MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS,

AUGUST 26, 1955

NUMBER 40

Next Thursday Is Registration Day At Local Schools

Next Thursday, September 1, will be the first day of the new scholastic year for some 680 students attending the two Muenster schools.

According to plans revealed Wednesday by Father Christopher Paladino, superintendent of Sacred Heart School, busses will make all the routes, arriving in time for the usual opening hour.

Each school will proceed with its own schedule of assembly, registration, distribution of textbooks etc., and dismiss in time to return children home before the noon meal. Neither of the lunch rooms will be open Thursday.

Teachers who can complete their preliminaries on Thursday will start class work on Friday. Others will finish the organizing and spend the rest of Friday on classes. At any rate, the intention is to have all classes settled down to regular routine on Monday. Neither school will observe Labor Day as a holiday.

As during the previous school year the schools are cooperating in every possible way for the benefit of their students.

Both have contracted with a bus system which carries students of either school. The result is more and shorter routes requiring less riding time for children beside saving substantially in operation and depreciation. When each school had its own busses routes were duplicated over most of the district.

The two high schools have also adopted the same schedule of classes making it possible for the Muenster High students, on their free time, to attend religion classes at Sacred Heart. The children also have an opportunity to attend regular classes which are taught in the other school. A transfer of credit at the end of the year brings the student's record of scholastic work up to date.

Building And Improvement Notes

Work started last week on the No. 9 Zipper house. Unlike the other eight, which are located north of the public school, this one is a block west and faces Main. It will have three bedrooms and an attached garage.

Another home just starting is Community Lumber Company's two bedroom house with central heating and car port. It is in the southeast part of town, on Hickory.

At the north end of the same street is Victor Koelzer's three bedroom house with attached garage. Carpenters are about ready to turn the job over to painters.

Also well along is Martin Trubenbach's new home southeast of town. It will have three bedrooms, central heating and attached garage.

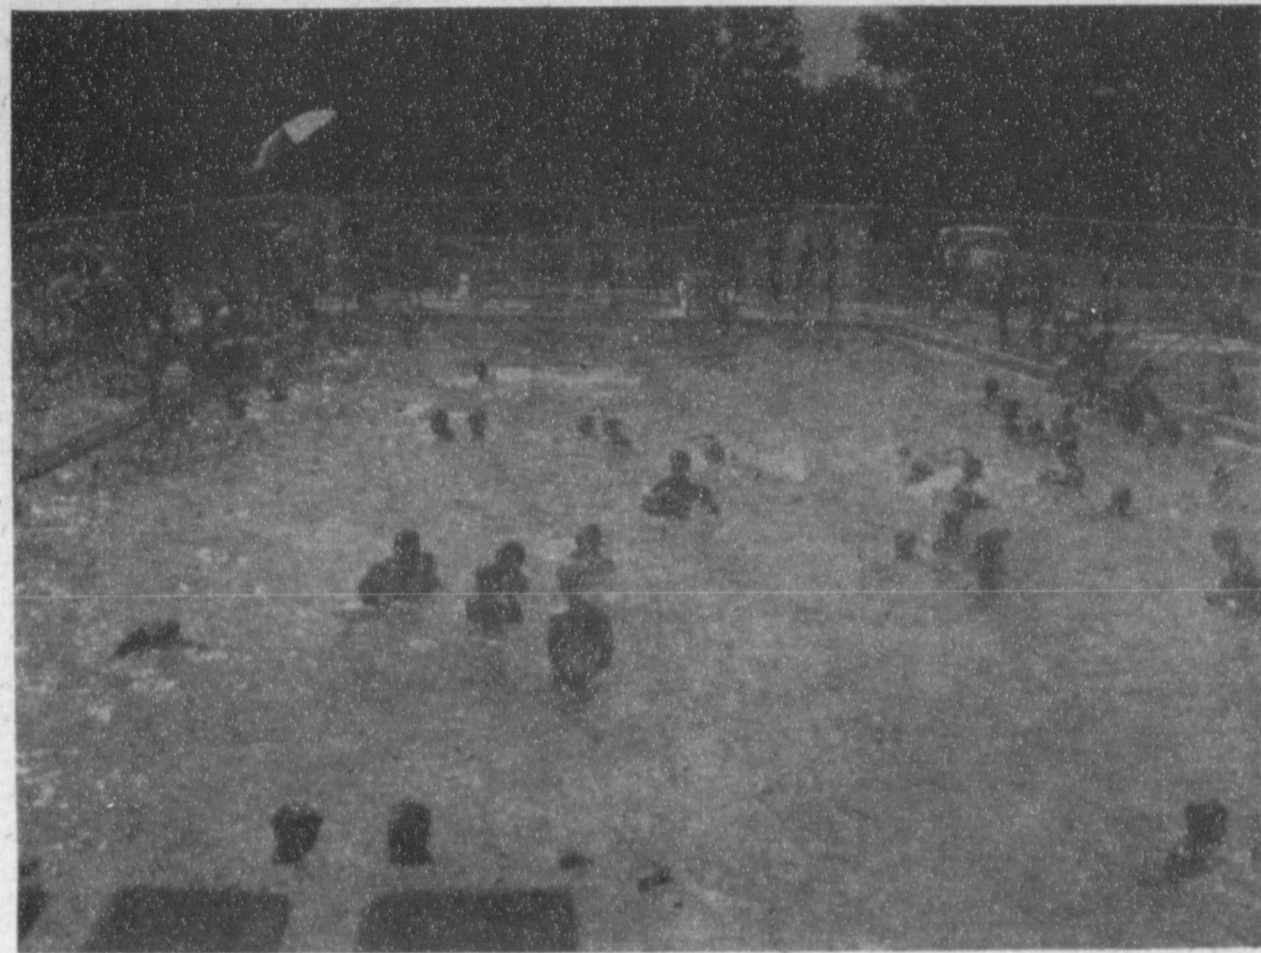

Others making good progress on new homes are Mrs. Charles Cler, west of Sacred Heart church; L. B. Bruns, on West Seventh; and Lena Kleiss on the farm occupied by Al Vogel.

Several repair and remodeling jobs are currently in progress or recently finished. Joe Horn and J. W. Fisher are re-papering. Bayer Brothers are making general repairs and painting inside and outside of the Bayer Estate farm they bought recently a half mile south of town. Parker Fears is adding sheet rock and paint. The Frank Hoedebeck house is getting inside repairs and outside paint.

Non-resident building activity is topped by the new filling station which Urban Endres is building for Sinclair. Walls are finished and roof work has started.

At the public school carpenter work is finished on Vocational Agriculture class room. The separate building, formerly used for lumber storage has been worked over for the new purpose and a small room was added to store lumber for the shop class. Stockmen's feed store has completed several grain bins in the former lumber shed south of its main building.

Al Kleiss is building a 20x50 sheet metal machine shed and Foster Davidson is building a 40x80 poultry house.

THE WATER WAS FINE and about 300 came for their first local swim as the City of Muenster opened its new municipal swimming pool in the city park Sunday. It was an informal event to make the few remaining weeks of this season even though surroundings are not finished. Formal opening is postponed until next summer when shower house, lawn and parking area are ready.

St. Mary's Church Of Ft. Worth Buys Old Muenster Bells

Old familiar tones which drifted over Muenster for many years are destined to be heard in the neighborhood of St. Mary's Church, Fort Worth, in the future. The set of three bells from the old Sacred Heart Church were moved to that church Tuesday.

St. Mary's, though provided with a bell tower when it was built many years ago, had not installed its bells. Recently the pastor conferred with Father Louis about buying the bells for his church. After getting Bishop Gorman's OK they had the bells appraised and made a deal.

When Muenster's new church was built the bells were replaced by an electrically controlled sound amplifying system taking its sound from records. Bell tones here now are reproductions from famous bells in European cathedrals. The amplifier is also used for chime renditions of sacred music, and is connected with a clock which reproduces the tones of London's Big Ben.

26 Tigers Report For First Session Of Grid Practice

With only six games on their schedule but the first slated a short nine days after school opening, 26 members of the Tiger grid squad reported Monday night for an early start in their 1955 season.

For the first two nights the coaches, Father Christopher Paladino and Julian Walterscheid, spent their time on calisthenics, passing and kicking, and settled down Wednesday to the job of organizing the team. They had a snappy drill session running through plays remembered from the previous year.

Father Christopher said he still has hopes of filling a ten game schedule for the boys even though he has fewer games listed now than in the spring.

The Tigers lost one of their favorite rivals this year when Boys Ranch of Bedford discontinued as a high school and limited itself to elementary grades. That move left the Tigers with only three opponents in district competition of the Southwest Academic League. They are Laneri, Buckner and Catholic High of Texarkana.

In another way the Tigers profited by the Ranchers' exit. When the news broke Coach Red Teague advised Father Christopher that the athletic equipment would be placed on sale. The Tiger coach used the opportunity to fill in his team's needs at an attractive price.

Tiger games now on schedule are:

- Sept. 9, Windthorst, here
- Sept. 17, St. Mark's, here
- Oct. 1, Catholic Hi, Texarkana
- Oct. 15, Laneri, there
- Nov. 4, Buckner here
- Nov. 18, Windthorst, there

Good Attendance Hails Opening of City's Swim Pool

There was no fanfare or ceremony but lots of enthusiasm last Sunday as about 300 parents and kids took their first dip in the city's new swimming pool.

According to Mayor Urban Endres the keen interest in the town's latest and best recreational facility continued through Monday and Tuesday nights, when attendance was estimated at 150 and 190 respectively. The management bases its estimate on gross admissions, figuring an average of 20 cents per person. The charge is 35 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

Endres added that the actual attendance is somewhat higher. Reports have reached him that quite a number of youngsters have had swimming parties after the official closing time. He urges the persons concerned to discontinue the practice and save the city the unpleasant job of taking official action. The council isn't complaining about a few free swims, he said, but it is concerned with the possibility of tragedy while the place is dark and has no life guard.

Completion of the shower house this week is expected to discourage the late swimmers. It will close the gap in the fence. (Continued on Page 10)

Hornets, Marietta Meet Here Tuesday In Scrimmage Test

Football fans of Muenster will have an opportunity next Friday night to see their first competitive grid activity of the season as Coach John Hosea's Hornets bump heads with the Marietta, Okla., team.

It will be a scrimmage, intended strictly as practice for both teams. Coaches will serve as officials while directing their teams and will see that each team's offensive and defensive action is equally divided. The probable method is to give a team the ball for four plays then put it on defense the next four, says Coach Hosea.

After two nights of light practice, consisting mostly of limbering up exercises and ball chasing, the Hornets settled down to blocking, tackling, and the other more serious assignments Wednesday. Hosea has also started working the boys in their respective positions.

The year's schedule for the Hornets is as follows:

- Sept. 9, Pilot Point, there
- Sept. 16, Whitesboro, here
- Sept. 23, Windthorst, here
- Oct. 7, Valley View (Cooke County), here
- Oct. 14, Callisburg, there
- Oct. 21, Valley View (Wichita County), there
- Oct. 28, Saint Jo, here
- Nov. 4, Era, there
- Nov. 11, Sanger, here
- Nov. 18, Alvord, there

Joe Noggler Gets Texas University Grid Scholarship

Joe Noggler, the spark plug of Muenster High's football and track teams of the past three seasons, decided last Thursday to continue his efforts in those sports at the University of Texas. He is due to report at Austin on September 12.

Noggler has accepted a full scholarship for his agreement to play football with the Longhorns, however it is taken for granted that he will also be working for a place on the school's track team. During the past track season he won first in the 100 and third in the 220 dashes in the State Class B finals. The previous year he won second in both events at the state meet.

In football the fleet-footed Hornet was leading scorer of the district and unanimous choice on the all-district team for the past two years.

Noggler had considered going to Texas U. since early in the spring and had signed a letter of intent at the time that Head Coach Ed Price came to see him in May. Other "Texas" men who urged him to accept the athletic scholarship were Harley Sewell, Jack Crane and Assistant Coach J. T. King.

Tommy Tompkins Receives BS Degree

Tommy Tompkins, former Katy agent here, received his BS degree Wednesday night at North Texas State College's annual summer graduation exercise. His major was Physics.

After a two-weeks vacation Tompkins will return to NTSC to begin work for his MS degree, and also to continue the teaching assignment he has held for the past year.

He completes his college work after several years of interruption. During World War II, after less than two years at A&M and NTSC, he joined the Air Force. After the war he was the local Katy agent until called back to the service as a reserve. Following his second hitch in the service he resumed his studies at NTSC.

A "Washington Whisper" mentioned this week in U. S. News and World Report says that orders are out in the State Department to do or say nothing that will offend the Communist rulers of Russia. The boys in the striped pants have to be nice to those Soviet characters even though they are fully aware that said Soviets are the same old stinkers up to their same old shenanigans. The general idea is to preserve the "spirit of Geneva." We will not be outdone by the Ruskies in this new game of sweetness and light.

Now isn't that just ducky? After all the years of playing second fiddle to the Moscow mob, presumably while we were building up to call their bluffs, we obligingly agree not to make use of the advantage we have finally acquired.

Through three decades of treachery, intrigue and bluff Russia has spread its evil domination over the greater part of Europe and Asia. All the while it ridiculed and insulted us, even humiliated us, knowing that we were not in a position to retaliate. But finally the situation changed. Militarily and economically we have the upper hand. At the same time the Soviet domestic problem tends to weaken the effective power of the big ugly bear. So the Kremlin suddenly decides to change its policy. It will be nice, pretending to make friends with the rest of the world with a hope of strengthening its position while the Western nations relax.

There's nothing surprising about the reversal of Soviet policy. Circumstances brought that about. But it is completely astounding that our country and its allies, knowing the communist objective as well as the communist record of treachery, while despising the inhuman standards that communism stands for, should agree to play along in the communist proposed game. Why did we not elect instead to stick with our principles, denounce the red scheme before all the world and strive harder than ever before to break the shackles imposed on humanity by the red menace?

Regardless of the talk of peace we all know in our own minds that there is no peace. The present pretended friendliness is nothing but a lull which will be broken at the moment when the Kremlin thinks it can gain by doing so. In the meantime we forsake the millions of slaves who yearn day and night for helping hand from us.

In a declared war . . . though not in a UN police action, of course . . . an attitude similar to the one now followed would be judged either as treason or gross incompetence. The general who failed to strike when the enemy weakened would find himself in serious trouble. But we seem to have a different concept of this long range war. We agree to hold our fire knowing full well that the enemy is reorganizing his fighting force while treacherously waving the flag of truce.

Let's ask ourselves seriously: Is there any reason whatever for us to return the red smile? How about that shabby deal the Chinese reds are working on in Geneva right now? They will release a group of hostages, all American citizens, if we will betray a group of Nationalist Chinese to their torture. At one time our country threatened to declare war when a single American was held as hostage.

Yes, we are asked to return the smile while communist expansion and double crossing continues in Korea, Malaya, Indo China, Africa and other trouble spots on the globe . . . while the Chinese reds continue their blackmail method of seeking a UN seat.

Everywhere we look the picture is just as ugly as it used to be, even behind the friendly front that Russia is putting on. Communists are still violating agreements, stirring up trouble, spreading their evil influence, pressing on to world domination. But we overlook all the ugly incidents and cravenly smile back when Moscow finally favors us with her smile.

Regardless of co-existence talk or the present friendly policy, every thinking man of the world knows that peace is still far (Continued on Page 10)

Shower Helps Stock Nuns' Pantry, Locker

About 80 persons attended the shower given for the local Benedictine Sisters' pantry Sunday night. The event, held in the parish hall, provided an assortment of canned foods and other pantry items.

The Sisters, several of them here for the first time as teachers in the parochial school, met parents of the students they will have when classes begin.

Refreshments of cake and cookies brought by the ladies attending, and cold bottled drinks were served.

Some who were unable to attend the shower left their pantry and locker gifts at the Sisters' residence during the week.

BACK FROM COLORADO

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hennigan returned Saturday from a two-week vacation spent in Colorado. They were at Denver, Love Land, Colorado Springs and Canon sight-seeing and in Denver stopped for a visit with her sister, Dorothy Wimmer, who is employed there. ACID TEST FOR MOSCOW

In the fable of Red Riding Hood, the wolf wore a friendly smile. In the animal kingdom, the wolf has always been the predatory, calculating enemy of all; and yet after time it has successfully used deception to fool its victims. Certain basic facts of life — the clearly seen realities — must be kept constantly in mind as the United States and her allies extend their talks and pleasantries with Communist leaders who for the moment are displaying a front which seems to change the historic nature of Communism.

DIGEST): Since President Roosevelt extended U.S. diplomatic recognition to the Soviet regime in 1933, Soviet-American talks have taken place some 3400 times. These meetings have produced at least 106 million words — and exactly 52 major agreements. Only two of the agreements have been honored by the Soviets: (1) to enter the war against Japan (two days before it ended, and strictly to her benefit), and (2) to permit Western air corridors to Berlin (of good propaganda value).

Repudiate Conquest

Before we take our first step toward trusting the Soviet leaders' words and placing our faith in their agreements, we should submit the Red Dictators to a reasonable test. They should be asked to effectively repudiate the Lenin line of the Communist International, to which all of World Communism is publicly dedicated. The Lenin line calls for the overthrow of the capitalistic nations and declares that the world cannot contain Communism and Capitalism: one or the other must be destroyed.

The Bible — The Spur to Human Achievement

Before we give away secrets or alter any of our national defense plans and goals, we should insist that the Red dictators publicly identify each of the 5,000,000 Fifth Columnists conspirators in the 60 nations outside the Iron Curtain, and transport them to Russia unless they wish to renounce their revolutionary program of action. A congressional committee, after a two-year study, has placed the Fifth Column figure at 5,000,000. Let the Kremlin now actually break up this vast network of conspirators, trained for years in techniques for conquering all nations. This would be a reasonable test of Soviet sincerity.

A Unified Germany

Before we accept the idea of doing business with the Communist leaders we should demand to see a unified Germany established, with Soviet approval and with the Russians completely withdrawn from Eastern Germany; a unification of the two halves of Korea and Indo-China, after the withdrawal of all Communist Chinese troops and Kremlin agents from the northern halves of these countries. These are practical considerations. They would not molest the present Communist empire except at the three points, in Germany, Korea and Indo-China where nations are split unnaturally.

There is, of course, another acid test to which the Kremlin must be subjected before the U. S. accepts Soviet Russia as a decent world neighbor worthy of trust and friendship. The demanding of this mandatory acid test would in itself be a test of the moral character of the U.S.A. The test is this: All the nations that have been subverted or otherwise taken over by Communists must be freed and permitted to choose their own way of life.

Moral Guidepost

If the present Communist leaders in Moscow would have a "rebirth," release the millions of captives in the slave labor camps of Siberia, and permit the freedom-loving people of all the subject nations to have freedom and build their own nations as they see fit, then the world could look forward to the greatest era in the history of mankind. America, in whatever dealings it has with the Communist bosses, must express a demand for these objectives over and over again. We cannot claim to be a Christian nation unless we do. We cannot keep alive the hope of the enslaved millions unless we do.

America has the weight of military strength, the overwhelming productive strength, and it should develop the moral strength to back up such demands upon the Soviet leaders. Russia is in serious trouble. The Communist idea is proving to be a terrible failure for the masses of humanity or whose behalf it was supposed to have been conceived. The specter of hunger stalks across Russia and China; the dictators are fearful. Here in America, on the other hand, the free way of life, the Godly way, is proclaimed with abundance and with incomparable economic strength. The Red dictators are desperate for time to consolidate their tyranny over the lives of 900 million people and then use them to conquer the world. America must do everything it can to thwart this evil plan.

PAUSE FOR REFLECTION

One of the paradoxes of this so-called scientific age is that, while acknowledging that in handling physical forces we court disaster if we violate God's laws pertaining to them, we seem to think that we can violate God's laws pertaining to spiritual and moral matters with impunity.

We legalize the "right to strike" (which, in its essence, is simply legalized assault and destruction of other people's property), we develop great industries based on human vices, we utter blasphemies and obscenities on a prodigious scale — and seem to think that nothing untoward will happen as a result. How blind we are!

We apparently cannot see that our rising crime rate, our scandalous divorce rate, our overflowing psychopathic hospitals are

Hell Is At the Foot Of Calvary

By Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

PEOPLE LIKE TO THINK that someday the souls in hell will go to heaven. But hell must be eternal. Everything does not come out all right in the end. We cannot at one moment believe that we are saved by doing God's will and the next moment believe that it has no significance.

Hell means that the consequences of your good and bad acts are not the same. It makes a tremendous amount of difference to your body if you drink tea or TNT, and it makes a greater difference if your soul drinks virtue or vice.

Sheen

WHAT IS hell like? In hell we are given a punishment corresponding to our sins. The fiercer the grip sinful pleasures had on a soul in this life, the more fiercely it will be tormented in eternity. Because we turned away from God we feel the loss of His Love, His Beauty, and His Truth.

Many try to argue that hell could not be as they have heard some preachers picture it. I am only saying, do not reject the truth of the book because the pictures are bad.

WHEN YOU CAME into this world, God said: "I ask you to love me freely, that you may be perfect." Suppose we freely say: "I refuse to love Truth and Justice and Beauty or my neighbor. I shall love error, and graft, and ugliness." Later on you die in that state. But you do not escape that Divine Love which you abused, any more than the traitor escapes the country whose love he despised.

You ask: "How can a good God be so wrathful as to sentence souls to hell?" Remember that God does not sentence us to hell, as much as we sentence ourselves.

GOD HAS NOT a different mood for those who go to hell, and for those who go to heaven. The difference is in us, not in Him. The sun which shines on wax softens it; the sun which shines on mud hardens it. There is no difference in the sun, but only in that upon which it shines.

Hell is at the foot of the hill of Calvary. No one of us can go down to hell without first passing over the hill where there is a God-man enthroned with arms outstretched to embrace, head bent to kiss, and heart open to love.

After-Dinner Speaker Gets His "Deserts"

"Red" Thomas tells about a dinner party he and his Missus went to in Center City last week. He said it was a wonderful party—except for one guest who was a real "know-it-all," right from the start.

Whatever the subject, this fellow considered himself an "expert." Wasn't quiet about it, either. He told different people what automobile to buy, what books to read—even told some who they "just had" to vote for.

When it came time to leave, this fellow must've felt a pang of conscience. He turned to the hostess and said: "I suppose I was a bit outspoken tonight." Quickly she replied, "Of course not. No one could have out-spoken you."

From where I sit, it's all right to have opinions as long as you don't try to force them on neighbors. Take those who would deny me an occasional glass of beer simply because they prefer something else. They're welcome to their choice but shouldn't try to force me to be a "party" to it!

all the result of our defiance of God's spiritual and moral laws. And these are disasters that make even an explosion in an atomic laboratory a minor mishap by comparison.

In physics and chemistry we are truly in a scientific age but in the realm of moral and spiritual matters we are still in the age of what Paul labeled "science falsely so called."

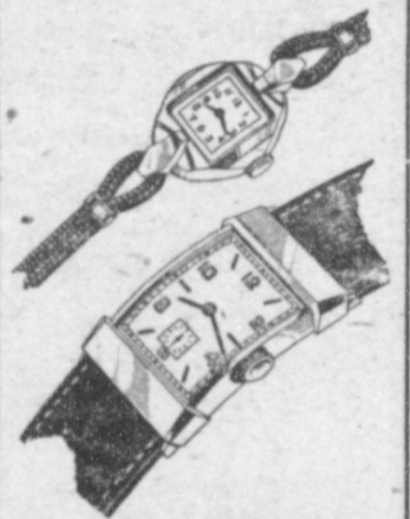

Is This Education?

If a survey made by the Opinion Research Corporation among seniors in 86 high schools, scattered across the country, is correct, there is something alarmingly wrong with American education.

According to the results, 82 percent of these students do not believe we have competition in business; 60 percent feel owners get too large a share of the profits; 61 percent reject the profit motive as necessary to the survival of our free system; 55 percent accept the classic communist doctrine of "from each according to needs," and 60 percent think a worker should not produce all he can.

This should make the men in the Kremlin and our other ideological enemies happy. For, if such views are widely held and acted upon by our citizens of tomorrow, we will destroy this nation from within—which is what the Communists want beyond anything else. — Harvard (Ill.) Herald.

WASTED WATERS

Fences mowed down by waters on rampage reveal the need for more efforts on water conservation. What can be done to stop this water before it rushes downstream to be wasted in the sea?

Sure — huge dams can be built to impound flood waters and they are helping. But impounded waters have a habit of silting up the reservoir to make a pretty waterfall instead of a dam. It's grass that will hold back the rain drops and let them down gently on the ground.

Money that comes too fast and easy may be wasted. A bank account holds these extra dollars for planned use in the future.

1955 CSL Convention Recalls Memories of 1927 Meeting

By Bro. L. J. Gonner, S.M.

Recollections of the Convention of the Catholic State League held at Muenster on 6, 7, and 8 of September 1927, will be to the fore in the minds of the older members of the League as the 1955 Convention, the fifty-sixth in league history, convenes on August 29, 1955 at Muenster.

The official invitation to the 1927 convention had been issued by the State-Secretary, the late Herman Jaekle, the previous June. It encouraged the delegates to bring the youth to the convention. The Rev. John Nigg, O.S.B., then District Organizer for the Northern District of the League wrote a brief sketch of Muenster for the Verbands-Bote, the CSL official organ. It gave the history of Muenster from the time it had been founded by the Flusche Brothers with their 22,000 acre real estate venture. The first Mass in Muenster had been celebrated on Dec. 8, 1889, said Father Nigg.

The 1927 Convention was the 29th in the State League's history. The program for it was issued in a special brochure of eight pages that listed all the events of the three days, all the delegates and places of origin—both men and women—and a two page report on the financial condition of the Insurance Branch.

Among the delegates listed as present are many names that are still familiar. Old-timers will be looking forward to seeing them again in 1955. They are: Rev. Jacob Lenzen, Rev. Conrad Herda, Rev. F. O. Beck (now Msgr.), Rev. (now Msgr.) Schnetzer, Leo Dielman, Felix Stehling, George Book, Henry Menger, Rev. (now Bishop) Augustine Dangelmayr, Henry Bokholt, Jacob Bezner, Justin Hess, W. L. Boerner, Martin Ebest. Henry Menger was Chairman of the Convention Publicity Committee.

Ben Schwegman, the state president, responded to the welcomes given by Rev. Frowin Koerdt, the pastor and Frank Hoenig the local president. The evening sessions heard reports from Mr. Schwegman, and Mr. Kuehler and an address on post-war conditions in Germany and Russia. The deaths of Msgr. Wack of

New Branfels (in Bliebruck, France, April 1, 1927 and Rev. Barnabas Held OSB (on June 9, 1927 at Nada, Texas) were officially noted. Celebrant of the traditional High Mass was the Rev. Frowin Koerdt, OSB, assisted by Rev. F. S. Strobel and F. X. Wolf. The Convention Sermon was given by the Rev. George Binkert, OSB.

The musical program alone for the three days was impressive. It covers two complete pages. Participating were the Maennerchor of Muenster, the Muenster Gemischer Chor, and the Cecilia Choir of Lindsay. The official band of the convention was the Muenster Concert Band but listed under the Visiting Bands were: The Santa Fe Band, Gainesville, the Lindsay Parish Band and the Windthorst-Scotland Band. Also participating were individual members of the Lone Star Band, the Muenster Quartette and a male choir of San Antonio.

Taking part in the Stage Play were Henry Henscheid, Bertha Trachta, Rosa Felderhoff, Andreas Hofbauer, Helen Kleiss, Al Walterscheid, Jos. Hoenig, Conrad Walterscheid, Joseph Walter, Leo Henscheid and Gertrude Cler.

Forty-three mens societies rendered reports. They came from Cameron, Castroville, Devine, D'Hanis, Electra, Fredericksburg, Frelsburg, Hallettsville, Harper, High Hill (2) Honey Creek (2) Jarrel, LaCoste, Lott, Lindsay Mentz, Moulton, Muenster, Nada, Nazareth, New Braunfels, Olfen, Pilot Point, Red Rock Rhineland, Rowena, San Antonio, Schulenburg, Scotland, Seguin, Selma, Shiner, St. John, String Prairie, Tours, Violet, Weimar, Westphalia, Wichita Falls, Windthorst, Plantersville. Most of these are in existence today.

Women's societies were present from Fredericksburg, Honey Creek, Lindsay, Muenster, Mt. Carmel, Red Rock, Scotland, Windthorst, New Braunfels (2), Shiner, String Prairie, Westphalia and San Antonio.

Resolutions of the Men's Section dealt with The Holy Father, International Peace, Conditions in Mexico (persecution), Catholic Education, Centralization of Power, Immigration, The Farmer and His Problems, Youth, The Responsibility of the Educated Catholic in Social Action, the Central Bureau and the Propagation of the Faith.

Elected to head the State League for the year following were Felix G. Stehling of Fredericksburg, president; Anton Dreitner, of Weimar, vice-president; Herman Jaekle of San Antonio, secretary; and Franz A. Schmidt of High Hill, treasurer.

On the afternoon of September 7 the Rev. A. J. Muench, Doctor of Social Science of St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, delivered one of the outstanding addresses of the Convention entitled, "The Old and New in Leadership." The Rev. Muench is now an Archbishop and is the representative of Pope Pius XII in the position of Apostolic Nuncio to Germany.

The Convention closed (as it will again do in 1955) with a formal church service, the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Mrs. Ray Evans and her sister Mrs. Howard Couch, visiting here from Hot Springs, Ark., spent Monday and Tuesday at the fall market in Dallas.

Soil Conservation Notes

For land's sake plant vetch! "Vetch is mighty good for the land and good for extra cash too."

"I'm planting vetch on all my land this fall because I saw how good my neighbor did with it last year."

"My crops on vetch land stood the dry weather better and produced more than they did on the other fields."

These are some of the things cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District are saying about vetch and its value as a winter soil improving cover crop.

Vetch is truly a many-handed servant when managed properly. It can add nitrogen to the soil when properly inoculated with bacteria that attach themselves to the roots and form nodules. These bacteria take nitrogen from the soil air and convert it to nitrates in the soil, thus benefiting the vetch and following crops.

Vetch can add tons of organic matter to the soil when allowed to reach maturity and the top growth left on or near the soil surface. Vetch can give lots of high protein grazing early in the spring when it is badly needed. It can become a good cash crop when seed is harvested and it makes an ideal early pasture for honey bees.

Why not plan to put a part of your cultivated land, or overseed your pasture to vetch this fall? Get your seed and fertilizer now. Put this many-handed servant to work on your farm.

Jim Dennison of Saint Jo harvested 2800 pounds of Madison vetch this summer. However, he reports that none of the seed is for sale. He is going to plant very bit of it on his pasture. He knows that he will have a good crop of volunteer vetch on his field and he wants to improve his pasture by fertilizing and overseeding the grass to vetch. The vetch will furnish lots of grazing and under good management will add nitrogen that will cause grasses to grow better next summer.

TERRACES

Over a mile of channel type field terraces have been completed on the Tony Trubebach Jr. farm at Hood. The farm is operated by John Hoberer who assisted with terrace construction.

Ray Sicking is using a three-tisk plow to build 5000 feet of banne' type terraces on his farm near Myra. He is using the island method of construction to give him some broad easy-to-cross farm terraces. They will outlet onto a Bermuda grass waterway.

Wilfred Reiter is also using farm equipment to build some 6000 feet of terraces on the farm he operates for Meador-brothers.

LIVESTOCK WATER

Arthur Hellman has just completed construction of a pond on his farm and another on the Gus Hellman farm. The ponds will furnish water for livestock and make better pasture management possible.

A diversion terrace to keep hill water off a bottomland field was also built on the Gus Hellman farm.

Technical assistance on ponds and terraces was furnished by local Soil Conservation Service personnel.

Marcelene Wimmer Honored at Party

Miss Marcelene Wimmer, bride-elect of Rody Klement, was honored with a gift party Saturday evening in the home of Mrs. O.T. Carr at Gainesville.

White and blue, chosen colors of the honoree, were carried out in decorations in the party rooms and the refreshment table, covered with lace cloth over blue, was centered with an arrangement of blue asters. Standing beside the flowers was a doll dressed as a bride in the same costume as it was when presented to Miss Wimmer when she was a little girl.

After admiring the shower gifts, the guests had refreshments of ice cream and cake squares.

"Oil, Bullets and Beans"

Ever since the oil industry was in 'swaddling clothes, crapehangers have been shaking their heads and forecasting that demand was due to outrun the supply in practically no time.

That was the talk way back in 1900, when a mere 8,000 horseless carriages were put-putting over our roads. Then the Spindletop well came in, the greatest in history up to then, and for a time the merchants of gloom were silent.

But by 1905, there were 77,000-odd cars in motion and other consumers of oil were on the increase. Again the shortage talk was rampant. The oilmen's answer was to bring in more and more producing fields.

The skeptics really had a field day during World War I. A U.S. Bureau of Mines official forecast that our oil reserves would be totally gone within 27 years. What happened? As before, the oilmen met words with deeds. In the last year of that war, we had both the highest production and the greatest proved reserves ever known up to that time.

So it went, with the shortage fear reaching another high during World War II — a war which, in the vivid phrase of Admiral Nimitz, was won on "oil, bullets, and beans." Every demand was met, despite difficulties resulting from material and manpower shortages. After the war, consumption of oil reached levels far beyond the anticipations of anyone. Since 1945, U. S. oil requirements have jumped by more than 50 per cent. Yet reserves have hit all-time high after all-time high.

If past experience is of any value at all, the 'crapehangers should have learned a lesson by this time.

Dial Type Phones Made Obsolete by Speedier System

NEW YORK. — A new signaling system for telephone dialing—so fast it may do away with the dial itself—has been developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories here.

The new device, called a polytonic coder, sends out digits almost as fast as they can, theoretically, be packed into a line. A test model of the signaler can send 100 digits a second reliably over almost all telephone connections.

To take advantage of the device's speed, the present dialing system would have to be replaced, perhaps, by a push button system. You would punch out your party's number on buttons on the phone's base while the receiver is still on the hook. When you pick up the receiver, your party's phone will start ringing. If the line is busy, you need not dial again. The button setting will remain until you change it. All you need do is pick up the phone again to reach the same party a second time.

Dials Too Slow

Dials now on most phones are too slow for the new signaler. It takes up to 12 seconds to dial seven-digit phone number—almost all wasted time—besides delay while the signal makes the connection.

Results of laboratory tests with the signaling system were so encouraging, Dr. C. A. Lovell, J.H. McGulgan and O. J. Murphy of the Bell Telephone Laboratories reported, that arrangements were made to try it on New York circuits.

Tests showed the polytonic signal could be used on all except an insignificant number of the nation's telephone connections, Dr. Lovell said.

Need for a signaling system for the future significantly faster than today's dial spurred development of the new method. The term "polytonic" was coined because the system uses five separate frequencies. Each digit is represented by a different two-tone combination. The device is based on a new mathematical concept of electronic coding.

Today's dial system depends on timing. The time the wheel takes to come to rest determines the digit sent over the lines to the central connecting office. If you get impatient and try to force the dial around faster than it would go naturally, you might get a wrong number.

But there would be no impatient dialers if the new system is adopted. It can transmit digits many times faster than any human can send them. To make efficient use of the device's speed, the telephone number would have to be set up first on the phone and sent out after the setting has been completed.

Don't worry too much about what lies ahead. Go as far as you can see, and when you get there you can see farther on.

RETURN FROM CONVENTION AND SIGHT-SEEING TRIP

Misses Patsy Horn and Maria Fuhrmann returned Saturday from attendance at the Central Verein convention in Rochester, N. Y., and a tour of 11 states including a visit in Canada. The convention commemorated the 100th anniversary of the Central Verein.

Going to New York the group visited the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln at Bardonia, Ky., and made a tour of the house where Stephen Foster wrote the song, "My Old Kentucky Home." In this city they also visited St. Joseph's Cathedral. At Trappist, Ky., they visited the Trappist Monastery. At Louisville they saw Churchill Downs.

Coming home they visited Niagara Falls and Fort Niagara and drove into Canada. The trip covered 3200 miles.

At the convention Patsy served on the constitution committee and Maria was on the nominating committee. Father Henkes is national youth director for the youth section of the Verein.

Sprinkler System Provides Rain for Sod on Three Dams

The three floodwater retarding dams that were seeded and sodded last spring received much needed rain this week.

The "rain" came from portable sprinkler irrigation equipment moved in by R. G. Brock, Soil Conservation Service agronomist, and his crew of helpers.

Grass on the dams and spillways got a good soaking from water from the sediment pools of the reservoirs.

The structures being watered are on the Alex Lutkenhaus farm, the Grant Estate, and the H. D. Fields ranch.

away . . . and probably wonders also whether it will be a peace based on freedom or the iron curtain type. Facing such reality why do we piddle around? Instead of smiling why aren't we exerting the diplomatic and economic pressure to exploit every communist weakness? Why aren't we also giving free Chinese and Koreans the help they want to restore freedom in Asia?

and enable the management to lock the pool.

Building progress up to Wednesday indicates that dressing rooms at least will be available by next Sunday. With good luck the men will also finish plumbing installations in showers and rest rooms.

For the information of patrons, Mayor Endres points out that they have one of the best pools in North Texas. Its big volume filtering system, circulating water at a rate of 350 gallons a minute, can treat the pool's 125,000 gallons every six hours. As a result the water is exceptionally clean. Besides, the pool is good looking and well equipped.

After the first few days of operation the management has a few requests: The first is to make sure that tiny tots are attended by parents or dependable brothers or sisters. Several children who could barely keep their heads above water have been left on their own. Obviously a life guard cannot be expected to keep a close watch over both the deep and shallow ends of the pool, and unattended small fry may be in serious trouble before they are noticed.

Another request is not to bring inner tubes into the pool. The tubes are bulky and become a nuisance when the pool is crowded. Besides the valve cores are hazardous, and there is a danger of children slipping through the large diameter circle. However, the smaller plastic floats are encouraged.

The management also points out that every person regardless of age will be charged for entering the swimming pool. That applies even to babies in arms. But there is no admission charge for use of the wading pool.

C. F. Gobble, still a patient at Veterans Hospital in McKinney, was at home to spend the weekend with his family.
