

Mrs. Peter Bindel Dies on Visit with Kin at Windthorst

In spite of what has been going on lately behind the Iron Curtain Harold Stassen seems to think that we still have ten more years of dealing with the Soviets ahead of us. This column doesn't go so far as to question his judgment but it does nevertheless express the hope that he's overestimating by several years at least. At the same time it indulges in a bit of wishful thinking to the effect that the kind of resistance we are hearing of nowadays can possibly start snowballing and get out of hand in a comparatively short time.

It is more than a coincidence that demonstrations came in such rapid succession in East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia. There may be more significance behind the fact that some of the red soldiers refused to shoot the demonstrators. Another thought worth considering is that the reds saw fit to abandon their usual iron fisted policy, and attempt to handle the situation with soft gloves.

All of that provides a basis for at least two reasonable guesses. One is that the underground over there is powerful and well organized. People with good sense don't stick out their necks when they know their cause is hopeless. Another is that the Soviet big shots are not sure of their ability to cope with the situation. The world knows how they respond when they know they have the upper hand.

The entire affair is further complicated by the Kremlin purge. The top gangsters are cutting each other's throats. Meanwhile every one of the contenders for supremacy is wondering how many of his so called followers are more loyal to his personal enemies and how many are more loyal to the underground.

In general the iron curtain countries are packed with dynamite ready to blow the mighty Soviet empire sky high if the proper circumstances light the fuse.

Meanwhile Western cold war strategists are doing quite well in directing their attacks at the enemy's weakness. They announced that they would contribute food to the starving people of East Germany. Whether it said yes or no, Russia was on the spot. To accept help from capitalist abundance was an admission that its own economic system was inferior and that its past propaganda was all lies. To refuse was to aggravate its own trouble. Russia chose to refuse but it did not succeed in keeping news of the offer from its people. Neither has it prevented a huge traffic in food smuggling across the line. Nor has it stopped a barrage of propaganda to oppressed peoples. Probably the most important of all, it has not erased the memories of liberty and prosperity that people knew before the coming of the reds.

Another very gratifying development from our point of view is that Uncle Sam seems suddenly to have acquired a bit more stiffness in his backbone. He has secured the agreement of England and France to oppose the admission of Red China into the UN. He has secured another agreement from those two countries to join him in retaliating should the reds violate a Korean settlement. He has defied the reds by listening sympathetically to the requests of Syngman Rhee, the venerable old South Korean patriot who would not permit the UN to back out of his country without giving it a decent break. Stockmen to Meet On Drought Relief

Whether or not stock raisers of Cooke County will be included in the government drought relief program depends to a great extent on a meeting to be held Friday morning at 9 in the district court room of the courthouse.

James Denton, assistant county agent said Wednesday that reports from the meeting will be the basis upon which the State Mobilization Committee will decide whether to include the county in the drought relief area. A previous meeting was poorly attended and was not regarded as an adequate representation of the county.

The purpose of drought relief, Denton explained, is strictly to maintain foundation herds. It is not intended to provide cheap feed to finish livestock for the market.

Under the program farmers can feed their cattle at slightly more than half the current costs, Denton said. The special prices are $35 a ton for meal, $1.00 bushel for corn, $1.10 a bushel for wheat and 50 cents a bushel for oats.

Muenster Wins 6-5 As Rain Ends Game

In a rally during a sixth inning drizzle, just before a downpour put an end to their game, the Muenster Auctioneers nosed ahead of Father Francis Zimmerer's Windthorst boys for a 6-5 victory here Sunday afternoon.

Coming into their half of the sixth trailing 5-3 the Auctioneers took advantage of the breaks as either the visiting hurler started slipping or the wet ball started slipping in his hand. With two out and the bases loaded the first run was forced in by a walk. The next came in as the first baseman overlooked an easy out and fired the ball home too late to get the runner. The winning run was forced in on a walk just moments before the heavy rain came. The visitors took their lead with 2 in the top of the first and added a run each in the next three. Muenster scored one each in the first, second and fifth while missing several more chances as a total of nine died on base.

Mollenkopf and Henschel pitched for the Auctioneers, Schreiber pitched for Windthorst. Next on the Auctioneers' schedule will be Sunset next Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Originally the game was scheduled to be played here, but plans were changed Thursday.

Word was received Wednesday of the death of Mrs. Bertha O'Callahan of Pecos, a former resident of both Muenster and Lindsay. She was a sister of Ed Moster, route 1, Gainesville, and a sister-in-law of Mrs. Theresia Moster of this city.

Cool Wave Ushers 1.14 Inch Shower

Sunday was a fine day for people and vegetation of the Muenster community. It broke an extended heat wave with the lowest July temperature on record here and it brought a dandy 1.14 inch rain that will give plant life a chance to hang on a while longer as it awaits a much needed drought buster.

All day Sunday was cool and the latter part of the day was chilly, with the mercury skidding to the sixties. Quite a number of people got out their coats. Since then temperature has been warmer but still very pleasant compared to that of previous weeks.

The rain, falling about 5 accounts for practically all this area has had this month. Two days earlier a brief drizzle netted only .02 inch.

The July total, up to this time, is 1.16. The year's total is 14.17 inches.

After allowing the visitors three runs in the top of the first they started with a five run slug fest and added scores in four out of their remaining five innings to widen their margin all the way through.

Bill Traugbber handled the pitching job for the Independents. Paul Brewer started for Muenster but withdrew in the first inning after a bad start. James Mollenkopf and Jerry Henschel finished the game. Parten hit the game's only homer.

Three contracts totaling $189,345 were let in Dallas Monday for construction of the new Sacred Heart High School.

Walter Nashert of Oklahoma City received the contract for the building on his bid of $155,923. Chas. L. Wilson of Gainesville has the plumbing and heating contract for $21,445, and Pat Parker of Gainesville has the electrical contract for $11,977.

Contracts do not include furnishings and equipment which will raise the total cost of the school to more than $200,000.

Administrative and storage rooms, rest rooms and most of the class rooms will be located in the west part of the building. The combined gymnasium and auditorium, dressing rooms and one classroom will be in the east part of the building, occupying the greater part of the structure. It takes up about 120 feet on the front and extends back 116 feet. The west wing is longer and narrower with a corridor running the full length and classrooms on either side. Dimension of the complete section is about 150 x 60.

Father Louis Deuster, said that construction is due to begin in the near future, but up to now he has no definite date for the start. Work on the location to prepare it for building has been in progress for more than two weeks.

Alma Louise Kubis And Adam T. Wolf Marry at Lindsay

Majestic daisies and greenery banked the altar before which Miss Alma Louise Kubis and Adam T. Wolf exchanged marriage vows Thursday, July 9, in Saint Peter's church at Lindsay.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kubis of Lindsay, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam A. Wolf, route 1, Gainesville.

Uncle is Officiant

Rev. Alcuin Kubis, uncle of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony and was celebrant of the solemn high mass, assisted by Rev. Francis Zimmerer, the bride's cousin, and Rev. Conrad Herda, Lindsay pastor, as deacon and subdeacon.

Traditional wedding processional and recessional were played by Mrs. William Schmitz who remained at the organ to accompany the church choir in singing the mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of star white French lace and tulle over white slipper satin. The moulded bodice which buttoned down the back with self-covered buttons had a scalloped illusion yoke edged with lace, and petal point sleeves. Scalloped lace extended over the bouffant tulle skirt and delicate panels of the lace drifted to the hem of the gown that just tipped the floor.

Her veil of illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried her flowers, an orchid and stephanotis on a white prayer book.

Miss Jeanette Zimmerer, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Misses Virginia Zimmerer, another cousin, and Joan Wolf, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. Miss Janie Kubis, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. They wore identically designed ballerina length frocks in shades of pastel green, orchid, pink, and yellow. Their head-dresses matched their dresses as did the moonstone necklaces, gifts from the bride. They carried colonial bouquets of daisies.

Walter Wolf was his brother's best man, and Ed Wolf, another brother, Johnny Schroeder of Windthorst, a cousin, and Gilbert Kubis, brother of the bride, were groomsmen.

After the mass the couple proceeded to the Blessed Virgin's shrine where they dedicated themselves to Our Lady and left a bouquet of Majestic daisies at the foot of the statue.

Wedding Day Festivities

A breakfast was given for the newly married couple, their parents, members of the bridal party and the ministers by Mrs. Paul Arendt, sister of the groom, in her home. A dinner was held at high noon in the home of the bride's parents for about 150 guests, and a reception with a buffet supper in the Lindsay hall was followed by a dance.

The double ring wedding cake decorated with white bows and bells and frosted in white and silver was cut by the couple.

When they left on their wedding trip Mrs. Wolf was wearing a beige two-piece dress with red and navy accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet. They will make their home in Gainesville.

The bride is a graduate of St. Peter's school in Lindsay and has been employed at Boyd and Breeding studio. Mr. Wolf graduated from St. Mary's in Gainesville and attended North Texas State college. He is engaged in farming.

Out of town guests for the wedding and the all-day celebration included, in addition to those from Cooke county, Father Kubis of Corpus Christi, Father Zimmerer of Windthorst, Miss Rita Faye Phillips of LaFeria, Mrs. John Wilde and Mrs. Frank Wiesman of Harlingen, the Lee Voths and Dianne of Sanger, Paul Zimmerer of Norfolk, Va., W. J. Schroeder, grandfather of the groom, the Ted Wolfs, the Anton Wolfs, Sr., the Frank Schroeders and family, all of Windthorst.

HOW THE REDS ATTRACT YOUTH

Respected leaders in their chosen profession have great influence on the younger generation. Ben Hogan, the renowned professional golfer, attracts the admiration of every amateur in the country. Young mechanical engineers look up to Charles F. Kettering, the wizard of General Motors. The Mayo brothers inspire young doctors. Communism in America cunningly uses the follow-the-leader impulse to recruit vigorous young people into its conspiracy.

Nowhere is this fact more clearly revealed than in the testimony of Herbert Philbrick, of Boston, during a recent hearing of the Senate Internal Security Committee. He worked undercover as a counterspy for the FBI for nine years and became a trusted associate of national Communist leaders. His career with the Communists started early in 1940 when, at the age of 23, he was attracted to the Cambridge Youth Council in Boston.

He was later to learn that it was created and operated by the Communists to snare and train youth for communism.

Nationally Known Professors

"Among the incentives presented to me to join," he testified at the Senate hearing, "was the fact that the organization had a number of adult people in the community who were something as sponsors of this organization. Among them I remember I was told that Kirtley Mather of Harvard University was a sponsor. Another, I was told, was a Prof. Dirk J. Struik, of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"Well, I assumed that with these individuals well known in their field, renowned scholars, and particularly since they were members of the faculty of these great universities, Harvard and M.I.T., that, of course, the organization would be all right."

COMMITTEE COUNSEL ROBERT MORRIS: In other words, the names of those prominent educators attracted you to joining the organization?

PHILBRICK: That is right. As a matter of fact, they attracted not only me but, in subsequent developments, attracted some 35 youth organizations in Cambridge involving about 400 or 500 young people, and, of course, the vast majority of them were not Communists.

"Pro-4"

When young Philbrick discovered the true nature of the Cambridge Youth Council he went to the FBI and was subsequently persuaded to become a Communist for the FBI. He did such a good job for the Communists, the national leaders selected him to go underground in the fall of 1947. He became a member of a Boston underground cell called "Pro-4." They were professional, secret Communists.

PHILBRICK: It was considerable shock to me when I discovered the nature of this Communist Party cell. I can recall very vividly walking into my first meeting... it was a very beautiful apartment. These folks obviously were of so-called culture. In fact, some of them would stand as people of distinction.

COMMITTEE COUNSEL MORRIS: Will you give us a general breakdown of the 70 or 80 members of this "Pro-4" group in Boston?

Amazing Facts

PHILBRICK: As near as I could determine (based on 2 years membership) there were 5 or 6 doctors in the pro group in Boston; lawyers, between 6 and 8; teachers—and by that I mean teachers in the public schools in the Boston area—about 6; professors—and by professors I mean those in the higher institutions of learning in the colleges and universities—a number ranging between 20 and 30 pro group Communist Party members. This was the largest single element of individuals in the pro section in Boston. The businessmen numbered between 12 to 15; government workers about 4 or 5. In the book publishing field there were about 4. And in the religious field between 7 and 8.

Shrewd Shopper

By underground pro group Communist Party members in the religious field (PHILBRICK CONTINUED) I mean those individuals—and this, again, was to me, as a Christian, a matter of terrific shock when I discovered this fact in Boston, a very dismal fact, that actually the Communist Party had in its pro group section between 7 to 8 individuals, hardened, disciplined, steeled party members posing as ministers of the gospel!

These Senate Internal Security Committee reports are available to any citizen. Everyone should read them.

Jesus Christ Gives Answer To Suffering

FROM EVERY EYE some tears must fall: suffering in some form or other is inevitable. Life is like the keyboard of a piano—first a white key, then a black. Bright days, dark days—a note of glittering joy, then a deep melancholy minor, yet somehow they blend into the perfect song. We must take the bitter with the better.

This human nature of ours limped out of the Garden of Eden a wounded veteran, subject to future twinges and aches, both physical and moral. God never claimed that this earth was to be a mountain peak of joy. Do not be disappointed if it is not the vestibule of Heaven; it is only the rugged testing-grounds outside, with plenty of bumps on the road. How hard we hit them depends on our moral and spiritual springs.

ALL THIS MAY seem like hanging neon lights around the obvious. Yet, many people feel cheated if their piety and devotion do not protect them from the scars of life. They bristle, sullen and hurt, when hardships and headaches dare to plant their thorn-bushes in the garden of the righteous. They may not admit it, but they feel their religion ought to act like a sort of spiritual vaccination and keep them immune from trouble.

When trouble comes, their faith falters. Disaster brings doubt. Their whole faith has been pinned on the absence of sorrow or misfortune.

But you can never pin your faith on the absence of something. It has to be pinned, like Christ, to a Cross—the Cross which stands there like a signpost on a road and reads simply, "God's Will is This Way."

BUT THERE IS infinite consolation in the memory that God's Own Son, the day He trudged back to Heaven, took this very road of suffering. His Blood-Stained Footsteps are there before us. If we set our feet in our Master's Footprints, His Own warmth and strength and courage will flow into us from that hallowed ground.

Faith and religion are not guarantees against trouble. They are rather guides and helps during it. Faith is not an escalator to bring us up the steep hill of life, but a staff to lean on while we climb up ourselves. The intelligent man looks to his faith not for freedom from troubles, but for courage to conquer them under the banner of his Captain, Christ.—(By Rev. Joseph E. Manton.)

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

An Honest Night's Sleep

Slim Johnson, just back from a business trip, tells about a hotel he stayed at one night.

"I hit town late and went right to the hotel. There was no clerk at the desk, but there was a sign that said: 'Gone to bed. Rooms $3. Take a key. Pay when you leave. Sleep Well.'"

"Upstairs, the room was real clean, the bed comfortable, and I slept like a log. Came down in the morning—still no clerk. So I left three dollars at the desk and went on. Can you imagine folks that trustful?"

From where I sit, running a hotel on the honor system shows a real trust in people. And people always appreciate being trusted. Letting your neighbor follow his personal preference is a kind of trust too—trusting in his good judgment. I like a temperate glass of beer occasionally, you may prefer buttermilk, but let's hope neither of us "registers" a complaint against the other.

Summer Is Lockjaw Season; Be Careful

Increasing numbers of lockjaw will develop between now and fall, Stae Health Officer Geo. W. Cox warned today, despite known measures of prevention.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, cases jump in summertime because exposures in the form of cuts, scratches, or puncture wounds are more frequent in warm weather when people are out-of-doors.

The germs of lockjaw are commonly found in soil—especially manured soil. They enter through a skin break and emit a deadly toxin which causes jaw and neck muscles to constrict so severely that jaws involuntarily close, vice-like.

Slowly, the muscle constriction spreads to other body muscles, until the victim is bent like a bow. A fatal case of the disease has been traced to a scratch from a rose thorn.

Lockjaw germs are spore-formers, which means they can live for years outside an animal body. Its life processes lie dormant in a tiny seed-like pod, sifting about on the ground until finally, perhaps through a sliver or nail scratch, it gets back into live tissue.

The wound may heal, but inside, protected as it is from the air, the spore will begin "revegetating" and emitting deadly toxin.

Farmers are especially vulnerable to lockjaw, Dr. Cox cautioned, because the primary source of lockjaw germs is the intestinal tract of farm animals. They're passed onto the ground in animal dejecta, easily available for re-entry into a human body when that body is cut or scratched or otherwise wounded. Exposures to lockjaw are so common that it is mere common sense for everyone to maintain a high level of protection via immunization. Dr. Cox called this method of gaining immunity "simple and convenient." He said immunizing shots should be given children early in life, at the discretion of the family physician.

"You can't go to a doctor with every little scratch," he emphasized, "so the best way to handle it is to take an immunizing series of shots, and keep the immunity level high with periodic 'booster' shots."

Oil is Plentiful

There is plenty of discoverable oil in the Western Hemisphere, geologists estimate. Thus, any lack of oil in this hemisphere, as far ahead as anyone can see, would be caused by a failure to make the necessary exploration effort. The United States has the longest and most aggressive exploration program of any single country in the world. There are now half a million producing oil wells in comparison with some 15,000 in all the rest of the Americas. Yet a group of experienced geologists and engineers, representing many oil businesses, recently gave as their combined judgment that there is no lack of places where the search for oil may be successful.

NOW!
Ford Master-Guide
the last word in Power Steering!

Master-Guide applies hydraulic steering power automatically... and in varying degrees as required... right at the steering linkage, close to the wheels. At the same time the system serves as a hydraulic shock absorber to keep road jabs and jolts from your hands. As a result all you do is... guide the car... Master-Guide supplies the muscles.

It's the newest in a long list of Ford advancements that make this Ford the outstanding car for '53!

No other car near Ford's price has ever offered you so much! Ford was the first in its field to bring you V-8 power. Today, Ford alone of all the low-priced cars offers you the smooth, unsurpassed performance of a V-8 engine. And Ford's Six with Overdrive, won the Sweepstakes in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run.

Ford first brought to the low-price field a completely automatic transmission that combines the smoothness of a torque converter and the gas-saving "go" of automatic gears. In all, Ford offers 41 "Worth More" features.

And now, in addition, Ford brings you the newest and finest in power steering... Master-Guide, a system exclusive in Ford's field! It's no wonder, then, that Ford is the "Worth More" car... worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it.

HELPS YOU OUT OF "TIGHT SPOTS!" The tougher the going the more Master-Guide works for you. For example, if you go off the pavement onto a soft shoulder or a rough, rutted road, Master-Guide provides the muscles to hold a steady course. Master-Guide also absorbs the shock that might otherwise be transmitted to the steering wheel. All handling is easier with Master-Guide and parking requires only one-fourth the normal effort. Should Master-Guide ever lose its power, the standard steering mechanism will operate just as usual. Thus, Master-Guide provides new ease with full security, wherever you drive. Optional on all V-8 models at extra cost.

Proposed Bills May End Postal Savings
Bills to kill off postal savings as a matter of economy have been introduced in both houses of Congress. The post offices began accepting savings in 1910, chiefly to accommodate people who distrusted banks. However, the government's guarantee of bank deposits up to $10,000 has to a great extent eliminated the need for postal savings departments, which cost an estimated $2,000,000 annually.

Regular Mowing Is Big Aid to Pasture

The mowing machine is one of the essential pieces of equipment needed for carrying out a good pasture building and management program provided it is used. That word comes from E. M. Trew, pasture specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Mowing at the right time, he explains, practically eliminates weeds, sprouts, bushes, briars and vines from the pasture and favors their replacement by grass. Too, mowing tends to keep grass in a tender, growing condition, making it more palatable and nutritious to the grazing animals.

Mowing to control weeds must commence when the first of the worst weeds begin to bloom and all weeds should be mowed before they have a chance to produce a seed crop, says Trew. Most plants are weak when blooming and are, therefore, more easily killed by mowing at that growth stage. Eastern bitterweed, a common pest in bermuda pastures, requires early and repeated mowings to prevent it from producing some seed. The first mowing should be done with the mower set high but successive clippings should be made at lower levels. Fall blooming weeds may be weakened by earlier mowings but to make sure they do not produce seed, Trew recommends a fall mowing.

Edible Cactus

Cattle can munch happily on prickly-pear cactus this summer and not suffer cut or infected mouths. In a drouth period, most of the grass, a vital part of the diet of cattle, dries off the range and prickly-pear cactus is the only abundantly available natural feed. In order to make it edible, a flame thrower is passed over the blades of the plant and the sharp spines are burned off. Teams of workers equipped with special propane gas flame throwers prepare the meal of needed roughage for the cattle. Propane and other liquid petroleum gases are used by the nation's ranchers and farmers in an ever-increasing number of ways.

More than 40,000,000 people visited national parks last year and the figure is expected to go higher in 1953 as America prepares to spend a whopping nine billion dollars on motoring vacations. As another indication of the tremendous popularity of mobile vacations, 28 states now rank tourist receipts among their three top industries. New Mexico and New Jersey place it first.

Soil Conservation Notes

Grain yields were above average this year on all land, but yields on land that had been conditioned with a soil improving legume crop were way above the better-than-average yields of untreated land. Tom Ben Davis of Hood supplies the truth of that statement.

Last year Davis applied phosphate and grew a crop of Austrian winter peas on 10 acres of his field. The peas were returned to the soil as a green manure crop. The field was planted to oats this season. The yield from the treated 10 acre plot averaged 82 bushels per acre while the average yield on the rest of the field was only 54 bushels . . . a difference of 28 bushels. In cash terms the increased yield, figured at 75 cents a bushel, means an increased income of $21 per acre. It still pays to farm the conservation way. Some of the Bermuda grass waterways in the Muenster area are badly in need of mowing or spraying to eliminate the taller growing weeds that compete with the grass for moisture and at the same time shade the grass so that it makes very little growth. The low growing grasses will have a much better chance to survive if weeds are kept down. It is also time for another important job for soil conservation on the farm. Many fields are being plowed and that is the time to build up field terraces that have been allowed to become dangerously small. A weak terrace upstream can be more harmful than no terrace. A terrace break usually means a gully in the field and the loss of tons of top soil. Everyone who has terraces should keep them plowed up to their original size so that they will carry their share of the water.

If a long, lanky girl has money, she's tall and stately.—Harry Rolnick.

Worth All It Cost

An American company spent hundreds of thousands of dollars to research and develop a product which became known as nylon. . . In Korea a GE threw himself on a Chinese grenade to save three buddies. The grenade exploded; heroic Pfc. Emile Pinard of Fairhaven Mass., escaped with minor bruises. He was wearing one of the Army's new nylon vests, which already has saved hundreds of GI's lives.

The famous matador was fighting in the bull ring of a Mexican border town. Among spectators seeing their first bull fight was an old cow hand. The fight had reached the stage where the matador, armed with only a cape was taunting the bull to charge him. Avoiding the animals' horns by fractions of an inch, and flipping the cape aside as the bull charged past, he pranced about the arena. At last the old cow hand could stand it no longer. "Buddy, he ain't never gonna run into that sack unless you hold it still!" he shouted.

No Sale, But Jimmy Gets $5 for Effort

For trying to sell a Gates fan belt to a Gates "mystery man" Jimmy Hellman will be $5 richer as soon as a report gets to the company and his check comes back.

It happened at the Jimmy Lehnertz service station Wednesday. A stranger stopped and asked to have his radiator checked. Jimmy spotted a frayed fan belt and recommended a new Gates... and was promptly told that he had won five bucks. The man did not buy a new belt however. He went on with the old one, looking for the next guy who will try to sell him his company's product. He stops only at Gates authorized dealers. About 10 per cent of them, he says, qualify for the prize.

SEE NEW EQUIPMENT
William Pulte and Charles Cheaney of Schad and Pulte spent last weekend in Chicago attending International Harvester's gigantic show and reception to introduce more than 70 items of new equipment to its dealers. Pulte and Cheaney made the trip on a special train for Texas dealers.

Is This The Time To Sell?

Sorry we can't answer that one. The market has been unsteady lately and it's anybody's guess what will happen next.

The only thing we're sure of is ---

THIS IS THE PLACE TO SELL

We're still topping the market top and our customers are still saving on lower commissions, lower hauling expense and less shrinkage.

E. P. Buckley - - -

intendent, T. M. Hammer and Joe Parker of Gainesville.

Chapman's address recalled many ways in which Buckley served the oil field above and beyond the call of duty—his courtesy, good humor and kindness.

Bradley extended congratulations in behalf of the president, vice president and district manager of the company and as a token of their appreciation presented the honoree and his wife with gifts—two pieces of matched Samsonite luggage.

Hammer presented a gift to Mr. Buckley from pumpers of the district. The gift is a lawn lounge. And Mrs. Ray Evans made presentation of a gift to Mrs. Buckley from wives of area pumpers. This gift is a set of colored aluminum tumblers, pitcher and tray.

Another gift, from the pumpers to Mr. Buckley, to be opened after his retirement on the 15th is a hand tooled leather Book of Personal Wishes. Each pumper contributed a page. The book is sealed with an official Service Pipe Line company seal which will have to be broken before the book can be opened. It will probably be the last tank seal Mr. Buckley will break. Chapman presented the book.

Mr. Buckley's talk was brief. He expressed his thanks and said he was "deeply moved by the whole demonstration."

Wives of area pumpers brought the food for the sumptuous meal. About 100 persons were present from Muenster, Gainesville, Bowie, Nocoona, Myra, Fort Worth, Bartlesville and Cushing, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckley are leaving this week to live in Grapevine where they recently completed a new home. They came here from Electra in 1935. Their daughter, Miss Betty Lue, graduated from Saint Louis University in May, and has a position with Webster Publishing company in St. Louis.

Of Muenster's four new houses, all in the northwest part of town, two have just been finished and the other two are about half finished.

Another house about as far along is that being built by Dick Trachta. It is a 2-bedroom size with attached garage finished in asbestos siding.

A major improvement just completed at the VFW home is installation of two air conditioning units in the dance hall.

agreement with him are not revealed as yet, but chances are that, because of them, Americans in years to come will have less reason to be ashamed.

What bearing does all this have on the negotiations at Panmunjom? Probably very little. Red China knows as well as we do what is happening in Russia and what its chances are of depending on Russian help. Despite China's present desperate attempt to show strength it isn't really fooling anybody. It's weaker than before and Uncle Sam is stronger than before, and those facts are known on both sides. Prospects for an armistice are as good as before. Prospects of our getting a good deal are better than before.
