awards program in Gainesville last May he was convinced that his bank would do something for soil conservation in Texas.

He also pointed out that 127 soil conservation districts have organized in the state during the past three months to promote conservation.

Walter Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press, paid tribute to the Dallas bank and banker and the program.

A good control job, points out Deer, will mean increased weight for the beef herd and a higher selling price when the animals are marketed. The dairyman with a grub free herd can expect a good increase in milk production. The specialist says local county agents can supply additional information on the when and how parts of a complete cattle grub control program and suggests that livestock producers contact him at an early date.

filled with a strong chlorine solution and permitted to stand for 24 hours before it is flushed out. Then the water is tested and if the analysis is satisfactory the pipes go into use.

To avoid future leaks Moster will connect joints with late model collars like those he has been using for repairs in recent years. So far, he said, not one spot repaired with that type of collar has sprung another leak.

Since about two weeks ago Moster has a class B license as a public water works operator. It is the second highest rating issued by the State Health Department and applies specifically to distribution. To earn it Moster had to attend a special series of night classes during the summer and pass an examination.

Julius Hess, Fourth County Boy Named State 4-H Winner

Julius Hess of Lindsay has been named state winner of the Santa Fe Railroad award for general excellency in 4-H club work and is the fourth state 4-H club winner from Cooke county this year. He will receive an expense paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago November 24-31.

Julius is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hess and has been a member of the Lindsay 4-H club for the past eight years, completing 43 projects in field crops, dairy and beef cattle, poultry, swine, and tractor maintenance. In addition to his livestock program Julius began several crop projects and became interested in soil conservation. He helped his father build up 2 miles of run down terraces, and after good soil building practices, planted Huban Clover which is also a good cash crop.

In 1950 he was selected Gold Star boy from Cooke county and was a winner in the district electric contest.

He is active in all phases of 4-H club work, church work, the Lindsay game preserve, and helps his father farm 300 acres.

Hornets Win

down scored before the tackle was made.

Again the outstanding performance of the fleet-footed Damian Hellman was the big factor in the red and white triumph. Early in the game he broke loose and outran two Bulldog defenders to the goal line. Late in the game he overtook Benny Cox on his dash for the goal line.

From the starting kickoff the visitors showed plainly that they were not over-rated. They held the Hornets on the first series of downs and followed on their second offensive play with a pass that seemed sure for a touchdown but was muffed by the receiver on the 10. A run was short on yardage and they kicked, killing the ball on the 30.

Penalized for 5 and spilled for an 8 yard loss the Hornets had little chance to make the required distance and booted to Alvord on its 45.

A beautiful forward and lateral, Cox to Williams to Parker, reached the Hornet 32. Two short gains and Stockton circled left end to the 5 but was called back because of an infraction. A fumble recovered by Luke on the next play gave Muenster the ball on its 34.

Nogglar picked up 5 and Hellman on the next play broke through for a 61 yard gallop to the goal.

The rest of the half was mostly a see-saw.

Alvord completed a first down just as the second quarter opened and failed on the next series. Muenster failed to gain and kicked. Alvord made another first down and failed on the next series.

Muenster then opened a drive that seemed to be headed for the goal. Steady plugging by Hellman and Nogglar advanced from the Hornet 30 to the Bulldog 34 and for a moment appeared to be another touchdown, but Hellman had the Alvord receiver early in the game, missed his catch on the 5. Hamric was smeared on his next attempted pass and Alvord

Little Deborah Cain Wins Photo Contest

Deborah Dianne Cain, 10-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cain, won first prize in the children's photo contest conducted here recently at the Relax Theatre and sponsored by the Austry Enterprises of Dallas. Cynthia Cain, daughter of the Cecil Cains, was second place winner, and Allen Stone, son of the Dale Stones, was third place winner.

Eighty children were entered in the contest. Their pictures were shown in true color at the Relax Saturday and Sunday. The winners were selected by the Dallas company who will enter Deborah's picture in the state contest, with a chance of entering it in the national competition.

First prize in the local contest was a $25 war bond; second prize was a three-way 5x7 panel, and third prize was a two-way 5x7 panel in true color.

took over on downs on their 42. A pass, Parker to Cox, gained 18 but three more passes failed as the half ended.

Coming back strong in the second half Alvord evened the count in just 6 plays. On the second Stockton was apparently loose but was finally hauled down by Nogglar after a 53 yard gain. Three by Cox, 6 by Parker, 11 by Cox and 1 by Stockton completed the distance.

From then on it was more see-saw with an occasional thrill thrown in. Muenster completed two first downs and kicked when the third series failed.

Alvord completed three first downs, losing the ball on Richey's interception on the Hornet 35.

Muenster made a first down and ended the second series with a kick to the Alvord 14.

Short gains by Stockton and Cox were followed by a tense moment on Parker's pass intended for Cox in midfield. Hellman attempting to break it up barely tipped the ball and it settled down easily to Cox who took off in an open field with Hellman in hot pursuit. Hellman brought him down on the 17.

A fumble and Stelzer's recovery on the next play changed the course of the game. The ball was on the 19.

Two yards lost on a smeared play plus 5 gained on an Alvord infraction and Nogglar's 8 reached the 30. Richey picked up 23, Hellman 12, Nogglar 13 and Hellman 11 for first down on the 12. Four tries from there fell a foot short of first down and the bottom dropped out of local fans' hopes.

But the Hornets had other ideas. They held the Bulldogs and launched another attack from the 21. It paid off.

The kick-off following the touchdown took up the remaining time.

The game at a glance:

	M	A
Score	12	6
First Downs	12	10
Yards Rushing	202	121
Yards Passing	24	121
Passes Completed	2	4

Tigers Win

exchange of kicks as neither team gained. On their second chance the Tigers uncorked one of their sensational plays, gaining 45 on a pass, Endres to Albert Knabe, for first down on the Bearcat 5. Two plays gained 3 and the attack died suddenly as Whitesboro intercepted.

Whitesboro failed to advance and kicked. Sacred Heart failed and lost the ball on downs. Whitesboro was again in charge but its drive was abruptly ended by Herr's interception and 35 yard sprint to the goal.

Just after the last quarter opened the Tigers took off again, starting from their 40. Mollenkopf gained 15, a pass, Endres to Albert Knabe, added 17 and Herr added 20 more. That was to the 8 and as far as it got. The Bearcats intercepted again.

Again Whitesboro bogged down and kicked, Sacred Heart taking over on the 32. On fourth down, after three incomplete passes from that point Herr broke loose on another touchdown gallop. Mollenkopf kicked for the extra point and the score stood at 19-0.

Still trying, the Bearcats scored their only TD just before the game ended. Burselson, on a faked end run, heaved a long pass to West who caught it in the open and raced the rest of the way. Crockett plunged over for the extra point.
