MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS.

NUMBER 35

County to Vote on Primary Saturday, Tax Issue Tuesday

It's downright amusing the way Governor Shivers' opponents in the current political campaign are straining to make a big issue of the third term. They say it's un-Texan, and a shameful violation of the state's sacred traditions, but seem to overlook the very obvious fact that many a state office holder has been on his job for more than two years. For instance, Culberson, Thompson, Giles and James . . . and quite a few others could be named.

The wailing becomes even more absurd in relation to the fact that it originates mostly with the New Dealers who had no objection a few years ago when their big champion, F. D. R., ran for his fourth term. And remember, those were four year terms whereas the Texas governor is seeking a two year term. In other words the guys who thought it was OK for their favorite to be elected to sixteen years in office now proclaim that it's terrible for another man to be elected to six years of office. Consistency doesn't mean much to some people when it runs counter to their political preferences.

Another absurdity is the charge of disloyalty. The opposition howls that Shivers betrayed the party when he threw his support to the Republican candidate in 1952, apparently thinking that the average citizen does not remember why Shivers took that stand and why the majority of Texas voters gave him their support.

That loyalty stuff was altogether a matter of opinion, depending on a person's convictions, on the issue of the time. A hard shell New Dealer who favored the national Democratic Party in spite of its announced determination to continue the tiddlers steal naturally claims that Shivers was disloyal. But a loyal Texan who believes the state was entitled to restoration of its original claim is more likely to contend first of all that the party was disloyal to the state and secondly that Shivers was loyal to Texas. Anybody who knows the situation realizes that Shivers had to make his choice between two loyalties, the party bosses of the North and East or the people of his state. To decide whether he was right or wrong it's necessary only to answer a simple question; Who was he supposed to represent?

This leads to another question. What kind of man do we want as our governor? One who protects us against the encroachments of radical, out-of-state party leaders? Or one who tries to shape the state's administration to harmonize with the socialistic New Dealish policies of the radical party leaders?

This question has more than a little importance in the present governor's race. Texas is traditionally conservative. We don't go for the left wing schemes hatched in the inner circles of the New Deal machine. That fact is most clearly shown by the coalition which has existed for several years enabling conservative Southerners and Republicans in Congress to block most of the socialistic New Deal legislation. Well, the thing voters have to decide now is whether they want to continue a conservative administration dedicated to Texas or whether they prefer to vote in the influence of the Democratic Party's radical element. We can be sure that this element would not be throwing its money around in the campaign unless it plans to throw its weight around later.

Signs now are that the question of whether or not Muenster will have a swimming pool will be referred to its voters, and before so very long. Discussion on the subject has established one fact for sure . . . that the pool cannot be built in the near future except by a bond issue, and that will have to be decided by a bond election, at which every qualified voter can have his say.

As things are going now that improvement, along with several others, could be financed by the city on current revenue over a period of several years. Councilmen have been straining to make ends meet the past year but that was because of abnormally heavy spending on a water well, pavement, and sewer extensions. Usually, however, they can lay aside several thousand dollars a

People of Muenster, and the rest of Cooke County, will have two opportunities to vote during the next week. Saturday, the 24th, they will vote in the Democratic primary to determine party nominees for the general election in November. Tuesday the 27th they will vote on approval or disapproval of a proposal to authorize a 30 cent increase in county taxes to provide a special fund for the purchase of right-of-way and the construction of roads and bridges in the county.

Balloting for each election will be in the two customary places at the customary times. North Muenster will vote in the public school. South Muenster will vote at the elevator just south of the Katy tracks. Both places will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. for both elections.

Paul Fisher will be election judge at the south box for both elections. At the north box Joe Luke will be election judge for the primary election Saturday and I. A. Schoech will be judge for the tax election Tuesday.

Compared with elections of past years the coming primary is a small affair reflecting the comparative quiet of the political atmosphere until the last few weeks. The governor's race is the headliner featured by an intensity that overshadowed all other races combined. Politicking for other state offices has been held to a minimum. The same applies for local county offices. The ticket offers two contests for county wide positions and two contests for precinct offices.

Comment on the tax election has been even more scarce than that on the primary. There's little indication of what the public thinks or whether an active election can be expected.

Deputy Sheriff to Stay in Muenster, County Court Says

Recent rumors that Deputy Sheriff Bill Morris will be removed from his Muenster assignment are completely unfounded, according to two members of the Cooke County Commissioners Court.

Commissioner John B. Klement said Monday that the court has had no such request nor has it considered the change. Judge Shelby Fletcher also called the Enterprise to assure that so far as the court is concerned Morris is here to stay.

Local residents were uneasy about the report last week, and several persons have expressed their concern to the judge and commissioners.

General opinion here is that the arrangement to station a deputy sheriff at Muenster has given this community the best law enforcement of its history. Within a few weeks the town has seen a vast improvement in driving habits along with a practical elimination of speeding, recklessness and other disorderly conduct. With a discreet blend of consideration and firmness Morris has established himself as a definite asset to the town.

The deputy is stationed here on a cooperative arrangement between the city and the county. Muenster pays $100 a month toward his salary in return for which he remains here as the local representative of the sheriff's department. At the same time he is subject to call for other duties assigned by the department. His car is equipped with 2-way radio to keep him in contact with the sheriff's office.

M. Sgt. and Mrs. John Durbin and children of New Orleans arrived here Tuesday from Chicago to visit through Sunday with her parents, the Frank Yostens and other family members. Johnny has a 21-day leave and the family spent a week in Chicago with Mrs. Durbin's sister and family, the Nick Mayers, before coming to Muenster. They had a fine time sight-seeing in the Windy City and helped Mrs. Mayer celebrate her birthday.

Lions Encourage City Bond Issue For Swimming Pool

Members of the Muenster Lions Club in their meeting Tuesday devoted most of their discussion to the current pet project, a swimming pool.

Following an announcement by Mayor Urban Endres that the city was preparing to let the residents decide the matter in a bond issue election, the Lions debated on whether the bond should provide for only the pool or should also include other civic improvements. The outcome of that was a decision to discuss the subject around town and try to determine which plan is the more popular.

In his statement Endres said that as things are going now the city will be able to retire up to a $50,000 bond without raising taxes. Revenues from taxes and water sales will allow the city to meet a normal budget and save several thousand dollars a year.

The Lions also conducted a town-rating vote based on a questionnaire taken from the February issue of Town Journal. President Myrick read the 40 questions and the majority vote on each question decided whether Muenster rated a Yes or No. A count then disclosed that Muenster has 22 of the qualifications for a good town but lacks 18 of them.

Joe King, Father of Mrs. Sparkman Vann, Passes Wednesday

Joe King of Dallas, father of Mrs. Sparkman Vann, died Wednesday at 5:15 p.m. at his home after a long illness. He was 75.

Funeral services are set for Friday morning at 10 o'clock at Dudley-Hughes Funeral Home in Dallas and burial will be at Valley View at 2.

King farmed at Myra, Valley View and Krum before retiring about seven years ago and moving to Dallas. He was born in Cameron county in 1879.

Survivors are his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Vann of Muenster and Mmes. D. M. Hestand and Claude Hutson of Dallas; and four sons, Varen and Delbert of Dallas, Dudley of Fort Worth and Lacy King of Los Angeles.

Former Resident Of Marysville Dies

Mrs. Helen Erwin, 92, a former resident of Marysville, died Friday night at 8:30 in the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Doughty, near Glen Rose.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 from the Marysville Baptist church with Rev. E. J. Pennington of Grand Prairie officiating. Burial was under direction of Scott Brothers Funeral Home of Saint Jo.

Early in married life Mrs. Erwin and her husband, the late William Allen Erwin, moved to Marysville from Blount Springs, Ala., where they were married on Dec. 23, 1883. Mr. Erwin was a pioneer farmer of the area and manager of a general merchandise store for many years. He died in 1924.

Mrs. Erwin was born August 25, 1861, in Alabama and had been a lifelong member of the Baptist church.

Survivors are two sons, Walter Erwin of Gainesville and Leelon Erwin of Waco; a daughter, Mrs. E. J. Doughty, five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

J. A. Saunders of Shawnee, Okla., spent Tuesday here on business, was a dinner guest in the Joe Linn home and an overnight guest in the M. A. Slaughter home. Saunders is a former pumper on the Linn lease.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Donna Marie, 21-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rohmer, broke her right leg between the knee and the ankle Monday evening while she was playing at her home. She pulled a lawn chair over and it fell on her, striking her leg. The fracture was placed in a cast at the Muenster Clinic and Donna Marie will have to stay off the leg for four or five weeks.

Facts on 30c Tax Raise Presented By Commissioners

Whether to vote for or against the proposed 30 cent county tax to create a fund for buying high-way right-of-way and building roads, that's the question. Nobody likes a raise in taxes. Likewise nobody likes to see the county lose good road projects or discontinue its FM road progress for lack of funds.

For the benefit of people who are mulling the proposal over in their minds, the Cooke County Commissioners Court this week pointed out the significant facts.

The first of these is that the tax is not a new one. It used to be part of the state tax but was dropped in 1951 following approval of an amendment in 1950 to let counties take jurisdiction over the road fund. Had that been done immediately there would have been no change in anyone's tax. As it stands now, people have saved that tax for two years, even though the money is needed as urgently as before.

The next point is that the tax is subject to the homestead law exemption. It is not levied on the first $3,000 of valuation of a homestead. So the homestead valued at $3,000 or less isn't assessed a cent. Homesteads valued above are assessed only on the valuation above $3,000.

As regards the purpose, County Auditor Tom Hayes said that about one fourth of the proposed revenue is intended to retire present indebtedness on highway 77 right-of-way bonds and also to retire precinct debts. This amount, now taken out of precinct road and bridge funds, leaves an inadequate working capital.

The balance of the revenue for the next four years is intended to provide right-of-way for improvements on Highway 82. A $900,000 four lane project from Gainesville to the Grayson County line now awaits such a clearance and a similar project to the Montague county line is expected to follow. Hayes said that the Federal Government requires a traffic count of 4,000 daily to approve a 4-lane road, and the count now is about 4800 east of Gainesville and about 3800 west of Gainesville.

From then on money would become available for precinct road work, including construction of black top roads. It was also disclosed that 30 cents is the maximum tax authorized by passage of the proposal. The full rate need not be assessed if commissioners feel it is not needed.

Late Start Costs Muenster 9-7 in Softball Contest

Muenster VFW Softballers put on the pressure in the last innings of their game last Thursday night but it was too little and too late and TP&L pulled through with the long end of a 9-7 score.

Errors spoiled the effect of their better record in hitting. They banded out 10 safeties, including a homer by Norb Magee whereas the Powermen got only 7, but two of their five fumbles let in 3 runs and the others contributed to their downfall. TP&L made 2 errors and they did not cost.

Coffman pitching his first game for Muenster got off to a bad start as TP&L scored 3 runs on 2 walks a hit and an error. After two walks in the second he turned the job over to Hartman, who was more steady but failed to hold the Powermen. By the end of the fifth the count was 9-2, then fortunes changed. Muenster added 5 runs on seven hits in the sixth and seventh while holding their opponents scoreless.

Next games for Muenster are with Callisburg next Tuesday and with Cox-Hamon the following Friday.

Rudy Hellman returned Tuesday from a flying trip to Milwaukee to get additional equipment for the cheese plant, and to visit with the Monte Hellmans.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schilling arrived Wednesday afternoon from Seminole to visit her parents, the Joe Swingers and other relatives.

Local Schoolboys Drop 5-4 Thriller To Little Hooters

Muenster's Schoolboys gave the Gainesville Little Hooters a run for the money on the local diamond last Thursday night, but the old jinx held on and when the strain was over they found themselves at the short end of a 5-4 count.

It was the combination of 2 hits and 2 errors in the fourth that produced 3 tallies and the win for the visitors.

Gainesville started the scoring with 1 in the second and added another in the third. Dickie Cain's timely hit in the bottom of the third drove in Knabe and Henscheid to tie the count at 2. Gainesville got the rest of its runs in the top of the fourth and Muenster added one each in the sixth and seventh. "Skiz" drove in Knabe and Walterscheid drove in Henscheid.

Walterscheid and Banks both went all the way on the pitching assignments. Walterscheid gave up 5 hits and got 9 strikeouts. Banks gave up 8 hits and fanned 13.

Henscheid was the heavy hitter of the game with 4 hits out of 4 tries. Nichols for the visitors did almost as well. He hit 3 out of 4.

In a practice game with Marysville Tuesday night the local boys coasted to an easy 9-3 win. Dickie Cain, pitching for Muenster, got into a few tight spots but his support was air tight and helped him through nicely. On the visitors side it was just the opposite. Pitching was steady but support was weak.

Schedule Snarled As Kids Paddle Canoe Down River

Adventurers Robert Meurer and Johnny Fette are convinced that they know all they want to know about Red River between the ferry site north of Muenster and Highway 77 bridge north of Gainesville. They saw plenty of it on their 23 hour expedition in a canoe starting about 8 o'clock Sunday morning.

For months they had planned their ride down the river. They started making the canoe last spring and finished it several weeks ago, and every Sunday since something happened to foul their plans.

The big day finally arrived last Sunday. Ronald Fette took the two explorers and their boat to the river and agreed to meet them at the bridge about mid-afternoon. They took off at about 8 o'clock, well supplied with lunches, 3 canteens of water and a spirit of adventure.

At 3 Ronnie arrived at the bridge and looked expectantly up the river, but no canoe was in sight. A while later he looked again. Still no canoe. Until dark he kept the vigil, waiting and looking. Meanwhile Robert and Johnny were looking downstream just as anxiously for a sight of the bridge. Everytime they rounded a bend their hearts sank as they saw nothing but more water, sand and horizon. As the afternoon wore on they got tired of their oars and began alternating their paddling with pushing the boat through shallow water. Canteens went dry too and they had to bum several drinks of water from fishermen. Food held out OK but they lost their appetites for it.

As darkness came they were determined to keep going but they kept running into sand bars until the moon came out and gave them a better chance to follow the shallow, meandering channel of the nearly dry river. It was near midnight when they decided to give up and flop on a sand bar.

By that time the second watch at the bridge was also getting weary. When Ronnie returned home alone after dark his mother promptly went back and waited until one o'clock. Then she went home intending to return in the morning.

Before she got away Monday she had a phone call. The kids had completed the trip and stumbled up the bank to the filling station near the bridge. They said they were back at the oars at the crack of dawn and

October 7 Set for Dedication Date of Church and School

The date for the dedication of Muenster's new Sacred Heart Church has been definitely set for October 7. Immediately following that ceremony the new Sacred Heart High School will also be dedicated.

Father Louis Deuster announced the date last Sunday after receiving word from Bishop Thomas K. Gorman that he could be present to officiate at the services.

The date set is later than originally intended in order to allow additional time for installation of furnishings. Items still to be put in are the large crucifix dominating the front wall above the main altar, two side altars, pulpit, altar railing and stations of the cross. It is believed that all installations will be finished before October 7, but the dedication will be held then whether or not they are finished.

Work on the school will definitely be finished in time. Superintendent Elmer Brackett says he expects to turn over the completed job in less than two weeks.

John Bayer Honored On 83rd Birthday

The 83rd birthday of John Bayer provided the occasion for a happy family reunion Sunday night in the parish park when his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren gathered for a picnic supper and social evening in his honor.

Everyone brought gifts for Mr. Bayer and covered dishes for the meal. About 100 persons were present.

Pioneer Resident

Mr. Bayer is one of the few remaining pioneer residents of the community. He has lived here continuously for 61 years, since arriving on June 18, 1893.

A native of Michigan, he was reared in Carroll, Iowa, and came to Muenster from there. He bought land and began farming. Later he also engaged in the cattle business, retiring from active work seven years ago when he moved to town to live in a new home he had built on Main street, south of Sacred Heart church.

He was married to Miss Apollonia Fisher here on Sept. 4, 1894. She died in 1932.

Since his wife died Mr. Bayer lives alone. He's still active about his home, enjoys spending part of his time, in season, tending a vegetable garden, lawn and shrubbery. He drives his own car.

Recalls Early History

Mr. Bayer can vividly recall early day history much of which he helped make. He saw two churches destroyed by storms, a third one torn down and the erection of the present magnificent building. An active churchman throughout his life he has encouraged, assisted and financially supported all parish undertakings. He's equally interested in community activity and progress.

He draws interesting word pictures of the 1890's, relating how hail south of town wiped out crops in 1895 and 1896, and of his three and a half years of freight hauling which he did in addition to his farming.

Hauled Freight

He began in 1898 using a double team and wagon. The freight, mostly food staples, was hauled from Gainesville. The round trip took almost a full day—in good weather. When it rained and mud was hub-deep it took longer, often into the night.

The Katy Railroad was hauling freight too, and there was a depot here, he explains, but he could haul cheaper and he'd deliver to the store or to homes, so he got most of the business.

Of a friendly, good humored nature, and knowing practically everyone in the community, he enjoys talking and visiting with oldsters and youngsters alike.

He has five sons and two daughters: Frank, George, Martin and Johnny Bayer, Mrs. Victor Hartman and Mrs. Norbert Klement, all of Muenster, and Al Bayer of Gainesville; 50 grand children and 15 great-grandchildren.

A sister and three brothers still live in Iowa and for many years he has paid them an annual summer visit. He's planning this year's trip now. The sister, Mrs. Theresia Neuberger, lives in Council Bluff, and George, Frank and Adam Bayer live in Willey.

Among those from out of town attending the birthday party were the Al Bayers and family of Gainesville, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Tompkins and daughters of Denton, and Mrs. Teddy Gremminge and son of Fort Worth.

Local News BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams and two children are new residents in Muenster coming here from Woodson. He is pumper on the Linn lease south of town replacing M. A. Slaughter. Mr. and Mrs. Slaughter moved recently to occupy Mrs. Ben Hellman's house north of the ball park.

Bill Luke left Sunday to return to Midland after spending three weeks at home recovering from mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Walterscheid and daughter Earline left Sunday on a trip to Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, to visit Charlie Schmitt.

Miss Marianne Luke is spending a two week vacation here with her parents, the Ben Lukes. She's a student nurse at St. Paul's in Dallas.

The Orlan Edelens and sons of Wilson, Okla., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Evans several days.

Two gallons of 1954 gasoline are equal in power to three gallons of 1925 fuel.

No one can get the best of us unless we let them play upon the worst.

REDUCE THIS PAYROLL!
Many honorable men and women develop "blind spots" when they get elected to public office. Members of state legislatures and of Congress frequently fall victim of "payroll blindness," an occupational disease in government. Their integrity can be of the very highest order, and yet they will almost invariably close their eyes to reality when replying to taxpayers demands for reductions in government spending.

The state legislator will usually say: "Asking for cuts in the budget is easy. Finding a place to apply cuts without crippling some vital service is difficult. Where would you suggest we cut?" The Congressman will usually say: "Finding a place to apply cuts without crippling some vital service is difficult. Most of the budget is for national defense. We're down to the bone elsewhere. Where would you suggest we cut?" The following official statistics on government employment holds forth a good answer to "Where would you suggest we cut?" The figures are from the U.S. Bureau of the Census, and they give the total number of civilian employees on the government payrolls (local, state and federal).

Too Many Everywhere

Alabama, 126,303 government workers; Arizona, 40,756; Arkansas, 58,323; California, 649,838 (yes, you read it correctly—649,838!); Colorado, 82,130; Connecticut, 72,654; Delaware, 13,293; Florida, 138,679 (more people in government jobs than the entire population of Tampa); Georgia, 144,846; Idaho, 26,791; Illinois, 346,770; Indiana, 157,554 (more government workers than the population of Gary); Iowa, 105,491; Kansas, 90,803; Kentucky, 95,610; Louisiana, 108,405; Maine, 44,672; Maryland, 114,979; Massachusetts, 234,769; Michigan, 248,797 (75,000 more government employees than the population of Grand Rapids); Minnesota, 132,832; Mississippi, 69,838; Missouri, 150,794; Montana, 29,070; Nebraska, 68,044; Nevada, 12,693; North Hampshire, 22,503; New Jersey, 194,905 . . .

Long Overdue

The Staggering Total

New Mexico, 40,183; New York, 732,325 that's more government workers than the entire populations of Buffalo and Albany combined; North Carolina, 128,596; North Dakota, 30,594; Ohio, 345,297; Oklahoma, 116,079; Oregon, 72,504; Pennsylvania, 387,538; Rhode Island, 34,008; South Carolina, 77,330; South Dakota, 33,554; Tennessee, 124,065 (exactly the same number of government employees as there are men, women and children in Knoxville);

Texas, 329,798 (50,000 more than the population of Fort Worth); Utah, 57,166; Vermont, 15,986; Virginia, 166,541; Washington, 149,191; West Virginia, 59,955; Wisconsin, 135,258 (as many government workers as the combined populations of Madison, the capitol, and Green Bay); Wyoming, 16,819.

This adds up to 7,047,000 persons on the public payrolls of the nation. The Census Bureau says the tax money required to meet this enormous payroll totals $23-billion a year!

A Place To Cut

Is there an honorable state legislator or Congressman who has "payroll blindness" so acutely that he can't see a place to cut government expenses when he examines these official figures? Let us suppose in a government office of 10 people, three came down with an illness that kept them absent 30 days. Could the work of the office go on—could the seven remaining people pick up the work of the other three

Death Is But the Threshold of Life

By Rev. Dr. Edmond Benard, Catholic University of America

MOST OF US will agree readily that man's soul is immortal. But how often do we really think what those words mean?

Do we realize that once we look upon a man, whoever he may be, we look upon an immortal soul? Thousands of people pass us on the street. We sit next to them on trains and streetcars, in theatres and baseball parks. Many of them we have never seen before. Many of them we will never see again. They touch our lives briefly and then pass by and are forgotten. But not one of them will ever die. They are immortal.

may be relatively long or short, relatively joyous or sad. Whatever they are, our days on earth are like the shadow of a cloud that vanishes with the wind's passing.

TO REALIZE our soul's immortality, then, is to realize the true scale of values; to realize the overpowering truth of Christ's words, "How is a man better for it, if he gains the whole world at the cost of losing his own soul?"

The old pagan rule of life had been, "Eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow we die." Then Christ came, and added, "But after death the judgement"—judgement on man's immortal soul. Under the impact of that tremendous teaching, the pagan power, throned throughout the world and supported by fleets and armies, crumbled and fell. The grandeur and might of paganism paled before Christ's teaching on the immortality of the human soul.

A MAN WHO FULLY realizes the meaning of his own soul's immortality can never live as the pagans once lived, just for the moment, just for the day, with no thought of eternity to come. In all his thoughts and actions, he acts Christian, as one who will never die, but will, one day, enjoy eternal happiness with God.

Rev. E. Benard

HISTORIES TELL US about the millions who have lived before us. Today these figures are not a shapeless mass of statistics. Every man and woman who ever lived is living still; either in the glory of heaven with their loving God, or in the eternal separation from the presence of their just God, or in the state of waiting and purification, that preparation for the happiness of heaven called purgatory.

"The soul is immortal." Each of us is destined to live for all eternity. The days of our life

Mrs. J. M. Shields and Clea Sue Cannon are assisting with details in connection with the vacation Bible School being held at Saint Jo Methodist church this week.

Jo Ella Prather is spending this week at a summer camp for girls. She went with the junior girls from the First Baptist church.

Several families from this community were among those attending an ice cream supper honoring Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Cowan and family at Saint Jo last Wednesday night. It was a farewell party before the family moved to Nocona and was held at the Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Bost of Oklahoma City spent several days of this week with her mother, Mrs. Sallie M. Kidd.

Mr. and Mrs. August Hyman spent the weekend in Denton as guests of their son and family, the Ruel Hymans.

Farm Girls Compete In Queen's Contest

Community queens are being selected in Cooke County by Farm Bureau groups for the contest which will end August 18 when the final run-off will be held in the Muenster Parish Park and Miss Cooke County will be chosen to enter the state contest.

Only rules of the contest are that a contestant must be a daughter or sister of a member of the Farm Bureau and be between the ages of 16 to 22.

Judges will select girls on appearance, poise and personality and these qualities will be scored 30, 30, 40.

Contest committee members are Mmes. Roy Robison, Herman Schniederjan, Martin Bayer and Joe Hundt.

County 4-H Boys Win 6 Pig Awards

Cooke county 4-H club boys have won six of the 40 cash awards given in the 15-county Dallas district for work in the Sears foundation pig program during the year ending July 1.

Assistant County Agent Gene Sears was notified that a boar raised by Cecil Hermes of Lindsay has been awarded first place in the district. The youth will receive a $20 prize. The boars were judged on the basis of records submitted on the animals.

Five other county youths won prize money in the heavy litter contest for gilts received last year in the Sears program. This contest is based on the total weight of the first litter at the age of eight weeks.

Mark Hermes, brother of Cecil, placed highest from Cooke county in this event, winning fifth place and a $25 award. His gilt produced a 10-pig litter with a total weight of 434 pounds.

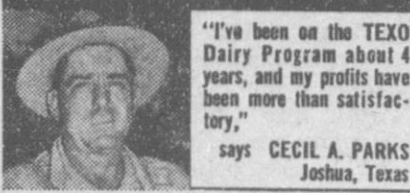

Others from the county winning prize money in the heavy litter contest were Tommy Caldwell of Woodbine, Don Springs of Woodbine, Sylvan Walterscheid of Muenster and Don Finley of Era.

Caldwell received $15 for his eight-pig litter weighing 396 pounds, Springs was awarded $10 for a seven-pig litter totalling 370 pounds, Walterscheid won $5 for his seven-pig litter weighing 329 pounds, and Finley also received $5 for his eight-pig litter with a weight of 298.

MEET A SUCCESSFUL DAIRYMAN!

"I've been on the TEXO Dairy Program about 4 years, and my profits have been more than satisfactory," says CECIL A. PARKS, Joshua, Texas

As a dairyman, you know that no one feed is going to meet your year around needs, and that's where the TEXO Dairy Program sure fits the bill. TEXO 16% Dairy Feed will mean top production during milking; and, equally important, TEXO Dry and Freshening Feed is the answer to keeping cows in the best condition during calving. Together they add up to one thing: more profit from your herd.

Drop in the store when you're in town and let us show you what a difference the TEXO Dairy Program can mean in returns from your dairy cows.

Soil Conservation Notes

Elections have been getting the main billing the last few days and farmers around Muenster have polled a strong vote in favor of conservation practices to protect and improve their cropland. These same farmers are applying conservation measures despite the continued hot, dry weather.

Cooperators with the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District who have had terraces staked on their sloping cropland are J. J. Hartman 4,000 feet; Hugo Lutkenhaus 2,500 feet; Wilfred Reiter 4,500 feet.

Reiter's terraces were run in a field where old terraces had apparently been "eyeballed" in years ago. He built several terraces in this same field last year and says the broad easily farmed channel type terraces have not caused trouble while the old terraces were a problem every time it rained. He wants to complete the terrace system in this field with more channel type terraces and plans to build them himself with a three-disk plow and the island method of construction.

Many fields in the Muenster area are beginning to take on a darker color as chisels and plows swing into full scale operation. In many cases field cultivators or chisels are being used to good advantage as crop residues are being left on the soil surface to protect the soil from beating rains that are bound to come. At the same time the soil is opened up to a good depth so that water will enter into the soil and be stored for use by next year's crops.

Heat records and clover seed yields have topped the past week and as the mercury soared so did clover seed yields. Lonnie Young reported that he combined 12 acres of Madrid sweet clover on Mrs. F. S. Mitchell's farm north of Saint Jo for Leon Young. Lonnie figured he had at least 10,000 popuds of seed since he got 13 full hoppers of clover seed from the 12 acres. This was Leon's first experience with clover and he found, as have many others, that it pays to farm the conservation way.

In the same vicinity Wright Embry harvested 8,000 pounds of Madrid clover seed from 23 acres. A. E. Leslie has combined one thousand pounds of Madrid clover seed and 3,000 pounds of vetch seed. Joe Knauf harvested approximately 5,000 pounds of Madrid clover seed on his own farm and 1,500 pounds on the Henry Pick farm.

Others who reported good seed yields are B. C. Redman who had Madrid clover and Buddy Dunn of Dye Mound who harvested 4,500 pounds of vetch seed.

Richard Grewing has a new farm pond on his place near Bulcher and J. T. Cole, north of Marysville, has built a diversion terrace above a bottomland field. This diversion will prevent water from pastures above from damaging the bottomland field.

Soil saving and improving practices have proven their worth to farmers of this area and are way out in front in the race against erosion.

The term "Swiss Navy" used to be a joke because Switzerland didn't have any warships or merchant marine. However, it isn't a joke anymore because the mountainous little country has a merchant fleet of 33 vessels, 22 of them ocean-going. The Swiss registered their fleet during World War II so they wouldn't be dependent on beligerent ships for supplies.

A MESSAGE FROM
JOHN H. MILLER
CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR

Dear Friends:

As the political campaign draws to a close, I want to express to you my appreciation for the many courtesies extended to me in my race for election as State Senator. In campaigning for an office which covers seven counties, I have found it impossible to contact every voter, so if I have missed you, please consider this a personal appeal for your vote and support.

I again ask that you investigate my background and qualifications, with full confidence that such investigation will show you a limited example of the type of constructive service you will receive from me as your State Senator.

When elected State Senator, I will not be unduly influenced by any pressure group but will strive at all times to work for and accomplish those things which will make each county in this District a better place in which to live and rear our families.

I urge you to exercise your American privilege of voting next Saturday, July 24th. Your vote and support will be sincerely appreciated, and I will ever be grateful for anything you may say or do in behalf of my candidacy.

With kindest personal regards, I am,

Sincerely yours,

MEET A SUCCESSFUL POULTRYMAN!

"I can recommend TEXO Growing Mash very highly to anyone," says CLEM D. RICHARDSON, Lu Grange, Texas

Yes sir, that's one of the things you'll find common among TEXO feeders—they're real TEXO boosters and recommend it to their friends.

New TEXO Growing Mash is especially formulated to give growing pullets just what they need for consistent, economical growth. This means that TEXO-fed pullets reach the nest with the energy and stamina to produce throughout the laying season.

There's lots of folks right here in this area who have found that TEXO Growing Mash means more profits in developing layers. Feed the TEXO way... all the way—TEXO Chick Starter—TEXO Growing Mash—TEXO Laying Mash.

STRIKE DUTY—An Italian soldier learns about animal husbandry the hard way, as he leads a bull to water during a widespread strike of Italian farm workers. More than 1000 persons were arrested during the course of the no-work strike, seemingly Communist inspired, which has cost Italy dearly in cattle and vital farm crops.

lyn of Tyler, the Rudolph Sapps of Dexter, the W. D. Daugherty family of Callisburg, the Paul Cochran of Era, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reeves of Odessa, the W. A. Doughtys of Calcard, the Bob Duncans and family of Tulsa, and M. B. and Claire Guthrie of Pilot Point.

An army sanitation officer learned that a certain area in Korea was reported to have bad drinking water so he decided to investigate.

He arrived on the spot and began questioning an old master sergeant about precautions being taken against disease from drinking unpure water.

"Well, first we boil the water," the old veteran said. "Then we put it in lister bags to keep it pure."

As the S. O. began nodding approvingly the sergeant finished with, "And then, just to be on the safe side, we all drink beer."

Confetti --- year. Which means that whether on a bonded project or on a pay-as-we-go project, the city will be able to handle the financing without raising taxes. So, one way we use current revenue to build one thing after another, the other way we use it to retire bonded indebtedness. The only difference in the long run is that the bond provides the improvements much sooner but will cost a few thousand more in interest. That's assuming that prices stay as they are, of course. If prices should continue rising it may cost more to do it the slow way.

One proposed plan that seems to have a lot of merit is to vote on authorizing a bond issue for as much as $50,000. If it passes the city can issue bonds for as much as its needs, not necessarily the full amount, and take care of the projects that are most urgently needed. Some of those things are the swimming pool, expansion in the water and sewer systems, and additional paving. All should be done. All can be done soon if the city does not have to wait for money to accumulate.

Another favorable factor in the bond plan is the present low rate of interest. Bonds now are going for about three per cent. Assuming the city sold the $50,000 issue, the first year's interest would be $1,500, and if principal were retired at $5,000 a year the interest would drop $150 every year.

And there's another consideration, too. If the town continues its present rate of growth, revenue will increase proportionately. Very likely the debt can be retired well ahead of schedule.

The important thing is that a bond will allow lots of improvements without increasing the tax load. And it's the only way we can have things we need without waiting a long time.

Kids' Canoe Ride --- came down the home stretch in the cool morning air. The sand bar had been too cold for comfort anyway.

The boys' luck was considerably better hitch hiking. They were home an hour after their call.

They're not quite so fond of the canoe as they used to be but they did return to the river for it Monday afternoon. Right now the craft is lying in Meurer's backyard and nobody's planning another ride.

One detail the boys failed to check before was the distance. They did not think it would be far, but following the river bends on the map later they estimated they had gone about 35 miles.

Klement Bid for Re-election Based On Service Record

To the voters of Precinct 4

In seeking re-election as your commissioner I first want to express my thanks for your votes in the past and also for the fine cooperation and support you have given me while in office.

I am asking your continued support solely on the record of my service. During my four years in office I have improved the status of the precinct's financial account along with maintaining and improving the precinct roads. If re-elected I will continue the same conscientious supervision of your roads and your money and will give similar faithful attention to your interests in administering the big road program which is due to begin in this county soon.

As regards rumors that the west part of the county will lose its resident deputy sheriff, now living in Muenster, I can assure you that the commissioners court has had no such request nor has it considered the change.

Respectfully yours,
John B. Klement
