After all the comment that has already come from the daily press and radio on the death of Joe Stalin this column's remarks on the subject are sure to seem both tardy and superfluous.

Circumstances, you know, do not favor the small weekly paper when big news breaks toward the end of the week. The latest issue is either off the press or so far along that nothing can be done about it. This is one of those cases.

So, in spite of being about a week late, this column is going to have its say. After lambasting the old stinker these many years it just could not pass up the chance to take notice of his passing. Besides, the column would seem incomplete without some final word, like a story book without the last chapter.

One of the big questions that comes to mind is what Joe thinks about atheism now. According to the way most people believe . . . and that includes the overwhelming majority since the beginning of human history . . . his final sleep has brought the greatest awakening of his career. By this time Stalin is quite certain that there is a God and that he, with all his cleverness about temporal affairs, was really quite dumb about things that count most in the long run. By this time he must also be aware that the Being greater than himself, who supposedly did not exist, is not only very much there but is also keeping a very complete record on the eternal scoreboard.

Just a little straight thinking on the subject reveals the absurdity of any atheist's position . . . and Joe's disciples anywhere in the world would do well to consider it. Here is the man who was supposed to replace God in the hearts of all his subjects. And where is he now? If his claims were correct he has passed into oblivion. If Christianity is correct he has gone to his final reckoning. A tough pair of alternatives indeed.

In his way Joe was a shrewd operator. But in ways that count he was among the greatest of dopes. Whether he remained a dope to the very end is anybody's guess. The story of the repentant thief on Calvary reminds us that while there is life it's never too late to square accounts with the Creator. And quite a few churchmen have expressed the hope that he did just that.

That much charity is all he's entitled to, however. As the brute who caused more injustice, slavery, treachery, misery and plain wickedness than any other person in the history of humanity, his death is good riddance. He is not worth a single tear, and it is doubtful whether any of the millions who discreetly mourned were actually sorry to see him go. The oppressed masses had no reason to weep. Party members must have been secretly jubilant about their chances of grabbing more personal power.

Developments since appear to be quite orderly in Moscow, but that is no assurance they will remain that way. In fact there is still plenty of reason to hope that Communism has some rough times ahead. Every one of the cut-throats who aspired to Stalin's post is ambitious and ruthless. Intrigue and treachery are likely to come, and if it does the world will have the satisfaction (Continued on page 10)

5 Boys Will Visit Saturday at A & M

Five Muenster boys will be among the estimated crowd of about 1200 Texas high school seniors who will be guests of A&M students and former students this weekend at A&M College.

They are Donald Bayer of Sacred Heart High and Billy Whitt, Wilfred Klement, John David Meurer and Herbert Otto of Muenster High. They will be accompanied by County Agent Gerald York.

High spots on their program, lasting all day Saturday are talks on military life and conducted tours to classes, agricultural centers and other places of principal interest on the campus, and attendance at athletic events. While at A&M they will be housed in dormitories and dine in the college mess hall.

Ray Wilde Elected Commander of VFW

Ray Wilde heads the Muenster VFW Post as commander as the result of the organization's annual election of officers Monday night.

Other new officers are F. A. Kathman Jr., senior vice commander; Norbert Mages, junior vice commander; Paul Luke, quartermaster; Herbie Herr, post advocate; Rody Klement, post sergeant; Dick Trachta, trustee. Joe Hess was re-elected post chaplain.

The executive committee will make appointments for the other offices.

Formal installation of officers will take place on Tuesday, March 24, in the VFW Hall beginning at 8:30 p.m.

SHHS Tigers Get 1952 Grid Trophy

Father Cletus Post and his Sacred Heart Tigers were pleasantly surprised this week by the arrival of a trophy for football championship in the North Texas Academic League.

They had been under the impression that the Catholic High Eagles of Texarkana had the title all along, but learned lately that the Texarkana team was disqualified because of ineligible players.

The Eagles won all their 1952 league games. The Tigers, losing only to the Eagles, were next in line when the Eagles were ruled out.

There's Mon 'n' Fun In Volley Tourney

Financially and otherwise the band benefit volley ball tournament sponsored by the Lions Club got off to a good start Wednesday night. Combined receipts from admissions and concession sales went slightly more than a third of the way toward meeting the three night goal of $125. Besides, spectators and players alike had fun.

Actually the affair is just a big party. Everybody pays to get in and frequent substitutions give lots of people a chance in the game. And everybody plays just for the heck of it . . . no trophies.

Results of the first five contests are as follows: Sophomore girls beat the Freshmen 2 out of 3. Senior girls beat the Juniors 2 straight. VFW Auxiliary beat the FHA girls 2 straight. PTA men beat the Lions 2 out of 3. FFA boys beat the VFW 2 straight.

Games Friday night in the order to be played are Lions ladies vs PTA ladies, Sophomore and Senior girls, Junior and Senior boys, Freshman and Sophomore boys, and VFW Auxiliary vs the winner of PTA and Lions ladies games. The second and fifth of those matches are semifinals in the ladies division.

The big finale Saturday night will offer both semifinals in the men's division and the finals in both men's and ladies' divisions.

Molasses Mixer Installed at Mill

With the installation of a molasses mixer the Muenster Mill this week adds another valuable service to farmers and stockmen of the community. The new equipment enables them to use their own grain or hay for making scientifically balanced stock feeds.

The machine, known as a Multi-Mist molasses mixer, pumps molasses under pressure to a spinner revolving at high speed. This breaks the molasses into a fine mist in a chamber through which the dry weed passes. The flow of molasses can be regulated to give any desired percentage of molasses content. An adjoining mixer, which has been in operation for some time, mixes dry ingredients to the customer's specifications.

Installation of the molasses mixer required a fair sized construction job at the mill. A large hopper, from which the ground hay or grain is fed through the machine was built above and a concrete pit of 4000 gallon capacity, for molasses storage, was built into the ground under the floor of the mill.

Rain Measures .84 Inch, All Soaks In

According to official measure Muenster has had just a little rain, but it's going a long way. Coming down as a light drizzle the rain had ample time to soak in and give crops a most welcome lift . . . as much as they can be helped by surface moisture. The subsoil moisture condition is still far from adequate.

Although fine for crops and pastures the rain did nothing for the surface water supply. Tanks and ponds around the community are still empty. Likewise the critical water shortage at Lake Dallas got little if any relief from the local off-flow.

The official measure up to Wednesday morning, according to Steve Moster's rain record is only .84 inch. Monday's reading was .15, Tuesday's .68 and Wednesday's .01.

Red Cross Drive Starts Next Week

After two weeks of delay indications now are that this year's annual Red Cross drive will get under way next week. J. M. Weinzapfel, community chairman said he expects to have the campaign organized by the end of the week.

E. S. Lawson, who for the past three years has headed drives that topped the community quota, will not be able to serve this year. He said Tuesday that his work lately is mostly outside the community and leaves him too little time to handle the job. That circumstance is responsible for much of the delay. When Lawson decided he could not help he turned his campaign material over to Weinzapfel, local member on the County Red Cross Board . . . and Weinzapfel was swamped with his own work.

The exact amount of the community quota is not known here at this time. Lawson remembered only that it is a few dollars higher than last year's figure, which was $455.

FHA GOING TO TEXOMA

Muenster FHA members will hold this year's summer encampment in June at the FFA camp on Lake Texoma, the girls decided in their last meeting. The past two years the girls were at Camp Trinidad.

Parochial Girls Win

The Sacred Heart High basketball girls ended their 1953 season at Wichita Falls Monday night by winning a double header from Mary Immaculate Academy. Every girl on the parochial squad took part in the pair of games. First stringers won 42-17 and reserves won 43-12.

FUR HER? — Pretty Evelyn Dodson, New York City miss, displays a pair of new-born chinchillas small enough to snuggle in a couple of coffee cups. A full-grown animal with a coat of the priceless fur prized by luxury-loving ladies is perched on her shoulder. The animals were shown at a Chinchilla Breeders Association convention in New York.

Variety Program Observes 4-H Week

About 200 4-H clubbers of the Muenster schools, joined by their parents, gathered in the church basement Sunday night for a program in observance of National 4-H Club Week.

The variety program featured addresses by Rev. Louis Deuster and County Agent Gerald York, a travel talk by Donald Bayer, musical selections, movies and refreshments.

Miss Carrie Ann Gehrig was mistress of ceremonies.

In his address Father Louis commended the 4-H movement and the local clubs for the work they are doing to save the soil, improve their homes and better living conditions. By participating in this work boys and girls become self confident and self reliant, two qualities needed to be successful, he said.

4-H's Golden Anniversary

Mr. York reviewed briefly 50 years of 4-H Club history, this year marking the golden anniversary of the organization of the first 4-H club in Kaufman county. Cooke county has been in 4-H work for 42 years, he mentioned, beginning in 1911, and has had (Continued on Page 10)

City Retains Best Insurance Rate

For the eighth consecutive year Muenster citizens are enjoying the best possible credit on their fire insurance. Fire Chief Marty Klement stated Monday that the city has word from the State Fire Insurance Commissioner advising that the maximum credit of 25 per cent will continue through this year.

The credit means a savings of 25 per cent on every fire insurance premium in Muenster and is actually a reward for good records of the past. It is determined by a five year comparison of fire losses and premiums in the area affected. Because of Muenster's consistently good record its citizens now enjoy a better insurance rate.

In 1940 the city had a 15 per cent credit; 1941 through 1945 it had a 20 per cent credit and since then it has had the 25 per cent credit. There was a time however when the record was much less favorable. In 1927-28 due to heavy losses and inadequate fire fighting equipment the city was considered a poor risk and premiums were penalized 15 per cent.

Hot Race Likely As Nine Announce For City Election

The hottest campaign in the history of Muenster city elections looms as a strong possibility this week. Announcements on the deadline date, last Saturday, by Rudy Hellman, Herbert Meurer, Joe Luke and J. A. Fisher assured four races for the five positions on the ticket.

Herbert Meurer, seeking reelection as alderman in position No. 3, is the only unopposed candidate.

Headlining the campaign is the contest between Urban Endres and John Hoffman for the office of mayor. Endres, whose term as alderman is ending this year announced two weeks ago that he is a candidate and Mayor Hoffman announced a week later that he will seek re-election.

Along with his own announcement Hoffman revealed that candidacies for alderman positions had been filed by George Mollenkopf for Position 1, Albert Hess for Position 4 and Ray Wilde for Position 5.

No. 1 is the position left vacant by Ben Seyler's death last September and the election will decide who serves the remaining year in his term. Position No. 2, now held by John Wieler also has another year to go. Positions 3, 4 and 5, all subject to this year's election are held now by Meurer, Hellman and Endres respectively.

The four races to be decided by voters of Muenster on Tuesday, April 7, are as follows: For Mayor: Endres and Hoffman. For Position 1 Mollenkopf and Luke. For Position 4: Hellman and Hess. For Position 5: Wilde and Fisher.

Baseball Season at MHS Opens Mar. 24

With only one day to get organized the Muenster High baseball team will open its 1953 season Tuesday, March 24 in a practice game with Whitesboro, and will take on its first conference foe, Saint Jo, on March 27.

Concentrating now on the annual Interscholastic League track and literary meet, the team will not have a chance to practice, Coach Stewart said.

Stewart also disclosed that the baseball district this year consists of 13 teams . . . far too many to be arranged into a single schedule. Accordingly the coaches have divided the teams into three divisions, one to include Muenster, Saint Jo, Valley View, Era and Krum, another to include Howe, Gunter, Southmayd and Tom Bean, and the third to include Whitesboro, Collinsville, Tioga and Pilot Point.

Each division will play a double round robin schedule and winners of the 4-team divisions will play a 2 out of 3 series to decide who meets the winner of the 5-team division for the district title.

FHA Girls to Honor Mothers at Banquet

Mrs. Onieta Pierce of Denton, Area 5 supervisor of the Future Homemakers of America, will be the guest speaker at the annual FHA Mother-Daughter banquet to be held next Monday night in the Muenster High homemaking room. Mrs. Pierce, whose help enabled the chapter to get affiliation in the first year, is a favorite speaker for local FHA events.

In keeping with tradition of the past mothers will be special guests of their daughters and will receive corsages. Another feature of the event is special recognition to Senior members, the last charter members in the chapter.

Arrangements for the dinner are in charge of committees headed by Norma Vogel, Jane Hellman, Carol Hellman, Anna Grace Herr, Joyce Grewing, Rita Cain and La Queta Cain.

SCHEDULE OF COMING EVENTS

Mrs. Tony Gremminger was hostess for the meeting in her home and Mrs. Steve Moster, president, presided during the business session.

Films For Program

The program hour featured two colored talks by Beatrice Foods Co. The titles of the films were "A Brighter Day in the Kitchen", and "The Bellingrath Gardens", the gardens, near Mobile, Ala., attract more than a thousand tourists and other visitors each year. J. C. Embry showed the films which were secured through courtesy of the county agent. He used the school's projector.

Mrs. Gremminger served pie topped with whipped cream and cherries, and coffee to 15 members and five guests.

The American Way

By DeWitt Emery

We have been told time and time again by our foremost experts that the only thing the Russian government really understands is force. This being true, then why in the world doesn't our government get tough?

It seems to me that a good place for us to start talking the language Russia understands would be by breaking diplomatic relations.

When Russia was recognized by President Roosevelt in November, 1933, recognition was based on certain promises made to our government by the Russian government. Among these were,

1) Direct assurance by the Russian government to respect a policy of non-interference in the lives and affairs of the American people.

2) A pledge by the Russian government to refrain from and to prevent all organizations or persons directly or indirectly under its control from agitation or propaganda within the United States or its territories.

3) Pledge by the Russian government not to permit formation or residence within its jurisdiction of any organization or group revolutionary to the United States or to lend its support to such activity.

4) Reasonable assurance given by the Russian government to the United States to secure freedom of conscience and religious liberty for American citizens living temporarily or permanently in Russian jurisdiction.

Russia started violating every one of these promises almost before the ink was dry on signing the agreement and has been at it ever since. What has our government done about the violations? Nothing!

In the meantime Russian agents have infiltrated practically every department of our government. Russian spies have stolen the secrets of the atom bomb. Russian agents have taken over some labor unions and infiltrated many others. Communists have infiltrated our schools. Russian government has refused even to talk about working out a settlement of eleven billion dollars in lend lease. And for more than two years, through a puppet government, Russia has been waging a shooting war against the United States in Korea.

What Russia has done and is doing to the United States on the diplomatic and every other front is known to everyone everywhere. Is it any wonder then that the prestige of the United States government has fallen to zero or below in capital cities all over the world?

If Russia can get away with pushing us around all over the lot, then why shouldn't England, France, Italy and the others do likewise? Many of them are. France practically laughed in Dulles' face when he threatened recently to cut down on U.S. aid if the French didn't buckle down and do a lot more to help themselves. Britain continues to sell war goods to Russia in spite of our protests and feels free to criticize every move we make in Korea.

Our appeasement of Russia is the root of the evil and whatever measures are taken to correct the situation must start with Russia. The time for half-way measures has long since passed, which is why I suggest a break in diplomatic relations. This would at least get the representatives of the Russian government out of this country which would seriously hamper their spying and infiltrating activities. It would also serve notice on the world that Uncle Sam is through being pushed around.

Fiercest Animal

The fiercest animal on earth, says Alan Devoe, writing in "Frontiers," is not the tiger or grizzly bear but the tiny shrew.

Some species of shrew are so small that they come 14 to an ounce. A shrew is so tough it will attack and devour almost any animal up to twice its size and so voracious it eats its own weight in meat every three hours. Without food, it starves to death in less than a day. It dies of old age in about 16 months.

The Army Quartermaster has developed an improved insulated combat boot. The new boot employs unicellular synthetic rubber for its insulation instead of the wool fleece and felt used in the present insulated boot and is 10 per cent lighter.

Columnist Indicates Roots Of Immorality

"TWO HUNDRED detectives and fifty policemen are engaged in trying to trap the rapists who have caused a reign of terror in the city."

So says the dispatch from International News Service in New York City. You could duplicate it on a smaller scale from many cities.

But nobody in authority gets to the root of the matter. Everybody deals frantically with effects; nobody deals calmly and wisely with causes.

MOVIE ADVERTISING continues to be so illustrated and so worded as to stir up unruly passions.

Newspapers drool over sex crimes, and give more space to the actresses who peddle themselves from continent to continent than to the news from the battlefields of Korea.

Book racks in the corner stores are filled with pornography.

Any youngster can go into a library and borrow books fatal to the morals of all but the most mature and balanced reader.

"PLAIN WRAPPER" stuff goes through the mails by the ton; and the peddlers of it, not above any villain, go so far as to send the filth to Boy Scout mailing lists which they obtain by devious means.

All this, of course, in the sacred name of "Freedom of the press!" "LIBERTY! LIBERTY!" cried Madame Roland. "How many crimes are committed in thy name?"

The cause of the trouble is that only a minority of Americans can understand that evil ought to be nipped in the bud, before it flowers.

We cannot see the difference between liberty and license. We cannot seem to realize that liberty, in any right sense, means freedom to do good. We do not have the right to do wrong. And that goes for the movies and the press.

WE SPEND untold sums to combat overt crime. But Congress appropriated only $25,000 for the House committee which is investigating obscene publications and pictures.

"Two hundred detectives and fifty policemen are engaged in trying to trap the rapists. . ."

HOW MANY officers in New York or elsewhere are engaged in cutting the roots which feed such crimes? They cannot cut them; because our laws do not curb the license, by which I mean the licentiousness, of the press.—(By Joseph Breig.)

A Difficult "Situation"

Did you see that "Classified Ad" last week? The one that wanted a farmhand who had to be "an expert agriculturist, sheep herder, tractor driver, bridge player," plus being "an authority on chemistry and mathematics"?

Slim Thomas, who ran that ad more or less as a joke, called and said, "I got 23 answers and almost every one claimed they could meet all those qualifications! That means I want to keep the man I have—'Handy' Peters.

"He was thinking of quitting but now I've got to talk him into staying. Handy never pretends to be an expert, he's just a good all-around hired hand."

From where I sit, Slim's smart to be wary of people who consider themselves to be all-around "experts." Some folks will "expert" on anything—from the clothes a man should wear to whether he ought to drink beer or butter-milk. Personally I don't want to "classify" myself as knowing all the right answers.

Safety Belts For Cars Suggested

The men whose business is safety have borrowed a weapon from airplanes in a new attack on the nation's death toll from auto accidents. It's the use of seat safety belts.

A familiar device to air travelers, seat belts usually consist of two-inch webbing and a buckle which can be unfastened with one hand in a second. They are worn loosely around the waist, with three or four inches slack.

Widespread use of the belts in cars, says Robert A. Neal, superintendent of Indiana state police, would bring a quick cut in the death rate. His conclusion is based on a survey by Hoosier troopers who have been instructed to note the weight and position of crash victims. They wear the belts themselves.

Banged About
 Neal stresses that most persons who wind up as accident statistics are killed or injured by their own cars, after being banged about inside the car or thrown through a door or windshield. Hundreds of these victims could be saved, he says, if they were held in their seats by safety belts.

Such belts would be secured to the floor by heavy bolts; seats have been known to tear free and pin the driver against the dashboard. One type has a restraining shoulder harness as well as a waist belt. There is also a three-passenger belt for back-seat drivers.

Reasons for Belt
 Three arguments in favor of the belts are presented by William W. Harper, a safety-minded legal physicist. He says they reduce the hazard of being thrown into the dash or windshield; they prevent occupants from being catapulted through open or weakened doors in the spinning crashes; and they keep the driver securely in his seat and in maximum control during and after the impact.

The Hoosier survey reveals that only 16 percent of rural auto accidents are non-survivable; that is, the victims are crushed within the car with no chance of escaping.

A man, wife and four kids entered a restaurant sat down at a table and ordered six plates and six glasses of water.

They then took out sandwiches and began to eat. "Hey!" roared the manager. "What are you doing?"

"Who are you?" asked the father.

"I'm the manager!"
 "Good. I was just going to send for you. Ain't this cheap dump got an orchestra?"

Soil Conservation Notes

Cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red soil conservation district are doing something about the weather and at the same time are hitting back at soil erosion.

Landowners have learned that tap rooted legumes punch holes in tight plow pans and hoof pans, and leave the soil in a honey combed condition that allows more rainfall to soak in. Thus more water is stored in the soil for plant growth during dry periods. At the same time less run-off occurs. The less run-off, the less loss through erosion. The good cover afforded by sweet clovers and alfalfa also breaks the fall of raindrops and so there is less churning of the soil by the rainfall. This results in less soil being mixed with run-off water.

The soil conditioning effect of deep-rooted legumes that leads to more insoak of water and results in higher production of following crops makes them a crop that does something about the weather.

During the past two years of drought, yields of crops following sweet clover were 25 to 100 per cent higher than where no tap-rooted legumes were grown.

To aid in increasing the acreage of soil improving legumes the district supervisors have placed a number of combination grain-fertilizer drills in the Muenster area for use by cooperators in putting clover, alfalfa and fertilizer on their land.

Paul Fisher has just seeded eight acres of alfalfa and plans to sow some 30 acres to biennial white sweet clover. He already has a good stand of vetch in his waterway and about 30 acres of vetch and oats.

Buddy Reiter is sowing 45 acres to Madrid sweet clover on his farm south of Muenster. He is using a district-owned drill to apply phosphate and clover to the land.

Eddie Fleitman is sowing all the clover he combined last year on his field and pastures on the farm he operates north of Muenster.

W. H. Endres is sowing his own clover seed on about 50 acres of fields and pastures. He has an excellent stand and growth of volunteer vetch where he combined last year.

George Bayer has sown 20 acres of Madrid sweet clover on his farm east of Muenster and H. S. Perryman has seeded 30 acres of the same clover for grazing and soil improvement on his farm at Hood.

These are but a few of the landowners who are doing something about the weather; are preventing soil erosion and at the same time providing forage for livestock through the summer months.

HOT HOUSE—Raised in a deadly atmosphere of radio-active gases, these flowers are tended by a well-protected gardener, entomologist A. C. Miller, who is clad in gas mask, gloves and protective clothing. Located in Pittsburgh, Pa., the "hot" house is used by the Gulf Oil Corp. to raise pyrethrum flowers from which insecticides are made. Miller will use radio-detection equipment and the plants to trace processes by which the drug kills insects.

Big-Selling Cars Least Affected by Horsepower Race

Interesting aspect of the so-called horsepower race in the auto industry is that it has touched the big-sellers but lightly. Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth have increased horsepower only modestly since 1946. Chevrolet went up most, from 90 to 115 on its top job, an increase of 28 per cent. Ford went from 100 to 110 and Plymouth from 95 to 100.

Compare these increases with the high-priced cars. Cadillac has gone from 150 to 210, a 40 per cent increase. Lincoln is up from 130 to 205, a 57 per cent boost, biggest among the standard American makes. Chrysler is up from 135 to 180, a 33 per cent increase, the most modest in the high-priced field.

However, if Chrysler goes up to 220, as rumored, it will have the biggest increase, about 63 per cent.

One reason for the smaller increase among the low-priced cars is undoubtedly the fact that the sales pressure in this field has not been as great as it has been in the high-priced field.

Plymouth's more modest increases than Chevrolet's and Ford's may be attributed to lack of an automatic transmission on the Plymouth. The automatic devices require higher horsepower to get comparable performance.

None of the cars in the low-priced field, of course, have new engines since the war, and all of them are reported to be preparing for them in the next year or two.

Meantime, the subject of the horsepower race is getting more heated. The other day, James K. Knudson, head of the Defense Transport Administration, warned auto makers in a talk in Detroit that they must shift emphasis from speed to safety or face a rash of restrictive legislation.

It takes two hundred and fifty gallons of water per year to wash the hands of one school child.

Be Careful About Taking Medicines

The careless or uninformed use of medicines cause much serious illness and even many deaths in Texas every year, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today in a statement urging the public to use caution in self medication.

"It is never safe to take medicine in the dark," Dr. Cox warned. "Always read the label carefully to make sure the aspirin you expect to take is not a bichloride of mercury tablet or some other poison. As a matter of fact, poisons and medicines containing poisons should be kept together, well out of reach of children and marked in some distinctive manner. Another thing to remember is that medicines should always be taken exactly as directed by a doctor because many beneficial medicines can do untold harm if taken to frequently or in too large quantities. It is well to stop and think that you may be taking your own life in your hands when you take medicine casually."

The State Health Officer also warned of the danger in the inclination of many persons untrained to diagnose and treat their own ills. Such persons are apt to guess wrong he asserted, and while they may not take medicine that is actually harmful, they are nevertheless postponing an accurate diagnosis and the resulting proper treatment that could help their illness.

The safest rule is never to use medicine internally or externally, that has not been prescribed by your doctor and for that particular illness with which you are suffering.

... of seeing quite a few more scoundrels eliminated. It is even possible for party squabbles to get sufficiently out of hand to lead to a general revolt of the masses.

Much of this is wishful thinking of course, but it is possible nevertheless. And it's the best thing that could happen to the world. It's better to eliminate the red menace by spilling a limited amount of guilty blood in Russia than by spilling innocent blood all over the globe.

On the other hand we should realize that conditions could get worse. Malenkov and company may be more ruthless and more impetuous than Stalin was. They could bring on the dreaded global conflict in a hurry.

This column's big hope is that the powder keg red leaders are now sitting on will blow them sky high . . . and soon. With millions of others yours truly hopes that communism can be broken without another war . . . also that the long suffering victims of red domination will soon get a new lease on life. They've had more than their share of misery. It's high time for them to start living like human beings.

Attractive hand made decorations throughout the hall stressed the 4-H theme in green and white with four leaf clovers, 4-H emblems and garlands of fluted crepe paper. Pear blossoms adorned each window sill. A large map of Texas centered a silver star back of the speakers' table. Inside the map, a star marked Muenster's location. Miniature maps in replica were favors.
