City Applies for Federal Low Rent Housing Project

It's robbery in broad daylight," says President Truman of the bill which would restore the tidelands to their previous owners. And thus originates another of the ridiculous intemperate remarks which are recorded along with a multitude of intemperate acts to feature the present White House tenure as the most unjust, intemperate and undignified of all the country's history.

The statement has special significance when considered beside that uttered by General Ridgway concerning the Communist claim that U. N. forces have used germ warfare in Korea. He said the Red technique is to accuse its enemies of the very acts they have committed or intend to commit themselves. In this case our president attempts to brush aside the fact of the federal government's original robbery by accusing the states of robbery. He's been pussy footing with the Reds so much that he's even picked up one of their bad habits. Or perhaps we could say that he's picked up another of the Reds' bad habits. There are others you know. Such as the excursion into dictatorship in the steel case, his spending spree which fits with the Communist plan to make America spend itself to ruin, or his diligence in fanning the embers of industrial or racial strife.

But getting back to that "robbery in broad daylight" remark . . . the statement is typical of the president's arrogant dismissal of opinions that do not agree with his. Here is a case in which the majority of members in both legislative chambers had indicated their belief that tidelands rightfully belong to the states, and the president bluntly labels their version of justice as robbery.

To say the least, it's an unctuous way . . . and a conceited way . . . of voicing his disagreement, especially since congressional opinion stood about two to one against his opinion. Who is he to assume that his judgment is superior to that of a congressional majority? Since when is a has-been haberdasher more qualified than the combined legal talent of congress to judge on the legality of an issue? Whether or not the president was thinkink in terms of legality, his choice of the word "robbery" was ironical to say the least . . . because it was robbery in the first place when the federal government laid claim to the tidelands. The word belongs all right, but the sentence should be amended to read "a robbery has been rectified."

To yours truly it is amazing that the tidelands grab was ever approved by the supreme court. The United States, so they tell us and so the name implies, is a union of the 48 separate states. Each state joined the federation of its own free will and not one surrendered the title to any of its property in order to become a member of the nation. Today as always the entire area included within the limits of the nation belongs to the 48 states, unless through sale or grant a state has willingly transferred some of its property to the federal government.

As regards Texas the case is even stranger. The annexation agreement by which Texas became a state specifically retains its title to the tidelands. The tidelands grab was an open violation of that agreement.

After last week's force in two political conventions in this state we can readily appreciate the wisdom in Price Daniel's suggestion to establish preferential primaries in order to give people a more direct choice in selecting presidential nominees. As things stand now we have nothing but a disgusting mess. Each party's convention breaks up into two factions, each claiming to be the legitimate delegation to the national convention. Under such conditions what chance have we to get proper representation at the conventions? Do we expect credentials committees at the conventions to decide what we ourselves could not decide? Obviously we cannot expect a bunch of selfish politicians to Muenster has a chance to get a federal financed low cost housing project.

Meeting with a representative of the Public Housing Administration at 1 o'clock Tuesday, members of the city council learned that the city can qualify for the project by appointing a local Housing Authority to make application and also serve as an administrative board if and when the project is granted.

As explained by the PHA representative, the purpose is to provide adequate housing for low income families. Buildings are to be brick veneered duplex apartments fully furnished and will vary in size from one to three bedrooms.

At the man's recommendation, application was filed for 10 such buildings, consisting of 20 apartments. The figure was intentionally set high because the application is subject to reduction but not to increase.

Units when completed are to rent from $20 to $30 per month including utilities. The city waives its right to tax the property but instead receives a revenue of 10 percent on rentals, not including utility bills.

The application, though submitted, is still subject to final approval by the council after a period of 60 days. Purpose of the delay is to find out how the public feels about the project. Meanwhile PHA engineers are to make a survey and recommend the number and size of units considered adequate for the city.

Persons appointed to the local housing authority board are L. A. Bernauer, J. H. Otto, I. A. Schoech, C. J. Wimmer and J. M. Weinzapfel.

Band Instructor to Join MHS Faculty

Beginning with the next school year Muenster High School will have a music department and start work toward developing a high school band. Authorization for the expanded curriculum and addition of another faculty member was approved by the school board in its last meeting.

Very likely the instructor will be engaged within the next few days, according to Superintendent Cowan. The man indicated Monday that he is interested in the local job and expects to accept but will not make his final decision until the end of the week. Cowan declined to mention his name and present position until he signs up as a member of the local faculty.

In connection with the high school music department the local Lions club is considering sponsorship of a community band under direction of the new instructor. The plan as unfolded in a discussion at the Tuesday noon luncheon is to invite the music instructor to direct a community band, including older talent along with school children. The Lions' propose to help with providing instruments, most of which they hope to acquire in the community and have repaired. They expect to sponsor some kind of fund raising activity to finance repair of the instruments.

Council and Lions Repair Grandstand

As a result of a cooperative deal by the Muenster Lions Club and the City of Muenster, seats are now being repaired at the grandstand of the Muenster baseball park. The city is furnishing lumber and Lions are doing the work.

Lions started the job Tuesday night, removing all the planks that were too badly warped to be used as seats and returned Wednesday to start installing new planks. The city council appropriated $50 for the improvement and it will be used as far as it goes, starting with the lower rows of seats. Until further financing is arranged concrete ledges at the top will serve as seats.

Weather Favorable As Farmers Start On Record Harvest

Farmers of Muenster are off to a good start on one of the most beautiful grain harvests in the history of the community.

Favored by ideal working weather combines are running long hours all over the area. Meanwhile farmers are keeping their fingers crossed, hoping that the clear, dry weather will continue until they are able to get their bumper crop under control. Estimates are that another ten days will be enough to finish the job.

According to most guesses hereabouts the community crop average should be about 20 bushels per acre on wheat and 40 on oats, and early reports indicate a chance that it will be better.

Arthur Felderhoff said Wednesday that the few reports he has received to date have all been high. Mike Fuhrmann of Lindsay, who brought in the first load said he averaged slightly over 27 on a six acre field. Joe Fuhrmann reported 25. On oats Henry Henschied and Tony Felderhoff both reported yields of about 60.

Jack Biffie at the Kimbell elevator said he has seen several men who expect at least 25 bushels of wheat per acre as an average. They agree, he says, that this is the best crop in at least 20 years, perhaps the best ever for this area.

Tests also are running high. Arthur Felderhoff said the average test for wheat is over 61 and he has had a load of oats that tested 37.

Joan Felderhoff and Alvin Hartman Wed In Double Ring Rite

Miss Joan Felderhoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Felderhoff, became the bride of Alvin Hartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hartman, all of Muenster, in wedding rites solemnized Thursday morning, June 5, at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Henry Felderhoff of Cleburne, uncle of the bride, read the double ring ceremony and officiated at the nuptial mass in Sacred Heart church.

Prenuptial music, the traditional wedding march and the recessional were played by Anthony Luke, organist. He assisted the church choir in rendering music for the mass, and accompanied Mrs. Norbert Walterscheid, cousin of the bride, who provided vocal selections.

The altar before which the couple exchanged their vows was adorned with gladioli and greenery.

Mr. Felderhoff escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. She was lovely in a gown of white sheer nylon over satin designed with a closely molded bodice, buttoned up the front and topped with a yoke of Chantilly lace and small rounded collar. The long petal point sleeves were edged with lace, and inserts of lace accented the accordion pleats on the front of the full floorlength skirt.

The bride's Juliet cap of rhinestones and pearls was the one her mother wore at her wedding. Her nylon net veil was finger-tip length. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis on top of a white prayer book, a gift from the groom, and borrowed a sterling silver rosary from her mother who received it as a gift from the bride's grandmother the late Mrs. Joseph Dangelmayr. She also carried a silk handkerchief for something blue and wore as her only jewelry a diamond studded gold cross and chain, a gift from the groom.

Miss Theresa Mae Felderhoff attended her sister as maid of honor and Miss Georgia Ann Hartman, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore identical frocks of light blue organdy over taffeta designed with fitted bodices, gathered tucked skirts and Peter Pan collars. Their headdresses were blue organdy ruffles around tiny pastel colored flower wreaths. They carried colonial bouquets of pastel carnations tied with blue ribbons, and wore matching necklaces and earrings, gifts from the bride.

The groom's attendants were his brother, Willard Hartman, and the bride's brother, Joseph Felderhoff. Ushers were A. J. Felderhoff of Gainesville, Norbert Felderhoff and Joe Dangelmayr.

Servers for the mass were Charles Felderhoff and Eugene Hartman, brothers of the couple, Billy Joe Dangelmayr, nephew of the bride, Randolph Bayer, cousin of the groom, and Charles Herr.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Felderhoff wore a light brown silk dress with tan accessories. Mrs. Hartman wore a sheer beige dress with navy accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

Immediately after the services, brunch was served in the home of the bride's parents to members of the bridal party, the Rev. Fathers Felderhoff, Louis Deuster, and Cletus Post, parents of the couple, immediate members of their families, and the groom's grandfather, John Bayer.

An informal reception was held in the Felderhoff home during the afternoon and a buffet supper will be served in the parish hall.

The bride's table will carry out her colors of white and blue with appointments in china, sterling and crystal, and will be centered with a tiered decorated wedding cake flanked by blue and white tapers in crystal candelabra.

Seasonal flowers will decorate the hall. Presiding at the bride's book will be Mrs. A. J. Felderhoff and Mrs. Keith Tompkins. A dance in the VFW Hall will conclude the day's festivities.

During the latter part of the dance Mr. and Mrs. Hartman will leave on a wedding trip. For traveling the bride will wear a tan nylon dress with white accessories and the orchid she carried at her wedding. When they return they will make home here.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hartman are natives of Muenster and graduates of Sacred Heart High school. The groom, who has been a member of the Enterprise staff for five years is foreman of the mechanical department.

Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Blanton of Temple were guests of the Frank Needhams Wednesday.

Debunking a Smear

There are lots of things which burn me up. I believe, however, that the one thing I get hotter over than anything else is an underhanded, sly sneaky, lying, propaganda campaign like the one now being conducted against Senator Taft—"But if he gets the nomination he can't win." I hold no brief for Bob Taft being the Republican nominee for President. I've known him slightly for more than fifteen years. I agree with him on many things and disagree on many others. I know he is honest, outspoken, courageous and a hard fighter for what he believes to be right. In my judgment he'd make a good President but that isn't the point of this piece. What I want to do is debunk the idea that Taft isn't a good campaigner and a good vote getter.

Debunker number one is that Taft has never lost an election. Debunker number two is that the fair-dealers, the AFL, the CIO and the communists—no one knows how many millions they spent—threw the kitchen sink and everything else at him in the 1950 campaign in Ohio to prevent his re-election to the United States Senate and he won by a majority of 438,000, the largest majority ever given to a U. S. Senator in the state of Ohio.

Debunker number three is that Ohio with its big cities, its medium sized cities, its small towns, lots and lots of them, its farms, mines, oil wells and a plentiful supply of all kinds of labor unions scattered all over the state is a better cross section of this country than any other state. If Taft could do what he did in Ohio in 1950, no one can truthfully say that he doesn't know how to campaign or that he doesn't attract the support of all classes of voters. Everyone knows that he isn't a pussy-footer, but rather that he meets every issue head on and makes his position on each issue unmistakably clear.

I like fair play all the way down the line in a political campaign or anything else. The kind of fair play for example which Taft displayed a short time ago when he came to Eisenhower's defense when someone put a smear story to the effect that the General was a sick man who couldn't ever work more than four hours at a time without going to bed.

Speaking of General Eisenhower, I've been told recently by at least a dozen different people scattered over four states that if the Republicans want to win in '52 they'd better nominate Eisenhower. When I tried to pin these folks down as to why Eisenhower should be nominated none of them seemed to have a very clear idea except that he appeals to the people and would therefore get a lot of votes. That's probably true. But it seems to me I've heard of another General who has an even greater appeal to the American people and who, given an opportunity to do so, would unquestionably get a tremendous number of votes in all parts of the country, including both sides of the Mason-Dixon line—General MacArthur.

No one in at least the last 50 years has come even close to stirring the hearts, minds and imagination of the American people as has General MacArthur. No one has ever been greeted everywhere he went by such huge throngs of wildly enthusiastic people.

I've just finished reading a book, "Revitalizing A Nation,"—published by Heritage Foundation, 75 E. Wacker Drive, Chicago, 120 pages, price $1.00—which is a statement of the beliefs and opinions of General MacArthur. It's a terrific book which I strongly recommend as being very much worth reading.

In the introduction to "Revitalizing A Nation," Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, among other things, says:

"No man of our time is more authentically the voice of real America than Douglas MacArthur. In this stalwart, romantic figure, the great hopes, dreams and ideals of our country come to life again. He stimulates renewed faith that the land of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln still lives in the hearts of the people.

"I shall never forget the light on General MacArthur's face and the deep feeling in his voice when he said to me, 'They are a wonderful people—the American people—quick, impulsive, generous, wholehearted! You can always trust them and believe in them, for in their hearts they are good and true; in a crisis they will do the right thing.'"

Americans Will Die Who Might Have Lived

HAVE YOU DONATED any of your lifeblood for the lifeblood of another?

Soldiers spilling their blood upon the field of battle for a just and worthy cause are proving their generosity, love, and devotion for their country.

We who cannot exercise this heroic act of patriotism can participate in it by the gift of our blood for theirs. And in giving it for people unknown to us, and renewing the gift, we will be sacrificing ourselves proportionately as they are doing.

ALTHOUGH A FEW citizens have recognized this urgent need, most are leaving unanswered the desperate calls for blood to replace that blood pouring forth on torn Korean hillsides. To keep a safe supply of blood and plasma flowing to the Korean battlefield, the Armed Forces need 300,000 pints a month; they are getting only 150,000.

The Army's reserve supply is running out, and if it vanishes entirely, men will die who might otherwise have lived.

THE AVERAGE 2nd World War casualty received one pint of whole blood and one pint of plasma, but the average wounded man in Korea gets four of blood and two of plasma.

This lavish use of blood is paying off in lives saved. The death rate for Korean wounded is roughly half that of the 2nd World War. Major General Erskine Hume, chief surgeon for the 8th Army, said, "We literally pour blood in sometimes, but we've saved lives, and that's what counts. Of every 1,000 wounded brought into our hospitals, 93 walk out alive."

CHRIST HIMSELF is pre-eminently our example in this matter of blood donation. He shed His precious blood for the life of our souls. We, in turn, can shed ours for the physical life of another.—by Chaplain S. J. Ryzcek.

THE CHRYSLER IMPERIAL 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

YOU'LL FIND IT EVEN BETTER THAN YOU'VE HEARD!!

It's been many years since a new car has caused as much talk as today's Chrysler Imperial has. What you may not realize is how long it's been since a car gave so many reasons for excited talk as this one.

May we invite you to drive and test the best and most worth-owning engine on the road today? (Chrysler's magnificent new 180 H.P. FirePower V-8.)

May we invite you to handle the easiest and safest steering wheel in existence at the moment? (Chrysler's full-time Power Steering.)

May we invite you to try out brakes which require as little as one-third the usual foot-pressure, and still stop you in many feet less than other cars do? (Chrysler Power Brakes.)

May we invite you to sit on the most comfortable seat cushions, and enjoy the fullest window vision you can find? May we invite you to ride on the rough-road miracle of the Oriflow shock absorbers which only Chrysler-built cars have?

May we invite you to drive a Chrysler Imperial... and learn how much you'd miss, and deeply regret, if you bought another car today without knowing this one first?

We... and Imperial by Chrysler... are at your service, any time.

Why are women's purses bigger than men's?

Remember all those cartoons you've seen of a wife going through her sleeping husband's trouser pockets? They may give you a clue why some women's purses are bigger.

But we're inclined to think that there are other and better reasons why more women than men own stock in so many of America's largest companies.

For one thing, women are practical, thrifty, and inclined to do something sensible about their future finances and those of the family. Forgive us, mister, but the facts speak for themselves:

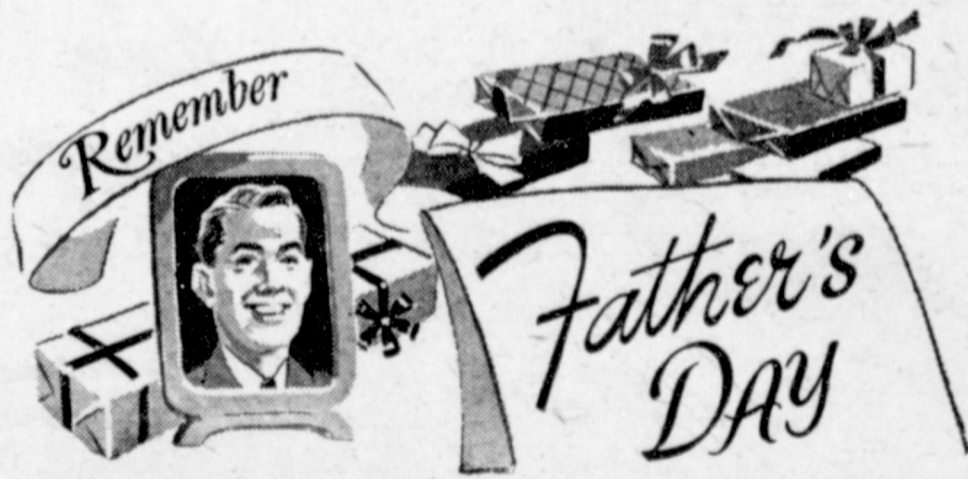

Women have outnumbered men share owners of telephone stock since 1900. The big food companies have a predominance of women share owners. Ditto the country's largest auto maker. And, at last count, 116,800 women owned shares in General Electric as against 83,000 men.

Big business, as it turns out, is a woman.

About 2,100 of these women—and men—turned out this spring to attend the G-E annual meeting and eat a box lunch in one of our largest factory buildings. If you'd like a report of what was said and done, just let us know. A card asking for "Report of the Sixtieth Annual Meeting," Dept. 6B, General Electric, Schenectady, N. Y., will do the trick.

You can put your confidence in—

Mothers Plan Party For German Family

During their regular monthly meeting Sunday night members of the Saint Anne's Society made plans to sponsor a surprise "Get-Acquainted" party and gift shower for Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Wenk, newcomers to Muenster from Germany.

The party will be given on the lawn at the J. M. Weinzapfel home next Tuesday evening, June 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Wenk and their three children, Ferdinand 16, Maria 10, and Emma 8, are an expellee family from Europe. The Weinzapfels sponsored the family after their arrival in New York from Germany.

As yet the Wenks do not speak English, but they are learning fast, especially the two little girls who will start classes at the parochial school next September. Mr. Wenk speaks six languages fluently. The family spent several years in concentration camps after the Russians drove them from their home in Germany.

The sponsor group invites everyone to the party and urges the ladies to bring their husbands.

Other business at the society's meeting consisted of a brief discussion on a joint social with members of the St. Joseph's Society. It will be an after-harvest covered dish supper. The date will be announced later.

Members also heard reports of two recent meetings. Mrs. Joe Hoenig reported on the district meeting of the Catholic State League held in Scotland and Mrs. Herman Fette reported on the quarterly meeting of the NCCW held in Lindsay. She also urged members to attend the lay retreat in Denison on June 6-7-8.

Mrs. Adolph Walterscheid won the attendance prize, a rosary.

Father Felderhoff Honored on Jubilee

Honoring Rev. Henry Felderhoff of Cleburne in observance of his silver jubilee as a priest, members of his family gathered at the home of his sister and brother-in-law, the Ben Sickings, Sunday for a reunion featuring a buffet supper and the presentation of anniversary gifts.

Joining the honoree and the hosts for the occasion were Father Felderhoff's three other sisters, Sisters Lutgardis, Amora and Mildred of Jonesboro, Ark., his brothers, Hubert and Tony Felderhoff and their families and his sister-in-law Mrs. John Felderhoff and family, nieces and nephews and their families and friends, bringing to more than 100 the number of persons present.

Family members brought covered dishes for the evening meal. Centerpiece for the table was a large square cake topped with another cake in the shape of a lamb.

Anniversary gifts consisted of luggage and altar linens, the latter being hand made by Sisters Lutgardis, Amora and Mildred.

Father Felderhoff is vacationing with his family here through this week. The three nuns spent a week here leaving Monday to return to Jonesboro.

25th Wedding Party Honors Haverkamps

Mr. and Mrs. Alois Haverkamp observed their silver wedding anniversary Sunday with a gathering of relatives and friends in the parish hall. The party began at 2 o'clock and continued with informal diversion after a buffet supper at 6. About 100 persons were guests.

The honor couples' table was centered with an anniversary cake and held floral arrangements of red roses and greenery.

Among out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schumacher and children, Olive Haverkamp, Willard Zimmerman, Leroy Wiesman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schumacher, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bodusky, all of Gainesville; the William Sandmanns, the Phillip Metzlers, the Frank Sandmanns, Mrs. George Spaeth and Theresa Mae Spaeth of Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barry Jr., and Frances Spaeth of Dallas.

The honorees received a shower of lovely gifts in keeping with the anniversary theme.

Mr. and Mrs. Haverkamp were married in Lindsay on June 1, 1927. She is the former Miss Mary Spaeth. They are at home in Muenster since that time. Attendants at their wedding were his brother, Ben Haverkamp, and her sister Agnes, Mrs. Joe Keupper of Gainesville.

They have seven children, Mrs. Richard Schumacher and Miss Olive Haverkamp of Gainesville, Pfc. Walter Haverkamp with the army overseas, Joyce, at home, and three granddaughters, Robert, Jeanette and children.

Senator Joe Carter Seeks Re-election

Due to the redistricting law of the last session of the Texas Legislature, Senatorial District 9 now includes Cooke, Grayson, Fannin, Collin, Hunt, Rockwall and Rains Counties. This makes it necessary for Senator Joe D. Carter of Sherman to stand for re-election this summer with two years of his term yet unexpired.

His father is Judge R. M. Carter who was born near Celeste in Hunt County, his mother is the former Zelma Poindexter of Howe. Joe was educated in the Sherman Schools and entered the University of Texas in 1939 to begin the study of law. Withdrawing at the end of the Fall semester of 1942, Senator Carter joined the Air Force and became an aerial Ace as a Fighter Pilot under General Doolittle in Europe. For his Combat service he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross the Air Medal with six Oak Leaf Clusters and the Purple Heart. Upon his discharge, he re-entered Texas University, receiving a Degree in Government in 1947 and a Degree in Law in 1948. While attending college he met and married the former Theresa Robertson of Vernon. They are now home-owning, tax-paying citizens of Sherman, where the Senator is engaged in the active practice of law.

Prior to election to the State Senate, Joe D. Carter was a member of the House of Representatives. In both capacities he has served on nearly every major committee in the Texas Legislature and gained a wide knowledge of the art and science of law-making. In recognition of his legislative abilities, he was appointed to the Texas Legislative Council to plan and study proposed laws between sessions; his being the only Freshman Senator on this powerful committee is a signal honor and achievement.

"I shall continue to give my district the same unselfish and honest service that I have in the past," Senator Carter said. "The next session of the Legislature promises to be a difficult one and calls for men of high integrity, education and law-making experience. The suggestions and counsel of my constituents always are and will be welcomed. By knowing their views, I will be in a better position to express by my vote the will to the majority, thereby achieving the hoped for end result of government — the greatest good for the greatest number."

When asked about his political beliefs Carter had this to say:

"My Legislative voting record conclusively indicates that I have sought to keep the cost of Government at a minimum without jeopardizing our vital State functions. I have always opposed needless and wasteful spending and have sought to protect funds for our Old Age Assistance Program, our Educational system and Farm to Market Roads. I am opposed to a General Sales Tax and any other additional tax that is not absolutely necessary for the continuation of our State business. I recognize the fact that the public is fed up with taxes. In me, these folks have a friend."

Senator Carter is a Mason, a member of the Baptist Church, the Sherman Junior and Senior Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

New England Farm To Try Musk Oxen

A herd of musk oxen is to be brought to New England in an effort to turn sub-marginal land to profitable use.

John N. Teal, McGill University anthropologist and Vermont farmer, has received permission to trap eight musk ox calves on Ellesmere Island in the Canadian archipelago.

Mr. Teal says musk ox herds once roamed the North American continent as far south as Kentucky. Musk ox meat, he added, tastes better than beef; the wool is the softest and lightest known, and the milk is as good as cow's milk. He said musk oxen can live year around on sparsely grassed land, with no attention. Mr. Teal will start the herd on his Vermont farm.

FREEDOM'S FLAME

As a symbolic reminder that only by every American's daily vigilance to protect it can our freedom be preserved, a flame in a Grecian urn burns continuously on the courthouse lawn in the town of Winchester, Ind. Donated by one of the town's manufacturers and mounted on a 5-ft. base, the Freedom Lamp is tended every 24 hours by Winchester's citizens.

Whisnand States
Policy in Contest
For County Sheriff

To the people of Cooke County, Texas:

Subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held in this county on July 26, I hereby announce myself as a candidate for sheriff of Cooke County, Texas.

I moved to Cooke County in April 1939, and resided here until the later part of the year, having owned the Mid-Way Store and Filling Station seven miles east of Gainesville.

I returned to Cooke County in April 1942, at which time I was employed by the City of Gainesville as Assistant Chief of Police. I have made my home in Gainesville and Cooke County ever since except nine months I worked with the military police in 1943. I am married and have a son and daughter. My son is associated with me in the automobile business.

I have had fifteen years of service as a peace officer, in Dallas County, Texas, Atoka County, Oklahoma, Wichita County, Texas, and Cooke County, Texas.

I seek the office of sheriff solely and only upon my previous record as a peace officer. During the time I have been a peace officer, I have, to the best of my ability, served the people with honesty and faithfulness, as I believe my record will clearly show. I have always striven to treat the people with fairness and impartiality.

I sincerely believe in enforcing the law without favor or affection, award or the hope thereof from any person or from any source, and I further believe that my previous record will measure up to this high standard of qualification.

I, therefore, assure the people of Cooke County, Texas that I will greatly appreciate their kind consideration at the polls at the July primary and, if elected sheriff, I will undertake to give the people of Cooke County the same fearless, courageous and honest service that I have tried to give in the past.

Very respectfully,
O. E. Whisnand

Soil Conservation
Notes

Fish for stocking farm ponds may be ordered through the Soil Conservation Service this year. Application blanks are on hand at the local soil office. If you want fish ordered for your farm pond, contact your Soil Conservation technician.

Ray Sicking is constructing a mile of field terraces on his farm near Myra. He is using his tractor and three-disc plow with the island method of terrace construction. He has already built several broad, easy-to-cross field terraces by this method. The terraces outlet onto a bermuda grass waterway sodded two years ago.

Charles Wilson of Gainesville has a newly constructed farm pond on his farm at Freemound. He has also been bulldozing some brush off of part of the farm and plans to sow the cleared area in King Ranch bluestem for pasture. Charlie has also built an erosion control dam and a diversion terrace on his farm south of Saint Jo to stop erosion in an old field area.

Construction of a farm pond is underway on the H. D. Fields ranch near Saint Jo.

District signs for outside display are available from J. W. Hess or at the SCS office. These signs tell the passer-by that you are cooperating with the district to save and improve the soil.

These signs displayed on a farm are a sign of good citizenship. Get your sign, display it proudly. Let the world know you are helping the district in its battle to stop soil erosion.
