Relax Theatre to Be Sold or Closed Says F. E. Schmitz

Adlai Stevenson, the man who tried to wise crack his way into the White House, seems to be convinced that he can fast talk the recent "brink of war" statement by Secretary of State Dulles into quite a political issue.

In that he is enthusiastically joined by lots of the old New Dealers who have a guilty feeling about their party's record of getting the country into war and are trying desperately to convince voters that the opposition party is equally guilty of exposing the country to danger.

So goes it in politics, especially in a general election year. Had the remark been made a year or two ago it probably would not have received a tenth of the attention. Now, however, there's the chance of shaking public confidence in the administration's foreign policy and the subject becomes an ideal political football.

As the yackety yack goes on, we are pleased to note, the effect of the criticism is gradually fizzling out. Enough people are understanding that being on the verge of war was not just a matter of flirting with danger but rather of calming down a bully by calling his bluff. The idea Dulles is putting over, in spite of his critics, is that we stood pat when the reds were acting and talking tough.

That put us on the brink of war. In effect our State Department said "go ahead if you are looking for trouble." If reds had accepted the challenge we'd have been in war. It was that close.

Formosa, to mention only one of the three cases, is a perfect example. We all remember how the Chinese communists howled and threatened. Our country chose to back up the Nationalists, and all the while we at home were wondering when the shooting would start. War was too close for comfort. We knew it then as well as now. We can recall also that we had demands then to pull out and let the reds take over. But a vast majority of people were proud of our country's firmness. They believed it was time to take a firm stand.

Suppose we had avoided that brink of war. Does anyone doubt what situation would prevail in Asia today if we had retreated and left the few remaining champions of freedom exposed to the overwhelming power of communism. People who criticize Dulles for his remark certainly do no credit to their own judgment or to the nation's spirit of integrity and honor. In effect they are saying they'd have preferred to let communism advance its conquest and to see America shirk its responsibility.

As if these circumstances were not enough, the critics also reveal their pathetic ignorance of history. Every man in politics should remember what happened when nations were avoiding the brink of war in the thirties. Hitler made threats and demands and the rest of Europe conceded. Eventually he considered himself invincible and the other countries, weakened by avoiding the brink of war several times before, were in serious troubles. We had to rescue Europe from its folly. And still the critics are howling at Dulles for not making the same mistake.

Even more recently, we can see the folly of America's avoiding the brink of war in the Korean fiasco. Remember, we were doing police action for the UN, trying to hold the reds in Korea rather than fight back as MacArthur advised. We took the advice of our pussy foot diplomats and avoided the brink of a threatened war with communism. So the reds claimed North Korea and we lost prestige all over Asia. Still the shallow thinkers criticize our stepping up to the brink of war and calling the red bluff.

From here it seems that criticism, if any, should be directed at our country's failure to go farther than it did. We might have given the Chinese Nationalists the support they wanted in their eagerly awaited fight to liberate the Chinese mainland. Some very competent military men are convinced that the undertaking would have been successful. If so, our present worries with the red menace in Asia would

The days of the Relax Theatre are numbered unless it passes to new ownership in the near future. That is the decision expressed by F. E. Schmitz this week along with his announcement that he wishes to sell both the building and the contents.

Schmitz said that show business is not his line and furthermore he does not have the time to manage it, so his intention is either to sell the theatre or to close it. Temporarily he is keeping the show in operation under management of F. A. Kathman since repossessing it from George Letson at the beginning of the year. His purpose is to avoid a break in the show schedule in case it will be kept open.

Schmitz points to the former manager's experience as evidence that the theatre can be operated at a profit and invites prospective buyers to look over the figures and study the possibilities with him.

He offers to sell the building for $20,000 and its contents for $7,500. The original cost of the building and equipment, in 1950, was about $45,000.

Parish Will Host Deanery Unit of NCCM February 5

Sacred Heart parish will host Sunday afternoon, February 5, to men of the Sherman deanery's National Council of Catholic Men, a comparatively new organization in the Dallas Fort Worth diocese functioning as a complement to the National Council of Catholic Women. The meeting will begin at 2 p.m.

The program, as outlined by Rev. Henry McGill of Denton, diocesan director, and to be directed by him, will feature several outstanding speakers from Dallas and Fort Worth conducting five workshops and a general conference.

The workshops, from 2 to 4, will be on Family Life, Religious Activity, Public Relations, Communications, and Civic and Social Action. The closing conference will begin at 4:15 and the afternoon will conclude with refreshments.

Meetings will be held in classrooms and the library of Sacred Heart High school and the final address will be given in the gymnasium.

The local pastors urge a full attendance for this program, the first of its kind to be held here.

Mrs. Joe Devers is back at her home in Valley View convalescing from an operation performed on Jan. 17 in a Denton hospital. The surgery removed a cyst from her neck. The two younger children Lee and Vicki stayed here with their grandparents, the Albert Knabes, while their mother was hospitalized. The older children Danny and Billy are in school and stayed with their daddy at home.

Homsley Accepts Two Year Contract

H. H. Homlesley, superintendent of the Muenster public school for the past two years, can look forward to at least two more years in that position.

He has accepted a two year contract offered by the school board at a meeting Monday night.

The board's action was intended as an expression of appreciation for his efficient administration as well as confidence in his ability to continue improving the school's standards and prestige. Members also said they would like to continue the present relationship indefinitely but are opposed to long contracts on principle.

Newly Appointed HD Agent Will Get Degree at NTSC

Miss Yvonne Allen comes to Cooke county on Feb. 6 as assistant county home demonstration agent, it was announced Wednesday. She will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Gene Watts, the former Miss Maurine Kavanaugh, last November.

Miss Allen will graduate Sunday from North Texas State College in Denton where she will receive her bachelor of science degree with a major in vocational home economics and a minor in recreation. The Cooke County Commissioners Court approved her appointment Tuesday.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Allen of Argle, Miss Allen compiled an outstanding record in 4-H club work before entering North Texas State College. She was a state winner in home grounds beautification, won the Santa Fe award and an expense paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, was a delegate to the National 4-H camp in Washington, D.C., and was a Gold Star 4-H girl in Denton county.

Notify Homlesley if Child Was Missed

The time has come to notify Superintendent H. H. Homlesley if a family has not been contacted in the current official scholastic census or the unofficial pre-school count.

As far as Homlesley knows he has either sent blanks or spoken to all families having children up to 18 years of age, but he is not altogether certain, especially concerning children of families who do not appear on present records of the two schools. If any child has been overlooked its parents are urged to call Homlesley immediately, so he will have time to list the children before the January 31 deadline.

There are also several families who have not completed and returned the blanks sent to them earlier in the month. All who have not done so are asked to send in the forms immediately so the census can be finished without inconvenience or delay. There is no danger of children in that group being overlooked, since the school has a record of every family receiving a blank.

Waist Measure to Determine Charge At Polio Fund Hop

It will pay to be skinny next Wednesday night at the polio benefit dance to be given in the parish hall under joint sponsorship of students in the two local high schools. Admission charge at the affair will be a penny for every inch of a person's waist measure.

That's what the guy with the tape measure will ask for in case anyone asks "how much?", but confidentially he'll be hoping that you hand over some folding money and say "keep the change." The sponsors are depending on donations as well as charges in this event.

What's more, the dance will be a 100 per cent polio benefit. Nothing will be taken out for music or hall rental.

The idea was concocted by Father Christopher and Band Director Jimmy Harris, the parish to furnish the floor and the high school dance band to furnish the rhythm. Students have the privilege of being sponsors, meaning principally the responsibility of preparations and clean-up.

It is emphasized that the dance is intended for adults as well as school kids. Students want oldsters too. The bigger the bulges the better.

WITH THE MEN IN SERVICE

First Promotion

It's Private First Class Richard Hellinger now. He received the new rating at Fort Hood where he is stationed since taking basic at Camp Carson, Colo., and advanced training at Camp Chaffee, Ark. According to a letter to his mother, Mrs. Ben Fleitman, this week, he is up for overseas duty but at the time did not know when he would get the new assignment.

Calls From Korea

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel last Thursday enjoyed a telephone visit with their son Henry, on duty with the army in Korea. There was the usual exchange of family news and pleasantries and Henry's mention that he had recently attended a retreat for soldiers in Seoul.

Visits in Austria

PFC Alvin Fleitman has written his parents, the John Fleitmans, about his holiday leave that took him to Austria where he attended a retreat for soldiers and went sight-seeing. Of special interest were the salt mines. Alvin is on duty in Germany.

Being Transferred

Wilmer and Delbert Walterscheid, cousins, who have been training for the Air Force at Biloxi, Miss., are being transferred to Abilene, according to recent word to their parents, the Alfons and Harold Walterscheids.

Mary Weinzapfel and Janie Hesse of OLV Academy, Fort Worth, will be at home for a weekend visit between semesters.

Sheriff Whisnand Seeks Re-election

O. E. Whisnand authorized the Enterprise this week to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of Cooke County sheriff. He is seeking his first 4-year term after having been elected twice to 2-year terms.

Whisnand's formal statement to county voters will appear in the Enterprise later in the campaign.

Church Collection Raises $209.68 for Local Polio Fund

A total of $209.68 collected at Sacred Heart Church last Sunday brings this community's 1956 polio fund to $253.65.

Sunday's collection was taken up at the church doors after all services by members of the VFW Auxiliary. A similar collection scheduled for services at the Baptist church was postponed until next Sunday.

Though the collection at church was probably the biggest event in the current drive it was only one of the several which are expected to bring the local fund to more than $500.

The latest development in the drive is a benefit dance to be given next week Wednesday in the parish hall under joint sponsorship of students from the two high schools. Admission charge for it will be a penny for every inch of a person's waist measure, plus whatever more the person wishes to donate.

Also on schedule is the collection next Sunday at the Baptist church and the Red Gordon variety show on Feb. 5.

Still another source of revenue is the money in polio coin banks in several business houses.

SH Athletes Will Be Honored Feb. 8 At Annual Banquet

Arrangements are in the making and tickets are on sale for the Sacred Heart Tigers' 1956 football banquet. As in previous years, members of the Tigers' basketball team and the Tigerette basketballers will share honors of the occasion. It's the school's annual athletic banquet.

Date of the event is February 8 and the place is the parish dining room. A dance will conclude the evening.

Rev. Christopher Paladino, coach at Sacred Heart, said Tuesday that plans are shaping up nicely and that most arrangements are complete. Still missing is definite information regarding the featured speaker and the master of ceremonies.

In the meantime 14 Tiger football lettermen are awaiting awards. The number of players receiving basketball letters is not yet available. Both teams have several more games on schedule. But all awards for both boys and girls will be on hand for presentation at the banquet.

Awards for senior lettermen will be blankets, for first year lettermen, jackets, and for second year lettermen not seniors, sweaters. This arrangement of awards, inaugurated last year, prevents duplication of awards for boys who letter three years.

Tigerette awards will be jackets and sweaters and emblems.

Mrs. George Mollenkopf is in charge of ticket sales. Tickets are available at $1.25 each at the Farmers Store, the Variety Store, at school and direct from Mrs. Mollenkopf. Persons wanting to be sure of a reservation are reminded to get their tickets early. There is a limited supply and after they are sold none will be available.

Football lettermen are Charles Felderhoff, Tommy Herr, Rodney Walter, Ervin and Virgil Henschel, Basil Reiter, Melvin Schoech, Claude Walter, Kenny Otto, Tommy Hesse, Howard Mollenkopf, Leo Hess, Jerre Friske and Frank Fleitman.

Professionals Want Ronnie

Ronnie Herr, the former Sacred Heart Tiger now attending Texas Tech was one of 360 players from all over the nation receiving bids last week to take their athletic talents into professional football. He was invited to join the Chicago Cardinals. Herr still has another year of eligibility with Tech's Red Raiders.

2.3 Inch Moisture Improves Outlook For '56 Grain Crop

With a total of 2.30 inches of moisture from snow, sleet and rain, crop prospects of the community improved wonderfully during the past week. Grain that had been just hanging on during the previous three months of drought is already beginning to perk up.

The moisture is timely also for fields that did not pull through the dry spell. After only a few more days of sunshine farmers will be able to start re-seeding on ground that does not have a satisfactory stand.

In general the community is optimistic over present conditions. Both wheat and oats have a chance to come through with good yields if favored with the right kind of weather from now on. However, the crop's usual extra dividend of winter grazing has been lost.

The moisture's payoff is expected also in legume fields and pastures. According to members of the Soil Conservation Service, it is just right to assure a good start for vetch, clover and alfalfa. Grasses too are set for their spring growth.

The weather was ideal in several respects. Sleet and snow spread a protecting blanket over the fields before the season's most severe cold wave moved in. And rain that followed a rise in temperature fell as a slow drizzle on the slowly melting snow. All of the 2.30 inches soaked into the ground.

The three day vacation that it brought to school children, however, left the local schedule two days short of its minimum requirement for the year. Whether those days will be added in May or made up on Saturdays has not been decided.

MHS Cagers Split Twin Games With Valley View High

Basketball teams of Muenster High split a double header with Valley View Tuesday night in the local gym, the girls winning 35-30 and the boys losing 45-44.

In the opening tussle Coach Saye's charges made a slow start, trailing by 11-2 after the first few minutes of play and by 13-11 at the first quarter. The next period was tight ending with the visitors still leading 22-21. A revival in the second half netted local girls a 29-23 third quarter lead and the 35-30 win. Homsley led Muenster scoring with 19 and Klement and Pick hit 8 each.

Muenster boys made a similar slow start and a later recovery but failed to hold their lead in the closing minutes. After trailing the visitors 20-13 at half time they edged ahead in the third and fell behind again near the end. From there on Valley View held out for its 45-44 decision. Harris led the local scorers with 16. Richey looped 12 and Kaderli 8.

The teams will complete the first half of their loop schedule Thursday night at Sanger. It is a make-up game postponed because of last Friday's bad weather. Friday night the teams enter the second half of their schedule at Alvord and Tuesday they will meet Callisburg in the MHS gym.

PERFORMANCE made it the Largest Selling "8" in the World...

the FORD V-8

Just look at these official registration figures for the first 11 months—January through November, 1955

Here's why!

People just naturally go for 8 cylinders in the FORD package!

And to a world record extent! Just think, in the first 11 months of 1955 alone, 344,496 more people bought Ford V-8's than the two other low-priced competitive eights combined!

Of course, the reason the Ford V-8 is the largest selling eight-cylinder car in the world is that more people like its brand of performance—the kind that comes with the car!

These people aren't amateurs in judging engines. Nearly 24 years of building Ford V-8's to supply their demand is convincing proof of that.

And the Ford V-8 of today is the best yet . . . by a country mile!

Smoother and quieter—you can scarcely hear it, even with the hood up!

Sessier—just ask the highway patrol officer who drives one. He knows it takes a Ford to catch a Ford!

And, for the very practical question of durability—ask a Ford cab driver. He knows how Fords take it days on end.

During the program she will discuss some aspects of the bill recently passed by the Texas Legislature in regard to an amendment to Teacher Retirement. This amendment is to be presented to voters of Texas for their consideration in November this year.

Miss Reeves is presently a teacher in Gainesville. Since her return from Germany she has given a number of lectures in and around Cooke county on her European travels. It is from this rich background of experiences she is to bring an evening of information and educational entertainment.

An open invitation from the Myra school personnel is extended to everyone who wishes to attend.

The Shell Game

One of the cleverest tricks devised for flim-flamming the public was the "shell game" which used to be a feature at every county fair and carnival. The glib tongue and nimble fingers of the operator, as he manipulated the shells concealing the elusive pea, generally had the victim so bamboozled that he never even knew he was being taken.

Nowadays, of course, we're not so naive. We've smartened up . . . or at least we like to think so.

Well, maybe. But there's a lot that smacks of the old shell game in the kingsized superhighway program that Congress is kicking around these days. Since you and I and the rest of the taxpayers are slated to pick up the tab, let's cut through the pitchmen's ballyhoo and take a good look at this proposition.

Here we have a program for spending some $25 billion or more on about one percent of the nation's road mileage . . . the so-called "interstate highway system." Its backers claim these will be the most wonderful expressways you've ever seen . . . engineered right down to your dollar. And the beauty of it is, they add, they won't be toll roads . . . they'll be free roads and you'll pay for them with "moderate," "across-the-board" tax increases.

There's only one little hitch. If you're an average driver, chances are you're not going to get to use these particular roads very often because they're slated to carry only about 14 percent of all traffic. Getting down to cases, that's only about one mile out of every seven you drive . . . maybe quite a bit less for the typical small-town or rural motorist.

Of course, the "moderate" tax increases . . . like the proposed 50 percent boost in your federal gas tax . . . those you'll pay on ALL your driving. Say you're a farmer, trucking his produce to market . . . or a feed dealer, delivering a bag of laying mash. You'll be subsidizing at every turn of your wheels the commercial and through traffic roaring down these super speedways that you may never see.

If these interstate highways were built as toll roads . . . and paid for as a special luxury system for those who want to use them . . . this through traffic would have to kick in with a toll charge averaging better than 2-cents a mile. But by switching the shells around, they're planning on having you and your neighbors pay for their roads every time you fill up the gas tank in the family jalopy. Simple, isn't it?

Maybe we'd better go back to the old shell game — it's cheaper when you lose.

Who Is Waking Whom?

The people of the United States have been advised by the UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., and his associates in our UN delegation, that we must "wake up" if we are to preserve freedom against Communism and check the Red March through Asia, India and the Near East.

This advice, prepared initially for the Secretary of State last month in a formal statement, and passed on to us by Mr. Dulles after conferring with the President, urges "more emphasis on economic and educational endeavors."

Mr. Dulles read the statement to his new conference the other day, and admitted under questioning that it was brought up now to bolster the President's long-range foreign aid program as proposed in his State of the Union message.

The UN message noted that the Reds were "jumping military as well as political barriers" through "economic and social collaboration" and warned: "We are in a contest in the field of economic development of underdeveloped countries," and that: "Defeat in this contest could be as disastrous as defeat in an armaments race."

We do not know how the Congress will respond to this invitation to "wake up". But we think "the country as a whole," which Paul Revere Lodge is seeking to rouse, may not appreciate advice from the UN chief who sat on his hands while the Reds and their stooges put over the "package deal," and who failed to support our ally Nationalist China in her single-handed (and successful) fight to exclude Outer Mongolia.

And we can not but think that the courage to stand by our friends and face up to our obligations (including Americans in Red Chinese prisons) may be more impressive—even in the Orient—than playing Lord Bountiful where we think friendship may be for sale.

What's Funny About the Comics?

By Lois Higgins, Director of the Illinois Crime Prevention Bureau

TODAY we rejoice that the dreaded disease of polio seems not much longer for this world. But while we glory in its demise, we find ourselves faced with more insidious cripplers that contaminate the minds of our children,—appealing to their susceptible immaturity, stimulating their curiosity, glamorizing the unbridled satisfaction of animal urges, misguiding their moments of fantasy to nebulous climates where crime, horror and orgy prevail.

have never put out the objectionable variety and are not interested in doing so. The cartoonists, whose happy characters give us many a hearty laugh, liven the serious content of our daily and Sunday newspapers.

BUT THE DANGEROUS "comics", the real cripplers, are the ones which offer short courses in murder, robbery, rape, cannibalism, sadism and virtually every other form of crime, degeneracy, and horror.

Sometimes these "comics" carefully map out the minutest details of a crime. They glamorize criminality to the end that crime does pay if one is sufficiently ruthless and clever; killing is viewed as a proper means of developing self-confidence.

THE EFFECT of all this on a child is obvious. Often he is tempted to imitate what he reads; he certainly becomes more inclined to antisocial behavior.

Prevention is the united responsibility of all our citizens. Comic book publishers should be made to keep the high standards we have a right to expect. Parents' and citizens' groups have already exercised a splendid influence in this regard.

EVEN YOUNGSTERS themselves have shown a serious-minded willingness to tackle the problem. We oldsters can give these boys and girls, for what it's worth, the benefit of our experiences and skills. All these added to their God-given strength, intelligence, fortitude, and dedication will keep our country sound.

† Paulist Feature Service, Washington 27, D. C.

Higgins

The answer, of course, is prevention—24 hour prevention with the tactical procedures under constant study and change to quell the new gimmicks as they appear. Would that Dr. Salk could find some similar serum to protect America's boys and girls against the poison-mongers whose parasitic merchandise means emotional chaos, anti-social behavior, dishonor, and ultimate loss of the priceless privileges of citizenship.

ONE OF THE WORST of these cripplers is the "crime comic." Wearing cinemascope versions of the formats of the "funnies", the only part of the newspaper most of us were interested in as kids, these germ-laden trash sheets actually present crime, horror, and violence to the youngster seeking a dime's worth of relaxation and fun.

Of course, crime and horror books represent but a fraction of the comic book industry. Some comic book publishers

TIRED OF DIGGING HOLES FOR FENCE POSTS?

● Here's an easy way to get out of that work . . . to stop spending all that money. For fence repairs, make replacements with Koppers Pressure-Creosoted Posts — the posts that last for 30 years! Soon, you'll have a 100% pressure-creosoted post fence. Naturally, for new fencing, it pays to set only Koppers Posts, and forget about making replacements.

Koppers Posts, pressure-treated with creosote, are protected against termites and decay. They keep original size and strength at ground line; therefore, smaller treated posts can replace larger untreated posts. There are many other advantages. See us for fence posts.

Car License Tags For '56 Arrive; Go On Sale February 1

Cooke county's tax office has received its allotment of new 1956 car license plates which go on sale Feb. 1 and must be on all motor vehicles by April 1, according to Tax Assessor-Collector Rafe Piper.

The new tags reverse last year's color scheme with the letters and numerals in gold on a background of black and two major changes in design give the license plates a new and different look.

The tag is one and a half inches longer than previously and the two designating letters are lined up with and the same size as the numerals. The change makes the plate easier to read. In the past the two letters used to designate counties were half the size of the numbers and were placed one over the other.

Cooke county passenger car licenses will be recognized by the letters DZ and EA. The shipment in the tax collector's office begins with DZ-9100 and runs through DZ-9999. After these 899 tags are used the next group will read EA-10 through EA-8099.

In addition to the 8900 passenger car license plates the tax office has on hand the following number of tags for other vehicles: 1640 for trucks, 1590 for farm trucks, 175 for truck-tractors, 600 for trailers, 150 for house trailers, 100 for motorcycles, 125 for dealers and five for city busses.

During 1955 a total of 8790 passenger car tags were sold. These 1955 tags will continue to be sold for new car registrations until Feb. 1.

Safety Inspections Are Lagging Again

Long lines of automobiles will be waiting outside the doors of Texas' 4,000 licensed inspection stations unless motorists start getting their cars checked now, the Texas Highway Patrol warns. The present estimate is that more than two thirds of the state's motor vehicles remain to be inspected in the next two and a half months.

All must be inspected and display the inspection sticker on windshields by April 15. Penalty for failure to have a car inspected before the deadline is a $200 fine.

It's got to be done, so why not do it now and avoid the rush?

Who..and how many.. are interested in keeping Cooke County's most modern theatre in Muenster?

I did not spare money in building the Relax Theatre as a permanent asset to the Muenster community. It is one of the finest buildings in town. It serves as a convenient and comfortable place for the entertainment of people, both young and old, who are unwilling or unable to drive to theatres in other towns. Many would not get to see shows if the theatre were not operating in Muenster.

The theatre was a profitable business for the previous owner during each month of 1955. Properly managed it will continue to earn a profit.

I have repossessed the theatre, however, I do not intend to continue running it. Operating a theatre is not my line of business. Closing date will be announced later . . . unless it is sold in the near future.

I am willing to sacrifice the building and the business at a loss of many thousands of dollars.

I will sell the building for $20,000 . . . a loss to me of $10,000.

I will sell the contents for $7,500 . . . a loss to me of $7,500.

DATE BAIT—University of Illinois senior Bill Robson hands down his date after a coveted ride in this gleaming, vintage model-T Ford, circa 1911. Robson spent a summer putting the car in good-as-new condition. Some 14 coats of hand-rubbed lacquer went into body finish and uncounted "horsepower" into the task of polishing brass radiator and headlamps into a burnished semblance of showroom condition. The convertible, top of which is secured with leather straps, is a sight-seeing "must" when touring the university campus at Urbana-Champaign, Ill. Robson, a ceramic engineering major from Chicago, has restored 12 ancient gas buggies in the last two years.

Popularity of Wigs on Increase

Time was when actors were about the only customers the wig-makers had, and even from the cheap seats you could tell which thespian had the toupee. But things are different now. It seems as if nobody wears a wig any more.

It SEEMS that way because you can't tell who's wearing a hairpiece and who isn't — even a barber can't tell until he starts investigating. These later models don't skid, people swim in them, sleep in them, and they're hurricane proof. As a style note, we might mention that the latest in hairpieces is the crew-cut!

Our authority is Louis Feder, who has been concerned about human thatch since he was fourteen. His Fifth Avenue firm in New York has covered more than eighty thousand shining pates against the elements and the jibes of the heartless. In fact, Mr. Feder uses the French word for cover, TASHAY, as the name of his custom-made creations. All men, he thinks, are Samsons. When they lose their hair, they are shorn of confidence — until they do something about it. As for the women, they certainly must do something about it since a quarter of a million of them are bald!

Altogether, more than a million Americans are confidently facing — and fooling — their public with a hairpiece. But still an estimated four out of every five adult men are going about with more or less naked skulls and suffering, this authority believes, from psychological wounds. In another ten years, he says, the problem will be completely solved. There won't be a bald man in America.

At that time, no doubt, only actors — who have removed their hairpieces to play character parts — will display shining domes.

Soil Conservation Notes

Construction work has begun on three flood prevention reservoirs south of Muenster. The three structures are on tributaries of Elm Creek and are located on the Ben Voth and the Voth Brothers farms.

These three reservoirs represent another step forward in the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district's upstream flood prevention program. The upstream program is based on a series of small reservoirs beginning on head waters of streams to stop flood waters before they become raging, destructive torrents.

The reservoirs will catch flood waters and release them slowly so that channels below can handle the run-off without overflowing.

The three reservoirs under construction are being built by the Bayou Construction Company of Houston. Each reservoir has approximately 500 acres drainage area above it. The three have a total of 222,500 cubic yards of dirt to be moved and will cost $101,222.18 to complete. Each structure will create a small lake of some eight or nine acres which can be used as the landowner desires.

Seven such flood prevention reservoirs have already been built on Elm Creek. They control a total of 15,060 acres of run-off and have already been credited with stopping a minor overflow of Elm Creek last spring.

In the Muenster-Saint Jo area the district program calls for five more such reservoirs on Elm Creek, five on Brushy Elm and five on Upper Dry Elm creek. When the program is completed the danger of floods on the highly productive bottom-land fields along these creeks as well as towns, roads and houses below the sites will be protected from damaging flood waters.

Why He Still Hobbled

Jack Benny, everybody's favorite Waukegan fiddler, tells of the time he met a friend hobbling down the street on crutches.

"Maurice!" exclaimed Jack. "That auto accident was a long time ago. You've been out of the hospital for six months. Isn't it time you got off those crutches?" Maurice shrugged. "Well, Jack," he said, "my doctor says yes, but my lawyer says no."

As a simple, unpretentious admirer of fine art, Elbert Hubbard dervied much pleasure from visiting the great art galleries. One day he was admiring a certain painting in a New York gallery when a friend chidingly remarked, "Elbert, why do you allow yourself to become so enthused over something you cannot hope to own?"

"Harry," replied the sage of East Aurora, "I would rather be able to appreciate things I cannot have than to have things I am not able to appreciate."

These are built-in qualities that mean more driving pleasure and safety for you. Chevrolet also offers such safety features as seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, and instrument panel padding at extra cost.

You've a choice of 19 frisky new Chevrolets all with Fisher Body and with horsepower ranging up to a new high of 205. Drop in, when you have a chance, and drive the new record breaker!

Big Market Seen In Electrical Aids For Nation's Farms

COLLEGE STATION — An estimated $24 billion will be spent by farmers of the nation for electrical appliances and equipment during the period from 1956-1975. This amounts to an average of $5,300 per farm.

The estimates are from a rural market study just completed by the Rural Electrification Administration and contains estimates for the total number of U. S. farms whether served by REA borrowers or other utilities.

Purchases during the next five years are expected to amount to about $5.3 billion and for the following 10 years to around $11.3 billion. The study is based on previous estimates that the power requirements of REA financed systems will nearly double by 1956 and triple by 1975. It also assumes there will be no drastic changes in income, prices and technology and that the number of farms based on Census definitions will decline by 15 percent during the next 20 years.

Expenditures for 27 items are estimated in the study. Lights and house wiring will be the best sellers. Refrigerators are second; television receivers third; washing machines fourth and in order are plumbing and related facilities, home freezers and electric ranges.

In the farm equipment group, milk coolers and water pumps are expected to be the top sellers. Milking machines, drill presses, fractional horsepower motors, livestock watering equipment, power saws, feed grinders, chicken brooders, tool grinders and dairy water heaters follow in order.

Texas farmers, during the 1956-60 period, are expected to spend about $179 million for electrical appliances and equipment and for the 1961-65 period about $204 millions. California is expected to be the top market for appliances and equipment and sales for the next five years are estimated at $297 millions.

This expansion is more evidence of how farmers are using electricity to cut production costs and make their efforts more efficient and life more enjoyable.

Early Vaccination For Polio Urged by Health Department

AUSTIN — State Health Commissioner Henry A. Holle today appealed to Texas parents to have their children vaccinated now as protection against polio this spring and summer.

"The polio season starts early in Texas," the Commissioner warned.

"This year, for the first time in history, we have a vaccine against the disease on hand before the Texas season opens in earnest in mid-April."

Dr. Holle said the vaccine's effectiveness to date has been "gratifying."

"Official records show paralytic polio during 1955 struck six times more frequently among unvaccinated children than among those who received prescribed amounts of the vaccine at the proper intervals."

Three shots are said to give a high level of protection against polio: the second shot given one month after the first shot, and the third shot following seven months later.

According to that schedule, all Texas children who received second shots summer or fall are now ready to have their third shot.

The success of the vaccine was announced April 12, 1955, after exhaustive nationwide studies. But by then countless numbers of children had already been exposed in a rising seasonal incidence. Result: 1955 was pretty much an ordinary year for polio for the nation as a whole, despite the fact that Texas' 1955 season was below the 5-year median.

Too, vaccine was in short supply during those early days, and production difficulties unsettled public confidence in the product.

Both these problems have since been overcome, Dr. Holle pointed out. Supplies are increasing daily, and, concerning production safeguards, "health and medical men agree that the vaccine is as safe as human hands can make it."

A Boy

Boys come in assorted sizes, weights and colors. They are found everywhere — on top of, underneath, inside of, climbing on, swinging from, running around or jumping to. Mothers love them, little girls hate them, older sisters and brothers tolerate them, adults ignore them and Heaven protects them. A boy is Truth with dirt on its face, Wisdom with bubble gum in its hair, and the Hope of the future with a frog in its pocket.

A boy has the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the energy of a pocket-size atomic bomb, the curiosity of a cat, the lungs of a dictator, the imagination of a Paul Bunyan, the shyness of a violet, the audacity of a steel trap, the enthusiasm of a firecracker, and when he makes something he has five thumbs on each hand.

He likes ice cream, knives, saws, Christmas, comic books, the boy across the street, woods, water (in its natural habitat), large animals, Dad, trains, Saturday morning, and fire engines. He is not much for Sunday School, company, schools, books without pictures, music lessons, neckties, girls, overcoats, adults, or bedtime.

Nobody else is so early to rise or so late to supper. Nobody else can cram into one pocket a rusty knife, a half eaten apple, three feet of string, an empty peanut sack, two gumdrops, six cents, a sling shot, a chunk of unknown substance, and a genuine supersonic code ring with a secret compartment.

A boy is a magical creature—you can lock him out of your workshop, but you can't lock him out of your heart.

Feet tend to swell to almost half a shoe-size larger during the day, so buy new ones in the p.m. for best fit.

A man went out one day to seek his enemies, and he found no friends. A man went out one day to seek his friends, and he found no enemies.

Homemaking Hints
by Mrs. H. H. Homsley

Regardless of procedure to be followed in cake mixing, it is always wise to cream shortening and sugar, because this helps give the cake more volume and a better texture.

To get a "frosted" effect on glasses for serving cool drinks, dip the rims first in unbeaten egg white and then in granulated sugar. Let the "frost" dry before filling the glasses with liquid.

Add a tablespoon of vinegar to one cup of evaporated milk, and presto! You'll have sour cream that works in your sour cream recipes as well as the pure cream itself.

Spices should be stored in tight containers, or the flavor will be lost. Jot down on the label the date when you buy them. Some antiques are nice, but never in spices and herbs.

Occasional steaming and brushing helps retain the beauty of velveteen and corduroy whether dry cleaned or washed.

As we preview the fabrics picture for Spring 1956, we note the following trends:

The return of silk as a high fashion fabric. Diagonal weaves, hopsacking, home-spuns, linen-like weaves, raw silks, and tussahs are making their appearances now.

Whether it be dress, suit, or coat fabrics, the news is the linen-like look.

Figured fabrics are in the fashion picture again. Old-fashioned foulards, oriental inspired prints, big and little plaids.

The color wheel for spring is a lopsided affair, for it is heavily weighted on one side. Blonde, vanilla, bieges, bisque, copper, honey, apricot — the blue family — only the rose and pink in the red family. Black and white is always a smart combination.

A thin coat of nail polish (clear) along the line of a bound button hole or pocket on the facing side of the garment makes the cutting and finishing of the button hole facing easier. To keep this line narrow cut a slit in a piece of paper and lay paper over the facing line to be cut. Apply polish over opening. You find that fabrics that fray easily can still have pockets and button hole rips in the garment if this trick is used.

Clear nail polish applied on seam edges of loosely woven fabrics prevents fraying.

ONLY A LITTLE NEEDED SO IT MUST BE Tops!

Baby chicks have a very small capacity for feed but when growing normally they attain 20 times their hatching weight in eight weeks. This means that the feed you give them must be high in nutrient levels... and every particle of feed must contain the right quota of the various ingredients. Only by using the most modern weighing, blending and mixing machinery can this be assured. For example, when 10 grams of antibiotics is provided in a ton of feed each 100 pounds of finished feed must contain ½ gram. This is equivalent to ½ teaspoon of antibiotics. Very small amounts of vitamins and minerals are also needed... but these amounts also must be present for fast, healthy growth.

When you feed your chicks RED CHAIN Chick Starter you provide them with the very best feed we know how to make. SEE YOUR RED CHAIN DEALER TODAY.

86th Birthday of Mrs. Anna Wiese is Celebrated Tuesday

Tuesday was a happy day for Mrs. Anna Wiese, one of Lindsay's oldest and best loved citizens, who observed her 86th birthday with a gathering of family and friends for the occasion. Her three daughters, Mmes. Jake Bezner, Val Dieter and William Schmitz, arranged the celebration and served a delicious buffet supper after an afternoon of visiting, music and picture taking.

Adding to the joy of the observance was the presence of the honoree's two sons, William and Leo, of Detroit, and two other sons, Vincent and his wife from Fort Worth and Frank and his wife from Gainesville. And the attendance of a grandson and great-granddaughter from Lawton, Okla., Capt. Leo Joseph Wiese and his daughter Mary Elizabeth. Capt. Wiese, son of Leo Wiese of Detroit, is stationed at Fort Sill.

Also present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Becker of Cincinnati, O., who are vacationing in Texas and came from Sherman where the bad weather last week held them up. They are enroute to Old Mexico. Other guests were from Lindsay, Gainesville and Muenster. Only one son of the honoree was missing, Paul of Flint, Mich.

Mrs. Wiese has lived at Lindsay 61 years. A native of Germany, she came to America when she was 17 years old and lived in Iowa before moving to Lindsay in 1895. She has resided there continuously since. Still active in the parish Mother's Society, Mrs. Wiese this year rounds out a half century as a member.

Parochial Teams Win All in Three Basketball Games

With a conference win over Catholic High of Texarkana here Friday night and a double win at Windthorst Tuesday night, the Sacred Heart High teams made a clean sweep of their past week's basketball schedule.

In their game with the Texarkana Eagles Father Christopher's Tigers led in every quarter gradually extending their margin to 11 points. Scores by periods were 11-9, 29-19, 37-25 and 49-38. Fleitman paced the team with 19 points and Walter was close behind with 15. Herr looped 7.

Again at Windthorst the Tigers took an early lead and extended it gradually through the rest of the contest. Scores at the end of the quarters stood at 13-6, 25-12, 37-21 and 48-34. Walter's 19 topped the Tiger scoring. Herr and Fleitman made 14 and 11.

In their part of the Windthorst double header Sacred Heart girls likewise held the lead throughout but were crowded at times by their hostesses. By periods the tallies were 13-4, 16-14, 20-16 and 38-26. Hess hit 13 for the evening's scoring honor while Derichsweiler and Schilling posted 7 and 6.

Activity for the coming week will consist of three games for the boys and two for the girls. The Tigers face a conference tussle at Buckner Friday. Both teams will go to Thackerville, Okla., Monday. Laneri and OLV will come here for a double header Tuesday.

be considerably smaller. Something else we might keep in mind is that the present Asiatic mess is primarily a result of our country's betraying our former allies, the Chinese, when communism was moving in. Before God and mankind we still have an obligation to help the Chinese restore order and freedom in their own country as well as all of Asia.

Local Store Joins Observance of Ben Franklin Birthday

Slightly late, because of last week's severe weather, the Variety Store has joined affiliated Ben Franklin stores all over the nation in observing the 250th birthday anniversary of Benjamin Franklin. The event here takes the form of a Thrift Week featuring a number of merchandise specials.

The Variety Store participates in this event as a member of the nation wide organization of more than 2,400 Ben Franklin Stores named in honor of the great American patriot. It was Franklin who, in 1754, first urged the colonies to unite because they could accomplish more together than separately.

That same theory is applied by the organization of Ben Franklin stores today. Working together they have a greater bargaining power in the buying market and to offer better values in each of the affiliated stores.

During the observance the Variety Store is giving school children a 48 page biography in comic book style outlining the life, career and achievements of Benjamin Franklin. Children can get them free at the store as long as the supply lasts.
