VOLUME XVIII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS.

AUGUST 13, 1954

NUMBER 38

Two separate reports on developments in the national capital show a trend in the right direction for the country's agricultural program. Signs now point to a probability that crop price supports will be lower, discouraging to some extent the big surplus problem that has been a thorn in the side of the taxpayer.

The other development is a tax revision which allows a farmer to make income tax deductions for certain types of soil conservation work on his farm. Formerly a landowner's only tax relief, if any, for such improvement came when he sold the land. Expenses could be deducted then in determining the amount of profit a man made on the sale. However he got no tax relief whatever if he did not sell, and he did not get the full tax relief benefit if his selling price was not equal to or higher than the original value plus cost of improvements.

This way is lots better. He gets compensation up to 25 per cent of his farm income, and if his expense was greater than that he can deduct from profits of succeeding years.

What's good about this arrangement is that it offers compensation for service to the country rather than dis-service. Building terraces, ponds, waterways and contours preserves productivity for posterity. It is a national asset. On the other hand excessive crop growth is a double liability. It depletes the soil in addition to creating the surplus which becomes a burden on the country.

This writer has not learned whether the expense of growing and plowing-under soil building crops qualify for the tax deduction. It would seem, however, that they should be figured in, and if so will round out a very prudent program of national farm economy.

Such a system, once it gets under way, seems a natural to develop into an economic balance. Lower support prices will induce many farmers to take their marginal lands out of crop production and tax benefits will induce them to build up the land. While supply and demand approaches a balance the country gets rid of its surplus problem and also conserves productivity.

It works out nicely for the farmer too. He can use some of his land for crops every year and apply conservation to the rest, depending on his judgment rather than acreage allotments in deciding his rotation program. After a while his better average yield on fewer acres, though the total yield may be smaller, will bring him as much net income as the larger crop acreage did before. Meanwhile he enjoys the tax benefits on his soil building work.

This column would not claim that we have arrived at the ideal arrangement. Perhaps more adjustment is needed to achieve the balance. Maybe the tax deduction is not sufficient compensation for conservation practices and should be supplemented by direct payments. Maybe crop price supports still are not low enough to discourage the production of surpluses. But we definitely are on the right way. Price supports should serve only to protect farmers against ruinous prices, not to guarantee them profit on surplus production. And government subsidies should be paid only for conserving and improving national resources, not for exploiting them.

The average person is pleased when someone else agrees with him on an issue, especially so if the other person happens to be an expert or a man otherwise noted for sound judgment. That's why back in 1941, yours truly was delighted when a few eminent statesmen said we ought to keep out of the war. The same statement had been printed in this column at the time that Hitler sent his army into Russia. The comment, in substance, said "Let's let the two big bullies fight it out, and when they're worn down we can step in and tell them both how to behave."

Memories of that were revived Tuesday by Ex-President Hoover's 80th anniversary speech. He said his advice at the time was to let Hitler and Stalin exhaust each other. Events have proved that his judgment was 100 per cent correct.

For that matter his speech had (Continued on Page 12)

State SCS Office Asks for Bids on 2 Detention Dams

Two more detention reservoirs for the Elm watershed are due to be under construction in a matter of weeks. They are Site No. 3 on the Grant farm about 5 miles west of Muenster and Site No. 4 on the Duesman farm about 4 miles southwest of town.

An invitation for construction bids on the two sites was sent out on August 3 by the state SCS headquarters at Temple. It calls for sealed bids which are to be opened and read at 2 p.m. on August 30. Construction on such dams normally begins within a month after the successful bidder is named.

According to specifications prepared by the Soil Conservation Service, the Grant reservoir will have a 24 acre permanent pool and will require 26.5 acres of clearing and 129,000 cubic yards of dirt fill.

The Duesman permanent pool will cover 12 acres, and will require 10.5 acres of clearing and 81,500 cubic yards of dirt fill.

Work on both sites is to be completed within 190 days from the date of receipt of notice to proceed.

Bezner Infant Dies Shortly After Birth

Joseph Bezner, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Bezner of Lindsay, born prematurely Monday afternoon died six hours after birth in a Gainesville hospital.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 4 p.m. from St. Peter's church at Lindsay and burial was in the Lindsay cemetery under direction of George J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home. Rev. Conrad Herda officiated.

In addition to the parents survivors are the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Bezner of Lindsay and Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Walterscheid of Muenster, and great-grandmothers, Mrs. John Schilling of Muenster and Mrs. Anna Wiese of Lindsay.

Directors of Farm Bureau Plan Meal, Crowning of Queen

Directors of the Cooke County Farm Bureau, meeting Monday evening, completed plans for the queen's coronation and for the barbecue supper to be held in connection with the selection and crowning of Miss Cooke County.

The program will be held next Wednesday, August 18, beginning at 6:30 in the Muenster Parish Park. Eight contestants will vie for the county queen title.

William Bezner presided for the session in the community room of the First State Bank and Mrs. Roy Robison and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Davis reported on the Farm Bureau Institute they attended at College Station recently. Among those at the meeting were Martin Bayer of Muenster and Joe B. Hundt of Lindsay.

Rev. Joseph Fuhrman Is New Principal at Laneri High School

Rev. Joseph Fuhrman, O.S.B., is the new principal of Laneri High School in Fort Worth.

His appointment was made by Abbot Paul Nahlen of Subiaco Abbey in Arkansas with the concurrence of the Most Rev. Thomas K. Gorman, bishop of the Dallas-Fort Worth diocese.

A native of Lindsay, Father Fuhrman received his Ph.D. in history from the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C. Besides his administrative duties at Laneri he will teach mathematics.

Father Fuhrman has been stationed at Corpus Christi College-Academy since its opening in 1928. At the time of his appointment to Laneri he was superintendent of the school there and sub-prior to the Corpus Christi priory.

Rawley Takes Up Mink Raising as Spare Time Venture

Something new in the way of a business venture, or a hobby, in Muenster is the mink farm started lately by Walter Rawley. He prefers to consider it a business, hoping that he will realize enough profit to compensate him for the time and money he's spending.

Walter sort of inherited the animals a few weeks ago when his father-in-law passed away at Coolidge. The man had about 140 head and his wife promptly sold most of them to an old friend. Stuck with the rest of them, she made a deal with Rawley to take over on a profit sharing arrangement.

So Rawley now has 61 minks in some 40 cages under a recently built shelter near the Ford tractor agency. The shelter, incidentally, provides nothing but shade. It's open on four sides and has a straw roof. Rain can trickle through, but that's hardly expected to bother an animal which is naturally fond of water.

If all goes well, that is if tough luck doesn't foul up the mathematical possibilities, Walter should be able to realize a few extra bucks out of his undertaking, which demands an average of more than two hours a day of his time.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

John Bayer, 83, is a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium for medical care since last Friday.

Dickie Cain underwent an emergency operation for acute appendicitis at 4 a.m. Wednesday at Gainesville Sanitarium and is reported "doing fine."

Wilfred Sicking is making a normal recovery from a major operation performed at Gainesville Sanitarium last Thursday morning. He will be a hospital patient until Saturday.

2 Gunmen Invade L. Sicking Home And Demand Meal

Mrs. Lawrence Sicking had a nerve-racking experience Tuesday afternoon but was not harmed by two gunmen who terrorized her for about two hours at her home three miles northwest of Valley View on the Spring Creek Road.

It happened like this: Mrs. Sicking and her baby returned home at about 2:30 to find a car pulled up beside the house and could see a man sitting in the living room. She was not alarmed because she thought her husband was there talking with a automobile salesman about buying a car.

When she entered the living room one man was sitting in a chair near the door with a German Luger pistol held on her, the other man was sitting on the divan. They told her she would not be harmed if she followed their orders.

Mrs. Sicking related that the men ordered her to prepare a meal for them and after eating waited until she washed the dishes. They told her to wipe their finger prints from doors and other objects they had touched with their hands.

After they left she took her baby and hurried to the field where her husband was plowing about a half mile from the house. He was unaware of what had happened because the house is (Continued on Page 12)

Muenster - Hooters Play Next Tuesday For League Title

Next Tuesday night on Gainesville's Locke Field Muenster Schoolboys will meet the Little Hooters of Gainesville in the deciding game for the championship of the North Texas Summer Baseball League.

The tussle, originally scheduled for Tuesday of this week was postponed because of a slip-up in previous plans. The diamond was not available because the professional Owls team had a home game scheduled for that night. So Managers Cain and Morris agreed to wait until next Tuesday when the Owls will play away from home.

Each team has won one game in the playoff series to date. During the regular season Gainesville topped the league standing and Muenster earned the right to enter the playoff in an extra game which broke the tie with Pilot Point for second place.

During the past week the Muenster boys won two practice games with Marysville.

Building And Improvement Notes

The two new houses currently under construction are both nearing completion. Leo Sicking's home north of town will be finished in about a week and outside work is finished on the Ed Hess house on North Main.

A new house of local interest outside the community is Walter "Chalky" Haverkamp's on South Grand in Gainesville. It will be a 2-bedroom house with attached garage.

J. W. Fleitman's new house is due to be under way soon. He has finished tearing down the old house and salvaging materials. J. H. Bayer is still salvaging from the old house for use in a new one.

Home improvements are under way for Andy Wimmer, Frank Bayer and Adolph Walterscheid. Wimmer is adding a glassed in porch besides putting in new floors and sheet rock walls in the rest of the house. Bayer is painting, papering and doing some remodeling on his house in Muenster. Walterscheid is making general repairs, including sheetrock throughout and a new roof on his house on the former Sicking farm.

New paint jobs completed lately are the interior and exterior at Mrs. Joe Walterscheid's, the exterior at Mrs. Joe Bayer's and the interior at the Enterprise.

Two new Grade A dairy barns are nearing completion. Donald Walterscheid is putting up a 40 x 20 tile building, Leo Hesse a 40 x 18 metal building.

Tuggle Suspects Man Storing Car; He's Right, It's Hot

The Tuggle and Yosten Garage seems to have a special knack for getting involved with stolen cars. Last week one of the boys picked up a wrong car here in town and the report went out that it was stolen. And Saturday night they got involved with a real stolen car.

A couple of fellows drove into the garage and the driver said he wanted to store his 1950 Ford. He gave a hard luck story about wife and kids in a hospital, no money to make more car payments, so he wanted a receipt to send the finance company with instructions to come and get the car.

Tuggle was suspicious and called Deputy Bill Morris... and found that Morris already had lots of data. License number, motor number, make, model, owner's name and all that. The car had been reported as stolen in California.

He looked for the driver and companion but could not find them, so he took the car keys and notified the owner in California.

Incidentally, the name given by the driver for the storage ticket was the name of the owner.

Local Softballers To Enter Play-off In County League

Muenster VFW softballers are in the county league playoff which begins Tuesday night of next week, but they will not know until Thursday night who their opponent will be. The game between Gainesville VFW and the Chicks will decide that, the winner being Muenster's opponent.

Those two clubs, now tied for first, will occupy first and second place in league standing. TP&L is third and Muenster fourth.

The playoff agreement is that teams 1 and 4 will play a 3 out of 5 series, and teams 2 and 3 also play 3 out of 5. Winners of those two series then play a 4 out of 7 series for the league title.

A forfeit by National Guard cinched fourth place for Muenster, but two other games of the past week do not look so good on the record. The boys dropped a 9-5 decision to Schlumberger last Thursday and were nosed out 7-6 by Gainesville VFW in an extra inning Tuesday night.

Three errors made the difference as Muenster just missed upsetting the hot shot VFW boys. A boner in the first let in two and another error in the eighth let in the winning run.

Otherwise the game was tight all the way as Speedballer Sid Felker allowed 7 hits and Hartman gave up 8. Felderhoff and Brewer led Muenster hitting with 2 each and Herr, Hoedebeck and Endres each connected once.

Muenster's big inning was the fourth when Felker weakened after 2 strikeouts and loaded the bases on walks. Brewer's double followed by Felderhoff's single brought in four tallies.

Felker struck out 13 batters and gave up 6 walks. Hartman walked 1 and fanned only 5 but he had something on the ball to trouble the batters. 14 of them popped out.

Schlumberger, though in the lower bracket of the league played top bracket ball in turning the Muenster team back 9-5. They cashed in on 10 hits nicely grouped with 6 walks and an error, whereas Muenster struggled along on 6 hits, 1 walk and 4 errors.

Death Takes Friend Of Local Firemen

Death Monday claimed a good friend of the Muenster firemen. He was Frank Williams, pension commissioner of the State Firemen's Association and very active worker in firemen's conventions and training schools for more than 20 years. He has also visited Muenster a few times on inspection tours of fire departments in the state.

Muenster firemen wired flowers for his funeral in Austin Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. Thomas Weinzapfel and Gordon O'Neal of Dallas visited here Sunday with the former's family, the J. M. Weinzapfels.

Group Estimates 10c Tax Raise Will Meet County Needs

While a petition is circulating to submit the proposal for a 30 cent tax increase at another county election another proposal for a smaller tax increase is beginning to take shape.

A group of about 30 persons meeting in Gainesville Monday night favored a ten cent tax as a means of financing the county road improvement program. Muenster men attending the session were J. M. Weinzapfel, Herbert Meurer and Earl Fisher.

The proposal which developed from that meeting was to take up only a part of the 30 cent tax which had been discontinued by the state in 1950. Some preferred a 15 cent tax but more seemed to favor the 10 cent tax.

General opinion was that a fund of about $32,000 raised by a 10 cent tax would be sufficient to finance the county road program. That figure was estimated from the 1953 county audit report which shows a total valuation of 37 million. Homestead valuations amount to about 5 million, leaving a valuation of about 32 million subject to the tax. Figured on a 15 cent tax the additional county revenue would come to about $48,000.

Another point brought out in the meeting is that previous information concerning use of the tax money has been wrong. Legislation which dropped the 30 cent tax from the state provided that (Continued on Page 12)

Eight Candidates Will Compete for Farm Queen Title

Farm queen candidates who will vie for the title of Miss Cooke County next Wednesday met Monday with Miss Bernice Puckett, county home demonstration agent, and Mrs. Roy Robison, contest chairman, for a briefing on what to wear, how to present themselves and other details.

Miss Puckett also assisted the girls in outlining the one and one-half minute talk they are expected to make.

The eight candidates are Misses Georgia Ann Hartman of Muenster, Joyce Hoberer of Era, Betty Rose Zimmerer of Lindsay, Mary Beth Watson of Downard-Fairplains, Nora Jo Christian of Roston, Janice Huneycutt of Callisburg, Betty Vann of Valley View and Wanda Richey of Marysville.

Two queen candidates announced this week are Miss Zimmerer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Zimmerer of Lindsay and Miss Watson, representing Downard-Fairplains, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Watson, Old Denton Road.

Miss Zimmerer, candidate for the Lindsay Farm Bureau, is 20, and five feet seven inches tall. She has black naturally curly hair which she wears short, dark brown eyes and an olive complexion. A 1952 graduate of Lindsay High, she has been a 4-H club member for six years and served as secretary one year. (Continued on Page 12)

PANAMA HATS AREN'T

Genuine Panama hats don't come from Panama at all, but from the high mountains of Ecuador. Hand woven by Indians, they are blocked and styled to our tastes by U. S. hat makers. Fad was started more than a century ago by Forty-niners who, returning East through the Isthmus of Panama, discovered and misnamed them.

Mink Raising ---

He says that his father-in-law started about five years ago with five females and developed the herd to its present size while pelting most of the males and the cull females every year. Litters once a year average 4 or 5 kittens and survival rates are good, so the annual fur crop figures close to two pelts a year for every stock female.

Values of pelts vary widely. Ordinary fur brings about $10 whereas extra fine fur bring closer to $50. Animals are pelted in mid-winter when the quality of fur is at its best.

Improving the fur is one of the big objectives in raising mink. That's done by selective breeding, mating the animals with the finest texture and most popular shade of fur. Rawley's minks include some of a currently prized color, a sort of powder blue. He also has black, white and varying shades of brown and gray.

A staple food for the animals is chicken heads. Rawley gets them from a chicken dressing plant and grinds them. Supplementary feed consists of several items, mostly a specially prepared meal, liver, and some tonics.

After the games Mrs. Wilde served refreshments of ice cream with fresh strawberries and angel food cake to members and two guests Mrs. Ben Seyler and Mrs. Frank Kaiser.

Blessed Events

It's a boy for Mr. and Mrs. Marty Klement! There isn't any doubt they got just what they wanted because they picked him out. They adopted the ten day old baby last Friday and named him Karl. He weighed six pounds and two ounces at birth. He is the second grandchild for the Joe Haverkamps of Gainesville and the second great-grandchild for Mrs. Mary Berend. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Klement of Muenster.

Jos. Flusche Family Has Annual Reunion

A Virginia bank, to accommodate its customers who needed change for parking meters, put a bowl containing $5 in small coins in the lobby and invited them to make their own change. Far from being "short" at the end of the year, the bowl was 69 cents over!

LET'S SELL AMERICA!

In the face of a vast campaign by Socialist and Communist propagandists to infect the thinking of our adult population and infiltrate the minds of our school pupils and college students, it is sometimes difficult for those actively engaged in combating this menace to put their major accent on the positive approach. Yet, in my opinion, the best way to assure the preservation of our American system is to place our major effort upon informing and reminding our people, young and old, that in the American way of life we have the best instrument for human progress, prosperity and happiness yet tried by man.

Someone long ago said that the best defense is a strong offense, and I think that's right. We need today a good offense. We need to do a real job of selling an on-coming generation on the benefits inherent in our American system. It is tremendously important for the parents of America to recognize the fact that our children will be sold on some kind of ideology. It is our duty and our responsibility as American citizens to sell them on our American way of life. Then they will be immune to the left wing propaganda.

Accent Positive

Negative action oftentimes creates tremendous reaction. For instance, should you point out obviously slanted material in a textbook, material that will help the Socialist and Communist objectives, you would invariably find the writer coming to the book's defense. He'd make every effort to justify what's there.

Then there are the teachers who have adopted those textbooks. They feel they are being criticized if the textbook is criticized. They adopted it, they have been using it, and they too, will come to its defense. So we create great waves of opposition by any extensive study of textbooks in an effort to get the bad ones out of our schools—the subversive ones. I'm not advocating that they shouldn't be studied and the subversive ones thrown out. But we shouldn't make that our principal educational objective. Our major objective should be that of reaching all the people of America with the positive facts about our great country.

Not Like Mumps

Americans are great salesmen. But we haven't been working at the job of selling our way of life. We have assumed the our children, for instance, would just catch Americanism like they catch the mumps and the measles. Very early in the history of our country that was perhaps safe to assume. But no longer do families sit around the family hearth telling stories of Patrick Henry and Abraham Lincoln. We leave that for the schools to do. And yet a great many of our colleges and high schools today do not require even the study of American history.

In the last 15 years I have talked from coast to coast repeating over and over again the necessity of our adult population being educated on the basic facts of our American system, and the need for our children to generate a love of country and a profound respect for our American political and economical system by understanding the true facts. In 15 years, encouraging progress has been made, but not sufficient progress.

Courses Needed

In every school and college in America the parents and the teachers should get together and set up a course in American citizenship which would give an accurate account of the inspiring

Religion Is a Challenge

By Richard J. Cushing, Archbishop of Boston

ALL CHRISTIANS should realize that religion is not a departmental aspect of their thoughts and activities. On the contrary, religion profoundly inspires, influences, and motivates all that a man is, all that he thinks and loves and does.

It is false to see in religion a mere personal channel for escapism, for distraction from the evils of the world, the evils of sickness and poverty and sin. Religion is not a sheltered by-way to the sweet peace of resignation from life's challenge and turmoil. We cannot accept it as a kind of sedative, no more than a consoling balm to an afflicted spirit.

RELIGION CHALLENGES US to meet the world's evils head-on, to combat them, and to conquer them. It is a means by which we can serve the world and sometimes even change it. The principal consolations of the religious life come from this victory over evil.

The professional man, then, does not departmentalize his supernatural religion and his natural vocation. Religion colors not merely his inner personality, but his outward vocation in the world. The work by which he wins his bread is also the work by which he wins eternal life. The simplest service he does his fellow men acquires from its religious over-tones a dignity which makes it acceptable to God.

LIVING BY this concept of his vocation, the professional man makes of every day the Lord's Day. He does not go to Church on Sunday to find God. He goes to work to find God all week, and he goes to Church to enjoy God and to learn more how God may be found in every word and work of his professional career.

Religion becomes for him more than a policeman that provides a prudent, cautious code of business ethics. It also provides that motivation, challenge, and purpose that leads him to his own perfection and the perfection of all whom he may serve.

RELIGION CAN INSPIRE the professional man, as it does the devout man of every walk of life, always to look for the future and always to live for the future, the Eternal Future.

The principal personal benefit of religion is this: it enables man to save his immortal soul. The principal social benefit is the vision and power it gives man to point his present effort toward the better future so as to dedicate all that he has learned from those who went before him to the highest service of those who one day will take his place in his profession, in society, and in the Church.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Nothing to Sneeze At"

This year our town decided to do something about its hay-fever sufferers. Hap Thomas is our health officer, so he was made rag-weed "inspector."

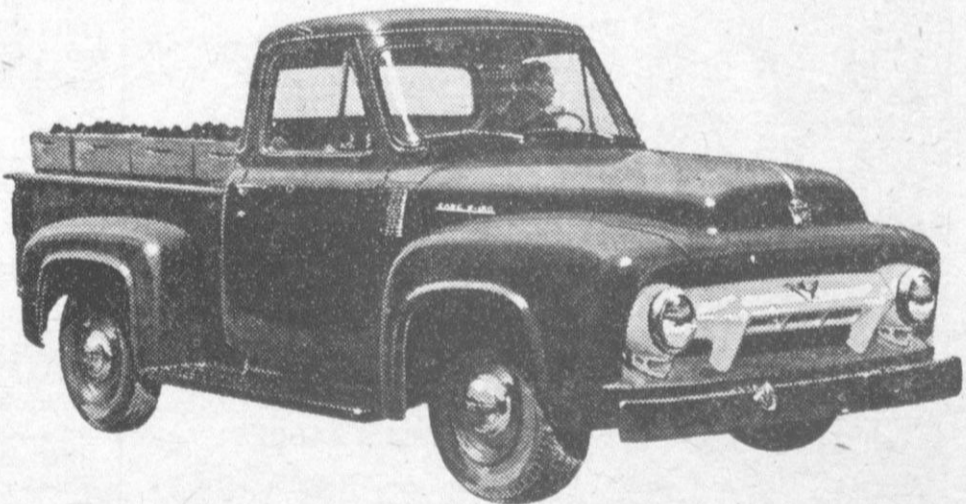

"Can't see why anybody should be bothered by a few weeds," he snorted. "I say it's all in their minds." But Hap went on out to do his job.

Then, yesterday, I met Hap—looking kind of sheepish. His eyes were red and as he took out a big handkerchief, he sneezed. "Know somebody who isn't allergic, who'd like a job?" asks Hap.

From where I sit, I can sympathize with Hap. It's no joke. But as Hap admitted later, he was dead wrong in scoffing at the idea of hay fever. Making light of other people's ideas and opinions is a familiar trouble with a lot of folks. Whether it's hay fever, football or a choice of, say, buttermilk or beer as a thirst-quencher, I'm just naturally "allergic" to anybody who "knows-it-all!"

ELECTRIC!"

My kitchen stays degrees cooler since I started cooking electrically! The reasons: the oven of an electric range is heavily insulated to keep practically all heat inside where it should be. In surface cooking, the heat is in direct contact with the pan and is transferred right to the food. Summertime or any time, electric cooking's wonderful. So economical, too! The oven cooks with current off more than 1/2 the time! Enjoy cool electric cooking. See your dealer for a new electric range.

Wars Since 1917 Have Cost Nation Over $677 Billion

WASHINGTON — Wars have cost the United States more than $677,000,000,000 since 1917. The figure was worked up for Rep. Lawrence H. Smith of Wisconsin by Herman Ficker, an analyst for the Library of Congress.

The estimate was based on total expenditures for national defense during hostilities, the interest computed on the war debts incurred and accruing costs of veterans and dependents.

The breakdown for the three "fights" shows that the Korean action cost twice as much as World War I. The figures: World War I, $66,592,966,000; World War II, $449,678,266,000, and Korea, $150,878,533,000.

Figures Come Later

Ficker noted that a hard figure for the cost of a specific war could not be definitely determined until more than a century after the end of hostilities.

"For example," he said, "it was not until the fiscal year 1947 that the last pensioner entitled to assistance as the result of the War of 1812 disappeared from the U. S. Budget."

Congressman Smith indicated he couldn't wait that long and stated his belief the Ficker figures were accurate enough.

Ficker said final figures, worked up in the year 2054, would reflect what is now just "intangibles of future pensions and other compensations."

Ficker pointed out that the "enormous" increase in the national debt has been occasioned largely by the expenditure for national defense except for about $15,000,000,000 for general relief and recovery purposes during the depression years and some large-scale loans for post-war foreign aid.

The national debt, on March 21, 1917, was $1,282,144,346. Last March 31, it was $267,899,007,507.

A traffic judge had before him two drunken drivers who had been involved in an accident. He said:

"I wish to commend you two for running into each other instead of some innocent person. If this sort of thing can be encouraged, I think we may have hit upon the solution of a serious problem."

ENCOURAGE ANIMAL AGRICULTURE

There is a potentially grave problem connected with the present system of high government support prices on feed grains which few have thought about as yet. As a spokesman for the meat industry described the situation, unless that system can be changed to one which encourages animal agriculture, grave difficulties for meat eaters may be encountered in the not too distant future.

He pointed out that it may become more difficult to "find product for the market than a market for the product." People want meat and their health requires it. But the existing high supports tend to put feed into storage instead of meat production. And meat can't be grown without grain.

This is a serious matter. Some 2,500,000 more babies are now being born annually compared with a few years ago. People are living longer. Forty-five hundred brides are starting housekeeping every day. In the next five years our meat requirements will be far greater than now, and in 10 years they will be still greater.

Obviously those requirements can be met only if meat production keeps pace with the population growth. To quote the spokesman again, "Essential are reasonable meat costs to consumers, more efficient operation all along the line, and a national agricultural policy which encourages animal agriculture, rather than relying chiefly on promotional pressure to stimulate demand and prices."

While getting her things together for a visit with her grandmother, little six-year-old Effie ran to the bookcase and brought back three books: "Peter Rabbit," "Little Black Sambo" and "Child Guidance."

"Effie," said her mother, "you won't need that 'Child Guidance'."

"Oh, yes I will," replied the child. "Grandma still believes in spanking."

"In this log we write only the truth," said the captain.

The next day it was the mate's turn to keep the log, and in it he wrote: "Captain was sober today."

Atomic Power for Home Use in Sight

We've been hearing so much about atomic power-plants of late, we are happy to be able to pass along some down-to-earth information on just how much advantage there is in cracking atoms instead of shovelling coal.

Abe Silverstein, Associate Director of the Lewis Flight Propulsion Laboratory of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, and one of the Government's top-flight experts on aircraft powerplants, lays it on the line for us. Writing in "Planes", the official publication of the Aircraft Industries Association, he says that fission of one pound of uranium will produce as much heat as burning two million pounds of gasoline.

"Stated another way," he says, "the total energy which can be obtained from the 'burn-up' of a single pound of uranium equals the energy in 3,500,000 pounds of coal, yet the uranium would be a one-and-a-half inch cube against 32 railroad cars of coal."

But Mr. Silverstein admits that there are "formidable technical problems that must be solved" before we'll be able to drive airplanes with atomic fission. And it will probably be even longer before we can heat up a pot of coffee or broil a steak with it.

There's still a lot of kindling to split before we can expect stove-length atoms.

Brown was sitting with his wife behind a palm tree on a hotel veranda late one night when a young man and a girl came and sat down on a bench near them.

Hidden behind the palm, Mrs. Brown whispered to her husband, "Oh, John, he doesn't know we're here and he's going to propose. Whistle to warn him."

"What for?" said Brown. "Nobody whistled to warn me."

The hardest task God ever gave is trusting Him beside a grave.

Why does a woman wait up for her husband until 3 o'clock in the morning and ask him where he has been and what he has been doing, when she is determined from the outset not to believe a thing he says?

Soil Conservation Notes

Don't get caught with your terraces down!

Cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation Service know that heavy rains usually come in the Spring and that now is the last chance they will have to build their terraces up so they will be able to handle the water safely.

Now is the time to give those terraces a good maintenance plowing while land is being plowed for Fall plantings. Remember a low terrace system can do more harm than no terrace system during heavy rains.

Local SCS personnel also remind cooperators that now is the time to make plans to sow a part of their land in soil improving winter cover crops of vetch, peas and alfalfa. These crops offer protection and improvement to the soil and will condition the land so that following crops will give increased yields.

Norbert Klement has just completed construction of 3800 feet of channel type field terraces. The terraces are the wide easy-to-cross type and outlet onto pasture grasses. These terraces bring Klement a step closer to the installation of a complete soil and water conservation plan on his farm west of Muenster.

M. H. King has completed the construction of a diversion terrace in an old field area of the army camp land. The terrace diverts hill water from gullies that were eating back into the land. Now that the erosive run-off hill water has been diverted away from the gullies, King plans to heal them over by sodding vetch and bluestem grasses on the sides and bottoms of the gullies.

A pond for livestock water has been completed on the farm of D. E. White south of Forestburg. The pond will receive water from a spring and will furnish livestock water as well as a recreation area for the family.

Webb Reynolds is building five diversion terraces on his farm near Forestburg. The terraces will divert hill water from deep gullies that are eating back into good land. The gullies can now be controlled by grasses and legumes planted in and around them to hold the soil in place.

J. W. Fleitman and State School Herds DHIA July Champs

J. W. Fleitman's herd of Jerseys, Guernseys and Holsteins is in top place, tied with the Gainesville State Training School's herd of Brown Swiss, for DHIA honors in butterfat production for July according to statistics released this week by the Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

Fleitman's 37 cows produced an average of 31 pounds of BF and 710 pounds of milk. The school herd of 13 cows was better in milk production with 730 pounds.

Other high herds for the month include those of Richard Frasher, Hoedebeck and Myers, John Knabe, Paul Fisher, Tony Nehib, H. F. Schneiderjan and W. F. Turner.

Carl Kemplin, DHIA supervisor, reported that 23 herds were tested with 504 cows in milk. Average pounds of milk per cow was 610 and butterfat per cow averaged 24 pounds. A total of 89 cows produced 40 or more pounds of butterfat.

Muenster members with cows in the over 40 butterfat production bracket include Alfred Bayer with five up to 49; Martin Bayer, three, 40-47; Paul Fetsch, two, 41-42; C. A. Fisher, one, 45; Joe Fisher, two, 40-45; Paul Fisher, four, 45-53; J. W. Fleitman, nine, 40-48; John Knabe, six, 40-50. Others are Tony Nehib, two, 50-57; and Pete Prescher, five, 40-53. Richard Frasher's herd had the top individual producers, one with 100 pounds of BF and another with 76 pounds.

By 1960, it is estimated, the U. S. will have 16 billion persons over 65 drawing ten billion dollars a year in retirement funds.

AS GENERAL ELECTRIC SEES IT...

The atom will produce power for homes in 5 to 10 years

Full-sized plants will generate electricity from atomic energy without government subsidy

Protective plastic suit enables technicians to work safely. 12,000 G-E employees are assigned to atomic projects.

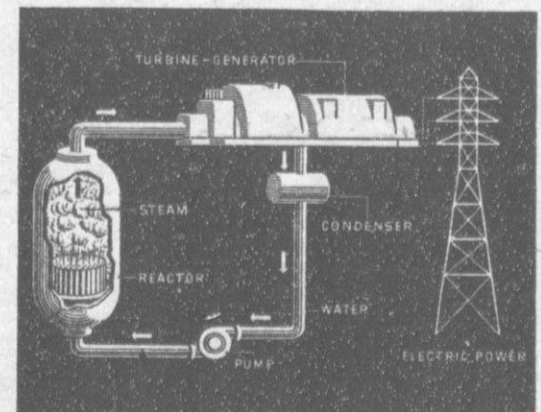

Biggest question in producing electricity with atomic energy has not been: Can it be done?—but: How can it be done economically on a full-scale basis so that many areas and many people can benefit?

America is now very close to a practical answer.

We already know the kinds of plants which will be feasible, how they will operate, and we can estimate what their expenses will be. In five years—certainly within ten—a number of them will be operating at about the same cost as those using coal. They will be privately financed, built without government subsidy.

Developing the right fuel element is still a problem, but the Atomic Energy Commission, General Electric scientists and other experts are all working on a solution. And real progress is being made.

THE AVERAGE STOCKHOLDER

One of our biggest manufacturing companies recently made a survey of its stockholders. It found that 56 per cent of them had incomes of less than $5,000 a year—and that only 10 per cent had incomes above $25,000. The average income of that 56 per cent was a little less than $2,800.

Continue Good Government for Texas by Supporting

ALLAN SHIVERS

The Record of his Achievements Recommends his Re-election

WATER CONSERVATION: Allan Shivers is a strong, outspoken advocate of water and soil conservation. He has a far-sighted program in this important area and the proven leadership to carry it through.

ROADS: Allan Shivers was one of the original sponsors of the farm-to-market road system in Texas. During his administration, more miles of farm-to-market roads and state highways have been built than in any other comparable period.

TIDELANDS: Allan Shivers battled for years to return to Texas school children the tidelands, rightfully owned by Texas but unjustly seized by the federal government. He helped achieve a conclusive victory and, since then, the tidelands already have added $32 million to the state's Permanent School Fund.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Allan Shivers has supported, sponsored or signed every major piece of legislation during the past 20 years. The Texas public school system today is more outstanding than ever before.

INSURANCE REGULATION: As far back as 1951, Allan Shivers recommended strengthening of insurance laws to protect the public. Action is being taken to weed out unsound companies.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT: Allan Shivers believes government should be kept as close to home as possible. He is firmly convinced that the Supreme Court should give local school boards maximum latitude in handling the many problems that will grow out of the segregation decision.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE: Allan Shivers, as a State Senator, wrote the first Texas Old Age Assistance Law. Two years ago, he promised he would seek a constitutional amendment to increase old age pensions. That amendment will be voted on by the people next November.

ECONOMY: Despite the vast improvements which have been made, Texas still ranks among the lowest in the nation in per capita state taxes. Unlike most states, Texas operates on a cash basis without either a sales tax or state income tax. Allan Shivers is opposed to both.

Texans will continue to build a Greater Texas by returning Allan Shivers to the Governor's Office in the Democratic Run-off, August 28.

What's In a Name?

Albert Charles Smith died and his lawyer filed the petition of probate for his estate, entitling it: "In the Matter of the Estate of Albert Charles Smith, also known as Albert Smith, also known as Charles Smith, also known as A. Charles Smith, also known as A. C. Smith and also known as Charley Smith."

With such a simple name, what did Mr. Smith do to make the probating of his estate so complicated?

When Albert Charles Smith was born, the attending physician filed a birth certificate with that name. During his school years, his friends called him "Al."

Mr. Smith went to college and decided that his name would look more distinguished if he wrote it "A. Charles Smith," and he was so regarded. His college diploma carried that name.

Starting out in business Mr. Smith took a job that required him to write his signature many times a day. To simplify the work, he signed his name "A. C. Smith." His bank account and telephone number were recorded that way. Mr. Smith lost a part of his identity, since there were eleven "A. C. Smiths" listed in his telephone book.

Mr. Smith decided to get married and he rushed to the courthouse to get his license. Without giving the matter much thought, he told the clerk his name was "Charles Smith." The name was

Mr. Smith bought a house, and the lawyer who handled the transaction asked for his full name. The deed was registered at the courthouse under the name "Albert Charles Smith."

A life insurance agent had previously written a policy for Mr. Smith under the name, "Al C. Smith." During his middle life, Mr. Smith took out other policies from another agent, and all of them carried the name "Albert C. Smith." He took a position with a railroad and appeared on the pension roll as "A. C. Smith."

Mr. Smith owned some securities and several pieces of real estate and also owed various bills. They were all listed under varying combinations of his name.

Then Mr. Smith made his will under the name of "Albert C. Smith." A year later he died; and that is when his attorney started working and trying to find out just who Mr. Smith was and what he owed and owned.

Of course this case is imaginary; but it illustrates how difficult and costly such a practice can be.

Every person should use the name appearing on his birth certificate and should make sure that all documents which have a legal bearing, such as school diplomas, deeds to property, certificates of stock and bond ownership, and insurance policies, carry the same name. This will often avoid complications in the probating of an estate.

An Australian was trying to impress a Texan with the wonders of his country, but then the Texan saw a kangaroo. Drawled the man from the Lone Star State: "Ah'll grant you one thing, that's for sure. Your grasshoppers are bigger'n ours."

The people of the United States are rapidly being divided into two classes, those who work for the Government and those who work for those who work for the government.—Decatur Daily

Don't let internal parasites rob you of poultry profits. Feed Red Chain Medicated Feed and free your flock of parasites.
After the birds go to roost, fill the troughs with one-day worming mash, nuggets or granules, but no other feed. The next night clean the troughs, fill with regular feed. In this simple manner, you have done a remarkable job of worming in one day.
See your Red Chain dealer now. Worm your birds with Red Chain Medicated Feed. Start your M-Day right away and make it a "must" for each month.

Mrs. Pat Hennigan and Mrs. Tony Rohmer, joined by their mother, Mrs. Bill Sandmann of Lindsay, were in Norman, Okla., Friday to attend funeral services for their uncle and brother-in-law, Anton Loeffelholz, a former Lindsay resident.

Lindsay News

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gossett are the parents of a daughter, weight seven pounds ten ounces, born at M&S Hospital at 10:16 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 7.

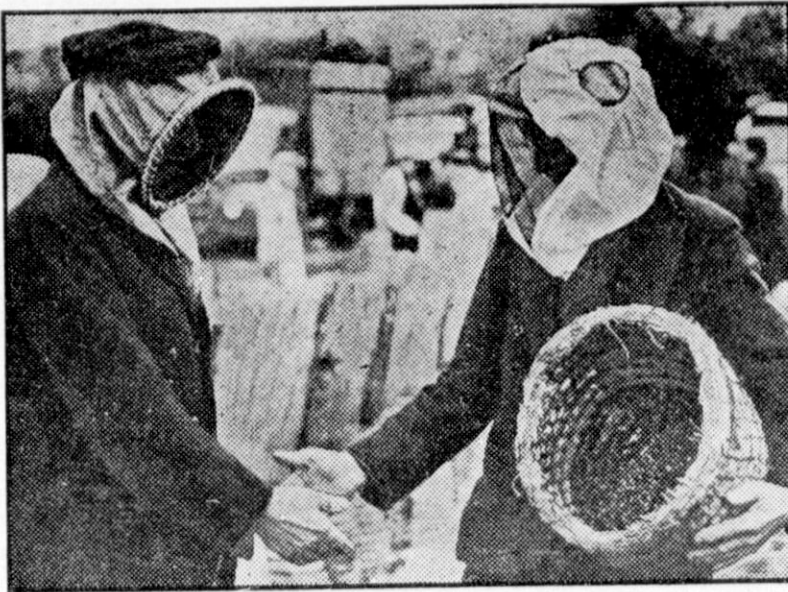

Mrs. Al Geray received medical care at Gainesville Sanitarium this week.

Julius Sandmann of Lindsay has been dismissed from M&S Hospital following surgery.

Al Kuntz of Valley View has announced the approaching marriage of his daughter, Victoria, of Alhambra, Calif., to Hubert Bezner of Tyler, son of Mrs. Joe Bezner of Lindsay. The wedding will be held September 7 in Saint Peter's church at Lindsay.

Farm Queen - - -

She is employed by the Texas Dress Corporation in Gainesville. Miss Watson is 17, five feet four inches tall and has light brown hair and grey-blue eyes. In Gainesville High School she belonged to the Future Homemakers of America and was a member of Downward-Fairplains 4-H club for seven years serving as vice president, reporter and song leader. She was Gold Star girl for Cooke County in 1953 and the Register's Farm Girl of the Month in December of that year. She will attend Texas State College for Women in Denton this fall.

AND NO ONE GOT "STUNG"—They need protection against their temperamental "product"—bees—but dealers in the ill-tempered nectar-gatherers find a handshake sufficient to seal a bargain for the swarm held by the well-protected man at right. The transaction was made during the holding of the annual Bee Market in Venendaal, Holland, one of the "buzziest" affairs of its kind in the world.

10c Tax Raise - - -

It may be taken up by the county to buy right-of-way for F-M roads, to build and maintain lateral roads and to use in flood control. It does not allow, as previously understood, the purchase of right-of-way for federal or state highways. Accordingly it cannot be used to finance right-of-way on Highway 82.

The method suggested at the meeting is to set up a new schedule for payment of obligations so as to include both the old and the new indebtedness on right-of-way. The present schedule will retire most debts in five years and the suggested schedule would take about twice as long. Those payments, running somewhat higher than now, are to be paid out of the commissioners' authorized funds and the proposed tax would more than make up for the expenditure, providing the precincts with a slightly larger road and bridge budget than they have had in the past.

Details and specific figures were not worked out but the group has plans for other meetings and a final presentation of the proposal to the commissioners' court.

2 Gunmen - - -

hidden from the field by a stand of timber along the creek.

The Sicking notified the sheriff's department at about 6 p.m. and a radio pickup order was put out for the gunmen who were driving a late model Ford with a black body and light colored top. It had a California license plate.

Mrs. Sicking described the men as being about 25 years old, about six feet tall, and slender. Both had dark hair, and both were wearing sport shirts, one with khaki trousers the other with striped trousers. She said she recognized the make of the pistol held by one of the men because her husband has one exactly like it which he brought back from Germany after world war II. She thought it was her husband's gun until after Sheriff O. E. Whisnand and deputies arrived to conduct an investigation and found the Sicking Luger still in the house.

She was unable to tell officers which way the men went after driving away from her home. Law enforcement agencies throughout Texas and Oklahoma have been alerted to be on the lookout for the pair.

NOW YOU'LL SEE!

Expected soon is a fuel-mileage meter for your car so that, like the taxi rider, you can see what it costs as you ride along. However, say the oil people, your car'll be getting 50 per cent more mileage per gallon of gas than cars of 20 years ago.

MUENSTER NUNS TO BE PARTICIPANTS IN RITES

Six former Muenster young women will participate in religious ceremonies at Holy Angels Convent, Jonesboro, Ark., on August 15, the annual day for pronouncing vows and observing jubilees.

Among silver jubilarians will be Sisters Imelda Pels, Frowina Hacker, Thomasina Walterscheid and Aloysia Kleiss. With those taking perpetual vows will be Sister Monica Swirczynski and Sister Romana Rohmer.

Parents and family members of the nuns will attend the services.

GIFT PARTY COMPLIMENTS MRS. TONY HACKER SUNDAY

Mrs. Tony Hacker of Valley View was complimented with a gift party Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Joe Luttmr with Mrs. Leo Prescher as co-hostess.

Paper and pencil games entertained the guests and Mrs. George Krahl drew the door prize and presented it to the honoree.

After Mrs. Hacker opened an array of gifts tied with pink and blue ribbons, the hostesses served refreshments to Mmes. Theresia Moster, Richard Grewing, Thomas Sicking, Andrew Hacker, Edward Hacker; Miss Anna Hacker, Miss Lena Streng, Mmes. Joe Prescher, John Nehib, Pete Prescher, Joe Krahl, Ted Schniederjan, George Krahl, Ben Luttmr, Henry Sandmann, Martin Hacker.

It's>About-Time-Department: The first inventory in history of the supplies held in storage by the Army is now under way, with preliminary estimates by the Department of Defense indicating that there's about $36 billion worth of supplies stashed away.

Among the unlikely Army supplies already turned up by the inventory are a number of sets of harness which were purchased for the use of artillery horses in the Spanish-American War.

quite a number of "I told you so" statements. He advised against the recognition of Communist Russia in 1933. He advised against economic follies of depression days, against Yalta and Potsdam deals, the sell-out of China, the limited war in Korea, and other national boners seemingly without end.

It all goes to show that a calamity for the world as well as this country started back in 1932 when Hoover was discarded in favor of the glorious New Deal. Hindsight tells us now that he is the greatest living American. History may tell us later that he ranks with Washington and Lincoln as the greatest of all Americans.
