500 Assemble for Murray Cox Talk And Travel Movie

Senator Robert Taft can usually be depended upon for straight thinking, but he was far off the beam Sunday in that remark about permitting the poor loyalty risks to teach in college. The statement, according to news reports, is that he does not favor allowing a poor security risk in the government's employ, but he would not fire a doubtful character from a teaching job until he was certain that the man was teaching communism.

Taft apparently is just a little slow to break away from the traditional American attitude of going the limit in giving a suspected person the benefit of a doubt. Up to now, you know, that has been the official attitude in Washington. A man could hold his job until he was proven to be a red. It was a part of our code of assuring a man's innocence until his guilt is proven.

Obviously Taft has seen how that code falls short as it concerns government workers. Too much harm can be done before a man's guilt is established, so the safest policy is to eliminate doubtful characters before they can mess things up.

Incidentally, this change in policy is one of the most praiseworthy of the many good ideas that have already been adopted. Uncle Sam just doesn't intend to take any more chances. The suspected employe gets bounced out without further question... also without all the red tape and expense that used to be required to prove the charge of disloyalty. The method isn't fool-proof of course. Some worthy men may be kicked out unjustly, and some unworthy men may remain on the job. But on an average the effect should be a general improvement in the country's security. As far as discharged employes are concerned, their rights still are not violated. They are fired as "unsuitable", but not as "disloyal". There's no special disgrace in losing the job and no handicap in looking for another job. They rate the same as any other person who seeks employment.

Getting back to Taft's attitude toward doubtful teachers... why does he consider them as more privileged than government employes? Or how does he justify taking a chance with them when he would not take a chance with the others?

To our way of thinking his attitude presents a case of a chance to lose but not to gain. Sort of like permitting a dog suspected of rabies infection to wander among children. It may cause considerable harm before it's proven to be mad... just as the doubtful teacher can poison lots of minds before he's proven to be a red. Wouldn't it be better to get rid of him before he can cause the trouble?

Actually, the idea is so absurd that it's hard to believe Taft said it. And, confidentially, this column would be pleased to learn that he was misquoted or misunderstood. It just prefers to think more of a man who has such a prominent place in our government.

So let's say the remarks here are intended to criticize the idea... we hope they will not apply to the man. Nevertheless they are timely because so many crackpots and pinks nowadays are advocating such bunk under their perverted notion of academic freedom. At one time the term academic freedom commanded a certain amount of respect. It applied then to a person's right to investigate new theories. Now it's used too much as a refuge for those who want to dish out false, unsound or subversive ideas.

Of course the plain fact is that these shabby teachings cannot be defended as academic freedom. You and I know that no one has a right to teach error and wickedness, and to claim the right in the name of academic freedom is neither honest nor reasonable.

Another instance of this phony freedom appeal is the barrage of criticism now heaped on the American Legion for its efforts to prevent the showing of Charlie Chaplin's new movie "Limelight" in the United States. It's art, the pinks say, so it ought to be free to circulate. But they conveniently fail to mention... that Chaplin refuse to admit... that Chaplin

About 500 persons gathered in the Muenster High School auditorium Tuesday night to hear Murray Cox, WFAA farm editor, and see his travelogue movie taken on the 1952 Farm and Ranch tour to northern states and Canada.

The program, which started about 8 o'clock, opened with a 30 minute concert by the Muenster band consisting of marches and waltzes and a trumpet solo by Dan Hamric.

The technicolor film emphasized farming and stock raising methods in practice along the tour and also recorded stops in several large cities and other places of interest. Cox supplied the descriptive narrative at a microphone as the scenes flashed on the screen.

From the time of his arrival in Muenster, about 2:30 p.m., Cox

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

Makes Flight To England

Airman First Class Ernest Sickling of Carswell AFB was here for a weekend visit with his parents, the Ben Sickling, after returning from an 18-day mission that took him to England and Labrador. He served as a mechanic on a B-36 during the flight. It was strictly business with no time off to visit in London or other places of interest, he said. While he was in Labrador thermometers were registering 34 degrees below zero.

Receives Promotion

It's Airman First Class Rupert Hoening now. He received the promotion at Barksdale AFB, Shreveport, La., where he is stationed.

Still A Civilian

Eddie Grewing is back again, still not a member of the armed forces. Inducted with the county group last week, he spent five days at Fort Hood and was told to "go home and wait for a call". The same thing happened when he enlisted in January, but he got only as far as Dallas, that time.

Three Day Pass

Airman First Class Mike Luke of Kirtland AFB, New Mexico, left Tuesday to return to his base after being here since Saturday for a visit with his parents, the Henry Lukes.

Gets First Promotion

Ted Nogger who serves with an engineer's battalion in Korea has received his first promotion to become a private first class. He is the son of Mrs. Susie Nogger.

Ends 30 Day Leave

Airman First Class Jerome Fette left Monday morning to return to Warren AFB at Cheyenne, Wyoming, after spending a 30 day leave with his parents, the Henry Fettes.

Advances In Rank

Curley Pels has advanced to airman first class in Korea where he is a radio repairman for the air force. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pels.

Has Three Day Pass

Airman Joe Mosler of the Naval Station in Hutchison, Kansas, spent Saturday night to Wednesday here with his mother, Mrs. Theresa Mosler and family.

Get Holiday Passes

Airmen First Class Rupert Hoening of Barksdale AFB, Shreveport, La., and Teddy Greminger of Carswell AFB, Fort Worth, and Pvt. Gilbert Yosten and Johnny Fisher of Fort Hood visited here Sunday and Monday with family members. They all had Monday off in observance of Washington's birthday.

Has First Weekend Pass

Pvt. Emmett Walterscheid, who has just recovered from pneumonia that interrupted his basic training shortly after his induction into the army on Jan. 8, had his first weekend pass and spent it here with his parents and family, the Tony Waltersheids. He returned to Fort Hood Monday afternoon.

Endres Announces For City Mayor Job

Urban J. Endres, an alderman on the city council for the past four years, is a candidate for mayor in the coming city election.

In his announcement Wednesday, Endres said that he decided to run for the office after considering the urging of a number of friends, also that he is willing to take his turn at the job if his fellow citizens want him to serve.

To date Endres is the only candidate on the city ticket which is to be offered to voters on April 7. Four alderman positions are still awaiting their first candidates.

City officials whose terms expire this year are Mayor John Hoffman and Aldermen Urban Endres, Rudy Hellman and Herbert Meurer. Candidates who seek their positions will run for a two year term.

In addition, the election will have to fill the vacancy left by the death of Ben Seyler, which still has a year to go.

So far the city has not officially ordered the election. That detail is due to be handled at the Council's regular meeting next week.

County DHIA Tops State in January

The Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement Association was tops in Texas for both milk and butter fat production during the month of January, according to word from A&M College Extension Service to John J. Hoffman, supervisor.

The local association won the honors in competition with 22 other DHIA organizations throughout the state.

The county herds produced an average of 780 pounds of milk and 31 pounds of butter fat to become state champions. The average production for state DHIA herds was 570 pounds of milk and 26 pounds of butter fat.

The Cooke county association achieved another first place this month with the enrollment of new members. The new total of 28 makes it tops in membership. The next largest group in the state has 22 members.

"These are goals we have been striving for", Technician Hoffman said.

Members are also continuing to improve their dairy barns and milking facilities. Eight members are using the siphon system—milk from milking machines is carried by pipes to a cooler where it is cooled to 56 degrees, then goes into cans, without being touched by hand—and four members including Martin Bayer, Muenster, have parlor type barns, three are the elevated type, one the pit type.

Both SH Teams Get Tournery Trophies

Both of the Sacred Heart High basketball teams came home with trophies from an invitation tournament at Boys Ranch last week. The girls won consolation honors and the boys won a sportsmanship award.

In addition three of the players received individual awards as members of all-tournament teams selected by coaches of the participating teams. Jerry Henscheid, Dolores Haverkamp and Henrietta Mages were the players honored.

The girls won the consolation final in an easy 27-7 decision over the Lake Worth sextet. A loss to Keller High in the opening game put them in the consolation bracket.

Also losing to Keller the Sacred Heart boys moved into the consolation bracket in the opening tussle. In their semi-final they scored a 46-41 upset over Laneri which had defeated them twice earlier in the season, then lost 47-31 to Eules in the final.

Scholastic Census Will Begin Monday

Parents of the Muenster Independent School District are reminded this week that the 1953 scholastic census will begin next week and continue through the month of March.

Superintendent Weldon Cowan this week announced the census and also called attention to the state's regulation concerning scholastic age. The law specifies that the official count shall include all children of the district who will be between 6 and 18 years of age on September 1, 1953 and who are residents of the district on April 1, 1953. Children born on or before Sept. 1, 1935, or after Sept. 1, 1947, must not be enumerated.

To save time for the enumerator parents are asked to prepare a list showing the name, sex and date of birth of each scholastic age child and have it ready when the enumerator arrives.

Cowan also called attention to the section of the census form which refers to physical handicaps. Parents are expected to report cases of blindness, deficient vision, deafness, deficient hearing, speech disorder, mentally retarded, curvature of the spine, club feet, infantile paralysis, leg or arm amputation, nervous disorder or lowered vitality.

The total of last year's census was 578, a decrease of 10 from the previous year's count.

The E. S. Lawsons have been visiting at the bedside of Mrs. Lawson's brother, Glenn Bateman at M&S Hospital. He is recovering this week from serious injuries received in a car accident.

Trustee Election Ticket Still Blank

With the coming school board election only a little more than a month away, the ticket is still blank. Secretary Herbert Meurer said Wednesday that no candidates have announced for the two positions that will be open.

Members whose terms expire this year are E. S. Lawson and Earl Robison. B. J. Sicking and J. J. Wimmer have a year to go. Arthur Hellman, Tony Walterscheid and Norbert Klement have two years to go.

MHS Girls Play 3 29-28 Games; Win Chico Consolation

In a trio of games that probably establishes some sort of record for coincidence, the girls of Muenster High won the consolation trophy at the Chico invitation tournament last week.

All three games ended by the score of 29-28. The girls lost to Boyd by the single point margin in the opening tilt, then beat Era in the consolation semi-final and Valley View in the final.

Muenster boys got into the champ bracket by nosing out Boyd 56-50 in the opener and lost 52-42 to Chico in the semi-final.

The Chico teams won the champ trophies in both the boys and girls divisions.

Waples-Painter Co., Here 57 Years, To Close Local Store

After more than a half century of service to the community, the Muenster store of Waples-Painter Company will discontinue business in the near future. The announcement was made early this week by D. J. Murphy, general manager of the company's headquarters at Gainesville.

"We certainly feel mixed emotions in making this decision", Murphy said. "Our Muenster yard was one of the very first of our branch operations to come into being. We have had a lumber yard in Muenster almost 57 years, and have been privileged to enjoy a prominent part in the growth and development of this fine community. We count our friends and customers in and around Muenster by the Hundreds", Murphy continued, "and we hope they will continue to call on us for at least a portion of their farm and home building needs."

"Leo Henscheid, who has been manager of our yard here since 1931, will take up new duties at our Gainesville store after the local yard is closed, but will continue to make his home in Muenster and will always be available for consultation and service."

"Our company has decided to close the yard in Muenster because good roads and fast transportation allow us to render good service to any construction site in the county from our centrally located stocks in Gainesville", Murphy concluded.

A general inventory clearance sale begins Friday, February 27, according to Leo Henscheid, local manager of Waples-Painter Co. All merchandise, including lumber, roofing and siding, doors and windows, plumbing and electric supplies, hardware and sporting goods will be cleared at greatly reduced prices. The sale will continue until March 21st, at which time any remaining goods will be moved to Waples-Painter's other yards at Gainesville and Denton, Texas and Marietta, Oklahoma. Some of the hundreds of items included in this store-wide clearance are listed in this issue of the Enterprise.

Pee Wees Play in Montague Tournery

Pee Wee boys at the Muenster public school haven't finished their basketball season after all. Since losing out in the championship final at the Callisburg junior tournament last week they have accepted a bid to a junior tourney at Montague, starting Thursday night.

Their first game will be with Lone Star. As at Callisburg, eligibility to play is confined to elementary pupils.

At Callisburg Saturday night the kiddies lost their first game out of the 12 they have played so far this season. The team was Rod Ware, which they defeated 3 times previously. The score 31-24. In the other two games of the tournament they trimmed Callisburg 24-19 and nosed out Valley View 23-22 in an overtime period. Muenster junior girls did not fare so well. They lost their opener to Callisburg and their second to Valley View.

Building And Improvement Notes

Building now in progress will practically double the size of the J. P. Flusche home. There's a 33 x 15 room, a smaller room and a porch going up as an annex. After that the removal of a partition or two and other remodeling will completely change the old portion of the house. End result: about the same number of rooms but lots more space.

Fisher Herd Among Top DHIA Producers

Paul Fisher's herd was one of the top three dairy herds in the Cooke County DHIA for January, the summary for the month, released this week, shows.

High herds for the month belong to Richard Frasher, Peter Prescher and Paul Fisher, in the order named.

Twenty-one member herds, containing 687 cows, were tested. Average pounds of milk per cow were 780 and butterfat production per cow reached 31 pounds, to make the county organization the leader in the state for January. 196 cows produced 40 pounds or more of B.F.

Members with cows in the top butter fat group, the number and pounds of B.F. include Paul Fisher, sixteen cows, 40 to 59 pounds; Alfred Bayer, eight, 40 to 54; Joe Fisher, one, 40; J. W. Fleitman, twenty, 40 to 77; John Knabe, twelve, 40 to 86; Toney Nehib, nine, 43 to 62; Peter Prescher, twenty-one, 40 to 82; H. F. Schneiderjan, nine, 40 to 70.

John Knabe's 86 pound producer was second high individual cow in the association. J. A. Stovall owned the top producer which averaged 99 pounds.

In December when the Cooke association tied for second place in the state with Wichita Falls, Peter Prescher's herd was the high herd and Paul Fisher's was in third place. Prescher had the individual top producers with 100 pounds and 91 pounds of B.F.

In November (the report released this week was for three months) Prescher's 27 Holsteins led the association's herds with 1310 pounds of milk per cow and 48 pounds of butterfat. He also had the highest individual producer with 113 pound B.F.

There are 69 retired generals living in San Antonio, Texas. The city has long been known as the "Mother-in-law" of the Army.

The American Way

OFF TO A GOOD START
 By George Peck

The half million citizens who were present to witness the inauguration and the many millions who viewed it over television, or listened to it over the radio, were electrified when, after having taken the oath of office, President Eisenhower offered up a prayer to Almighty God to guide him and his associates as they took over the huge task of rebuilding America. That prayer, recognizing that this nation grew great while it clung to the spiritual precepts laid down by its founders, is worth repeating again and again. Here follows the text:

"Almighty God, as we stand here at this moment, my future associates in the executive branch of the government join me in beseeching that Thou wilt make full and complete our dedication to the service of the people in this throng and their fellow citizens everywhere."

"Give us, we pray, the power to discern clearly right from wrong and allow all our works and actions to be governed thereby and by the laws of this land."

"Especially we pray that our concern shall be for all the people, regardless of station, race or calling. May cooperation be permitted and be the mutual aim of those who, under the concept of our Constitution, hold to differing political views, so that all may work for the good of our beloved country and for Thy glory, Amen."

Thus, President Eisenhower follows in the footsteps of other great Presidents of this nation. Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday we have just observed, said:

"If the Lord did not answer prayer, I could not stand it. And if I did not believe in God who works His will with nations, I should despair of the Republic."

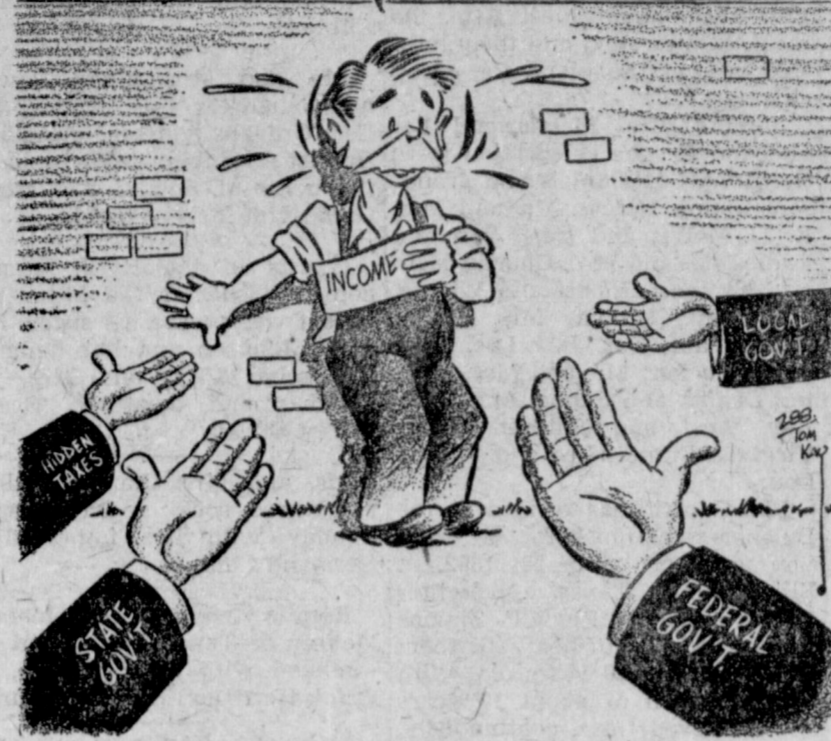

Man's emancipation from the despotism of autocratic leaders stems from the Holy Bible. When printing was developed in the 15th century, the Bible was the first book to be set in type for wide distribution. From the Book of Books men learned that every man is created "in the image of God"—that man was meant to be free.

Fortified with this knowledge, freedom-seeking men and women, in rebellion against tyranny in Europe, set out in little ships across the vast sea, to establish what became the United States of America. By industry, thrift, intelligence and faith they converted a great wilderness into a nation that has grown to be the most prosperous in all world history.

It was little wonder, then when the time came for these pioneers to break away from the mother country that they called upon their God for help. History tells us how Washington and his ragged, half-starved, poorly-equipped army knelt in the mud at Valley Forge and prayed—how their prayers were answered and they prevailed against a much more powerful and much better equipped enemy.

History further records that, freedom finally having been won, the first Congress labored in vain for many months to draft a Constitution for the new nation, until wise old Ben Franklin suggested that they again invoke the aid of Divine Providence. This they did and again God answered—our wonderful Constitution evolved.

Thus, in religious faith America was born and in religious faith over the succeeding generations, America grew and prospered. In recent years, there has been a "letdown" in that religious faith, and as a result, crime and corruption are sweeping the nation. Godless communism has infiltrated into both high and low places, because all too many Americans have forgotten that man is created "in the image of God," and was meant to be free. Therefore, it is heartening to know that once again we have a man in the White House who, as his first official act after taking the oath of office, humbly bows his head in prayer and asks the Almighty to give him and his colleagues "the power to discern clearly right from wrong."

That sense of discernment has been sadly lacking for some time at the nation's capital. It augurs well for the success of his administration and for America that President Eisenhower begins the greatest of many great services to his country with a plea to his God for guidance.

If you wanted to pave a road from the earth to the moon, 260,000,000 $1 bills—the equivalent of our national debt—would cover a strip 20 feet wide along the whole 256,471 miles, says an advertisement in World Petroleum.

THE BALLAD OF THE DOLEFUL $

"I want to be a dollar
That everywhere I go
The people who possess me
May see and feel and know
That with me in their pocket
They'll have one hundred pence,
And not in God be trusting
"For forty-seven cents!"
(This poem was used by William Jennings Bryan as part of his 1896 Presidential campaign. . . His fears seem to be coming true today—while the dollar was worth 100 cents in 1939, today's dollar has fallen in buying value to only 53 cents!)

Caught in a week-end traffic jam, you may have fumed that "it looks like everybody in the whole country is out riding!" . . . Could be. There are enough cars in our land to take everybody in it for a ride at the same time—actually about 43,000,000 automobiles registered.

The Dark
Can Kill You

America's millionth traffic victim has been dead a year. Yet auto wrecks go right on changing our country crossroads into killer corners.

Where's the villain?

Some say "more cars on the road these days." Some point to "reckless youths" . . . "lax laws" . . . "drunken driving" . . . "speeding."

But something else may be more to blame for auto accidents than any of these. Darkness. Plain old darkness.

Look at one case. In a Connecticut area 182 pedestrians were killed at night in two years—179 on poorly lighted streets.

Busy traffic centers are waking up fast, lighting their death-trap streets. Salt Lake City cut night deaths 92% in one area, Grand Rapids 78%, Bridgeport 98%.

Some small communities have been first to pick up the newest in lighting equipment. Oakwood, Ohio, has the largest installation of fluorescent street lamps in the country. And there's a broad-daylight look in Lyndonville, Vermont, even late at night. Fluorescent lighting as developed by General Electric has now been extended to street lighting.

Good street lighting has been a pet project of ours for years. General Electric engineers work with local officials on other community problems, too—traffic control, water shortage, waste disposal, farm and home modernization—wherever electricity can help progress. For progress is our most important product. General Electric Company, Department 2-123, Schenectady, N. Y.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Wrong "Train" of Thought

Most of us knew the streamliner stopped about four miles from town last Thursday — but we didn't know why . . .

Seems the train was hurrying along, then came the screeching of brakes — some fellow had pulled the Emergency Stop cord.

When the conductor asked him why he did it, he said, "The train was just going too fast—I wanted to get you to slow down."

From where I sit, that streamliner has been going at that speed for the past seven years with a perfect safety record and the passengers have always been pleased. Now—along comes a fellow who wants the train to go at his speed. Some people are like that. Some still would begrudge another person's right to a temperate glass of beer even though that person wouldn't dream of flashing a "Stop" sign on their preference for, say, milk, coffee or tea. Respecting the rights of others is the only way we can keep "on the right track."

is one of the darlings of the communists and his film is loaded with communist propaganda.

Common sense is on the Legion's side in this issue. Can you imagine good citizens paying good money for such mental poison, especially when a portion of their admission charge goes into a fund to hasten their destruction?

When we talk about freedom there is a basic principle that should be remembered. It is intended for good ideas and good people. Vicious ideas like criminals have no right to be free.

was a guest of the local Lions Club for a community tour and the club's regular dinner meeting. The tour delegation consisted of M. D. Kaderli, Weldon Cowan, J. M. Weinzapfel, Ralph Maglaughlin, Bill Turner, Gerald York, Virgil Dahlberg, Paul Fisher and Emmitt Yoder.

They started by visiting the cheese factory, livestock auction and Ford tractor agency in the city, then went to the country for a look at local farming practices.

They saw waterway, terraces, gully control structures, grass and legume projects, and other conservation measures on more than a dozen of the community farms. They saw milking parlors at Martin Bayer's and Paul Fisher's and a poultry project at J. H. Bayer's. The group also introduced Cox to Donald Bayer, winner of a national 4-H safety award. At Muenster High they looked over experimental patches of various grasses being grown by Future Farmers.

Thirty eight Muenster Lions and 34 visitors, including 11 Gainesville Lions, attended the dinner at 6:30 in the public school. The dinner had been postponed a week from its regular date to coincide with Cox's visit.

MRS. SCHMITZ RECOVERING

Mrs. John Schmitz of Dallas, formerly of Lindsay, is recovering from a major operation performed Friday at St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas. Attending her bedside since she became ill have been her daughters, Mmes. Ray Wilde and Gertrude Horn of Muegster who were with her until Sunday when her other daughters, Mmes. Martin Theimer of Oklahoma City and Grant Cox of Odessa arrived to be with her. She is in room 228 at St. Paul's.

Oliver Wendell Holmes was small in stature. On one occasion he attended a meeting at which a number of tall men were present. His diminutive size was conspicuous in contrast, causing an acquaintance to remark: "Well, Dr. Holmes, I suppose you feel rather small among all these big fellows."

"I do," the modest Dr. Holmes replied. But his irrepressible wit caused him to add, "I feel like a dime among a lot of pennies."
