Airplane Crash in Oklahoma is Fatal To Bulcher Couple

The crash landing of their light plane Saturday afternoon at about 1:30 took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Pollard of Bulcher community north of Muenster. The couple was making a flying trip to visit her brother, Bill Wallace near Temple, Okla., who lives about 200 yards from the scene of the crash. Pollard was attempting to land in a field. Oklahoma Highway Patrolman C. W. Adams said the plane hit a high voltage line and crashed in flames. Mrs. Pollard, 39, was trapped in the plane wreckage. Her husband, 47, was thrown clear. He was taken to a Wichita Falls hospital with compound fractures of both legs, a skull injury and body burns. He died at about 3 p.m. The couple had lived here for ten years. He was employed by the Kewanee Oil Co. Pollard, a pilot and a flying enthusiast, and his wife frequently made trips in the two-seater plane. Double funeral services were held at the First Baptist church in Healdton Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial was in Healdton cemetery. A son, Jimmy, who lost his life in world war II in the Pacific theatre is also buried at Healdton. They are natives of that city. Wallace of Tulsa, a sister of that city and one in California, and two brothers of Oklahoma.

MHS Teams Enter St. Jo Cage Tourney

With all games of their double round robin conference schedule recorded in the score book, Muenster High's two basketball teams are getting set to end their district competition this week end at the district tournament in Saint Jo. According to the present standing, the boys have a chance to keep out of the cellar by beating Callisburg and the girls have a chance to retain third place in district standing. Forestburg and Prairie Valley, now tied for the lead will be fighting for the top position. Local girls by defeating Saint Jo and Callisburg each twice and losing to Prairie Valley and Forestburg twice have a 50-50 record. The boys won only one game out of 8. In the final conference tilt Tuesday of last week Muenster girls beat Saint Jo 18-16 and the boys lost 46-16. In games with Sanger here last Thursday and there Tuesday the girls continued their winning streak in two close games and the boys continued their losing streak. Muenster's first appearance in the Saint Jo tournament will be Friday night.

Telephone Company Will Extend Service To Marysville Area

An extension to serve the Marysville area is the next expansion planned by the Muenster Telephone Company. The decision followed a meeting at Marysville Tuesday night attended by some forty Marysville residents and Herman Younger, J. B. Klement, Weldon Cowan and Ben Seyler from here.

Younger, manager of the local system, said Wednesday that Marysville is eager for the service and that the first line will be built as soon as possible. He will order materials immediately and start line construction as soon as they arrive. Other lines, as many as needed to serve the area, will follow as soon as possible.

To speed the work along Marysville people will help with the line building. They have offered to secure right of way, clear brush and dig post holes.

Rebuilt Church at Decatur Dedicated

The new Church of the Assumption in Decatur was formally dedicated Monday at 5 p.m. with the Most Rev. Bishop Dangelmayr of Dallas officiating at the ceremonies. About 30 members of the clergy from a wide area, including the Rt. Rev. Abbot Paul Nahlen of Subiaco, Ark., and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Louis J. Kempheus of Memphis, Tenn., present for the services. Rev. Anthony Daley of Wichita Falls delivered the dedicatory address.

Rev. James Tucek is pastor of the church that was almost destroyed by a fire last year. The entire interior was lost in the blaze that left only the native rock exterior standing. The parish rebuilt the inside and made improvements to the outside, producing a more beautiful edifice than the original structure.

Attending the services from Muenster were Rev. Cletus Post, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Flusche and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bernauer.

Town-County Cage Classic Thursday

It's going to be a game of some sort but no one has an idea what to expect Thursday night of next week when Town and County teams of the community meet on the Muenster Hi basketball floor. Players will be men, not kids, and the farmers will wear overalls and the city slickers will wear shorts.

An added attraction for the evening, if it can be arranged, is a game for the Muenster Hi girls. At this time the opposing team has not been determined.

Pastures, Waterways and Clover Are Discussed at Soil Conservation Meeting

About 25 farmers of the Muenster area, meeting Monday night in the office of the local soil conservation work unit, heard conservationists Clyde Wells, Emmitt Yoder and Otto Bynum discuss waterway establishment, pasture improvement and soil conditioning as incentives to make an early and coordinated start on this year's conservation program.

J. W. Hess, chairman of the board of Supervisors of the Upper Elm Red Soil Conservation District was chairman of the meeting.

Clyde Wells, district conservationist discussed conditions in the entire 1,700,000 acre district, explaining that of some 85,000 acres of planned pasture improvement only 41,000 acres are established. Waterways also he said, are less than half established.

Otto Bynum, soil scientist of the district, spoke on soil conditioning with deep rooted legumes. Clovers, he pointed out serve the multiple purpose of penetrating plow soles and hoof pans, storing nitrogen in the soil, and supplying organic matter to improve the soil's texture. In a

Intensive Quarter Hour Brings Hail, Storm, 1.5 In. Rain

For just a few minutes Monday afternoon this community witnessed the most intensive concentration of weather is has had in years. It was a cloudburst accompanied by hail and high wind.

From beginning to end it lasted hardly fifteen minutes, but when it was over streets were a sea of water, hail covered the ground and wreckage was scattered all over town.

The city apparently felt the worst of the storm's fury, although there were some reports of wind damage in the country. Nevertheless the storm damage was a trifle compared with the benefits from the rain. As regards hail the pebbles were too small to cause serious damage to buildings, and crops were not far enough advanced to be hurt by them.

The rain in Muenster, according to Steve Mosler's official measure was 1.5 in. Areas to the south, east and northeast also got a good soaking, but the west and northwest got very little. Five miles northwest it was only a drizzle.

In the lucky areas the rain is just what farmers have been looking for. Reports are that prospects for a grain crop are the best this community has seen in years.

Though the storm caused no serious damage in any one place it is probable that the total damage will run up to several thousand dollars.

Possibly the most sensational caper of all was that at the Shamburger Lumber Company where the wind tore a 36x16 section of sheet metal roofing off a lumber shed. Most of it landed some 200 feet to the north in Jake Pagel's back yard, fortunately missing J. B. Wilde's house on the way. Another Shamburger lumber shed had a complete side of sheet metal pushed away from the building.

At the new Endres Motor Co. building the storm blew in a section of plate glass and shattered it on the display floor. Another glass window was broken at the Hirschy Bakery.

Ed Schneider's car shed in the north part of town was tumbled over and the same happened to a chicken house on Wilfred Sicking's farm. Tom Sicking, also on a farm, lost a part of the roof off his barn. At the Relax theatre two sheets of metal roofing were peeled off. Waples Painter also lost a few sheets of metal roofing.

Dick Cain's television antenna was bent double and a few other antennas around town were left drooping on the poles.

The storm left its mark also on one of the oldest trees in

Leon Reiter Dies Saturday In Tragic Hunting Accident

A ricocheting bullet from a .22 rifle fired by his brother last Saturday caused the tragic death of Leon Reiter, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Reiter.

The accident occurred about 1 o'clock when Leon and Basil, 14, were hunting rabbits in timber west of the Eckhart home a half mile east of town. Basil fired at a rabbit and the bullet, after killing the rabbit, ricocheted and struck Leon in the forehead.

Basil immediately rushed to the Eckhart home to call for help and James Eckhart drove to town to notify Dr. Myrick and Father Cletus Post. Both arrived at the scene of the accident minutes later and Father Cletus administered the last rites of the Church as the boy was being placed in the Tony Felderhoff car to be taken to a Gainesville hospital.

Leon never regained consciousness after the accident. He died at 5:30 o'clock after having undergone surgery for removal of the bullet.

Building Erected in '90 Being Torn Down

Another of the community's oldest buildings will soon be only a memory. Workers started the latter part of last week to remove the old frame building on the lot north of Seyler's garage.

It is the building erected by Pete Stoffels in the spring of 1890 and served as a business location for both the elder Stoffels and his son, Nick. They operated a saloon until prohibition and after that Nick had a domino hall and soft drinks business.

In recent years the building was used for a feed store, a lumber business and for the local Ford Tractor agency.

An adjoining frame building, built several years after the structure now being wrecked, was moved to the Tractor Sales and Service lot two weeks ago.

Famous Cage Team Featured at Relax

The finest exhibition of basketball skill this community is likely to see in years will be in the Relax theatre next Tuesday. It is a movie of the Harlem Globetrotters, world famous colored basketball team of Chicago, which has played exhibition games all over the world.

Meeting the best talent everywhere the Trotters have an all time winning record of over 90 per cent. Along with that they have a record of putting on the best exhibition of tricks and fancy playing known to the game.

The movie relates the story of the team's origin and development and presents an exhibition of its entire bag of tricks.

What Produces National Progress?

Social or economic progress isn't something that just happens. If it were, China and India and most of the remainder of the old world wouldn't be knee-deep in poverty. America's unmatched progress has been due to the freedoms and incentives in the American system and to our American business leadership with its great capacity for constantly expanding the production of new wealth.

The nature of manpower has not changed in 6,000 years; men are about as strong physically as they ever were and the size and capacity of the human brain is unchanging. But the ingenuity—and enterprise of free

American business men have developed a machine-power that has multiplied man's productive worth to an amazing degree. And this has brought about our great social progress; it has given American workmen a living standard three times as high as their counterparts living under any other system in the world.

Production is Wealth
 The Wagner Act and Taft-Hartley laws, the strikes for higher wages by industrial employees and the "social reform" legislation of the past half century would not have advanced this nation's economic or social welfare on the whole — or the individual citizen's permanent economic outlook — had not American business throughout those 50 years been constantly devising new machine tools and techniques and expanding its production facilities to create new wealth.

Wealth, said Henry George, the social philosopher, is "any material thing made by man, from land, that has an exchange value." The government cannot make new wealth by spending tax income or redistributing it in any particular way, or by issuing new irredeemable currency, or by spending borrowed money through the use of paper I.O.U.'s. But a man can take a handful of clay from his backyard or from a creek bank, shape it into a bowl and harden it in an earthen oven, and it becomes new wealth — to be sold or exchanged for something he wants. The clay itself is not wealth as it lies in the earth. It is merely a resource. It becomes wealth only after man has worked it into something useful, something somebody wants.

The Master Key
 In many regions of the old world bowls for food are still made by men shaping clay with their hands and baking it in earthen ovens — and because of such primitive production, the living standard of the population has improved very little in the last 100 years. In America, our incentives and freedoms have inspired many clay potters to become dinnerware manufacturers, blacksmiths to become automobile builders, and men with one-horse plows to become mechanized commercial farmers.

Machine tools, mass production techniques and invested capital have enabled business men and industrialists to increase the productive capacity—the wealth-making power — of American workmen to an amazing degree. And this is the key to American prosperity. There is really no secret about it. We've got the world's greatest prosperity because our industries "have developed machine-power and placed it in the hands of our quick-to-learn American workmen, and thus the expansion of wealth-making production has been constant."

Machine-Power Expanded
 These reasons for America's wonderful industrial progress should be clearly understood by every citizen, especially young Americans in schools and colleges, and likewise industrial employees who get so much propaganda peddled their way which seeks to undermine their faith in our American business system. In 1850, manufacturing, as we know it today, was barely getting started: Man himself did 20 per cent of the work being done, animals did 50 per cent, and machine power accounted for only 30 per cent. By 1900 man was doing only 15 per cent, animals 30 per cent, and machines were doing 55 per cent. And by 1950, man was doing only 6 per cent, and machines were doing the rest — 94 per cent.

The output per worker per hour in 1850 was only 27 cents (in today's buying power). By 1950, thanks to industry's constant development of better machine tools and production techniques, the output per worker per hour had increased 5 times that amount, to $1.40. And the American living standard, measured by per capita buying power had improved exactly 500 per cent. Thus we can see clearly how important it is — to all of us — to keep intact the basic principles of our American business system—freedom and the profit incentives that have sparked our great industrial progress.

President Abraham Lincoln's Work Needs Finishing!

by Archbishop John Ireland

ON THE FIRST day of January, in the year of grace, 1863, by proclamation of President Abraham Lincoln, the chains of slavery, in the eye of the law of the land, fell from the limbs of three million or more men. Their legal emancipation logically and swiftly led to the total and practical blotting out of slavery on American soil.

Slavery was horrid. We cannot recall it without sorrow and shame.

I know its defenders, taking refuge in the shadowy regions of the abstract, describe slavery as a mere labor-contract, covering a whole life-time. In the concrete, as practiced and defended, slavery was the ownership of the human being, whose manhood was ignored, who was made to be the chattel.

AND HOW COME it, I could ask in the name of justice, that the unborn child was shorn without his own fault or act, of the right to the free use of powers of soul and body?

Certain stages of civilization, it has been said, rendered slavery a social necessity. Certain stages of barbarism they should be called. And Americans should not have lowered themselves to barbarism.

But what do I claim for the black man? That which I claim for the white man, neither more nor less.

I would blot out the color line. White men have their estrangements. They separate on lines of wealth, of intelligence, of culture, of ancestry . . . but let there be no barrier against mere color. Why a barrier of this kind? Where can we find a reason for it? Not in color. Color is the merest accident in man, the result of climatic changes. The colors of the human skin are of many different kinds, the shadings of the so-called white race are not easily numbered.

NOT IN RACE. Men are all of the same race, sprung from the one father and the one mother. Ethnology and Holy Writ give the same testimony.

The negro problem is upon us, and there is no other solution to it, peaceful and permanent, than to grant to our colored citizens practical and effective equality with white citizens. It is not possible to keep up a wall of separation between whites and blacks, and an attempt to do this is a declaration of continuous war.

SIMPLE COMMON sense dictates the solution. Let the negro be our equal before the law. Open to the negro all industrial and professional avenues. I might shun the vulgar man, whatever his color, but the gentleman, whatever his color, I would not dare push away from me. I claim the right I grant to others—and my door is opened to men of all colors, and no one should blame me.

Social equality is a matter of taste: the granting of it largely depends on our elevation above prejudice, and the identification of minds and hearts with the precepts and the counsels of the Gospel.

"All Right...I'll Tell You WHY I AM A CATHOLIC"

You may have heard that your neighbor is a Catholic because his father was. Perhaps you believe that ignorance, superstition and fear keep him loyal to his Faith.

But your common sense should tell you that these are NOT the reasons...that there MUST be something deep and vital and certain about a Faith which can hold the devoted loyalty of nearly 400 millions of people of every race, color and tongue on earth.

dom are not merely a political code of ethics but a fundamental part of his religion. Human rights, the right of private property, and government with the consent of the people, are essentials of Catholic philosophy of life.

Not every Catholic can explain the reasons for his deep conviction in a way that you would understand. For the grace of God that touches a man's soul...and the willingness to believe that moves his heart...are elements of faith which cannot be readily reduced to logic and reason, nor easily explained.

Communism, the lawyer says, is a deadly menace to the world because the solutions it offers to men's problems, though definite, are false and often hideous. Catholicism alone, he adds, offers answers equally as definite and forceful, and backed up by an equal unity and zeal.

But there are practical and common-sense reasons why so many millions of people are Catholics. And they are such convincing reasons that a young Catholic lawyer, with all the analytical exactness of his profession, has been moved to publish them in a booklet explaining "Why I Am A Catholic."

"Catholicism," he continues, "gives me confidence and courage to face the present and the future...the confidence of one who has a map upon which the path to a sound, secure and peaceful future is well outlined; the courage of one who knows that the guide has behind it the experience of 2,000 years, the viewpoint of the world itself, and the devotion of countless millions. I am a Catholic because it would be foolish not to be."

The Catholic system of thought, he says, provides him with reasonable and consistent answers to the basic questions which trouble mankind. He finds it reasonable to believe, as the Church teaches, that man has a physical body and a rational soul...that man and his world were created by God...and that man lives primarily "to return to God by saving his soul through love of God and his neighbor."

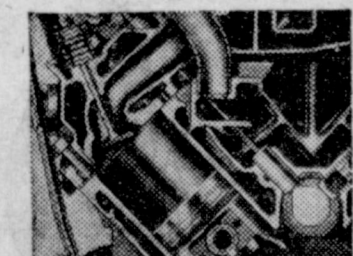

With these principles to guide him, the Catholic finds it both logical and necessary to fulfill his obligations to other men...to obey the civil laws...and to labor for the improvement of society as well as personal gain. For him, the basic principles of democratic free-

The generator rotor is being lifted from the assembly pit at one end of the Arizona wing and being shuttled to its place half way to the other end of the wing. Those two cranes can share a burden of 600 tons—equivalent to the weight of three railroad locomotives.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

A delightful surprise greeted Mrs. Joe Otto Sunday at 6 p.m. in observance of her birthday when her children and grandchildren gathered at her home with covered dishes for a sumptuous dinner. Games and visiting followed the meal.

Mrs. Ben Seyler and son, Billy, visited in Midland with the Darrell Adams family during the week end.

Mrs. Gladys Ashlock spent the past week end in Denton visiting with former school mates at TSCW.

Garden Club Hears Talk on Roses; Has A Valentine Exhibit

With a talk on roses and an exhibit of valentines made with flowers, members of the Civic League and Garden Club enjoyed an interesting and entertaining program Monday night. Mrs. Dick Cain was hostess for the meeting in her home.

The valentine motif was stressed in the home and members were reminded of the theme as they arrived by a large heart made of cedar and red ribbon that hung on the front door.

Mrs. Steve Moster read an excellent paper on "The History, Romance and Cultivation of Roses," the topic for the program hour.

Members brought valentines made with flowers for an exhibit. These novel and unique handmade ornamental greetings brought forth much comment.

During the business session at which Mrs. Moster, president, presided, committee chairmen gave reports. Mrs. Moster told about the garden club conference local members attended in Denton in January and read an invitation welcoming the local club to participate in the Dallas Garden Club pilgrimage to be held the last two weekends in March. Prices quoted are sixty cents for a visit to one garden on the tour, or $2.40 to visit two or all ten gardens included in the pilgrimage.

After the meeting, Mrs. Cain was assisted by Mrs. Arnold Wimmer in serving valentine cake, candy hearts and coffee to Mmes. F. J. Yosten, Lee Toothaker, Doyle Hood, Joe Luke, M. J. Endres, Callie Baumhardt, T. S. Myrick, A. A. Otto and Steve Moster and Miss Olivia Stock.

CDA Court Thanked For Recent Gifts

At their regular business meeting Friday night members of the Catholic Daughters of America heard letters of thanks from St. Paul's Indian Mission of Marty, S. D., and St. Anne's Indian Mission of Belcourt, N. D., for gift boxes sent by the court. The shipments consisted of hospital supplies, toys and clothing.

Appeal For Rosaries

Members also heard an appeal for rosaries for Indian missions. Officers asked members to contribute and to tell their non-member friends to do likewise if they have rosaries they can spare.

Solicit Cards, Magazines

Mrs. Joe Swirczynski of the mission committee reminded members to turn in their Christmas and greeting cards and any Catholic literature they care to give, especially children's magazines. These items, she said, do great good in orphanages and hospitals. She will accept contributions and tend to shipping details.

Ship Hospital Bandages

A recent contribution of the court consisted of 30 pounds of rolled hospital bandages which were sent to Catholic Medical Mission in New York, Mrs. Swirczynski reported.

After business, Mrs. Herman Fette gave a report on the NCCW quarterly meeting held the day before in Gainesville.

Father Cletus was a guest at the meeting and addressed the members briefly. He commended them on their program of activity and encouraged them to continue their good work.

FFA AND FHA SOCIAL FOLLOWS RECENT MEETING

A joint social of the FFA and FHA chapters followed separate meetings of the two groups last Wednesday night in the public school. Boys and girls under the direction of their sponsors, Ralph Maglaughlin and Mrs. Gladys Ashlock, held their regular monthly meetings in their respective classrooms, then assembled in the gym for square dancing.

Mrs. Willie Leaf of Ardmore is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles Crabtree, in the Bulcher community.

Discarded Glasses And Frames Sought

New Eyes for the Needy, Short Hills 12, N. J., is asking for discarded non-prescription and dark glasses and good plastic frames, for redistribution to needy men, women and children. Gold and silver frames and scrap are also requested as these are sold to a refiner and the money realized used to pay for eye examinations and new prescription lenses. New Eyes for the Needy does not ask for money — only for discards.

In Muenster, Mrs. Herman Fette is in charge of this project for the NCCW. Anyone wishing to help the cause along may leave their glasses or frames with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Knabe and three sons of Hereford were here for the funeral of her brother, Leon Reiter. They arrived Sunday morning and remained until Thursday to visit with their parents, the Clem Reiters and the Albert Knabes.

Mages Family Has Reunion on Parents' 54th Anniversary

Children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mages gathered at their home in Lindsay Friday night to help them celebrate their 54th wedding anniversary. Present with them for the occasion was Mrs. Mages' only sister, Mrs. Clara McCarthy of Shelby, Iowa.

Games, music and visiting entertained the group, and covered dishes brought by the guests provided a sumptuous buffet supper. The honor couple opened and displayed gifts presented for the occasion.

Eight of the honorees' twelve children and their families attended the observance. They are Mrs. Henry Grewing, Mrs. Felix Yosten, Mrs. John Fleitman and Joe Mages of Muenster, Frank Mages Jr., and Mrs. Ewald Berend of Gainesville, Al and Eddie Mages of Lindsay.

Unable to be present but sending greetings were Mrs. C. J. Berend of Amarillo, Mrs. Laval Kinsley of Corpus Christi, Lee Mages of Fort Worth and Carl Mages of Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. Mages are Lindsay's oldest married couple. He is 80 and she is 75 years old. They have lived in Lindsay 38 of their 54 years of married life, coming from Westphalia, Iowa, in 1914. They farmed until 1942 when they quit active work on their farm south of Lindsay and moved to the city to reside near the church.

Mr. Mages was born in a village in the Kingdom of Bohemia on June 22, 1871, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wencelaus Mages. Shortly before he was 17 years old he set sail for America arriving on his birthday in 1888. He settled in Westphalia, Iowa, and engaged in farming.

Mrs. Mages, the former Miss Annie Rueschenberg, was born in Westphalia, Iowa, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rueschenberg, on March 31, 1876. They married there Feb. 8, 1898.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Mages still enjoy good health and are active around the home. Mrs. Mages does all her own housework.

The couple has 42 grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Mrs. Mages still has two brothers living, Ernest Rueschenberg of California and Joe Rueschenberg of Iowa. Mr. Mages has one brother, Tony Mages who lives in Ottawa, Kansas.

THREE SHARE HONORS AT BIRTHDAY OBSERVANCE

Three birthdays were observed with a covered dish supper in the home of the Willie Fuhrmanns on Thursday, Feb. 7. Sharing honors on the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Fuhrmann and their son, Joe, whose birthdays are on the 7, 8 and 9, respectively.

Among guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stoffels and family and Mr. and Mrs. Meinrad Stoffels and family of Muenster.

Donnie Stoffels of Muenster, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Meinrad Stoffels, spent Thursday, Friday and Saturday here with his grandparents, the Willie Fuhrmanns.

Confetti---

to people who drive automatic transmission cars or expect to drive them some time later.

A lady parked at the curb and went into a store leaving the motor running and the car in gear . . . and a child on the front seat. While she was gone the child stepped on the accelerator. The car jumped the curb, crossed the sidewalk and crashed into a brick wall.

Fortunately the wall was where it was and the car did not have time to pick up speed. Nobody hurt. Nothing damaged. Just a bumper scar. But suppose the circumstances had been different. Suppose another child had been in front of the car. Or suppose the way had been clear and the car had picked up considerable speed before crashing. Moral: Better stop the motor if a child is in the car.

It's unusual for this column to call special attention to a want ad in the paper, but we have one this week which, in Con's opinion, certainly calls for a bit of comment.

A man asks people to refrain from throwing trash on his property or in road ditches adjoining his property. It's a request that should not even be necessary, especially not of considerate people.

Perhaps some people do not know it, but trash is a nuisance and a hazard to farms. Old tin cans are a mess when they get stuck in farm equipment. And broken glass can injure livestock as well as persons. What's more, dumping in a ditch beside the road is no better than dumping on a man's property. The next heavy rain will scatter the junk on his land.
