VOLUME XVII

MUENSTER, COOKE, COUNTY, TEXAS,

JANUARY 30, 1953

NO. 10

G. Letson is New Owner-Manager of Muenster Theatre

After more than two and a half years of futile bloodshed in Korea we finally seem to be working out a method of dealing with Communism in Asia. This week's issue of U.S. News and World Report carries an interesting . . . and possibly significant . . . article on the man power potential in non-communist Asia which might be used in stopping the red advance.

Most heartening is the disclosure that the new administration is considering the potential with more than a little favor, not only as a means of bringing eventual peace and order out of the chaos that Moscow . . . with a generous assist from our former administration . . . has succeeded in spreading over the Orient.

The article is especially gratifying to this column in that it recommends a course that has been favored here since shortly after the beginning of hostilities, at least concerning the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa. It seemed only right that they should be given a chance to win back their home land. It seemed reasonable that we should accept the relief they were eager to give our men.

From the beginning this column has been optimistic about the eventual adoption of such a plan, as soon as our country could supply the guns, ammunition and supplies to support our potential allies. Now at last comes a faint indication that the optimism has been justified.

Possibilities behind this idea are enormous. The experts estimate that the 700 million non communist peoples of Asia could supply as many as 70 million fighting men. Disregarding India, Pakistan, Burma and Indonesia the figure shrinks to 19 million . . . in countries that have shown some concern about checking the communists. Included in that number are the exiled Chinese Nationalists and the people of Japan, South Korea, Formosa, Philippines, Thailand, Indo-China, Malaya and Singapore. Using only a fifth of those the non communist Asians could muster a force of almost four million.

Another phase of the recommended plan is to assist the Asians by military training personnel as well as supplies and guns. Experience with South Koreans has shown that the Asians with American training and equipment make excellent soldiers. Additional help from our navy and air force is another big factor.

Just now the emphasis is on enabling the Asiatics to take care of themselves . . . on the already demonstrated theory that stronger nations are able to cope with reds within their own borders. There's a hint also that red countries trying to send troops or supplies into one of the non-red countries could expect raids and other retaliatory measures. The first objective, then, is to stop the reds. But the ultimate objective is to kick them completely out of the Orient. That's the objective forced on us by the reds themselves, in their announced intention to conquer the whole world.

Of course the program isn't nearly as simple as the general outline seems. Probably the biggest job of all is to convince the people concerned that their best interest depends on teaming up with us. We've got to face the fact that lots of Asiatics have as much respect for Russia as for us, maybe more.

Looking back over the past several decades of history we can easily understand why Asiatics distrust Westerners. There's been too much colonialism and exploitation. Europeans especially have been guilty in that regard. Along with some shabby historical incidents is the fact that red propagandists are going strong with their campaign of lies and rosy promises. Millions of people don't know what the score is. Some even think Communism would be better than they have had. In too many areas the Asiatic disposition is far from favorable.

As far as America is concerned there are some redeeming factors. The Philippines, Japan, and South Korea can testify that we Effective next Sunday, George Letson is the new owner and operator of the Relax Theatre. In a deal completed with F. E. Schmitz during the past weekend, he bought all of the show's furniture and equipment and arranged to lease the building.

Since then Letson has announced that he will discontinue the Saturday free shows sponsored by local merchants during the past six months. The show this week Saturday, which is still under the former management and within the original six months agreement for free Saturday shows, will be the last of the free shows. After that Saturday prices will be the same as the rest of the week.

However, the regular price, for adult tickets will be reduced to 35 cents, which formerly was the special students' price. Children's price remains at 14 cent. The popcorn price is down, too. It's 5 cents for the large bag.

For a while at least the theatre will continue to skip Thursday and Friday shows, because of frequent school activities those nights. One exception is Irene Dunn's picture, "It Grows on Trees", which has been booked for Feb. 12 and 13 in order to get it on the February schedule.

Joe Horn continues as operator of the projection machine, Mrs. Letson will take charge of ticket sales and Jimmy Hellman will handle the concessions booth. Letson will take over the show's administrative work during spare time from his teaching duties at Muenster High School.

Aubrey Jennings returned to regular work at the cheese plant Monday after being off duty since the latter part of December. A recurrence of illness resulting from an army-day back injury kept him in bed most of the time for almost four weeks.

Mrs. John Klement returned home Tuesday after receiving medical care at Gainesville Sanitarium. She has been confined to bed most of the time during the past month and has been in and out of the hospital several times.

To prevent permanent stiffness in his fingers, Bob Sampels of route 3, Muenster, will undergo surgery by specialists in Fort Worth. He hurt his hand playing ball last year. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Sampels.

Hugo Wilde was back at his place of business Monday for the first time since undergoing a major operation about two weeks previously in Fort Worth.

Ronnie Yosten received medical care at M&S Hospital during the week. He is the three-year old son of the Richard Yostens, 802 N. Morris, Gainesville.

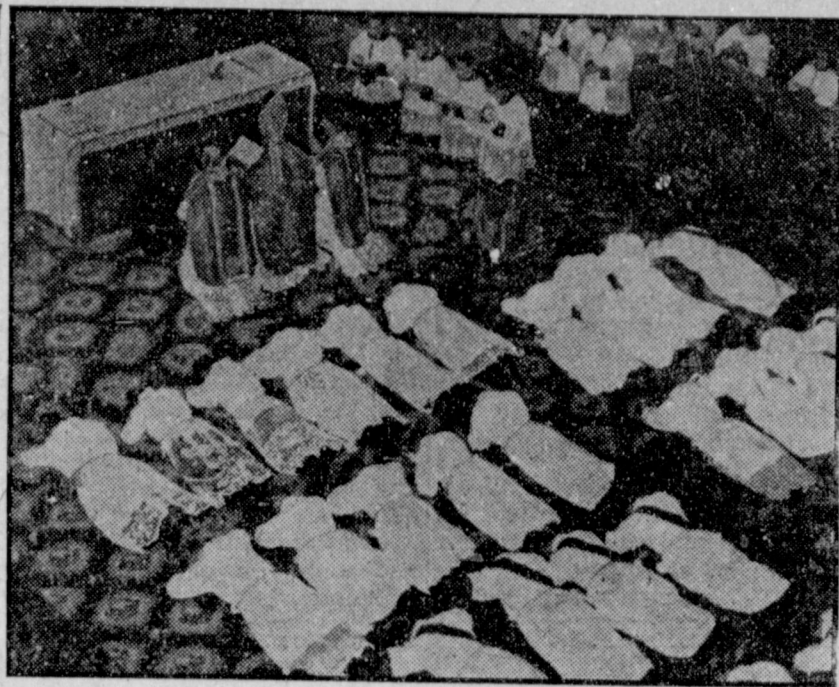

MHS Cagers Face Tough Test Friday

Whether or not the MHS cagers have a chance at the top spot in this year's conference race depends to a great extent on the contests with Prairie Valley here Friday night. By upsetting the two teams, a stunt that the locals have never accomplished before, they could remain in the running for conference lead or tie . . . provided that other games in the race break the right way.

At the present time Saint Jo boys and Prairie Valley girls are both undefeated. Each Muenster team has lost two of the five conference games so far.

In the first Muenster-Prairie Valley encounter at Prairie Valley, the MHS girls went down in a 30-24 defeat. The boys, with Aytes, Richey and Whitt out with flu, took a 70-24 drubbing. Playing their regulars on their home court, Muenster teams have a chance to break the Prairie Valley jinx Friday.

Jake Horn Jr., and son, Jerry, of Windthorst visited his mother, Mrs. J. S. Horn, last Wednesday

Area Gets Second Sample of Winter

Muenster had its second sample of winter weather last week Friday . . . in appearance, that is, though not in temperature.

Snow started falling early in the morning and reached a depth of about 3 inches before noon. But it did not last long. Rising temperature melted most of it before the day was over, and continued balmy weather Saturday finished all but heavy drifts and shaded spots.

Its moisture content measured .23. A light rain late Thursday and early Friday measured .21.

One Date Remains Open on '53 Hornet Football Schedule

Nine of the 10 football games to be played by the 1953 Muenster High Hornets have been scheduled, according to information released this week by Superintendent Weldon Cowan.

The list includes 6 conference games, 3 here and 3 on the opponents' fields. They are: Sept. 25, Alvord, there; Oct. 1, Era, there; Oct. 23, Sanger, here; Oct. 30, Callisburg, there; Nov. 6, Saint Jo, here; Nov. 12, Valley View (Cooke) here.

Non conference games include the opener with Whitesboro in Leeper Stadium, Gainesville, on Sept. 11. The Sept. 18 date is to be filled by a game here, if possible. On Oct. 9 the Hornets play Boyd there and on Oct. 16 they play Valley View (Wichita County) there.

Boyd, a 1952 district member is in another conference for '53 and Alvord is a new district member.

Virgil Welch of Callisburg is chairman of the district for '53. Cowan served as chairman last year.

Local CDA Court Has Jubilee Dinner

The Muenster Catholic Daughters of America observed the golden jubilee of the National CD of A with a banquet for members and their guests Saturday night in the parish lunch room at 7:30. About 120 persons attended.

Mrs. Ervin Hamric emceed the after dinner program and gave a brief history of the local court. Mrs. Paul Fisher, grand regent, presented a short history of the national organization, and Father Louis Deuster, court chaplain, delivered the principal address. He spoke on "Charity and Unity", motto of the Catholic Daughters.

Mrs. Fisher's talk revealed that the organization was founded by a very small group of Catholic women and has expanded to extend throughout all America and three foreign countries. The one court has grown into 1600 courts.

The Catholic Daughters attained national prominence in 1907 by denouncing the religious persecution in France. This was the first time a body of Catholic women publicly expressed views on such a grave world problem, Mrs. Fisher said. Today the courts are constantly alert to national legislation effecting church and country, she continued.

Mrs. Hamric's talk informed her

Charlie Swofford's Mother Passes On

Mrs. C. J. Swofford, mother of Charlie Swofford, passed away Saturday at 7 p.m. in Edmond, Okla. She was 83 years old.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Edmond. Charlie left Saturday morning after receiving word that his mother, who had been ill, had suddenly become worse.

She was the widow of Charles J. Swofford, an early day teacher in the Rosston, Era and Forestburg schools where he taught during the 1880's, before going to Oklahoma in 1901 to teach. A native of North Carolina, Mrs. Swofford made the trip to Texas as a young girl with her parents in a prairie schooner. They settled in the Rosston area.

Survivors are two sons, John of Tulsa and Charlie of Muenster, two daughters, Miss Ruth Swofford of Edmond, and Miss Lyndal Swofford of Malcolm, Ill.

Basketball Teams Upset Forestburg

Both Muenster High teams made a strong start in the second half of the conference basketball race by winning the double header at Forestburg last Thursday night. And both games were tight defensive thrillers with lots of action on the floor although there wasn't much to show for it on the scoreboard.

The opening tussle made history, the first victory ever for Muenster girls over the Forestburg sextet. In the first half points were few and far between as Muenster took the slim lead of 8 to 7. The next period was more of the same until the late minutes when Muenster put on a brief spurge to win 21-15. Carol Hellman accounted for 17 of the points and Sis Myrick for the other 4.

The boys' game was another defensive contest but differed in that Forestburg took an early lead and held it until the half. The count was 7-4 at the quarter and 17-10 at the half.

However the game changed

Johnny Rohmer and Florence Fette Wed In 2-Ring Ceremony

Miss Florence Fette and Johnny Rohmer exchanged marriage vows in Sacred Heart church Tuesday morning in services performed at 8:30. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fette and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rohmer, all of Muenster.

Rev. Louis Deuster performed the double ring ceremony and officiated at the nuptial high mass. The altar before which the couple recited their vows was adorned with white mums and potted ferns.

Anthony Luke, organist, presented the pre-nuptial music and played the traditional wedding marches. He remained at the organ to assist the church choir in singing the mass, Missa Tertio.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a becoming light blue Lanotweed three-piece suit with a small scalloped hat of white taffeta daisies with puffed centers dotted with rhinestones and shoulder length veil sprinkled with rhinestones. Other accessories were in navy blue. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Leonard Hartman attended her sister as bride's matron wearing a gold-Scallop-Tweed three-piece suit with brown and spice accessories and a red carnation corsage.

Emil Rohmer was best man for his brother. Ushers were Herbie Herr, Wilfred Walterscheid, and Jerry Fette, home on leave from Warren AFB, Cheyenne, Wyoming. Mass servers were cousins of the couple: Jimmy Fette, David Klement, Billy Ray Otto, Virgil Henscheid and Bernard Hesse.

The bride's mother wore a black faille suit with black accessories and the groom's mother wore a dusty rose crepe ensemble with brown accessories. Both had white carnation corsages as did the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. Joe Otto and Mrs. Henry Fette. All men in the wedding party wore navy blue suits and boutonnières of white carnations.

After the services, brunch was served in the home of the bride's grandparents, the Joe Ottos. The bridal party, the pastors, ushers and parents of the couple were guests. Hostess duties were shared by Mmes. Arthur Hellman, Johnny Klement, Isabel Fette and Harry Otto.

Also honored at the breakfast were Mr. and Mrs. Otto whose 47th wedding anniversary occurred on Jan. 25 and was observed Tuesday.

The bride's table was centered with a low arrangement of blue and white mums. The other table was adorned with red roses. The Ottos' daughter, Miss Lorraine Otto of Amarillo, unable to be present, sent a dozen red roses for her parents' anniversary. Sharing honors were the groom's parents whose 41st wedding anniversary was on the 25th of January. They also observed it Tuesday.

At 4:30 an informal reception began in the parish hall and at six a buffet supper was served to about 175 guests. Misses Patsy and Della Fette, sisters of the bride, presided at the guest book.

The bride's colors, blue and gold, combined with white and with green, were stressed in the hall decorations and were repeated on the bride's table which was centered with a three-tier cake and was further adorned with white wedding bells in graduated sizes in masses of fern on either side of the cake. Two other cakes were decorated in keeping with anniversaries being observed by the Ottos and Rohmers. Blue, white and yellow mums were placed at vantage spots throughout the hall.

A dance in the VFW Hall at night concluded the day's festivities.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the bride was wearing the outfit in which she was married and a white carnation corsage. They will make their home in Muenster when they return. He is employed here by T. P. Frost in the oil fields.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School with the class of 1950 and took nurses training at Saint Paul's Hospital in Dallas. Mr. Rohmer is an overseas veteran of World War II.

Pre-Nuptial Shower
Honoring the bride-elect, a pre-nuptial shower was given Sunday afternoon in the parish hall.

Thirty-five guests enjoyed games and refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee. The gift table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with a bride doll.

The American Way

OUT OF THE MUDDLE
 By George Peck

On the eve of his leave-taking as president of General Motors Corporation, Charles E. Wilson and his fellow-executives launched a contest aimed at a "defense" of the American people—just before Mr. Wilson took on the even bigger job of Secretary of Defense in the Eisenhower Cabinet. This contest is to get America's highway and traffic system "out of the muddle." History may prove this to have been the most important project undertaken by General Motors during the many years during which Mr. Wilson was top executive of that corporation.

With the horrible loss of life due to traffic accidents over the recent holidays so fresh in our minds, the importance of finding some method to eliminate death-creating and costly congestion on our highways is plainly evident. "The General Motors Better

Highway Awards Contest" is open to any American, including G. M. employees. A total of 162 prizes totaling $194,000 is offered by the company, ranging from $25,000 to $500. The details regarding these prizes and how to enter the contest will be given in my next article. In this article I have only space to quote a part of Mr. Wilson's remarks in launching the contest. From here on, it is our Secretary of Defense speaking:

I would like to visit with you for a few minutes about a subject I think is extremely important to every man and woman in the United States. I'm speaking, of course, about the highway problem—costly to all of us in money, time, pleasure, and lives.

I am concerned about it. General Motors is concerned about it. Everyone in the United States should be, because it affects every one of us. It makes everything we use cost a little more—because everything we use is delayed at one time or another by highway congestion...

When we were building our highway system during the twenties, no one dreamed people would want and need the 53 million motor vehicles we now have. No one dreamed that we would need to drive our cars and trucks more than a billion miles every day. And, during and since World War II, few realized what would result from putting off highway improvement in the interest of all-out national defense...

Our population will continue to increase for many years to come. That means that the need for motor vehicles will continue to increase. And that means that instead of the 53 million cars and trucks of today, our people will need and want and own as many as 80 million cars and trucks 25 years from now!

Yet, in the face of this prospective load on our highways—in the face of the increasing load that already has been placed on our 20-year-old highway system—the fact is we have actually been spending less and less on our highways! In business terms, that is the equivalent of liquidating an important asset.

Almost 60,000,000 people ride to work and school in this country every day. Few of them get too much upset if they waste 10 minutes each way because of rush-hour traffic. Nevertheless, all together, they would be wasting 20,000,000 hours every day!

At only a penny a minute, the value of the time wasted would pay for the increased highway improvement we need every year.

We must persuade each other that our lost minutes added to the lost minutes of all our fellow citizens adds up to millions of lost hours. We must persuade each other that the extra pennies of extra transportation costs resulting from highway congestion add up to extra dollars out of the pockets of each of us.

To get the job done, we must make clear to our political leaders what we want and need and recognize we must pay for.

So, to that end—to the end of getting people in every walk of American life to think and talk about the highway problems, in terms of their own interest—General Motors has undertaken the sponsorship of the nation-wide contest.

We hope and believe the 162 prizes are substantial enough to attract a tremendous number of entries—to make it worth while for a tremendous number of people to study the facts of the highway problem and to think of the facts in terms of their own and the public interest.

We hope this contest will stimulate a great national educational program. We hope it will get millions of our people thinking and asking questions about the highway problem. And, we hope it will help answer the problems of financing, planning, and administration that we are involved.

We hope that the winner will come up with an idea worth to the nation 25 times the first award of $25,000. We assume that any or all the winners will contribute ideas worth far more to the nation than the total of $194,000 in prizes. I hope that you, yourself, will participate in our contest. I hope that you will actively encourage the participation of all who want better highways and have any ideas about how we can get them.

Competition

gives you the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices

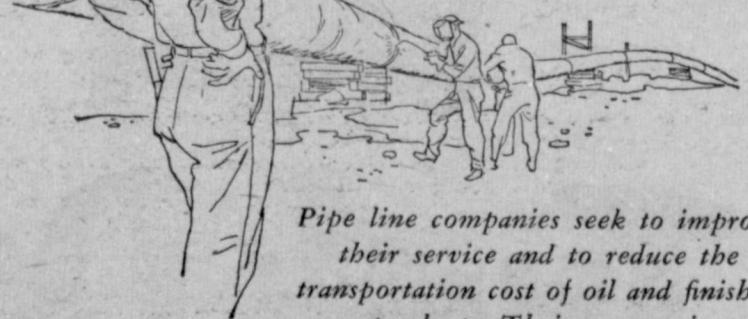

Competition begins with the search for oil.

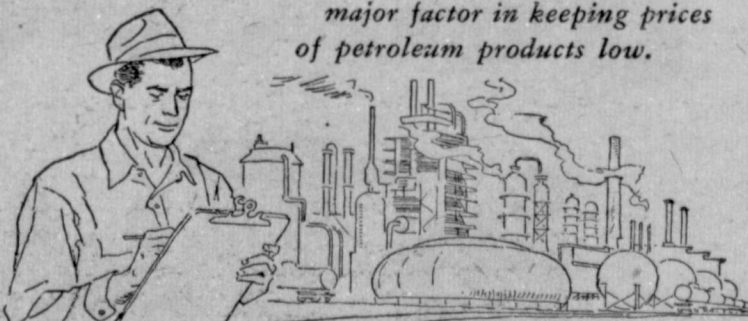

Improved drilling and producing methods increase supplies of oil at reasonable prices.

Pipe line companies seek to improve their service and to reduce the transportation cost of oil and finished products. Their success is a major factor in keeping prices of petroleum products low.

Competitive refineries never let a day pass without trying to find a better way to make more and better petroleum products for your use.

Your service station dealer competes in product quality and service with all the other dealers in your neighborhood.

The U. S. oil business is one of the most highly competitive industries in this country and, for that matter, in the world. Every time you buy a gallon of gasoline or a quart of motor oil, there are at least 100 companies that would like you to buy from them.

Your purchase stimulates competition far beyond the service station driveway where you make it. It stirs scientists to find more oil for your use. It urges production men to produce oil more efficiently and economically and with less waste. It extends through low-cost transportation pipe lines to refineries that seek better ways to make more and better petroleum products to compete for your business.

Is this competition a good thing?

It certainly is. It's a good thing for you because you get the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices. It's a good thing for the country because it stimulates the continuous development and conservation of a vital natural resource. And it's a good thing for the oil business: competition keeps the industry strong, vigorous, progressive.

Surprise Ending!

That raffle for our Volunteer Fire Department went over fine. We're going to have money to get a new engine—and then some.

Our local merchants really donated some wonderful prizes. Like Buzz Ellis, the radio-TV dealer, giving that big television set... and the Superior Motors putting up a brand-new car.

There was a humorous note, too. The prize of a year's supply of coal—donated by Baker Coal Yard—was won by Mrs. Thayer, whose husband is the biggest fuel-oil dealer in the county! What did

Mrs. Thayer do with the coal? She gave it to a church she's not even a member of. (Her Church uses her husband's fuel oil.)

From where I sit, that's real generosity. But then, Mrs. Thayer never did believe in dividing people into groups. She's "for" everybody—whatever church they go to, whether they like TV or radio, people who enjoy temperate beer, people who don't. A really warm-hearted person.

Soil Conservation Notes

If you farm on the grand prairie soils around Muenster, you need sweet clover, according to technicians of the local soil conservation service.

Madrid and Biennial White sweet clovers almost equal alfalfa in feeding value and yield, the technicians explain. These deep rooted legumes not only provide hay and grazing but also aid in the conservation of soil and water, improve soil condition, increase fertility and provide additional income from seed production.

The two-year clovers will yield from one to two tons of hay per acre or furnish five to seven months of grazing the first year. In February or March of the second year the clover comes out from the old root stalk. During the second growing season one to two tons of hay may be harvested per acre or the clover can furnish some early spring grazing and a 200 to 400 pound seed crop may be harvested.

Feeding analysis shows that sweet clover hay contains from 10 to 14 per cent digestible protein.

Either Madrid or Biennial White may be overseeded in Johnson grass meadows and the clover and grass combination will provide a good hay or grazing crop. Satisfactory results have also been obtained by overseeding these clovers in fall sown small grains. The clover usually does not interfere with the growth of the grain. After the grain has been harvested the clover may be cut for hay or used as supplemental pasture.

The Upper Elm-Red Conservation grain-fertilizer drills to aid land-owners cooperating with the district program to get clovers and other legumes planted on their land properly. Those who have charge of routing and maintenance of the drills in the Muenster area are Meinrad Hesse, Alfred Bayer, Joe Hoening and Norbert Koesler of Muenster; Bill Crump of Saint Jo; Jake Biffle Jr. of Myra, and Ben Perryman of Forestburg.

Some two-year clover was harvested around Muenster last year in spite of the severe drought. Among those harvesting seed are Wilfred Reiter, Oscar Walter, Henry Wiesman, Ray Klement, John Rohmer, Alfred Bayer, Alois Trubenbach, Ike Fulton, Joe Knauf, Ted Redman, Paul Fetsch, Eddie Fleitman and W. H. Endres.

"Put clover to work on your farm. Prepare now to sow at least a part of your land to this soil improving crop and increase production on those lazy acres", the local SCS personnel advises.

Pvt. Richard Pittner, whose wife, Shirley Jean, lives on route 1, Muenster, is serving in Japan with the 24th Infantry Division. Now receiving intensive field training, the 24th is part of the security forces in Japan. Before being rotated out of line early in 1952, Pittner spent 19 months in Korea as a cannoner. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. Pittner of Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Fleitman announce the birth of a daughter, weight seven pounds 11 ounces, Friday, Jan. 23, at Gainesville Sanitarium. Mrs. Charles Loerwald of Lindsay is the maternal grandmother. The Fleitmans lived at Lindsay before moving to Valley View.

OUT OF TOWN RELATIVES ATTEND BEZNER FUNERAL

Among out of town relatives at John Bezner's funeral Tuesday were the Alex Flusches and daughter, Louise Ann of Corpus Christi, Mrs. Hugo Flusche and daughter, Mrs. Marie Carter of Electra, A. C. Flusche of Denison, Mrs. Louis Bezner and two sons of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Rohleder of Fort Worth, the Norbert Flusches of Saint Jo, Richard Flusche, Max Flusche and sons, Donald and Gene, Mr. and Mrs. John Schmitz, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schmitz, Al Bezner, Dutch Metzler and Cotton Schmitz, all of Dallas.

GIFT PARTY HONORS MRS. HAROLD SCHMITZ

Mrs. Harold Schmitz of Lindsay was complimented with a gift party Sunday afternoon in her home. About 25 guests attended and presented pastel colored gifts to the honoree. Hostess duties were shared by Misses Theresa Loerwald of Lindsay, Alberta Mages of Gainesville, and Henriette Mages of Muenster.

Paper and pencil games entertained the guests until the honoree displayed the gifts, presented to her in a decorated bassinet. The party was concluded with the serving of refreshments.

Plate favors were novel miniature storks fashioned from safety pins and diaper shaped mint cups.

CDA Banquet ---

listeners that the local court was organized on Dec. 6, 1914, with 27 members. She named the charter members.

Entertainment numbers consisted of a piano selection by Dolores Boyles, a vocal solo with an encore by Allen Dale Eberhart with Anthony Luke at the piano, two selections by a group of musicians from the Muenster Band under the direction of Bill Searcy, and a piano duet by Becky Mosman and Carolyn Swirczynski. All taking part were children of members.

Decorations in the hall and on the tables stressed the CDA colors of purple and gold. Gold emphasized the 50th anniversary theme. Large gold numerals, 50, centered pleated purple foil in sunburst effect back of the speakers' table. The board was centered with purple maline bands marked with "Golden Jubilee Catholic Daughters of America". Other table decorations consisted of white mums and snapdragons and gold foliage, white candles banded in gold, and purple and gold place cards.

Mmes. Paul Fisher, Frank Kathman and C. A. Fisher were co-chairmen; Mmes. John Fisher, Herbert Meurer and John Mosman were in charge of entertainment features, and Mmes. Steve Moster, Joe Luke and Frank Yosten and Miss Olivia Stock were in charge of decorations.

promptly at the opening of the second half as Aytes and Richey started hitting the basket regularly. In less than two minutes they wiped out the opponents' lead and by the end of the third quarter Muenster led 30-24. The final quarter reverted to another defensive contest and the game ended with Muenster ahead 34-30. Aytes and Richey shared scoring honors with 13 each.

In non conference encounters with Nocona Saturday and Monday the story was different. At Nocona Saturday night Muenster girls made a good start to lead 19-16 at the half, but Nocona started clicking in the second half and forged ahead to 36-25 victory.

Returning the game here Monday night Nocona girls jumped ahead to a half time lead of 29-13. The second half was tighter and have been honestly concerned with their welfare. And perhaps Chinese Nationalists understand that we as a nation are still their friends in spite of the shameful betrayal by our big shots a few years ago.

So, before an anti-communist alliance can be set up, the Western powers have a mighty big selling job to do. Our prospective allies must have assurance that the West will not continue to dominate and exploit them. At the same time they must be convinced that communism will bring greater misery than they have ever known before.

Obviously this isn't a job that can be handled in a few days, nor is it one that can be accomplished simply by outfoxing the Reds. Success depends on the long slow process of charting a course guided strictly by principle and working as diligently as the Reds themselves to convince people that our side is the best for them.

Stalin and his gang have drawn the line of division in this conflict. It's godless atheism versus Christianity and all other religions. The Reds are consistent in conducting their fight according to their diabolical standards. Christian nations should be equally consistent and conduct their campaign according to their noble standards.

And since our nation seems destined to lead this modern crusade it ought to take the lead in applying Christianity. To convince the world that we are on the right side we first have to be on the right side . . . meaning God's side . . . in all dealings with all countries.

CARD OF THANKS

Many thanks to all who remembered me during my illness with greeting cards, prayers, get-well wishes and other kindnesses.

Mrs. John Klement

Nocona went on to a 49-31 victory. In both games Hellman scored high for Muenster and Waters for Nocona.

Muenster boys competing with the AA Nocona discovered Saturday night that they were completely outclassed. The Nocona scoring spree ended 93-34. Here Monday Nocona left a few of its hot shots off the lineup and still won 59-40.
