

MUENSTER ENTERPRISE

VOLUME XX

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS,

JANUARY 20, 1956

NUMBER 9

Will you be a voter this year? Naturally you intend to be, especially since this is the year for another presidential election . . . and you want to give your support to the candidate of your choice.

Besides that, you intend to vote for your favorites in the county and state offices. Chances are that a few contests on those levels will become as interesting and important to you as the national race.

There's a possibility, too, that we will have a little local excitement. City and school district elections are coming up. This isn't saying that hot races for either are indicated at this time, but rather reminding that we have had some humdingers in the past . . . and history can repeat itself.

All those elections are scheduled. We have a cinch to exercise our most precious right of citizenship at least four times, five times in case of a Democratic run-off. And maybe we'll even get to vote in a special election or two. There's no telling when an important issue will pop up and demand a decision at the ballot box.

All in all, this is what we might call a bargain poll tax year. The dollar and six bits qualifies us to do a lot of voting. So, if you don't happen to be one of those who keep up their voting qualification as a matter of principle, you must admit at least that you can get your money's worth this year.

However, there's much more to this than merely paying for your voting privilege because it happens to be a good deal. Voting is more than a privilege. It is also a sacred duty. Comparing our nation with many others we naturally cherish the right to have a part in electing officials and deciding important issues. But too often we lose sight of the responsibility that accompanies our right. The simple fact that we are free to vote imposes on us the double obligation of voting and voting right. The person who fails to give his support to good men and good ideas shirks his responsibility to his fellow man, his family and himself.

And, it isn't a valid excuse to contend that we don't vote because our state government puts a price on the privilege. People who say that are only taking advantage of an unfortunate circumstance to blame a law for their negligence as well as for their tax delinquency. The unfortunate circumstance is that a good and reasonable law got its name from its penalty rather than from its purpose.

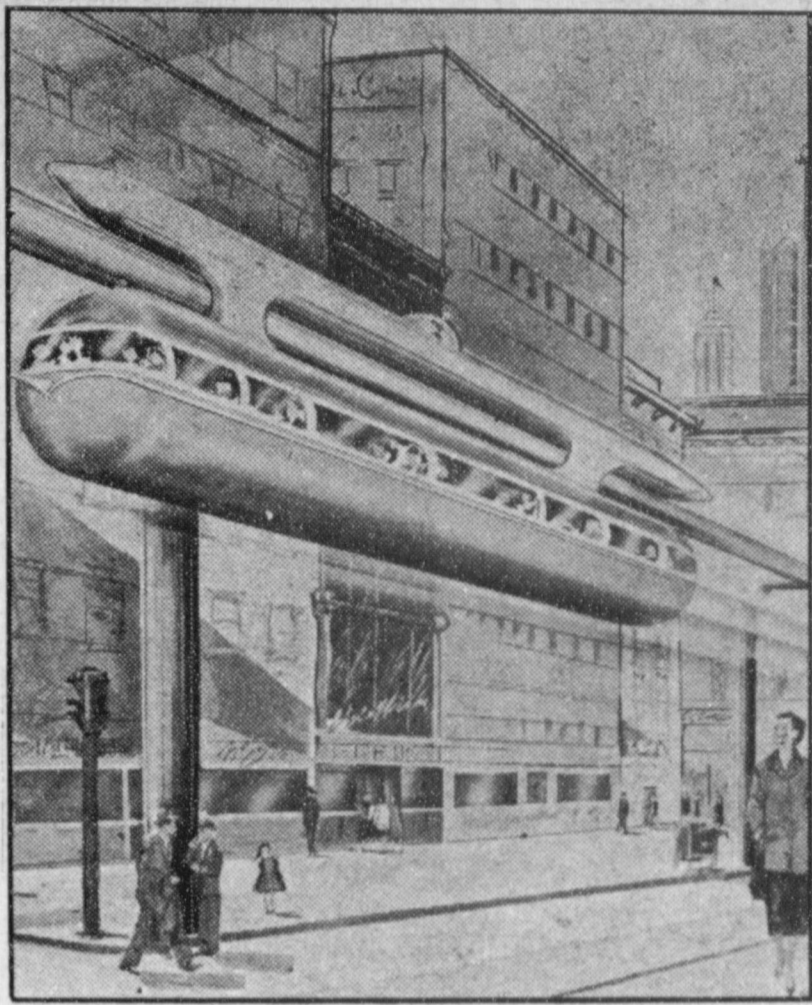

Not many people in Texas realize what happens to their poll tax payments. They don't know one dollar of it goes into the state school fund, fifty cents goes into the general fund and the remaining twenty-five cents goes into the county road and bridge fund. They don't know that the poll tax actually is, and more properly should be known as, a personal tax.

It's a wise and reasonable tax. It is the only means of deriving direct tax revenue from the thousands of people who pay no property tax. It is a way of demanding at least a token payment from each citizen toward the support of services and protection rendered by his state. Nobody can question the judgment and justice behind that law.

The big difference between it and other tax laws is in its application. The penalty for failing to pay a property tax is having the tax charged against the property. Eventually the person pays or forfeits the property. The penalty for failure to pay poll tax is forfeiture of the right to vote for the next year.

As regards harshness of the penalty for failure to pay the poll tax, a favorite complaint of its critics, there's the obvious answer that people who fail to pay so little toward the support of their government are not justly entitled to a voice in it. Besides, as most of us know, the principal reason for failing to pay is unwillingness or neglect not inability.

In a very real sense a poll tax receipt is a badge of first class citizenship. It identifies a person as one who has met his personal obligation to the state (Continued on Page 10)

SINGLE RAIL FOR LONE-STAR RIDERS—Houston, Tex., will soon have a pilot model, 970-foot monorail line in operation. Artist's sketch, above, shows how a proposed car of a completed system might look, should tests on the "sample" system prove encouraging. Coach, 54 feet long, will seat 96 passengers. Engineer will ride in plastic "bubble" which protrudes above streamlined wheel housing above the single rail of the pillar-supported track. Twin engines would give the air-conditioned cars smooth acceleration and rapid transit-plus speed. Line, first of its kind in this country, would free streets of bus traffic, give commuters a swift, traffic-free ride to their destination.

Council Considers Starting Early on Park Improvement

Improvements at the city park, with a goal of having driveways finished and the entire park area shaped up before the swimming season, is the next project to be taken up by the city.

Members of the council discussed the work and made preliminary plans at their meeting Monday night.

The general idea, according to City Manager Steve Mosler, is to stake driveways and grade the ground to conform with a plan provided by park engineers of the state highway department. From that point on the city will welcome whatever help is offered by local individuals and civic organizations.

The job when complete is to have a parking area, graveled driveways with narrow curbing at each side, shrubbery, lawns and various park facilities such as benches, tables, barbecue pits, and playground equipment. Interested persons or groups are invited to adopt any of those projects as their contribution to the over-all improvement job.

Before any of the work can start the city will install pipes making water available for lawns and shrubbery as well as for park facilities. Next in order will be the dirt moving job to fill low spots and cut down high spots of the area, then staking curb lines for the drives.

Work on an approach to the park is already under way. A dirt fill has been finished on the south side of the railroad track on Maple and the north side fill will start as soon as weather permits. Gravel surfacing and planks at the tracks are due soon. The street is being opened as an alternate to the longer drive south of town.

Another change is moving the park entrance about 150 feet north, to the northeast corner of the park. It will be only a short distance from the new railroad crossing.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Mrs. Jack Hogan is a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium recovering normally from surgery performed Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Clarence Wilson re-entered Gainesville Sanitarium on Wednesday of this week for major surgery. She had been a patient for treatment, then spent a week at home before the operation.

Mrs. A. T. Dickerson was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Tuesday after being a medical patient since Sunday.

Building And Improvement Notes

Two new homes have been occupied during the past week, by Rody Klement and Donald Endres. And more new homes will be ready soon.

Marty Klement has painters on the job. Across the street from him, C. B. Fowler has brick work in progress outside and painting inside. Near Gainesville Norbert Mages has reached the painting stage on his new house. North of town Ernest Higgins is also nearing completion of his new home.

No new places have been started in the past few weeks but repairing and remodeling are going strong. Probably the largest is the Arnold Hess job, now about finished. He has added two rooms, built a new roof over all and has done extensive remodeling and refinishing to the old part of the house . . . besides building a combined double garage and workshop.

The lease house just occupied by R. P. Cain has a new roof, new siding, insulation and inside and outside paint.

Albert Hess is adding two rooms to his home.

C. J. Kaiser is modernizing his place by covering all his papered walls with sheet rock.

Ben Luke is remodeling the kitchen and living room of his home.

John Wieler has a new roof on his house.

Business building activity continues to feature the electric co-op's combined office warehouse and Andy Hofbauer's new store. Work on walls is still in progress for the co-op. Hofbauer has finished walls and roof and has work going on inside.

Due to start soon are new buildings for the Variety Store and the Charm Shop.

Two recent improvements to business buildings are complete remodeling of the sale barn's lunch room and a 10x30 addition to the Magnolia warehouse.

Has Army Discharge

Roger Wolf received his discharge from the army Monday, spent overnight and Tuesday here, then went to Houston where he will attend college. At the University of Houston he will join his brother, Mitchell, and Johnny Fisher and Wilbert Vogel. They will share living quarters. Roger received his separation papers at Fort Hood where he was on duty and held the rank of corporal.

The G. H. Hellmans have returned from a visit with their children in Tulsa, Okla., Milwaukee, Wis., and Chicago, Ill. They had been away since before Christmas.

Collection Sunday Will Be Big Event In '56 Polio Drive

One of the big events in this community's 1956 March of Dimes is set for next Sunday when the VFW Auxiliary will collect at the doors of both local churches.

Mrs. Steve Mosler is chairman of a committee to collect at all services at Sacred Heart Church and Mrs. A. T. Dickerson will head the committee at the Baptist church.

If local history repeats itself the church door collection will be the big event in this year's polio drive in Muenster. Total donations at the two churches in '55 were more than $200, the largest of the several figures which topped the community goal of $500.

Another major event in the polio drive is Red Gordon's variety show, scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 5. Originally intended for the March of Dimes month, it was postponed because of conflicting local events on Gordon's available dates in January. Several local performers will appear on the show when it is presented here. They are LuRena and Charlotte Wolf and Billy Dean and Henrietta Owen. There will be no admission charge at the show, but a collection will be made.

To date the polio fund has reached $45. That was the amount collected by FHA members Monday night in their porch light collection.

Another March of Dimes activity, the blue-crutch sale, was declined by the Lions Club at its regular meeting Tuesday. Members decided that the activities already planned would be sufficient to contact all people of the community and that funds collected through their efforts would most likely reduce the amounts collected through other activities.

SCOUT MOTHERS MEET

Members of the Boy Scout Mothers organization met Monday night with Mrs. Nick Miller to initiate plans for the troop's annual observance of National Boy Scout Week, Feb. 12-18. A religious and a social event will mark the week, mothers decided, and they will have another meeting soon to complete arrangements, according to Mrs. Lawrence Wimmer, president of the group.

SCOUT HIKE SUNDAY

Sunday, the weather permitting, will be hike and test day for members of the local Boy Scout troop, Scoutmaster Nick Miller has announced. He made arrangements for the event with the boys at their meeting Monday night. The troop will leave at about 9 a.m. and will have opportunity to work for merit badges and advancement in all outdoor activity.

Sacred Heart Girls Continue Winning, Boys Win 1, Lose 2

Girls of Sacred Heart High continued their winning ways through four games of the past week while boys had to settle for a single win out of three games.

The Tigerettes romped past the Training School and Victory Academy and tripped Ursuline Academy in A and B tussles.

As a result of their contests the Tigers now have a standing of 1-2 in the Southwest Academic League district race. They overwhelmed Catholic High of Texarkana by a 45-20 count and bowed to Buckner and Laneri by scores 49-37 and 60-46 respectively.

Last Friday night's program brought the Training School and Buckner to the Sacred Heart gym. In the opening game Sacred Heart girls coasted to their 32-13 decision over the visitors with Schilling, Haverkamp and Zimmerer scoring 14, 8 and 6 respectively. Progress by quarters was 8-2, 18-11, 31-13 and 32-13.

Fleitman was a hot shot but his team mates were too cold as the Tigers lost 49-37 to the Buckner boys. His total was 22 points. The game was a dandy, however, with Sacred Heart definitely contending until the closing minutes. Scores by periods were 14-7, 26-17, 34-27 and 49-37.

The two Ursuline Academy games were played Saturday afternoon. B stringers kept it interesting with scores of 17-8, 21-16, 28-24 and 37-25 for the four periods, Sacred Heart leading all the way. Top scorers were Zimmerer with 14, and Haverkamp and Reiter with 8 each.

In the main event Sacred Heart's first team thoroughly outclassed the visitors 46-17. Scores in the first three periods were 14-2, 24-8 and 36-13. Leading Sacred Heart scorers were Hess, Patsy Bayer and Nelda Bayer with 14, 8 and 6.

Catholic High of Texarkana played here Saturday night after overcoming Buckner at Dallas earlier in the day. Apparently feeling the strain of the extra game and the drive the Eagles went to pieces and lost by a whopping 45-20 count. Sacred Heart took an early lead and spread the margin all the way. Scores for the first three periods were 15-5, 24-5 and 30-12. Walter, Herr and Fleitman led the Tigers with 13, 11 and 10.

Monday night the teams were at Laneri for a double header with OLV Academy and Laneri. (Continued on Page 10)

Welcome Moisture Arrives Here With Severe Cold Wave

This winter's most severe weather to date moved in Tuesday bringing with it the first moisture of the year as well as the first substantial break in the drought which has been hanging on for more than three months.

The combination of rain, sleet and snow made up a total of 1.10 inches, according to the measure on Steve Mosler's official weather bureau gauge. Rain along with melted sleet and snow amounted to .90 at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning. Most of that was in the form of rain and sleet, the snow being only slightly more than an inch thick. About two inches of additional snow on Wednesday raised the total condensed measure to 1.10 inches.

This is a beginning of the moisture which the community has been anxiously awaiting since September. Rain during the past three months has amounted to only .55 of an inch. October had .05, November was bone dry and December had .50, bringing the year's total to 28.94.

The present moisture is regarded as a life saver to thousands of acres of grain fields that have been barely hanging on for several weeks. Some of that grain is just showing on the surface, some is still in the ground awaiting sufficient moisture to bring it out.

The presence of snow and sleet along with a sharp drop in temperature, to 18 Wednesday and to 11 Thursday, makes this the roughest siege of weather for the season. Schools were closed Wednesday and Thursday and activity in town dropped to less than half of normal. According to Mosler's estimate the combined depth of sleet and snow was about 4.5 inches.

In spite of hazardous driving the community apparently has had no injuries nor serious damages from accidents. One accident occurred on the icy highway Tuesday. Local vehicles made lots of skids but no crashes.

MHS and Saint Jo Divide Honors in Pair of Thrillers

Muenster and Saint Jo divided honors in two hot conference games here last Friday night. Saint Jo girls won the first by a count of 43-41 and Muenster boys won the second 49-47.

The girls' game was a tight tussle with Saint Jo leading all the way but not able at any time to get a comfortable margin. Toward the end the tension got even stronger as Muenster put on a rally that fell short by only 2 points.

Action was equally abundant in the second game as Saint Jo held the lead, but not far enough ahead to discourage Hosea's boys. Fouls eventually decided the outcome as the visitors lost three first stringers and Muenster boosted its count at the foul line. In all 35 fouls were called, 22 against Saint Jo and 13 against Muenster. Saint Jo scored 6 on the charity tries and Muenster 17. The turning point came about midway in the last period when Muenster tied the count at 43 all. After that Muenster added 6 and the visitors 4. Dougherty and Harris hit 23 and 19 for the Hornets.

Next on the MHS schedule are games with Sanger there Friday night and Valley View here Tuesday night.

Ads Work For You . . . And How!

Weston Hill, advertising copy writer who is said to have talked to more consumers through advertising than any other living man, is now engaged in a project to explain advertising itself to this same vast audience. He thinks that the average consumer, though eagerly responsive to advertising, has little or no idea of just how this modern science benefits HIM — in guaranteed brand quality, lower prices, and rising employment that supports general prosperity.

Hill pegs down some old fallacies with the familiar and erroneous aphorism: "Let a man build a better mousetrap, and the world will beat a path to his door." Beautiful and sentimental, says Hill, but contrary to the hard facts. Whether the man is buried in the Maine Woods or the concrete jungle of New York, the world will NOT beat a path to his door — until it has reason to believe his mousetrap is better than any other.

Just how is this mousetrap inventor to tell the world? Can he count on his friends, or word-of-mouth publicity? It's not likely he would sell very many mousetraps by these methods. Or is it better, asks Mr. Hill, for him to find a way to tell millions — through hundreds of newspapers — all at the same time? Certainly, if the local paper tells everybody in town, then those with mouse trouble will be interested in seeing if this trap is really better.

Even so, the mouse-harried consumer wonders, "Isn't this advertising awfully expensive? Won't I be paying more for the advertising than for the trap?" Definitely no, says Mr. Hill. Advertising reduces the price because it enables the inventor to make and sell thousands or millions of mousetraps rather than just a handful. Mr. Hill asks his readers to visualize a food manufacturer busily producing a (one) box of corn flakes by hand . . . and speculate on how much it would cost, with or without sound effects and a premium for the box-top!

But when the same manufacturer can excite millions, via advertising, to eat and listen to his corn flakes, the consumer can buy a package for what the manufacturer pays one of hundreds of workers for five minutes labor.

On the savings that mass production (sired by advertising) give all of us, we could even forego that "better mousetrap" — and give our mouse some of the corn flakes.

A Double Socket

Suppose you wanted a double socket to plug into an electric outlet. Obviously, you'd find one without the slightest trouble, and for very little money. It is a stock item not only in hardware and electric stores, but in many variety, grocery and other retail outlets. All stores are competing for your business — whether the item be a small one, like the socket, or an appliance costing many hundreds of dollars.

Things are different indeed where there is no competition — and the state is the sole judge of what shall be sold and what the price shall be.

Marguerite Higgins, the distinguished foreign correspondent, tells of her search for a double socket during a recent visit to Moscow. The hotel didn't have one. Neither did any of the stores she toured. She was finally offered one by an individual — for $10. However, this socket didn't work. Some five days later, a workable socket was procured — and Miss Higgins was able to operate a heater and have light at the same time.

This may seem a trivial matter. But that double socket is an excellent symbol of a difference between a free, competitive economy, such as we enjoy — and a controlled, state-bossed economy under which the Russian and many other peoples live. Next time you enter an American retail store, with its abundance of stocks, its excellent displays and services, and its competitive prices, you might offer a little prayer of thanks not only for the material abundance our system provides — but for all the other freedoms that are inextricably related to economic freedom.

Face the Fact of Guilt

By Rev. Sebastian Miklas

TODAY WHEN everyone is stressing self-expression and the accent is on freedom, it is not popular to speak of sin and guilt. Sin is such an unprogressive idea and word; you must be practical and utilitarian; therefore deny sin, because without it you make things easy and get things done.

And as for guilt: a child is too young to be blamed; and an adolescent is too mixed up and ignorant to be responsible; and a mature person is too busy and under too much pressure to be guilty of wrongdoing; and old people are too senile, too feeble-minded to commit a crime.

THE WORLD is so good, so kind; it has its own kind of confession which whitewashes sin by denying its existence or by not admitting the guilt. No one is to be accused; only excused. This is a world of saints without guilt, sin and punishment.

Let us put aside irony and face the facts. Pick up your daily newspaper, and its front page will read like a page out of the catechism telling you of original sin and its consequences. Murder, rape, divorce, juvenile delinquency, robbery, perjury: Are these virtues or vices? The desire for notoriety, fame, popularity, attention that grips this nation makes one wonder.

WHAT THIS COUNTRY needs is not a good five-cent cigar; we have enough smoke and dust in our eyes. This country and the whole world needs a wholesome sense that will make us recognize sin for what it is: a sense of guilt that will make a man feel sorry for what he has done; a sense of guilt that will make a man feel responsible for his actions.

Shortly before His death Christ told His Apostles that He would send them the Holy Spirit. "And when He is come, He will convince the world of sin, and of justice, and of judgement."

THE HEART of every man should fill with true sorrow and repentance at the sight of Christ on the Cross. No man can look at Christ on the Cross and say — "there is no sin." Christ died between two sinners; one with shame in his heart; the other without shame. The good thief, who acknowledged his sin and guilt and punishment, was saved.

Like the good thief, the world must face its sin and guilt. As the cross on which Christ died was planted deep and imbedded in the earth, so too must the cross with its shame and suffering be deeply rooted in our minds and thoughts. Then the Cross of Calvary will not have been in vain.

Important Question

A Chinese student was riding in an auto with one of our western speed-demons one day. The driver saw a train coming, and said:

"Unless we beat that train across we shall be delayed three minutes." He stepped on the gas, and made it, with only seconds to spare. When they were safely across, the Oriental asked quietly:

"Now, what are you going to do with the three minutes?"

Former GI Named
Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture

Clinton Harbers, outstanding young farmer in Fayette County, Texas, was today named "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" by The Progressive Farmer magazine. The honor was given Harbers for superior achievement in the art of farming.

"In less than 4 years, this young muscular, ex-GI, has become better-known than any other farmer in Texas — particularly if you narrow it down to working farmers," says C. G. Scruggs, associate editor of The Progressive Farmer. It's been estimated that at least 10,000 people have visited the Harbers' farm west of La Grange. And no one goes away without becoming infected with Clinton Harbers' zeal for doing a better job of farming.

By using good soil conservation methods, insect control, and other farming knowhow, Harbers has easily tripled his yields and income. Most important, he has used his head and found better ways to do old jobs. His adaptation of some of his equipment has been so successful that his special plow and planter is now being manufactured.

Harbers borrowed money to buy a farm in 1947. He started going to GI agriculture classes and became a cooperator in the Bastrop-Fayette Soil Conservation District. From influence of these two sources, he began thinking of ways to improve his farming practices to increase his yields and income. The "Harbers" way was the result.

In 1953, Clinton Harbers received the $5,000 Hoblitzelle Award for the Outstanding Contribution to Texas Rural Life awarded by the Texas Research Foundation. In 1954, he was selected by the Fort Worth Press as the Outstanding Come-back Farmer. This past year, Harbers was selected as one of the 4 top farmers in the United States by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Harbers has traveled thousands of miles to talk before civic clubs, farm groups, and field day crowds. He regularly holds field days on his own farm. Thousands of acres of land in Texas are now being farmed the Harbers' way.

Cooke County DHIA Is First in Texas In Milk, Butterfat

Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement association cows were state champions in both milk and butterfat production during the month of November, it is revealed by a report just released by the state department. Cooke County DHIA's cows topped the other 22 counties in the organization by producing an average of 31 pounds of butterfat and 770 pounds of milk. Two hundred and ninety herds with 14,438 cows were tested in the state organizations during November. Average pounds of milk per cow totaled 570 while average butterfat per cow totaled 25 pounds.

Bayer Herd Among Top Three in DHIA

Alfred Bayer's herd was among the top three producers in the Cooke County Dairy Herd Improvement association for the month of December, according to a summary of statistics released by the association. Bayer's cows tied for second place honors in butterfat production by chalking up a 40 pound average. Ben Davis' herd likewise averaged 40 pounds. Champion butterfat producers were cows owned by Pete Prescher with a 51 pound average. Third, with 39 pounds, were the herds of H. H. Moody and W. F. Turner. In the milk production averages Moody's cows were first with 1,170 pounds, Prescher's were second with 1,160 pounds and Richard Frasher's were third with 1,070 pounds. Other high herds for the month included those of Paul Fetsch, Paul Fisher, Ben Sicking, Leo Hesse, John Knabe and J. W. Fleitman. Twenty-four herds, comprising 639 cows, were tested during the month. Of this number 182 produced 40 pounds of butterfat or more with an all-over average of 32 pounds per cow. Average pounds of milk per cow was 783. There are 770 cows in the association.

FISH STORY It's a little late for fishing yarns but in order to prolong that happy season slightly we'll haul off with one which in some form or other has doubtless appeared in many other humor col'ms many times:

"While fishing one day," says Louis Marcus, former mayor of Salt Lake City, "I ran short of bait and was temporarily at a loss as what to do . . . At my feet, however, I noticed a small snake with a frog in his jaws . . . I removed the frog, cut it up for bait and back to the fishing . . . I did, however, feel a bit guilty over robbing that poor snake of his meal so in order to give him some slight recompense for my new bait supply, I bent over and poured a few drops of whisky into his mouth . . . The snake seemed contented and he wriggled away as I resumed my fishing . . ."

"A few moments later, tho, I felt something nudging at my boot leg . . . Looking down I saw the same little snake herding three more frogs ahead of him!" . . .

Antirabic Vaccine Advanced Far Since Days of Pasteur

AUSTIN — In a small laboratory in a suburb of Paris in the year 1884, a mother comforted a frightened boy as a bearded man in a white smock inserted a hypodermic needle into the lad's abdominal muscle.

The bearded man was Louis Pasteur, the brilliant French bacteriologist. The boy was Joseph Meister, from the province of Alsace. His mother had brought him to Pasteur as a last resort, knowing that only a miracle would save him from one of the most horrible deaths.

Pasteur supplied the miracle, for the syringe he held in his skilled hands contained a fluid of his own concoction — an emulsion prepared from the spinal cord of a rabbit dead of rabies. At the precise moment he pressed the plunger on the syringe, the world had its most powerful weapon against a vicious disease which had plagued mankind since the dawn of recorded history.

Joseph Meister lived many years after the incident in the laboratory, despite sustaining 14 mad dog bites. He became celebrated as the first human being to receive vaccine against rabies. Prior to that time, the only treatment for mad animal bites was a red hot iron applied to the site of the wound as the victim writhed in agony.

Today, 71 years later, white-garbed technicians at the Texas Health Department make more than 500 treatments of antirabic vaccine every year in a tediously exacting process requiring six months to complete. They use a modification of Pasteur's technique, but their product is vastly superior to his.

Six batches or "lots" are made in the spring and six in the fall. Each batch consists of 450 separate treatments, and each is carefully double-checked by the National Institute of Health before being released.

Still, even in this day of modern immunology, and despite the fact that countless thousands of lives have been saved by promptly administering it to victims of mad animal bites, the vaccine is not perfect. No vaccine ever is.

Says Mrs. E. B. M. Cook, in charge of biologics production at the State Health Department: "The perfect vaccine is a myth, an unattainable ideal. We make our rabies vaccine from the brain tissue of rabbits. Some people are allergic to the material, just as some are allergic to penicillin or poison ivy."

It is a curious fact, Mrs. Cook says, that any vaccine or therapeutic drug — whether it be for smallpox, whooping cough, polio, or pneumonia — may completely protect 999 people from the disease, yet cause a severe reaction, or perhaps even kill, the thousandth person it is given to.

Ordinarily it takes 14 shots of vaccine, administered one per day, to give protection against the bite of a rabid animal. Last year 2,379 of these "treatment signs of reactions developed, the Department for exposed persons.

Reactions ranging from mild, moderate, or severe were registered in 50 of those cases. No paralytic reactions nor any deaths were traceable to the vaccine, and if injections had been stopped when the first signs reactions developed, the number of severe reactions could have been reduced, health authorities say. None of the 5 human rabies deaths last year received treatments.

"Compared to the certainty of death from rabies, once its symptoms develop," says Dr. Henry A. Holle, state commissioner of health, "risk of a severe vaccine reaction is minimal. It is a calculated risk."

RED CHAIN CHICK STARTER
A Complete Feed • Mash or Granules

ONLY A LITTLE NEEDED SO IT MUST BE Tops!

Baby chicks have a very small capacity for feed but when growing normally they attain 20 times their hatching weight in eight weeks. This means that the feed you give them must be high in nutrient levels . . . and every particle of feed must contain the right quota of the various ingredients. Only by using the most modern weighing, blending and mixing machinery can this be assured. For example, when 10 grams of antibiotics is provided in a ton of feed each 100 pounds of finished feed must contain 1/2 gram. This is equivalent to 1/2 teaspoon of antibiotics. Very small amounts of vitamins and minerals are also needed . . . but these amounts also must be present for fast, healthy growth.

When you feed your chicks RED CHAIN Chick Starter you provide them with the very best feed we know how to make. SEE YOUR RED CHAIN DEALER TODAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bezner and children Debbie and Stevie of Dallas spent Friday night, and Saturday with his mother, Mrs. Joe Bezner.

The Paul Zimmerers of Norman, Okla., were weekend visitors with his parents, the I. A. Zimmerers.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zimmerer and son Larry joined by Mr. and Mrs. Tony Walterscheid of Harlingen with Mrs. John Wilde, the Frank Wiesmans and other relatives.

Assistant County Agent Gene Sears, meeting with the junior 4-H club boys for their January session, discussed breeds of cattle with the members and this will be studied in future meetings. The Shorthorn breed was studied at the first meeting of the club this year.

Junior 4-H club girls saw slides and studied well balanced meals at their January meeting. Mrs. Lonnie Thurman, county home demonstration agent presented the illustrated lecture. She explained about food for health and beauty's sake. Dorothy Bengfort, president of the club, conducted the business session and Patricia Block led the group in a sing-song.

Reunion of Yostens Honors Nebraskans

The Yosten clan, 140 strong, gathered Sunday for a reunion honoring Matt Yosten of West Point, Neb., and his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Yosten of Synder, Neb. The visitors spent two weeks here with relatives, leaving Monday to return home. Enroute they stopped to visit Mrs. John Yosten's uncle and aunt in Oklahoma.

Gathering for the all-family reunion in the parish hall Sunday the group enjoyed dinner and supper brought by those attending, played card games and exchanged pleasantries. At night most of them got together again at the Ray Swirczynski home to see movies.

Making up the party were the Ferd Yostens and children, the Paul and Stan Yostens and their families, the Ed Swirczynski family, Andy Yosten and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Holland, all of Fort Worth; the Bob Swirczynski family of Ardmore, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spires and daughters, the Leo Hoedebecks and Charlotte, the Joe Yostens and the Tony Wiesmans and Gladys, all of Gainesville.

Messrs. and Mmes. Frank Yosten, Nick Yosten, Joe Swirczynski and Steve Moser, Tony and Herbie Yosten and the following and their families: Messrs. and Mmes. SHHS Basketball - - -

Again Sacred Heart girls led all the way, however their margin was not comfortable in spots. Scores by quarters were 7-1, 15-6, 28-44 and 43-33. Derichsweller and Hess hit 17 and 12 respectively.

Playing the Micks Father Christopher's boys put on a second quarter splurge that made the game interesting for a while but the rest was one sided. For the periods scores stood at 21-6, 28-22, 51-32 and 60-46. Walter, Herr and Fleitman led Tiger scoring with 17, 14 and 8.

The coming week's schedule shows three games for the parochial teams. Catholic High of Texarkana will be back Friday night at 8 trying to avenge the former setback. Next Tuesday both teams will be at Windthorst for a double header.

"You're getting to be a stuffy old stay-at-home," complained the wife. "What happened to all that zip you used to have?"

"Well, principally," replied the husband, "I'm beginning to feel my corns more than my oats."

Polio Collection - - -

Dimes chairman, appeared at the meeting and explained the urgent needs of the county polio chapter at this time. He said its fund is over $4,000 in debt, principally because of the care given its three current polio patients during the past year.

He also explained that funds received in the March of Dimes drive are divided equally between the local chapter and the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation. In the end, however, the county receives considerably more than half. During the past year the national foundation sent the chapter more than $1,100. The figures show that 76 per cent of last year's collections were used in the county.

The national foundation's activity consists principally in research and administering polio vaccines. It also assists local chapters that have exceptionally heavy demands on their funds.

Talley said that many Lions Clubs of the state are sponsoring the blue crutch sale and encouraged local members to do likewise. When reminded of other activities he agreed however that the drive is already being well promoted here.

A Doctor's Dilemma
