Pump Installation In New City Well Begun Wednesday

Did you know that if every life insurance policy in the United States were cashed in and the money given to the U. S. Treasury this country would still be 23 billion dollars in the red? That's what current statistics show. Our 155 million people own 200 million policies with an aggregate value of 234 billion dollars, and the national debt is 257 billion.

Aside from the shocking fact that the public debt exceeds the value of all life insurance policies, this bit of information is highly significant in that it indicates to a great degree the extent of America's faith in the security of the American dollar.

Year after year, as long as any living person can remember, we have been buying insurance with firm confidence that each policy represented its full designated value in future security. We are still buying insurance, indicating that we still have confidence in the dollar's stability. Besides that we are still buying government bonds and depositing in savings accounts, neither of which would make good sense if we did not still have confidence in the nation's money.

In view of that fact it is all the more deplorable that so little is done to preserve the dollar's value by those who are in a position to do something about it.

The worst offender in this respect is the government itself with its program of uncontrolled spending and its policy of approving persistent rises in price and wage levels. The constant flood of money gushing from the treasury serves only to devalue the dollars already in circulation. Inflation goes on and on, as anyone can see by just looking at price tags, in spite of the crackpot theory that money values can be maintained by siphoning off the surplus with higher taxes.

In tune with the government's wild fiscal notions are the recurring demands for higher wages and prices. As the new year gets under way we are told to expect another round of increases.

All of which causes us to wonder how the union leaders figure things when they claim to help their members by engineering wage raises. They know as well as us small town economists that wage increases have to be offset by price increases and before long the worker's living cost is back in line with his wage level. All he has to show is a small temporary gain before prices again catch up with him.

That temporary gain, however, is more than offset by his losses on insurance, bonds and cash savings. Take for instance the man who invested $750 in bonds 10 years ago. He can cash in now for $1000, but the money buys only as much as $530 bought 10 years ago. The same applies to all other savings. The original value of the money simply isn't there.

In the light of such facts can anyone truthfully say that union leaders have performed a real service for their members by hiking the wage levels? Have politicians performed a service by encouraging the trend?

It's high time that the men with power to influence the trends start thinking about restoring some of the lost value in American money. The average person can gain a lot more by recovering some of the savings he has lost than by the short term gains he makes on higher pay.

And then, of course, there are others to consider. People whose earning days are over, who have to live on their savings, have to take a real beating. The dollar they saved is worth 53 cents. That means they have been robbed of 47 cents by a screwy economic theory. How can anyone possibly defend a system that penalizes thrift?

Is it too much to hope that this year's political campaign will bring the beginning of the end of this economic insanity? Among the candidates there

An emergency in the Muenster Water Department last Thursday probably would not have been an emergency if it had happened a week later.

As this is being written workmen are installing the pump in the new No. 3 well which has just been completed near the old No. 2 well, recently abandoned because it was a constant trouble maker.

The emergency occurred at the No. 1 well about 7:30 Thursday evening when the pump's impeller shaft broke because of bearings. According to Water Superintendent Steve Moster the abnormal wear is caused by the fact that the well varies slightly from perpendicular. Previous experience with this trouble is the reason why council men were particular about having their new well drilled perfectly perpendicular.

The shaft was broken 60 feet below the surface. Immediately after the break Moster started pumping water from the FMA well and the next morning he started repairing. By 4:30 p.m. the well was back in service. With the help of the FMA well and the cooperation of citizens, who were asked to conserve, all lines were kept flowing.

Workers are confident that the new well will be in service Thursday. They started installing the impeller shaft and cylinder Wednesday after bailing sand constantly since the casing was perforated more than a week ago. The sand pile accumulated by this process is estimated at six or eight truck loads. By Wednesday morning the sand had practically stopped flowing into the well and it was believed the water was clear enough to start pumping.

After the casing was cemented it was perforated at three levels to draw water from each of three water sands. In all, 80 one inch holes were shot through the pipe.

The casing is set at about 700 feet and water rose in it to within 300 feet of the top. The intention now is to try pumping from a depth of about 370. If that doesn't furnish enough water the impeller will be set at 400 or lower.

The pump's capacity is rated at 200 gallons a minute and it is hoped the well will furnish enough water to permit pumping at full capacity. So far, according to reports, indications are that water will be abundant, and all of it will be soft water.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Archambault of Abilene were guests of the Maurice Kaderlis Sunday.

News of Sick And Injured

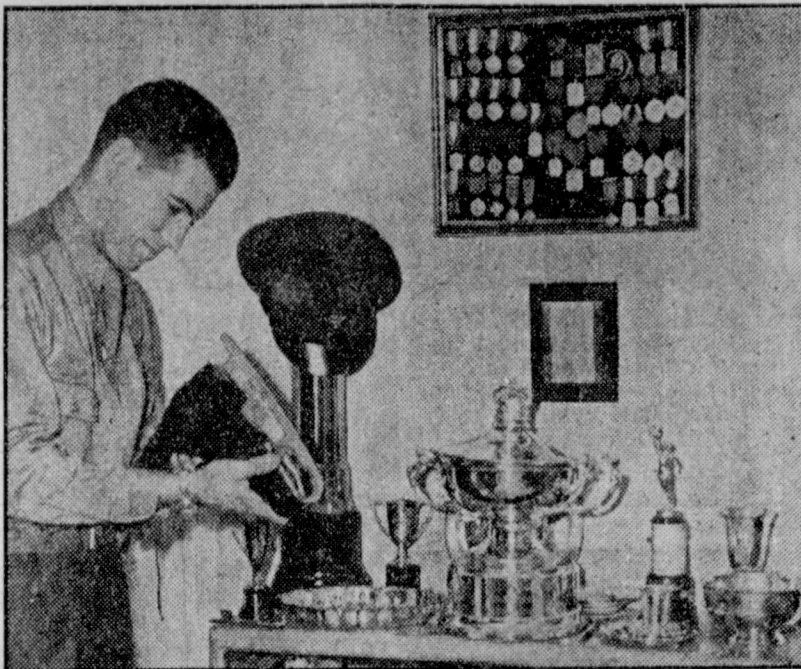

J. W. Fletcher was back in on his mail route Wednesday but still not fully recovered from the illness which kept him at home Tuesday.

Herbert Meuer has been on the sick list since the beginning of the week. He toughed it out at the bank Monday and Tuesday but decided to stay home Wednesday. It's the flu.

Richard Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hess, who has been taking regular treatments for osteomyelitis has improved sufficiently to return to school. However he has to use crutches.

W. J. Miller is back on the job at the Humble Station after spending four days at home fighting a rough case of the flu that was on the verge of developing into pneumonia. Oscar Walter was pinch hitter at the station during his illness.

Mrs. David Trachta has received word that her brother, James Hundley, of Lake Dallas has a bad leg wound sustained by a glancing blow of an ax. The accident occurred at his home shortly after Christmas and he's reported to be recovering nicely.

GI TO GET OLYMPIC TRY—If all goes well for Cleveland John M. McGean during tryouts for the U. S. Olympic figure skating team, the U. S. Army will be represented at the Oslo, Norway, winter games. Though only a Private, McGean's generalship on ice, evidenced by the medals and trophies above, won him a special leave in which to train for the tryout.

Meeting Decides '52 Scout Organization

Registration data for the local Boy Scout organization during the coming year shows Father Lous Deuster succeeding Father Anthony Schroeder as co-sponsor with the Knights of Columbus Council and also shows an increase of two members on the local scout committee. Organizational details were worked out on Monday of last week in a meetings of sponsors, committeemen, and the scoutmaster. New scout committeemen for this year are Andy Schoech, Oscar Walter, Tony Felderhoff and Fred Hennigan. They join Ben Seyler, Frank Bayer and Charley Hellman, who have served on the committee for several years. Herman Swirczynski and Martin Bayer are former committeemen who withdrew from the group.

Other registration data shows Nick Miller and Andy Hofbauer still in their old positions of scoutmaster and assistant scoutmaster directing the activities of 30 boys divided into four patrols. Randy Bayer is listed as junior assistant scoutmaster and Joe Felderhoff is listed as senior patrol leader.

FFA Gets 200 Chicks For Its Broiler Project

The Muenster FFA Chapter has another broiler project under way. Wednesday they received 200 White Rock chicks and started them on an eight weeks program which will end by the sale of dressed fryers.

For a brooder house the boys are using the 18x32 shed used by the contractor when the school was built. They have partitioned it into one small room, for baby chicks, and one large room for larger chicks. They have also built a brooder equipped with infra-red light.

The boys' plan, according to Ralph Maglaughlin, is to grow three flocks of fryers before the end of the year. After four weeks the present flock will be transferred to the big room and replaced with another flock of chicks. When they reach fryer size they will be dressed and sold and the second flock moved to make room for more chicks.

The boys plan also to try a cross-breed of Cornish Game and brown leghorn for their second flock, but have not decided yet on the breed, or cross-breed for the last flock.

Klement, Atchison, Taylor, Boyd, Open Political Campaign

Four men this week authorized the Enterprise to announce their candidacies for re-election to the public offices they now hold.

Ben W. Boyd seeks another term as district judge of Cooke and Denton counties.

John Atchison is a candidate for re-election to the office of county judge.

John B. Klement is seeking his second term as commissioner of Precinct 4.

J. E. "Earl" Taylor is seeking another term as commissioner of Precinct 3.

All will make formal statements to voters at a later date.

The Show Is Free; Give What You Can To March of Dimes

A free show sponsored by the Cooke County March of Dimes committee will be presented in the Muenster High auditorium next Tuesday night beginning at 7:30.

The program, under direction of County March of Dimes Chairman George Van Hoorbecke, will consist principally of musical numbers, tap dancing, juggling, and a magician's act.

There will be no admission charge but each person will have an opportunity to make a free will contribution.

Also in connection with the drive, small replicas of an iron lung are prominently displayed in business houses awaiting contributions to the cause. Miss Kathryn Hartman, local chairman, distributed the iron lungs and posters, and will collect funds at the end of the drive.

Jack Reiter Buys Recreation Club

In a deal completed last Saturday Jack Reiter became the new owner and manager of Skinny's Recreation Club. He has since changed the name of the place to Jack's Recreation Club.

Frank "Skinny" Kaiser quit the business because of failing health. Even though the place demands very little physical exertion, he said, it's more than he can take in his present condition.

C. J. Kaiser Buys Nocona Car Agency

C. J. Kaiser is back in the new car business, this time as the Dodge-Plymouth dealer of Nocona. In a transaction completed Wednesday he bought the Gammon Motor Company and took over immediately as the new owner.

C. J. started in the car business as a Kaiser-Frazer dealer but discontinued it after a few years. Since then he has spent most of his time as a used car wholesaler, supplying units to dealers in Fort Worth and Dallas.

AL SWIRCZYNSKI JOINS DALLAS BUILDING FIRM

Al Swirczynski employed for several years as a plant refrigeration engineer in Dallas started a new job Jan. 2 as field engineer in charge of refrigeration and air conditioning installation for the Farwell Construction Company of Dallas.

He left by plane Tuesday morning for his first assignment on a construction job at New Orleans. He expects to be there five or six weeks after which he will spend most of his time on jobs in Texas.

Mrs. Swirczynski intends to join her husband in New Orleans some time next week.

Foundation is complete and framework is well underway on Vincent Felderhoff's new home on the second block of West Sixth. It's going to be a three-bedroom house with a double garage separated from the house by a breezeway.

FFA Officers and Ag Teachers Plan District Contests

Preparations for a district contest to determine representatives at an area contest made up the business session of a meeting of vocational agriculture teachers and FFA officers in Muenster High School Tuesday.

The meetings are held monthly by teachers from the nine schools comprising the Denton FFA district and one officer from each school's FFA chapter and each school takes its turn as host to the group.

Plans formulated pertain to contests in farm skills which include care, handling and treatment of stock as well as skill with hand tools; a FFA quiz on the history, aims and methods of the organization; and a chapter conducting contest which deals mostly with administration, meeting procedure, etc.

According to Ralph Maglaughlin each school in the district, which consists of Muenster, Gainesville, Era, Valley View, Denton, Justin, Sanger, Pilot Point and Lewisville, will have an entry in each of the three contests at Denton some time in February.

The three district winners will compete in an area contest March 1 at Arlington and winners of that contest will enter a state contest at Huntsville March 15.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Rupert Hoenig returned Wednesday from Brookdale AFB, Shreveport after a holiday leave since Dec. 22. Sunday he took Cotton Endres to Dallas to join a group of buddies returning to duty at the Memphis, Tenn., Naval Station.

Cpl. Bobby Wiese, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiese of Gainesville, spent part of his holiday and pre-shipment leave with his brother, Francis, and family here. After his leave Bobby went to the West Coast for shipment to Japan.

Clyde Fisher of the U. S. Marine Corps at Santa Ana, Calif., reports that he was in Pasadena for the big parade and Rose Bowl game on New Year's day. Also a part of his holiday pass was a visit with his aunt, Ida Fisher, at Compton, Calif.

Sgt. Tommy Tompkins writes that he and his crew arrived with their plane in Japan on Dec. 30 after two stops for refueling enroute. They left the West Coast on Dec. 26. He is stationed at an air base 12 miles from Tokyo and expects to make flights between there and Korea.

It's Civilian Leo Hesse now. He obtained his discharge from the Army at Fort Sill Monday and has been living with his brothers and sisters since. Leo was transferred from his overseas assignment to Fort Sill several months ago when his father, Joe Hesse became critically ill. His discharge, applied for before Mr. Hesse's death, has been delayed until now.

Local service men returning to their respective stations last week end after holiday leaves were Cpl. Mike Luke, Cpl. Jerry Fette and Hugh "Cotton" Endres. Luke, of Kirkland AFB, Albuquerque, N. M., was here since New Year's. Fette, of Warren AFB, Wyoming, had 14 days and secured a 3 day extension to sweat out rough weather earlier last week. Endres, of the Naval Base at Memphis, was here on 16 days leave.

Cpl. Paul Luke, writing from Korea on December 26 says that his first Christmas day away from home was featured by Cardinal Spellman's visit to his organization. He attended the Cardinal's Christmas Mass, later had the pleasure of exchanging greetings and shaking hands with His Eminence. He also says he was in the crowd while newsreel cameras were filming the event and suggests that his friends look for him if

Inspections Show Half of Cars Need Minor Adjustment

If the cars tested up to mid-afternoon Monday at Endres Motor Company are average samples of the community, there will have to be a lot of adjustments, and also a considerable number of repairs, made before the 1952 license tags can be purchased.

About 50 per cent of the machines will need adjustments on brakes and headlamps and about 25 per cent will need repairs of some kind. That was the estimate of Urban Endres and Marty Klement based on the thirteen cars their station had inspected since it opened Friday afternoon.

The most common fault they found up to that time was improper focus on headlights and improper brake adjustment. Among faults that need repairing the most common is excessively worn brake bands.

Because so many of the inspection jobs require special attention, Endres is urging his customers to arrange for appointments as soon as possible. By doing so they can avoid a rush near the registration deadline and they can also avoid the inconvenience of leaving their cars in a waiting line for extra hours.

He also reminds customers that some days will be lost because of the state's requirement that no certificates be issued in rainy weather. Road tests must be made on dry pavement.

Up to now Endres Motor Company is the city's only inspection station, however J. B. Wilde expects to open his station soon. He received his license this week and expects official certificates and stickers in a few days.

Ben Seyler says he expects to have his inspection station open the latter part of next week.

Hornets, Tigers Get 31 Football Jackets

Thirty one local high school football players are sporting new jackets since last Friday. Fourteen of those are worn by the Sacred Heart Tigers and seventeen by the Muenster High Hornets.

Jackets of the two schools are very similar. Both are red with a white sleeve insert but a different arrangement of the monogram. Tigers have a white letter M superimposed by a red football and red letters SH, signifying Sacred Heart. Hornets have a red letter M outlined in white and superimposed by a white football and white service stripes.

Hornet lettermen are Roger Wolf, Damian Hellman, Eugene Walter, Herbert Otto, Pat Stelzer, Clyde Muller, Eugene Luke, Milburn Cravens, Larry Walterscheid, Gerald Walterscheid, Wendel Richey, John Ayles, Burt Hamric, Richard Knabe, Wilfred Klement, Billy Whitt and Joe Noggler.

Tiger lettermen are Albert Knabe, Gilbert Knabe, Daniel Haverkamp, Willard Hartman, William Walterscheid, Randy Bayer, Fred Hennigan, David Endres, Ronald Herr, Joe Felderhoff, George Mollenkopf Jr., Donald Bayer, Jerry Hoenig and James Mollenkopf.

Evelyn Swingler and Albert Schilling Wed Wednesday Morning

In a simple ceremony with a minimum of fanfare Miss Evelyn Swingler and Albert Schilling exchanged vows in Sacred Heart Church Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock. Only a small group of relatives and friends attended.

Father Louis Deuster, pastor, officiated at the nuptial rites immediately preceding the nuptial mass.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swingler, wore a navy blue suit with orchid accessories and an orchid corsage. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Steve Fette, who also wore a navy suit but with purple accessories and a carnation corsage.

The groom, son of John Schilling was attended by his brother, Frank. Both wore white carnation boutonnières.

At nine o'clock the bridal party and members of both families were guests at brunch in the home of Mrs. J. B. Wilde, aunt of the bride. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Eberhardt, the bride's grandparents and Father Louis Deuster and Cletus Post.

After brunch, about 12:30, the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to South Texas. They expect to return during the coming week end and will go to Big Spring early next week to make their home. He is an employee of Tidal Oil Company at Big Spring.

Bill Drozd of Gainesville has joined the Tractor Sales and Service personnel as shop repair man.

The American Way

by Dr. Alfred P. Haake
Danger Behind The Mask

An editorial in the Saturday Evening Post recently warned us that many of our so-called "intellectuals" still cherish the communist dream-wish, believing that the communist regime in Russia came as a popular revolt against former Czarist tyranny; whereas the truth is that the communist regime is really a betrayal and forceful suppression of that revolution by the people. Out of the turmoil that followed the overthrow of the Czar, the popular assembly elected by the people was in turn completely suppressed and Lenin proclaimed a totalitarian dictatorship by the Bolsheviks.

So the communist dictatorship is itself a betrayal of the democracy which the Russian people tried to set up in 1917. Several years later, the effort of the Russian sailors at Kronstadt to restore the rights of the people peacefully was put down by the communists with savage ferocity.

The Post is correct in pointing out the confusion and error in the minds of those who still think of communism as an effort to establish democracy and establish the rights of the people. Our domestic collectivists will never realize the danger of Russian communism until

Is The Catholic Church A MENACE TO DEMOCRACY?

Every now and then a false rumor about the Catholic Church gets into circulation and—for a time—fools a lot of people.

Usually such rumors die out when fair-minded people learn the truth. But some of them pop up again like "ghosts" out of the distant past, to deceive people who have not heard them before.

The one most prevalent today is that American freedom is in danger from "the anti-democratic program of the Roman hierarchy." This, to some people, will sound new and alarming. Actually, there is nothing new about it.

Catholics of a century ago heard the same "alarm"... that the Church was hostile to our form of government—that she was anti-republican in spirit and influence—that she would disregard our free institutions and deprive us of our self-government.

Even those who do not understand the teaching and practices of the Catholic Church will have to admit the falsity of this rumor... for the evidence of a hundred years contradicts it in every particular. The Catholic people always have stood shoulder-to-shoulder with their non-Catholic fellow-citizens in building and defending our liberty and free institutions.

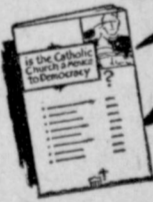

The rumor of today... like the rumor of a hundred years ago... does not claim that the Catholic Church is harmful to men's souls. It does not claim that the Church endangers the salvation of mankind. Its entire objection is that the Church is hostile to our political and social institutions.

In this there is a remarkable resemblance to the "alarm" sounded against Jesus Christ Himself.

"If we let this man go," said the Savior's critics, "the Romans will come and take away our name and our nation."

Some think that Catholics should get their blood pressure up and reply angrily to these rumors. This is not necessary. We know that the American people of all faiths... with their traditional sense of justice... will boot this ghost back into its closet without our help.

Free

But if you would like to know the Catholic attitude toward democratic freedom, our form of self-government, and the rights of the State and the individual, write today for free pamphlet on the subject. Just ask for Pamphlet No. KC-21.

In God--Do We Trust?

By Rev. James Keller

IN FEBRUARY, 1950, Mrs. William H. Cleary, a housewife in Stamford, Conn., all on her own, decided that if we Americans put "In God We Trust" on our coins, the least we can do is put it in our schools.

Her first move was to visit the principal of the new three-million dollar Junior High School which had just opened in Stamford. When he told her of the increasing problems with young people, she suggested that it might help develop a sense of responsibility among them if there were some formal recognition of God.

She knew she was on strong ground. As a taxpayer she was a stockholder in this very school. After all she was only suggesting the same public acknowledgement of the Creator that was written in the Declaration of Independence by the Founders of our nation.

During the following year Mrs. Cleary carried the campaign to thousands of citizens, individually and in groups. A public official assured her it was a "hot potato" and that she "wouldn't get far with it." Just when she was about to give up, Mrs. Cleary said, "I overheard my eight-year old daughter praying one night that 'mommy's' plaques get in the schools so boys and girls who never knew God will at least know there is one."

SPARKED WITH a renewed sense of purpose, she decided to present her plan to the Board of Representatives, the legislative body of the city. The recommendation also had to have the approval of the Board of Education. After a month of deliberation, this group approved the project, with the proviso that the plaques must be in bronze. But bronze was to be 'frozen' within the next week.

Four more months of complete inaction passed. Suddenly, a member of the Appropriations Board publicly denounced the delaying tactics. He declared that until the directive calling for the plaques was carried out, he—for one—would approve nothing further for the Board of Education.

That did it! Within a matter of days the plaques bearing the words "In God We Trust" were ordered—in bronze. Last summer they were installed in all 18 public schools in Stamford.

THIS IS AN inspiring and significant example of what one person, fired with love of God and country, can do. The accomplishment of this one woman in Stamford, small in one sense, may have far-reaching results.

It might be the turning point in offsetting the ceaseless efforts of those who are striving to change the United States from "This nation under God" to "this nation without God." If one woman could put "In God We Trust" in 18 schools think of the possibilities if 100,000 Americans would each work as hard to put it in just one school. This might be the turning point!

† Public Information Service, Washington 25, D. C.

they learn the truth.

Now comes an organization calling itself, "Friends of Fighters for Russian Freedom," which presently is seeking members and funds for the purpose of preserving freedom by winning the friendship and cooperation of the peoples of Russia now being ground under the heel of soviet communism.

It is a laudable objective, for if we could induce the millions behind the iron curtain to revolt against their communist masters, the task of saving freedom from destruction would be expedited.

But, among the sponsors of the FFRF are persons who have favored or favor increase in the power of the Federal Government to control the economic life of our country. Some of them have openly and consistently fought against our competitive enterprise system and advocated such welfare state measures—as Federal Aid to Education, Socialized Medicine, Public Housing and other projects in similar categories.

We must not permit our eyes to be blinded to the real danger at home by the glamor of saving a world abroad.

We must not be misled by an administration which attacks communism abroad in vigorous and even vicious terms, while at the same time it insists stubbornly on setting up far-reaching economic controls by the Federal Government at home. We dare not forget the effect on our domestic economy, on individual freedom and our system of competitive enterprise, of the riot of spending that has exceeded in less than six years the total expenditures under all previous administrations in our history, including that of F. D. Roosevelt.

Russia can sit back and laugh at the spectacle of the giant "capitalistic octopus" destroying itself at home through reckless spending, devastating debt, confiscatory taxation and the spreading cancer of inflation. That is the program Russia would have us follow.

The real danger to our country is not the communist or communism abroad. Serious as is that danger, it shrinks into comparative insignificance compared to the danger of destroying our freedom at home while we fight to protect it abroad. It is the insidious collectivism of the Welfare State behind the mask of defense against foreign aggression that is destroying our individual freedom and the economic system that made us great, powerful and prosperous. Beware of the hidden poison in the cup of collectivistic well-being measures.

Little Mary's father had spanked her, so that night she ended her prayers with: "And please don't send daddy any more children. He doesn't know how to treat those he has now."

GUS SICKING FAMILY HAS REUNION ON NEW YEAR'S

Members of the Gus Sicking family observed New Year's day with a reunion, their first in about five years. They gathered at noon, each of the family groups bringing prepared dishes which were served buffet style. Fifty persons were present, including Mr. Sicking, the Pete Koelzer family, the Andy Hacker family, the George Jetzelsberger family, the Pete Prescher family of Gainesville, the Leo Prescher family of Valley View, the Louis Ford family of Forestburg, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sicking, Miss Margaret Sicking of Fort Worth, Misses Dorothy and Cecile Sicking and Victor and Louis Sicking.

"Traffic safety education is a fine thing, but we must have the cooperation of motorists if needless slaughter is to be averted. More drivers must practice the preachments of traffic safety education. Applying hand signals lends that opportunity. We remind drivers that failure to give hand signals is a violation of law. This Is Hand Signal Month in Texas; Time to Acquire Hand Signal Habit

Austin — This is "hand signal month" in Texas and you, Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Automobile Driver, are urged to apply the "signs of life," not only in January but the rest of your days. In fact, you will be a law violator if you fail, but if you comply, you might save a life.

Traffic safety exponents are convinced that death and injury on streets and highways can be lowered greatly if motorists practice the "common courtesy of applying hand signals." That's why January has been designated as "hand signal month" in the Lone Star State. "Participation in this traffic safety education program requires only minimum effort on the part of drivers," said A. W. Breeland of Dallas, President of the Texas Safety Association, Inc., which is sponsoring the campaign. "All a driver needs to do is learn, then apply the signals. It is easy if you remember the slogan: Right turn — hand up. Left turn — hand out. Slow or stop — hand down. A hand signal could be the means of averting a death dealing accident."

Breeland stated that need for courtesy in driving is accentuated by the fact that the traffic list for Texas in 1951 will show in excess of 2,500 persons

Demonstration that can mean a Lot to You

★ Behind the Ford Tractor's great popularity in TEXAS are reasons vital to every TEXAN who farms for profit!

Yes, it could easily mean a lot to find out, first hand, how much more you could get done and how much hard work you could save if you owned a Ford Tractor.

It's something you need to see in order to believe—the way the Ford Tractor does field work—the ease and speed with which Dearborn Implements go on and off (most can be attached or detached in 60 seconds), the great number of hand-labor jobs that can be handled practically and economically with this tractor.

You can see this for yourself, just by taking a little time out for a Ford Tractor demonstration on your land.

And, remember, you save money when you buy a Ford Tractor as well as when you use it.

Soil Conservation Notes

Past experience has shown that the best time for seeding native grasses in this area is during December, January and February. Last week Felix Becker got the grass-seeding ball rolling by seeding a mixture of native grasses on an area adjoining his grass meadow. The grass was sown on land that has been laying out for several years. There is only a sprinkling of desirable grasses on it now. When the grass is well established, Felix will use it as an enlargement of his present meadow.

H. E. King quickly followed suit to sow native grasses on his farm south of Myra. He planted the tall grass mixture on 20 acres of field area that he is turning into pasture. King will protect the grass seedlings from grazing during the growing season until they are well established.

Becker and King are cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district. They bought their grass seed from the district and used the district's special built grass seed drill to plant it. The native grass seed mixture contains Little and Big Bluestem, Indian grass and Switch grass. The district still has plenty of native grass seed on hand. Co-operators in the Trinity Watershed may buy the seed for 10 cents per pound. Seeding rate is 15-20 lbs. per acre.

Many cooperators are building ponds for livestock water to insure a water source during the coming years. Proper distribution of stock water is necessary for good grass management, ponds have recently been completed on the Walter Reed farm near Myra, on the Albert Knabe farm north of Muenster, on the J. T. Cole, H. H. Richey, and Bill Moon farms near Marysville, on the H. L. Settle farm near Rosston; on the Frank Solomon ranch and the Claude Cannon farm north of Muenster.

TOO HARD, ANYWAY

A mountaineer, on his first visit to a town of any size, came to the city with his son. He was fascinated by the asphalt streets. Scraping his feet on the hard surface, he remarked to the boy, "Well, I can't blame 'em for building a town here. The ground's too darned hard to plow, anyhow."

SPIRIT OF SIR WALTER

Mrs. Harold Parker, of Holbrook, Mass., is a very thrifty person. But she now has two cookie jars. By last week she had saved up enough Raleigh cigarette coupons to get that new bridge cover she wanted. So she bundled up the contents of her cookie jar and sent it to the cigarette people down in Louisville with instructions to rush that cover right back for her Saturday night bridge party.

A few hours after the coupons were received, Mrs. Parker got a wire from Brown and Williamson telling her they were returning $632.12 in cash and checks which she had sent along with the coupons. They also said they were sending the bridge cover.

The woman had returned a pair of shoes to the exclusive shoe shop.

"I'm sorry," she said, "but these shoes aren't what I need. I can't walk in them."

"Madam," commented the snooty clerk, "people who have to walk don't shop here."

Texas Garden Club Members Will Meet Jan. 17-18 at TSCW

DENTON, Texas — Garden club members from all over the state are expected to attend the annual Garden Conference at Texas State College for Women January 17 and 18, sponsored jointly by Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., and TSCW.

This year's conference will consist of addresses by well-known authorities on gardening, clinics, panel discussions, social gatherings, and entertainment programs by TSCW students as well as tours of the college campus.

Among the principal speakers will be Dr. Gustav A. L. Mehlquist, research horticulturist for the Missouri Botanical Garden in St. Louis, Mo.; Professor A. F. de Worth, head of the Department of Floriculture and Landscape Architecture at Texas A&M College; Mrs. G. C. Spillers, president of the National Council of Garden Clubs; Robert P. Ealy, professor of landscape design at Oklahoma A&M College; Fred R. Brison, professor of horticulture at Texas A&M College; Fred W. Westcourt, director of the Rural Arts Department at TSCW; and Jack Finney, city planner and architect of San Antonio.

Subjects for the discussions will range from the growing of vegetables and house plants to civic development program planning, modern trends in landscaping gardening and new trends in horticulture.

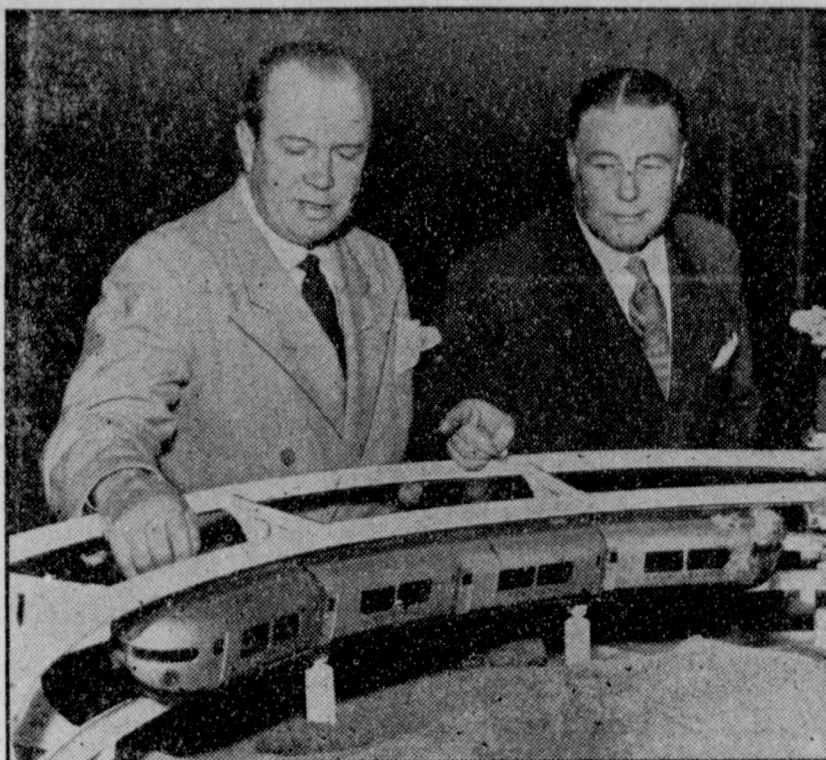

THE FIRST MAN, ETC.

A Boston salesman visited Texas and heard one particular Texan boasting about heroes of the Alamo who, almost alone, held off whole armies.

"I'll bet you never had anybody so brave around Boston," challenged the Texan.

"Did you ever hear of Paul Revere?" asked the Bostonian.

"Paul Revere," said the Texan. "Isn't that the fellow who ran for help?"

Operated on elevated tracks, the trains would travel at speeds up to 150 mph, with fares ranging from 15 cents to a dollar within a 100-mile radius of Los Angeles.

Mail Addressed to Prisoners of War to Be Flown to Korea

In an effort to expedite deliveries of mail during current truce negotiations, mail addressed to known or presumed prisoners of war will be carried by military aircraft from the United States to Korea. The new system entails no change in the existing method of addressing mail to prisoners of war, although it is suggested that the name and number of the individual's prison camp, if known, should be added. The mail should be addressed as follows:

GRADE, NAME AND SERVICE NUMBER (OF THE INDIVIDUAL)

c-o CHINESE PEOPLE'S COMMITTEE FOR WORLD PEACE

PEKING, CHINA. Name and number of Prisoner Camp (if known).

Place the letter in an envelope addressed as above. No postage is needed. In the upper right hand corner of the envelope, write the words "Prisoner of War Mail" and in the upper left-hand corner the name and address of the sender. Drop the letter in any U. S. mail box.

Forty Slaves Serve Average US Family

Industry's development of new machines has given the average American family the equivalent of 40 slaves, it was shown in a study by the Virginia Experiment Station of the Department of Agriculture.

The modern "slaves" include tractors, planting machines, harvesters, trucks, automobiles, electric lights, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, refrigerators, radios, and television. Whereas the ancient Romans had slaves for field hands, household attendants, their private musicians and actors, Americans can get all these services and entertainments merely by pressing a button.

Gee, Mommy... your cakes are better than ever...

I'm glad you bought a New Electric Range!

. . . and Mother's glad too! With a modern electric range, she spends less time in the kitchen . . . finds it easy to be a good cook.

At the flick of a switch speedy heating units are ready for use. There's no smoke or soot to blacken pans . . . so clean-up time is cut to a minimum. Thermostatic temperature controls maintain the exact heat required . . . and that kind of accuracy means delicious cookbook results every time. No wonder so many women are modernizing their kitchens with new electric ranges!

Take a look at the new electric ranges now on display at your electric appliance dealer's.

Gasoline Economy Depends on Driver

While the efficiency of engines and fuels has increased approximately 50 per cent in the past 25 years, economical operation of a motor vehicle still depends upon the driver.

The truth of this has been amply demonstrated both in factory tests and in numerous independently sponsored economy runs.

Comparison runs recently conducted by test drivers and engineers of an automobile manufacturer showed how much fuel economy can be increased through proper handling.

The drivers found that by adjusting their city driving to the flow of traffic and to the timing of traffic signals, they could cut fuel consumption nearly in half. By lowering open country speeds from 70 to 50 miles per hour, savings of 25 per cent were achieved.

On a 62-mile city test run, one driver moved with the traffic and timed his speed to match the setting of traffic lights. He used a little more than half as much gasoline as another driver who tried to make time and stay out in front of traffic. The careful driver took only three more minutes to cover the distance.

The company's chief engineer of experimental testing said, "our tests show that the driver pretty much determines whether his car will get the fuel economy the engineers have designed into it."

On cars with regular gear-shifts, maximum economy was achieved when gears were shifted quickly, rather than after considerable speed had been reached. At 20 miles per hour, for example, low gear gives 35 per cent less fuel economy than high gear.

The following tips on economical driving were passed on by a driver who piloted his car to a first place prize in the Grand Canyon Economy Run last spring:

* A light foot on the throttle can save half your gas when starting and shifting gears.

* Go easy on the accelerator when the engine is cold. A cold motor uses twice as much fuel as a hot motor because only a small part of the gasoline is completely burned.

* Fill the gas tank often — air in the tank mixes with the fuel and leaves moisture which may cause corrosion inside the motor.

* Never overload the engine. Come down in gear shift as necessary, avoid surging the throttle and let the motor act as a brake in stops.

* Criss-cross tires every 5,000 miles. Keep tire pressure at the exact level — no more, no less.

* Use the right oil weight. Incorrect weight can cost as much as seven-tenths of a mile per gallon.

* Keep the air filter clean. Change exhaust lines and muffler every 30,000 miles.

* Make sure all battery connections are tight and corrosion-free and that brakes are checked every 10,000 miles.

* Watch chassis, rear end, and transmission lubrication and have a complete car checkup twice a year.

The Average Man

WASHINGTON — The average American is thirty years old, is married, and has a wife and two children.

Furthermore, the Census Bureau said Sunday, he owns his own home. But he is struggling to pay off the mortgage.

The averageman also owns an automobile, a radio and a telephone.

He is a semi-skilled worker in manufacturing, with an annual income of around $3,000.

The bureau estimates he has had at least a year in high school.

170 Acre Black Land Farm Will Also Be Sold

Improvements include 7 room house with bath and all conveniences, 2 barns, garage, hog barn and good fences.

Crops now planted are 25 acres in wheat, 20 acres in oats, 20 acres in vetch, 20 acres in winter peas. 10 acres are in hog pasture and balance of farm is cattle pasture.

Immediate Possession

Prospective buyers are invited to inspect the farm and improvements any time between now and next Tuesday. If not sold before that date it will be auctioned with the livestock and implements.

This sale offers some of the best cattle and equipment I have ever had the pleasure of selling. Livestock is high grade. Equipment is in exceptional condition, most of it new or practically new. After one year on the farm the owner is quitting so that he can devote full time to his transfer and storage business.

Wage Too Low, Says CIO

The national minimum wage, as fixed by the Fair Labor Standards Act is too low. It must be raised from 75 cents an hour to $1.25. The CIO has said so, told President Truman, in fact. The CIO at the same time instructed the president to make price and rent controls airtight, plug tax loopholes, extend Social Security, etc., etc.

The CIO, said its "Economic Policy" head, can not "tolerate" the present rate.

A Good Start for 1952

We proudly announce that last Saturday's sale was another dandy. We had lots of stock, especially fat calves, and prices, as usual, were equal to or better than the current market.

Hogs too brought premiums, many as high as 50 cents over the market price.

We can't guarantee premium prices. But we usually have them. So the odds are in your favor when you bring us your cattle.

Service Men—

the pictures come this way. Christmas dinner was quite an event too, he says. Twenty two items on the menu, all in abundance.

A letter from Norb Mages tells that he spent Christmas in almost the same way. After midnight Mass at Paul's outfit the Cardinal had an 11 a.m. Mass at Norbert's organization and again took time to greet all the men personally. A big Christmas dinner was also on the program. Joe Mages says Norb is sending some of his things home, hopes that is an indication he is due to come home soon on rotation.

A third mention of the Cardinal's visit comes from Virgil Streng, and he isn't with either Mages' or Luke's organizations. Seems as though His Eminence was getting around on Christmas.

The Joe Gehrings of Dallas were Sunday visiting with the Jimmy Lehnertz family and Mrs. Joe Hirschy.

Holy Name to Have Group Communion

Members of the Sacred Heart Church Holy Name Society will have their annual communion breakfast in the school lunch room next Sunday morning after the 8 o'clock mass. The event commemorates the feast of the Holy Name of Jesus.

Ladies who have volunteered to prepare the meal are Mesdames Victor Hartman, Frank Herr, R. R. Endres and Frank Kathman. Senior girls from Sacred Heart High School will serve.

Holy Name members will have their regular monthly meeting Monday night at 8 in the lunch room.

Basketball Teams Win One, Lose One

After two contests in district basketball competition, Muenster High's boys and girls are both fairly certain that they will be neither at the top nor bottom in conference standing at the end of the race.

In their openers they won easily from Callisburg and in their next tilts they lost by one sided scores to Prairie Valley.

Playing Callisburg here last Friday night the girls triumphed 23 to 9 and the boys pulled through with the less top-heavy but still comfortable win of 31-24.

Again in the local gym Tuesday night the Prairie Valley teams, 1951 district champs and winners of the recent invitation tourney winners here, were in their usual good form. The boys annihilated the MHS boys 42-8. The girls, tough crowded for a while, beat the local girls 34-24.

Next games on the MHS schedule are at Forestburg next Tuesday night. Because of mid-term exams there will be no games on Friday of this week.

NCCW Will Sponsor Chili Supper Sunday

Everybody's invited to the school lunch room Sunday evening to enjoy a chili supper and bingo party and help along with the purchase of a new encyclopedia for Sacred Heart High School.

The event, sponsored by the parish NCCW unit, will begin after the afternoon church service.

Ladies of the parish are asked to donate pies and cakes for the party. They will be served at supper and any left over will be sold later in the evening.

MHS JUNIORS SPONSOR MAGIC SHOW FRIDAY

Members of the MHS Junior Class, starting early on their drive for funds to finance the annual Junior-Senior banquet, will sponsor a magic show Friday night, Jan. 11, at 8:15 o'clock in the school auditorium.

It is a two hour performance by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roberts of Antelope, Texas, featuring sleight of hand, floating through space and other tricks of magic. The couple are skilled magicians specializing in school performances.

Admission prices will be 25 cents for students, 50 cents for adults.

While here Wednesday Arnold Schilling of Jacksboro bought a new 2 door black Power Glide Chevrolet.

Lindsay News

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Zimmerer and four children of Bushland, near Amarillo, returned home Saturday after spending the holiday season with relatives at Lindsay, Scotland and Dallas.

Richard Hoberer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoberer, and daughter, accompanied by his sister-in-law, Miss Bernice Thill left Sunday for his home in Iowa. During their holiday visit here Hoberer was the guest of his parents and Miss Thill was the guest of her uncles, Adolph Fuhrmann and H. J. Fuhrman of Muenster.

LINDSAY 4-H GIRLS MEET

Members of the Lindsay 4-H Girls held their regular monthly meeting last Thursday morning in the school.

The principal feature of their meeting was a historical talk given by Miss Bernice Puckett, county home demonstration agent, on improvements made in beds through the centuries. She stressed changes made in pillows, mattresses and springs.

Marcella Hermes, president, opened the meeting with prayer and the 4-H pledge. After Miss Puckett's talk Anna Belle Metzger, song leader, led the group in songs.

MRS. C. M. WALTERSCHEID IS CLUB HOSTESS JAN. 2

Mrs. C. M. Walterscheid entertained the Get-Together Club in her home on Jan. 2 when members gathered for their regular monthly social.

In the progressive 42 series Mrs. J. B. Wilde won the high score prize and Mrs. Jake Pagel the consolation favor. Mrs. Joe Luke secured the galloping award.

After the games, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Earl Walterscheid and Mrs. Leo Lawson in serving ham sandwiches, cherry pie and coffee to members and two guests, Mmes. Henry Pick and Henry Walterscheid.
