21 MHS Graduates Receive Diplomas In Solemn Ritual

Revival of the former Gossett-Lodge Amendment revives a hope that perhaps, after all, this country will change its outmoded and unfair system of electing a president and vice president. The measure now introduced as the Daniel-Walter amendment, sponsored by Senator Daniel of Texas and Representative Walter of Pennsylvania, is the same bill which passed in the Senate but failed in the House in 1950. The Senate Judiciary Committee has passed the bill 10 to 3 and referred it to the Senate.

As many will remember from 1950, this amendment was proposed as a sort of emancipation proclamation for voters in states which are dominated by one political party. It would end political bondage for minority party supporters in any state by the simple expedient of dividing electoral votes in proportion to popular votes, rather than by casting the entire electoral count for the majority.

In the case of Texas, for instance, the 24 electoral votes would be split according to the popular vote. If the division was one-third and two-thirds the minority party would get 8 votes and the majority party 16.

A person might wonder why actual votes are not to be credited to each side rather than counting the electoral votes. At first glance the effect seems to be the same. However, there is one big difference. The proportional count of electoral votes enables separate states to continue their own election regulations. A simple count of popular votes would require uniform election laws in all states.

For one thing, some states have a poll tax, others only require registration. It may be assumed that one will get a larger percentage of its population to the polls. Legal voting age makes another difference. A state allowing 18 year olds to vote would have an advantage over states requiring 21 as the voting age. Even weather conditions could have an unfair effect. States that happen to have a bad election day would not get a fair break with the others. So it seems like a fair and wise arrangement to divide each state's electoral votes rather than counting the popular votes.

However, the amendment's greatest merit is eliminating the minority's futile feeling that its vote will be lost anyway . . . and also serving notice on Washington that no more states will get shabby treatment.

The evils of our present system have been apparent in Texas for many long years. By tradition we were a part of the Solid South. We voted a Democratic majority and our entire strength went to the Democratic party.

So we were taken for granted. Both parties concentrated campaign efforts on the doubtful states, both formulated policies to count the voters of those states. Neither gave a hoot about us, Republicans because we voted against them anyway, Democrats because they could get our vote in spite of mistreatment.

As most of us realize, a deplorable situation gradually developed. The conservative South, because it voted 'er straight, was stuck with the radical promises made by New Dealers in the North and East. We reached the point at which the southern senators and representatives, true to the traditions and wishes of their states, and with the help of other conservatives, became the last line of defense against the administration we were blindly supporting in the general election.

Take the emphasis on race as one example. The bid for colored votes in big cities amounted to a kick in the face to Southerners. Does anyone think the politicians would have adopted such a policy if the thousands of resentful votes in the South could have counted against them? That factor more than any other has finally brought on the anti-segregation attitude which has turned the South's slow and peaceful adjustment into a big problem. Another example was the tidelands issue. Truman took Texas for granted and grabbed our off-shore wealth in violation of the state's annexation agreement. He'd have been less inclined to do that if he had

Twenty one graduates of Muenster High School carried the "Light of Truth" with them as they emerged from their high school careers in a solemn commencement ritual in the auditorium last Friday night.

That was the significance of the final symbolic event in the impressive service presented in the manner and setting of an ancient Grecian ceremonial. The seniors, each carrying a candle, took a light from the "shrine of truth" as they filed past, then continued in recessional up the aisle of the darkened auditorium.

The commencement differed sharply from the conventional exercise in that it was presented entirely by students. There was no commencement speaker, no guest to give an invocation or benediction. The only non-student participation was at the awarding of diplomas, in which Superintendent Homsley made the presentations. Mrs. Ann Searcy turned the graduates' rings and Coach John Hosea transferred tassels from the left to the right side of the caps.

Patsy Cain, as the Spirit of Light, presided at the altar and presented awards. In each case her presentation was accompanied by a short speech of praise and advice bidding the student apply his or her special talent toward enrichment of the years to come. The students in turn expressed appreciation for the honor received and pledged to dedicate their lives to the spirit of love, truth and peace.

Donnie Whitt was master of ceremonies and called attention of the "Guardian of Light", Wayne Schmitt, to the honor which was to be recognized. Schmitt introduced the student to receive the award, Pages Chris Michael Cain and Lawrence Bruns Jr. escorted the students to the shrine for the award ceremonial. There one of four vestals, Ginger Wolf, Virginia Otto, Marcy Klement and Jean Wieler, submitted the award to Miss Cain

Deceased Veterans Honored Sunday at Memorial Service

War victims and deceased veterans of the community were honored here Sunday in annual memorial services conducted jointly by the Sacred Heart church, the VFW and the VFW Auxiliary.

For his memorial address before the service men's graves in Sacred Heart Cemetery, Father Louis Deuster spoke on the scripture passage "Greater love hath no man than that he lay down his life for others." He said that all who served and died staked their lives in defense of the freedom we cherish.

He also consoled survivors of the deceased by reminding them that death is not the end of all but rather the beginning of eternal happiness to which Christians aspire.

The memorial service started in church with benediction. After that the group marched to the cemetery, pausing at the crucifixion group for special prayers before going to the service men's graves. The procession was led by ten veterans in uniform. They were two color bearers, two buglers, and six rifle men. Each mother of a deceased veteran wore a white carnation corsage presented by the VFW Auxiliary.

Immediately upon arrival at the service men's graves children deposited a wreath before each

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Mollie Jean Wimmer, 15-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wimmer, escaped serious injury Saturday morning when she was struck by the family car as it was being backed out of the driveway at the Wimmer home. She was a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium until Monday. X-rays revealed that no bones were broken and after observation no other injuries were found. Gravel bruises and scratches on her face were the only results of the accident.

A. T. Dickerson has been receiving treatment at Gainesville Sanitarium for muscle strain in his neck and left shoulder.

Dale Wilde and his mother, Mrs. Richard Wilde, returned Friday from Dallas where Dale underwent leg surgery the previous Monday. The youngster will wear two casts, one on each leg, for the next six weeks and will return then for a check-up. The operation was one in a series of operations that have been going on since Dale was afflicted with polio in August of 1952.

14 SH Seniors and 39 Eighth Graders Receive Diplomas

Rev. Louis Deuster, pastor of Sacred Heart church, urged Sunday that graduates of Sacred Heart High school put into practical application their God-given talents and qualifications and told them to "go forth into the world and teach all men."

As commencement speaker at the school's seventeenth graduation service he based his talk on the words of Christ to His apostles when He delegated them to "do whatsoever I have told you."

He reminded the seniors that during their four years of high school they had the chance to acquire the knowledge that will help them shape their own lives and also how to transmit ideals to others as God expects each one to do.

His address followed the 7 o'clock evening mass and preceded the presentation of diplomas. Benediction closed the services.

The 14 graduates were in caps and gowns and received their diplomas at the center of the communion railing. In the same program 39 eighth grade graduates also received diplomas.

Anthony Luke, organist, played the processional and recessional and accompanied the high school choir which sang

Nine Elementary Children Graduate At Public School

Nine elementary graduates of the Muenster Public School received their diplomas Thursday night of last week in a commencement program staged almost entirely by the graduating pupils. The only parts not taken by children was the presentation of candidates by Mrs. John Hosea and the presentation of diplomas by Superintendent Homsley.

Following a processional by Margaret Milner, Judy Cain gave an invocation, Carolyn Cain the salutatory and Billy Ray Otto the valedictory.

Next all the class participated in a program of building a "Pyramid of Life". It was made of lettered cubes which were picked up from the stage floor and put in place by the pupils as directed by Billy Ray Otto. He asked for the cube signifying effort and a student placed the E on the platform while making a short recitation. Next he called for determination and another pupil presented the D. He continued calling for other characteristics of "education" and pupils responded with the proper cubes until the word was finished. In the same manner the class built the words "efficiency" and "power" as the second and third steps of their pyramid and topped it with "MHS" signifying the advancement in their scholastic careers.

After the "Pyramid of Life" and presentation of diplomas children joined in a group recitation of The Lord's Prayer, as the benediction of their program, then retired from the stage as Margaret Milner played the recessional.

The graduates are Carolyn Cain, Judy Cain, Ronnie Cannon, Ronnie Dickerson, Gilbert Knabe, Jim Myrick, Billy Ray Otto, Deanna Richey and Leonard Vogel.

Funeral Rites for Mrs. J. E. Blakeley Held at Bulcher

Funeral services for Mrs. J. E. Blakeley, 75, a longtime resident of the Bulcher community, were held Thursday afternoon, May 26, at 2:30 o'clock in the Community Center at Bulcher.

Mrs. Blakeley died at her home on May 24, following a lengthy illness.

Rev. Winsted Cooper of the Church of Christ of Saint Jo officiated at the last rites. Burial was in Coker cemetery under direction of Daugherty funeral home of Saint Jo.

Mrs. Blakeley, a native of Navarro county, was born July 11, 1879. She and her late husband were married in April 1895 and later moved to Cooke county settling on a farm at Bulcher. They were the parents of ten children, seven of whom survive.

Goff of Saint Jo; three sons, Bill, Floyd and Elbert Blakeley, all of Saint Jo, and Charles Blakeley of Guyton, Okla. O. G. Reed Delivers Community's First Load of '55 Wheat

O. G. Reed, working the J. N. Coursey farm southwest of town, kicked off this community's mediocre wheat harvest Monday by delivering the first load of the season to Arthur Felderhoff.

Though low in test, only 58, Reed's crop is believed to be one of the area's best this season. He averaged 22½ bushels per acre on a 14 acre field. The same field averaged 52 last year, he said.

According to yields reported by other farmers, Felderhoff said the community yield is due to be about 50 per cent of last year's figure. Most reports so far have been between 10 and 15 bushels per acre. However the quality of grain is generally good. Most wheat received so far tests 60 or over.

No specific figures have been received here on oats yields. But there are plenty of reports describing it as the poorest in many years. In many cases farmers cannot determine what their yield is. They are baling straw and grain instead of combining or threshing. But they know from the scarcity of bales that they have a poor crop.

Summer School at MHS to Depend on Enrollment Monday

Summer school courses will be available at Muenster High during the next three months if enough students will enroll to justify holding classes.

Superintendent H. Howard Homsley disclosed Wednesday that interested students can register next Monday morning, June 6, at 10 o'clock. Shortly after they will be advised whether or not they can report for classes.

The course is offered primarily as an opportunity for student to earn credits in subjects they failed during the regular school term. However it can be used also to strengthen the student's grasp on his more difficult subjects.

The course proposed meets the Texas Education Agency's requirements for summer school. However it not provided by the state. Hence students will have to support it themselves by paying tuition.

Arnold Bezner of Lindsay is Victim Of Head-on Crash

Arnold Eugene Bezner, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bezner of Lindsay and Gregory R. Degele, 39, an airman from Sheppard Air Force Base, met sudden death early Tuesday morning in the collision of their cars about a half mile west of Lindsay.

The accident happened about 12:30 a.m. as Bezner was returning to his home after a wedding dance here. He was one of the groom's attendants at the marriage of Johnny Schmitz and Albina Mages Tuesday afternoon.

Both drivers are believed to have died instantly in the head-on crash near the center of the road. There was no other occupant in either car and, so far as known, no person who saw the crash.

Among the first to arrive afterward were the victim's brother, James Bezner, and his wife. They too were returning from the dance. They said he showed no sign of life when they reached him.

Highway Patrolman Everett B. Scott, who investigated the accident, reported that there were no skid marks to indicate that either driver was aware of the impending crash. The vehicles met squarely and both were badly smashed.

Rosary services for Bezner were held at 7 o'clock and again at 8 Wednesday night in the chapel of the Carroll Funeral Home. The second was conducted by the Gainesville K of C Council, of which Bezner was a member.

Father Conrad Herda, Lindsay pastor, officiated at the Solemn Requiem Mass for the deceased at 9 Wednesday morning in St. Peter's church, Lindsay. He was assisted in the service by Fathers Louis Deuster and Alcuin Kubis.

Father Conrad also officiated at the burial in St. Peter's Cemetery under direction of Geo. J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home.

Bearers were Leonard Hermes, Frank Haverkamp, Richard Hermes, Rudy Dieter, Billy Zimmerman and Gilbert Kubis.

Arnold Bezner was born in Lindsay on May 13, 1936, and received his elementary education at the Lindsay school. In 1954 he graduated from Suliaco Academy, Suliaco, Ark. Since then he has been farming with his father.

Survivors besides his parents are four brothers, Lambert and James of Gainesville and Wilfred and Weldon of Lindsay and four sisters, Miss Viola Bezner of Lindsay, Sister Anna Rose of Houston, and Sisters Ramona and Kathleen of San Antonio.

Father Christopher Addresses Grads at SH Baccalaureate

Father Christopher Paladino, addressing seniors of Sacred Heart High school Sunday morning at baccalaureate services told them to think seriously of their future, to choose their life-work carefully but not to pass up a good opportunity just because they expect a better one. And once having chosen, to stick to their choice and to make the best of it.

The address was given at the 8 o'clock high mass during which the class received Communion in a body.

After services, students and parents were guests at breakfast in the school homemaking department. Junior class girls prepared and served the meal. Centerpiece for the table was two miniature doll graduates in caps and gowns surrounded by greenery.

MRS. HENRY J. PELS

Tuesday at 4 p.m. in Sacred Heart church two sisters, Misses Regina and Alma Henscheid, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Henscheid, were married in a double wedding ceremony. Regina became the bride of Henry J. Pels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pels, and Alma became the bride of Ronnie Herr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herr.

Rev. Louis Deuster was celebrant of the nuptial high mass and performed the two double ring ceremonies.

Identically Gowned

The two brides, identically gowned, entered the church with their father who escorted them to the altar and gave them in marriage. Their dresses were of white embroidered tulle over taffeta by Venni. Strapless bodices were topped with long-sleeved tulle jackets and the very bouffant skirts, waltz length, were triple tiered worn over hoops and crinolines. They wore circular illusion veils attached to pearl tiaras and carried a white orchid and stephanotis on top of their white prayerbooks.

Attendants

Regina was attended by her sister, Mrs. Herbert Miller, and Alma was attended by her cousin, Miss Caroline Hesse. They wore identical waltz length dresses of light blue nylon over taffeta with voluminous triple tiered skirts and matching pill-boxes and carried yellow rose buds.

Melvin Herr was best man for his brother Ronnie, and Ervin Henscheid, brother of the brides, was best man for Henry. Men in the wedding party wore dark trousers and white dinner jackets.

Wedding music was provided by the church choir under direction of Leo Henscheid, uncle of the brides, and Anthony Luke, organist, who also played the traditional processional and recessional.

Miss Joaline Mollenkopf sang "On This Day" as a post-nuptial solo while the brides placed bouquets of yellow gladioli on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

Reception

After the services there was a reception and buffet supper for about 250 guests in the parish hall with the brides' parents as hosts. Misses Polly Mages and Dolores Haverkamp presided at the two guest books. Lehnertz catering service was in charge of the meal.

The brides' table carried out their colors of white and blue with daisies encircling the twin wedding cakes which were on reflectors.

A dance in the VFW hall concluded the wedding festivities.

Both couples left on trips not revealing their destinations. After the honeymoons Mr. and Mrs. Pels will make their home in Muenster and Mr. and Mrs. Herr will live in Lubbock.

All four are graduates of Sacred Heart High school. Mr. Pels recently returned from four years in the Air Force with one year of duty in Korea. He was an airplane radio repairman and is now linotype operator at the Muenster Enterprise.

Mr. Herr is a student at Texas Tech in Lubbock and is a member of the college football team. He is also active in other athletics of the school. He was a star player on the Tiger football team here during his high school days. M. S. Herr was employed by the Wilde Lsurance Agency before her marriage.

a student at St. Edward's University the past term.

The J. N. Courseys and their daughter were visitors here Monday. Coursey is remembered by old timers as a native of the community. He has been with the First State Bank of Hollis, Okla., since leaving Muenster in 1927.

Miss Floradell Endres of Fort Worth was here for a visit with homefolks Friday through Tuesday.

Rev. Henry Felderhoff of Denison was here Tuesday for a visit with homefolks and was among guests at the Henscheid-Herr and Henscheid-Pels weddings.

Weldon Woodruff of Socora, N. M., visited the Frank Needhams Friday. Guests of the Needhams Wednesday and Thursday were Mrs. Scott Hatcher and daughter Sireta Sue of Amarillo. Miss Hatcher was a student at NTSC at Denton the past term.

Mrs. Tony Gremminger was in Houston during the weekend to visit her sister, Mrs. Margaret Rasch, and to attend the graduation of her niece, Mrs. Gretchen Rash from St. Thomas University. Enroute home Tuesday she stopped in Fort Worth to make the acquaintance of her new granddaughter, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Howell.

Next week Muenster's three pastors, Rev. Fathers Louis Deuster, Christopher Paladino and Patrick Hannon, will be in Subiaco, Ark., attending the annual retreat for Benedictine fathers at the abbey.

Visiting the J. W. Fletchers Sunday were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fletcher and daughters Patricia and Sara Dianne of Mineral Wells.

Messrs. and Mmes. Fred and Gene Hoedebeck and Mrs. Clem Reiter were in Tishomingo, Okla., Sunday to attend funeral services for George Loery, father of Mrs. Ray Hoedebeck.

FFA Boys to Picnic At Texoma Saturday

Members of the Muenster chapter of Future Farmers of America will have their annual picnic Saturday, June 4, at the FFA camp at Lake Texoma.

Gene Nelson, group sponsor, announced the event last weekend, stating that boys will meet at the school in time to leave in a group at 7 a.m. He also said that boys will be expected to arrange their own transportation and remember to bring swim suits, fishing tackle, outboard motors, blankets and any other items they wish to use.

Nelson is out of town this week and will join the boys Saturday at the camp.

CARD OF THANKS

Many thanks for the get-well cards and other kindnesses while I was in the hospital and since I am back at home.

Mrs. Leo Henscheid

Correction

Information reaching this paper last week about Linda Ann Lutkenhaus as valedictorian at Saint Jo was not quite correct. She graduated from the elementary department, not the high school. Besides, she shares the valedictory honor with a classmate, Linda Ann Dennis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Dennis of Bulcher.

Kay and Linda Fette are spending this week in Gainesville with their aunt and family, the Jake Stewarts.

SH Parish Without Nuns First Time in More Than 60 Years

For the first time in more than sixty years—since the coming of the Benedictines to Muenster to teach in the parochial school—this community is without nuns for the summer. With the departure of the last group of Sisters this Friday the Sisters' residence will be unoccupied until they return in the fall for the next scholastic year. Until this summer, the Sisters roated their vacation time so that some of them were always here.

Leaving for the motherhouse in Jonesboro, Ark., Friday morning will be Sisters Carmelita, Geraldine, Grace, Gregory, Pauline and Cecilia. They will go in their station wagon. Six of the nuns left Wednesday by train from Dallas. They were Sisters Gebharda, Aloysia, Alberta, Anna, Irminda and Dennis.

The first to leave, early Monday morning, were Sisters Agnes, Michael, Barbara, Christine and Scholastica. Going with them to enter the Juniorate at Holy Angels Convent were Rosemary Walter, Lois Owen and Carolyn Cunningham. This group went in the parish station wagon chauffeured by Father Patrick Hannon.

The Sisters will spend the summer either in class or teaching classes and all will be at the motherhouse for the annual retreat.

Monday Rite Unites Miss Albina Mages And Johnny Schmitz

A double ring ceremony was performed in Sacred Heart church at 4 p.m. Monday to unite in marriage Miss Albina Mages and Johnny Schmitz.

The bride is the daughter of Joe Mages of Muenster and the groom is the son of John Schmitz of Dallas.

Rev. Louis Deuster officiated at the exchange of the wedding vows and was celebrant of the nuptial high mass.

Mr. Mages escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. Her floor length wedding gown was fashioned of Chantilly lace and gossamer tulle over taffeta. The v-shaped neckline was enhanced with appliqued lace flowers and the long sleeves came to points over her hands. The full skirt of taffeta was overlaid with layers of net and was completed with a voluminous overskirt of tulle ruffles.

Her veil of tulle was caught to a rhinestone studded Juliet cap and she carried a white orchid on top of a white prayer-book. She borrowed white earrings from her sister, Mrs. Nick Dieter, and wore the traditional lucky penny in her shoe.

Attendants

Misses Polly and Loretta Mages, sisters of the bride, were maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively, wearing ballerina length frocks of heavenly blue lace, tulle and taffeta. They were designed to duplicate the bride's dress with the exception of the sleeves which were short and they wore elbow length mitts of blue lace. Picture hats of blue taffeta and tulle adorned with valley lilies completed their costumes and they carried blue rosaries, gifts from the bride.

Mr. Schmitz was attended by his cousin, Arnold Bezner of Lindsay, and Gene Peizel of Pilot Point, fiancé of Miss Polly Mages. Alvin Hartman and Raymond Metzler ushered.

The altar before which the couple exchanged their vows was decorated with white glads, fern and candles. Anthony Luke, organist, played the wedding marches and remained at the console to assist the church choir in singing the mass. He also accompanied Miss Norma Jean Walterscheid, vocalist, who gave pre-nuptial selections and after the mass sang again when the couple went to the Blessed Virgin's shrine where the bride left a bouquet of gladioli.

Reception and Dance

A reception with a buffet supper in the parish hall followed the church services. Miss Georgia Ann Hartman, at the bride's book, registered 325 guests. Lehnertz catering service was in charge of the meal. The day's festivities ended with a wedding dance in the VFW hall.

During the dance the newlyweds slipped away on a honeymoon trip of unrevealed destination. For traveling the bride wore a beige two-piece linen dress with brown and white accessories and the orchid she carried at the service.

When they return they will make their home near Thacker-ville, Okla., where Mr. Schmitz owns the B-29 Club. He attended school at Lindsay, spent three years as a Merchant Seaman and was in the U. S. Army five years with duty in the Far East.

Mrs. Schmitz was graduated from Sacred Heart school with the class of 1952 and from Mari-nello Beauty School in Dallas. Until her marriage she was employed at the Muenster Beauty Shop.

Melvin Herr has joined the personnel at Stockmen's Feed Store.

THE COMMUNIST BLUEPRINT

During the conflict between Joseph Stalin and Leon Trotsky for control of the Communist machine in Russia in 1924, a blueprint of world conquest was drafted by the Stalinites. Stalin wrested control from Trotsky and later had him murdered. This blueprint of conquest, according to Dr. Fred Schwarz, the noted Australian scholar on Communism, calls for the conquering of Asia first, then Africa, then Western Europe, then "to isolate, degenerate and, if necessary, devastate the United States."

International Communism today is following this blueprint, Dr. Schwarz said. He said the Communists use five steps in their technique of conquering, and that they are concentrating at the present time in Asia. The steps are:

To Conquest

1. Conquest of the minds of the youth by use of Communist-prepared or Communist-infiltrated books.
2. Organization of the intelligentsia of those youth into the communist Party.
3. Scientific survey of what that particular country wants; then promise it to them. (For instance, the Chinese coolies and the socialist intellectuals wanted land to be redistributed; the Communists promised agrarian reform.)
4. Conquest, war, and revolution.
5. Scientifically imposed control by the dictatorship of the proletariat. (This is accomplished by destruction of those who oppose the Party. Our U. S. Government investigators have estimated that 30,000,000 Chinese have been murdered since the Reds took over China.)

Dr. Schwarz believes that to successfully combat Communism, which has grown from 17 people in 1903 to iron control of 900,000,000 today, the U.S.A. must conduct a positive educational and progaganda program among the youth of the world, clearly showing and dramatizing the advantages of private ownership of property, self-reliance, constitutional government and, above all, faith in God.

Billions For Literature

The Communists are spending billions on a massive literature barrage which is being concentrated today on Asia, India and Africa. These are the areas toward which the Red masters are aiming their conquest at the moment. It is authentically estimated that they are spending $300,000,000 a year in America on books, pamphlets and projects to infiltrate America's mass media of communication. Every written or spoken line in this vast thought-shaping campaign is shrewdly calculated to engender hate against America and the American capitalistic system.

"There is being built up towards this country — coldbloodedly, scientifically, efficiently — a terrible body of deadly, burning and malignant hatred that at the will of its creators may be unleashed as an avalanche of the greatest murdering force the world has ever seen," said Dr. Schwarz.

Facts Must Be Known

"If there is one priority more desperately urgent than any other, it is books — clean books, well-printed books, books that tell the truth about your country, about its wonderful record, about its love of freedom, about its peaceful heart. They should be made available to the students of Asia and the world as well, at as small a cost as those provided by the Communists. No man's judgment is any better than his information, and facts do not speak; it's only when those facts are known that they speak.

"You have every right to be proud because you're citizens of a country with a record of freedom, prosperity, brotherliness and generosity, both internally and externally, that no other land can equal. The facts are superlative. But they're not known. Your story should be spread around the world. Instead, the people of the world are hearing the Communist version which presents the lie as truth, and creates a vicious burning, malignant hatred."

Yes, we are engaged in a titanic battle for men's minds. And in the minds of our youth the tide of battle will turn. Not only is it necessary to spread worldwide the truth about America, it is even more urgently necessary that our own youth know these facts and thrill to their incomparable advantages under the stars and stripes.

Science and Religion Agree

By Robert B. Morrissey, Professor of Physics, Manhattanville College.

WHEN THE FIRST ATOM BOMB exploded over Hiroshima, scientists warned the world that our survival would depend upon world peace and international morality. In this way they expressed the close harmony that must always exist between science and religion. They gave the lie to the frequently expressed attitude that science and religion are opposed and irreconcilable.

A scientist need not be an atheist or an irreligious man. Men like Louis Pasteur, Alessandro Volta, Alexis Carrel, Gregor Mendel, and Morrissey Blaise Pascal have been both religious men and great scientists. There is no fundamental incompatibility between Christian doctrine and basic science because the Church does not propose to teach science.

THE CHURCH EXISTS to teach us the way to eternal salvation. It does not exist to teach us science. If Holy Scripture were meant to be a textbook of science, we might find in it references to the Quantum Theory or to Relativity. But knowledge of these theories is not necessary for salvation.

Discussing this question fifteen hundred years ago, St. Augustine wrote: "The Holy Spirit who spoke in the Scriptures did not intend to teach men the essential nature of the things of the visible universe, but only those things necessary to save their souls."

APPARENT CONFLICTS have occurred in the past between science and religion it is true, but these have always been caused by some individual churchman or scientist stepping into the other's domain. For instance several years ago the illustrious physicist Max Planck stepped out of his field into religion. He wrote of the "considerable number of religious dogmas to which physical science has dealt a fatal blow." But Professor Planck could not cite one fundamental Christian truth which a scientific truth had overturned. Nor is there one, for truth cannot contradict itself.

There is nothing in the Christian religion to keep a man from being a good scientist. On the contrary, the Christian has fundamental convictions that there is order in God's universe. The Christian knows that God has endowed us with intellects capable of discovering that unity and order and using it for man's good and God's glory.

A CHRISTIAN can never be anything but an optimist about the importance of science and its value for mankind. Guided by Christian morality and charity his work becomes a labor of love for God and his fellow man. Scientific research becomes for the Christian an increasing knowledge of God's handiwork. A scientific career offers the Christian the opportunity to know more about God through the reflected glory in His universe. Instead of taking him from God, science can bring Him closer than ever to an appreciation of God's power and glory and love for mankind.

Club Women Making Tour See and Hear About Conservation

Garden Club women of Muenster, Gainesville, Saint Jo and Valley View, making a tour to inspect soil and water conservation practices in the Upper Elm-Red District and the Elm Fork Watershed had a full afternoon of seeing conservation in operation and hearing talks on what they saw.

The tour, the first annual garden club soil and water conservation pilgrimage sponsored by the banks of the four towns was held Wednesday, May 25.

A chartered air conditioned bus took the garden clubbers, soil conservation technicians and bankers on the trip which began at Gainesville and ended at the Lutkenhaus reservoir west of Muenster.

The group assembled at 1 p.m. at the bandstand in Leonard Park where they were given pilgrimage guide leaflets, were welcomed by Ancil Smoot, president of the Gainesville National Bank, and were briefed on the tour by Claude Jones, executive vice president of the First State Bank of Gainesville.

The tour was arranged for three stops where everyone dismounted and four stops where observations were made from the bus.

The first stop was at the Al Walter farm. This was a dismounted stop and Jack McFerran, soil conservation technician, pointed out gully erosion and conservation measures including waterways, diversion terraces, cover crops, contour farming and pasture planting.

At the next stops, without leaving the bus, the group saw terraces emptying into a road ditch causing severe erosion; viewed a complete conservation program on the H. N. Fuhrmann farm; and looked at hairy vetch on cropland and a Bermuda grass waterway at the Clyde Fisher farm. Emmitt Yoder of the Muenster work unit explained work being done at each of these stops, and again at the Felix Becker farm where the tourists dismounted to inspect wild flowers and native legumes and grasses. They also heard a brief talk on the complete conservation program on the Becker farm.

Final stop of the afternoon was at the Alex Lutkenhaus farm near the Cooke-Montague county line where the garden clubbers were shown one of the large detention reservoirs recently completed for flood control on the Elm fork of the Trinity River.

H. D. Fields Jr., president of the First National Bank of Saint Jo, was master of ceremonies for a brief program at the dam site.

Tom R. Hickman, president of the Elm Fork Watershed Association, reviewed flood history and damage along the stream; and Homer Goodnight, area conservationist, explained the upstream flood prevention program being carried out by the Soil Conservation Service.

Closing remarks were made by J. W. Hess, director of Muenster State Bank and chairman of the board of supervisors of the Upper Elm-Red District.

Participating clubs were Muenster Civic League and Garden Club, Saint Jo Garden Club, Valley View Civic and Cultural Club, and Evening Garden Club, Garden Study Club, Maggie House Garden Club, Town and Country Garden Club and Iris Garden Club, all of Gainesville.

Muenster club members making the tour were Mmes. Tony Gremminger, J. M. Weinzapfel, T. S. Myrick, M. J. Endres, Ted Gremminger, Joe Luke and Joe Swirczynski.

Don't argue with this baby!

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried it recently in official NASCAR* trials—and took a licking!

Meet the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"—the most modern V8 on the road today.

You want facts, don't you? And not ours. Facts instead from an independent, outside source, where the only things that count are who came in first, second, and so on. Here they are—

Daytona Beach. NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! On a time basis it beat every high-priced car, too—but one!

Daytona Beach. NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places. 7 out of the first 11 places!

Daytona Beach. NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places! None of its major competition (what competition?) even finished "in the money"!

Columbia, S. C. NASCAR 100-Mile Race on half-mile track. Very tight turns. Chevrolet finished first! Way, way ahead—as in sales! With a new car, and no pit stops!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. After running the fastest qualifying round (with a new car) Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

These facts you can't laugh off. Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet . . . and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?

The groom is the son of Mrs. Ben Bengfort of Lindsay and the late Mr. Bengfort, and the bride, the former Miss Ida Ruth Hake is the daughter of Mrs. Claudia Carter of Farmington and Henry K. Hake of Concordia, Kansas.

Members of the bridal party were Miss Ida Mae Phiffer, maid of honor, Misses Rayesa Wiggins and Maureen Chaney, bridesmaids, and Kathy Muller and Martha Lynn Daniels, flower girls; Hugo Bengfort of Lindsay, brother of the groom, best man, and Don Bezner of Gainesville and Johnny Caszza, groomsmen.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother before the couple left on a wedding trip to Colorado.

thought that resentful votes in Texas could count against the party. Of course he never suspected, nor did Stevenson, or even ourselves, that the policy would ever backfire as completely as it did in 1952. It was a sort of poetic justice that Texas people mustered the voting strength to register their resentment.

These are only a few of the political abuses that have grown out of our antiquated voting system. Other states have the same trouble as our Solid South. A state that traditionally votes Republican likewise is ignored by one party and taken for granted by the other. Those people also can get more consideration when their minority votes count in the election.

Whether or not the proposal ever becomes an amendment remains to be seen. No doubt it will get lots of opposition from states that have been pampered by political importuning in the
