Tigers End Season With 52-0 Triumph Over Trinidad High

We could offer apologies this week about the brevity of this paper, but in view of the fact that it was caused by circumstances beyond our control we'll just explain and assume that our readers will understand.

Monday morning Rosie, Alvin and yours truly made the sad discovery that our linotype operator, who had been on the staff for a month, was no longer with us. He just failed to show up, and a little investigation revealed that he had made a permanent departure Saturday. No advance notice, not even a hint as to his intentions. Apparently he had accumulated enough spare cash to carry him to his next destination.

So the Enterprise was in a severe cramp. With the greater part of a day's work on a school paper and all the work on our paper still to be done and our linotype standing idle, the outlook was gloomy. The typesetting machine heads the production line on a newspaper, and without it there isn't a chance to get along.

But thanks to four considerate and accommodating fellows, we're gradually pulling through. The school paper has been completed and indications at this writing are that this abbreviated edition of the Enterprise has a slight chance of coming out on schedule. The fellows who responded to our distress call, in case you would like to know, are Ernest Hayley of Saint Jo, Nick Mosman and W. C. Hogan of Gainesville and Earl Marlatt of Bowie. The latter, incidentally is due to join the Enterprise staff in about two weeks.

So, in spite of the dreary prospects a couple of days ago, it now becomes apparent that we have lots to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving week. We have as much occasion as ever before to observe this Thanksgiving, which happens to be also the paper's anniversary, with our traditional expression of gratitude for all the good things that have come our way.

We are thankful to all the subscribers whose continued acceptance provides both the reason and the incentive for the paper's continued growth. We are thankful for a fine progressive town which provides the business opportunities to sustain this endeavor. We are thankful for a free country which guarantees the God-given right to express opinions freely. Above all we are thankful to Divine Providence, the original source of those blessings and the many other blessings which, in our every day routine, we are inclined to take for granted.

This year, as always, we are pleased to state that our anniversary could not fall on a more appropriate day.

There's more than one reason why so many local football fans were at Sanger last Friday night cheering like mad for the Saint Jo Panthers. In the first place they expected to see lots of football and they got their money's worth. The game was almost as hot as the Hornet-Indian contest here the week before.

But to account for the rooting . . . it was partly because local fans were hoping to see the Hornets get a chance to share the conference title. Had the Panthers won after the Indians won here, the Hornets could possibly have knotted the conference in a three-way tie by trimming the Panthers.

Along with all that, we're proud to say, there's an element of good neighborliness toward the Saint Jo boys. Lots of people around here are for the Panthers in every game but one. In that tussle friendship ceases, and the Panther scalp becomes the most desired of the season. It's a nice combination of neighborly good will and loyalty.

Well the Turkey Day game is that tussle. It has prospects of being a treat for the fans and it will decide the number two and three positions in final conference standing.

Tuesday guests in the Needham home were Mrs. Bill Grubbs and daughter, Shirley, of Dallas, and Mmes. Dave Chadwell and Sameul Enderby of Gainesville.

The Sacred Heart High Tigers closed their grid season Tuesday night at Trinidad with a 52-0 scoring spree over the Trinidad High Trojans.

They started their offense early by recovering a Trojan fumble on the second scrimmage play and followed with Mollenkopf's 10 yard plunge for the first touchdown.

Another fumble recovered by the Tigers set the stage for the second T. D. Again Mollenkopf went over.

Herr was the next scorer, receiving a screen pass and racing 35 yards to the goal. Mully's kick added an extra point.

Shortly after the opening of the second quarter Herr marked up another TD on a kick return from Trinidad's 45. Mollenkopf's kick was good again.

Just before the half ended James Mollenkopf went over from the 15 after the Tigers had blocked a Trojan kick. Mully added another point and the half ended 33-0.

The second half started the same way. The Tigers held and got the ball on a punt on the 50. Herr heaved a long pass, Gilbert Knabe took it on the 15 and ran the rest of the way. Another extra point on Mollenkopf's kick. Toward the end of the third quarter Herr went around right end for another TD.

The Tigers offense simmered down somewhat in the last quarter when reserves got into the game. At the same time Trinidad made its best showing of the evening making several first downs but bogging down short of the goal.

For the final score Gilbert Knabe took Herr's pass over the goal line.

PTA Members See FHA Ceremonies

The outstanding feature of the PTA meeting Tuesday night was the initiation of new FHA members and the installation of new FHA officers.

New members admitted in the solemn candle-light ceremony are Corine Vogel, Mary Fox, Louise Butler, Clara Fisher, Mildred Fisher, Mary Nell Hellman, Lu Rose Henscheid, Patsy Morris, Frankie Jo Wimmer, Joyce Wiesman, Ruby Lee Wimmer, Gloria Voth and Rose Marie Walterscheid.

New officers are President Jeanette Walter, Vice President Florence Henscheid, Secretary Joan Klement, Treasurer Bonnie Hammer, Reporter Jane Hellman, Historian Carol Hellman and Parliamentarian Norma Vogel.

All members were dressed in white and the new officers were identified by a red rose, the chapter flower.

The ceremony also recognized Mrs. T. S. Myrick, honorary member, and Mrs. Al Wiesman and Mrs. Bernard Wolf, chapter mothers.

Grass Fire Clears Lot Near Laundry

A flurry of activity but little alarm resulted from a grass fire near the Huchtons Laundry about 3:45 Monday afternoon. It was caused by a trash fire which got out of control at the Humble Station.

Firemen who answered a call for help were concerned mostly with saving a line full of drying laundry and preventing the fire's spread to the vacant block across the street. Later the laundry put the clothes through another washing and the firemen returned, during their regular fire drill, and burned off the vacant block.

Baumhardt Family Reunion

Mrs. Callie Baumhardt and daughter, Margie, and son, Sgt. Roy Baumhardt, spent the weekend in Devol, Okla., with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Frank McClendon and family in whose home an early Thanksgiving reunion was held Sunday.

Others present were the Ralph Baumhardts of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Bertie Lou Webb of Wichita, Kansas, and the L. H. Baumhardts of Shawnee.

Soil Conservation Experts Speak at Agriculture Class

Vocational Agriculture students of Muenster Hi got a lesson directly from the experts last Friday morning when Clyde Wells, district conservationist of the Upper Elm Red district and Otto Bynum, soil scientist for the district spent the 9 to 10:45 period with the class.

Mr. Wells pointed out the need for conservation in Texas and its importance to the welfare of the entire nation. Then he told students how conservation districts and zones are organized and administered and how conservation work units assist the farmers.

Mr. Bynum spoke and gave a demonstration on the use of clovers and grasses in a good conservation program. With charts and drawings of actual experiments he showed how hard pans may be broken up to let soil absorb more water and retain it for the use of growing plants. He also showed how soil of poor physical condition is more subject to erosion than soil with sufficient organic content. He recommended a grass-legume combination as an excellent means to restore organic matter and improve soil structure.

MHS Is Host for Cage Tournament December 12 to 15

Plans are well on their way now for the Second Annual Invitation Basketball Tournament to be held December 12-15 in the Muenster High School gymnasium.

Coach Hood disclosed this week that eight high schools have accepted invitations to date and each will enter a team in both the boys' and the girls' division of the tourney. The eight schools are Saint Jo, Sanger, Valley View, Prairie Valley, Forestburg, Henrietta, Era and Alvord. About twelve teams are expected in each division.

The tournament will be a double elimination affair, the teams defeated in their opening games being eligible to compete for the consolation trophy. After the opening games a defeated team will drop out of the contest.

A total of 19 trophies will be awarded. The championship team, the second place winner and the consolation winner in each division will get team trophies. In addition the outstanding boy and outstanding girl and each member of tournament all star teams will receive individual trophies.

Rev. Fred Mosman's Boys' Choir to Sing At Lindsay Sunday

The St. Cecilia's Boys' Choir of Dallas will make its first appearance outside of Dallas on Sunday, Nov. 25, at Lindsay, according to announcement this week by Director Rev. Fred Mosman.

Father Mosman organized the choir three years ago. Assisted by Miss Winifred Bedford, St. Cecilia's church organist and a Dallas music instructor, the boys have appeared on several local television programs. Hailed as a fine singing group, they sing for many church functions. One of their outstanding appearances is the annual solemn Pontifical Mass of Requiem at Calvary Hill cemetery in Dallas for which they render the chant.

During the past year the choir has received many invitations to appear outside of Dallas but circumstances have not permitted such trips, Father Mosman said.

There are more than 40 boys in the choir.

Eva Muller of Dallas was here Friday and Saturday to visit her parents, the Matt Mullers.

The Carl Schillings were hosts in their home Tuesday night for the regular get-together of the Forty-Two Club. After the games, the hostess served refreshments to 12 members. In the games Mrs. Victor Hartman secured the galloping prize. Albert Henscheid won the high score award and Mrs. Ed Endres received the consolation favor.

ANGELS FROM THE AIR—Two of the first nurses ever trained to jump with RCAF Para-Rescue teams, Flying Officer Marian Neily, left, and Flying Officer Anna Peden are shown just after completing a 14-week training course at Edmonton, Alberta. The young ladies are now stationed in Canadian Air Force hospitals on a standby basis for hazardous rescue missions.

MHS Girl Cagers Win at Sanger, Era

A victory at Sanger and another at Era indicate that Muenster High's basketball girls have a chance of developing an aggressive, smooth working team this season.

But how they will fare in district competition is still a big question. Coaches Coe and Hood disclosed Tuesday Muenster's competitors in the conference schedule will again include Prairie Valley, Forrestburg and Saint Jo, all of which traditionally have strong teams. A new conference team is Callisburg. Schedule of conference games, which will begin in January, will be drawn up at a special meeting of school representatives in the near future.

The girls played double headers at both Sanger and Era. In each case the opener was between reserve players and the second game was between regulars.

Jeanette Fisher led the regulars in a 17-14 victory over Sanger and an 18-13 victory over Era. Rita Cain led the reserves in an 18-8 win over Sanger and an 18-10 win over Era.

State Order Causes Crisis in Muenster School Bus System

The crisis expected for years in the local school bus system has finally arrived. Members of the Muenster school board have been officially notified that they are not permitted to transport any school children except those enrolled in the public school as residents of the district or legal transfers.

As regards hauling children from outside the district the change becomes effective next Monday. Superintendent Cowan advises that an order from the Texas Education Agency prevents the busses, after that date, from picking up any but legal transfers in the Myra district.

As regards hauling children of this district who attend the parochial school, the state school officials have agreed to postpone the official notice a few weeks and give the community a little more time to work out its problem.

The trouble originated about three weeks ago when a representative of the Texas Education Agency arrived to investigate a complaint that the local bus system was transporting children who have no legal right to ride. He advised that his report would probably result in an order to discontinue the present policy at once.

Immediately thereafter Superintendent Cowan phoned the school officials at Austin and made an appointment for a local committee to meet with them and discuss possible solutions to the problem. The committee consisted of Father Louis Deuster, Superintendent Cowan, Al Fleitman, Al Trubenbach, Herbert Meurer and Arthur Hellman. They were in Austin last Friday.

They were told that the local district can continue bus transportation in either of three ways. All children can continue riding the present system if the parochial school discontinues its private school status and becomes a part of the public school system. Another solution is to establish a corporation for the purpose of transporting school children. It would have to operate under state regulations as a common carrier and make a charge for each passenger. The third alternative is to have a separate bus system for each school, the one supported by the school district, the other by the parish.

These alternatives are now under consideration by Father Louis and members of the church committee.

Busses can continue picking up legal transfers in the Myra district. That includes several high school students who have made proper transfers through the county superintendent's office. It does not include any child of the Myra district now attending the parochial school or the elementary department of the public school. Because Myra maintains its own elementary school, applications for elementary transfers were not allowed by the county school board.

Miss Dorothy Walterscheid, Donald Endres Wed Monday

A double ring ceremony Monday morning in Sacred Heart church united Miss Dorothy Walterscheid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Walterscheid and Donald Endres of Fort Worth, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Endres of Muenster.

Rev. Louis Deuster, pastor, officiated at the exchange of the marriage vows and at the nuptial high mass at 8 o'clock. Gladioli and greenery banked the altar.

The Sacred Heart High school choir, of which the bride was a member during her high school years, sang the two-part mass, Salve Mater, with Sister M. Dolores at the organ. Sister Dolores also played the traditional wedding processional and recessional.

Mr. Walterscheid gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a lovely gown of white bridal satin designed with a fitted V bodice accented with a scalloped chantilly lace yoke and satin Peter-Pan collar, full gathered skirt and petal point sleeves.

Her fingertip length veil of imported illusion fell from a satin half hat ornamented with orange blossoms.

Her flowers were an orchid and carnations carried on top of a white mother of pearl prayer book, a gift from the groom.

For something borrowed she wore a gold cross and chain belonging to the groom's sister, Miss Floradell Endres. She carried a blue rosary and completed bridal tradition with a six-pence in her shoe.

Miss Floradell Endres was maid of honor wearing a faille taffeta dress of true purple with a scalloped yoke of royal purple nylon net, duplicating the bride's dress in design. She wore a satin half hat of true purple with royal purple netting and matching elbow length mitts. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of white carnations.

William Walterscheid, brother of the bride was best man, and Denis Walterscheid and Ronald Herr were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Walterscheid wore a dark grey crepe dress with black accessories. The groom's mother wore a navy crepe dress with navy accessories. Both wore pink carnation corsages. The bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Walterscheid, and the groom's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Fred Herr, had white carnation corsages.

Following the church services, brunch was served in the home of the groom's parents to the bridal party, the parents, the grandmothers and the Rev. Fathers Louis Deuster and Cletus Post. Fall flowers in white and purple were used in decorating the home and for a centerpiece on the table.

At one o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Walterscheid were hosts in their home for an informal reception followed by dinner for about 40 guests. Mrs. Ed Schneider, sister of the bride, presided at the guest book. The home and the bride's table again accented the bride's chosen colors in decorations and a three tiered wedding cake centered the table. After the newlyweds cut the cake, Miss Della Herr, cousin of the groom, served it to the guests.

In the late afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Endres left on a wedding trip to West Texas and New Mexico. For traveling the bride wore a cinnamon brown suit with dark brown accessories and the orchid she carried at her wedding. When they return they will make their home in Fort Worth where he is employed at Consolidated Aircraft Corporation.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Endres were born and reared in Muenster and attended Sacred Heart school. Mrs. Endres graduated with last May's class. Mr. Endres served an enlisted term of one year in the army air forces with the ground crew.

Among out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walterscheid and four children of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Loerwald of Gainesville.

Miss Emma Felderhoff, who works for the Snap Shop in Dallas, is spending this week on vacation with her mother, Mrs. John Felderhoff. She came to Muenster Friday in company of her sister, Celine, also employed in Dallas, who was here for the weekend.

A Healthy Indignation

The results of the municipal elections in New York and Philadelphia strengthen the feeling I've had all along that the rank and file of American citizens, whatever their creed or race or political party, have not lost respect for the high moral principles of honesty and honor exemplified by the Founding Fathers. In both cities the people ignored party labels and voted for what they believed to be decency in public office. Entrenched corruption was defeated. It should be a stunning warning to those politicians at all levels who have been participating in or conducting graft and corruption.

Our nation has been deeply injured by the very fact that the dishonest and dishonorable acts of public officials have been permitted to go unchallenged by important leaders. The injury done to our younger generation will never be healed. But if, in elections from now on, a majority of Americans will assert their indignation over politico-government corruption as did the citizens of Philadelphia and New York on November 4, the character of our nation will be strengthened and the morality of our forefathers carried forward.

Powerful Speech

Three months ago Herbert Hoover made a speech at Des Moines on "Honor in Public Life." It was a significant and powerful speech because ex-President Hoover is widely acknowledged as an elder statesman and his integrity is so obviously non-partisan that a Democrat President of the United States appointed him to the chairmanship of a national committee to study bureaucratic waste and recommended economies in government.

In discussing the citizen's responsibility on the issue of public morality, Mr. Hoover said: "The practical thing we can do if we really want to make the world over again is to try out the word 'old' for a while. There are some old things that made this country. There is the old virtue of religious faith. There are the old virtues of integrity and the whole truth. There is the old virtue of incorruptible service and honor in public office. There are the old virtues of economy in government, of self-reliance, thrift and individual liberty. There are the old virtues of patriotism, real love of country and willingness to sacrifice for it.

TWIN-MOTOR ROTOR CRAFT—Britain's first twin-engine helicopter, the "Bristol" type 173, is shown as it was unveiled for ground running trials in England. The super size ships, whose rotors are 48 feet in diameter, is designed to carry from 10 to 30 passengers or 2500 pounds of freight.

Virtues Never Change

"These 'old' ideas are very expensive. They even would help win hot and cold wars. I realize that such suggestions will raise that cuss word 'reactionary.' But some of these old things are slipping badly in American life. And if they slip too far, the lights will go out of America, even if we win these cold and hot wars. Think about it."

Congress, as a result of its own inquiries, is confronted with the fact that sacred honor cannot always be tested by legality or enforced by law. "In its frustration," said Mr. Hoover, "The Congress is groping for some sort of code of ethics, which with a prefix 'new' might protect the citizen from his own officials. Might I suggest that there are already some old tested codes of ethics? There are the Ten Commandments, the Sermon on the Mount, and the rules of the game which we learn at our mother's knee. Can a nation live if these are not the guides of public life? Think it over."

Our Greatest Danger

Something stronger than a new code of ethics is needed by America, Herbert Hoover contended. "The issue," he said, "is decency in public life against indecency. Our greatest danger is not from invasion by foreign armies. Our dangers are that we may commit suicide from within by complaisance with evil . . . or by public tolerance of scandalous behavior . . . or by cynical acceptance of dishonor. These evils have defeated nations many times in human history. The redemption of mankind by America will depend upon our ability to cope with these evils right here at home."

"Here in this state (Iowa) where I was nurtured," he said, "I cannot but feel a strength that comes up from the deep roots in the very soil on which we stand. That strength is in character and truth and decent living. And it will triumph. It will triumph. Because I know America is turning its face away from the maudlin leftisms and the spread of untruth of the past two decades. We sense the frauds on men's minds and morals. Moral indignation is on the march again."

Political corruption is widespread. The uprising of voters in New York and Philadelphia must be considered only a beginning.

Judge a man, not by his clothes, but by his wife's clothes.

Thank God We Can Help Suffering Men

by Alvin Illig

A PROMINENT FOREIGN observer, speaking recently to a university audience in Washington said, "America's help to a war-ravaged Europe stands as one of the finest expressions of Christian charity ever seen on a national scale."

Around the clock ships whose holds are heavy with industrial equipment, lumber, rails, pig iron, foodstuffs, coal, machinery, cooking utensils, shoes, and baby foods steam slowly out of American ports destined to help a sorrowful mankind. Our Christian heritage has not been in vain.

The lips of the Swedish cobbler, the German seamstress, the Japanese jirrickisha boy, the Korean refugee, so many of the little people who have suffered so much in recent years, carry the prayer, "Thank God Americans can give."

THANK GOD that America can give! This is at the very heart of America's Thanksgiving Day in this year of grace, 1951, as it has been since victory was ours five years ago. We have received so much that we have become the stewards of God's plenty.

The latest statistics on the 1951 crops sing an eloquent testimony. The U. S. Department of Agriculture puts it all in numbers of tons and bushels and bales. It is 29,808,000 tons of wheat; 3,105,000,000 bushels of corn; 16,930,000 bales of cotton.

OUR FARMLANDS are not all that is rich. Last year five hundred and fifty million tons of coal were mined. An average of over five million barrels of oil gushed from our wells every day. We built for ourselves six and a half million passenger cars, over one million new family housing units, and seven million TV sets. And still we had goods to give to others.

"Man," however, "does not live by bread alone." If we share only our material wealth while allowing human minds to live on the husks of atheistic Communism we fail the world miserably. We must also share the religious heritage that has made America great.

WE MUST SHARE our knowledge that every man has personal dignity and liberty of conscience and inalienable rights which the State must not violate—because man has an immortal soul. We must teach the stabilizing influence of the moral law. We must inculcate the fact that the brotherhood of man means nothing without the Fatherhood of God.

We must tell all men of the dignity and inviolability of marriage. We must proclaim that on every man's right to a home and family is built the concept of a living wage. We must tell every suffering human that he has reason for hope because Christ shed His Divine Blood for him personally.

We must share this religious heritage because these are the truths men live by!

Thank God we can give.

"The first meal convinced me! . . ."

Electric Cooking has no superior!

"My neighbors . . . the ones who have electric ranges . . . have been telling me the advantages of electric cooking: so easy, so dependable, so modern! The very first meal I cooked on my new electric range convinced me that they were right. Now I'm serving better meals . . . yet spending less time in the kitchen."

Speedy heating units are ready to go at the flick of a switch. There's no smoke or soot to blacken pans . . . so clean-up time is cut to a minimum. Thermostatic temperature controls maintain the exact heat required . . . and that kind of accuracy means delicious cookbook results every time. And these are only a few of the reasons why so many women are switching to electric cooking . . . are modernizing their kitchens with new electric ranges!

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER DEATH?

In a few score years, all who read these lines will have vanished from the face of the earth.

Every day, almost a hundred thousand human beings finish their earthly span and pass off into the vast beyond. That our turn will come we all know, but when and where and how we cannot be sure.

No merely human being ever has been able to look into eternity and tell us what it is like. No scientific knowledge or scientific instruments can pierce the curtain that divides this world from that into which all of us must eventually journey.

All we know about God's eternal plans for us . . . all we know about what lies beyond the grave . . . comes from the God Who made us and to the extent He has seen fit to reveal it to us.

But we can face eternity without fear. For we do have a definite answer to the mystery of death. With the facts God has put at our disposal through the inspired books of the Old and the New Testaments, the Catholic Church always has given, and gives today, a definite answer to the tremendously important questions raised by the fact of death.

Man's life in this world, the Church tells us, is a preparation for the world to come . . . a testing-time which ends with our death. What happens after that depends on whether death finds us loyal to God, or opposed to Him and the way He expects us to live. " . . . it is appointed unto men once to die and after this the judgment" (Heb. IX:27).

Christ gave us (Matt. XXV) a description of God's judgment which leaves no room for doubt that our worthiness of everlasting reward will be judged solely according to the way we have lived our lives on this earth.

Death does not bring merely a long, unconscious slumber, but rather a quick awakening to the irrevocable judgment of our Creator. Nor does it bring us a second chance to prove ourselves or to amend our erring ways. In our own hands rests the opportunity . . . and upon our own heads the responsibility . . . to determine if death shall be the threshold to everlasting life among the blessed, or among the lost.

Men blessed by youth and good health often feel that death for them is far away—something to be worried about only in the twilight years. Some scoff at the suggestion that an everlasting hell could be permitted by a merciful God. Others seem to think that God will treat them kindly if they live reasonably moral lives, even though they pay Him no special honor which is His due.

But whatever they think . . . however they avoid the question . . . all men must eventually face the fact of death. To think about it wisely . . . and in time . . . is the most important thing in our lives. If you would like more information on this subject . . . on Heaven, Hell, Purgatory, the end of the world and the resurrection and judgment of all men . . . we shall be happy to send you an interesting pamphlet free of charge. CDA Court Plans Christmas Cheer For Indian Mission

At their regular meeting Friday night members of the local court Catholic Daughters of America voted to send Christmas cheer in the form of clothing, hospital items and small toys to St. Paul's Indian Mission in Marty, S. D. The women were unanimous in their decision after Mrs. J. W. Fisher, grand regent, read a letter of appeal from the mission home.

Members were asked to bring their items to the meeting in December and a committee will tend to the packing and shipping immediately afterwards so that the box will reach the mission by Dec. 25. Non-members are invited to join in contributing to the cause if they have items to donate.

Dispense With Socials

The members agreed to dispense with the customary socials during the season of advent and will announce the date for the next party to be held after Christmas.

Mrs. J. W. Fisher conducted the meeting for which Father Cletus was a special guest.

Dangerous Animals

A catalog of animals at large on the nation's highways has been compiled by the Connecticut Petroleum Industries News. Here is the menagerie on the loose:

The chimpanzee is the character who hangs onto the roof of the car with his left hand while back type, who zigs and zags through traffic like a frightened bunny.

The elephant is the big, stalwart, unpassable type who plants himself in the middle of the road and plods slowly along.

The peacock is the preener, the strutter, the thing of self-supposed beauty who knows he is stealing the show on the highway and who drives accordingly.

The jackass is as versatile as he is common, the showoff who risks his own neck and everybody else's by speeding and weaving.

It will not be difficult to fit drivers we know into these categories. A look in an honest mirror, in fact, might surprise and horrify some of us.—Kannapolis (N. C.) Independent.
