VOLUME XX

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS,

FEBRUARY 10, 1956

NUMBER 12

The wallop just given to Americans by the Soviets at Cortina, Italy is a severe and disappointing blow to national pride, but it is no worse than had been predicted long ago. People who knew the system of producing athletes and making sports records in the USSR entertained only a feeble hope that our entries would be able to match Russia's.

Equally distressing is the prospect of another clobbering at the summer olympics in Australia. Russians have been breaking records also in warm weather sports and can be depended upon to enter a really formidable team.

The reason behind it all is that the Kremlin decided some years ago as a matter of official policy to demonstrate communism's physical superiority to the world. The urge probably was inspired by Hitler's success in proving at a former olympic that his Nazi supermen were the best athletes in the world. Like Hitler, the red high command made athletic training a state business. It proceeded with system and determination, and it has developed champions.

According to people who have pieced together facts on the Russian method, the sports program can be likened to an enormous training camp. Twelve million young men and women are participating, and their objective is not recreation but physical development for the sole purpose of establishing Soviet sports supremacy.

From the beginning children are under observation. Those who show natural athletic ability are sent to the sports camps to come under the constant supervision and care of professional trainers. As their ability improves they are promoted to groups of higher standing and more skillful trainers. At the same time they receive the rewards of higher pay and greater prestige. In a country where normal living is drab and miserable the living standard of a champion stands out as a powerful incentive.

What's more, the entire program is state supported. The twelve million athletes being groomed to enhance the glories of communism live in security and luxury off the sweat of millions of unfortunates who get nothing but misery and hunger for their labor.

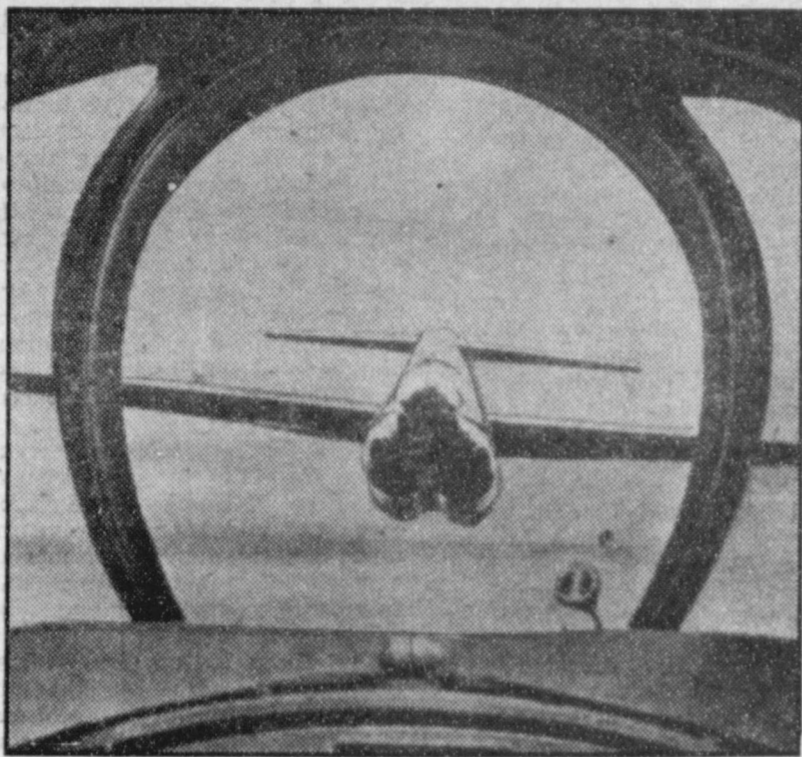

That is the Soviet sports system. It's strictly cold blooded business, not sport, and actually more professional in nature than professional sports in other countries. It is the athlete's career just as definitely as being in the major league over here, but still the olympic entries are amateurs, competing with amateurs of other nations.

In view of their adeptness in the art of using satellites to their advantage in other ways, the Soviets are suspected also of acquiring valuable cooperation with athletes of other iron curtain countries. For instance, a champion Pole or Czech might be induced to come in second best and permit a Russian comrade to score high for the glory of the USSR. If the truth were known it is probable that quite a number of points in the Russian winter olympics score could be explained in that way. One thing is certain. If the opportunity was there at any time the Reds used it.

Of course, it is well known that red propaganda will exploit the olympics record to the limit. Domestically it will be used to prove the inferiority of decadent democracy and the superiority of the communist way. Abroad it will be used to build up Russian prestige. Moscow will see that the world hears plenty about its perfect specimens of humanity.

Perhaps this experience will prove to be a much needed jolt to American apathy. For years we have dominated the olympics simply because of our free and wholesome interest in amateur sports. It's time that sports leaders of this country worked out a coordinated system to support and train a crack olympic team. Our nation cannot have its proper representation as long as olympics promoters have to go begging.

Sister Aloysia is directing members of the altar boys' society in a play to be given after Easter. "Brother Orchid" is the name of the presentation and Kenny Fette has the title role.

TIME RUNS OUT—F-89 jet has taken only four seconds on a collision course to materialize from a mile away into this pilot's-eye view of imminent death. Picture, released with a Budget-Bureau report, is intended to emphasize need for a recommended master plan for air traffic control over the nation's air lanes. According to the report, 90,000 military and civilian planes now operate over the United States. Passenger airliners alone have an average of four near collisions a day and all other planes face similar danger, according to the report.

Pre-School Count Nears Completion; Will Be Near 300

Indications at this time are that the current pre-school census of the Muenster district will show about 300 names.

Superintendent Homsley revealed Wednesday that his list, now about 75 per cent complete, includes 232 names.

This unofficial census, originally intended to be taken along with the official school count, was permitted to lag the latter part of January so that more time could be devoted to the school census. Work on it will be resumed as soon as the other census is completed.

Parents who have not reported their pre-school youngsters are asked to phone Homsley as soon as possible. He makes that request especially of families who have no scholastic age children, hence do not appear on the school's record.

Up to now the pre-school listing by age groups is as follows. In each case the age recorded is the child's age as of September 1, 1956. The 1 year or under group 55; 2-year group, 40; 3-year group, 49; 4-year group, 58; 5-year group, 30.

Muenster High and Saint Jo Split in Pair of BB Games

With one pair of games knocked out by bad weather, Muenster High's basketball activity of the past week was limited to a split with Saint Jo Tuesday night in a double header in the Panther gym. Hosea's boys won a 50-48 thriller and Saint Jo girls lost 37-27.

Games with Era, scheduled for last Friday in the local gym have been postponed to Thursday night, Feb. 16.

At Saint Jo Tuesday night Muenster's boys had a real fourth quarter tussle in holding their lead through a high pressure Panther rally. With 3 minutes to go the Hornets had an 11 point margin. Two minutes later that lead was trimmed to 1 point. Harris added 2 on charity throws and Swirczynski had the pleasure of practically icing the game away with his only 2-pointer of the night. Three more points by the Panthers were not enough, and the final tally was 50-48. Harris led Muenster scoring with 20. Richey hit 12 and Kaderli and Hallmark added 8

District Gains 31 In School Census; 1956 Count is 670

The scholastic population of the Muenster school district is 670, an increase of 31 over that of last year, Superintendent H.H. Homsley announced this week after completing his preliminary tabulation of the 1956 school census.

This figure is unofficial, he explained, because it is subject to a final check of state school officials. Last year's local count was 643, however the official figure was reduced to 639 when the Texas Education agency removed ineligible and duplications.

Even the official figure will not be the one which applies for the coming school year. It will be revised in accordance with transfers to and from the district. Transfers of 18 in and 2 out of the district this year added 16 to the official census, accounting for the figure of 655, on which the school's current per capita allotment is based.

A breakdown of this year's school census shows a loss of 46 from the previous list and a gain of 77 additional names. Nine of the losses moved out of the district since the last count and 37 have passed the scholastic age limit. Of the gains 19 moved into the district and 58 have reached scholastic age.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Miss Agnes Esker was moved Monday from Gainesville Sanitarium to St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas for treatment. She is in Room 351. Mrs. Herman Fette and Mrs. Paul Fisher took her to Dallas by car.

Ed Pels was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Saturday following five days of examination, treatment and observation.

Paul Hoedebeck, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hoedebeck, sustained a severe cut on the little finger of his left hand Monday when he fell with an empty quart milk bottle. The bottle broke and inflicted a gash that almost circled the finger where it joins the hand. He was treated at Muenster Clinic. Several stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Mrs. D. C. Jones is recovering from painful body burns received on Jan. 30 when her dress caught fire from an open-type gas heater at the Saint Jo Methodist church. The accident happened while Mrs. Jones and a group of women were decorating the annex for a Sunday School class party. She received treatment at the Muenster Clinic where burns on her hips and back were described as second and third degree.

Mrs. Alfred Hoedebeck is a patient at Saint Paul's Hospital, Dallas, where she underwent surgery this week. She was reported recovering normally.

Rain Measures .42

This community's gradually improving moisture situation got another lift Tuesday afternoon and night as a slow drizzle added .42 inch to the snow, sleet and rain that had settled last week.

The month's moisture measure now stands at 1.07. Combined with January's 2.39 it brings the year's total to 3.46, which is a fair start toward overcoming the effect of exceptionally dry weather in October, November and December. The moisture has been 100 per cent effective, all falling or melting slowly so that every drop could soak into the soil.

Church Service and Social Sunday will Observe Scout Week

A church service and a social event will observe National Boy Scout Week here next Sunday, according to Scoutmaster Nick Miller and members of the Scout Mothers organization who have made arrangements for the observance.

Parents will join their sons at attendance at the 7 p.m. mass and they will receive corporate Communion.

After mass a pot luck supper and program will be held in the parish lunch room.

There are 19 members in the troop.

At a recent meeting Scout Mothers elected officers for the new year. Mrs. Paul Endres is president, Mrs. Roy Endres Jr. is vice president and Mrs. L. J. Yosten is secretary-treasurer.

The recently appointed scout committee consists of Jerome Pagel, chairman, and Randy Bayer, Fred Hennigan, Paul Endres, Walter Becker and Herbie Herr. Bayer is also assistant scoutmaster.

SH Teams Divide With Thackerville In Cage Program

Playing Thackerville, Okla., here Monday night Father Christopher's Sacred Heart girls continued their long string of victories by coasting to a 32-29 win after holding a fairly comfortable margin through three quarters. Scores for those periods were 9-4, 17-10 and 28-19, and reserves, given a chance toward the end, held out for the final 3 point lead. Hess and Derichsweiler shared scoring honors with 15 each.

The Tiger contest with Thackerville boys was a spotty affair with Sacred Heart dominating the first and fourth periods and the visitors going strong in the second and third. The Tiger total of only 6 points during the two quarter accounts mostly for their 51-41 loss. The record by periods shows what happened. Sacred Heart forged ahead for a nice 14-5 lead at the first break. Before intermission the visitors recovered for a 21-20 lead and in the next period they spread their margin to 43-21. The Tigers trimmed that margin by 12 points in the last round. Fleitman and Walter were the only SH boys who got the range of the basket, making 18 each.

Next on the Tiger schedule is a contest here Friday night with Greenhill of Dallas. Another game on that program will be an exhibition affair between Sacred Heart exes and Gainesville College. Monday the exes will be back at the gym for a game with the Tigers. Another probable game will be the SH girls team and the exes, with graduates of this year quitting their team for the night and joining the exes. Father Christopher wants a preview of next year's team.

FFA Chapter Will Build Show Arena, Then Show Projects

Members of the Muenster FFA chapter have two sizeable projects under consideration for the near future. The first is building a livestock arena with adjacent pens and second is using the arena on March 30 for the first local FFA project show. Both jobs are under the direction of the chapter adviser, Glenn Hellman.

The arena and pens will be built of steel airfield landing mats which were purchased by the school last year from army surplus. It will be located at the north boundary of school property just east of the bus shed. One anticipated use for it, besides a show arena, is a place to keep chapter project animals. By adding shelter and feeding and watering facilities, the class would be able to keep a few animals at school.

The show will be an exhibition of projects cared for by individuals at their own home, followed by judging and cash prize awards. A fund of $240 has been provided by the County United Fund for prizes at the show. It was taken out of that portion of the United Fund which was set aside for helping 4-H, FFA and FHA Club work. Livestock and poultry cared for in the FFA projects is valued at more than $3,000.

SH Parish Hosts Sherman Deanery Meeting of NCCM

Asserting that it is wonderful to live in an age when the Church is making gigantic strides of progress, Father Edward Harrison of Greenville, moderator of the Sherman Deanery Council of Catholic Men, called on some 80 men representing parishes of North Texas to join in the noble and holy cause of bringing mankind closer to Almighty God.

His remarks were made in the general session of the Council of Catholic Men held Sunday afternoon in Sacred Heart High School at Muenster.

Father Harrison described the NCCM as a lay apostolate, with a mission of assisting the clergy in spreading the goodness and truth taught by Jesus Christ.

Another speaker at the general session was Frank Heller of Fort Worth, president of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Men. He pointed out that the NCCM is a federation of Catholic men's organizations and urged those present not to take their Catholic heritage for granted but rather to make it better known and more appreciated by word and deed.

Albert Fleitman Is New School Trustee

Albert Fleitman became a new member of the Muenster school board at the group's regular meeting Wednesday night. He was appointed to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Herman Richey, which became effective at the previous meeting.

Actually Fleitman will have the position for only two or three meetings before his term expires. Two members, Richey and Dr. T. S. Myrick complete their three-year terms this year.

Elementary Teams Divide Games with Montague Kiddies

Weldon Holland's elementary boys of Muenster public school went on a scoring spree Monday night to swamp the team from Montague. In spite of the regulation short 6-minute quarters the youngsters piled up a neat score of 51-23. James Harris was the hot shot with 22.

Elementary girls did not fare as well. They bowed by the lopsided count of 22-10 to their visitors from Montague. Virginia Kirk accounted for 8 of Muenster's 10 points.

Up to now the elementary kids have a 50-50 season record. The boys won 5 and lost 2 while the girls won 2 and lost 5.

The boys' scores in the season to date are as follows. Muenster 31, Nocona 36 Muenster 31, Saint Jo 21 Muenster 28, Valley View 27 Muenster 23, Montague 21 Muenster 30, Valley View 26 Muenster 23, Saint Jo 26 Muenster 51, Montague 23

Scores in girls games were: Muenster 13, Nocona 29 Muenster 15, Saint Jo 30 Muenster 8, Valley View 7 Muenster 15, Montague 13 Muenster 11, Valley View 12 Muenster 11, Saint Jo 30 Muenster 10, Montague 22

Activity next week will complete the season for both of the elementary teams. Next Thursday they will go to Nocona and Friday they will enter an invitation tournament for seventh and eighth grade kids at Montague. Each team is scheduled to meet Sunset in the preliminary bracket.

Mrs. James was escorted into the hall with the colors and was introduced by Mrs. Richard Grewing, president, who conducted the business session in her presence.

The Civic and Social Action conference stressed participation in civic and community projects with a view to promoting physical as well as spiritual welfare.

The meeting on Family Life considered ways and means of increasing Christian fervor in the home. Suggested were family prayers, family retreats, family Communion, use of religious pictures and articles in the home, and family cooperation in parish activities.

A Public Relations conference urged Catholics to strive by example as well as by word to be creditable representatives of their church, thereby promoting a spirit of understanding and friendship with members of other creeds.

The discussion on Communications dealt with assisting in God's work through the press, radio and TV. It urged sponsoring Christian programs and encouraging those who sponsor them as well as objecting to programs that violate Christian standards, and also submitting church news for publicity.

Another special session, for leaders of the parish groups, outlined details of organization and cooperation with the NCCM.

Rita Cain is Bride Of Wendell Richey In Saturday Nuptial

The First Baptist church here was the setting for the Saturday night wedding of Miss Rita Cain and Wendell Richey.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cain and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Richey, all of Muenster.

Vows were pledged before banked greenery and baskets of white gladioli and three inverted V arrangements of white tapers burning in cathedral candelabra.

Rev. Andy Stowe of Wichita Falls, former pastor of the church, officiated at the candle light service performing the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends of the couple.

Candle lighters and ushers were Donny Whitt and Ronnie Hallmark.

Wedding music was presented by Rex Wagoner of Gainesville, pianist, and Mrs. Charles Lamb, also of Gainesville, soloist. She sang "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" after the service.

Mr. Cain gave his daughter in marriage. Her dress of white nylon lace over taffeta was ballerina length with a wide billowy skirt of rows and rows of ruffles over hoops and crinolines. The fitted sleeveless bodice was covered with a high-necked, long-sleeved, tight-fitting jacket that buttoned down the back.

She wore a waist length veil attached to a pearl and rhinestone tiara and carried a white orchid showered with streamers on top of a white satin lace trimmed Bible, a gift from her parents.

Adding sentiment to her wedding she borrowed a pair of pearl ear rings from Mrs. Ray Evans whose son, Marine Corporal Murlin Joe Evans, brought them from Korea; and carried a linen handkerchief from Mrs. Tony Trubenbach as something old, and wore a penny in her shoe. Her double strand of pearls was a gift from the groom.

Attendants

Miss LaQueta Cain of Denton and Miss Wanda Richey, sisters of the couple, were maid of honor and bridesmaid, and another sister, tiny Deborah Ann Cain was flower girl.

Deborah Ann wore a floor length blue net frock over taffeta with a full tiered skirt. Her bonnet and mitts were of matching net and she carried a blue net basket filled with blue flower petals.

Miss Cain and Miss Richey wore identical ballerina length dresses of light blue crystalline chiffon with self material boleros over strapless bodices. The full skirts were accented with an all around cuff treatment below the long torsos. A self bow emphasized a V at the back of the skirts. Their headdresses were of shaded blue velvet leaves. They wore matching blue satin slippers and net mitts and carried bouquets of yellow roses. Their blue rhinestone bracelets were gifts from the bride.

The groom's attendants were Hubert Richey and Dickie Cain, brothers of the couple, and another brother, Chris Michael Cain, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Cain attended her daughter's wedding in a navy blue suit with navy and white accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Richey, mother of the groom, wore a rose-beige suit with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Reception

After the service, the bride's parents entertained with a reception in the High School dining room for 250 guests.

The refreshment table was covered with white net over taffeta and held a center arrangement of white gladioli and blue asters in a crystal bowl. White tapers burned in crystal holders.

At one end of the table Misses Judy Cain and Deanna Richey, sisters of the newlyweds, presided at the crystal punch service and at the other end Miss Kathryn Cain, a cousin from Fort Worth, and Miss Margaret Myrick of Galveston, a classmate, served the tiered wedding cake. Misses Sandra Cain and Linda Richey, also sisters of the couple, registered the guests.

The gift table, decorated in white and blue, was centered under a bare-branched white tree adorned with blue butterflies.

Wedding Trip

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Richey left on a wedding trip in a shower of rice. When they return they will make their home in Gainesville at 202 Pecan Street. He is employed by an oil well drilling company. Both were graduated from Muenster High school last May. For traveling Mrs. Richey wore a navy faille suit with navy and white accessories.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs.

S. W. Cain and daughter Kathryn and Bill Long of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Soutter of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rhone and family of Bowie, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Taylor and daughter Ginger of Gainesville, Bill McCollum of Denton, Billy Whitt of Decatur, Rev. and Mrs. Andy Stowe and son Tommy of Wichita Falls, Misses Joyce Wiesman and Doris Thomas of Fort Worth.

Rehearsal Dinner

A rehearsal dinner Friday night was held in the Cain home for the wedding party and parents of the couple. Mrs. Joe Lehnertz did the catering. Blue and white was stressed in decorations in the dining room and in the flower centerpiece on the table.

The American Way

Formula For Survival
 By George Peck

Some years ago in this column, just prior to America's entry into World War II, I refuted the charge made by many individuals that the world writhed in the agony of war because religion had failed mankind. Rather, I entered a countercharge that mankind had failed religion.

The world (the U.S.A. included) had been following after gods that were not gods; it had been exalting intellect and science to a divine position, with a false confidence that a scientifically and technically efficient world would automatically be a good and moral world. The gods of totalitarianism were the answer to the world's vaingloriousness.

At that time those false gods threatened to destroy man who had so unwisely created them. Those false gods still threaten civilization and only a revival of sound ethical religion can bring about an enduring world peace. Man-made governments and the man-made United Nations, by themselves cannot accomplish that ideal condition for which the non-communist world so eagerly clamors.

In seeking a definition as to what constitutes sound ethical religion that would be acceptable to Jews, Protestants and Catholics alike, I wrote:

"Sound ethical religion is any code of principles and rules of conduct based on man's recognition of God as the Supreme Being, the Author of Life and Creator of all things — of God to whom man is accountable for the constructive or destructive use he makes of his life — of God with whom he finally hopes to be united in Eternity as a reward for making the proper use of his life — of God from whom he may be forever separated as punishment for failure to properly exploit his opportunities." Subsequent to the appearance of that definition in newspapers across the nation, letters were received from people of all religious faiths located in all parts of America and not a single correspondent disagreed with it. It appeared that at long last something had been written in this column so uncontroversial that no one could quarrel with it.

Since the end of World War II there has been a great revival of religion in this nation. This is reflected by greatly increased church and synagogue membership and attendance. But we have gone only part way on the journey. If the day ever comes when an overwhelming majority here in America, is guided by such a religion as defined above, we can expect this majority to elect law makers who will enact good laws and see to it that they are enforced. As an honest God-fearing and God-loving people—a people of courage and internal good-will, this nation externally would act with good will toward other nations. We would set such a shining example that other nations would be influenced thereby — something that the billions of dollars we have strewn around the world has failed to accomplish.

During the past quarter century, the youth of America developed in an irreverent and irreligious atmosphere. Our children were not taught the glories of the Golden Rule. We could not expect them to develop a love of God, when so many parents neglected their own religious duties.

Religion had not failed America — America had failed religion — it had turned away from God. It is encouraging to know that our churches, synagogues and other places of holy worship are now playing a larger role in the American scheme of things. But we must get more and more people back into those places of worship, more youngsters into the Sunday Schools, a return to daily prayers and worship in more American homes.

Thank God! America's churches of all creeds are still open, where Americans are at liberty to worship when they please and how they please. Let's make greater use of them. Surely, if we have learned one lesson from the rapidly moving and tragic events of the past few years it is that dictators (whether they be communist or fascist) cannot work their black magic in a nation, or a world, whose citizenry is God-loving and God-respecting. Our very survival depends upon a return to sound ethical religion on the part of the vast majority of American men, women and children.

With its 780,000 workers the printing industry ranks ninth among the nation's top 20 manufacturing industries, in total number of employees.

Abraham Lincoln—A Man with a Bible

HIS LONG, thin legs kept the rocking chair from moving very much. His hands held tightly to the book in front of him; his face was that of a thinking man: Abraham Lincoln was reading his Bible.

Suddenly a man appeared and Lincoln looked up. It was his old friend Joshua Speedy, and the President began to greet him. But Speedy spoke first, glancing quickly at the Bible.

"I AM GLAD to see you are profitably engaged," the visitor said sarcastically. Lincoln's face darkened for a moment, but he answered simply, "Yes, I am profitably engaged." Speedy spoke again, "Well, if you have recovered from your scepticism, I am sorry to say I have not."

Lincoln looked at him thoughtfully and then said, "You are wrong, Speedy. Take on reason alone all of this book that you can and take the rest on faith, and you will live and die a happier and better man."

SOME PEOPLE have always misunderstood the religious side of Abraham Lincoln. Joshua Speedy was but one of the many who were surprised to learn that Abraham Lincoln was deeply religious. In fact, some have even gone as far as to deny the religious element in Lincoln's character.

In 1846 Lincoln first ran for political office in Illinois. His opponents charged, as some do even today, that he was an open scoffer at religion. Lincoln answered with a signed statement: "I have never denied the truth of the Scriptures . . . I do not think I could myself be brought to support a man for office whom I knew to be an open enemy of religion."

THE CALM STRENGTH of Abraham Lincoln's character has always been impressive. He is always pictured as the pillar of strength, our calm and confident leader.

The source of Abraham Lincoln's characteristic calm was his humility before God. This man who went to his room and prayed during the fearsome battle of Gettysburg knew his limitations.

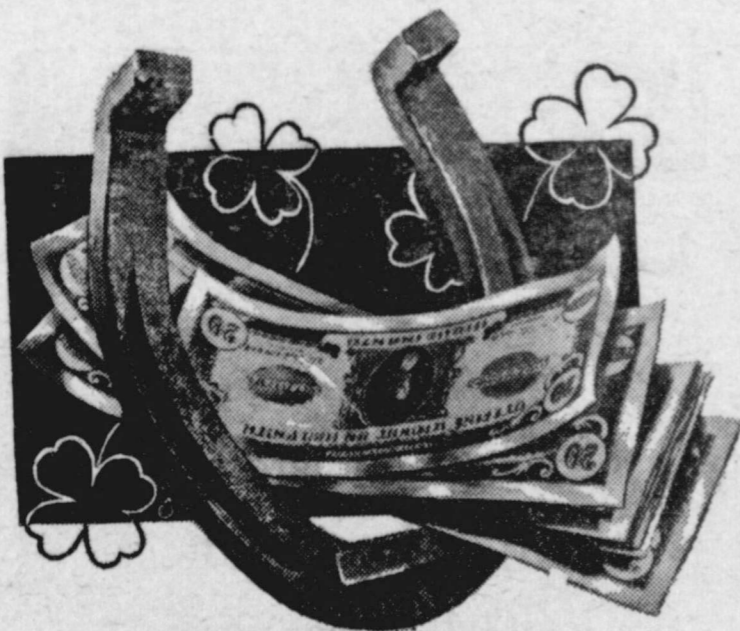

SHORTLY BEFORE the outbreak of the Civil War Lincoln told a friend, "I see the storm coming. If God has a place for me—and I think He has—I believe I am ready. I am nothing. But truth is everything. I know I am right, for Christ teaches that injustice and slavery are wrong, and Christ is God."

Abraham Lincoln was a great man whose greatness lay especially in his deep faith. It was his trust in God that lay beneath his courageous deeds that recall him to mind each year as one of the greatest of Americans.

Homemaking Hints

by Mrs. H. H. Homsley

The first responsibility of parents and teachers who sincerely want to help a child grow to his fullest capacity is to try to understand all children's needs and patterns of growth, and particularly those of their own. Children are not small adults. They do not think, feel, or react as grown-up people do.

In our civilization, mental health is becoming one of our biggest problems. One of the greatest challenges we face is that of helping young people attain a degree of emotional and social maturity which will enable them to adequately meet the demands of life.

During adolescence, the personality pattern is reorganized on a more mature level. Because this process entails manifold adjustments, the teen years are characterized by inner conflicts, heightened sensitivities, rapid shifts in mood, and gnawing self-doubts. If boys and girls are to come through this period with healthy personalities, we must help them find socially acceptable and personally satisfying ways of solving their problems.

Spring clean-up and painting is just around the corner — so to paint drawer knobs without smearing your fingers, push screw end of knob through a square of cardboard. Hold the knob by the screw as you paint.

Ladies, the color you wear best can be merely a matter of make-up. For instance you can wear moss green if you have a skin tone of peach and ivory. If you don't — use a powder to give your skin that tone and use a rich, coral lipstick. We can't all afford make-up to suit our clothes so let's stick to lipstick that blends with our clothes, and colors that blend with our own skin coloring.

Soil Conservation Notes

King Ranch Bluestem seed is in short supply. Cooperators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district who plan to make plantings of this grass are urged to get their seed as soon as possible. This is the advice of the local Soil Conservation Service personnel.

K R Bluestem grass is steadily gaining in popularity among farmers and ranchers in the Muenster-Saint Jo area. Landowners have found that it is quick to establish, makes good growth the first year, is deep rooted and drought resistant and is well liked by cattle.

KR was first introduced in this area five years ago when several trial plantings were made on various soil types. The grass soon proved its worth. It grows on all well-drained soils except deep sands.

King Ranch Bluestem is a yellow bluestem and forms soil protecting tufts the first year. One of its big advantages over native grasses is its speed of establishment of stands and its habit of producing two seed crops each year. In this area one seed crop is made in June or July and another in the late fall.

Many local landowners are planning to make plantings of KR this spring.

Some are planning to protect waterways to this erosion-resisting grass. Others plan to start nursery plots of the grass so that they can produce their own seed. Some plan to reseed old field areas and depleted pasture lands to this grass to improve the cover and give more and better grazing.

There are many acres in the Muenster-Saint Jo area already planted to the grass. Seed and seed hay were harvested from some plots last year, but most of this will be used to increase acreage already planted on these farms.

Start Tax Records For Use Next Year

There is no time like the present, while last year's tax problems are fresh on your mind, to start a procedure that will aid you with next year's income tax calculations. That is to maintain a record of your income and outgo. Such a record can be simple and brief but it may save you tax dollars.

The average man who works for a wage or salary doesn't have to concern himself about keeping books and records—at least so he thinks. His employer keeps a reliable record of his earnings and Uncle Sam looks primarily to the employer for information on his earnings and for the withholding of various taxes out of his wages.

But whether or not you run a business of your own, you have a partner who each year is claiming a substantial interest in your personal income. And the law requires that you keep books for him in case he ever asks for an accounting.

Perhaps you own your home or are paying it out in installments. It's likely that some day you may sell that house. When you do you'll want to be able to prove whether you realized a gain or a loss on that sale. If a gain in capital resulted, it probably will add to your income tax. If a loss was suffered, it probably will reduce your income tax.

You may have made certain capital improvements on the house while you lived in it, but unless you can show what out-of-pocket expense you incurred while making them, you may not get credit for them in your cost basis so as to prove that you had no capital gain or that you had a loss.

Or perhaps you received that little summer cottage on the lake as a gift from your father. If you ever sell it, you should be able to show Uncle Sam not only the cost of improvements you made on it while you owned it, but also what its fair market value was at the time Dad gave it to you.

It may be that you are receiving an annuity on an insurance policy. If so, do you know how much that policy costs you and how much of that cost you have recovered tax-free to date?

There are many kinds of transactions you enter into that may some day affect the computation of your personal income tax. The best proof of the cost of anything you've purchased is a receipted bill or cancelled check. If one of these pieces of evidence relates to any transaction that may affect your income in later years, it's a good idea to keep it. Your "partner" may some day ask to see it.

Pampering Breeds Weakness

The Sherman County Journal, of Moro, Oregon, stated a very big principle in a very small space when it said: "A government that protects the weak will always have lots of that kind of people; a government that lets the strong develop will have that kind."

It is a law of nature that pampering breeds weakness. The pen-raised bird, loosed in the wilds, has small chance of survival, as many state game agencies have learned from extensive experience. The parallel extends to the human individual. And the result is about the same whether the excessive pampering comes from a doting family or a paternalistic government.

OFFICIAL BOY SCOUT WEEK POSTER

More than 4,100,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders throughout the nation will observe Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12, marking the 46th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

Since 1910, Scouting has served over 24,500,000 boys and adult leaders.

The new Four-Year Program, "Onward for God and My Country," launched in 1956 to help prepare America's boys to live in today's world and to prepare them to carry their full share in the years ahead.

Boy Scout Week observances will feature rededication ceremonies to be conducted by each of the nation's 104,000 units at their meeting places on February 8, the actual birthday of Scouting in America. Demonstrations and exhibits will dramatize the purposes of the Boy Scouts of America and its rich heritage.

Avoid Dishonest Plant Peddlers

This is about that time of year when a plant enthusiast's thumb turns a bright shade of green, making the season ripe for the annual crop of unscrupulous nursery stock salesmen.

In previous years, many Texas housewives have been "victimized" by door-to-door nursery stock peddlers with misrepresented merchandise and high-pressure sales tactics. While there are many reliable door-to-door salesmen in the nursery business, it is advisable to buy from such sources with caution, and if a contract purchase is recommended, read it well before signing.

The "shyster" plant salesman usually paints a rosy picture of beautiful landscapes with no money down, or a payment on delivery plan. The person who signs such an order may find himself bound to a non-cancellable contract loaded with fine print. And the plants which arrive in the mail may be a far cry from those shown in the salesman's glossy color print examples.

One good thing to remember in planning your spring planting is to buy plants which are native to, or grow best in, your native soil. Locally-grown nursery stock is most likely to prove successful.

Also, there's no such thing as bargain basement prices on good-quality nursery stock. Prices may be high this year on some of our better decorative plants due to cold weather cutbacks. But by careful budgeting and wise selection, good hardy ornamentals can be found.

Most firms pushing doubtful nursery stock operate just barely within the law. Misrepresentation is hard to prove, so a few precautionary measures may prevent being "taken in" by unscrupulous promoters.

1. Check all door-to-door salesmen's standing with the Better Business Bureau nearest you before making a purchase.
2. Compare the salesman's prices with a local nursery man on stock of similar age and size.
3. By all means, do not sign anything without careful examination.
4. Report any case of fraud or misrepresentation to the Better Bureau and the Texas Department of Agriculture immediately.

Growth Continues In School Lunch And Milk Programs

COLLEGE STATON — Both School Lunch and School Milk Programs continued to expand during the first half of the current school year. The number of children eating complete lunches under the National School Lunch Program is up 10 percent over last year, and the number of schools approved for the Special School Milk Program is up 48 percent.

Texas now has 2,061 schools approved for the program. The National School Lunch Program provides children with well-balanced lunches furnishing one-third of their daily nutritional requirements. There were 9,400,000 children eating lunches with milk under this program in October. This is a gain of 10 percent over the 8,500,000 children in October of last year. Over 2,000,000 more were participating in the milk-only feature of the National School Lunch Program last year, making a total participation of nearly 11,000,000. This year, however, this feature has been consolidated under the revised Special School Milk Program.

The Special School Milk program, now in its second year of operation, is designed to increase the consumption of milk by school children, both in schools having feeding facilities and in other schools where space limitations or other factors prevent the establishment of food preparation and service facilities. At mid-December, 62,000 schools had been approved for the program. Latest reports on actual consumption are for October. Fifty-four thousand schools were operating in the program. In that month, approximately 162 million half pints of milk were consumed under the program.

The United States Department of Agriculture estimates that 16 million school children were drinking milk in October under the program, and consuming milk at a rate of 17.8 million half pints a day.

Renner Scientist Heads Program on Use of Fertilizers

Using fertilizers to best advantage was the subject for a special meeting Wednesday night in the Muenster High auditorium featuring Dr. Thomas Longnecker of the Texas Research Foundation of Renner as the principal speaker.

Dr. Longnecker supplemented his address with projected pictures of results obtained by different varieties of fertilizer on several types of soil at the Renner experiment station, pointing out what fertilizer and soil combinations had produced the most profitable yields of different crops.

Also on the program was Malcolm Wilson of Southern Fertilizer and Chemical Co. of Dallas.

Glenn Hellman, chairman, said that plans are shaping for a similar meeting to be held soon at Era, and reminded those present to pass the word to their neighbors so that they too will have an opportunity to get up-to-date scientific data on the use of fertilizer.

About 45 local farmers attended the meeting.

Soft Shoe Routine

You may soon be shod with the same oil-based nylon used to make horseshoes for racing thoroughbreds. Shoe manufacturers have found that nylon "taps," or inserts, add to the life of shoe heels, and prevent that "run-down" look. The inserts will not scratch floors, and are lighter and less expensive than metal protectors. This is one of the hundreds of petroleum products developed to provide you with better, longer-wearing clothing.

Sweet clover is an all purpose crop in that it will provide hay, grazing, and an income from seed.

Celebration Marks Silver Anniversary Of the John Neus

Mr. and Mrs. John Neu of Lindsay observed their silver wedding anniversary Saturday evening with a reception and dinner in the Lindsay Hall for 100 relatives and friends.

It was on Feb. 4, 1931, when Miss Hilda Bierschenk became the bride of John Neu in St. Peter's church at Lindsay. Their attendants were her brother Fred Bierschenk and his niece Miss Elizabeth Arendt, who later became Mrs. John Hoberer. They were present for the celebration.

After the anniversary dinner, gifts were opened and admired and flash pictures were made.

The honorees' table carried out the bride's colors used at the wedding, pink and white, and was accented with silver for the anniversary theme. A beautiful three-tier cake, made by a niece, Mrs. Andy Arendt, was cut and served to the guests. The cake, frosted in white, was ornamented with pink sugar ribbons and 25 silver sugar roses.

Guests were registered by Misses Ann Neu and Betty Bierschenk, nieces of the couple.

Mrs. Neu and Mrs. Hoberer had white mum corsages.

Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Neu farmed near Myra for six years, then south of Lindsay for six years and for the past 13 years are farming about three miles east of Lindsay. They have no children.
