Profit, Not Ribbons Is Object in This Club Boys' Contest

Five members of the Muenster FFA chapter made a good start Tuesday in a current county wide contest among club boys for the best record in raising livestock on a commercial basis.

The contest differs from regular livestock shows in that factors in raising the animal are considered along with the quality of the animal.

Lawrence Milner's calf was given a blue ribbon rating. The same rating was awarded to sheep shown by Claude Lehnertz, Robert Meurer, Jimmy Harris and Ronald Fette.

Blue ribbon rating entitles the boy to 100 points in the contest. A red ribbon is worth 50 points and a white ribbon 25 points.

The next stage in the contest took place Wednesday when the 8 boys who entered animals accompanied Ralph Maglaughlin and John Fisher to Fort Worth to see their animals sold on the market. All boys in the contest were invited to see the marketing procedure after which they were luncheon guests of Swift & Co., and toured the Swift plant.

The selling price enables the boys to determine the most important factor in the contest, the

News of Sick And Injured

Late in 1951, some of us recall, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies estimated that the total number of traffic fatalities in this country would catch up with the total number of war fatalities shortly after the beginning of the year 1952. The estimate was based on a comparison of the number of persons killed daily in battle and in automobile accidents.

The estimate was correct and in February 1952 the association was able to release the sad news that automobiles and wars had taken an equal toll of American lives, each being responsible for 1,005,000 deaths. But the significant fact is that battle deaths dated back almost 177 years and traffic deaths dated back only a little more than 52 years.

Now the association releases another statement. Since that report less than 15 months ago this nation has had about 5,000 battle deaths and about 45,000 traffic deaths. On the 178th anniversary of the Battle of Lexington we have had about 1,010,000 killed by war. Since our first recorded traffic fatality 53 1/2 years ago we have had about 1,050,000 killed by automobiles.

Of course the size of the war determines the number of battle deaths. In World War I American service men were killed at the rate of 82,250 a year, in World War II the annual average of deaths increased to 88,800 and in the Korean War the annual average is about 8,400. Due to less fighting during peace talks that figure decreased considerably during the past year. But notice what has happened to traffic death averages during those same periods. In 1917-18 the average traffic death rate was 6,800 a year. In 1941-45 the average was 26,100 a year. And during the Korean War the average is 36,960 a year.

Those are the alarming statistics. Year after year the traffic figures go up and up, in spite of the fact that cars and roads are being improved every year. Just think of the many things that have been done for motorists. More FM roads, hazards by the hundreds removed from the main highways, safety features by the dozens added to cars.

What it all amounts to is that you can travel at the same speed with ever so much more safety than you did 20 or 30 years ago. You don't have to worry about sharp curves or fight the steering wheel over rough, narrow roads. Your car has better vision, better traction, better brakes, more power for emergencies. But instead of using those improvements in the interest of safety we are using them for greater speed. 80 or 90 is more effortless now, and seems safer, than 60 used to be. In fact it's so easy that you become less alert than you used to be at 60. Then all of a sudden an emergency pops up and it's too late to avoid trouble.

Engineers are still working night and day to provide more safety factors for us, but their efforts are wasted as long as we the driving public fails to use those improvements in the interest of safety. The one sure way to reduce the alarming record to traffic deaths is to drive as carefully as we did before we had the safer cars and safer roads.

Janice Wilde, little daughter of the Ray Wildes, was treated at the local clinic Saturday for a severe gash on her left arm, cut when she fell on a broken milk bottle. Five stitches were required to close the wound.

Mrs. William Bergman is much improved from sciatic rheumatism since she is in Glenrose, according to a letter to her sister, Mrs. Herbert McDaniel from Mrs. Bergman's daughter, Mrs. Bernard Knoff, who had been with her. Mrs. Knoff wrote that she was returning to her home in Kansas City from there.

Mrs. Frank Kathman Sr. has been suffering from pleurisy this week and was off duty at the lunch room on Tuesday as a result.

Dale Wilde, in Dallas for a regular checkup Wednesday, was fitted for new braces and new shoes. His improvement is steady and his doctors are pleased with his progress. His mother, Mrs. Richard Wilde and his aunt, Miss Marie Lutkenhaus, went to Dallas with him.

Machine Shop and Community Lumber Shuffle Ownership

Since last week the Muenster Machine Shop and the Community Lumber Company are two separate business concerns, each being owned by the partners who operate it instead of the three and four way partnerships that existed before.

Originally Lawrence and Louis Roberg and Jerome Pagel formed a 3-member partnership to buy the machine shop. Later the three, joined by Rody Klement formed a 4-member partnership to establish the lumber yard. The Roberg brothers operated the shop. Pagel and Klement operated the lumber yard.

As a result of the reorganization each business is now owned and operated by two partners on a 50-50 basis.

Burglars Return to Palace Drug Store, $70 Loot This Trip

For the second time in less than three weeks burglars broke into the Palace Drug Store last Friday night and carried away a loot of cash and merchandise worth about $70. They entered by forcing the front door.

J. C. Trachta, owner, discovered the burglary when he opened the store Saturday morning. He found the front door open and the store in general disorder.

As well as he was able to determine the articles missing were several cartons of candy, cigarettes, and cigars and pen and pencil sets with a total value of $60 to $70. Cash taken from the cash register was estimated at $8 to $10.

In addition the thieves rifled a filing cabinet, a safe and several under-counter shelves, apparently looking for additional cash. Three weeks before they had better luck, finding $200 in cash in a cigar box.

Oil Well Gushes in, Then Fizzles Out

Excitement ran high on the Solomon oil lease for about three hours last Sunday when a well being drilled in by Grewing Brothers Well Service for Prairie Oil and Gas Company came in as a gusher and sprayed an estimated 3 to 4 thousand barrels of oil over a 400 foot radius before it was brought under control.

Witnesses estimate that the oil, blowing out of a 7 inch casing, went 100 feet over the top of the derrick, some of it settling in pools and some flowing down a nearby creek.

For a while the excitement was further intensified as workers put out a fire under the hood of a car, wondering all the while whether the flames would spread to all the oil on the ground. It is believed that the car, while going through a stream of oil in the creek, splashed some of it on the motor and a spark set off the fire. Quick work with fire extinguishers got the flame under control in a short time.

The well went out almost as sensationally as it came in. Two days later it was producing nothing but salt water. Plans now are to seal off the salt water formation and try to get production from another level.

Some 600 barrels of oil have been salvaged by pumping out the pools and the creek bed.

FFA Boys to Honor Fathers Wednesday At Annual Banquet

"Doc" Ruchman, WBAP farm editor, will be principal speaker and fathers of the Muenster FFA boys will be honored guests Wednesday night, April 22, at the local FFA chapter's annual Father-Son banquet.

Ralph Maglaughlin, chapter sponsor, disclosed this week that more than 100 persons are expected to attend the event. The special guest list includes L. I. Samuel, vocational agriculture supervisor for this area, the sponsors and presidents of the Valley View, Era and Forestburg FFA chapters, and a number of Muenster men who have assisted the boys in their FFA program.

Members of the Muenster FFA chapter will prepare and serve the meal.

Jimmy Biffle High In Judging Contest

Jimmy Jack Biffle was high point scorer in a county club boys judging contest following the 4-H and FFA stock show Tuesday. He scored 665 out of a possible 800.

Honors were awarded however on a team basis rather than individual basis and final ratings were declared as follows. Valley View FFA, first; Era FFA, second; Muenster 4-H, third, Muenster FFA, fourth and fifth.

Each 4-H club and FFA chapter was permitted to enter two teams in the contest. There were 12 teams.

Al Eberhart and J. C. Trachta were in Sherman Tuesday night for a dinner and meeting of Texaco dealers in the Grayson Hotel.

Late Frost Causes No Apparent Harm

A touch of winter returning to the community early Monday morning apparently has not damaged local crops, according to information available Wednesday.

Frost was scattered generally over the area as the thermometer registered exactly 32, possibly dipping a point or two lower in low spots. Reports are that some plants such as beans, spuds, and Johnson grass were slightly nipped but all appear to be recovering nicely. The same is true for fruit trees, and prospects for a good fruit crop are still the best in years.

April 22 Is County Blood Donor Day

If you are willing to give blood for a service man in Korea, next Wednesday is your day. That's when the Red Cross blood donor unit will be in the county again, according to a reminder by Louis Rigler, county chairman for the Red Cross blood donor campaign.

The Red Cross unit will be at the Community Center building between noon and 6 p.m. on Wednesday, April 22. Anyone desiring more information is asked to contact Rigler or the county Red Cross chapter.

Rigler also said that the county is far behind in its quota for the blood donor program, and that lots of people will have to respond if this area is to make up its poor record of the past.

Bezner Gets Agency For Chrysler Cars

Officially this community has a Chrysler-Plymouth agency again. The agency formerly operated by Ben Seyler automatically expired at Seyler's death last September, and his business, though allowed to carry on as an authorized dealership, did not have a contract until late last week.

Under terms of the contract Lambert Bezner is the dealer and the name of the business is changed to Lambert Bezner Motor Company.

Rev. Louis Deuster, coach, shared honors with his team.

Fun, fellowship and fine food marked the evening's program with Texas Ranger Louis Rigler as toastmaster, Captain Tom Hickman as guest speaker, and Al Kleiss, Booster Club president, as master of ceremonies.

The party was financed by the alumni association and awards were presented through courtesy of the Booster Club.

Others attending were Father Cletus, Booster Club members and their wives, Referee Joe Stelding and Mrs. Stelding, and persons who had been especially helpful during the season.

The program opened with the invocation led by Father Louis. Toastmaster Rigler provided quick and ready wit in a continuous flow between speakers and introduced members of the team, including clever descriptions of each player as she rose for recognition.

In addition to Captain Hickman's humorous address in which he recalled early day activity in Cooke county, addresses were given by Rev. Cletus Post, Mayor John Hoffman and Father Louis, who also presented the awards.

cards and nut cups marked each place. Programs were hand made, round in shape and marked with basketball lacings. They were tied with red ribbon to which a miniature basketball was attached.

About 130 persons attended the party.

Emma Felderhoff And Monty Elliott Say Vows in Dallas

Miss Emma Felderhoff of Dallas and Monty Elliott of Fort Worth exchanged marriage vows in nuptial ceremonies performed in St. Edwards church, Dallas, at 10 a.m. April 11.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John Felderhoff of Muenster and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Elliott of Bardolph, Ill.

Rev. Henry Felderhoff of Denison, uncle of the bride, officiated at the nuptial mass and read the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends of the couple.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Frank Felderhoff, wore a lovely gown of white Chantilly lace and net over satin. The colonial design dress featured a narrow rolled collar, moulded bodice and full, gathered skirt with a ruffled hemline and a cathedral length train. Tiny satin and lace covered buttons adorned the bodice front and closed the long, snug-fitted petal point sleeves.

Her fingertip veil was caught to a tiara of seed pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of Calla lilies. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Celine Felderhoff of Dallas, sister of the bride, was maid of honor wearing a ballerina length dress of blue nylon net over taffeta with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Her matching half hat was adorned with valley lilies and she completed her costume with nylon half gloves. Her flowers were a bouquet of yellow tulips.

Leo Felderhoff of Muenster, brother of the bride was best man. Another brother, Alphonse Felderhoff of Muenster, and Morton Wright of Dallas were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Felderhoff wore a navy crepe dress with navy accessories. The groom's mother wore an aqua linen dress with black and white accessories. Their corsages were of pink camellias.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home for immediate family members and close friends. Miss Anselma Felderhoff of Muenster, sister of the bride, presided at the guest book.

The American Way

THE THREE GRACES
By George Peck

The management of the Vanderbilt Hotel, New York City, recently helped launch a movement that bids fair to sweep the nation like a prairie fire.

The idea of this movement originated in Mamaroneck, New York, where early in March, the clergymen and merchants of that community arranged for the printing of Roman Catholic, Jewish and Protestant prayers on the menus of thirty restaurants so that patrons might express thanks and ask for Divine blessing while waiting for food. These prayers were written by clergymen of each of the three faiths.

According to Arthur Dunn, Jr., Executive Secretary of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce, its eighteen directors endorsed the idea with "enthusiastic unanimity." So well was it received by Mamaroneck restaurant patrons that the Laymen's National Committee has taken on the job of spreading the movement to every community of the nation.

It was a "natural" for the Laymen's National Committee to undertake this big task. As sponsors of National Sunday School Week each Spring and National Bible Week each Fall, this organization has been working diligently to impress upon our American citizens to establish and keep alive faith in a Power greater than their own. It was also in keeping that the first move to spread this movement over the nation should be made in the very hotel in which the Laymen's National Committee has its headquarters.

And so, on Friday, March 20, Thomas J. Kelley, II, General Manager of the Vanderbilt Hotel, played host at a luncheon attended by the Rev. Father Edward Rathgeber, St. Malachy's Church; Rabbi Morris H. Finer, Yeshiva University; and Dr. James Fyfe Laughton, Rugby Congregational Church. Simultaneously, cards bearing graces of the three great faiths were placed on each table in the hotel's four dining rooms. The prayers are as follows:

CATHOLIC: "Bless us, O Lord, and these Thy gifts, which we are about to receive from Thy bounty. Through Christ our Lord Amen."

JEWISH: "Lift up your hands toward the sanctuary and bless the Lord. Blessed art Thou, O Lord our God, King of the universe, who bringest forth bread from the earth. Amen."

PROTESTANT: "Bless, O Lord, this food to our use, and us to Thy service, and make us ever mindful of the needs of others, in Jesus' Name. Amen."

The luncheon was covered by reporters and photographers of the press, and as a result, several of the New York newspapers hailed the event as one that would have far-reaching and salutary results, while congratulating the Vanderbilt Hotel management on its progressive policy of providing this extra service to its guests.

This reporter interviewed Mr. Kelley after the ceremony. He expressed his gratification at the way the grace cards had been received by patrons. "Several guests," he said, "made a special point of seeking me out to express their thanks for our having placed these grace cards on the tables."

"We felt our patrons would like them", Mr. Kelley added, "and now that we are assured that they do, these grace cards will be a regular practice at the Vanderbilt. Because of the enthusiastic way in which they were received, I have recommended that the seven other Manager hotels follow our example and they will shortly do so. I hope that hotels and restaurants across the nation will take up the idea because many people who wish to say grace are unaware just how to say it. These cards, therefore, serve a most useful purpose."

To anyone reading this column who may be interested in having this plan of putting graces on hotel tables in their community, I suggest writing to the Laymen's National Committee, Vanderbilt Hotel, New York City. Full information as to how to get started will be cheerfully furnished by that organization as part of its program "For God and For America."

The Sooner Cancer Is Found the Better

Many people put off seeing their physician, when they suspect cancer, because they are afraid. And yet, this fear, resulting in delay, causes many deaths from cancer. One-half of the lives now being lost to cancer could be saved if sufferers would see their doctors in time, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The sooner cancer is found, the less likely it is to have spread to other parts of the body, making cure impossible.

Most persons are familiar with the danger signs, such as a small sore on the skin, lip, or tongue that does not heal quickly, a mole, wart, or birthmark that suddenly changes in appearance; a painless lump or thickening, especially in the breast, lip, or tongue; persistent indigestion; or radical changes in normal bowel habits; any unusual bodily discharge or bleeding; and persistent hoarseness lasting more than a few weeks. When any of these symptoms show up between physical checkups, go quickly to see your doctor. They are common indications that cancer may be starting.

You cannot tell if you have cancer without seeing a doctor. A regular thorough physical check-up by your family physician is your best guard against cancer, plus an examination when one of the danger signals, or warnings appear. The first symptoms of cancer are scarcely noticeable. You may notice just a slight change from the normal. But do not wait until you feel pain to see your doctor. It is characteristic of cancer that there is no pain in the first stages. Pain is usually a late symptom and when it comes, the growth is often far advanced.

No Recess For Parents: Children Need Constant Parental Care And Guidance

by J. Edgar Hoover, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
TODAY right-thinking Americans are, I am certain, wondering about what can be done to erase crime from the American scene and steady youth's journey on the road to clean, American adulthood. I sincerely hope and pray that all adult America will awaken to this problem. It is your problem because your children and your neighbors' children are involved.

The answer to this problem depends upon a proper analysis of youth and the guidance so necessary to prepare youths for adulthood.

THE NEWBORN BABY lying in the cradle is a rich accomplishment of the Creator. As the child grows there is a steady development of his intellectual faculties.

This growth and development should be carefully watched and nurtured by the parents. I cannot imagine that any right-thinking parent would argue about where the primary responsibility rests in the matter of assisting in the mental, physical, moral, and social development of a child.

"THE LIFE OF THE FAMILY IS THE LIFE OF THE NATION." If parents are to chart successfully a course of training which will prepare a child to assume his role as an adult, the training ground must be the home. There must be no barrier between the parent and the child. In a great many cases today, current social and economic conditions tend to pull parents and children away from the family hearth. Children are compelled to seek enjoyment outside of the home to a degree that is detrimental, in many instances, to their physical and moral welfare.

A GREAT MANY parents are influenced by outside attractions and fail miserably to provide the constant care so necessary for the well-being of their offspring. Parenthood and indifference cannot go hand in hand.

THE NATURAL AND PROPER place to prepare a child for all phases of human activity is the home. Parents who necessarily must assume the role of educator cannot declare a recess. Our nation certainly cannot hope to check this problem of youthful crime unless some of the homes which make up our communities and the parents who guide them basically change their attitudes and actions.

Stark Will Support Anti-Lewdness and Anti-Narcotics Bills

State Representative Richard S. Stark this week asks the Enterprise to assist him in acknowledging about a hundred post cards from this area urging his support of bills to prohibit the sale of narcotics to minors and to prohibit the sale of lewd and immoral publications.

To save him the time of sending a large number of personal letters the Enterprise herewith presents his reply to those who wrote him.

To the Readers of the Muenster Enterprise:

Dear Friends: I have received many post cards from my good friends in the Muenster area regarding Senate Bill 82, prohibiting the sale of narcotics to minors and S. B. 105, prohibiting the sale of lewd and immoral publications.

A companion bill to S. B. 82 has been passed in the House prohibiting the sale of narcotics to a minor. This bill had my undivided support and vote. It is expected that this measure will soon become law.

S. B. 105, prohibiting the sale of lewd and immoral publications has been passed by the Senate and is presently in the House Committee of Criminal Jurisprudence. This bill it is expected will soon be on the floor of the House, and I hereby pledge my all-out vote and support to this worthy piece of legislation.

Sincerely yours
Richard S. Stark

Garden Club Plans Annual Flower Show

Discussion of plans for the annual flower show and pilgrimage was the principal business at Monday night's meeting of the Civic League and Garden Club.

Tentative date for the flower show is May 11. It will be held in the new Nick Miller building on Walnut street. The flower show committee will meet in the near future to arrange a schedule and prepare a program. It will be announced later.

Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, pilgrimage chairman, announced that the pilgrimage will be a conservation tour of the local area and will take place on April 28. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

She mentioned the Shooting Star, a very rare flower now almost extinct except in Muenster, is coming into bloom west of town and a visit there will be included in the tour.

Invitation was read from the Garden Study Club of Gainesville to attend its flower show next Tuesday, April 21, in the community center building. Theme of the show will be "The Queen's Coronation". Local members are planning to attend.

Mrs. Steve Moster presided during the business and Miss Olivia Stock served as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Joe Luke.

During the program hour members discussed Monochromatic Arrangements. They brought with them for display an array of gorgeous tulips, their horticultural project.

Mrs. Lee Toothaker gave an interesting talk on "Ways to Preserve Cut Flowers". She also told about an exhibit of dried flowers she is making for display at the flower show.

After adjournment Mrs. Moster served coffee and doughnuts to 11 members and one guest, Mrs. Byron Sears.

The meeting was held in the council chamber of the new city hall.

JANICE YOSTEN OBSERVES BIRTHDAY WITH PARTY

Little Janice Yosten celebrated her fifth birthday with a party Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents, the Larry Yostens. Eighteen young friends were guests and presented gifts to the honoree.

Games were played and pictures were taken until Mrs. Yosten served birthday cake, ice cream and hot chocolate topped with marshmallows. Favors were novelty balloons.

GROUP MAKES TOUR OF DALLAS DAIRY FARMS

A group of dairymen from Cooke county including Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fisher and son, William, C. A. Fisher, Alfred Bayer and Wilfred Sicking, were in Dallas Saturday for a tour of the Hol-Tex Farm and the W. C. Tufts Farm. Other dairymen from North Texas joined them for a field day demonstration.

The main attraction was on the Tufts Farm where a demonstration showed how soil conservation and dairying are profitably combined. This farm has been using artificial breeding methods since 1947 and visitors saw several fine cows that are producing 10 to 12 gallons of milk a day.

A barbecue dinner was served at noon.

The Cooke county group enjoyed a visit with Ed McKay, former Cooke county agent now stationed at Greenville.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

J. C. Trachta was honor guest at a celebration Saturday night in observance of his birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lee Tuggle of Gainesville were hosts for the occasion entertaining with a steak dinner and an evening's entertainment at Club Willow in Ardmore. Making up the party were Messrs. and Mmes. Trachta, John Wieler, Shorty Herr and Tuggle.

ON GIVING

Maybe you know this already (Most of us learn the hard way):
That if you just live
To get, and not give,
You'll get a shock some fine day.
Things that you get can be taken,
And as you sow, so you reap;
But this you can bet
(Don't ever forget)
Things that you give you will keep!—Carl C. Helm.

Pat: My wife's been married four times—and I two.
Mike: Aw, she's two chumps ahead of you, huh?

"FINISHING TOUCHES" IS TOPIC AT CLUB MEETING

"Finishing Touches" was the topic at the regular meeting of the Marysville Home Demonstration Club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Earl Cravens. Members answered roll call with: A finish that is difficult for me. Mrs. Herman Richey gave a demonstration on making belts and covering belt buckles, and Mrs. Ragon McElreath demonstrated the correct way to sew collars on garments.

Mrs. Earl Robison, president, presided during the business session. Members moved their next meeting date forward one week to next Friday, April 17, so that Miss Bernice Puckett, can meet with the club. She will give a demonstration on "Fitting For Fashionable Appearance". Mrs. Robison will be hostess in her home.

After the meeting adjourned, Mrs. Cravens served pie and coffee to 12 members and two guests, Mrs. Earl Reeves of Gainesville and Mrs. Buddy Cravens of Myra.

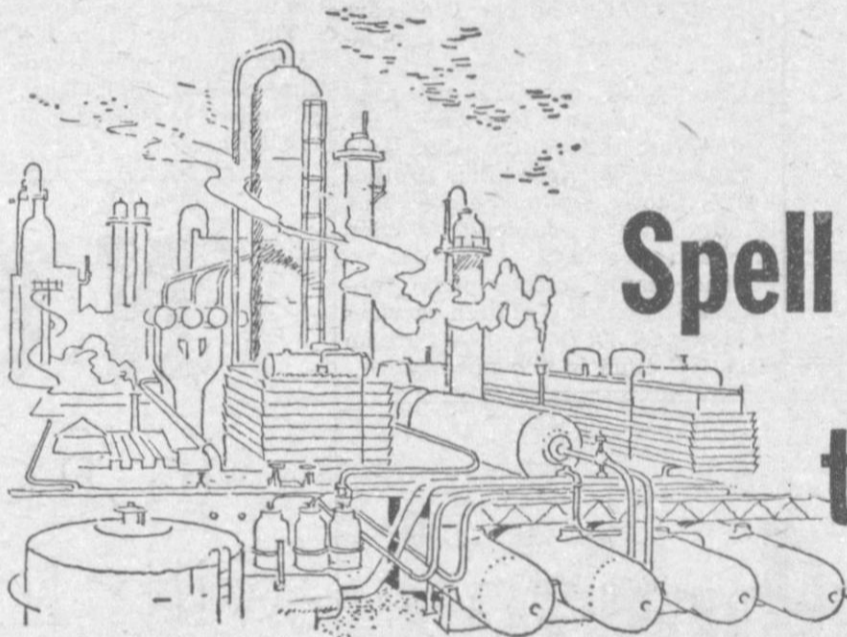

Soldier Education on Boom

Thousands of soldiers in the battle areas are attending classes in makeshift classrooms to add impetus in Korea, as elsewhere, to the boom in soldier education. Primary purpose of the Army education program is to increase the efficiency of the Army by raising the academic level of its personnel. The Army now operates 251 education centers overseas and 152 in the United States.

Now is the time to get started on that building or remodeling project... take advantage of the good weather ahead. Take advantage, too, of the helpful advice we can give you. Let's discuss your plans soon.

Spell petrochemical
the easy way...

P-R-O-G-R-E-S-S

Progress in finding and producing oil is an old story to the oil country. Nearly everybody has heard about the oil industry's day-to-day miracles in exploration and production.

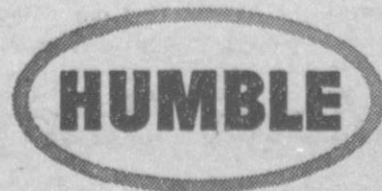

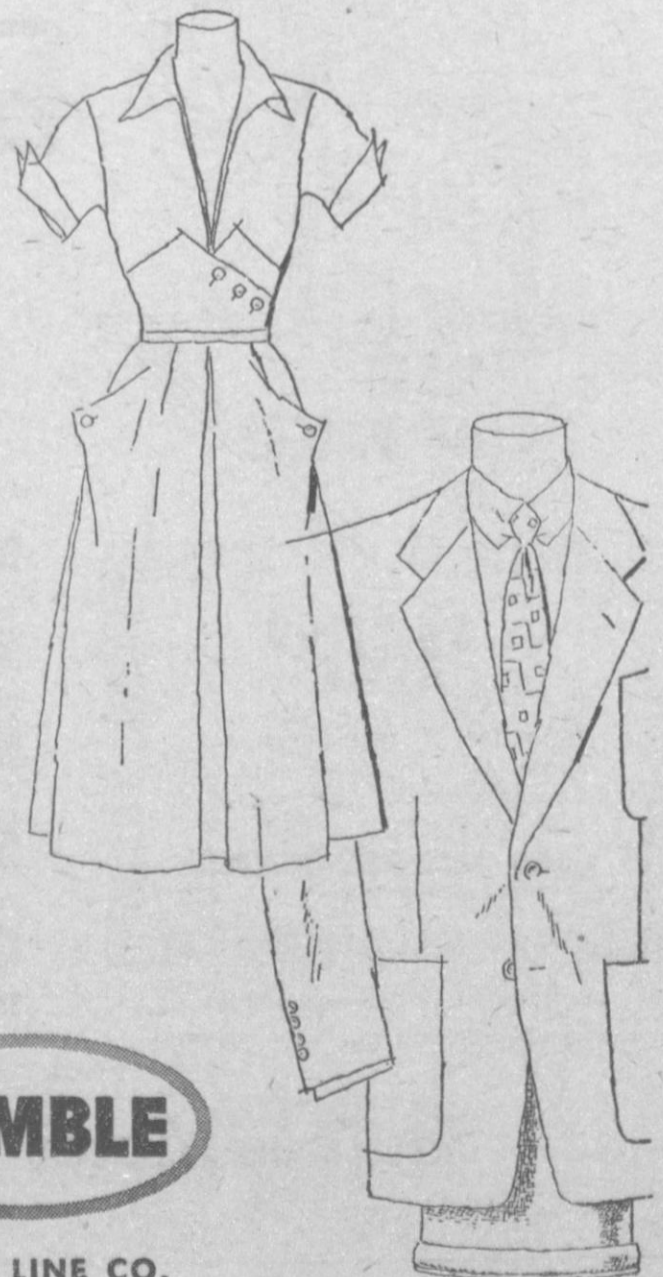

Now we all have a new series of miracles to wonder at—the transformation of petroleum hydrocarbons into chemical products of astonishing variety. These chemicals from petroleum have even added a new word to the American vocabulary—petrochemical.

Progress in the field has been amazing. The capital investment in new industries based on the petrochemicals has mounted to hundreds of millions. The new plants have created thousands of new jobs. And petrochemicals, as an industry, have provided a wider, a more complete, use of the country's oil resources.

Butadiene and butyl for synthetic rubber, toluene for TNT, solvents, aldehydes, and many other petrochemicals—even alcohols—are now produced in oil refineries. For example, the Humble Company, at its Baytown, Texas, refinery, is building facilities to manufacture paraxylene, the raw material for the new fabric called dacron.

The day may come, and very quickly, when you can be clothed from tip to toe in synthetic fabrics derived from petroleum; when petrochemicals provide the rubber for your tires, the plastics for your car's interior fittings, the fabric for the seat covers, the vehicle for body paint and polish.

The petrochemicals spell progress... progress to which the oil industry contributes research, capital, manufacturing facilities and, most importantly, an enterprising spirit.

Hesse Boys Split Sheep Show Honors

Paul and Thomas Hesse showed both champions in the sheep division of the annual 4-H and FFA Fat Stock Show Tuesday. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Meinrad Hesse and are members of the Sacred Heart 4-H club.

Paul won the contest between the two brothers when judges selected his lamb as the grand champion. Judges then tagged Thomas' entry as the reserve champ. Both boys showed Suffolk-Hampshire crosses.

A complete list of winners was not available this week but Sylvan Walterscheid, also a Sacred Heart 4-H club member, was a red ribbon winner in his entry's class.

There were 16 entries in the sheep show.

Cash prizes will be awarded on the basis of classification of the individual and the record book kept on the animal by its owner. Final allotment of money will probably take several weeks because of the many factors involved in the classification.

Cooke county businessmen donated the money and Texas Power and Light company donated the ribbons, banners and rosettes.

Late Tuesday afternoon all animals entered in the show were taken to Fort Worth stockyards to be sold Wednesday.

Club Boys' Contest - - - percentage of profit on investment, which is worth a maximum of 200 points in the contest.

Other factors to be considered are average gain per day, most economical gain and best set of records. They are worth a maximum of 100 points each to the contestant.

The total score on all five factors will be the boy's score in the contest and the highest scorer will be declared the most successful stock raiser on a commercial basis. There are three separate divisions in the contest, on calves, sheep and hogs.

TP&L Conference Stresses Accidents Due to Negligence

The Company's concern about public accidents, caused by negligence on the part of the public, was a subject of discussion among 21 distribution supervisors of the Texas Power & Light Company's northern area meeting in Sherman last Thursday.

The meeting was held as a part of the Company's safety training program for employees. Officials from the TP&L Safety and Distribution departments were principal speakers and led the panel discussions.

"Texas Power & Light Company is concerned over accidents which sometimes happen when people fall in their activities to consider the location of power lines," said C. J. Rutland, manager of the TP&L Safety department.

"This is especially true in cases where large machinery, such as draglines, ditch diggers and house moving equipment is involved, when the operators do not pay sufficient attention to clearance of power lines," he said, "and frequently applies to the activities of roof repair men, painters and electrical contractors."

Mr. Rutland called attention to the importance, in the erection of television aerials, of giving consideration to the nearness of powerlines with which the aerials could make contact.

Flying kites into electric lines and contacting conductors in trees were cited as seasonal hazards. Hitting power poles by automobiles and trucks was pointed out as another cause of accidents.

"Not only are the injuries to these people of serious concern," said Mr. Rutland, "but also the accident often causes an interruption in electric service to large areas, affecting many people and businesses."

The group expressed regret at the death of two college boys in West Texas last week who were killed when a long metal pole, which they were raising as a foul line marker at the baseball park, fell into electric power lines. Ten other members of the team were injured in the same accident.

Supervisors attending the meeting were from Texas Power & Light Company's districts of Bonham, Commerce, Denison, Gainesville, McKinney, Paris, Royse City, Sulphur Springs and Sherman.

If success turns a man's head, it should also wring his neck.
