Crop Outlook Dims As Worms Invade Local Grain Fields

Was it just a coincidence that a Russian built MIG jet plane, which a Polish pilot flew to freedom only a few weeks ago, was returned to the iron curtain immediately after William Oatis was released from prison in Czechoslovakia? Oatis says it was his wife's letter that softened the communist hearts, and state department officials say there was no connection between the two incidents.

While it is possible that both of those statements are true, we can't overlook the fact that, true or false our government very likely prefers to have us think that way. After the storm of indignation following our ransom of other captives from behind the iron curtain it became evident that the American public does not relish the thought of submitting to the demands of international kidnapers. After all, it is somewhat humiliating to admit that Uncle Sam tolerates this sort of pushing around.

On the other hand there is some question as to whether the exchange of a plane for one of our citizens, while irking us somewhat, might not have a certain propaganda value behind the iron curtain. While reds could gloat over their hard bargain they could not keep their subjects from realizing that America places a high value on the welfare of its individuals. Incidents like that only serve to point out the big lie in the usual propaganda handed out in communist countries.

Considering General Clark's offer to red pilots to fly in and surrender a MIG, we might say that the return of the plane was equivalent to a ransom payment of $50,000. Folks everywhere know the reds do not put that kind of value on one person's welfare.

As regards Oatis himself, there is something suspicious about his docile attitude. He is too reluctant to find fault with his captors and too anxious to point out that reporting such as he was accustomed to in America constitutes a violation of the Czech concept of security. There's something fishy about the whole affair and it's a safe bet that future disclosures will be more interesting than those we have had up to now.

Getting back to General Clark's offer of $50,000 for every MIG brought in, the absence of a favorable report so far has been discouraging. If any red pilots have responded to the offer it must be a military secret. Of course we have no way of knowing whether we have gained in another way . . . by giving the loyal red pilots, a good case of jitters. Some experts have guessed that the general's offer could keep the red flyers plenty worried over the possibility of a companion suddenly streaking for freedom. Distrust runs rampant among commies anyway, so it's very possible that they are having a serious morale problem.

Perhaps the offer is paying off in that way. According to recent reports our Sabes have been dealing the MIGs a great deal more misery than usual. What's happened? Are the red pilots spending too much time watching one another?

We like to think that it is working out that way. What's more, reason tells us that it could very easily work out that way. Piloting one of those planes demands a level of intelligence that is far from compatible with red standards. The flyers, probably more than any others, could be expected to have a concept of liberty and to make a break for it. There's plenty reason why the loyal red flyers should be plagued by suspicion . . . and we may be pleased some day to learn that this was one of the toughest psychological blows our country has dealt the commies.

But even if that's true we're in no position to gloat. Right (Continued on Page 12)

Rain Measures 1.99

Moisture in the Muenster area is still ideal as a result of timely rain which fell during the weekend. Showers spread over most of last Friday added to 1.4 in. and other rain amounted to .59 in. The month's total to date is 3.32 and the year's total is 11.70.

In spite of ideal weather, the outlook for 1953 grain crops in the Muenster area is dwindling as army worms make their dreaded appearance in oats and wheat fields. The big question in farmers' minds now is how much the pests will destroy before cutting time . . . or before a good blistering heat wave puts the worms out of business.

According to scattered reports the infestation is worst in the area northeast of Muenster. Some small patches of oats are said to be so badly stripped that they will not be worth harvesting.

Oats is taking the real beating. The worms operate by devouring the fine stem supporting the grain kernel. When they get through the cash crop is on the ground, where it cannot be harvested. Their damage in wheat is less serious. They feed on the beards, leaving the kernels undisturbed in the heads, but with possibly less chance of maturing satisfactorily.

The worms are also active in alfalfa and vetch fields, however the damage caused there is less serious, affecting the next cutting only. After that the plants have a chance to recover and produce normally.

Respect for Laws Is Key to Liberty, MHS Seniors Told

Father R. A. Tynan of Jesuit High, Dallas, admonished graduates of Muenster High Sunday night that the key to liberty as bestowed by Almighty God and guaranteed by our constitution is respect for properly constituted authority. "Call it obedience or cooperation," he said, "it is the essential without which the human society cannot exist in harmony and individuals cannot live in happiness."

In his baccalaureate sermon to the twenty three seniors Father Tynan said that every individual's freedom is limited by the Divine and human laws which exist to protect the rights of others. Failure to observe that limit of freedom, he added, accounts for most of the world's miseries. A petty criminal and a Hitler are alike in that both do whatever they please without regard for others.

He further stated that this violation of human rights and disregard for proper authority is becoming a serious problem in rural as well as urban areas, and as such it becomes a challenge to boys and girls now graduating from the rural schools.

The baccalaureate service opened with invocation by Rev. Andy Stowe and closed with benediction by Father Louis Deuster. Also on the program were vocal numbers by the Junior class. Rita Cain played the processional and recessional.

Tigers Rained out Of Champ Play-off

Because of rain in Austin last Saturday the Texas Academic League will not have a baseball champion this year. Instead it will have two district champions sharing the honor of state co-champ.

Father Cletus Post, coach of the Sacred Heart High Tigers disclosed Tuesday that his team and the Boys' Ranch Ranchers will play, probably the latter part of the week, for the North Texas district title, and St. Anthony's of San Antonio and St. Edward's of Austin will play for the South Texas district title.

The four teams were in Austin Saturday for a play-off to decide the state title and were rained out about an hour before the time scheduled for the first game.

Deprived of their game, the Tigers made it a sightseeing trip. They visited the state capitol and toured the city and also stopped in Waco to see the storm wreckage.

Adults accompanying the boys were Martin Bayer, George Mollenkopf and Melvin Herr.

Wind, Hail Strike In Forestburg Area

Fifteen minutes of furious wind, hail and rainstorm demolished crops and caused considerable other damage Monday about 7 p.m. in a small area between Forestburg and Montague.

Weldon Holland gave some of the details after visiting his father J. H. Holland Tuesday afternoon. According to the report a rain gauge on Mr. Holland's place registered five inches after the combined storm and cloudburst and hailstones in drifts were knee deep. Corn, formerly 15 to 18 inches tall had been reduced to leafless stubs varying from three to eight inches and a field of young castor beans was completely wiped out. At the same time the roof was torn off his barn.

As an exhibit Weldon had a cabbage plant that went through the hailstorm. The head looked as though it had been grazed by a shotgun blast and outside leaves were partly shredded, partly beaten away.

The elder Holland said that the storm hit a comparatively small area, probably 12 to 15 square miles.

in touch with her children. Mr. Bernauer's sister, Mrs. Josephine Wernet, said they suffered no storm damage except the loss of the roof from their home. One of her daughters had been shopping in the furniture store that was demolished but left less than an hour before the cyclone hit.

Miss Leoba Henscheid became the bride of George Mollenkopf Jr. Monday morning in a double ring ceremony performed in Sacred Heart church at 8:30. Rev. Cletus Post officiated at the service and was celebrant of the nuptial high mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Henscheid and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mollenkopf.

The church choir, under direction of Leo Henscheid, uncle of the bride, presented the wedding music, with Anthony Luke, organist, at the console.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely wedding gown of pastel pink net over taffeta. It was ballerina length designed with a fitted strapless bodice topped with a short embroidered pink net jacket with high neck and short sleeves.

A ruffled peplum accented the bouffant skirt and she wore pink net gauntlets. Her finger tip veil of illusion fell from a heart shaped headdress studded with rhinestones. Her flowers were an orchid and stephanotis on top of a white prayerbook.

Miss Alma Henscheid, sister of the bride, was maid of honor wearing a pastel blue net frock over taffeta with a fitted bodice topped with a bolero and wide ballerina length skirt. Her matching half hat and blue net muff were adorned with pink rosebuds.

James Mollenkopf, brother of the groom was best man. Leo Hesse and Tony Yosten, cousins of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Henscheid attended her daughter's wedding in a charreuse ensemble with navy accessories, and Mrs. Mollenkopf wore a dark floral sheer with navy and white accessories. Both had white carnation corsages.

Miss Joaline Mollenkopf, sister of the groom, presented a vocal solo, "On This Day", as a post-nuptial selection while the bride and groom went to the side altar to Mary's May shrine where the bride placed a cascading bouquet of pink gladioli.

Immediately after the services a wedding breakfast was served in the Mollenkopf home. Mrs. L. V. Henry, aunt of the groom, was hostess. Members of the bridal party, their immediate families and the pastors were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Henscheid were hosts for a reception, in their home in the afternoon and a buffet supper followed in the parish hall. Miss Regina Henscheid, a sister of the bride, presided at the bride's book, registering 125 guests.

The Henscheid home and the hall both carried out decorative themes in the bride's colors. The bride's table held the three-tier wedding cake on a mirror reflector flanked by pink and blue tapers in crystal holders. Madonna lilies decorated the board and the hall.

A dance in the VFW Hall at night concluded the day's festivities.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the bride was wearing a white linen two-piece suit with pink accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

They will make their home here. He is employed with F&M Drilling Co.

Both are graduates of Sacred Heart High school with the class of 1952.

Among out of town wedding guests were the L. V. Henrys and the Ralph Breedings of Gainesville, the Fred Steinbergers of Winthorst, and Ronald Herr of Lubbock.

Pre-Nuptial Courtesy

As a pre-nuptial courtesy Miss Henscheid was honored with a miscellaneous gift party last Wednesday night in the home of her parents with her five sisters as co-hostesses. They presented the honoree with a red carnation corsage and directed games after which they served cherry pie, ice cream and coffee to 30 guests.

The gift table was covered with a lace cloth and was centered with an arrangement of red roses flanked by pictures of the engaged couple.

LIBERTY OR LICENSE?

By Dr. Alfred P. Haake

Considerable heat is generating over alleged intent of the House Committee on Un-American Activities to attack the clergy for communist sympathies and activities. It is a delicate subject, for it impinges on one of the most intimate prerogatives of the individual citizen, the relationship of that individual to God.

But there is another side to the question. We must honestly ask ourselves: "Has the government the right to investigate the ordinary citizen and not be permitted to question ministers, rabbis and priests? Are members of the clergy exempt from laws that require other citizens to recognize their duties to their country and forbid them from committing acts, open or subversive, contrary to the laws and life of their country? When a citizen is ordained as the minister of a church is he thereby released from his duties and responsibilities as a citizen?"

The question is not difficult to answer. The right-minded clergy and they are legion, will be first to declare that all citizens are subject to the laws of their country and that the government must treat them all alike, be they lawyers, lecturers, business men or ministers. Congress is well within its rights and sphere of duty in questioning even clergymen regarding communist activity.

We recognize and respect the obligations of an ordained minister to his Creator and his church, his high calling of bringing redemption to men. If the relationship of a man with his doctor or his wife merit respect for its confidential nature, surely the relationship of a man with his priest, rabbi or minister is entitled to no less.

But, being a minister is not the sole activity of a clergyman. He eats, sleeps, buys a newspaper, takes a ride in a public conveyance, plays golf and in hundreds of ways behaves as does any ordinary citizen of our country. Surely he cannot claim exemption from his duties and responsibilities of citizenship because of special activities in prayer and religious counsel. To take such a position would be to permit murder with impunity if committed in the name and under the aegis of religion.

But there is perhaps a better reason for clergymen welcoming any investigation that may be

Potash from Behind "Iron Curtain" Threatens U.S. Fertilizer Industry

Congressional hearings in Washington have brought out the fact that Russian-produced potash is being brought into the United States at cut-rate prices in order to garner dollars for trade and disrupt the American potash industry. Potash is a major ingredient in mixed fertilizers.

initiated in search of communist activities among the clergy. The man whose hands are clean does not mind lifting them above the table. He whose conscience is clear in service of God and his fellow-man has nothing really to fear from being asked whether or not he is a member of the Communist Party and committed to destruction of the pillars of the very temple of the Constitution under whose roof he claims protection against investigation. It is not really freedom of religion that is at stake in such an inquiry. And the honest man does not demand for himself a cloak he does not need and which can be used to hide a rascal.

One remembers the furor or protest against even questioning the loyalty of one Alger Hiss and the violent denunciations of those who sought the truth concerning his activities. One notices that those who subsequently have actually been found guilty of subversive and disloyal activities were loud in their protests against alleged violation of their constitutional rights.

Let members of the clergy examine themselves, seek out any possible errors in understanding and presentation, mistaken sympathies and loyalties, and correct any faults on their own initiative. This would be better than insisting on a privileged exemption from obedience to their country's laws and the enjoyment of treatment not accorded to the ordinary citizen. Undoubtedly, the vast majority of clergymen agree that religion should and can be free, but not that liberty should become license without adequate responsibility to their fellow citizens and government, as well as to God.

$150 SPENT COLLECTING 45c

The Army spent $150 collecting 45 cents from a former soldier who lost a service necktie, according to the Indianapolis News.

The soldier lost the tie while in service. However, he had been discharged, and was 8,000 miles from the area where the tie was lost before the Army finally caught up with him, the paper explained.

"I never would have believed it," the veteran remarked, on learning of the expense the Army had incurred in order to present its 45-cent bill.

70 Million Americans See God's Float

By Rev. James Keller

Only a few days before the Inaugural Parade of last January, Mr. George P. Lamb, a Washington lawyer and an official of the Committee on Floats, noticed what to him was a serious omission.

In a last-minute survey of parade plans he suddenly realized that of the more than forty floats planned, depicting everything from a scene on an Augusta golf course to a waterfall in Idaho, there was not one that directed attention to the fact that our Nation is founded on a belief in God.

It seemed too late to remedy the omission. But Mr. Lamb decided it was worth a try. He spoke to two associates about it. They were enthusiastic about his idea and were sure something could be done.

It was a race against time. Plans were immediately begun. A design for "God's Float" was drawn up. It was to contain a center-piece in the form of a place of worship. On the sides would be enlarged photographs of various scenes of worship, with the phrases "In God We Trust" and "Freedom to Worship", printed below in bold letters.

The design was submitted to the committee in charge. They were so impressed that without delay they not only approved, but put this last-minute float first in the parade instead of last.

But who was to pay the $1200 necessary for the new float? $100 was asked from twelve persons who were likely to favor the idea. In the explanatory letter to these dozen men it was frankly stated that those "who contribute do so without any expectation of material reward of any kind."

Yet the twelve thought it appropriate that our dependence on God be acknowledged in this manner.

The money was quickly provided and the construction of the float was hurried to completion. Thanks to the inspiration of one man "God's Float," which had been overlooked, became the first float in the Inaugural Parade. Over 750,000 people saw it in the parade, and it is estimated that some 70,000,000 saw it on television.

Thus by one man's initiative and the help of a handful of others a spiritual reminder was brought to millions.

PTA Gets Stung by a "Bee"

The local PTA is feeling sheepish today. Seems they complained the youngsters weren't learning enough. Said they couldn't even spell. So the kids challenged them to a spelling bee.

"I was captain of the PTA 'ers," "Doc" Brown told me. "Both teams made the first round just fine. But on the second round Speedy Taylor went down on 'efficiency.' Then his boy Chip, who happened to be next on the school team, rattled it right off. From then on it was murder!"

So now "Doc" says that the whole PTA is thinking of signing up for night school!

From where I sit, it always pays to look and think before you leap to conclusions. Take those folks who would deny me a temperate glass of beer without a moment's thought. They wouldn't want me to interfere with their personal preferences for, say, buttermilk. It's a good idea to think twice before you "spell out" rules for your neighbor.

MHS Grads Present Class Night Program And Receive Awards

Class night, a pre-commencement highlight, when honor students received their awards, was held by Muenster High school seniors Friday night in the auditorium.

Given entirely by the students, without benefit of a faculty director, the program was emceed by Wilfred Klement who extended welcome.

LaQuita Cain read the class history, Anna Grace Herr presented the class will, and Joan Klement gave the class prophecy. Entertainment numbers included vocal selections by the senior girls, solos by Pauline Myrick, and a trio by Joyce Grewing, Lynette Walterscheid and Rose-bell Haverkamp; and a humorous dialogue by John Aytes and Burt Hamric.

The seniors' memorial to the school is another 50-foot section of sidewalk, east along the front of the building. This is the third section of sidewalk that seniors have presented as a parting gift to their Alma Mater.

Superintendent Weldon Cowan presented the awards. Burt Hamric received the valedictorian's medal and a college scholarship; John Aytes, the salutatorian's medal and a college scholarship; Wilfred Klement, the science award, Wilmer Walterscheid, the industrial arts award; Edward Pick, the agricultural award; Carol Hellman, the homemaking award; Jane Hellman, college scholarship; Don Whitt, best all-around boy, and Joan Klement, best all-around girl awards; the latter also received a college scholarship and the Balfour Key for scholarship, loyalty and achievement.

The seniors received $150 from the senior fund to help finance their class trip, and they presented gifts to Mr. Cowan and to Mrs. Alice Brooks, class sponsors.

The program's closing number was "So Long, It's Been Good to Know You" by the seniors.

Pre-Commencement Program Features S.H. Class Night

Class night for students of Sacred Heart High school featured an entertaining program, Thursday night, May 14, in the community auditorium with a large number of relatives and friends in attendance.

The evening's program opened with a recital by the glee club in two and three part with Carrie Ann Gehrig at the piano.

Following was formal initiation into the Quill and Scroll Society by the Press Club. Admitted to membership during the candle lighting ceremony were Clara Sicking, Gladys Hoffman, Dolores Haverkamp, Alma Henscheid, Clara Flusche, JoAnn Starke and Marilyn Miller. Each of the girls had a part in the ceremony which was directed by Larry Hofbauer, editor of the school publication, Mosaics, during the past term. Father Louis presented the membership pins.

Joe Felderhoff presided at the microphone for the class night program.

Gladys Hoffman presented the salutatory address, Clara Sicking gave the class history, Clyde Muller recited the class poem, and the seniors sang their class song.

Fred Hennigan and David Endres stalked the juniors after which William Walterscheid and Jerry Henscheid paraded the seniors.

Joe Felderhoff presented the memorials and Clara Flusche gave the acceptance address. The seniors left as their memorials a $30 cash gift to the new church and a $20 cash gift to the school. They then presented "Bambi" a lamb bank to Father Louis. During the past few months the high school students had contributed to this fund which amounted to $130 for the new church. Dolores Haverkamp made the presentation in the name of the school and Father Louis expressed his appreciation.

Distribution of gifts to the seniors followed with Clarice Schad, Edna Hesse and Gilbert Knabe in charge. These included gifts to each senior from the faculty and to each graduate from the junior class. Classmate gifts were accompanied by clever, and often humorous, verses.

Donald Bayer and Daniel Haverkamp presented an amusing dialogue: "Can You Imagine?", and Larry Hofbauer read the class prophecy. Gladys Hoffman gave a vocal solo, "Trees", and Jerry Hoenig read the last will and testament.

Father Louis then made the awards, and Anselma Felderhoff valedictorian, closed the program with the farewell message.

Honor awards were the valedictorian medal for Anselma Felderhoff, the salutatorian medal for Gladys Hoffman, medal for proficiency in science to Beatrice Zimmerer, history medal to Alma Henscheid, typing medal to Thomas Moster, citizenship medal to Clara Sicking, (for self-sacrificing work for church and school) service pin to Daniel Haverkamp for managing the school bus system, Balfour Honor Key and a college scholarship to Larry Hofbauer, and Latin medal along with a superior merit certificate in Latin to Basil Reiter.

The stage setting was a garden scene with a white trellis covered with blossoms as a back drop and arrangements of spring flowers and potted fern at vantage spots.

SENIORS FETED

Seniors of Sacred Heart High school were guests Tuesday in the home of their classmate, Jerry Hoenig, for a fried chicken supper. Assisting Jerry's mother, Mrs. Joe Hoenig, with hostess duties were Mrs. Bill Haverkamp and Mrs. Tony Felderhoff, senior roommothers. After the meal students enjoyed a skating party at Gainesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yosten left Tuesday for a visit with relatives in Waco, Tours and West.

7 Sensible Steps To Growing Older

There are Seven Sensible Steps to growing older. That is, if you want to age successfully.

Mrs. Eloise Johnson, family life education specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says looking forward to later years can be done pleasantly by planning to include these seven steps in growing older. For healthier and happier years ahead, eat properly, see your doctor regularly; get enough sleep; balance your exercise and rest; wear comfortable, attractive and becoming clothing; keep busy; and cultivate a sense of humor.

Lightning Kills 400 And Injures 1,000 In U.S. Every Year

Lightning kills 400 people and injures 1,000 others every year in the United States. And reports the National Safety Council, 90 percent of these fatalities occur in rural areas. In addition, lightning is a major cause of farm fires—about 20 million dollars worth of farm property is destroyed annually.

According to W. S. Allen, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, here's about what happens in an electrical storm. As summer storm clouds gather on hot humid afternoons, electrical energy builds up in them. When the electrical potential becomes strong enough to break through the insulating layer of air, a giant spark—lightning—is produced.

Allen says lightning flashes may occur within a cloud, between clouds or between a cloud and the earth or projecting objects. The heated air along the zigzagging path of the lightning expands rapidly and the resulting rolling sound waves make thunder. Allen explains that sound travels 1,100 feet per second in air, so if there is a 10 second wait between the time you see the flash and hear the thunder, it means the lightning is about two miles away. And for what it's worth, he says if you are struck by lightning you'll neither hear the thunder or see the flash.

With millions of volts and thousands of amperes spent in a fraction of a second, lightning has tremendous power and will destroy or damage any object which tends to resist or obstruct its passage. In areas where thunderstorms are frequent and intense, Allen says all important farm buildings should be protected against lightning.

If you have a choice of shelters during an electrical storm, choose them in the following order, says Allen. Get in a building that is protected from lightning or one constructed of metal or framed with metal; an automobile with a metal top and body or in unprotected buildings.

In every case, it is best to stay away from open doors or windows, fireplaces, stoves, piping or other metal objects. Do not go outside nor remain out during thunderstorms unless necessary, says Allen. If caught in a thunderstorm, stay away from small sheds and shelters in exposed locations, isolated trees, wire fences and hilltops and large open spaces where protection is not provided by taller objects.

On the other hand seek shelter in a cave, a depression in the ground, a deep valley or canyon, the foot of a steep or overhanging cliff or in a dense grove of trees, says Allen.

If the worst should happen and a person becomes unconscious from a stroke of lightning, call a doctor and apply the same emergency treatment recommended for an electrical shock. The immediate application of artificial respiration is very important points out the specialist for in addition to causing burns, the passing of an electric current through the body often paralyzes the nerves and muscles thus affecting the heart and breathing mechanism.

Dairy's Bacteria
Troubles Multiply
In Warm Weather

Warmer weather can mean trouble for the dairyman unless plans and practices have been put into operation to combat the problems. Higher bacteria counts are sure to show up in the milk, says R. E. Bureson, dairy husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, if there are flaws in the milking procedure, if unclean and unhealthy cows are milked or if strict sanitation is not practiced around the dairy barn.

Be sure, says Bureson, that cooling facilities are adequate for doing a rapid job of cooling the milk.

Warm weather brings on flies and the specialist says to hit them early and late with sanitation and approved chemicals for control. Eliminate breeding places and all manure should be spread on fields and lots drained as a part of the fly control program.

Treating dairy cattle with sprays or washes containing five-tenths percent methoxychlor will control hornflies, says Bureson.

Such applications are usually effective for two to four weeks and in most areas, two or three treatments in the spring and one in the fall will do the job.

Spraying the inside of the barn and around the entrances with a mixture of two and one-half percent DDT and two percent chlordane prepared from an emulsion will materially aid in controlling the pesky housefly. Washing the walls occasionally before spraying is also an aid to sanitation.

Finally, says the specialist, it is now time to plant a sudan or a sudan-cowpea mixture for the summer pasture. Plant at least one acre per cow and use plenty of fertilizer. July pastures depend on the action taken in April and May.

Signs on Highway Are Being Lifted

The Texas Highway Department has reached a new height in highway signing, according to D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer. Greer said existing signs will gradually be replaced by taller ones 3 1/2 feet high measured from the pavement level to the bottom of the sign. The present signs range from 18 to 24 inches in height.

The reason for this change-over, Greer continued, is to reduce the maintenance cost and to increase readability and visibility, especially during the growing season when native flora often interferes with or partially covers the present low signs if not mowed frequently. In the spring, for example, we sow and cultivate wild flowers along the roadside and in order for these flowers to reseed, it is necessary to permit them to reach maturity. However, this is impossible in areas where low signs are in use since the flowers hide the signs. Greer said that in wet weather, vehicles continually splashed mud on the present low signs, causing an expensive maintenance cleaning problem.

Greer added that within the next three years this change-over should be completed throughout the state. There are 208,000 signs of the 42,206 miles of state-maintained highways and when replacement is necessary, the new height sign will be used. This gradual change-over will enable the department to erect the new signs at no extra cost to the taxpayers.

He pointed out that when three or more signs are to be mounted on a post, the bottom sign will be 2 1/2 feet from the pavement level so that the top sign will not be too high for easy readability. In the areas where the new signs have been tried, the results have been most gratifying. The higher signs are more visible to motorists and have greatly reduced maintenance cost, Greer said.

The Air Force is testing a "spray on" plastic surgical dressing developed with the help of a mid-west company. It is sprayed directly from a pressurized container on the injured parts of the body. Preliminary tests indicate that it may make gauze dressings unnecessary.

Tax Loss in Strike Exceeds A Billion

The 54-day steel strike last summer cost the Federal government 5 1/2 times as much in lost tax revenue as it cost the steel-makers in profits, according to the magazine Iron Age.

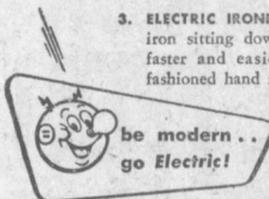

A survey by the magazine found that the industry's Federal income taxes declined $736,000,000 last year, compared with a decline of $142,000,000 in profits. The government also lost the personal income taxes on $360,000,000 of wages lost by the strike.

One government contract covering veterans' training at an institution in Buffalo had to be signed or initialed no less than 1500 times, according to the New York Times.

Boys Get Pigs for Hog Raising Project

Eight Cooke county farm boys, including Sylvan Walterscheid of Sacred Heart 4-H club, received gilts and one boy, Cecil Hermes of Lindsay, received a boar in a distribution made by the Sears Foundation in cooperation with the county agent's office, Saturday.

The boys qualified for the animals by writing themes on "How I Would Raise a Pig". The distribution is made annually.

The boys will enter their animals in the county club boys' show in September, and winners will go to the district show soon after.

Other boys receiving gilts are Mark Hermes, Lindsay; Milton Krebs, Myra; Leon Hobbs, Callisburg, Tommy Colwell and Dan Springs, Rad Ware; Dan Fenley, Era; and Joe Clark, Walnut Bend.

Clean and Repair Grain Bins Early

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" when it comes to protecting wheat from insects, birds, and rodents, says Fred T. Dines, extension wheat marketing specialist. The first step in protecting wheat is to get rid of sources of infestation, and Dines stresses that this action should be taken now, before the crop is harvested.

Even a few grains of wheat left over from last year, explains the specialist, can harbor enough weevils to start a serious infestation. It is important to destroy these weevils before this year's crop is stored because once they gain a foothold in new grain, their numbers will multiply rapidly and they are very difficult to stamp out.

To prevent this, Dines recommends that grain bins be cleaned thoroughly to remove all bits of grain and dust from corners and cracks. Then walls and floors should be sprayed with an insecticide.

Eighth of Doctors' Time Is Donated

A nation-wide survey by Medical Economics magazine indicates that the average U. S. physician spends 12 per cent of his working time on patients who cannot pay. The dollar value of this work is estimated at more than $3,000 a year per doctor.

According to the survey, seven out of 10 doctors do some work they do not expect to be paid for.

State Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, in his office at Austin, looks at some of the thousands of letters, telegrams and petitions received from the people of Texas backing him in his proposal to let the people, through a preferential primary, choose the nominees for president and vice president instead of the present convention system used by both major political parties. His bill has passed the Senate and is now before the House of Representatives.

Community Sends Clothing to Waco

The Waco disaster relief committee this week received 150 pounds of clothing along with bedding and shoes contributed by Muenster residents for relief of victims of the Waco tornado.

Mrs. Joe Swirczynski, chairman of the Mission Circle, said the shipment included clothing for men, women and children.

The Mission Circle, sponsored by the local court Catholic Daughters of America, maintains a clothing depot and conducts its clothing drive the year 'round. The shipment to Waco was made up from articles on hand and needed only to be packed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yoster who went to Waco Tuesday to visit relatives delivered the packages in person.

Muenster's last shipment of clothing for tornado relief went to Knox City in March of this year.
