Boat Mishap Turns Party into Ordeal

A capsized boat on the rough water of Lake Texoma turned a picnic into a near tragedy, for two Muenster couples Sunday afternoon.

Misses Florence Fette and Emma Lou Gehrig, home on vacation from their nursing duties at St. Paul's Hospital, Dallas, and Arthur Hess and Johnny Rohmer held on to their overturned boat for an hour and a half before they were discovered and rescued by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Seily of Dallas. Traffic on the lake was light because of the high wind and few boats got even within sight of the distressed party near the middle of the lake.

The accident happened about 3 o'clock as Hess was helping Miss Fette back into the boat. Their grip failed as he was lifting and he fell back against the opposite side, to which the other couple had moved. The sudden shift of weight turned the boat over.

After a few minutes of desperate scrambling, including a close call for Miss Fette, the other three helped Miss Fette to the top of the capsized boat and took positions around it, and settled down to wait for help.

When finally spotted they were loaded aboard the Dallas couple's boat and taken to shore. The capsized boat was towed in behind them. It was 6:30 when they reached their car and started home.

They had to break into the car and cross-wire the ignition to get back home. The car keys were lost along with other contents of Miss Gehrig's purse when the boat turned over. Other things lost were the picnic lunch and both pairs of the men's shoes.

District 4-H Clubs Hold 3-Day Camp At TP&L, Trinidad

Members of the boys and girls 4-H Clubs of District IV returned home Thursday from a three-day encampment on the grounds of the Texas Power & Light Company's generating station at Trinidad. The 181 campers, county agricultural agents and home demonstration agents were under the supervision of W. I. Glass and Miss Lida Cooper, district agents, Denton.

The program emphasized leadership training, but included recreation and fellowship for these boys and girls from 19 counties of north central Texas that make up District IV.

The camp carried out an Indian motif with the youngsters divided into eight tribes, each with its "chieftain."

The leadership training program, or "heap big learning," was divided into four sections: crafts, recreation, safety and nature, and citizenship. Two tribes teamed together on an alternating plan that gave every one in camp a part in each session.

A. H. Karcher, assistant state 4-H Club leader from Extension Service at College Station, led the forum on citizenship. He was assisted by Grayson county Home Demonstration Agent Zelma Moore. C. W. Simmons, forestry specialist from the Extension Service was in charge of safety and nature study.

Crafts were under the direction of Gerald York, assistant Dallas county agent, and recreation was supervised by Alice Guthrie, assistant Grayson county home demonstration agent.

In addition, there were 4-H ceremonies, group singing, skits, flag raising ceremonies, table programs, hikes and swimming.

On Thursday morning an evaluation of the camp program was made by the boys and girls in a special session. This was followed by a conducted tour through the Texas Power & Light Company plant.

Judge Earl P. Hall Seeks Re-election

His formal statement to voters will appear in a later issue of the Enterprise.

Picnic Grounds Get Electric Lights and Concrete Platform

Two major improvements to the parish picnic ground feature preparations for the annual community picnic to be held on the 4th of July. Texas Power and Light Company is installing electric service and a group of parish volunteers led by J. P. Flusche is building a 45 x 75 concrete slab for dancing and skating.

Early Wednesday the right of way was ready for installation of the electric lines and ground was cleared for the platform. Flusche said both jobs will be finished this week if work goes according to plan.

Accordingly picnic plans have been changed. It will extend into the night, and the annual July 4th dance will be on the platform rather than inside a building in town.

Another new development in picnic plans is a program of three short skits and dancing acts to be presented by a group of local kiddies under direction of Jerry Moore. A truck floor will serve as their stage.

Festivities at the picnic will begin shortly before noon. Boxed chicken dinners will be available and visitors are urged to come and have their noon meal there. Iced drinks, sandwiches and the usual array of picnic concessions are also on the program.

The picnic is a benefit for the new church fund, and workers are drawn from the first fourth of names in the alphabetical list of the parish, with Arthur Endres as general chairman. Other parish groups will have charge of the picnics on Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Easter.

Gift Party Honors Ferdinand Wenks

The "get-acquainted" party and shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Wenk and children, new-comers to Muenster from Germany, was an enjoyable affair Sunday evening. The event was sponsored by the parish St. Anne's Society and was held on the lawn at the Weinzapfel home. It was a surprise for the Wenks.

About 65 persons were present and 15 families, who were unable to attend sent gifts.

Mrs. H. J. Fuhrman extended welcome in German and after the honorees opened and displayed their gifts, the group enjoyed singing German songs and visiting. Refreshments were served at the close by the sponsor group. A special delicacy for the lunch was old fashioned "black bread" prepared by Mrs. Weinzapfel from a German recipe Mrs. Wenk uses. It was served with butter and honey, cookies and cold drinks.

Guests registered in a guest book at which Rosa Driever presided. Among those registering were Fathers Louis and Cletus.

Miss Doris Hellman has returned to Dallas, where she is a student nurse at St. Paul's Hospital, after a two-weeks vacation during which she joined Mrs. Rudy Hellman and children Gretchen and Dolphy Joe, on a trip to Milwaukee, Wis., to attend Monte Hellman's graduation at Marquette University. Gretchen remained for an extended visit with her brother.

The American Way

HIRED HANDS
 By George Peck

It's a simple story—I've told it before and you've probably heard it many times—but it packs such a terrific moral that it cannot be told too often.

It's the tale of the harassed farmer who, in desperation, hired a hand whose qualifications for the job seemed rather dubious. To the farmer's question as to what the prospective employee knew about farming, the applicant replied, "Well, I know how to sleep on windy nights."

The farmer failed to see just how ability to sleep on windy nights could qualify a man to be a good farm hand. However, he was so badly in need of help that he hired the man.

To the farmer's agreeable surprise, the new hand more than measured up. He was a hard, tireless and efficient worker. Not only did he do all that the farmer told him to do, but he undertook a lot of extra jobs on his own.

Then, one night came a big wind. It awakened the farmer. Remembering the damage done by previous winds, he sprang out of bed ready to go into action. He called to the new hired hand to get up. Getting no response, he went to his room, shouted at him, shook him, but all he could elicit was a grunt. That hired hand hadn't been kidding when he said, "Well, I know how to sleep on windy nights."

Disgusted, the farmer went out alone to the barn expecting to find doors burst open and things blown hither and yon. To his delighted surprise, all was shipshape. Some of the odd jobs the hired hand had done on his own had consisted of fastening securely anything and everything that the wind might damage. At long last it dawned on the farmer that being able to sleep on windy nights was proof positive of farming ability, not to mention evidence of foresight and wisdom. He switched from inwardly cussing out his hired hand to mentally praising him.

Now, there is a lesson to be learned from this simple story that applies to the present sad state of our national affairs. Over the past 20 years our economy has gotten into a sad state of disrepair because we have not been too careful in selecting our hired hands—we have put too many on the job who haven't the faintest idea of HOW TO SLEEP ON WINDY NIGHTS.

Next November 4th, we, the people, are going to hire a large number of new hands, including a superintendent (known as President), approximately 32 foremen (U. S. Senators) and 435 workers (Representatives). In hiring these hands we must make sure that they have the "know-how" and the will to repair our badly damaged economy. We must have their assurance that THEY KNOW HOW TO SLEEP ON WINDY NIGHTS.

We must make certain that those we elect to the Presidency, the Senate and the House are the type who can and will bat down the doors and windows of, plug up the leaks in, and sweep away the dirt and rubbish from our national economy.

Then, after we have hired these new hands, let's keep everlastingly at them to make them live up to the high promises made in their campaign speeches. We must insist that they pare the budget, cut taxes, eliminate waste and corruption, weed out unnecessary federal payrollers and enact labor legislation fair to all. They'll listen, for after all, they are our hired hands—we voters are their boss. Having the power to hire, we also have the power to fire.

Our job will not be finished when we hire them by voting them in. We will constantly have to let them know that they are our servants. We must resolve now to let our Congressman and our two U. S. Senators hear from us regularly after we hire them, that is, if we, too, would like to get back to BEING ABLE TO SLEEP ON WINDY NIGHTS.

The big advantage in having more than one child is that they climb over each other instead of over mom and pop.

3 Reasons Why Modern Souls Don't Find God

by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen
GOD IS NOT hard to find. God is the most obvious fact of human experience. He can be found either through the beauty of the stars or through the aspirations of the heart which, like a seashell, speak of the ocean of Divinity.

Why is it, then, that so few souls come to Him? The fault is on our side, not God's.

The first reason why we do not find God our Savior is that we want to be saved, but not from our sins. We are willing to be saved from poverty, from war, from ignorance, from disease, from economic insecurity, for such types of salvation leave the individual whims and passions and sins untouched.

THE SECOND REASON why we do not find a Savior is because we want to be saved, but not at too great a cost. Most souls are afraid of God precisely because of His goodness, which is dissatisfied with anything that is imperfect.

The third reason why we do not find our Divine Savior Jesus Christ is because we want to be saved but in our own way, not God's. Very often one hears it said that one ought to be free to worship God, each in his own way. This is indeed true, inasmuch as it implies freedom of conscience and living up to the lights that God has given to us.

BUT IT CAN be very wrong if it means that we worship God in our way and not His. What would happen to the traffic problem if we said that the American way of life allowed every man to drive in traffic in his way and not the law's way; or if patients began saying to the doctor, "I want to be cured in my own way, but not in yours?"

Individuals who say, "I will serve God in my way, and you serve God in your way," ought to inquire whether or not it would be advisable to serve God in His way.

But it is precisely this which frightens the modern soul, for if his conscience is uneasy he wants a religion which will leave out hell.

If he has already married again against the law of Christ, he wants a religion that does not condemn divorce. They want to be saved—Bishop Sheen ed, not in God's way, but theirs.

THE SOULS WHO for any one of these reasons turn their backs on their Savior are not happy. No God-less man is happy any more than a sightless eye or a deaf ear is happy, for as the eye was made for beauty and the ear for harmony, so the soul was made for God.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Whitey Sure "Rang the Bell"

Telephone woke me out of a sound sleep last Friday about eleven-thirty. "This is Whitey Fisher out on River Road," says a voice. "I just wanted to tell you how much I like this week's Clarion."

"Thanks, Whitey," I told him. "But why in blazes call to tell me at this time of night?" "Simple," he says, "your paper boy just delivered it a short while ago. Been waiting for it all evening."

Next day, Buzzy Wilson tells me he delivered Whitey's paper late because he stayed for the school dance and thought it would be OK to drop it off on his way home.

From where I sit, I can't blame Whitey for his joke. He was just reminding me we owe other people the same respect we expect from them. Since I'm always talking about respecting the other fellow's rights—including his right to enjoy a glass of beer if he chooses, it was only fair that Whitey should "wake me up" to his right to get his copy of the Clarion on time. Thanks again, Whitey!

WHEN YOU TRY POWER STEERING...
HERE'S WHERE TO COME FIRST!

You've heard about it and read about it. Now, if you haven't felt what Power Steering does for you, we invite you to try it first in a Chrysler New Yorker... where you will find full-time (not partial) Power Steering! What happens is this... You handle the steering wheel in normal fashion. But 4/5 of all the work is done for you by hydraulic power, constantly at your command. Also, you turn the wheel 1/3 less distance now for every maneuver... the feeling you get of utter control is as wonderful as it is new. Even at a standstill you can turn the wheel easily. Now, parking is shorn of its troubles (and fatigue!)... and you can negotiate traffic, awkward drives, and garage doors precisely and with ease. You can double the longest day's drive you've ever known... end up free from arm and shoulder strain. Rough roads, soft shoulders, snow, mud?... the power that helps you steer now prevents the car's wheels from "steering back" at you. The course you set is held, at any speed, till you want it changed. Yet, with this 5-times greater control, "wheel feel" is always the same. Why not come try it? Learn for yourself why growing thousands of motorists say they'll never be without Full-time Power Steering from now on. Drive a Chrysler... and Learn the Difference!

WHEEL OF TORTURE—At a speed of 135-miles-per-hour a new high-speed tire developed by Goodrich engineers pulls away from the simulated road faster than inside pressure can restore the rubber to its original shape. The grueling test would tear an ordinary tire apart, but the new one is said to be able to withstand hundreds of miles of sustained high speed driving. Photo was made at 1/10,000th of a second.

EASES THE PANE PAIN—Confronted with a 24-story glass and stainless steel building, the designers of the new Lever Brothers' building in New York decided to install a special elevator to solve the window-washing problem. The trolley, above, runs on tracks around the periphery of the roof and from it the elevator is lowered to the desired level.

Soil Conservation Notes

Vetch began playing its role as a cash crop last week when cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district began harvesting their vetch acreage. Vetch is a multi-purpose crop serving as a soil improving legume crop, a winter cover crop, a winter and early spring grazing crop, a honey crop—and the seed is harvested to produce a cash crop. With a threatened short vetch seed supply looming big on the horizon many vetch growers are taking special pains to get the elusive seed in the hoppers of combines this year, according to Emmitt Yoder, technician of the Muenster work unit.

W. H. Endres is in the midst of combining 20 acres of vetch on his farm northwest of Muenster. Al Wiesman reports 30 bushels of vetch and rye from about 3 acres. Clifford Hudspeth of Forestburg combined an average of 300 pounds of vetch per acre from 15 acres on Clear Creek. Ike Fulton of Myra has just finished combining 25 acres of vetch and barley but will not know his vetch yield until the seed is separated.

Range, pasture and meadow improvement practices have been started on many ranches and farms in the Muenster area. All grasses and legumes improve only when they are allowed to grow leaf area. No plant can long survive if the top is repeatedly taken off by grazing or cutting. So the only way to improve range and pasture grasses is to manage them so that they are given an opportunity to grow and build up root reserve and produce seed so that old plants can be replaced by new, vigorous seedlings. The good grass-manager will take half and leave half of each year's growth. The part that is left is not lost. It is returned to the soil first as a protective litter to conserve moisture, prevent erosion and to reduce soil temperatures; later this litter is incorporated into the soil as organic matter to further promote the growth of grasses.

In this area the tall range grasses will get a good growth and a chance to produce seed if stock is taken off in June and kept off until frost. After frost the grass serves as dry forage to winter the cattle and very little hay is ever needed when enough grass is so managed.

Many land-owners have recognized the need for grass improvement and are setting up grazing rotations to allow a rest period for a portion of their grassland. Clover and Johnson grass fields are being widely used to allow pasture to rest. Some of the farmers and ranchers who are using rotations and supplemental pastures and are deferring some of their grass to allow it to grow and improve include J. H. Fields and Jim Embry, Dangelmayr Brothers, Dick Harris, R. C. Redman, Grady McElreath, Rafe McElreath, H. B. Perryman, and on the Luce and Hudspeth ranches.

Ray Sicking is constructing a mile of field terraces on his farm near Myra using his tractor and three-disc plow. He is using the island method in constructing the terraces and SCS personnel of the Muenster Work Unit are assisting in the work. Sicking has already built several broad easy-to-cross field terraces using this method.

An important feature about the terrace construction work that is now underway on the Sicking farm is that the terraces empty onto a well established Bermuda grass waterway that was sodded two years ago for this purpose. When completed the terraces will offer protection against erosion on the cropland and will afford contour farming, all of which is a part of the coordinated conservation plan that Sicking is carrying out on his entire farm as a cooperator with the Upper-Elm-Red Conservation District.

Lindsay News

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kenny of Detroit, Miss., were guests in the Theo Schmitz home last week Wednesday through Saturday. They had been in Dallas the earlier part of the week.

Sgt. and Mrs. Roy Lee Zwinggi of Fort Worth announce the birth of twin daughters Wednesday, June 19 at Carswell AFB hospital. The babies, named Debra and Denise, are the granddaughters of the John Corcorans of Gainesville and Leo Zwinggi of Lindsay. John Herr of Denison, formerly of Muenster, is the great grandfather. Mrs. Zwinggi is the former Charlotte Corcoran.

Kenneth Zwinggi left Sunday by car on a trip to Colorado.

Miss Marcella Hermes, who is staying in Muenster with the Ray Wildes, joined her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hermes on a trip to Sherman Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Green and family have moved back to Lindsay after living in California for several years. They are at home in Mrs. Joe Bezner's house from which the Herbert Hundt family moved recently. The Hundts are now occupying the former Phillips house.

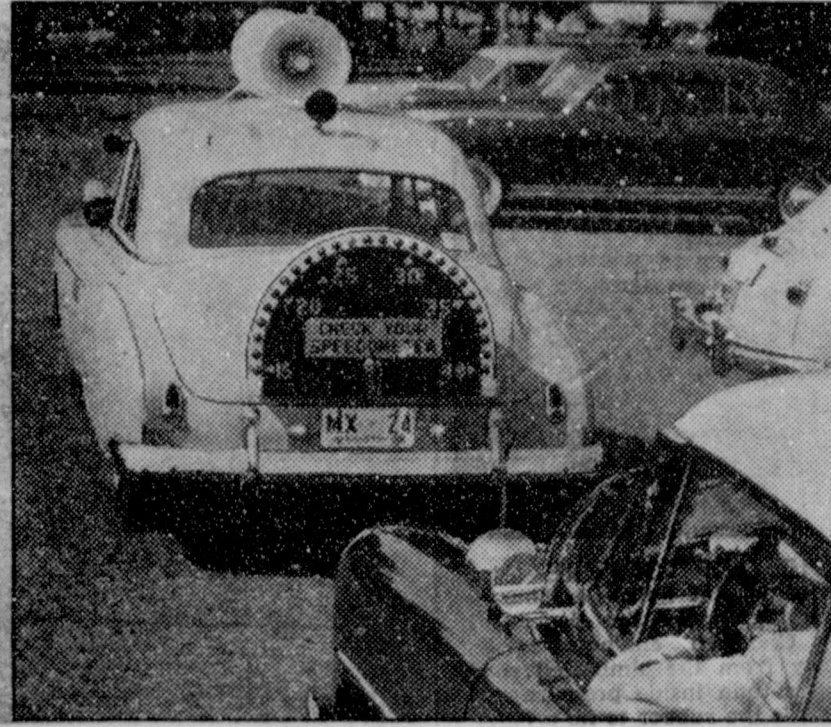

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Fuhrmann, La Vern Fuhrmann, Mrs. Diamond Fuhrmann and daughter, Elaine, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hess and son, Tommy of Muenster, were in San Antonio Saturday through Monday. On Sunday they attended ceremonies in which their daughter and sister, Sister Catherine Henry, made her profession and received her ring. She is a member of the Sisters of Divine Providence at Our Lady of the Lake Convent. Also attending the services was Rev. Joseph Fuhrmann of Corpus Christi, who was celebrant of the Mass.

Little Darlene Hess of Muenster spent the weekend here with her great uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Metzler.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bezner and son, Weldon, and Mrs. I. A. Zimmerer left for San Antonio Saturday to attend religious ceremonies at Our Lady of the Lake Convent. The Bezners' daughter, Sister Anna Rose, made her perpetual profession. Mrs. Zimmerer's visit was a surprise for her daughter, Sister Dorothy Theresa, who arrived in San Antonio Saturday from San Fernando, Calif., where she was a teacher during the past school term.

Members of Mrs. Joe Bezner's family gathered for a supper party Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bezner Jr. The party honored the Bob Youngs and son, Jimmy, of Dallas, Mrs. Isabel Galvan, Mrs. Ernest Garcia and son, Ernie of San Antonio. Sharing host duties were Mrs. Joe Bezner and the Bruno Zimmerers who brought covered dishes for the supper.

Giant Speedometer Cuts Accidents

To make motorists conscious of speed limits, the Seattle, Wash. police department has put into operation a Powerglide Chevrolet with a precise speed clock mounted at the rear. Flashing red and amber lights on the giant exterior dial reflect the speed recorded by the car's speedometer. Police drive the car around the city an average of 90 miles a day and report it has reduced accidents appreciably. Two-way radio and a loudspeaker system to caution drivers are included.

Rev. Vincent Orth of Subiaco, Ark., is spending this week in Lindsay with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Young and son, Jimmy, of Dallas were Sunday guests of her mother, Mrs. Joe Bezner. When they returned home in the evening they were accompanied by Mrs. Young's sister, Mrs. Isabel Galvan, her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Garcia and little son, Ernie, of San Antonio, who had been visiting here and will return to their homes from Dallas.

MRS. CHARLES PLATTE PASSES AWAY TUESDAY

Mrs. Charles Platte, sister of H. J. and Adolph Fuhrman, passed away Tuesday in a hospital in Dodge City, Iowa, where she had been a patient for 11 weeks. Funeral services were held at St. Joseph, Iowa, Thursday.

H. J. Fuhrman, who spent three weeks at his sister's bedside, returned home Tuesday morning and at noon received the message telling of her death. The deceased is survived by three sons and a number of brothers and sisters in addition to H. J. and Adolph Fuhrman.

HOW TO SUCCEED

Rex Beach, when asked to what he attributed his success, replied:

"I can best answer that by telling the story of the Swede in Alaska.

"He was the owner of several rich mines, and all of his friends wondered how he managed to become so successful.

"One night one of them asked him.

"'Ay never told nobody before', he said, 'But 'Ay will tell you. Ay-just kept diggin' holes'."
