Landowners Seek Survey for Dams Along Clear Creek

Monday night this nation had the delightful experience of seeing real statesmanship in action. Even people who do not agree with President Eisenhower on the current farm issue must have been impressed by his confident and honest approach to the problem. They must have been inspired too by his courageous stand even after being warned of possibly serious political consequences.

Another attempt to secure a system of detention reservoirs on Clear Creek was put in motion last Thursday when a group of landowners from Upper Clear Creek met with the Upper Elm-Red Board of Supervisors and requested a new sediment study and flood prevention survey on the stream.

The president explained very clearly that he will have no part of a method which he considers basically unsound. He is interested in the farmer's welfare as much as any other person, but he seeks permanent benefits for all people rather than temporary aid which would be followed by a continuation of present farm problems and greater burdens to everybody, including farmers. His objective is to improve agricultural economy by eliminating conditions which caused the distress rather than resorting to the old new deal pump priming policies.

A previous request for reservoirs had been turned down because a survey indicated the proposed reservoirs would be subject to excessive siltation.

When the chips are down political analysts are likely to agree that Ike's "apologia" on the farm bill veto was one of his best campaign speeches of the year. It was loaded not only with common sense and a pledge of immediate corrective measures by the administration but also with a challenge to political enemies to show their sincerity in a law which can and will provide further relief.

Discussion at the meeting revealed that the siltation problem has improved somewhat since the former application. Cover crops and SCS approved land use methods have increased.

By unanimous vote the board of supervisors decided to ask the state conservationist of SCS to begin the requested survey at an early date.

Clear Creek landowners attending the meeting were George Berry, Rosston; L. W. Young, Dyemound; W. A. Griffin, Freemound; H. C. Knox, Forestburg; and W. B. English, Rosston.

Special visitors at the meeting were four Turkish agriculturists who are currently studying farming and conservation methods in Texas.

Building And Improvement Notes

Work is under way on two new houses in town. Community Lumber Co. is building a 3-bedroom brick house with attached garage in Southeast Muenster and R. M. Zipper is building a 3-bedroom house with attached garage north of the public school.

Several more new homes and major repairs are either finished or well advanced. Jack Tuggle has moved into his new 3-bedroom home north of town. Earl Fisher is waiting for painters to take over his den-bath-garage addition. Frank Haverkamp has also reached the painting stage on his new 3-bedroom house with attached garage in Lindsay.

Ralph Esker has just completed the roof for his new house near the Gainesville golf course on Highway 82. It will have 3 bedrooms with attached garage. On either side of it are the recently occupied new homes for Norbert Mages and Harold Nortman.

A two room addition has been finished on the Johnny Streng home south of town. Byron Sears has put on a new roof. Harry Scoggins has finished an attached 2-car garage. Jake Pagel, Ray Wilde, J. B. Wilde and Dr. Myrick have finished interior improvements in their homes.

Four farmers have built new Grade A dairy barns lately. They are Werner Becker, Alfons Koessler, Victor Sicking and Mimes Lewis. Other new farm buildings are 40x60 hay barns for Tony Wimmer and Tony Trubenbach Sr. and a 30x40 machine shed for Gene Klement.

Business additions are under way at Scott's and at Andy Hofbauer's new store. Scott is adding a ceiling and inside walls in the warehouse at the back of his store, to provide additional display space. Hofbauer is building a 20x30 addition principally to keep a compressor and other noisy equipment farther from the main room, and also to provide more storage space.

New curbs completed lately are at Arthur Felderhoff's, Arnold Rohmer's and the swimming pool. The curbing job along the highway is under way. The block fronting Hofbauer's store and Fred Herr's is finished. The block fronting the sale barn is under construction.

Of the four new business houses, two are nearing completion and two are well started. Hofbauer is moving in some of his equipment. The Electric Co-op has a few more weeks to wait. Concrete flooring has been finished at the Charm Shop and it will be finished at the Variety Store in a few days. After that both jobs will likely be delayed a while until the arrival of special steel collars to be fitted on pillars before the concrete roof is poured.

John Michels of Munday stopped here for a visit with his cousins, the Joe Lukes, Thursday.

Burglars Fail on Variety Store Job

Burglars almost broke into the Variety Store Tuesday night, and the owner, Tony Luke, is still wondering whether they were scared away or whether they gave up not knowing how near they were in forcing a rear window which is nailed shut.

Luke noticed Wednesday morning that nails in the window frame were almost pulled out and notified the sheriff's office. Investigating officers found an iron bar nearby and said that it fitted marks left on the window sill. The attempt was probably made by juveniles, they said.

Windthorst Nudges Sacred Heart 3-2 In Sport Festival

Students of Windthorst High School scored a 3-2 victory over Sacred Heart High in a 5-event athletic field day here last Friday, however Sacred Heart had the satisfaction of copping the main event.

Tiger baseballers edged the Trojans 2-0 and Sacred Heart sophomore girls took two straight in a 3-game volley ball match with the visiting sophs.

Windthorst triumphs included a runaway in softball over SH juniors and seniors, a volley ball win over SH freshmen and another volley ball win by freshmen and sophomore reserves over reserves of the two Sacred Heart teams.

A double steal in the second inning brought in the two tallies which eventually determined the margin of Sacred Heart's win in the baseball game. With two out Herr streaked for home and slid in successfully. On the same play but moments later Hartman headed for third. An attempt to cut him off went wild and he came in for the second run.

In the hit department Sacred Heart also led the visitors, however their eight safe blows were scattered and did not pay off in runs. Walter was the strong boy for the Tigers, getting two of the safe blows besides pitching a 1-hit game. Mollenkopf also hit twice.

Windthorst junior and senior girls turned the softball game into a track meet. Father Christopher was not able to give the score on that... said the scorekeeper quit after the count reached 20-0.

Volley ball activity consisted of three matches. Windthorst won the freshman contest in two straight and Sacred Heart won the sophomore contest by the same margin. Then, with time to spare for more action, the freshmen and sophomore reserves of the two schools had a non-scheduled contest. The visitors took that in two straight games.

Mrs. M. D. Kaderli Elected P-TA Prexy

Members of the Parent-Teachers Association of Muenster Public School Tuesday night elected officers who will assume their duties next September. The group unanimously approved the slate of officers as presented by the nominating committee.

New officers are Mrs. M. D. Kaderli, president; Mrs. H. H. Homsley, vice-president and Glenn Hellman, parliamentarian. Returned to office for another year are Mrs. Paul Fisher, secretary and Mrs. Albert Fleitman, treasurer.

Mrs. Ervin Hamric, retiring president, conducted the session during which the mothers made plans for their annual bake sale. They set May 12 as the date.

Two other coming events were discussed. The Band's spring concert will be held on Monday, April 20, and a committee is in charge of ticket sales. The other event will be a dance for all high school students of both local schools and their parents. Students of both senior classes will sponsor the party. There will be no admission charge. It will be held in the parish hall with the Rhythmaires playing. The date is to be announced.

Class Play Sunday

Rehearsals are over and the stage is set for the 1956 presentation of the Sacred Heart High school junior class play, "My Little Oscar," a three-act comedy, will be presented in the MHS auditorium Sunday, April 22, at 8:15 under direction of Sister M. Aloysia. The cast includes seven girls and five boys.

27 New Members Join KCs Sunday in District Initiation

Twenty seven men, including 8 from Muenster, joined the Knights of Columbus Sunday in a Sixth District initiation in the chamber of the Gainesville council. Candidates from other councils of the district included 8 from Gainesville, 6 from Denison and 5 from Pilot Point.

The group was named the Rev. Michael J. Gormley class in honor of the former St. Mary's pastor who was recently succeeded by Rev. E. J. Gerlich. New members of the Muenster council are Dan Luke, Ray Voth, Joe Noggler, Edward Grewing, Dan Owen, Frederick Knabe, James Hess and Joe Grewing.

Following the initiation knights were joined by their ladies for a banquet in the KC hall. Highlighting the event was an inspiring plea for prayer and Christian virtue by Robert E. Parsons of Gilmer, state chairman of the order's Council Activities Committee and former grand knight and district deputy.

We must not permit communists to promote hatred, distrust and moral laxity among us, he warned. At the same time he cautioned that we cannot afford to be complacent just because our nation claims to be Christian, a claim that is based on heritage much more than actual practice.

Parsons said that other nations with a better record of Christian practice than ours are now suffering under the evil influence of the red menace. Poland is a captive country, France and Italy (Continued on Page 2)

Muenster District Fund Gains $1,965 In Per Capita Hike

The Muenster Public School will receive $1,965 more than its original per capita allotment for the current school year as a result of a $3 per capita raise recently announced by the State Board of Education. The local school will receive the additional $3 for each of the 655 scholastics it has listed, Superintendent H. H. Homsley pointed out this week.

The per capita rate now stands at $76, of which $2.45 goes to the county superintendent's office for administrative expense and the remaining $73.55 goes to the school concerned. For its 655 scholastics the Muenster district this year will receive $48,175.25.

A revised estimate of the state's available school fund, as submitted by Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, made the $3 per capita hike possible. The amount of the estimate was $148,968,635 and the state's current scholastic population is 1,853,492.

Court Decision in Gilmer Case Favors REA Co-operatives

A rural electric co-operative in Texas may continue to serve an area that has been annexed by a city.

This decision, vital to the welfare of all rural electric co-ops of the state, was handed down by the Third Court of Civil Appeals in a case involving the Upshur Rural Electric Co-operative which was supported in the suit by 54 other REA co-ops.

Contesting the co-op's position was the Southwestern Gas and Electric Company which challenged the rural co-op's right to continue serving an area after it had been annexed by the city of Gilmer.

The court decided that the co-op not only has a right to continue serving customers who were members before the annexation but can also add new customers along its line, even in the city.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

J. J. Haverkamp entered the VA hospital in McKinney Monday for treatment.

Terry Hoedebeck, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hoedebeck, broke her right arm Thursday night in a fall at home. The fracture is just above the wrist and she'll have her arm in a cast for several weeks.

Mrs. Herman Luttmir entered Gainesville Sanitarium Monday for medical care.

Fire Breaks Out at Rohmer Power Unit

A fire at Alois Rohmer's power house on the Katy right of way west of town put him out of the oil business for about 30 hours Tuesday and Wednesday.

The blaze of undetermined origin was discovered about 10 o'clock Tuesday and the Muenster fire department was on the job a few minutes later. Damage was limited to charred framework in the sheet metal building, burned belts and a ruined carburetor. The unit, pumping three wells beside the railroad and one in the city park, was back in operation late Wednesday.

County Red Cross Reveals Plan for Swimming Course

Details on Red Cross approved swimming courses at Gainesville and possibilities for classes at Muenster were outlined by County Red Cross directors Tuesday in their regular monthly session in the First State Bank's Community Room.

The schedule includes Senior Life Saving and Part 1 of an Instructors' course to be held May 14-18, an Instructors' course on May 21-25, and finally the kiddies free swimming course June 4-15. All those classes will be held at the Gainesville pool.

Whether or not Muenster will have a beginners' swimming class depends on response to the city's request for qualified instructors. Red Cross personnel have agreed to come here and supervise the classes if the city will provide the instructors. The suggested starting date for the course, if it can be promoted, is June 15, after Red Cross supervisors have finished the class at Gainesville.

As matters stand now it seems as though a swimming course here depends directly on the community's representation at life saving and instruction classes at Gainesville in May. More instructor's certificates are needed here before the city can muster an adequate staff for the course.

Red Cross favors a system which consists of several classes, the pupils advancing from one to the next as they learn. Experience has shown that children make more progress in this method. At least six instructors are needed for the course and nine are recommended. In view of the fact that Muenster's pool is new and a fairly large class can be expected, it is believed that nine could be kept busy here. Ideal enrollment for a class is 10 to 15 pupils.

Advanced pupils in the swimming classes can qualify for Red Cross Junior Life Saving badges.

FFA Land Judging Team Places Eighth In ETSTC Contest

Muenster High School Future Farmers of America made a fine showing for their chapter Saturday at East Texas State Teachers College in Commerce, where they entered a land judging contest and finished among the top ten teams. They placed eighth.

It was the chapter's first try in a land judging contest and the second annual such event for Area V Future Farmers. More than 30 teams entered and competition was stiff.

The local team, coached by Glenn Hellman, included Billy Ray Otto, Kenny Klement, Walter Fette and Johnny Swirczynski. They were accompanied on the trip by Jimmy Jack Biffle and Gilbert Knabe.

Harris Runs Third At N. Texas Relays

Competing with some of the best high school mile runners of the state, Jimmy Harris took third place ribbon last Saturday at the North Texas Relays in Denton. Winner of the event was Jimmy Reeves of Weinert, who took first in the state interscholastic league meet at Austin last year, and second best was David Lowman of Sunset High, Dallas. Following Harris in fourth position was Charles Lynch of Greenville, winner of the recent District 8-AA.

Harris was the only representative of Cooke County to place in the North Texas Relay. Other members of the Muenster track team as well as Callisburg and Valley View entries were all left behind by the fast competition representing the top high school teams of North Texas.

Muenster's First Girl Scout Troop, Brownies Organize

In the first Girl Scout movement ever undertaken here, the program got off to a good start during the weekend with 30 little girls enrolled as Brownies and 35 older girls signed up as Girl Scouts.

Organization was done with the help of Miss Katherine Donham of Denton, worker for the Cross Timbers Scout Council, who met with mothers and their daughters and other interested ladies of the community.

Mrs. Al Horn has taken over the duties of leader for the Girl Scouts. Her youngsters are from the 4th, 5th and 6th grades of the parochial school. Sister Roberta, principal at Sacred Heart school, long interested in scouting, helped in organizing the troop. Weekly meetings are scheduled. High school girls will serve as patrol leaders. Volunteering their services are Ann Luke, Loretta Mages, Jeanette Haverkamp and Carolyn Kline.

The Brownies, second and third graders from both local schools, were organized Thursday and divided into three patrols with two mothers and a high school helper with each (Continued on Page 2)

Track Team Primes For Regional Meet

Members of the Muenster High track team under direction of Coach John Hosea are putting in stiff practice sessions this week in preparation for the Region 11-B Interscholastic League meet to be held Saturday at NTSC, Denton. First and second place winners of that meet will be eligible to enter the state meet in Austin.

Events in which the local athletes will compete are the 440, 880 and mile runs, the mile relay, the high jump and the shot put.

Hubert Richey will run the 440, Dan Hamric will run the 880, Jimmy Harris will run the mile, Dee Kaderli will high jump and Lawrence Milner will put the shot. Entered as the relay team are James Wolf, Richey, Kaderli, Hamric and Harris. One of them is an alternate and the four who will actually compete will be determined by the schedule of other events. Hosea's intention is to avoid the strain of successive races, if possible.

This idea applies especially to Harris, on whom the coach has strong hopes for the mile run. He will be out of the relay if it is scheduled shortly before his mile run.

Although his relay team was second in the district meet Hosea has hopes of a good showing in the regional. In practice lately, he said, the boys have improved considerably in both their running time and their baton transfers.

ASC Urges Reports On Cotton Acreage

The Cooke County ASC office and the cotton committee of the Cooke County Farm Bureau reminds county farmers this week that they have only until next Tuesday, April 24, to report their unplanted cotton acreage to the ASC office.

Cooperation in this regard is especially urged as a means of retaining the county's allotment in cotton acreage. ASC explains also that reporting acreage as unplanted will not affect one's acreage for the next year's crop, however failure to report will result in permanent loss of that acreage to both the county and the farmer... and a gradual decline of one of the county's basic cash crops.

Anita Fuhrmann and Cletus Bauer Marry Tuesday at Lindsay

Anita Fuhrmann became the bride of Cletus D. Bauer Tuesday afternoon in nuptial services performed in St. Peter's church at Lindsay at 4 o'clock.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Fuhrmann, route 1, Muenster, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bauer, route 6, Gainesville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with a portrait neckline and tapering petal point sleeves. The voluminous skirt, attached to a fitted elongated bodice, swept into a chapel length train.

The fingertip length veil of French illusion was caught to a hat of triple layers of pleated nylon tulle, scalloped and appliqued with lace sprinkled with sequins.

She carried white rosebuds on top of a white prayerbook, a gift from the groom. For "something old" she wore a single strand of pearls belonging to her mother, and for "something borrowed and blue" she carried a rosary belonging to the groom's mother.

Uncle Officiates

The Rev. Aloys Fuhrmann of Subiaco, Ark., uncle of the bride, officiated at the nuptial high mass and presided for the exchange of vows in the double ring ceremony. Members of St. Cecilia's choir and Mrs. William Schmitz, organist, presented the wedding music. White gladioli, greenery and candles adorned the altar.

Maria and Eileen Fuhrmann attended their sister as maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively, wearing identical dresses of ballet blue taffeta and nylon tulle in waltz length. Their headresses and mitts were in matching color and they carried bouquets of red rosebuds.

Emmett Walterscheid and Eddie Fleitman of Muenster attended the groom and Michael Fuhrmann and Adam Wolf were ushers.

New Reserve Plan Is More Desirable For Young People

AUSTIN, Tex. — "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." These familiar words are particularly applicable to the young Texans of today, says Major General Lewis S. Griffing, Chief of the Texas Military District.

General Griffing, speaking in connection with Military Reserve Week (April 22-28), pointed out that the U.S. Army is implementing a program designed especially for the youths of America. This program permits a young man to fulfill his military obligation while completing his education or working at his civilian job.

Here's the way it works — he joins a Ready Reserve unit or a National Guard unit. He can finish high school (if he doesn't reach the age of 20 first), then go on six months active duty for training. He is then prepared for his Ready Reserve service.

Normally he will have 7½ years left. During this 7½ years if he trains satisfactorily, he will not have to worry about a draft call. In most instances he can train with a unit right in his own home town. The only time he is called away from home is for two weeks each summer to attend training camp. All of this is designed to interrupt, to the very smallest degree, his higher educational pursuits or his civilian occupation.

group of ten. They will hold one meeting a week in the homes of members. The girls will have to learn their pledge, be able to tell the Brownie story, be at meetings and pay their dues. Then they'll be qualified to get their uniforms, be a recognized troop, and elect patrol leaders.

The three patrols include third graders headed by Mmes. Walter Rawley and Bill Hunt, assisted by LuRena Wolf; second graders with Mrs. Leo J. Haverkamp and Mrs. Joe Tempel as leaders assisted by Mary Katherine Walterscheid; and second graders headed by Mrs. Hank Walterscheid assisted by Patsy Horn. Mrs. Walterscheid will name her assistant at the next meeting.

Mothers of the girls and leaders of the troops were in Gainesville Monday at a school of instructions conducted at the Girl Scout building in Leonard Park. The class began at 10 a.m. and ended at 1 o'clock. The noon hour featured a "cook out."

Further details on scouting activity for girls here will be announced after regular meetings are held and organization is completed. More members are welcomed, those in charge said. Along with more members more mothers and adult leaders are needed. Anyone wishing to get acquainted with the program for Brownies may contact Mrs. Rawley and those wishing information on Girl Scouts may see Mrs. Horn.

are struggling to keep the reds from taking over.

He especially urged prayer as a means of preserving freedom and Christianity here and of turning back the evil tide in distressed countries, recalling the promise of the Blessed Mother at Fatima that Russia will be converted and civilization will be saved if the world will put its trust in prayer. Besides, he added, we should not underestimate the power of prayer. Countless miracles have shown that Divine help is limitless and it is frequently granted in answer to prayer.

William Pulte of the Gainesville Council was toastmaster at the banquet. Others who appeared briefly on the program were Fathers Gormley, Gerlich, Felderhoff and Lane and District Deputy Arthur Endres.

Donald Muller and Norma Vogel Marry Saturday Afternoon

Norma Vogel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vogel, and Donald Muller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Muller, were married here Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in services at Sacred Heart church.

Rev. Patrick Hannon officiated at the double ring ceremony and nuptial high mass for which Anthony Luke, organist, and the church choir presented the music.

For her wedding Norma wore an ivory satin dress fashioned with long petal point sleeves and Queen Victoria neckline. The full skirt billowed to semi-formal length from small accordion pleats at the fitted waistline. Her fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a tiara cap embroidered with seed pearls and sequins and she carried a white orchid atop a white prayerbook, a gift from the groom. Her father gave her in marriage.

Lillian Vogel of Fort Worth was her sister's maid of honor and Clyde Muller, on leave from army duty at Fort Lewis, Wash., was best man for his brother. Lillian wore a bouffant ballerina length dress of blue lace and tulle over satin. Her small blue lace hat was sequin studded and she carried yellow roses. Wilbert Vogel and Emmett Walterscheid ushered.

Reception

After mass, a reception and buffet supper honored the newlyweds in the school dining room. About 175 guests were registered by Janie Hellman of Commerce and Lynette Walterscheid. The bride's colors, blue and white, were stressed in decorating both the church and the dining hall. Blue iris and bridal wreath were the flowers used. Concluding wedding festivities was a dance in the VFW Hall.

Live in Fort Worth

destination, she was wearing a navy blue suit with white accessories and the orchid she carried at the ceremony. They will make their home in Fort Worth where both are employed. She's a bookkeeper in a bank and he's a railroad rate clerk.

Both are natives of Muenster and graduates of Muenster High school. He served in the army two years with one year of duty in Germany and held the rank of corporal.

VACCINATION AGAINST "BRAIN WASHING"
 An official U.S. Army study has been made of the experiences and behavior of 4,000 American captured and held prisoners by the Chinese Communists in North Korea. The study reveals a number of vitally important facts related to the future security of our nation. One fact is that the Communists, now at work zealously in every nation of the world, have been far ahead of America in the science of thought-shaping. America may now be catching up — but slowly.

One out of every three Americans held prisoner by the Communists yielded, to a serious degree, to the clever Communist "brain washing" conducted in the prison camps. Major William E. Mayer, Army psychiatrist who made an exhaustive study of 1,000 prisoner-of-war cases, concluded that the two basic deficiencies in the Americans who yielded were (1) the lack of religious convictions; and (2) the lack of understanding of the American political and economic system.

Careful Study Made

Major Mayer personally interviewed 200 American soldiers whom the Reds released after the Korean fighting ceased. He studied all official and unofficial interviews, interrogations, and statements of an additional 800 American ex-prisoners in Korea. One third of all the prisoners freely admitted that as a result of the "brain washing" conducted by Communist lecturers and "educators" in the prison camps they became "progressives" — either sympathizers or collaborators of the Communist.

"Even granting that two-thirds of the men remained staunchly loyal Americans," Major Mayer said in an interview with U.S. News & World Report, "still the fact that so many yielded to the degree that they did presents a problem of fantastic proportions and should cause searching self-examination by all Americans, both in and out of uniform." The armed services now are busily engaged in tackling the problem. In the indoctrination braches service men are learning the fundamental facts about America — its history, its unique political and economic system, and the facts about Communism and its twin, Socialism.

Didn't Understand System

"A returning prisoner often made reference to the fact," related Major Mayer, "that he was given by the Communists a very intensive education about America, a Communist view point of history which evidently emphasized every possible defect in our development and our attitudes and the soldier would confess that his own knowledge of the American system — of our history, our politics, our economics — was insufficient to enable him to refute this Communist version, even in his own mind."

Concerning formal education in American schools, Major Mayer said: "It doesn't matter a bit how much mathematics or wood-working, punch-press operating or hot-rod building we teach in the schools; if we fail to teach the duties and responsibilities of citizenship primarily, then, in my opinion, education is not meeting the first requirement of a democratic society."

We Are Improving

Many American schools in recent years have accepted this responsibility. The Communist and Socialist "brain washers" are at work in America subtly tearing down and undermining the confidence of American youth in the basic principles of our great system. Their propaganda is everywhere. A wide-spread demand among teachers and administrators for suitable American citizenship educational material led to the development by the National Education program of our new integrated film series, "The American Adventure," and effective techniques for using these films in the classrooms of America. The new series is being enthusiastically received.

The Customer Gets It in the Neck (?)

Religious conviction was the other basic character requirement which Major Mayer's studies found to be deficient in too many American soldiers. "A really convinced religious person . . . (whose) religion had been a part of this whole life, if his family were organized along lines of religious training and the moral and ethical precepts of such training — such a man," the Major found, "often was able to defend himself and his principles (against the Red indoctrination)." To be at its greatest strength, he said, religious faith or deep spiritual morality must be inculcated in the individual early in life, in the home and in early school experiences.

There is a service station for every 298 automobiles, trucks, and buses in this country.

The Teacher With All The Answers

By Monsignor Ronald Knox, internationally known scholar and author

OUR TIME has seen a great popular interest in comparative religion. Even popular magazine articles point out the similarity of the world's great religions.

Christianity is not just a system of morals. Our Lord did not come to give us a set of helpful quotations to print in calendars. He came to tell us about Himself.

But comparative religion is an admirable recipe for making people comparatively religious. Such a study often leads one to conclude "that there isn't much of a difference after all."

Did Confucius ever say, "All power is given to me in heaven and on earth?" Did Mohammed ever say, "Whosoever confesseth me before men, the same will I confess before my Father who is in Heaven?" Did Buddha ever say, "No one cometh to the Father but by me?" This was Christ's teaching. Jesus Christ didn't think of Himself as the leader of just another religion. He knew, and preached to men, that He alone was the way to God.

CHRISTIANITY, as taught by Christ, is different, however. It is a fallacy to think you can compare it with other religions as if it were on the same level.

When you compare Christianity with Confucianism, you are comparing two systems of personal morality. Compare Christianity with Mohammedanism and you are comparing two forms of fighting enthusiasm.

Christ offers us a new, supernatural life, complete with all its faculties, in the midst of this troubled world. No one else offers us that; no one else dares claim of us the faith to believe in that.

WHEN YOU compare Christianity with Buddhism, you are comparing two streams of mystical tendency. And unconsciously, you have recognized that Christianity is something greater than any of the others. Each of the others corresponds to one particular need, one particular mood of man; Christianity corresponds to all three.

SOME MEN will point out the great likeness between Christian and Buddhist saints and mystics. But Christianity is something else besides mysticism, whereas Buddhism is precious little else.

REJECT HIM if you will, but do not try to match Him with the world's other teachers. He will not be content to take His place in a series; He is nothing, if He is not unique.

They Travel "In-Class"

Our high school correspondent says that Economics and Geography students are going in for "grass roots" studying. They're going to charter buses and take off on Operation See-For-Yourself—have a ten-day look at some of the things they've been studying about.

As I remember, it was hard to keep your mind on schoolbooks at this time of year. Today's kids can give in to that old urge to bust out of the classroom—with a clear conscience. Wish they'd take me along.

Elimination of wastage of milk spilled or left in the can at the plant is 7 cents per 100 pounds.

BULCHER CLUB MAKES PLANS FOR HOMECOMING

The biggest homecoming Bulcher ever had is being planned now by members of the Progress Club. The date, set at the last meeting of the club, is Sunday before Labor Day. Members conceded that it's still a long way off but have appointed committees and outlined a program for the big event.

Paul Tracy, chairman, explained that many people had expressed a desire for a homecoming to meet old friends and get acquainted with new residents. Sunday before the national holiday was decided upon as a convenient time.

A committee to plan a program and invite former residents consists of Mrs. R. J. Samples, chairman, and Mmes. August Hyman, Callp Cannon, J. M. Shields and C. V. Crabtree. They are enlisting the help of other women of the community.

It was announced that Henry Schmidt of Sanger will be at the next meeting to show his travel films.

After adjournment Mrs. Tracy and Mrs. Shields led the group in several games and the evening concluded with the serving of pie, coffee and cold drinks.

The drilling rig, often as high as a 15-story building, is so skillfully engineered that it can lift and lower equipment weighing as much as five locomotives.

Because petroleum has mechanized American farms, 70 million acres which formerly raised fodder for animals can now be used to grow food crops.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

The daily dusters should serve to remind all people of this area of the value of keeping a cover on the soil. Dust storms are caused by top soil that ran away from home because the landowner failed to provide a protective covering over the soil surface.

Whether the cover is made up of green growing crops or the residues and stubbles of last year's crops matters little. Either live or dead plants offer protection against wind and water erosion to protect precious top soil and keep it down on the ground where it is needed to produce crops.

Ready For Rain?

The top soil from the west should also bring this question to landowners: Is my soil ready for a rain?

Local soil conservation service personnel advise that the soil is not ready for rain until it is in good condition and properly protected from excessive run-off. A soil in good condition is granular in structure, has no water-stopping plow pans and will allow large amounts of moisture to soak into the ground to be stored for future plant use.

A crop of legumes or legumes and grasses grown in regular crop rotation will aid greatly in getting good soil condition, building up organic matter in the soil, breaking up plow pans, and increasing the rain holding capacity of soil. It is the water storage capacity of soil that carries plants through the drought periods.

Many landowners cooperating with the Upper Elm-Red Soil

Conservation district in the Muenster-Saint Jo area are using deep rooted sweet clovers, peas and vetch on part of their cultivated land each year in order to improve and protect the soil. District-owned combination grain and fertilizer drills are being used daily in this area to put out legume seed and phosphate fertilizer in one operation.

Grass Plantings

Grass plantings are also being made to re-seed areas subject to erosion, to protect the soil and to make improved pasture for beef and dairy cattle.

Alois Trubenbach has planted 25 acres of his army camp farm to King Ranch Bluestem and Joe Trubenbach has seeded 15 acres to this grass. It was planted on old field areas that are to be included in pasture after the grass is well established. The seed for both plantings was harvested from a previous planting by Alois last summer.

Bruno Fleitman has just finished seeding an eight-acre plot of KR on his Marysville farm. He plans to make a nursery plot of this planting and harvest the seed in order to spread the grass over additional acres of that farm. He also seeded a waterway area on his home place to KR Bluestem. The waterway will be used as a place to outlet terrace water after the grass is well established.

Ponds Constructed

Several ponds to provide livestock water have been completed recently in the Muenster-Saint Jo area and are ready for the proverbial April showers to fill them up.

These ponds will provide year round water when filled and will aid greatly in proper distribution of livestock over pasture grasses. A good water supply very often means that a better grass management program can be carried out to protect and improve the pasture grasses. Proper distribution of water in relation to the available forage provides livestock with more uniform grazing. Good ponds in each pasture also mean that a rotation grazing program can be carried on, permitting the pastures a period of rest.

Besides serving as a water supply for livestock and a tool for getting better grass management the stock ponds, when properly stocked with fish and fertilized, make excellent places for family recreation.

In the Muenster area Fred Hennigan has completed a pond on his farm near Bulcher. The farm is being divided into smaller pastures for better grass management. Frank Schilling and Bruno Fleitman have deepened and enlarged ponds on their farms near Muenster. These ponds had gone dry during the extended drought.

At Saint Jo work has been completed on a large pond on the R. W. Donnell ranch, and another is finished on the James N. Schenk farm three miles east of the city. Both ponds will provide a reliable supply of water and will make better grazing rotations possible.

Tommy Swirczynski Celebrates Being 9

Tommy Lee Swirczynski celebrated his ninth birthday Wednesday with a party after school. Twenty-two boys were guests and brought gifts for the honoree.

Outdoor games furnished the fun and Jerry Jackson and Roy Reiter won prizes.

Tommy's sister Carolyn helped their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Swirczynski, with refreshments. They barbecued wieners in the outdoor living room at the Swirczynski home and then served cup cakes and ice cream for dessert.

Moving pictures were made of the guests and of party scenes.

"Who Knows What We'll Find!"

Dear Friends

As a part of their work in Humble's Refining Research Laboratory, Humble scientists bombard petroleum hydrocarbons with electrons in a 2-million volt Van de Graaff Accelerator.

But if you ask one of these scientists what he expects to find, he'll answer, who knows!

For this is fundamental research. Results may be quick or they may be a long time developing. Who knows?

... Perhaps the scientists will find a way to increase the yield of useful products from a barrel of crude oil.

... Perhaps they'll be able to make improvements in the fine products already supplied you.

... Perhaps they'll develop an entirely new group of petroleum products.

Who knows!

This much, however, is certain: Humble research scientists at Baytown use every device of physics, chemistry, mathematics and mechanics to provide you with more and better petroleum products.

Two quick examples: The specifications for Esso Extra gasoline, the formula for Humble Uniflo motor oil. These, without question, are the finest products you can use in your car.

Billy R. Otto Gets Dairy Heifer from Sears Foundation

Billy Ray Otto, freshman at Muenster High, has been selected to receive a dairy heifer from the Sears Foundation which annually gives animals to deserving FFA and 4-H club boys. Billy Ray will raise the heifer at home. One requirement he must meet is that he will return to the Foundation the first calf he raises when it is seven months old. This exchange keeps the Foundation's animals available. Seven local FFA boys, all freshmen, were eligible to receive the heifer; Billy Ray won the award for his excellent talk on "Why I'd Like to Have a Heifer." Third year agriculture boys made the selection after hearing all seven addresses. A farmer with an oil-powered tractor can do the plowing work of ten horses, five hand plows, and ten men.

La Vern Fuhrmann, Harold H. Nortman Say Vows Thursday

La Vern Fuhrmann exchanged marriage vows Thursday morning of this week with Harold H. Nortman during a nuptial high mass in St. Peter's church at Lindsay. Rev. Conrad Herda, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony and officiated at the mass at 8:30.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Fuhrmann and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nortman, all of Lindsay.

Mr. Fuhrmann gave his daughter in marriage. Her wedding dress of chalk white rose design Italian lace over nylon net and taffeta was floor length designed with long tapered sleeves and a tiny rose petal collar. The fitted, long-waisted bodice was attached to the bouffant skirt in wide scallops over the net. Her circular finger-tip veil of illusion was caught to a capulet embellished with rose buds. She carried a white prayerbook, a gift from the groom, topped with white gladioli and a shower of ribbon streamers tied in love knots. For something borrowed and blue she carried a rosary belonging to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Damond Fuhrmann.

Attendants

Dorothy Mae Nortman, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and Virginia Metzler, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of taffeta and net in shades of yellow and blue and carried blue and yellow pon-pon mums. The floor length frocks were made with sweetheart necklines, moulded bodices simulating a bolero effect with ruffles and full circular skirts. Their capulets were identical to the bride's and they wore net gauntlets. Pearl chokers and earrings, gifts from the bride, completed their costumes.

Elaine Fuhrmann and Darlene Hess were flower girls for their aunt. Their blue dresses were duplicates of those worn by the other two attendants. They also wore blue capulets adorned with yellow daisies, and net mitts and carried baskets of daisies.

Billy Bierschenk and Gene Block, cousins of the couple, attended the groom and Leroy Metzler and Gene Gieb ushered. White gladioli, bridal wreath and greenery adorned the candle-lighted altar before which the couple repeated their vows. Mrs. William Schmitz played the wedding marches and remained at the organ to accompany the church choir's singing for the mass. Acolytes were Leon Fuhrmann, Billy Schmitz and Pat Hermes.

After the services the couple went to the Blessed Virgin's altar where the bride placed a bouquet of white gladioli while the choir sang "Mother at Your Feet We're Kneeling."

Wedding Day Festivities

Honoring the couple on their wedding day were breakfast in the home of the bride's parents, dinner at noon in the Lindsay hall for members of both families, an evening reception with a buffet supper for 225 guests, and a wedding dance. Mickey Fuhrmann presided at the guest book. The bride's colors were stressed in decorations in the hall and the white linen covered table was centered with a handsome three-tier cake.

Among out of town guests at the wedding was the bride's brother Brother Louis of Subiaco, Ark.

When Mr. and Mrs. Nortman left on their wedding trip she was wearing an avocado green suit with white trim and white accessories and a gladioli corsage. They will reside northeast of Lindsay where they recently built a new home.

Mr. Nortman is employed at National Supply Company. He attended school at Pilot Point and Lindsay. His bride is a native of Lindsay and a 1955 graduate of Lindsay High school.
